George Fish High School

Fort Mill, South Carolina

Published by the

Senior Classes of 1966 and 1967

The Yearbook Staff

Within these pages, we have tried to record our joys and labors, our triumphs and defeats during the hours spent at George Fish School. Our purpose here has not been to relate each fleeting moment, but to emphasize those hours which were both trying and enjoyable. May you derive much satisfaction and delight from these our "treasured hours"

Across The Superintendent's Desk

Mr. J. H. Nesbitt

To the Senior Class of 1967, congratulations on a fine yearbook. You have reached a very important plateau in your life. Some of you will continue your education, while others will begin life's work. Whichever way you go, work hard and remember the best days of your life were spent in High School.
To the underclassmen, you have much to look forward to in the future. The world of tomorrow will be under your guidance. Prepare yourselves well for this great responsibility. Look to the future. There is nothing you can do about the past.

The Man Behind the Machine Works for Springs...

So do 18,000 other people.

In 19 plants and 25 sales offices.

And then there's the Computer Center. And the administrative offices. The Fabric Design Department. The Engineering Department. The Foundry. And the Machine Shop.

To say nothing of the Corporate Development Division. The research labs. The Executive Offices. The production and sales divisions. And things like that.

The man behind the machine (the one in the picture) is working on the control panel of a new cloth bleaching range.

Complicated? Sometimes. Challenging, too. But interesting. Because things are happening in textiles. New plants. New Machinery. New processes. New finishes. New products. New end uses.

Textiles. Where the action is.

Ask the man from S.P.R.I.N.G.S.
