THE SENIOR CLASS

EMMETT SCOTT HIGH SCHOOL

Rock Hill, South Carolina

TO THE CLASS OF 1953:

Praiseworthy ambition, determined will, and earnest application have brought you to the successful completion of your formal high school education. These traits of character will make possible even greater accomplishments as you prepare for and follow your various careers.

As you leave Emmett Scott School please accept assurance of our faith in you, and best wishes for your future success.

R. W. McGIRT
Principal

Appreciation

To all who have contributed toward the improvement of our School--schoolmates, teachers, principal, superintendent of schools, trustees, and citizens of our community, we are sincerely grateful.

1941 Alma Mater Francis Brooks

Dear Emmett Scott, to thee, we raise our Song! One voice sing thy Praise the Echoes we prolong — the gold (the gold) the blue (the blue) We will ever sing —
Ever we sing thy Praise o'er hills and Plains.

2. Dear Emmett Scott
To thee lead us we pray.
Open our eyes that we
Might see the dawn of day.
The Gold, The Blue,
We with glory cry,
Ever we sing thy praise
Dear Old Scott High.

Class History

In September, 1949, we entered Emmett Scott as freshmen. Like the spring of the year, we were fresh, green, vivacious, and full of life. There were one hundred and thirty-six members. We were perplexed as we became a part of the high school. Under the wise guidance of our teachers, we learned, in a few weeks, the orders to reach our classes on time. This seemed to be an unpardonable offense; we thought that rules were unnecessary.

Our fears and tremblings of the first year were soon replaced by self-confidence and ambition. Eighty-seven returned in 1950 as proud sophomores. Remembering past trials and tribulations, we were out for sweet revenge. A shadow of gloom was cast across our path, because the majority of our boys volunteered for Armed services. We were grieved by their leaving; however, we continued our journey.

How happy we were when 1951 arrived! Gee! we were jolly juniors. Only fifty-five came back. We plunged in with great enthusiasm. Bernice Thompson was honored by being chosen as a delegate to the State Health Association in Columbia, South Carolina. She was also appointed as one of the leaders in the Christmas Seal Campaign. Under the leadership of our advisors, Miss Spigner and Mrs. Seawerry, we presented "THE LITTLE MINISTER." It was a hit for Broadway with our actors and actresses. Oh, the joy each of us had when May rolled around! The Junior-Senior Prom was one of the biggest affairs. Our class took great delight in decorating the gymnasium as an Oriental Garden. Each one felt the Oriental air and touch as he entered.

It seemed as if summer would never end. We worked hard during those long warm months. Finally, September 1952, arrived. How happy we were to know that thirty had entered for our last round up!

Especially were we thrilled to enter an immaculate, new modern building with new classrooms, a superb library, cafeteria, adequate home economics and science departments. We were grateful for all of this. This was one of our busiest years. Many of our moments were spent compiling an annual, The 1953 Rattler, preparing for a Senior Play, and engaging in many other activities.

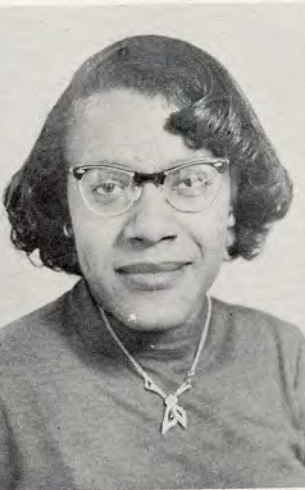

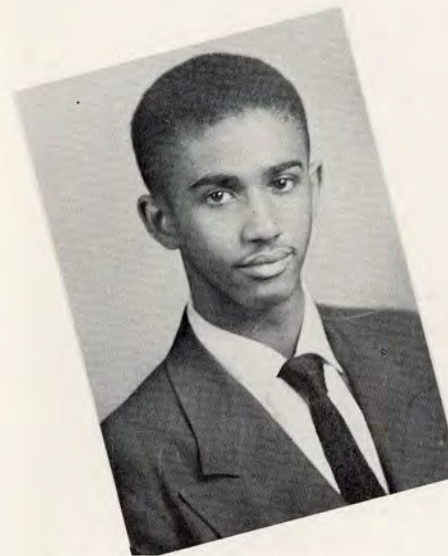

The Senior play, "MY FRIEND IRMA," was thoroughly enjoyed by the audience. The cast showed unusual ability in depicting the characters.

With the latter part of our school come the excitement and thrills that are enjoyed by seniors--Baccalaureate sermon, Class Day exercise, and finally----GRADUATION!

June rolls around,
And we oft may wonder.
We'll ever hear thy ringing call!
Our thoughts will linger with thee ever,
Our hopes and dreams will ever be true.
Our hearts forever will be loyal
Dear Emmett Scott to you.

Who's Who

Class Prophecy

Because most of my predictions come true, I have been given the assignment of visualizing activities of our classmates ten years after our graduation from Emmett Scott High School in 1953. We have within our rank future professors, teachers, artists, lawyers, musicians, farmers, and inventors. This list may sound very imposing, but the class is an unusual one.

Looking into the future, I am stationed in California directing a company of Girl Scouts in camping operations. As most of our hikes were done during the night, our days were usually free. One morning as I was walking through a crowded street, I met Alexander Hinton, who was stationed in California doing missionary work. He invited me to go with him to visit a friend, the name of whom he withheld. On reaching our destination, we were greeted by none other than our own John Ramseur. He was the leader of a fourteen-piece band, and was just back from an overseas tour. Christine and Vera Jones were his vocalists.

As soon as camp was over, I left for Chicago. From this long trip, I acquired a headache which caused me to wander into the office of Dr. James Scott McCullough. This was truly a surprise, especially when I discovered that he was married to Ruby Williamson. Cheerlene Lindsay was his most efficient nurse. The next morning, I journeyed to Jacksonville, Florida, via plane, and there I found Joe Anderson, owner of a large grocery store. Doretha McKinney was his private secretary. While looking around in Anderson's store, I walked Nina Harris. She was the private secretary to Richard Brown, who owned several large chicken farms.

Two days later, I journeyed to Boston. There I found Lucille Phillips and Johnny McDonald teaching aesthetic dancing. Johnny was also a professor of vocal music at Boston Conservatory. While in Boston, I decided to visit the University. There stood Earline Thompson, Dean of undergraduate women, with Ernestine Whiteside as her assistant. Two days later, at a teachers' camp in Washington recreational center, none other than Ola Mae Ferguson was giving a lecture on reaching. Bernice Thompson and her All Star Band furnished the music, with Mary Dewese as vocalist.

After leaving Washington, I stopped in New York for a few days. While browsing through the telephone directory, I found that Ruth Ervin was the manager of the General Life Insurance Company there. I immediately called her, and during our chat, she told me that Joan Woodard, Hattie Thompson, and Mary Sanders were outstanding teachers in the commercial school at City College in New York. I just couldn't leave New York without seeing them. They made my trip even more pleasurable by taking me over to Newark, New Jersey, to visit around the University of Newark. There I found Charles Ferguson of the School of Engineering and Bleaker Cureton, a professor of Elementary Education. We went to see Julia Boyd, who was an instructor in the Chemistry Department at New Jersey State Teachers College.

I sighed as I left New Jersey, my mind and heart full of memories of Emmett Scott School and of the class of 1953.

MATTIE BELL GARVIN

Class Poem

The road to success is long and steep;
You must have faith to reach its peak.
Do not falter on your way;
Try not stumble, fall, or sway.

Knowledge is power where life is preserved,
And the manifold rules, we must strive to observe.
We are eager to do our task,
Placed before us--within our grasp.

But as we travel upon life's road,
We are tempted to wander to fields abroad--
Though our way gets tiresome and we long for play,
Yet, we cherish the knowledge gained day by day.

Class Song

Tune: Finlandia

Dear Old Scott Hi, the time has come to part,
These years of joy, we will keep in our heart.
In thy great halls we strive to reach our goal,
We love thy walls with treasure far untold.

We'll always be proud of our dear old Scott Hi.
But we all know that time is passing by.
So farewell time, has come and we must part.
You've sheltered us, as we have sought to start.

We've shedded tears for many weary years.
In our dear hearts we really hate to part.
You gave us strength to reach our destiny.
To thee we lift our praise, our hearts to thee.

Last Will and Testament

State of South Carolina
County of York
City of Rock Hill

We, the members of the senior class of Emmett Scott High School, have reached the milestone of our scholastic journey. Being of sound mind and memory, we do hereby make, publish, and declare this to be our last will and testament.

To Mr. McGirt, our Principal, we, the class of 1953, will our sincere appreciation for the valuable services rendered to this school and community for the past fifteen years.

We, the class of '53, will to the class of '54 the strength and determination shown by us in publishing the annual.

To the class of '55, we leave the path we have trod during our stay, and we hope you will find it enjoyable.

The following valuable personal bequests, freely and fully given, should be treasured as a continual reminder of the abundant and overwhelming generosity of the class and of the individuals thereof. We trust these responsibilities will be assumed promptly and that they will bring important results.

- Joe Anderson wills his ability to stay in class and study hard to Osbey Roddey.
- Mary Dewese leaves for Earline Mitchell her ability to study hard and finish high school.
- Ruth Ervin leaves her position as treasurer of the Senior Class to Alma Hall and Grady Jackson.
- Mattie Bell Garvin bequeaths her majorette suit to Ida Hayman.
- Bernice Thompson wills to Marian Johnson her clarinet and to Kathryn Blake her ability to play the piano.
- To James Russell Burris and Walker Woodard go Johnny McDonald's talent in basketball.
- Doretha McKinney bequeaths her honor of becoming attendant to Miss Homecoming to Essie Beckham.
- Jessie Patterson wills her ability to sew to Mildred Gaston.
- Christine Jones wills her ability to type to Thelma Anders.
- To Maude Harris goes Johnnie Wylie's red hot seat in French.
- Nina Harris leaves to Ella Ree Jones her beautiful alto voice.
- Hattie Thompson bequeaths her friendliness to Reeder Barber and Isaiah Boyce.
- To the Junior Class, Herbert Miller wills his ability to socialize.
- John Ramseur wills his saxophone to David Brown.
- Mildred Robertson bequeaths to Betty Graham her cool, calm, and assuring personality and to Cardell Jones her excellent vocabulary.
- Joan Woodard wills her proficiency in typing to Churchill Graham and her ability to get along with people to Joseph Gilliam and Mary Ruth Griffin.
- James Scott McCullough wills his ability to think to Franklin Alridge and Louie Anderson.
- Vera Jones leaves her star in shorthand to Verleen Williams and Evangeline Douglas.
- Alexander Hinton wills his coolness and calmness with the girls to Richard Hemphill and Eli Roach.
- To Virnetta Roach and Ida Mae Barnette, Cheerlene Lindsay bequeaths her quietness.
- To Ella B. McClurkin, Mary Sanders wills her ability to become a more studious person.
- Richard Brown leaves to Lawrence Woods his football suit.
- Julia Boyd wills her ability to sew to Bessie Louise Anthony.
- Bleaker Cureton leaves her sewing equipments to Emma Walls.
- To Martha Jean Diary and Oakie Mae Gilmore, Ruby Williams on bequeaths her dignified manner.
- Ernestine Whiteside wills her ability to play bells to Louise White.
- To Ernestine Strait and Dorothy Knox, Ola Mae Ferguson bequeaths her pleasing personality.
- Lucille Phillips wills her excellent handwriting to Myrtle Boyce.
- And Charles Ferguson wills his great technique of Valentina to Terry Graham, with the desire that it be passed on to Elva Mobley.

Acknowledgments

We, the Senior Class of 1953, leave the chronicle of our days and years at dear old Emmett Scott--our quests, our friendships, our accomplishments.

For their generous assistance to us in recalling and recording these cherished hours, we give our sincere thanks to:

Mr. McGirt, our principal, for his loyal devotion and sincerity in helping us to reach our first milestone.

Mrs. Ruth Boulware, our adviser, efficient director, inspiring teacher, and believer in our ultimate worth; our Senior Sponsor Committee--Mrs. Gladys Boulware, Mr. Frontis Brooks, Miss Bessie E. Honor and Miss Harvey L. Ward, whose abilities, skills, and experiences were readily available to us at all times; Mrs. J. G. Seaberry, our commercial teacher, for careful supervision of the staff typists; and Mr. D. E. Gardner, our mechanical teacher, for helpful cooperation with the drawings.

Finally, we are grateful to our parents, advertisers, schoolmates, faculty and friends whose financial support has made possible this annual.
