Release options and final approval

Student name Alton Ayers

Vnumber: 00816020

Check one of the following options:

Release the thesis/dissertation as soon as it is approved by the Graduate School.

Release the thesis/dissertation after a period of one year.

Release the thesis/dissertation after a period of two years.

Release the thesis/dissertation after a period of five years.

Do not release the thesis/dissertation until the copyright expires, with the exception of releasing the work to my advisor(s), my department(s), and scholars who are physically present in the VCU Libraries (typically for creative works). Attach justification; limit one page.

In Process

Electronic theses and dissertations (ETD) make VCU student research and creativity available online as full-text documents and multimedia presentations for use by the university community and others involved in research. In some cases, a student and their advisor can choose to delay the public online release of the ETD. Typical reasons for selecting a delayed release of the ETD include proprietary work and future publishing rights. Based on the justification provided, the Graduate School reserves the right not to accept the release terms. The citation and abstract will appear publicly online for the duration of any restrictions placed on the work.

Rights and obligations

I hereby certify that, if appropriate, I have obtained and attached hereto a written permission statement from the owner(s) of each third-party copyrighted matter to be included in my thesis, dissertation, or project report (hereafter "my work"), allowing distribution as specified above. I certify that the version I am submitting is the same as that approved by my advisory committee. I hereby grant to Virginia Commonwealth University or its agents the non-exclusive license to copy, archive, and make accessible, under the conditions specified above, my work in whole or in part in all forms of media, now or hereafter known. I retain all other ownership rights to the copyright of my work. As such, I retain the right to use all or part of my work in future works, such as articles or books.
