

The Prairie Light Review

Volume 46
Number 2 Spring 2024

Article 58

Spring 5-1-2024

(Auto)biography

Megan Mandrelle
College of DuPage

Follow this and additional works at: <https://dc.cod.edu/plr>

Recommended Citation

Mandrelle, Megan (2024) "(Auto)biography," The Prairie Light Review. Vol. 46: No. 2, Article 58.
Available at: <https://dc.cod.edu/plr/vol46/iss2/58>

This Selection is brought to you for free and open access by the College Publications at DigitalCommons@COD. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Prairie Light Review by an authorized editor of DigitalCommons@COD. For more information, please contact orenick@cod.edu.

I didn't think I could so easily be read like a book
But apparently, I'm one of your favorites
You know everything about me
Every single detail to a T

I can't tell if you know what I write
Or if you're the one writing for me
But my obsession with you grows stronger each day
The book about me reads:

"He wears his hair like you
But do his lips
Taste like yours
Because he has the same
Tastes as yours"

I fall further and deeper as I turn each page
And further and deeper into your grasp
You wrote each page by hand
And I'm proud to be your muse

I can't tell if you know what I write
Or if you're the one writing for me
But my obsession with you grows stronger each day
The book about me reads:

"I like the ones that I have to beg for Because easy isn't fun
When their hair sits like Dean Forester
And their smiles are rare"

You know me better than I've ever known myself
And you've only known me for three short years
You know what's going to happen next
And I have no clue

I can't tell if you know what I write
Or if you're the one writing for me

(Auto)biography

Megan Mandrelle

But my obsession with you grows stronger each day
The book about me reads:

"You're rarely on my mind
But when you're not here
I am searching for you
In everyone else"

But you only read me late at night
And every time somehow
I'm the one left with a cliffhanger
At the end of each chapter

Dannika Graef Beneath
Reed Pen and Ink

Welcome to Serenity

Quinn Joy — Photograph