Thanksgiving Day

By Judie Hoyliger

November at last is here!
Bringing days of cheer—
For the time is drawing near—
For Thanksgiving Day.
A day for praise
A day for prayer
A day to last
Throughout the year.
A day to thank
The Lord above,
For all the blessings
Bestowed with love.
Such is Thanksgiving Day
A time to kneel and pray—
To thank the Lord in this Sacred way—
For all our blessings.

Air of Mystery Surrounds Boise Junior College

Perhaps you've noticed the big wooden box in the hallway with "Top Secret" and "Do not open until November third" written all over it? It's all very mysterious, indeed! Planted firmly on the top of the box is an alert little man with observing eyes and a mean-looking bayonet swung smartly over his shoulder. The Pi Sigs can sleep at night, knowing it is so well guarded.

This box and all the nebbish cartoons are part of the BJC Student Directory, "Handy Andy" advertisement being sponsored by the Pi Sigs.

will soon be on sale, will contain student and faculty names, addresses, phone numbers, major, and year in school. In addition is a school calendar, a list of campus clubs and their officers and the student body officers.

The production of the Handy Andys was directed by Seymore and Irving, two very popular nebbish ghosts, with the cooperation of Jim Rolfe, who did the art work; Dick Irwin, who collaborated with Jim on the designing of an original cover; and Murray Stromberg, in charge of advertising.

"Circumstances beyond the Pi Sigs' control" interfered with the set distribution date. Seymore and Irving apologize for the delay in the distribution of the Handy Andys. Due to their EXTENSIVE global travels, the books are several days late.

Our little friends also regret that they can not be here to autograph your Handy Andy, but since they are ghosts, they are still rejuvenating their "spirits" after escapades Halloween night.

After a personal interview with Seymore and Irving, their final comment on the Handy Andy was, "We hope these little books promote 'togetherness' among the coeds here at BJC. We're sure it will be a 'weekend winner'!"

Creative Writing Class Attends Open House

BJC's Monday evening creative writing class was held at the Boise Public library last week. Miss Margaret Allison, the instructor, received invitations for the entire class to attend the traditional open house which celebrated National Book Week.

An opportunity to meet many of Idaho's authors was the highlight of the evening. The potential writers met some of the well-known authors and discussed their books with them.

Idaho authors present at the occasion were: Mrs. Mildred Adams, Floyd R. Barber, Mrs. Olivia Groefsema, Miss Helen Newell, Mrs. Doreen Goertzen, Mrs. Clare Bracken, Dr. Merle W. Wells, Dick d'Easum, Mrs. Dorothy Robinson, Mrs. Pearl Roam, Mrs. Della Adams, Mrs. Grace Jordan, Don Prophet, Mrs. Ethel Hopper, Glenn Balch, Mrs. Lurline Bowles Mayol, Larry Florek, Wayne F. Vickey, Mrs. Faith Turner, and Mrs. George Cutrise.

Members of the Boise Soroptimist club served refreshments and acted as hostesses.

Notice to Sophomores

Any sophomore planning to graduate in January or June, 1961, and who has not filed application for the credential with this office, should do so at once. This card will be needed in checking your eligibility for graduation.

Education Week Observed by BJC Students

For 40 years November has been a significant month for education. Every year since 1920 one week during the month has been proclaimed American Education Week—a time for the American people to review and evaluate the aims and achievements of their schools.

The theme of American Education Week, November 6-12, was "Strengthen Schools for the '60's.'" The purpose of the week at BJC was the responsibility of the S.N.E.A. group. At their November 2 meeting they invited guest speakers, leaders in the education field. They also invited members of the Borah and Boise schools F.T.A. chapters.

Carol Blue placed in the main display which presented the theme of American Education Week could be carried to the community. Each day gave a new idea. November 6 was "Stronger Schools—Stronger Parents"; November 7, "Interest—Stronger Schools"; November 8, "Able Board Members—Stronger Schools"; November 9, "Quality Teachers—Stronger Schools"; November 10, "Adequate Funds—Stronger Schools"; November 11, "Challenging Curriculum—Stronger Schools"; November 12, "Lifelong Learners—Stronger Schools."

S.N.E.A. members also sponsored an open house on Wednesday, November 9. Buildings on campus were open to all those interested in pouring them.

Chairman for American Education Week was Gary Gill. He was assisted by Florence Ineck, Loralie Ivks, Carol Blue, Bunny Thorne and Sherry Wardle.

President Eisenhower summed up all of the goals of the week in his official proclamation which:

Let us reaffirm our deep interest in the training ground of democracy. Let us study the program of our schools and demonstrate our support for the work of

Weekly Devotional

The devotional, tomorrow at 9:50 in the music building, will be held under the direction of the Interfaith council. Berna Deen Lee is in charge of the special Thanksgiving program.

Broncettes March in Christmas Parade

Broncettes, the BJC drill team, were stepping high Saturday with a very busy schedule.

Although the weather was a little cold and turned a few noses pink, no spirits were dampened as the girls marched through the streets of Boise in the annual Christmas parade Saturday morning.

After the parade the girls hurried through the first rush of Christmas shopping traffic in order to get to Bronco Stadium in time to march at the last BJC football game. Besides helping the band make a "50" during the salute to Hawaii, the drill team performed its own routine.

This was the last performance of the drill team this fall. However, they will be seen many times during basketball season.

Student Poetry Appears in National Publication

It has been announced by the National Poetry Association, who publish the Annual Anthology of College Poetry, that four selections from BJC students will appear in the next edition.

These are: "Brains Help," by Mary Hart; "Strength," by Nick Palmer; "On the Edge of the Moor," by Karen Rainey; and "Poem," by Ruth Young. Miss Young is an English student of Mr. J. Roy Schwartz, and the other three students study under Miss Margaret Allison.

our dedicated teachers. Let us take every opportunity to strengthen our educational system so that our young people can be prepared to meet the challenge imposed on our nation by the competitive century."

PHI THETA KAPPA . . .

Phi Theta Kappa, the national scholastic honorary, held its initiation program November 14. After a banquet, Virginia Rogers, Earl Boon, Julie Wilson, Ethel Melander, Norma Stovington, Rosalie Bull, Natalie Hawk, and Evelyn Holbert were initiated into this club. After the initiation, the club advisor, Dr. Fritchman, spoke on "How a Biologist Looks at Religion."

A TIME FOR GRATITUDE . . .

ONCE A YEAR, in the midst of all the hurly-burly of everyday life, the frantic activity slows almost to a standstill. Almost not quite. But after mother has wrestled with the 15-pound turkey (and won) and it is comfortably roasting in the oven, and father has taken the children (and the neighbor's children) to the traditional Thanksgiving Day football game, there comes a time when you are able to consider all your blessings and everything for which you are truly grateful.

THIS IS A modern world we live in. Everything, including life, is going at such a tremendous pace, it sometimes proves difficult to keep in step. No longer referred to as the "Atomic Age" or the "Push Button Age", we are now in the "Space Age." And more likely than not '61 will bring a new era.

IT IS NO wonder we have the tendencies to take so many things for granted. Things that were once "dreamed-of" luxuries, are today considered necessities. But our worldly possessions are not the only things to be grateful for. Far more important than the materialistic gains, are happiness, health, and love. Seldom do we pause long enough to think of all for which we have to be thankful.

WE HAVE SO much to be thankful for—and so little time to say "Thank you" for our blessings. J. H.

Where Are They All Going?

A popular question just before any holiday is "Where are you going, and what do you plan to do?" This holiday is no exception. And BJC students are right in the swing of things. Many of them are planning various activities which will celebrate the Thanksgiving holiday for them.

Both students and faculty have made plans for this weekend.

Beverly Carr plans on staying home with the family, eating turkey, and getting some studying done.

Amy Loomis will stay home for a big dinner and then attend the State Baptist Youth conference in Boise.

Teddy Ferguson wants to cook dinner, lay around, and eat oranges and throw the peelings to the birds.

Carole Skov plans on sleeping in every day, doing homework, and getting her audio-visual aids assignments done.

A trip to California is in the offing for Mary Ann Reese, who feels the need to warm up.

Miss Hansen has a full weekend planned, for she is moving from one house to another and also entertaining most of the immediate family for Thanksgiving dinner.

Leo Wasko is going home to Buhl for his dinner.

Jim Luper will be going hunting for relaxation.

John Hannum's only desires are to eat, sleep, and play around.

Bill Ah Fong says he did want to go deer hunting, but he is trapped by Dr. Spulnik's 10-hour chem assignment.

President Chaffee will be hosting a big family dinner and will have two guests from Mountain Home AFB.

Steve Smith regretfully states that he has to stay home and study math.

Mr. Dickey has to stay home. Mr. Dickey has to baby-sit while his wife goes to the hospital for an operation. Nothing serious, we hope.

Margaret Foote's family is having guests for dinner.

"Eat, sleep, and be merry," are the plans of Bonnie Burt.

A trip to ISC is in the making for Carolyn Key.

Mrs. Betty will be staying home to clean house for Christmas.

Student of the Week

Rolf Sutsekow

The first two words that pop into your mind when talking to Rolf Sutsekow are friendly and talented. The friendliness shows in his brown eyes and when he lists his accomplishments, you can't help but think he has talent.

Rolf could be called the Houdini of BJC. Yes, he is a magician. Rolf first became interested in magic when he was a seventh grader. At first he only "fooled around" with it, but for the past three years he has been working at it seriously. He performs at many types of functions: dinner parties, dances and club meetings. Of all the tricks Rolf has in his magic bag, his favorite is a suspension one. In this act he suspends a person in mid-air. He admits there is a trick but he won't reveal it. Rolf prefers to do this trick with an assistant but he can use volunteers.

Rolf's talent lies in the field of music. You may see and hear him each time the BJC marching band performs. He is the boy behind the bass drum. Rolf has played the drum for three years. He also plays the accordion, piano, violin and French horn.

When viewing or hearing Rolf's name—Sutsekow—you think, "What a mouthful!" And it is. It is a Ukrainian name but Rolf is German.

He was born in Pfortzheim,

Mr. Dwane Kern, Business Manager Chosen "Personality of the Week"

Mr. Dwane Kern

Our personality of the week is an outstanding young man who only recently joined the staff at BJC, Mr. Dwane Kern.

Mr. Kern assumed the duties of business manager and secretary-treasurer of the college board of trustees on Sept. 17, 1960, upon the resignation of Mr. Clyde F. Potter, who served at this post for 26 years.

This man is no stranger to the business field, for he worked in a C.P.A. office in Boise previous to coming to BJC.

Mr. Kern received his B.A. in business administration, accounting, and economics at the College of Idaho, and he is a graduate of Kuna High school.

From 1952 to 1956 he served with the U.S. Air Force.

His favorite hobbies include hunting, fishing, and football.

Mr. Kern and his wife, Delores, are the parents of two daughters, Susan and Debra.

KAMPUS CHATTER

Kay Johnson has Meridian yearbooks (already signed) for $1.00 apiece. However, the supply is limited since he has only 10 yearbooks. Kay is also taking leaves for $2.00 a yard in medium-sized yards. Why this man making crazy? He wants to Speaking of Skiing: Everyone headed for Bogus Basin Saturday and Sunday for the first skiing of the year. One group of "beginners" were Mary Ann Kibb, Sandy Kay Smith, Beverly Everett, Cheryl Fannin, Kay Eason, Judy Mooney, Louise Gendish, and naturally, Don Burt, not to miss out on anything joined them Sunday. No broken bones, girls!

S.U.B. Provides Entertainment: Virginia Richey seems to be trouble mastering the art of making pineapple sherbet ice cream cones. Just for fun, observe her attempts in the Student Union.

Flirting Can Be Dangerous: Mikki Yrihar learned a lesson the hard way. She ran her car in the guard rail while concentrating more on a bus driver driving big yellow bus, than her own driving. That'll teach her not to flirt with those bus drivers!

Dancing—No Less: Oh, by the way, Doug Dillard, we hear you're taking up dancing? Gee! And I thought you were only 18!

All Through: Guess who's sworn off girls! Mike Staggs can keep his dates straight and sometimes ends up with three dates in one night. But here's a suggestion, Mike. Throw away that black book and get a calendar.

They Do It In French: Karl Stearns and Nancy Woodworth like to play "word games" in French. "N'est-ce-pas?"

Ah Fong's Secret: Bill, why don't you tell us some more about your slide rule racket—we're curious.

Flash! SBI (Student Bureau of Investigation, headed by Alfred Newman) is cracking down on the various underground rackets now in operation at BJC.

Note to the Coach: Ya know, Lyle, it's funny where we win your team sometimes.

CAMPUS QUERY

By Carolyn Key

What project do you think the freshman class should undertake?

Frank Skillern: I believe that it would be a good idea to merely donate a needed item to one of the departments.

Smoky Beaman: I think it would be a good idea to sponsor an annual dance and elect a Mr. and Miss Sophomore.

Kay Johnson: The class should sponsor a dance for the graduating sophomores.

Barbara Nelson: The class should sponsor a dance honoring the sophomores and choose a Mr. and Miss Sophomore.

Cathy Knights: Promotion of better attendance at the basketball games. We really have a good team this year and they need school support behind them.

Woody Embry: The freshman class should promote the Union Nite dances.

Judie Heyliger: Representatives should go and see the law enforcement officials about enforcing the cross-walk situation on the boulevard.

Pat Johanson: More school spirit at the basketball games is needed.

Pat Brennan: They should put a cover on the walk between the Union and the main building.

Lola Mohler: Have a snowball fight between volunteers in the tennis courts and charge admission. The money should go to the class treasury.

Ken Gibson: Sponsor a sock hop.

Dennis Strub: Have a school "twerp" night dance if you can get the girls to be generous.

Linda Bennett: Sponsor a party.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

CHEERLEADERS

There has been another busy week for the cheerleaders. They led a rally in the Student Union during noon hour with the help of the pep band. Friday night they met the plane from Grand Rapids and gave them a big welcome to Boise. Delegates from the various campus clubs and organizations and a number of the student body turned out to meet the plane.

The Pi Sigs are sponsoring a party for all five major service organizations and their dates. A novelty in original theme, the party will be in the form of a pajama party. Roy Bowman, Bob Burr and Grant Baugh are the committee members for the dance. Admission will be a couple.

SKI CLUB

The Ski club attended Bob Woodward's style show and movie at the Hotel Boise, Wednesday, November 15. Miss Sheila Gates, BJC, was one of the models. The program ended with coffee, a discussion and a discussion.

ENGINEERS CLUB

The Engineers club began its year on October 3 with an announcement that it is now an accepted junior member of the Society of Professional Engineers. The purpose of the club is to further acquaintance of prospective engineers with this field of study.

The club meets monthly with various programs and field trips.

Homettes Install Borah High Officers

Officers of the Homettes helped install the officers of the Borah High Syringa Homemakers, Tuesday, November 14, in the dining room of the home economics department.

Each officer installed the corresponding officer of the Borah club. Participating from BJC were Elaine Everett, Teddy Alworth, Carol Morgan, Grace Volle, and Therese Hopkin. Fifteen students and three advisors were present, including Mrs. Solan, the club advisor.

After the installation refreshments were served. Table decorations consisted of mums and candles. Corsages made of mums were presented to the Borah officers and advisor.

Members of the club were then taken on a tour of the building.

On the evening of November 17 members of Homettes attended a discussion of new trends in home furnishings and furniture selections. This meeting was held at Jendren's Furniture store.

Members of the home economics class have just completed the third garment they have made this year. These projects were aprons, blouses and skirts.

Speakers so far this year have been Mr. "Leif" Erickson, president of the Idaho chapter of the American Society of Professional Engineers, and Mr. Petrofsky, an MIT graduate engineer who is now employed by Morrison-Knudsen company.

Club officers for the year are Murray Stromberg, president; Jerry Helmbeck, vice president; and Jim Thoray, secretary-treasurer. Mr. Norman Dahm is the club advisor.

Pi Sigs Best IK's

November 20 was the date of the I.K. downfall to the Pi Sigs. In their annual football game, the I.K.'s were beaten 24-18.

The game was held on the Campus school ball field. The only casualty was Jon Hill, who suffered a broken jaw.

What About That Book?

Students who missed the display of old books in the main hall during National Book week, November 13-19, missed a very interesting collection. A display of new books was also featured in the library.

Among the new books arriving in the library is This is Where I Came In: the Impromptu Confessions of Edward Anthony by Edward Anthony. In this autobiography, Anthony tells how he grew from a member of a New York City street gang to a journalist, and later to work in public relations for the Hoover presidential campaign and Crowell-Collier Publishing company. This is a very informative book on happenings in America in the last 40 years. It also contains many interesting impressions of celebrities with whom Anthony has come in contact.

Live and Let Live: A Program for Americans by Stuart Chase is another of the new books. It is a discussion of the major problems facing mankind today, such problems as nuclear warfare, population explosion, nationalism and many more. It is also a discussion of domestic problems such as juvenile delinquency and racial tension. The author also suggests possible solutions to these problems.

Rembert W. Patrick's The Fall of Richmond is the story of the last three days of the Confederate capital. Combining all available

An Editor Speaks

November is a month for giving thanks, for counting blessings. It is also a time for giving.

High on every good citizen's list of beneficiaries are the health, recreation and family welfare agencies included in the Community Chest or United Fund campaigns. The services they provide are everybody's blessings.

Youth agencies helping boys and girls grow up to be responsible men and women, leisure time activities for both old and young, protective care for babies, health programs providing life-saving research and care for the ill and handicapped... they are the things for which we all give thanks.

At this time of Thanksgiving, totals are being taken on the funds contributed to this fall's campaigns for the support of the community's humanitarian services. The amount of money raised will determine how far their good works can be extended in the year to come.

Have you given your share?

BJC GRIDDERS STOMP GRAND RAPIDS JC IN SATURDAY'S INTERSECTIONAL GAME

A fired-up Bronco team lead by fullback George Purdy and halfbacks Frank Kaaa and Bob Peterson defeated Grand Rapids JC of Michigan by a score of 61-20. A crowd of 5,000 witnessed the afternoon action at Bronco stadium.

This was the second game between the two clubs. Last year Boise invaded Michigan and was held to a 20-20 tie by the Raiders. Michigan is also the third mid-western team to invade Boise. In 1953, the Broncos beat Bacone of Oklahoma 36-14 and in 1957 they blanked Scottsbluff of Nebraska 45-0.

Coach Lyle Smith's team now holds an 8-1 record while this loss gives Grand Rapids a 3-5-1 showing.

Grand Rapids leaned heavily on the passing arm of quarterback Fred Challa, one of the nation's top —JC aerialists. He attempted 35 passes and completed 14 for 285 yards. This was an impressive showing but not good enough to stop the charging Broncos.

The BJC ground attack kept the Raiders in their own territory most of the game. Purdy, the workhorse of the blue and orange, carried the ball 19 times and gained 135 yards for an average of 7.1 yards per carry.

Grand Rapids took the opening kickoff and marched 70 yards in 14 plays for the first touchdown of the game. Halfback Bill Hajec scored from the three.

BJC retaliated by moving 64 yards in seven plays with Kaaa scoring on a 25-yard run.

Michigan scored again, this time on a 70-yard pass play from Challa to halfback Doug Eggleston. This proved to be the last time the Raiders would be out in front in scoring.

The last rally of the first quarter was made by BJC halfback Peterson on a 30-yard sweep around left end.

The second quarter strictly belonged to the Broncos as they turned a partially blocked punt, and two pass interceptions into three touchdowns.

A punt by Smith of Michigan was deflected by BJC end Dave Wilcox to start a Boise 42-yard TD drive. Purdy bucked over from the one for the score. Following a Raider pass interception by guard Gary Comstock, Kaaa threw a 24-yard pass to end John Pattinson for the six points.

Doug York set up the next Bronco TD by intercepting a pass on the Raider 25. Six plays later Peterson tallied from the six. This made the score at halftime 34-13.

Early in the third period Purdy broke loose for 53 yards to put the ball on the Michigan one. He covered the remaining distance on the next play.

BJC then took to the air for the first time with Francis Meyer throwing to Peterson standing alone in the end zone. The play covered 14 yards.

The final score in the third quarter came from the Raiders. Challa passed to Hajec to make it 48-20.

Early in the fourth quarter BJC drove 76 yards with Kaaa covering the final yard.

The last of the nine Bronco touchdowns was scored on a 15-yard pass from Steve Corno to Nick Yorges to make the final score 61-20.

BJC Debaters Return with Laurels

Debaters who attended the Washington State University tournament were Albert Schwartz and Glen Miles with four wins and two losses, John Ward and Tom Lindstrum with three wins and three losses, and Mary Miller and Elaine Forrest with four losses and two wins.

Another important tournament was held Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday at Corvallis. Debaters attending were Jackie Vanderford, Carolyn Vanderford, Roy Bowman, Gerre Weaver, Frank Skillern and Richard Plumlee.

From the Sheldon, Iowa, Mail: "Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hulst celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary on Monday evening. Rev. Ridders gave some comments and closed with a prayer. The group then sang 'Blast be the Tie That Binds.'"

AND WE BOUNCED ALL OVER THEM . . .

It was to BJC's credit that it should win its final home football game of the season. The score, BJC 61, Grand Rapids 20. BJC still must face Everett JC on Thanksgiving Day, but with the record the team has made during the year, it is commonly felt that BJC will make a good show.

From Our Book . . .

MOSS HART in "Act One": There is ample evidence, I am certain, that the early-morning hours are the golden ones for work, and the testimony of such loiterers as myself on the enduring joys of late-rising carries little weight with folks who are up and about at dawn. I accept their data on the beauties of the early morning along with their thinly veiled scorn of my own pitiable indolence; but the truth is I have never been able to understand the full extent of my loss. The Bay of Naples and the harbor at Rio de Janeiro were still there at one o'clock in the afternoon when I first laid eyes on them, and were even more beautiful, it seemed to me, for my being wide-awake and thoroughly refreshed when I did look upon them. So far as I know, anything worth hearing is not usually uttered at seven o'clock in the morning; and if it is, it will generally be repeated at a more reasonable hour for a larger and more wakeful audience.

—Random House.

WHERE ARE THEY GOING ?

Model A so I won't have to keep on riding my bicycle.

Among faculty members who are going away from home are Mrs. Westervelt and Mrs. Everts. Mrs. Westervelt will be flying to Seattle, while Mrs. Everts is driving with her family to Olympia. Also in this category is Mrs. Ada Hatch, who will be attending a meeting of the National Council of Teachers of English, in Chicago.

Among faculty members who will be staying home are Mrs. Painter, who is having a New England turkey dinner (which, by the way, is different from a western turkey dinner), and Dr. Phillips, who wants to do some digging in the yard, play basketball with his boys, get his tires recapped, and (hopefully) get some reading done.

John Hannum's plans are simple—eating, sleeping, and just in general, playing around.

Another student who is leaving Boise is Treva Rader, who will be going to San Francisco with her husband.

Jerry Wennstrom will be building a radio transmitter for KBJC.

tearing down his car, and himself to the gills.

Dick Waite will be going to Lewiston.

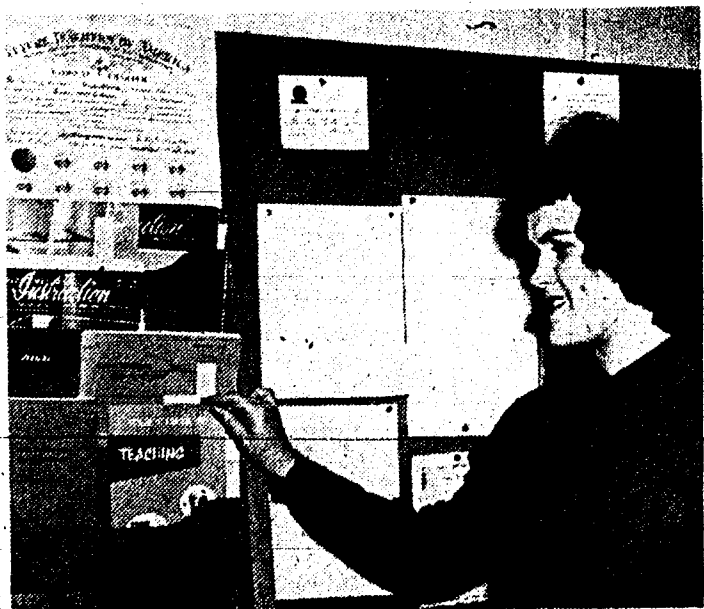

Among dorm members who are going home are Charlene Shragraveville, Judy Toole, Dixie Blankenburg, Caldwell Nancy Malstrom, Meadows.

Steve Wennstrom will be on a trip to a yet undetermined spot and eat when I'm hungry, when I'm tired, and drink when I'm thirsty."

Lyle Burnett says he will be a little bit, and play a little bit.

But whether you feel like berta Poore who wishes "I doing something exciting," Mike Healy, who plans to "brat," we know you all plans for this weekend. Whether you travel or stay at home, a Happy Thanksgiving!
