FOUR WILL GET YOU FIVE

PAMELA H. BRANG

Have you ever noticed that many four-letter words can be changed to five-letter words by inserting a letter in the middle of the word? For example, BUST can yield BURST; CAGE gives CADGE; and LIER offers LIFER, LINER, LITER and LIVER.

Below are definitions for 30 such word pairs. The combination "styptic - record set" would call for ALUM - ALBUM. Similarly, "skillful - pottery" is solved by DEFT - DELFT. And "storage building - child" inserts an I in BARN to form BAIRN.

To add variety, no alphabetical letter is used more than twice as the insertion letter. All words are from the Pocket Dictionary. In case you miss some, the key five-letter words are listed in Answers and Solutions at the end of this issue.

- 1. clear dervish
- 2. masculine wood
- 3. stuff choicest part
- 4. cripple proverb
- 5. appearance aft sail
- 6. garden plant trouble
- 7. double couple
- 8. fetter confined
- 9. ruminant delay
- 10. repast opaque element
- 11. level exhibit vehicle
- 12. greatest slightly wet
- 13. fastens multiplied by
- 14. rodents walk primly
- 15. price seashore

- 16. trust respond
- 17. anxiety nucleus
- 18. whirl wild party
- 19. simmer disseminate
- 20. ground cereal award
- 21. cheer automation
- 22. small lake strike heavily
- 23. flutter cancel claim
- 24. selling fur mammal
- 25. great chew noisily
- 26. S. African Dutch arbor
- 27. stocking equine
- 28. slender nail general
- 29. surface layer reeled yarn
- 30. detest urgency