

DEATH OF A GOD

Elizabeth Chace

My mind cannot comprehend
the things you are telling me
The joy I once felt has faded
For in my mind
I made you a god
of perfection and beauty
One that would never hurt me
But it would have been best,
Not to see you again
For before my own eyes
You killed the god
I made you.