Miracle Diet

I am not your cow not your grade A size three object of the auction block worth my weight in beef

This said as I pass by without a glace at the mirror at the toaster at the window as I walk in at the puddles on the ground as I make my way through an apparently increasingly narrow world

I will not be painted not be squeezed not be shorn not be limited by physical conformity. I will walk barefoot and I will not dye my hair unless it is my own edict but what edict is that? free of culture?

BUT I WILL NOT BE EATEN! I am not for your consumption edible-visual-societal I am a free product of the free world and of utmost value and never really free at all...

...led from one pasture to another grazing and lowing and lowing and grazing and who knows but I was taught how to say moo?

Sarah J. Gardner