

Title:	Letter written by Napoleon Buonaparte (Bonaparte) to Guillaume Thomas Francois Raynal, June 24, 1790
Creator:	Napoleon Buonaparte
Dates of Material:	June 24, 1790	Record Group Number:	RG 523
Summary of Contents:	A letter written by Napoleon Buonaparte to Guillaume Thomas Francois Raynal, dated at Ajaccio [Corsica] June 24 the first year of freedom [1790]. The letter is written in French. The translated letter reads as follows: Sir, It will probably be difficult for you to remember among the many strangers who annoy you with their admiration of a person to whom you kindly made civilities last year¹ during a pleasant conversation about Corsica. I would be grateful if you could take a look at this sketch of his history.² I present here the first of two letters. If you agree to them, I will send you the end. My brother, whom I recommend not to forget his deputies' commission to escort Paoli to his country,³ and to come and receive a lesson in virtue and humanity, will give them to you. I respectfully your most humble and obedient servant.⁴ Buonaparte, artillery officer Ajaccio, [Corsica] June 24 the first year of freedom [1790]⁵ ¹ Relations between Napoleon and Raynal have begun in 1789, which seems to confirm a confidence to Las Cases (Memorial of St. Helena , La Pléiade , vol. I, p. 83) . ² Latest version of history project of Corsica : Letters on Corsica to Abbe Raynal . ³ Joseph is part of a delegation sent by the city of Ajaccio to host Paoli 's return from exile in London . In doing so he has to go through Marseille where Raynal resides. ⁴ Shipping autograph, National Archives , 400 AP Biography 1. In the first years of Napoleon Bonaparte (1840) , Coston gives a rough version of this letter that it dates from 1786 , which is impossible because Raynal did not return to France that ' in 1787. Published for the first time in the Memories of Lord Holland (1851) , shipping is now kept in the national Archives Napoleons funds . ⁵ The letter is dated "June 24, the first year of freedom" (the word "freedom" is underlined twice). Given the dates of stay in Corsica Napoleon, it seems that is present in Ajaccio the month of June in 1790.

Physical Description / Condition:	1 letter, 22 x 19 cm.
Other Notes:	Guillaume Thomas François Raynal (1713-1796) was a French philosopher who wrote about democratic and public issues. His best known work was L'Histoire philosophique et politique des établissements et du commerce des Européens dans les deux Indes , more commonly known as the History of the Two Indies , a six-volume history of the European colonies in India and America.
Location:	Brock University Archives
Source Information:
Described by:	Chantal Cameron	Date:	January 2015