EMILY HILL

Model 0: "Winston"

Winston is a model rocking horse, made with scrap wood and modified plans from The Rocking Horse Shop in Yorkshire, England. A class assignment turned passion project, he was built in the dim December light of the Sculpture Yard. On late winter break evenings he was fitted with clay eyes, synthetic hair, and an antique finish. Given to my mother as a Christmas gift, Winston can now be seen glowing under lamplight at his honored living room resting place.
