SPARDI GRAS FESTIVAL PROVES SUCCESSFUL AS REVELRIES SCORE HIT; CONCESSIONS POPULAR

By BILL ZIEGLER

With the Spardi Gras being one of the most colorful and entertaining of all days during the school year, students of San Jose State and their friends were witnesses of the most successful events to be held yet.

Si Simoni, general chairman of the day, deserves credit for the way in which he managed the entire affair, from the appointing of capable chairmen to the summing up of the gross receipts from the concessions and the Revelries.

"Although total receipts have not been compiled and listed it is certain that the Spardi Gras was not only a social success but a highly profitable success," stated Hugh Staffelbach and Amby Nichols, assistant general chairman.

To illustrate this point they mentioned that although over 10,000 Spardi Gras bills were printed, there were not more than 100 left over after the sales of the Revelries.

Opening the festivities for the day at 11 o'clock with the excusing of all classes and the starting of sales by the various booths, student dresses in equatorial apparel, hobo regalia, and other costumes of foreign looking design were seen sprinkled about the quad. One student, a co-ed went so far as to have a live king snake wrapped around her arm to illustrate her fine snake charming costume.

Immediately upon opening the concessions, the rush to the banking booths was in sway. It was beyond expectations that the sales in the morning would be as high as they were. Several rush orders had to be sent to get more merchandise for the food selling booths to have on hand.

From 11 o'clock to 12:30, no feature was held excepting that of playing the recordies by the amplifying committee were enjoyed by all within radius of hearing. At 12:30 the noon dance began with Paul Cox's syncopating or-

Y.W.C.A. Silver Tea To Be Held May 15

An instrumental trio consisting of Mrs. Otterstein, Miss Winifred Fisher, and Miss Wilma Williamson, will play throughout the afternoon. Mr. Emil Miland will sing a group of tenor solos. Mrs. Ruth Adele Roberts Warmke will present a group of dance numbers in the lovely garden of the Crummeay residence.

Art Department Is Sponsoring Exhibit Of Virginia Works

Featuring sixty-six enlargements of photographs of the restoration of Williamsburg, Virginia, the Spring exhibit of the Art department of San Jose State College will be open to the public from May 13 to May 26. This is the first time these photographs have been shown in the West.

The exhibit is open to the public from 9 to 5 o'clock daily until May 26. This coming Sunday, the opening day, it will be open from 3 to 5 p. m. only. There is no admission charge.

The restoration of this old colonial town, on which John D. Rockefeller had spent $11,000,000 up to July 1, 1933, will provide and preserve a visual record of the life and history of the Virginia colony, which played a leading role in shaping the early history of America.

FORMER CAPITAL

Williamsburg, founded as Middle Plantation in 1632, succeeded Jamestown as the capital of the Virginia colony in 1699 during the reign of William and Mary. It has been a center of interest for more than two hundred years. Its historic background and intimate association with the great colonial patriots and the stirring events that led to the founding of the nation accentuate

The free films and typewriting shown last week will be repeated again today, Tuesday, May 15, at one P.M. in the little theater, in addition to a film on mimeographing, which will be shown first. Everyone interested is invited.

Bentel To Be Director Of All Student Publications

Dwight Bentel, San Jose State College graduate, will be director of all campus publications at State during the college year 1934-35, it was announced last night by Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie. Bentel will be in charge of the Spartan Daily, La Torre, El Portal, and the Alumni Bulletin and will hold the position of instructor of journalism.

As Stanford correspondent for both the Mercury Herald and the San Francisco Call-Bulletin, Bentel has received considerable newspaper experience. After attending San Jose State for two years, he went to Stanford University, graduated from there in journalism, and later took his master's degree in education. He also specializes in fine photography, and during the past winter has been making photographs in Death Valley.

"The purpose is to carry over experience," stated Dr. MacQuarrie, and explained that under the new plan an attempt will be made to have students work on the Daily for several quarters in order that the staff will always be experienced. The actual work will be handled the same as at present, except that it will be done on a class basis, and the publications will be class projects. Under this system more students will receive credit for their work on the publications.

Arlene Langhart, in a creation composed of playing cards, won a five-dollar merchandise order from Hale Brothers as first prize for women.

Bill Jones, ready to retire in nightgown, cap, slippers, and candle in hand, won a sweater as winner in the men's division. Neil Thomas, Arthur C. Kelley, Dr. L. C. Newby, Erwin Blesh, and Dario Simoni were the judges.

At the circus dance in the evening Jack Bowers, Wilma Williamson, and Bud Ash were among the winners of door prizes.

"By Myself," the song written by Emile Bouret, was considered the best in the show, after a repeat performance at the dance.

The radio skit included talented students in imitation acts places first in that line, with Jerry Bundson as the blushing author.

COVELLO HEADS STATE DELEGATION TO FRESNO MEETING OF STUDENT BODY CHIEFS SATURDAY

With San Jose State being represented by a delegation of three headed by Student Body President Frank Covello, the Second Annual Convention of Far Western Conference Student Body Presidents held Friday and Saturday in Fresno resulted in definite steps being taken toward greater co-operation and understanding between the schools of the Conference.

Under the chairmanship of John Said, Fresno State Student Body President, delegations from Pacific, California Aggies, Fresno, and San Jose entered upon a series of discussions on topics of vital interest to the school's involved during the two days of the convention's duration.

Featured topics put before the delegates were "The College and a Public Relations Program" under Mel Mathen, College of Pacific Student Body President; "Publications" under Stanley Livingston, editor of the Fresno State "Collegian"; "Athletics," under Phil White, Student Body President of California Aggies; "Extra Curricular Activities" under Frank Covello, San Jose State Student Body President; and a general discussion of "Far Western Conference Relations".

As a step toward more practical and friendly relations between the schools of the Conference, a motion moving next year's convention from the spring to the fall was unanimously passed by the delegates present.

Roger Jacoby, President-elect of the College of the Pacific Student Body, moved that next year's convention be held at Pacific.

The invitation was accepted unanimously.

In conjunction with next year's convention, the delegates went on record as favoring the formation of an annual Conference Debate meet to be held sometime in the spring.

This matter is to form a feature of next year's convention.

As a closing act, the delegates official-

All College students majoring in Social Science and desiring to form an organization at college are urged to attend a meeting to be held today, Tuesday, at 11 o'clock in Room 24.

For quite a few years no Social Science Club has been organized here at college. If the attendance, therefore, merits the organization of just such a club, plans will be discussed among those present. It is desirous that all interested attend.

The group when organized will be instrumental in aiding the social science majors to his objective and purpose.

If enough students do not make an appearance at the appointed hour, plans for the organization of a Social Science Club will be dropped.

SALVATO LOSES TO KEISEL

DEGROOTMEN WIN INTERSQUAD FOOTBALL GAME BY 6-0 SCORE

THE SPORT SPOTLIGHT

By Conroy and Cox

Doug Taylor showed excellent sportsmanship when he accepted his "bad break" in the broadjump at the Relays. Although truly disappointed in his failure to qualify in the trials, he concentrated all his efforts to assisting his teammates in the sprint relays. Coach Erwin Blesh should also be commended for trying to take the blame for this slip, but it was just one of those things that the blame could not be placed anywhere. With this show of sportsmanship the "Galileo Greyhound" bows out of the Spartan track picture, but his prowess in this sport will be remembered along with his exceptional ability in the leaping event.

Salvato Disappointed

Another disappointed member of the track team was Captain Lou Salvato. The "whippet" set his heart on beating "Bullet Bob" and when he was placed on the second step of the victory stand he felt pretty low. His spirits were raised however when the crowd resented the judges award and various compliments were given him by track experts.

Bob Keisel remarked that this was the greatest battle he had ever staged to win a race.

Kelley Compliments Spartan Leader

Starter Kelley who is considered the best starter on the Pacific Coast stated that Lou has a faster start than Wyckoff ever had at his peak.

Various newspaper writers confidentially agreed that Lou should have received the first place.

With all these compliments Salvato fades from the Spartan track entries only to be remembered as the greatest sprinter that ever donned a track shoe for San Jose State. His records in the conference and at the school track will stand for many years.

According to the judges, Keisel was behind at the 96 yard mark and passed Salvato in the last four yards.

Hunter Claims Salvato Victory

This race was the most discussed one for the rest of the meet. Everyone seemed to have a different slant on who won the race. The race was run over and over again in Salvato's hotel room after the meet until late hours with Charlie Hunter, Olympic Club Coach, as one of the many with an opinion.

Draper of U.S.C. did not like the idea of running against Salvato at the start of the 440 yard relay event. Because of the "whippet's" excellent get away he started the race, with Doug Taylor running the anchor lap.

Carl Robinson waived his pulled muscle and took Salvato's place in the 800 yard event. He gave his competitor a great battle and showed that next season he will capture some honors for himself.

Los Angeles June 22

With the excellent showing at this meet, Captain Lou Salvato will probably receive an invitation to run at Los Angeles next June. Here he would have another shot at Keisel and other leading sprinters. Doug Taylor should also be there to compete on the basis of his previous marks in the broad jump.

Bert Watson was glad that track season was over, so he could now start his training for football. He will strengthen the squad a great deal due to his blocking ability and speed. He ran a nice race in the shorter relay, but

Salvato Loses By Narrow Margin In Relays Event

By AL COX

Climaxing 4 years for San Jose State, Captain Lou Salvato and former Captain Doug Taylor finished their college competition at Fresno last Saturday evening.

Keisel Defeats Spartan Captain

The diminutive Spartan captain turned in the greatest race of his career when he battled "Bullet Bob" Keisel in the Intercollegiate class 100 yard dash. This race was by far the most thrilling and close of the evening giving the judges a difficult job trying to pick the winner. Salvato and Keisel were so close together that it took the officials one hour to declare who won the coveted watch. The results finally gave the Californian the first place, but were met with disapproval by the crowd.

Salvato Ran 9.6 in Heats

Salvato won his heat in the afternoon in the time of 9.6 while Keisel breached the tape in the second heat being clocked at 9.5. These two times gave warning that Sparta's sprint hope was going to give the favorite a real battle. Salvato was the first to leave his holes at the start and kept the lead up to the 95 yard mark, where Keisel started to close the gap. According to the judges he closed the distance, but there were a great many fans that think the "Bullet" did not make up the lead gained by the Spartan.

Doug Taylor was the victim of a "tough break" in his final college broad jump competition. Not knowing that trials in this event were to be held in the afternoon, he stayed away from the scene of competition. Coach Blesh, on finding out that this was the situation rushed Doug on the field. Due to this tardiness he was unable to warm up properly so therefore was not able to perform in the usual Taylor fashion. He failed to qualify so was not admitted into the finals. The winning distance was 24 feet 10 inches which is very close to the Spartan jumper's best mark, and without the "tough break" no doubt he would have finished among the first few.

Relay Team Finishes Second to U.S.C.

The Spartan relay team which entered the 440 yard event finished second to the University of Southern California Trojans. With each man running 110 yards, the State sprinters beat Stanford, U.C.L.A. and Fresno. Captain Salvato started with Bert Watson, Ken Provan and Doug Taylor running in that order. Each man ran exceptionally well but could not have been expected to beat the Trojans, who boast of four men running under 10 flat.

The longer one did not agree with him. He said that his competitors were not very considerate of the way they passed him.

Rex Connor journeyed all the way from Porterville to watch his old teammates in action.

Apology To Taylor For Slip at Relays

I want to take all the blame for Doug Taylor's failure to qualify in the broad jump. In reading the list of trials the broad jump was accidentally overlooked and, as a result Taylor was left at the hotel. When the mistake was noticed, just as the trials were starting, Taylor was rushed out to the field and dressed to compete. The tenseness of the situation was too great, however, and Taylor failed by 3-4 of an inch to qualify. His jump of 23' 6" was only good for a tie with Wilson of Fresno for a sixth place.

It was indeed unfortunate for such an accident to occur in Taylor's last appearance as he has consistently done better than 24 feet, and I make personal apologies to Doug although it is too late now. I want to say this one thing, however, Taylor is one of the best sportmen I have ever had the pleasure of coaching, and despite such a disappointment as this mistake caused him, he never let it get the best of him and gave his all in the sprint relays in the evening. I again want to say that I am mighty proud of Doug's spirit and I am sure he will make a good showing in the N.C.A.A. meet in June.

Intramural

BY BILL CRAWFORD

Baseball starts today at 12:30 sharp. The Seniors and the Juniors meet one another on Diamond 1. The opening clash between the Sophomores and the Freshmen is scheduled for Diamond 2. The combined forces of the Faculty and the Post Graduates will be massed against the Varsity. However the points gained by the Varsity will not be counted or acknowledged in the official point recordings.

It is only through full cooperation of intramural participants that this student athletic activity can be successfully carried through. Every fellow is urged to show up for these games.

Indications of a strong team in the Sophomore class are beginning to be justified, as they thoroughly convinced the Faculty aggregation of their superiority by the overwhelming scores of 15-9 and 15-6.

The Freshman aggregation took the Seniors in a hard game. The clash between the Juniors and the Post Graduates resulted in the former's defeat by scores of 15-7 and 15-9.

The third day of competition in volleyball has been set for today. The following teams play one another.

Seniors vs. Post Grads.
Faculty vs. Freshmen.
Juniors vs. Sophomores.

Menlo Tankmen Lose to Spartans By 55 to 18 Score

The Spartan mermen defeated the Menlo Jaycee tankmen in their final meet of the season in the Menlo pool Friday afternoon by a score of 55-18. No very outstanding times were turned in with the exception of the new record set by Dave Condit.

Condit, swimming in the 75 yard backstroke race, continued on for 150 yards in order to set a new school record in this event. Although he was hampered by rough water, and by the necessity of winning the 75 yard race as well as swimming the extra 75 yards, Condit set a new school record of 1 minute 56.5 seconds, with Bonnell of Menlo taking second and Burton Smith of the Spartans adding another point to the total with a third place.

Norman Fitzgerald was again beaten by Sexton in the Jayseers in the 220 yard freestyle race in the comparatively slow time of 2 minutes 32.5 seconds. Fitzgerald swam a beautiful race only to be outspurred in the last twenty yards and lose by a scant three feet. Davis of Menlo took the third place in this event. Fitzgerald also took second place in the 100 yard freestyle, beating out Sexton of Menlo in this race. Bill Ambrose of San Jose won in the slow time of 60.3 seconds.

Bill Ambrose and Ray Sherwin of the Spartans placed one-two in the 50 yard freestyle race, both finishing ahead of Bachmann of Menlo who took the third spot. The time was slow, Ambrose being caught in 25.9 seconds.

Captain Harold Houser beat out Captain Henry Fidanque of Menlo by a scant two feet in the 100 yard breaststroke event while his team-mate Dave Lynn, took a leisurely third in the event. The time of 1:14.5 was also slow. Dave Lynn came back strong a few minutes later to win the 75 yard individual medley swim, finishing ahead of his mate, Jerry Tuxford, and McKellar of Menlo. Lynn was clocked in the good time of 53.1 seconds.

Jim Winters of the Spartans, although considerably off form, placed ahead of Watson of Menlo and Charlie York of the Spartans who finished second and third. Both Winters and York were below par in their diving in this meet.

Both of the Spartan relay teams repeated their previous victories over the Menloites, experiencing little difficulty in winning the medley relay in 41.8 seconds and the 150 yard freestyle relay in 1:14.3.

Summary:

50 yards—won by Ambrose (SJ); Sherwin (SJ), second; Bachman (M), third. Time :25.9.

NEW MEN SHOW CLASS IN DEFEATING VETERANS IN SPARDI GRAS GAME

Pass To Johnson From Wool Results In Touchdown

Coach Dud DeGroot's football team defeated Bill Hubbard's squad 6-0 in the Spardi Gras game that was held last Friday afternoon. The lone score came during the middle of the first period when Wool tossed a pass to Johnson for a score.

The game was considered a great success in view of the fact that only two weeks have been spent in practice. Both teams showed spots of brilliance and weakness. According to the dopsters this defeat was an upset. Hubbard's team was composed mostly of veterans while DeGroot's squad consisted of many freshmen from last year and transfers.

The game was played with a sense of keen rivalry among the Spartan gridders. The men have realized that a good showing in spring practice makes for better breaks next fall when the game is to be taken seriously.

Red Wool, a second edition of Jack Wool, who was one of State's greatest football men, showed he was able to fill the missing Johnny Hines' shoes. His passing, running and kicking was good for one week's practice, and these abilities showed that by the Stanford game he will be a finished performer. Barrachi and Johnson were the outstanding wing men for their respective teams, the former on defense and the latter with his pass collecting.

The Hubbardmen made a stab at scoring at the close of the first quarter, but were defeated in their attempt by father time. Led by quarterback Toby MacLachlan this team drove the ball to the 10 yard line, but ran short of time. The DeGrooters got their break when the center pass from Whitaker to Barr went high and caused a loss of 15 yards. The kick to safety went wrong giving the "young bloods" the ball on their opponents 55 yard line. After a few shots at the line and around end only to meet with a strong resistance, Wool put a pass into the arms of Johnson, who was high in the air on the 20 yard line. A quick dash over the line put the "old men" 6 points behind.

A large crowd of students left the concessions and gathered around the field on San Carlos street to watch the 1934 edition of the "Spartan Grid Machine". The only injury of the game was received by Ray Arjo who recovered an old track leg injury.

The 33 freshmen in the game showed plenty of what it takes while making their varsity debut. With determination to make good they held their own with their veteran opponent. Schellert looked good at tackle making the opposing interference think him immovable. Carpenter who played with the Hubbardmen, but who was a member of last year's freshman showed possibilities at fullback.

(SJ), third. Time, 51.3.
75 yard medley swim— Won by D. Lynn (SJ); Tuxford (SJ), second; McKellar (M) third. Time 53.1.
75 yard medley relay— Won by San Jose team composed of Condit, Houser, Ambrose, Time 41.8.

150 yard freestyle relay—Won by San Jose team composed of Sherwin, Bateman, Murray, R. Lynn, Fitzgerald, Plat. Time 1:14.3.

Final score—San Jose 55, Menlo Junior College 18.

Just Among Ourselves

Note—This column is personal between the president and the college. Outsiders are requested not to make use of the material.

Something of a weekend, that. Congratulations to Mr. Matthews, Si Simoni, Louis Salvato, and a hundred others who helped. The grand concert Thursday was a fine musical event for the college, and brought thrill and inspiration in the fact that the outstanding movement for is it an opus? was composed by Mr. Geo. Matthews.

of our Music Department. I understand we're going to put on a concert of original work by students on Home Coming Day. Fine. There's something thrilling and satisfying about original work. It's an adventure.

The Spardi Gras was good, best ever, as I heard in many places. Pretty hot in parts of the quad, hard on the devoted ones who had to stand by the show. Everyone seemed to have a good time, however. Some of the pre-Spardi Gras rumors were hard on the busybodies. Several citizens evidently called up the Humane Society and protested, but when they heard that the eggs were being thrown at only a human being, and that it was just one of our boys who was ducked into the tank, they seemed to be satisfied. I know perfectly well we would never ill-treat dumb animals, but should we worry the busybodies with our advance publicity? Aren't we drawing a rather fine distinction?

The Revelries were very well done. I didn't know Bob Leland could act. I knew he was an editor, or something around here, but I did not know he had ambitions. He'll become serious one of these days. Jimmie Fitzgerald started out the same way. I sat in just about the highest seat in the gallery that night and stayed through to the end. The stuff had to be good to hold me in that seat.

I was at home Saturday evening, and just about ten o'clock I casually turned on the radio. The announcer was introducing Braven Dyer of the Los Angeles Examiner. Then I knew it was the Fresno meet. As I remember it, Dyer said: "The judges robbed Salvato of first place in the hundred yard. I don't see how they could give it to Kiesel. Without exception the sports writers agreed that Salvato had won by about a foot. I hate to see a good boy robbed of his rights that way."

That's the first I heard of it. Too bad, truly. Suspicions suggest themselves, but I put them down, a bit sanctimoniously I'm afraid. When we go into a game like that we must play it through, no matter what jolts our sense of justice may receive. Sorry, Louis. I congratulate you on a great race.

So it was a grand weekend. We had a good time. The college showed quality, ability, power. We may feel proud of that accomplishment.

Since it would be impractical to restore the city to a specific date, the restoration, as defined by the architects in charge, will provide "a composite representation of the original forms of a number of buildings and areas known or, on good authority, believed to have existed in Williamsburg between the years 1699 and 1840."

COLONIAL APPEARANCE

Although the restoration period is extended to 1840 to include certain interesting types of "Early Republic" architecture, the restored city will be colonial in its feeling and appearance.

Up to the present time 352 buildings of modern construction have been torn down, 57 colonial buildings have been restored, 61 colonial buildings have been constructed, 2 business blocks containing 25 shops and stores have been erected. Landscape work is in progress on the grounds of a majority of the restored buildings and throughout the restoration area.

Commerce Students Give Shorthand Tests

Seven State College commerce students took charge of the shorthand and typewriting contest held in Los Gatos last week, with five high schools competing: Campbell, Fremont, Mountain View, Santa Clara, and Los Gatos.

Marshall Brady, Meriel Kilfoyl, Barbara Parker, Myrle Paulk, Emma Schmitt, and Maribel Shimmin administered typing tests, organized groups scored examinations, and rendered reports of winners.

Joseph DeBrum, in charge of the shorthand group, dictated the tests, both in shorthand and stenotype, scored and announced the winners.

Election Board Named

Frank Yearian and Tom Gifford have been appointed Chairmen of the election board for the vote on the revised constitution tomorrow, May 16. Polls will be open from eight to five o'clock. A representative committee has prepared the new Constitution during the past weeks.

chestra furnishing the music for the dancers. Excepting for the fact that the thermometer was hitting around 93 in the shade the dancers who filled the quad enjoyed the motley atmosphere of foreign aspect. Scotch highlanders were seen shin-digging with little Dutch lassies, hoboos of the beaten trails were seen swinging around with Mae Wests, and big game hunters were seen flinging around with co-eds dressed as small girls.

At 3 o'clock the football game between squads 1, 2, and 3 was held with the temperature much too warm for a contest of that sort.

With 6 o'clock slowly getting nearer, the crowd of carnevelists started lingering around the quad once more. At the hour of the free feed more than 700 students were in the quad, over 300 more than were expected.

Business after the free feed took a noticeable let down and from that time to the performance of the Revelries there were few students to be seen in the vicinity of the school.

At 7:30 one of the most cleverest and finished shows in the history of the school began with Carmen Dragon's band playing "Rythm's the Thing."

Once more an audience much greater than expected appeared for the evening feature. Not only were all available seats taken soon after the show started but by the time that finale was given almost all available standing room was occupied.

After the Revelries which was mastered by Saxon Downs in a fine manner the merry makers began the last lap of a happy day, in the men's gym. The climaxing feature of the day, the evening dance, was attended by a crowd of several hundred who listened once more to the music of Carmen Dragon and his boys.

At twelve o'clock the festivities of the day were at an end. With the awarding of door prizes by Simoni at the time, the students had finished what had been a happy-go-lucky day of merriment.

Dario Simoni has stated that the success of the affair depended not only on the chairmen of the various committees but also on the way which the personell of those committees worked towards a common goal.

The chairmen of the committees for Spardi Gras day were:

- General Chairman Dario Simoni
- Chief Advisor Frank Covello

The visiting delegations were as follows: Pacific, Mel Matheny, Bob Griffin, and Roger Jacoby, California Aggies, Phil White, Roy Crouch, and Barney Dobbas. San Jose, Frank Covello, Mary Binley, and Steve Murdock.

Edwin Franko Goldman and his famous band will return to National Broadcasting Company networks for their fourteenth season of concerts beginning late in June. Goldman's season opens on June 20 and the broadcasts will begin shortly thereafter over NBC networks several times each week.

The concerts during the coming year will again be a gift to the people of New York from Daniel and Florence Guggenheim Foundation, as they have been for the past three years. This will be the 17th summer the concerts have been offered to the public.

Two concerts each week will be in Prospect Park, Brooklyn, in addition to those on the Mall in Central Park and on the campus of N.Y.U.

Graham McNamee, long the favorite sport announcer of the American public, has been assigned to cover the Baer-Carnera championship fight which occurs on June 14.

This will be the 11th year that Graham has loaned his enthusiastic voice to world-important matches, and with his now famous record of 11 world series, scores of football games, and horse races and track and water meets behind him we can be sure of a thrilling evening when this battle is fought.

Miss Williams Creates Unique Score For Orchesis Club Dance Program On May 25

"The aims of this composition are entirely different," stated Miss Alma Lowry Williams in speaking of the score which she has written to accompany the fourth movement of the Color Symphony in the Orchesis program on May 23.

"One usually combines tones melodically or harmonically, but here we have a combination of rhythms to which the melody and harmony are entirely identical. Rather than have the dancers interpret the music after it was written, the dance was worked out theoretically and then the music was created—its main interests being rhythm movement, and the suggestion, perhaps, of a feeling for color."

The expressiveness of the composition is entirely conditioned by the moods of the colors. Miss Williams has tried to give as far as possible her reaction to color from the musical standpoint.

After creating individual melodic themes for each of the primary colors, music for the secundaries was evolved by the same process from its two primary components.

The great problem in organization of the composition was that none of the instruments play in the same rhythm. Each instrument plays not only a separate rhythm but also a separate melody, the only basis for synchronization being harmony.

Speech Doings

By Jim Fitzgerald

San Jose Players came to life again this week when the new play producing group voted to rename the organization San Jose Players. By doing so they honored an organization that had done much for the reputation of San Jose State in the dramatic world, and now it will continue by adding to the laurels left by the former group.

SCHOOL FOR SCANDAL

At present time most of the student body are marveling at the abundance of old stars that have been brought together for "School for Scandal," the first play by the San Jose Players, and they fail to realize what an abundance of new talent that has been unearthed by the new play.

In the line of comedians, Robert Bains, Wesley Goddard and Elvira Pifer shown that they will be listed among the stellar performers in the production.

It is indeed gratifying to find an amateur production that will be as excellently acted throughout the entire play as this one promises to be. Too often plays are presented with good leads but weak supporting casts.

VERSE CHOIR PERFORMS

During the past week the Verse Speaking Choir has added to its laurels for the school by appearing on the Monterey Peninsula at the Monterey and Pacific Grove high schools.

As an aftermath of the visit, it is rumored that these school systems will inaugurate choirs of their own as have many of the systems where the choir has appeared previous to this time.

SPARTAN SENATE

The Spartan Senate announces that it will give its annual picnic for the debaters of the school at Seaside May 30.

Plans are also being made for the June breakfast which is presented at the close of each school year in honor of new members of the organization.

SHAKESPEAREAN CONTEST

The Shakespearean Festival which is scheduled for May 12 is well in shape under the sponsorship of the Play Reading Group. Its president, Jean McCrea announces that "Midsummer Night's Dream" under the direction of Katherine Hoffmeister is ready for presentation, and will be one of the most artistic productions ever given at the college.

rhythm; yellow moves in a four beat rhythm to the violincello and small drum; and blue in a six beat rhythm to clarinet and strucky cymbal.

The three beat rhythm of violet is carried by violin and tambourine; that of orange by the divided five beat of two triangles; and that of green to the divided beat of two variously toned wood blocks in a seven beat rhythm.

Each instrument is added to all the others as its color enters, so that the work is an ensemble of all instruments and percussives coming together on the first main accent.

After the entrance of all the rhythms there follows a very intricate section to which one should listen very carefully in order to appreciate the rhythmic problems.

At the conclusion, each odd rhythm moves to its nearest even rhythm which in turn moves to its simpler rhythm so that in the finale all the dancers and instruments are united in the original duple rhythm.

This Color Symphony is the concluding group on the Orchesis program to be held in Morris Dailey Auditorium. Student tickets are twenty cents; adult tickets—thirty-five cents. They are obtainable at Sherman Clay and Co. or the Women's Gymnasium.

The Japanese Student Club will sponsor a tea to be given Thursday afternoon, May 24th, from 3 o'clock to 6 o'clock, on the Terrace of the Art Building. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.
