San Jose Players Announces Rapid Season Ticket Sale

Public Demand Sets Record for Advance Seat Purchase

Making history and smashing all previous records of pre-season ticket sales, citizens of San Jose and San Jose State students had today snatched over 75 percent of the season books for the six plays to be presented during the coming year by the San Jose State speech arts department.

With the enthusiasm of the play-going public at fever pitch as evidenced by ticket sale records, the issuance of a third set of season tickets for a special Saturday night performance of each play is anticipated by Hugh Gillis, speech arts director and dramatic head.

Six plays will be presented, with Thursday and Friday night season ticket performances, and as yet, undecided number of performances for single ticket purchasers.

Declared to be the most ambitious dramatic effort in the history of San Jose State, Shakespeare's Hamlet will be presented November first and second in the Little Theatre.

Results of Thursday afternoon tryouts for the cast will be announced at an early date.

The annual Christmas play held in the Morris Dailey Auditorium will this year be Walt Farris' "Death Takes a Holiday." A stage success, the play was equally popular as a motion picture starring Frederic March. Performances will be December sixth and seventh.

"Hay Fever", a light, slightly farcical comedy in the English manner is scheduled for January 31 and February 1st. in the Little Theatre. "Hay Fever" is declared one of the best to be done by Noel Coward.

Murder, mystery and thrills on the order of the famous Loeb-Leopold child murder case will be given April 4 and 5 in the Little Theatre. "Ropes End", by Patrick Hamilton is expected to be the most sensational of the season's offerings.

Eugene O'Neil's tragedy which won the Pulitzer Prize for the finest play of 1925 is scheduled for May 2 and 3 in the Little Theatre. Done in the Eugene O'Neil manner, "Beyond the Horizon" is said to contain the most searching and season's offerings.

The final presentation of the season, will be selected sometime during the spring term. One of the more modern comedies will be chosen. It's presentation on June 6 and 7 in the Little Theatre will wind up the season.

Large Frosh Sign-up In Composition Classes

The increased enrollment has made it necessary to create four new freshman composition classes, two in Subject A work and two in English 1A, according to Dr. Raymond W. Barry, head of the English department. The Subject A classes are under Miss Helen Dimmick, Dean of Women, and Miss Swanson, secretary of the English department; while Dr. James Wood and Dr. Harold Miller have the English 1A classes.

EXPANSION OF COLLEGE RESULTS IN ADDITION OF TEN INSTRUCTORS

New Faculty Members Represent Variety Of Fields

With the introduction of four new courses at San Jose State college, ten new instructors have been added to the faculty to take charge of the new courses and to replace instructors who did not return for the fall quarter.

In the Commerce department, Mr. Earl W. Atkinson has been added to the faculty. Mr. F. F. Peterson will be an instructor in the Mathematics department, teaching aeronautics.

In the Art department, Mr. John French will replace Mr. Dan Mendelowitz, who has joined the Stanford faculty. Mr. DeWitt Portal will coach freshmen football and teach boxing.

Miss Margaret Cianfoni has been added to the Modern Language department as an instructor in Italian. Dr. Margaret Jones has been made head of the Home Making department.

Mr. William Sweeney has been added as an instructor in the Speech Arts department. Mr. George Stone has been made an instructor in the Natural Science department and will teach photography.

Mr. Harry Engwicht is another new instructor in the Natural Science department and will teach radio. Miss Ada J. Roberts has been added to the Personnel office.

Dr. C. George has been made a full time physician in the Health department. Mr. Dwight Bentel has been made director of publications and head of the newly created publicity department.

In the Police Administration department, Chief J. N. Black has been added as an instructor.

DEBATING CREDIT GIVEN STUDENTS WHO PARTICIPATE

Securing credit for intercollegiate debaters has been one of the recent developments in the Speech department. To secure credit for debating, students should enroll in Speech 7A or 107A.

Previously, intercollegiate debating was entirely an extra-curricula activity, with no credit given save the momentary honor and the good the student received from the experience. Now, under the new ruling, students may also get one unit, plus the experience.

It will be possible to get six units toward graduation from the class, three in lower division and three in upper division work. It is probable that the credits will be transferable.

The class is held on Monday afternoons at four, and is conducted in open forum style, under the direction of debate coach Ralph Eckert. Present political and economic questions will be discussed before the attention of the group is turned to more formal debates with other college.

Librarian Reveals Readiness to Open Stacks in Evening

Cooperation Necessary To Re-open Library, Says Miss Backus

In answer to the objections of students who found the new library hours inconvenient, Miss Joyce Backus, librarian, issued a statement today to the effect that the library department is "perfectly willing to open again in the evenings if given the right cooperation."

"If the students will guarantee to use the library for studying purposes only," Miss Backus said, "we are willing to open in the evenings again."

Temporarily, the library hours have been set at 8 to 6:30 in the main reading and circulation room on week days, and from 9 to 5 on Saturdays. It was announced that the collateral reading room will be open from 8 to 5:30 on week days, and from 9 to 12 in the morning, and then 1 to 5 in the afternoon on Saturday.

A change to the old schedule awaits only the proper assurance from the students that the library will be used for study, and not social purposes.

Miss Backus statement followed the repeated protests of prominent student body leaders.

New Line on Fish Claimed by Eagan, All Doubt Thomas

Ask Tommy Eagan—Professor Eagan to his public—what he did on his vacation, and perhaps you too will be doubting Thomas.

It seems that he went fishing near Alturas. When it comes to this part of the story, Professor Eagan grins, throws out his chest and says: "Guess how many fish I caught?" You magnanimously say several dozen, and the young musician tells his story. Providing that no game warden reads the Daily, Professor Eagan is willing to tell all. He caught 190 trout in one sitting—and here we hesitate to mention whether or not he sat several days duration.

Several pretty jealous music faculty members suspect Tommy of sitting on the bank playing the French horn and coaxing the fish to come out after their scales.

Professor Eagan invites competition in faculty fish stories, that is, if the number of trout has not decreased by this time.

Y. W. C. A. Offers Varied Range Of Discussion Groups

Freshman Parties Will Be Given Soon For New Students

A varied program—from Freshman parties to a discussion group in recent trends in modern thought—will be offered by the college Y.W.C.A. to all students of San Jose State College.

The Association offers a wide range of activities, including discussion groups in present economic conditions, a study group in the life and teachings of Jesus, and freshman acquaintance groups.

"Listening groups", where one may enjoy concerts by good local artists and another where new and stimulating books will be read and discussed, have been planned. Since membership is not required for participation, all of these activities are open to men and women students.

In addition there are administrative committees which plan and carry out the program. The following is the schedule of hours and places of group meetings.

1. Books: This is an informal gathering of girls who want to make the acquaintance of good books in a group. During the first six weeks, modern European literature will be read, after that (Continued on Page Four)

A sign-up rally is to be held next Thursday at a dinner meeting in Schofield hall at the San Jose Y.W.C.A.

Captain Simoni Injured As Spartans Lose At Stanford

By GIL BISHOP

A red-shirted horde of Stanfordites swept out of their tepees Saturday afternoon to hand the invading Spartans of San Jose State a convincing 48-0 shellacking. Before a crowd of some 10,000 people, Dud DeGroots gold-jerseyed gridders went down to a conclusive, but not inglorious defeat.

Overwhelmingly outweighed, the Staters at no time were in the running against the smooth-working Thornhill aggregation. The Stanford attack belied reports of little scrimmage or practice, for the Indians were far advanced over their condition last year. There was little hesitation in either the running attack or the defensive work, and the Palo Alto eleven evidently had their work cut and dried.

New Faces In Spartan Limelight

Surprising to San Jose followers, it was not the veterans who took the small bit of lime light that the Spartans collected for their efforts. Instead, a couple of boys who have done little headline crashing thus far this year turned in the best performances.

Bruce Daily, a Los Gatos sophomore playing his first major game, was without a doubt the highlight of Spartan line play. Daily plugged up a big gap in the badly dented gold line, and his work earned high commendation from both sides. (Continued on Page Three)

Newman Hall Is Scene Of Open House Party

Plans for Newman Club activities for the coming quarter were made at a meeting of the club held Wednesday evening, September 19, at the C.W.C.

Thursday afternoon, September 20, the first Open House of the season was held at the Club. The affair was open to all college students. Jack Fidanque's orchestra provided music for dancing.

Miss Ann Franzia is chairman of the entertainment committee. Next Thursday afternoon, September 27, another Open House will be held. Following this affair activities will be limited to members.

Cooperation Needed

The new rule concerning the closing of the library in the evening can only be changed by an organized effort on the part of the students.

Prior to this time we have taken for granted the privilege of studying in the library in the evening. With the withdrawal of this privilege there comes the realization that any of our present accepted habits may have to be changed because of the abuse of the privilege by a few.

The Spartan Daily is willing to cooperate with other organizations who desire to have the library open evenings for those who want to study. Your opinions regarding this matter will be welcomed.

Student Opinion Wanted

Today is Monday. One week from today the first edition of the Spartan Daily written by all members of the student body and faculty will appear on the campus.

Your comment or criticism on any subject will be welcomed providing it fulfills the requirements we mentioned in Friday's paper. They are: (1) The articles must be signed by the author; (2) They must not exceed words in length.

If you feel that you have in your possession the spark of literary genius, fan it to a full flame, turn in the product to the Spartan Daily and allow the student body to judge its merits.

The deadline on these articles for Monday's paper is Friday noon. This means we will accept copy all week. The rest depends on you.

"Just Among Ourselves"

Few of the students at San Jose State college realize how fortunate they are in being the recipients of a message from the president of the college, Dr. T.W. MacQuarrie, twice a week.

Dr. MacQuarrie will write a personal column to the students entitled "Just Among Ourselves" which will appear in the Spartan Daily on Tuesday and Friday.

This is the only college publication in the country as far as we know that has ever been favored with a column by the president of the college.

New Students Welcomed Student Body Prexy

San Jose State extends a hearty welcome to each of you. Our old friends will soon acclimate themselves to another successful year of achievement and we hope each new student will soon become imbued with the fine spirit of our college. You will not be long on our campus before you become aware of an intangible spirit which spurs you on to greater personal effort and service to the school.

You will soon understand why we are so proud of our campus with its traditions extending back over the past seventy years as the oldest teacher's college in the state. Traditions, however, do not interfere with progress on this campus, and we are always on the alert to add modern equipment and methods to meet rapidly changing world conditions. A special illustration of this is found in the new constitution which was adopted by the associated students last spring. Under this new type of student body government the power of governing is delegated in the hands of seven students who comprise the Council. We invite you to attend our meetings and feel a part of this governing body.

We are hopeful of making this one of the best years in the history of San Jose State and may it also be one of fulfillment for your personal aspirations. We welcome you as an intricate part of our efforts toward these objectives.

RONALD LINN,
President of The Associated Students.

Cash Prizes Offered In Phelan Contest

Dollars! Dollars! Dollars!
Five hundred in the hard-to-come-by coin of the realm!

Cold, hard cash!
No circus ballyhoo, this, but the 1934 announcement of the English department concerning the Senator Phelan fine literature contest, open to all San Jose State students.

Three hundred dollars in prizes will be awarded for the finest poems. With this incentive a deluge of sonnets, lyrics, narrative poems, and blank verse is expected.

Two hundred dollars in prizes will be awarded prose writers. These prizes will be paid for outstanding essays and short stories. Manuscripts will be accepted during February and March of the spring term. No date has yet been set for the announcement of winners.

San Jose State won to a unique place among the colleges of the world with the bequest of $10,000 by the late Senator Phelan, the interest from which was to be distributed yearly to the students submitting the best literary work above a pre-determined standard.

Outstanding among the contestants of 1932 and 1933 was Jean Smith, literatist extraordinary. In the two years, Miss Smith was awarded more than $300 for the contributions, which were later printed, as were other contest prize winners, in El Portal, a college publication which every year prints outstanding literary work entered in the Senator Phelan contest.

lines and the fans. The other gridders who turned in a good defensive game was Bill Burt, a made-over center and end of the Crawford regime, now playing guard. Bill has not seen much service during the last two years, but his play Saturday should place him in a favorable spot during the rest of the season.

Stanford Scores Early

Stanford lost little time in scoring. With seven minutes of play gone, a drive featuring Hamilton and Grayson culminated in Grayson plunging over from the one-yard stripe. Moscrip converted for the seventh point.

Another Stanford Drive

Receiving the kickoff, the Cards were off again from their own forty-nine yard line. Grayson, Hamilton and Alustiza, plus a Grayson to Topping pass, put the ball on the six-yard line, with Grayson driving over again. Moscrip made it two conversions and 14 to 0.

With three minutes to go in the quarter, Stockdale kicked out on the Stanford 28 yard line. Grayson took the ball on a delayed off-tackle plunge and pivoted and twisted his way the full seventy-two yards across the final white stripe, but the score was nullified when Becker was clipped from behind on the play. Moscrip proceeded to drop back to the San Jose twenty-nine yard line and drove a perfect place kick between the uprights, making it 17-0 as the quarter ended.

Cards Score in Second Quarter

After nine minutes had elapsed in the second quarter, a pass from Alustiza to Trompas boosted the Stanford total another six digits. There was no conversion, and the half ended 23-0.

Second Half

Another Hamilton plus Grayson march in the third quarter placed the ball over the goal line, with Hamilton doing the scoring. Moscrip again made the extra point. 30-0.

Just before the close of the quarter, Alustiza romped off his own left tackle and lateral passed to Grayson, who romped thirty-four yards to a touchdown. This time there was no conversion and the score stood 36-0 at the close of the fourth quarter.

Opening the fourth stanza, Hamilton, Maentz and Head drove their way down the field, with Maentz finally pivoting his way around end for twelve yards and another Stanford touchdown. The conversion failed, but the scoreboard read 42-0.

The last touchdown came in the middle of the quarter, Hamilton heaving a twenty-two yard pass to Clark for the end of the scoring. 48-0.

State Linesmen Show-up Well

In the second half the work of Azeveda, Cannell and Pors, Spartan guards, was outstanding, all three of the boys did some fine defensive playing. At ends Johnson and Lantagne played great ball.

Although the backfield had little to do in the way of offensive tactics, the defensive work of Shehtanian, Corbella, and MacLachlan branded them as the Spartan big-guns.

It is significant to note that the scoring of all, except the last touchdown, was done by the first string of the Indians. Thornhill had his regulars in the game for eighty

Willamette Loses To Oregon State 13 to 0

Willamette University lost the opening game of the 1934 grid season Saturday, when the powerful Oregon State college scored a 13-0 win.

Both touchdowns were the result of breaks. The first came when Willamette fumbled on its own 8 yard line and Oregon State recovered. On the fourth down, Norman "Red" Franklin scored the first touchdown.

Late in the second period, Devine, Oregon State center, blocked a punt from the three yard line. Schultz fell on the ball back of the Willamette goal line.

San Jose State will meet the Willamette University at the Spartan Stadium on November 10.

Rodgers Moore Named On Tamalpais Faculty

Rodgers Lee Moore, former San Jose State college student has been appointed to the faculty of Tamalpais School for boys, it was learned here last week. Mr. Moore will teach hygiene and coach in athletics.

Moore graduated from San Jose State in 1933, and continued his studies as a graduate student at Stanford University.

The former San Jose student was a well known athlete on the campus. While in attendance here, he starred for four years in football, played baseball, and also went out for track. He was a member of the athletic board for two years.

Mr. Moore is the husband of Mrs. Gertrude Moore, chemistry instructor at this institution. Mrs. Moore was formerly Gertrude Witherspoon.

Former Speech Library Now Practice Theater

Due to the need for a larger room in which to train speech students, the old speech and art library has been made into a practice theater and lecture room for the speech department.

The rooms which have been used previously were too small, as adequate vocal exercise was not possible then, the speech arts department stated. In the new room, a stage the same size as the visible portion of the little theater has been erected, where play practices will be conducted when the little theater is in use.

It is the plan of the department to produce plays in the new room as soon as the lights are installed.

percent of the contest, and it was no disgrace for the Spartans to go down to defeat before such an onslaught.

The entire game was a clean, hard-fought affair, with a noticeable lack of savagery on the part of both teams. There was much back-patting and exchange of polite conversation—a whole lot of which kept the Spartans from firing up to a point of concerted action. Stanford out-played State—Stanford out-talked State. The combination piled up forty-eight points, but we still have a ball club.

Frosh Hoop Notice!

Coach H.C. McDonald requests that all freshmen basketball candidates, who are not engaged in other athletic activities, report for the practice sessions which are held on Tuesdays and Thursdays from four to six o'clock. This pre-season practice offers an excellent opportunity for the frosh cagers to get in shape.

Nevada Crushed 40-0 By Santa Clara Univ.

Nevada's Wolves fared no better than San Jose in the football world Saturday, when the Santa Clara Broncos unleashed a powerful offensive and scored a 40 to 0 win over the Reno team.

Despite great playing by Carroll, Nevada fullback, and Cashill, outstanding center, the Nevada team was unable to score.

Santa Clara displayed one of the best early season teams in her history, and should make things very interesting for Stanford next Saturday.

240 Students Take Physical Exam At Chico State

Over two hundred and forty new students were given physical examinations by Dr. Moulton and Dr. King in the past four days. For the first time in many years the incoming group of men outnumbered the new women students.

Dean Paul Edwards and Dr. Moulton stated that this group of new men students were the best average group of physically fit freshmen ever to enter Chico State. This improvement may be traced to better health examinations throughout the rural districts, for the majority were from the rural districts.

Sixty Men Out For Football At Chico

CHICO, Sept. 20—Sixty gridders trotted onto the Chico State gridiron last week in answer to Coach Acker's call for football material. cises in gym clothes in preparation for the opening day of school when actual football could begin.

Another light team is in prospect for Chico this year judging from the weights recorded by the veterans who have signed up. Glenn More, stellar center for two years, tipped the beam at 170, a new high for the fighting Woodland lad. Veterans Les Kriegh and Bud Asher returned to bolster the guard and tackle positions respectively. Four veterans returned to hold down the end posts and give Chico much needed strength. The vets are Carroll Sherrod, Dick Corbin, Bob Tyler, and John Uboldi.

Backfield strength is assured by the return of Jew Rhoj, heady quarter and Dick Jenks, flashy triple threat who has returned to pass and kick for the State team. Carl Delgado, Ernie Lambrecht, Red Roberts, Ed Jorgenson, Hank Henry are other returning stars of last year.

Fresno Scores 33-0 Win Over S. F. State

Fresno State scored an impressive 33-0 victory over San Francisco State last Saturday night at Fresno to open the current grid season.

Fresno displayed a dazzling running attack, coupled with a strong defense that stopped the San Francisco team when they neared the scoring area.

Fresno scored twice in the opening period. On the first play after the kick-off, Byrd, Fresno half, ran 75 yards through the entire 'Frisco team to score.

Other Fresno touchdowns came as a result of an intercepted pass, a touchdown pass, and two by reverses.

Freshmen Showing Up Varsity at Chico

Freshman stars are stealing the show from varsity performers in the early part of the Chico State football practices. Herb Bowe from Red Bluff has already earned himself a tentative first-string berth by his sensational punting and hard running with the ball. This young fellow looks as if he will be a cinch for a first-string berth if he can maintain the torrid pace he has set so far.

Health Faculty Gains Services of Dr. George For Football Physician

In charge of medical service for the football team this year will be Dr. C. Bruce George, a new member of the Health Office.

A graduate of the College of Medical Evangelists, Dr. George has in the past been in charge of the psychopathic hospital in Denver and has just recently been practicing at the Hyland hospital in Oakland.

He will also help at the Health Cottage, where a need for more assistance has recently been felt. His addition to the staff will result in better service to the students.

Insurance against financial risk for teachers was discussed by Walter Bachrodt, city superintendent of schools, in an article entitled "Teachers' Mutual Aid Society" in the June number of the Sierra Educational News.

Spartan Band Gets New Deal; Uniforms Add Color, Comfort

"Strike up the band!"—Here they come with snap, style, and plenty of strut in their new uniforms.

Wait until you see the regalia that the San Jose State band members are going to wear for special occasions this year.

You'll be able to see the drum major from a distance, when he steps forward proudly leading his ensemble. Don Madsen will wear the drum major's uniform this quarter. A gold coat, white trousers with gold stripes, and a gold cap, military style constitute this uniform.

The regulation band uniforms—eventy in number—have navy blue coats, double-breasted style, white trousers, and navy blue headgear, military style with the gold Spartan insignia on the front—altogether an ensemble of style and dignity combined with plenty of pep.

Mr. Adolph W. Otterstein is very proud of the new band costume as are the band members. Incidentally, any student body member who can toot a trumpet or handle a horn with enthusiasm may speak to Thomas Eagan or Raymond C. Miller about playing in the band, Mr. Otterstein announces.

Frosh Women Given "Jolly-Up" By Spartan Spears Organization

Acting as hostess were members of Spartan Spears, Sophomore women's honor society. This year, for the first time, the entertainment of freshmen women has been taken care of by Spears, it formerly being an activity of the Associated Women Students.

Badminton, deck tennis, and paddle tennis were enjoyed throughout the afternoon. Ice cream was served at the end of the day.

Miss Margaret Twombly, faculty advisor of Spears, and Miss Kathleen McCarthy, president of the organization, assisted in welcoming the freshmen and helping them to become acquainted.

Information tags were distributed to the guests concerning the activities in which they were interested. In this way Spartan Spears plans to enable the girls to get in touch with the various campus organizations.

Dr. Holliday Worried When Wife Signs Up For Aviation Course

Though Mrs. Carl Holliday, wife of the San Jose State English professor, Dr. Carl Holliday, is up in the air over aviation, her amiable spouse intends to stay within stepping distance of the safe and solid terra firma.

So said Dr. Holliday today when questioned concerning his wife's enrollment in the newly formed aviation class at San Jose State.

Mrs. Holliday is one of three women students enrolled in the course being taught by Frank F. Peterson, former airplane designer and machinist, and now serving his first year on the college faculty here. Doris Shields and Alice Graham are other women members of the class.

"What do you think of Mrs. Holliday taking up flying?" asked the reporter.

"I think it fine," answered the Dr. "She takes up flying, and I take up the bills."

"But think of the convenience," said the reporter. "She can fly you to school every morning."

"Not while I know it," cried Professor Holliday. "Let her fly. I'll stay close to something more solid."

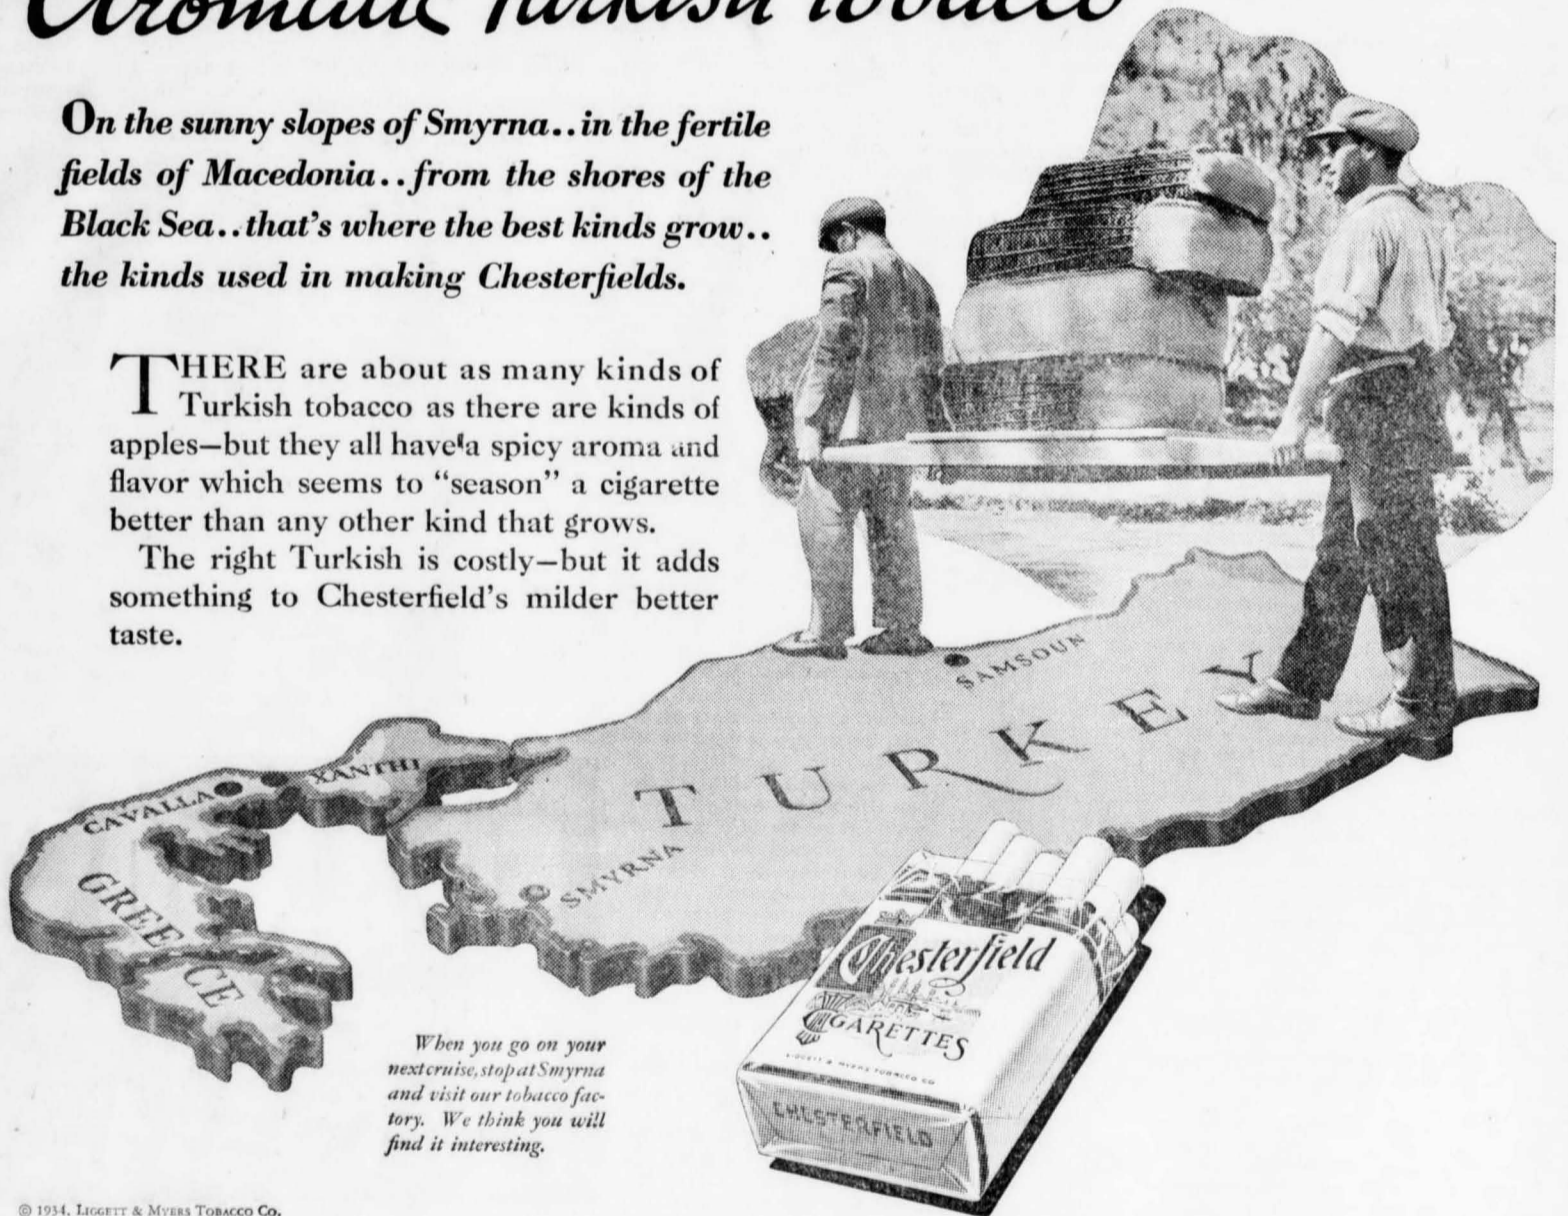

Fifty-two percent of the incoming freshmen passed the English A examination this year compared to less than fifty percent who passed last year.

Aromatic Turkish tobacco

On the sunny slopes of Smyrna...in the fertile fields of Macedonia...from the shores of the Black Sea...that's where the best kinds grow...the kinds used in making Chesterfields.

THERE are about as many kinds of Turkish tobacco as there are kinds of apples—but they all have a spicy aroma and flavor which seems to "season" a cigarette better than any other kind that grows.

The right Turkish is costly—but it adds something to Chesterfield's milder better taste.

When you go on your next cruise, stop at Smyrna and visit our tobacco factory. We think you will find it interesting.
