Officers Chosen At Class Elections Held Yesterday; Plans Made For New Year

Seniors Elect Fake To Presidency; Sophs Chose Grimsley

Senior, Junior, and Sophomore classes elected officers for the Autumn quarter of the new school year yesterday.

Meeting as individual groups, the three classes selected their new leaders and built about these officers their plans for the coming year.

More varied and interesting programs will be the keynote of senior class activities this year, according to Clyde Fake, who won the presidency of this group. Chosen to assist him in carrying out these plans was Elvera Pieri, vice president; Peggy Dunipace, secretary-treasurer; and Harry Hardiman, sergeant-at-arms.

In a meeting marked by heated argument, at which plans for a full program of class activities were discussed, the Sophomores started their year with the election of Jim Grimsley, class president; Bill Roberts, vice president; Barbara Carr, class reporter; and James Welch, intramural manager.

In a final message as the class adviser Dr. J. C. Elder, dean of the lower division, urged that the sophomore class cooperate this year and "put itself on the map."

Following Dr. J. C. Elder's resignation as faculty adviser, Dr. Raymond Mosher was elected to fill the vacancy.

Bryon Lamphear, last years peppy Sophomore president, was re-elected president of the junior class. "We hope to carry over the pep and spirit of last year's Sophomore class, and make history in Junior journals as one of the school's most progressive classes, Lamphear declared, following his election.

Adrian Wilbur, who has been active in school affairs, was chosen vice president of the group; while Jeanne Martin was elected secretary-treasurer, and Genevieve Hoaglan, class reporter.

Student-Faculty Daily Issue Proves Popular

Announcement early this week of a special Monday morning "student and faculty" edition, which will be characterized by the appearance of voluntary contributions from its readers, has resulted in a surprising response by both students and faculty members, declared Dan Cavanagh, editor of the Daily, as the Friday noon deadline for acceptance of such material drew near.

Cavanagh urged that anyone planning to contribute to the Monday issue bring material to the Publications room immediately, but pointed out that the same opportunity to "break into print" will be afforded by the paper every succeeding Monday throughout the entire Fall quarter.

"All types of writing, whether they be literary, controversial, or an expression of the writer's observations or ideals, are equally accepted," Cavanagh stated.

Junior High Group To Start Program On Next Tuesday

Holding as their objective the fostering of increased appreciation of the aims, ideals, and attainments of the junior high school and the opportunity to join in a closer social fellowship, the Junior High Majors will begin an interesting program of activities for the quarter next Tuesday night at eight o'clock in room one of the Art building.

DIRECT CONTACTS

Through a series of dinner meetings and other social affairs, at which notables in the field of education will be present, the organization hopes to realize the benefits of direct contact between those in the field and those still in the process of training.

MRS. HALL ADVISER

Mrs. Cecile Hall, adviser of the group, is assisting the officers in planning an entertaining, instructive program for the Tuesday meeting. All freshmen interested in junior high work are especially urged to attend, so that they can become acquainted with the objectives of the school early in their career. A freshman representative for the Council will be appointed during the business meeting.

OFFICERS FOR QUARTER

Sixty "Y" Members Join Interest Groups At Enthusiastic Rally

Beginning the fall quarter with an unusual show of enthusiasm, over sixty Y.W.C.A. members signed up for interest groups at the Sign-Up Rally last night in Schofield Hall.

With such a wide variety of subjects offered that at least one of them is expected to appeal to every student, these discussion and study groups will be held weekly in the "Y" room.

Since membership in the Association is not required for the participation, these activities are open to all women students. Groups dealing with Economics and the study of Jesus are also open to men.

Following is the schedule of hours:

Study of Jesus—Monday from 4:00 to 5:30 P.M.

Economics—Wednesday from 4:00 to 5:00 P.M.

Books—Wednesday 7:00 P.M.

A Y.W.C.A. freshman luncheon club will meet every Monday from 12:00 to 1:00 P. M. in room one of the Home-making building.

MACQUARRIE TO DECIDE LIBRARY ISSUE; LETTER FROM COUNCIL FACTOR

Librarian Approves of Student Council's Action

Whether the library reopens in the evenings now awaits the decision of Dr. T.W. MacQuarrie, president of the college, after a letter from the student council to Miss Joyce Backus, librarian, was referred to the president's office for final approval yesterday.

Because of Dr. MacQuarrie's absence, the matter has temporarily come to a standstill, but will probably be cleared up Monday, when the president is expected to return from an official trip to Fresno.

CONDUCT SUPERVISED

The council's letter to Miss Backus proposed that a committee of eight be chosen to observe conditions in the library during evening hours.

According to Miss Backus, if, upon the reopening of the library and the subsequent supervision of the committee, conditions are found to have improved, then the committee would have nothing to report and the library would continue to open in the evenings. If, however, there is no improvement in conditions, then it would be up to the committee to suggest a remedy.

EVENING STUDY NECESSARY

The text of the letter, which is dated September 26, follows:

"Dear Miss Backus:
"At our council meeting last Tuesday noon we discussed the library problem and it was the general consensus of opinion that the library is very much needed during the evening hours by most students. We realize, however, that the students should do their part in helping to eliminate the disagreeable conditions of the past. With this thought in mind, the council has proposed the following action: If the administration will agree to open the library during the evening hours, the Council has empowered me to appoint a committee of eight members from representative organizations on the campus to observe the library conditions during the remainder of the quarter. Near the end of the fall quarter this committee could meet with you and Dr. MacQuarrie and discuss the situation through."

Spartan Gridders To Clash With Santa Barbara Eleven In Local Stadium Tomorrow

Winter Graduates Must Have Photos For New La Torre

All seniors who are expecting to graduate in December and all faculty members and members of sororities, fraternities and organizations who are planning to have individual pictures taken for La Torre, should have these pictures taken at the Pavley Studios, corner of Second and Santa Clara streets, sometime during the present quarter, it was announced yesterday by Charles Pinkham, editor of La Torre.

"This is of extreme importance," Pinkham declared, "and all teachers and students should attend to the matter immediately."

Following is the tentative list of December 1934 graduates:

Moliere's "Still Life" Presented Yesterday; Directed By Joy Arps

Directed by Miss Joy Arps, speech arts major, Moliere's sophisticated farce, "Still Life", was presented at freshman orientation yesterday morning as the first offering of San Jose Players this quarter.

Besides directing the performance, Miss Arps also played the lead opposite James Clancy, and designed and executed the well-adapted set. Portraying the parts of an actor and actress of conflicting temperament, Clancy and Miss Arps shared acting honors, closely rivaled by Jean McCrae as the stupid maid.

Miss Winifred Fisher In Concert Today

Miss Winifred Fisher, prominent campus singer, will be the guest artist of a "Musical Half Hour" to be presented by the college Y.W.C.A. at 12:30 today in the Morris Dailey Auditorium.

Miss Fisher attained nationwide recognition a few years ago by winning second place in the Atwater Kent audition for young singers, and has since been in demand for various entertainment programs. She was on the program for senior orientation yesterday.

The Musical Half Hour committee extends a cordial invitation to everyone to attend their regular weekly programs.

New Material Replaces Injured Vets; 'Dee' Has Old Position

By GIL BISHOP

San Jose State followers will get their first opportunity to witness the DeGrootmen in local surroundings tomorrow afternoon when the Orange and Black clad gridders of the Santa Barbara Athletic Club meet the Spartans at Spartan Stadium.

Under the direction of Coach Clarence Shutte, the clubmen eked out a 6-0 win over the strong Santa Barbara State eleven last Saturday in a grudge battle. The club team is no set-up this year and reports from the Southland are of a powerful and diversified squad of well-seasoned ex-collegians.

MIXED LINE-UP

look of starting a line-up of mixed veterans and greener material. On the injured list at present are Tackles Simoni, Leo, Daily, Jackson and Becker; End Laughlin; and "Sarge" Corbella and many members of the backfield. It is doubtful if any veterans except Daily will see much action tomorrow. Corbella has had "broken nose" trouble, but will probably start in shape.

Programs Make Debut At Game Saturday

San Jose State's colorful football squad will dance across the pages of an attractive 1934 football program in flashy action poses at Saturday's Spartan-Santa Barbara Athletic Club football game.

The new program, published under the direction of the State college news bureau and the auspices of the Board of Athletic control, will present not only individual pictures of the players, but a double-page starting line-up, and a special pre-game write-up by Clarence Naas, sports editor of the Spartan Daily, as well.

As a special added feature, and one with guaranteed universal appeal, the program will sell for only 15 cents rather than the customary two bits—which itself should make the booklet unusually popular.

A program of equal quality has been promised by the editor for each of the games played by the Spartan team in the home stadium this year.

SOCCER TEAM IN FIRST GAME HERE TODAY

DeGroot Using New Line-up Against Club Team; Injuries Bench Regulars

tirely different team on the field from that which opened the game against the Thornhill men last week.

Ralph Meyers of the San Jose Meyers' will be at the pivot post in the line. Meyers has been showing up well during the past week's scrimmages, and is expected to get the call tomorrow.

WILSON AT GUARD

At guards, Jack Wilson and Barney Swartzell have been working as a pair and will open the fray against the Clubmen. Wilson is a seasoned veteran who has been kept out of play by injuries. Jack has rounded into top condition, and should be a bulwark in the Spartan line tomorrow. Swartzell is a sophomore playing his first year on the varsity. Co-captain of the Frosh last year, the Indianan is rapidly gaining experience and is pushing the older heads for a regular job.

At one tackle will hold forth another sophomore, Bruce Daily, who gained much publicity for his performance against the massive Stanford forward wall last week.

At the other tackle, Dud will start another publicity hound and a made-over guard, Bill Burt, Los Eanos pride and joy. Burt's weight and experience should prove an asset at the badly dented tackle post.

VETERAN, NEW ENDS

A veteran and a sophomore will divide wing honors. Charley Baracchi of Palo Alto, a veteran, will start at the short side end. Charley is playing his second year under DeGroot, being out with a serious operation in 1933. Don Baldwin, a San Jose High product, will be the logical candidate to start at the other end, having paired with Baracchi all week.

"Sarge" Corbella will open the game at quarter if his broken nose allows him to see service. Understudies Norman Sanders and Lester Carpenter are expected to see service, as the "Sarge" has been handicapped all week with his broken breathing apparatus.

SHEHTANIAN SHIFTS BACK

"Dee" Shehtanian has been shifted back to his old love, left half, and the beardless Tulare flash is expected to shine at the halfback spot. Palo Alto again donates another starter, this time in the personage of Ray Arjo at right half. Arjo is a veteran who will get his first chance to shine this season. The "Arj" can be remembered as the boy who went over for the final touchdown against Pacific last year.

Completing the eleven, Dave Barr, a third up-peninsula boy, will start at fullback. Barr is opening his third year under De Groot, but has been forced to understudy Jack Wool and Johnny Hines during his first two seasons of play. Dave is the triple-threat man of this starting backfield, his kicking being the number one threat.

Experimenting with many of his in-experienced players, De Groot is not attempting to overwhelm the clubmen, even were that possible. Instead, the head man is looking for outstanding material in his hither-to-fore untried second and third string.

PHY. ED. MAJORS TO MEET IN GYM MONDAY NOON

Football Biographies

BRUCE DAILY

Tackle 192 lbs.

The great things expected of Daily this season are being realized, if his performance in the Stanford game is any indication. If anyone is to be singled out as the outstanding Spartan player in that tilt, the Los Gatos boy certainly deserves the distinction. Every minute that "Moose" was in the game he hounded Indian backs. His vicious tackling has led critics to say he is headed for a high place in Spartan football records.

"Moose", in high school, was outstanding on the football field and the basketball court. As a freshman at State he starred on the frosh eleven.

Bruce is a student of high standing, and in high school was president of the boy's honor society. State is expecting great things of you "Moose".

POLYTECHNIC HI SCHOOL BRINGING STRONG TEAM TO MEET WALKER'S MEN

The Spartan soccer team will open its season against the Polytechnic High School of San Francisco on Phelan Field at the end of South Eighth street at 4:30 this afternoon.

The Parrots boast of a very strong beat, fresh from a decisive 7 to 2 victory over San Francisco University, last year's Conference champions.

According to Coach Charlie Walker, every man on the local squad will see action in this afternoon's tussle as he throws caution to the winds in an effort to find a combination that will click under fire.

The first real scrimmage of the season under game conditions with two full teams was held Wednesday afternoon, and several of the newcomers showed real promise of developing into first class soccer players. If these men can overcome a certain amount of nervousness bound to appear in their first game, they may spring a surprise and send the Polytechnic boys home on the short end of the score.

Although he has not definitely decided upon his starting team, Coach Walker indicated that his line-up would probably appear somewhat as follows, with many of the position being a toss-up between two men.

- Goal—Masson
- Left Fullback—Sleeper
- Right Fullback—Rhines or Crow
- Left Halfback—Pitcher
- Center Halfback—Hickman
- Right Halfback—Germano, Rhines
- Left Wing—Billwiller, Staffelback
- Left Inside—Main or Wallace
- Center Fd.—Doerr, Greenbrook
- Right Inside—Brecher or Gates
- Right Wing—Robinson or York

FROSH GRIDDERS TO MEET MARE ISLAND SAILORS

The Frosh-Santa Rosa Jaysee football game, scheduled for October 26, has been called off due to a conflict in dates.

Coach Portal's squad will instead meet the tough Mare Island Apprentice school eleven on October 27. The game will be played on the home field of the Marines and should be a colorful affair.

every second Tuesday of the month, at 7:00 o'clock. The general plan of organization provides the opportunity of hearing outstanding persons in all branches of education, Mrs. Knapp said.

Attention Girls!

Orchosis tryouts are to be held October 31, for those who desire to join the dance honorary society, according to Miss Margaret Jewell, Orchosis advisor.

Miss Jewell stated that the tryouts, which are to be held in the dance studio at 5:00 o'clock, will include the presentation of an original dance composition, improvisation, response to immediate problems of technique, and demonstration of practiced techniques. She also declared any girl who desires additional dance practice before the tryouts should attend Junior Orchosis, which meets every Tuesday afternoon at 5:00 o'clock in the dance studio.

New meeting arrangements have been made for women physical education majors, according to Mrs. Maude Knapp, director of the women's physical education department.

The irregular meetings of the physical education majors in the past, have been supplemented by the regularly monthly activities of Tau Gamma, the honorary scholastic society for physical education majors. But the professional advantages provided through membership in Tau Gamma do not reach the entire group, and therefore Mrs. Knapp has organized a series of monthly meetings which will reach every woman majoring in physical education.

These meetings are to be held

Just Among Ourselves

Note—This column is personal between the president and the college. Outsiders are requested not to make use of the material.

By Dr. T.W. MacQuarrie

There is one thing I would like to try once more to make clear to all.

Two young men came in to see me a few days ago, asking if I would object if they formed a partisan political organization among the students on the campus. They seemed to feel that there was danger to the college in such a move, and asked my opinion. I told them that they were free to organize a political group, or any other for that matter, but I felt it right to request that it be run by the students themselves and not by outsiders. As a matter of fact, that is the kind of answer I have always given to such inquiries.

Certainly any college worthy of the name will permit, and in fact foster, free discussion by student groups. If men and women of college age and intellect don't discuss questions vital to them and to the community, how are we to preserve our democracy?

It's so difficult these days for the citizen to get at the facts. Publicity is so warped by special propaganda, rumors are usually untrue, and personalities come and go upon the political stage so rapidly that it is impossible to know them. So go ahead, young men and women, have your political discussions; come to your own conclusions and go to bat for what you believe to be true. I have faith in you to feel that you will by that process come to correct conclusions. Certainly it is much better to be aggressive in such matters than merely to assume that the whole world's crooked and do nothing.

I was a little surprised, too, to get the impression that my visitors considered this job political, that I may possible at times have received orders from higher-ups to warp your thinking this way or that. Since I have been here, only one man, a rather cheap and inconsequential politician, (he isn't even worthy of that name) has tried to bluff me into his way of thinking. The fellow was under indictment at the time on a graft charge, but he blandly came into my office to try to make me warp the service of our employment office to the advantage of one of his constituents. We have many men and women in this community who are vitally interested in things political, but I'll say this for them, they have never in any way attempted to take advantage of their relationships to the college. They have accorded us the distinct courtesy of assuming that San Jose State will be conducted on basic American principles, and that good citizenship and fair play will determine all questions.

Only one public man has ever asked me to recommend a relation for our own faculty. I looked the candidate up, considered his qualifications, and reported that we hadn't a place for him. There was no further discussion. Another candidate was appointed to the position. It is really quite wonderful that such is the fact. Truly we should be able to accomplish much with such freedom and such backing.

ly and offer suggestions if more drastic action need be taken.

I sincerely hope the above plan meets with your approval, and hope we may in the near future again have the use of the library during the evening hours.

Yours very truly,
Ronald Linn

In reference to this letter Miss Backus said, "I think that this is a good plan, provided that the students are back of the Council."

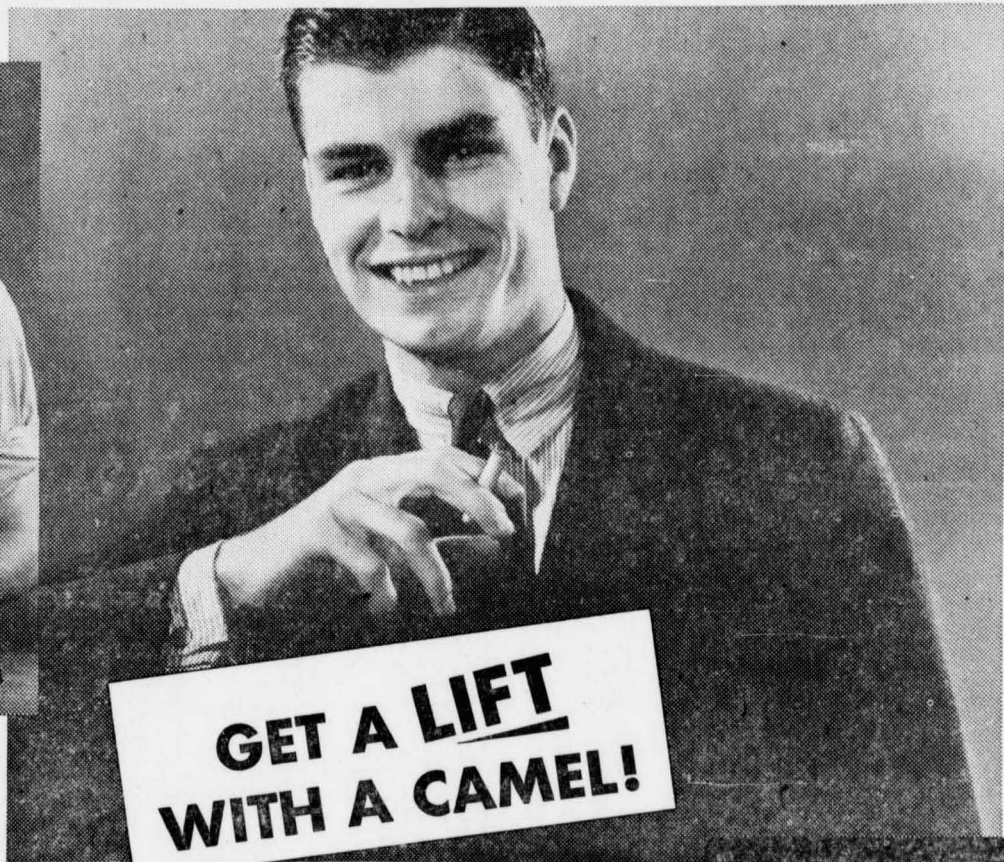

"I sent the letter to Dr. MacQuarrie because I believe the final approval is up to him. I think the Council's plan is a probable solution to the problem. Anyway, we can try it for a quarter."

When informed that the matter had been referred to Dr. MacQuarrie for final decision by Miss Backus, Ronald Linn, student president, declared he contemplated no further action until President MacQuarrie has made his decision.
