Student Council Members Introduced At Assembly; Yell-leader Tryouts Held

Four Men Students Bid For Yell Leader At Meeting

Retiring after two years of active work as yell-leader, Howard Burns conducted tryouts for a new student leader at the first meeting of the Associated students yesterday morning at eleven in the Morris Dailey auditorium.

Saxon Downs, Allen Jackson, Joe Teresi, and Joe Mack led the students in several school yells to demonstrate their ability, bidding for consideration at today's election.

Byron Lamphear, election judge, announced that the polls will be open from 8 to 4 o'clock in front of the Morris Dailey auditorium.

Although classes were not excused, since only one general assembly per quarter is allowed, a fairly large number of students attended the meeting, which was presided over by Ronald Linn, president of the associated students. Hugh Staffelbach made arrangements and planned the program for the assembly.

HYMN SUNG

"Hail, Spartans, Hail!" was sung as the opening number on the program, with Edward Moldt directing.

Dr. Staffelbach To Be Guest Speaker Tonight At G.E. Majors' Dinner

Universities in France and Germany will be discussed by Dr. E. H. Staffelbach, director of teacher training at San Jose State in a talk on educational practices in Europe to be given at the G.E.M. dinner in the Hotel DeAnza at six o'clock tonight.

On a trip which took him through England, Italy, Switzerland, France and Germany during the past summer, Dr. Staffelbach gathered first hand information on the science of teaching as it has been developed in Europe.

While in France and Germany he visited several universities.

It is expected that more than 250 students will attend the dinner tonight. Tickets, which cost fifty-one cents each, will be sold until noon today.

The dinner is a quarterly social event of the G.E.M. club, which is composed of San Jose State general elementary majors.

Commerce Group In Shorthand Contest

A shorthand contest, open to all State commerce students was planned at a meeting of Pi Omega Pi, commerce society, last week.

A gold medal will be awarded to the student winning first place, and a bronze medal will go to the student placing second.

At the same meeting, which was held in the home of Miss Emma Schmidt, it was decided to secure a faculty advisor. Admission of new members was also discussed.

Venice Has Beauty, But Few Comforts, Asserts Dr. D. Yates

By Paul Jungermann

Venice . . . Picturesque always, but with poorly equipped educational institutions, and an utter absence of modern convenience.

These were the major impressions of the famous old Italian city brought back to San Jose State college at the opening of the Autumn quarter by Dr. Dorothy Hazeltine Yates, Associate Professor of Psychology.

"Venice was all that I thought it would be," stated Dr. Yates. As a person gets off the train he steps right into a Gondola and "does" the town on the water.

"The people of Venice have an eye for color. The sails of the Gondolas and boats are of various colors and they even manage to have a red flannel night gown in the middle of the wash line."

Lack of equipment in the educational institutions is a noticeable thing through out Europe says Dr. Yates. Even in large universities the equipment, especially in the way of science, is not even as good as that found in our average high school.

While in Praha, formerly known as Prague, Dr. Yates was the guest of Prof. and Mrs. Prihodo. Prof. Prihodo is dean of the school of education in the university there and through his courtesy Dr. Yates was shown the educational system. She also visited a Commencement, but there it is called a Promotion.

They do not give the standard college degrees, Dr. Yates declares. They give the Ph. D degree but it is not as high as ours. Theirs would probably rank between our A. B. and M. A.

"Their degrees are gotten through 'pull.' They don't seem to do much work, and when they think they are ready for their degree, they just apply for it; hence these

Freshmen Women Hear Helen Price

Friends, grades, and social popularity are some of the things which women expect to find in college, Miss Helen Price, regional Y.W.C.A. secretary, told the members of the Freshman Luncheon Club at their weekly meeting Monday noon in room 1 of the Home-making building.

Miss Price declared that senior women find that if they give themselves as wholly to every situation they are in, they are able to get the most out of college activities, to acquire the ability to see through everyone and everything, and to enjoy friendships and social popularity.

Over twenty freshmen and transfer women attended the meeting which was held under the direction of Bertha Fauget, chairman of the club.

RALLY WILL HERALD IN CONFERENCE GRID GAME HERE TOMORROW NIGHT

New Yell Leaders Will Officiate; Varsity To Be On Stage

With Saxon Downs as master of ceremonies, the new yell leader acting in his official capacity, and the varsity football squad on exhibition, the Chico Rally heralding the first Far-Western Conference game of the season, will lift the roof of Morris Dailey auditorium tomorrow night.

BAND TO PLAY

The State college band will furnish the music, the squad the inspiration, the new yell leader the pep, and the student body the noise. Jack Reynolds, chairman of the rally committee, and his assistant, William Fitts, promise a varied and hilarious program, with music, songs, yells, speeches, acts, and an all-around noisy good time.

Members of the football team will appear in person, making their bashful appearance before the footlights, where, it is expected, they will be spurred on to greater efforts in Saturday's game.

Saxon Downs as a master of ceremonies will be remembered by everyone who attended the Spartan Revelries last spring, during Spardi Gras when his gags, and introductions, the hit of the evening.

One of the highlights of the evening will be the new yell leader, who will be elected today, in action for the first time. The election decides whether Sax Downs, Allen Jackson, Joe Teresi, or Jack Mack will win the position.

Italian Club Elects Giordano As Head

Vincent Giordano was elected president of the Italian Club at a meeting Thursday at 12:30 in room 21.

Other officers chosen were John Leo, vice president; Miss Bothwell, secretary; and John DeMattei, treasurer.

The purpose and plans of the club were discussed at this organization meeting, and activities for the year will be outlined tomorrow when the club will meet again at the same place and time.

All students who are interested in joining the Italian Club may secure a membership card from either Miss Margaret Cianfoni, adviser, or Mr. Giordano.

Lanphear States Dance Friday Was Successful

The first afternoon dance of the quarter, held Friday afternoon, was declared to be both a financial and a social success by Byron Lanphear, chairman of student affairs.

The money cleared, $8.40, will be used to obtain a public address system for Saturday's dance.

Lanphear stated that he wishes to thank Jim Dunlap, Ed Wetterstrom and Luella Fencil for their cooperation in making the dance a success.

Big Celebration Planned For Friday And Saturday Grand Rally Attraction

To Do-Or Knob to do That Is the Question; Poytress In Door Jam

After a tempestuous life, the disgraced door knob of Room 24 now lies quietly in a dark corner.

This door knob has a history. It first flew from its moorings under the attack of the dynamic Dr. William Poytress.

During the fall quarter of last year, Dr. Poytress, closeted in conference with Dr. MacQuarrie, suddenly remembered at fifteen minutes after the hour that he had a class and that he had threatened this class with dire possibilities if so much as one member came in late.

Dr. Poytress' embarrassment reached its height when upon pulling heartily at the door knob he found the door unmistakably locked. At the sound of ill-subdued snickers from behind its unsteady panels, he pulled a little more heartily, and found himself with an open door and a decidedly detached door knob.

The door knob underwent major repairs and was firmly reinstated—or so the janitor thought.

The climax of its stormy history was reached yesterday promptly at twelve, Friday.

According to his custom Dr. Poytress preceded his class to the door and, gallantly grasping the knob, proceeded to open it.

In deference to such kind treatment, the door knob, with a coy click of its heels, insolently jumped from the door—landing with an ominous bang upon the floor.

This created a desperate situation—a howling hungry class, a hungry professor and a locked door.

Hairpins were inserted into the lock with no avail but upon the advent of Dr. Poytress' little finger, the lock gave way and reluctantly released the impatient horde.

Dr. Poytress and his classes now sing in a chorus "Hail, hail to the new door knob; long and righteously may it reign."

Traditional Quad "Y" Lunch Served

Sandwiches of every variety and pineapple sherbet cones will be sold for a nickel apiece at the Jitney Lunch which is being sponsored by the college Y.W.C.A. tomorrow in the quad from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.

This will be an excellent opportunity to have an appetizing lunch at a very reasonable price, according to Janet Roberts who is general chairman for the affair. She is being assisted by Margaret Feldscher. All of the items on the menu will be homemade.

Miss Caroline Leland, Y.W.C.A. secretary urges that "You save your nickels for the Jitney Lunch on Wednesday, October 10 from 11 to 3 in the quad."

Great Variety Program To Be Topped Off By Chico Game

"What a show—and what talent!"

And the big attraction is, it's free!

Friday at 8:30 is the time, and the place is the Morris Dailey auditorium.

The Music and Speech Arts and Women's Athletic departments are combining their various talents to present a program that will appeal to the interest of students, alumni, parents and friends. The show is one of the high spots of the two-day Grand Rally celebration to be held this Friday and Saturday.

Mr. Lawrence Mendenhall is rehearsing his talent for the feature one-act comedy—"The Flattering Word," by George Kelly Cast of the comedy is as follows: Elizabeth Allempress, Mae Wilburn, Irving Allen, Otis Cobb, and Betty Jean Keller.

SPEAKING CHOIR

Another feature presentation of the Speech Arts department will be the verse speaking quartet of which Ethel McCoard, Lois Lack, Dale Kearns, and J. D. Strauss are members.

Orchesis, honorary dance society of San Jose State will add the terpsichorean touch to the show with a presentation of "The King's Breakfast", the combination dance and monologue that was one of the outstanding performances of Orchesis dance program last year. Miss Margaret Jewell is directing

Edison In Research Is Topic Of Seminar Talk By Dr. Oscar L. Brauer

"Thomas A. Edison, a Research Man"—the seldom emphasized story of the years of study and experiments conducted by the late scientist in his search for the revealing thoroughly fascinating topic, of a talk by Dr. O. L. Brauer, member of the science department faculty, at the regular Science Seminar on Monday afternoon.

THOROUGH SCIENTIST

"Edison was a thoroughly educated scientist," declared Dr. Brauer, "possessing as many as 40,000 pages of notes on a single experiment, and once read every book in a library in an attempt to learn everything possible about his work."

The inventor's first mistake, according to Dr. Brauer, was the invention of a vote counter for Congressional elections—the last thing they wanted in the legislative body.

Edison was not satisfied with an invention until every part of it, every small detail, had been worked out and perfected through his own experiments. The phonograph is still considered his most amazing invention, stated Dr. Brauer, adding that the electric light was probably his most outstanding achievement.

"Edison is undoubtedly the

A Duty And A Privilege

For the first time this quarter we have the opportunity to vote for a student body officer—yell leader—and at the same time we will have the privilege of naming our choice for governor of the state of California.

Last year the great majority of students allowed only a few interested souls to take care of all the elections for them, with the result that most of the voting was done by about one fourth of the enrollment. It is hoped that this lethargic state of affairs will not be characteristic of the election today.

Although naming your choice for governor is merely a "straw vote" it will prove an interesting indication of San Jose State State College's preference for chief executive of the state.

From eight o'clock until four today—will it be an election or a farce?

The Health Cottage

You probably won't appreciate them until they've done something for you, but it's time the members of the college Health Department received some recognition for the fine work they are doing.

Although their quarters are decidedly inadequate, day after day they are doing commendable work in administering first-aid, health measures and hospitalization, both in their offices at the college, and at the Edwin Markham Health Cottage located on South Eighth street.

In spite of the constant demand upon their time and attention, the staff is ever cheerful, willing and ready to cooperate. Do not hesitate to consult them in case of illness or injury.

BEHIND THE NEWS

By JIM GRIMSLEY

"For 2000 years China has been looking backward—now she has turned around and is looking just as far ahead."

So stated Mr. T. M. Elliott, a former resident of China for 20 years, and now a member of the Y. M. C. A. International Committee for Canada and the United States, and an address before Dr. William Poytress' "Behind the News" class yesterday.

"China is not the ignorant, backward nation full of revolutions, bandits, and communists, as commonly supposed by the American public," said the speaker. "In truth, on the contrary, it is a country that by a revolution started in 1911 (which has its twenty-third birthday tomorrow, October 10), will evolve into one of the most stable and progressive states of the future," he declared.

"Actively, the Communist influence is found only in a small section of Southern central China today. It was introduced by the Russians who were invited in by Sun Yat Sen, revolutionist leader, when England and America would not lend their educational and military knowledge to the Chinese," the speaker said.

"Sun Yat Sen, exiled from China for 20 years, living part of the time in Santa Rosa, California, died seven years ago, still an exile. Nevertheless his is the Spirit that is moving, and will move the Chinese to further advancement.

"In China Sun Yat Sen's picture is saluted, the same as our American Flag is here, his will is then repeated, followed by three minutes of silence.

"A notable fact," said the speaker, "is that the new government of China is being led by Christian men. Sun Yat Sen was baptised. I happen to know the minister who baptised him. Most of the men now in control of the state are Christians, who have received their education in English, French, and American universities.

"Unlike we Americans who never have time to think, the Chinese are looking forward and planning their government for years to come," he continued.

"A principal of a Chinese high school, who, through his connections is on the inside of the government, drove this fact home to me one day. He, in outlining the evolution of the government, gave five steps in its progress, some of them in the past but most of them yet to come:

"(1) Monarchy, (2) Democracy, (3) Socialism, (4) Communism, and (5) Anarchy.

"To me anarchy meant only a pistol shooting rabble. But in the words of the Chinese teacher, anarchy comes 'when every person does what is right for himself, in the light of what is right for everyone'.

"China today is supporting four separate revolutions; Political, Social, Industrial, and Religious. If the United States, in the chaos it is in today, had these added conditions it would not last a month.

"All commercial development depends upon the supply of labor and resources. China, with four times the population of the United States, has an abundance of labor.

"According to European geologist, one province in south-western China has enough coal to last the world for at least 1000 if not 2000 years. A certain area of 16,500 square miles in southern Manchuria averages 128 feet depth of coal. No wonder Japan wants it.

"China has inaugurated a passenger airplane route over practically all of its entire area, and into Manchuria," Mr. Elliott said in conclusion. "Shanghai, its largest city with a population of 3,000,000 persons has 28 radio broadcasting stations. Government bonds show the faith of the Chinese in their government by their continued sale at and sometimes above par."

WORLD NEWS HIGHLIGHTS

Dizzy Dean pitched the St. Louis Cardinals to an 11 to 0 victory over the Detroit Tigers in the seventh and deciding game in 1934 World series in Detroit yesterday. The Cards scored seven runs in the third inning. The seven-game battle made the first million dollar series since 1931, the third triumph for the National league in the past four years and the Cardinal's third world's championship in nine years.

King Alexander of Yugoslavia and Louis Barthou, foreign minister of France, were assassinated yesterday in Marseille as the Yugoslavia king came to France in an effort to improve Yugoslav-French relations. Other developments: Telephonic communication from Vienna to Yugoslavia was cut off last night. Officials in Belgrade wept openly when news of their king's death reached them. A government minister in Vienna explained that the shots fired yesterday in Marseille may be compared to those fired in Sarajevo.

A Hunterdon county grand jury in Trenton, N.Y. yesterday indicted Bruno Hauptmann on a charge of murder in the Lindbergh kidnap case when Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh identified Hauptmann as the man who received the money in a Bronx cemetery the night Lindbergh paid a $50,000 ransom in a futile attempt to regain his son.

Expected to bring stern measures to suppress the stubborn, if waning, Socialist revolt, members of the cortes (parliament) gathered yesterday in Madrid. There was some expectation that still active guerrilla forces of Socialists might try to attack the cortes, so deputies arrived at the building under protective guns of soldiers and policemen.

Father Bernard R. Hubbard, the "glacier priest" of Santa Clara University, arrived in Seattle yesterday after a season of thrills exploration, and discovery in Alaska, and said that his great thrill was the birth of a new iceberg. "Roaring up from the bottom of the sea, the huge mass as large as a 35 story skyscraper, splashed back into the ocean and became a new iceberg," he said. "—and I learned something."

The former king of the movie world, William Fox, was preparing today to remount the throne from which he toppled in 1930 after a dramatic court fight for control of the huge Fox Film Corporation. His epic battle behind the scenes to regain power in the industry promised as stirring a climax as any that ever flickered on the screen.

THE SPORT SPOTLIGHT

By Dick Edmonds

The Spartans have nothing to be ashamed of as a result of the Olympic Club game. DeGroot's men put up a fine battle—much finer than the city scribes had predicted—and really deserved at least a tie.

We must realize that the Olympic Club eleven was a select group of the best players from many coast colleges. The weight of the clubmen far exceeded the tonnage of the local boys. Each Club man has completed his college career and has obtained much more football experience than the average collegian.

The one point in a college team's favor is the spirit with which it enters into battle. Club teams usually lack that do or die spirit which characterizes most school elevens, but this is easily offset by the weight and experience plus the desire of each player to hold his job.

Following the game Saturday, in hopes of cheering two of the Spartans, I mentioned that State wouldn't meet another opponent of the Club caliber and should easily win most of the remaining games if the team continued to play the same brand of football.

Much to my surprise Toby MacLaughlan, echoed by Charley Barrachi, stated, "They will all be tough, not an easy mark on the schedule".

This statement, expressing the spirit of the squad, means that there is none of the over-confidence which caused the Spartan downfall in the Chico-State game last year. Having respect for every rival, not awe, means that the State boys will be in there fighting for every game and that there will not be a recurrence of this disastrous overconfidence in a major game.

A new end jumped into prominence as a result of Saturday's battle. Bob Bruning played such a great game that other players on the team were unanimous in selecting him as the defensive star of the contest. Bob is of a rather small stature, but the way that he mowed down the club interference and smeared the ball carriers, leaves no doubt in anyone's mind that he is a mighty wingman. He replaced the veteran Charley Barrachi, who was injured in the Santa Barbara game, and promises to make Barrachi hustle to regain his position in the starting lineup.

Those who missed seeing Coach Portal's eleven open their season against Mission High Saturday really missed a good football game. Although there will have to be some work done to perfect the blocking in the line, the team as a whole looked strong enough to test any freshman team to the limit.

Mickey Slinghuff and "Bull" Lewis, members of the frosh backfield, looked particularly impressive Saturday.

Slinghuff showed himself to be a heady safety man. He returned punts and carried the ball on reverses for a lot of yardage. Besides this, he played a bang-up defensive game. The one fault noticed was his inaccuracy in throwing lateral passes. No less than three times the ball went awry on these plays, but this fault should not be hard to overcome.

Lewis seemed to be the bulwark of the backfield because of his steady defensive work and hard line plunging. Nearly every pass

Meyers Lost To Grid Team For Next Three Tilts

Ralph Meyers, rugged center on the San Jose State football team, who suffered a fractured wrist in the encounter with the Olympic Club eleven last Saturday, will be unable to play for three weeks, according to Dr. Bruce George, team physician.

While the injury doesn't cripple the team to the extent that San Jose will enter the Chico game under a handicap, Meyers is an aggressive player whose absence would be felt by any team. The Spartans will face Chico, California Aggies and the University of Nevada without his services.

As a move to cover up the injury, Coach DeGroot has moved Barney Swartzell over to the center position where he will alternate with Jerry Whitaker. Swartzell, who has been playing one of the guard positions since the beginning of the season, is no stranger to the pivot position as he served in that capacity for the freshman aggregation last year.

Charlie Spalding, a two year veteran is another mighty good man in the art of playing center, and should be heard from, now that Meyers is on the bench.

Jerry Whitaker, of course, will have the call as starting center, Jerry is known for his smart defensive play as well as his steady heady playing on the offensive.

tried by Mission, at one time or another, met the large hands of the "Bull". He intercepted two passes and batted down another half-dozen. The big fullback appears to be a powerful smasher but runs a little too straight-up to reach full effectiveness.

One of the prettiest plays of the game was the block by Herb Hudson on a touchdown run by Lewis. Lewis had broken loose and was headed for the goal line. Only one Mission man was in a position to stop Lewis, but he was slowly and surely overtaking the ball carrier, suddenly caught up with the defensive man but could not effectively block him. Nonetheless discouraged, with a burst of speed he reached the tackler just as he was about to catch Lewis, and, with a diving block, brought him down. The back trotted undisturbed over the line as Mission's one tackling possibility was sprawled on the ground.

Intramural Activities

The results of the first quarter's activity usually determines the winner of the intra-mural award. A team that gets off to a good lead at the start has an advantage which is not easily overcome. This was the case last year, when the class of '36 made the highest number of points in the first quarter and then went on to win.

A review of last year's first quarter activity shows the class of '36, the present junior class scored 394 points. The class of '37 was second with 202 points. The class of '34 had 123 points, while the class of '35 got off to a bad start with 63 points. During this first quarter activity 170 fellows participated in the games. This is a fair turn-out, but with the new interest and organization this number should be easily exceeded this quarter.

Points for the intramural games are awarded in a percentage basis. A certain percentage of the grand total for the particular activity is given for every game won. In case of a tie the points are divided. Besides this each team is given one point for every participant.

McDonald Holds Frosh Practice

Thirty freshman basketball candidates are turning out twice weekly under the supervision of H. C. McDonald, varsity hoop mentor.

McDonald stated that the material looked better than usual but that there had been no division of players as yet. As yet the regular freshman basketball coach has not been selected.

According to McDonald, the squad lacks the height of the usual frosh team, but that this should be somewhat remedied when the members of the football squad are able to join the hoop men. Aiding McDonald in the conditioning of the squad are Isenberger, Concannon, and Wing, all former Spartan basketball stars.

Soccer Team Will Open Conference With Menlo Squad

By JAMES WELCH

The San Jose State varsity soccer team will open its conference schedule Saturday morning when they meet the San Mateo J.C. eleven. The game will be played at the old Spartan Field and will start at 10 o'clock. Thus far both teams have been unable to chalk up many marks in the victory column. The Jaysee boys have been practicing since the middle of August and will be in better condition than the Spartans, who have three weeks of practice behind them.

Practice sessions this week have uncovered some new stars. Wrigglesworth, Gerhart and Trautner; Brecher, right inside and Billwiller, right outside have been turning in good performances and will make the first string fight hard to keep their position. Green and Danker, two newcomers, have displayed plenty of ability. Both lack of experience but they will see plenty of action before the season is very old.

The probable starting line-up for the game will be as follows:

- Masson—Goal.
- Crow—Left Full
- Sleeper—Right Full
- Pitcher—Left Half
- Hickman—Center Half
- Rhines—Right Half
- Robinson—Right Outside
- Olaveri—Right Inside
- Doerr—Center Forward
- Staffelbach—Left Inside
- York—Left Outside

Dr. Peterson Speaks on N.R.A. Research Work In Informal Discussion

greatest research man who ever lived," concluded the speaker.

MR. STONE NEXT

Dr. P. Victor Peterson, chairman of the natural science department, who introduced Dr. Brauer to the audience, added at the close of the talk: "Don't expect to work under NRA codes if you expect to succeed in research work." He then conducted a brief period of informal discussion and questioning by the audience, and announced that Mr. George Stone will present an illustrated talk on a scientific expedition to Galapagos Island at the seminar next Monday.

promotions are held at very odd times."

Dr. Yates says that the way they "polish the apple" over there would make our local polishers look like rank amateurs.

The graduation exercises themselves are very impressive, according to the visitors. The candidates are dressed in 14th century garb, and the whole ceremony is carried on in Latin.

"The absence of conveniences was shocking and the conveniences that were available were Mid Victorian to say the least. In Germany they were particularly proud of their "Wasser fliessen" which being interpreted, means running water.

"Another thing that one notices very readily is the great extent to which tipping is demanded. Most countries have set a standard 10 per cent, but must pay for everything from music to light. One hotel displayed a large sign proudly declaring that electricity was free. When sitting on a park bench one should not be surprised to see a girl come up to you and ask you to pay for sitting there."

Dr. Yates had hoped to see Pragel, the well-known figure in child study, but she arrived at an inopportune time. She had seen him before though at the International Congress of Psychologists which met at Yale.

Being a native son, I was curious if people abroad knew where California was. To this query Dr. Yates replied that Europeans associated California with Hollywood, and some even went so far as to connect oranges with California.

Plans for the meeting next Monday evening at the home of Edith Hart in Los Altos were discussed.

History of La Torre Is Told By Neil Thomas, Annual Finance Head

"Developing from the paper covered edition of 1910, known as "The Pennant", the La Torre of 1935 will stand out as a beautifully and lavishly illustrated publication, depicting the individualism of San Jose State college as well as exemplifying the noblest Pioneer Spirit". So stated Mr. Neil O. Thomas, Controller of the college and financial adviser for the La Torre, in a recent interview.

Outlining of the history of La Torre, Mr. Thomas said, "Following the birth of the yearbook in 1910, the name was changed in 1916 from "The Pennant" to "La Torre, or "The Tower."

"Today, with a quarter of a century of development, La Torre has grown from a paper covered edition to an artistic production. The year 1922 witnessed the change from the old paper cover to a chip board cover."

"The next ten years was the formative period of its life. It had to be above the high school caliber, yet it was to "ape" the yearbooks of the universities. The La Torre of 1935 will be outstanding for its originality."

THOMAS URGES PURCHASE

In closing, Mr. Thomas declared, "The La Torre is a pictorial review of the entire scope of college thought, endeavor, and accomplishment during the year and it behooves as many students as can possibly do so to order their La Torres well in advance, as the number of books printed is limited to 800, of which about 360 copies are reserved for members of the graduating class."

"In years to come the La Torre will be the most valuable book in your library—old faces, old friends, campus life. "Those were the happy days—gone, but not forgotten."

Y.W. SECRETARIES NAME SPEAKERS FOR ASILOMAR

Plans for the Asilomar conference to be held in December were discussed at a staff meeting of the Secretaries of the Y.W.C.A. in Northern California last weekend at the home of Miss Esther Daymore, dean of women at Mills College, on the Mills College campus.

Muriel Lester of England and Kirby Page will be the main speakers at the writer conference.

Alumni File System Simplified To List Missing Addresses

Four thousand people are lost! No one knows if they are dead or alive. A search for them is being started now by the Appointment Office of State College.

Of the ten thousand students who have graduated from San Jose State since the year 1863 only six thousand are on the mailing list in the Appointment Office, according to Miss Doris Robinson of that office. For this reason the whole filing system of the alumni in the office is being changed.

Instead of having the names on file alphabetically as they have been in the past, they are now to be filed by classes. By so doing, the task of looking up the classmates of each missing person will be simplified.

When this change has been effected, letters will be mailed to twenty-five representative members of each class inquiring if certain persons are still living, and, if so, where.

"It may be strange that the letters will ask if the former students are still living, but one must realize that the four members of the first graduating class of the college are now about ninety-five years of age. Those who received the same honor ten years later in a class of twenty graduates are now between seventy-five and eighty years of age. Classes in these early days were slightly small compared with the three hundred which graduate each year from the college today," Miss Robinson stated.

In order that this confusion be averted in years to come, all graduates are being asked to leave the names of three persons to whom the college may refer in the instance that their cards become misplaced.

CONSTITUTION POSTED

The constitution of the associated students was supposed to have appeared in the Student Handbook, President Linn announced, but was eliminated with other material because of increase in the cost of printing under the NRA. However, a copy of the constitution has been posted in the council room in the Spartan Union building where it is available for every student to read.

All interested students are invited to attend the council meetings, Linn also announced, and stated that the next one will be held on Monday, October 22 at 7:15 a. m. in the council room.

OFFICERS INTRODUCED

The members of the student council and newly appointed office holders who were present were introduced by Linn: Evelyn Cavala, secretary of the council; Hugh Staffelbach, vice president; Barbara Bruch, council member pro-tem for the quarter; Dario Simoni, council member; and Vera Moss, member of the Health Cottage board; Jack Reynolds, chairman of the rally committee; William Fitts, who will assist Reynolds; Byron Lamphear, social affairs chairman; and Bud Stewart, a member of the Co-op Board.

Byron Lamphear introduced the committee members who will assist him in the quarter's work.

Frank Betencourt offered two piano solos, "I've Got An Opinion On You" and "Willow, Weep For Me".

As written by WHITTIER.

Blessings on thee, little man,
Try and study if you can.
With your pencil sharpened new
And the book in front of you,
With thy sad eyes sadder still,
They watch the sun shine on the hill,
With a frown upon thy brow,
Through thy studies thou dost plow.
Sympathy I give to you—
I was once a student, too.
