

Exclusive "Dutch Treat" Frosh Dance To Feature Music Of Jack Fidanque

Freshmen Abandon Old Custom Of Inviting Associated Students To Attend Annual Social Event Sponsored By Class

ESCORTS PROVIDED BY DATE BUREAU

Floor Show To Be Held During Intermissions Promised By Popular Group Of Campus Musicians To Play Friday Night

Freshmen at San Jose State this year are quite self-sufficient. They have decided that they will have their own Frosh dance in the Women's gym Friday night, and have invited the remainder of the student body to remain home.

According to Charles B. Goddard, dean of men, this is the first year that the Freshman dance has been open only to first year students.

"Just as cozy as home" is the motto of the dance committee, who are determined that their guests will be comfortable. Chairs and settees will line the walls of the gym Friday night.

The freshman date bureau did big business yesterday, according to Jack Gruber, who is in charge. The date bureau holds office hours in room 20 from 12 to 1 p. m. each day. All freshmen applying are being supplied with dates for the dance.

Incidentally, no one will be admitted to the dance floor without a partner. Taking a partner is not expensive, however, because it is Dutch Treat. The girl pays her own 25 cents to get in.

Dancing will continue from 9 to 12, Jack Fidanque and his orchestra furnishing the music. There will be three intermissions with a specially arranged floor show.

John Diehl is general chairman of the dance committee. He is being assisted by Jack Gruber, who has charge of the Date Bureau and the program; Alder Thurman, publicity; and Florence Burdett, decorations.

Tickets may be secured from members of the Frosh council at the Date Bureau, and in the Controller's office.

Prof Blushes As 'PHONEY' NAME Proves Authentic

What appeared to be a golf writer's nome de plume caused Mr. Dwight Bentel considerable difficulty in his Journalism class recently.

"I have 41 bona fide students enrolled, and one obvious 'phoney' called Joe Bunker," Mr. Bentel announced before roll call. And then as an after thought, he called, "There's no one in here with a monicker like that, is there?"

There was. A blonde lad's countenance became startlingly crimson, and he confessed that "Joe Bunker" was indeed his correct name.

It was Mr. Bentel's turn to crimson.

Famous African Camera Explorers To Appear At College Next Thursday

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Johnson To Tell Thrills With Showings Of Motion Picture "Wings Over Africa"

Johnson's Latest Movie Thriller Claimed To Be Greatest Ever Made By World Famous Daredevil African Explorers

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Johnson, famous African explorers and camera hunters, will appear in the Morris Dailey auditorium of San Jose State college next Thursday night with the latest and greatest of their moving pictures of Africa, "Wings Over Africa".

This film depicting three years of African exploration with airplanes, pictures hitherto unexplored regions of the Dark Continent, is enthusiastically described by the Johnsons as by all means the finest of their famous African moving pictures.

Other pictures by the adventurous couple shown at local theaters during the past several years, were "Captured by Cannibals", "Head Hunters of the South Seas", "Across the World with Mr. and Mrs. Martin Johnson", "Simba", "Wonders of the Congo" and "Congo Gorilla".

The Johnsons have never before appeared in person with their films.

On lecture tour throughout the United States, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson have presented their great picture to jammed houses everywhere, and on the basis of attendance are the most popular lecture attraction in the country this year and last.

Their first demand to appear at San Jose State college called for the sale of tickets at $1.00 per seat; but by special arrangement and through the aid of the student entertainment fund, student tickets will be sold for only 40 cents.

Special reserved seats will be on sale for 75 cents, while general admission tickets will cost 50 cents.

No place else in the country have the Johnsons appeared at these rates.

The Johnsons are the modern successors to the great African tradition of exploration. To them fell the task of laying open the real heart of Africa. Their work has been authentic, thorough, inspired, and they stand today as Dear Sweepings!

That sounds silly because I know your name isn't really Sweepings and you're not really dear to me yet, altho your column is.

This is all very bold, but I'm going to do it and ask your forgiveness. Are you interested in books, music, art, and the finer things in life as well as the radio? I hope so. I can just talk for hours (yeh, you gals usually can write) about such things! I would love to go away to some beautiful deserted place and read and listen to good music and see beautiful buildings (in a deserted place, Babe?) and statues and paintings and talk about them forever.

Oh! but I shouldn't dream and hope and wish like this. Maybe it will all come to naught—but I hope naught! Cute, eh?

If you're interested in all this and in meeting me as I'm really very cute as well as very intelligent, 'phone Ballard 22583 and ask for

NEW DEPARTMENTS FLOURISH

It is interesting and quite gratifying to note the development of the three new departments which were added to the college last fall, and the strong interest which has been manifested in another comparatively new department.

Excellent work has been done so far in Radio, Photography, and Aviation, while interest in Police Administration reached such a peak this quarter that the instructor was forced to select members of his classes from a large field of promising candidates.

Campus radio station W6YL made several interesting contacts with foreign countries during the holidays, establishing communication with London, England, for the first time. A 100 watt crystal transmitter, made by the radio club members from old material and a few new parts, is capable of handling traffic to any of the principal cities of the world.

With the acquisition of five engines from the Naval Air Station at San Diego, the campus Aviation department is now engaged in working on the material. It should not be surprising if a complete aviation school is developed for the college in a few years.

Continuing the photography courses which have been offered here for some time, the Science department has this quarter entered into more specialized branches of the field with the acquisition of technical equipment which permits greatly advanced work. Copying and photographing of pieces of evidence, which is work done by the Police Department, necessitated the purchase of a fixed-focus copying camera and a photo-flash synchronizer. Police Administration students work in conjunction with the Photography students for this course. Other desirable equipment for advanced students has been added to the supply of material for use in the rapidly advancing Photography Department, which sponsors attractive exhibits from time to time in the Science building and contributes to other departments.

Addition of these new courses has resulted in a well-rounded curriculum for San Jose State, which can now satisfy the desires of many more students.

Radio broadcasting has been a vital force, during the past year, in the nation's orderly march into new adjustments. By making possible, on a more democratic basis than any other nation, exhaustive public discussion of every vital problem of the day, American radio has attained a new and fundamental importance in the nation's life.

Because radio can act as a great open forum, impartial and without editorializing, it aids this great American democracy of millions to function with an efficiency comparable to that of Athens, which consisted of only a few thousand free men.

The universality of the radio has however, so obscured its importance as to make it unduly ignored as the powerful political and educational instrument it is, rating perhaps second to the invention of printing as a medium of influencing the lives of the civilized peoples of the world.

June Handley as chairman.

A.W.S. Council will meet today at 5 p.m. in the organization's meeting room. As important plans for the Jinx, Recreation Night, and Co-ed Capers will be discussed, all council members and other women students interested in the organization are asked to attend.

Three of San Jose's most prominent football stars are at present bolstering the rugby team which represents the Olympic Club on the field of war. John Leo, Charlie Barrachi and George McLachlan (better recognized as "Toby") are wearing the abbreviated apparel of the Post street aggregation.

Leo is invaluable in the "scrum" where he is able to use his weight to advantage. John is also capable of more speed than his weight chart would indicate. Charlie and "Toby" are both fast and use their football knowledge to the fullest degree.

Basketball fans who would get an eyeful of real basketball Saturday night will have their chance. At the Spartan pavilion, the Portal-Marske frosh machine will open the fray at 6:45, this game being followed by the varsity contest at 8:00 sharp.

Over at San Jose High, Dario Simon's Tech high team takes on the Bellarmine preps in a pair of games, the first starting at seven sharp. At nine o'clock, the Olson's Terrible Swedes will meet the Red and White Stores. The game has been set over until 9:00 to allow the State enthusiasts to witness the Spartan-Gator game and then get across the square in time to witness the powerful Swedes.

Coach Hovey McDonald and his twelve basketballers will be the guests of Bill Hubbard's Red and White team at the Swede game. Perhaps the sight of such an aggregation will give the Spartans ideas. The Swedes boast of a team averaging six feet five inches in height.

"Big Boy" Stoelting, the tallest of the traveling quintet, takes up six feet ten inches of ozone, while "Big George" Campbell towers a mere six feet eight into the atmosphere. The Swedes claim to be the world's champion traveling basketball club and a glimpse of their record seems to prove the claim.

And still it rains. With Bill Hubbard fidgeting around waiting for his pet patch of cinders to dry out and the Blesh-Blacow combination hoping for a little sunshine to dry out the local diamond, spring sport activities have yet to get their start.

The State Frosh took on a handful in the preliminary to the Red and White-Athens Club game the other night. They tangled with St. Patrick's team, boasting players such as Jim Arnerich, John Leo, Lakin and McDonald, among others. The Yearlings were just nosed out 32-28 in a close hard fought engagement. Garcia made some beautiful shots and led the scorers with 14 points.

A glimpse into the apparatus room on certain occasions will find DeWitt Portal busily engaged in instructing his charges how to handle a fist-ful of leather. Portal is determined to put his boxing program over with a bang and has a fine turnout. A few more boys who know what it's all about would be welcomed enthusiastically by the newest addition to the Spartan coaching staff.

SPARTAN TEAM PREPARING FOR GATOR FRACAS

By GIL BISHOP

Twelve boys composing the varsity basketball squad are still wondering who is going to start Saturday night and the coach of the same aggregation is still trying to find the best combination available to start the same evening.

NEW COMBINATION

Tuesday's practice found two entirely different combinations taking the floor. The first contingent was composed of Isenberger and DeSelle at forwards, Larry Arnerich in the center spot, and Wing and Drexel holding down the guard posts.

The surprise of this procedure was the shift of Arnerich to center, where the dark-haired guard functioned well. Isenberger seems to have gotten the swing of the forward position and is probably a fixture there with the new no-center jump.

SECOND FIVE

The second group found Biddle at center, Downs and Holmberg at forwards, and Johnson and Taylor at guards. This bunch seemed to work about as well as any five McDonald has yet put on the floor. Johnson looks to be well on his way to past-season form and has improved considerably over last week's practice.

Taylor continues to hit the bucket with uncanny accuracy and it would not be surprising to find the ex-halfback chalking up a high point total Saturday night.

BIDDLE IMPROVING

Captain Biddle has been working well within the foul circle and Tuesday found the huge center plunking the sphere through the net with over hand short shots and side-arm tries.

Downs and Holmberg are working well as a team, the larger "Shoes" being particularly good at recovering the ball off the backboard while the Los Gatos mite is dynamite on fast breaking sucker shots and arching shot from the side.

It would not be surprising to see the second combination take the floor against San Francisco State, although McDonald will continue to shift his men until the Pacific game.

Wrestlers Are Wanted As New Season Starts

Wrestling, a new intercollegiate sport for San Jose State, will begin at once under the watchful eye of Bill Hubbard, newly appointed coach.

Hubbard is desirous of securing more candidates for the squad and asks anyone interested in taking part in the new activity to report to him at once. No experience is necessary, according to the coach.

basketball schedules are printed have one mistake. The game at Stockton with the College of Pacific will be on Wednesday night, January 16, instead of the 15th as the schedule indicates. This game will open the Far Western Conference season for the Spartans.

First Track Work-Out Held Monday, Coach Is Still Short Of Stars

By AL COX

Sparta's first track workout for the 1935 season took place last Monday during which the tracksteers limbered up their tight muscles with calisthenic and a short jog around the track. A few of the veterans of last year's varsity have still to report for the pre-season training period. Among the outstanding of these men are Harry Murphy, and Burt Watson and Jordan McPhetres.

VETERANS OUT SOON

Murphy can be remembered as taking care of the hurdles and then taking a fling at the high jump now and then. He has been one of the leading threats of the Far Western Conference for the past two years. Burt Watson, who is one of State's greatest all-around athletes, has decided to put in a few weeks of baseball before getting into shape to soar over the pole-vault bar. McPhetres is working, and at the present is making plans to be in shape to sling the discus when the season rolls around.

Glancing over the track roster at such an early time shows that most of the men are due to finish "in the money", but as far as cinch first place winners are concerned, there are very few. The outstanding of these men, as far as pre-season dope goes, is Frank Cunningham. He was absent from from the squad last season, but during his junior year, he was considered to be one of the best javelin throwers in California. What the year lay-off has done to him can only be answered this spring.

ROBINSON CAPTAIN

Captain Carl Robinson will be at his glory this season. For two years he has been the third man of the Spartan sprinters. Ex-Captain Lou Salvato and Ex-Captain Doug Taylor have led the way for the last two years, and now that they are safely out of the way "Robbie" will have the track all to himself. He will now have to lead instead of follow. He will be furnished with some strong competition from two sprinters who graduated from last year's frosh, Bob True and Jack Hanley.

STOCKDALE VERSATILE

Jim Stockdale, after finishing a successful season on the gridiron, has joined the squad with a very good reputation on the cinder path. He has been known to do some sprinting, run the quarter and broad jump. His events for State next season are yet undecided, but if he carries out his duties as well as he did in a football uniform, everyone will be well satisfied.

One of Coach Hubbard's gray hairs can be attributed to the lack of quarter milers on the present varsity. A frosh from last year seems to be the best prospect at the present. Paul Gerhart beat some very good men in the frosh meets last year, and with heart, size, and Hubbard, he should go far.

Girl's Sports

By DOROTHY MARTIN

Recreation swimming hours for women students are from 12:00 to 1:00 on Tuesday and from 2:00 to 3:00 on Friday.

Swimming Club meetings are 12:00 to 1:00 on Monday and Thursday.

SWIMMING CLUB

The "swim-to-Santa-Cruz-Marathon" is now in progress. Girls have already started counting up their lengths, so as to get an early start. The marathon swimmers have 2660 laps to swim the distance to Santa Cruz.

All girls are invited to join in the swim.

MEETING TODAY

Archery Club—12:15. All women students interested in archery are invited to attend.

Spartan Frosh Win, Lose In Double Bill With Poly, Reserves

In a double-header last night, Coach Portal's frosh hoopsters trounced the Calif. Poly team from San Luis 39-32, and lost to the varsity reserves in a nip and tuck battle 19-18.

Gracia stood out for the local boys in the Poly game, scoring 12 points and playing a good all-around game. The tilt was well-played, and the winners showed a classy game.

In the reserve game, a missed sucker shot in the final minute cost the frosh the game.

NOTICES

All freshmen and sophomores who are interested in being track managers see either Melvin Isenberger or Bill Hubbard.

All freshmen and sophomores who are interested in being baseball managers see either Paul Jungermann or Joe Blacow. All baseball candidates who have not received equipment will do so today at 4 o'clock.

FROSH CAGERS TO PLAY HERE SATURDAY EVE

Following a series of preliminary practice sessions, Coach DeWitt Portal has made the final cut of his freshman basketball squad.

The present squad, 20 in number, has been divided into two teams of about equal strength. Each quintet will play an individual schedule. According to Portal, the reason for the division is the result of the extraordinary amount of promising material that turned out this year.

Both teams will see action Saturday night. One five will journey to Monterey to meet the coast city's high school squad.

This team, which will be led by Al Marske, assistant frosh basketball coach, will be composed of 12 players. The starting lineup, according to the frosh mentor, will probably find at forward, Tucker and Mann; at center, McPherson; at the guards, Ki and Archie Myamoto, both former Monterey stars. Biddle, Kelly, Castro, Watson, Felse, Stager and James will be held in reserve.

On the same night the other five will play host to the strong Mountain View high quintet in a preliminary to the San Jose-San Francisco State contest.

Portal's men will probably line up in the following manner: forwards, Garcia and Fulton; center, Becker; guards, Lewis and Rianda. In reserve this San Jose frosh squad will have Cramer, Swanson, Olson and Plomteau.

Interclass Debate TRYOUTS WILL Determine Teams

Tryouts for the annual interclass debate contest, which culminates in a verbal battle over the radio, will be held Tuesday from 4 to 5 o'clock in the Little Theater, it was announced today.

Tryouts consist of a five minute talk on either side of one of four chosen subjects. Prospective debaters may talk on the resolution that the government should own and operate the munitions industries; that the Townsend Old Age Pension Plan should be recommended for adoption at the next session of Congress; that the capitalistic system has failed; or that the motion pictures are a reflector rather than a creator of public morals.

The students chosen from the tryouts will make up four teams, one for each class, and will appear in two preliminary debates before the final one over the radio, the freshman and senior orientation classes being chosen for the first audiences. At the same time another freshman team will be chosen for a debate with the University of Stanford freshmen.

Winners of the interclass contest will have their names engraved upon the permanent Bothwell Interclass trophy.

Children's Books Will Be Topic Of Librarian Here

"Some Helps in Choosing Children's Books" will be discussed by Harriet E. Hassler, prominent children's librarian, today at 2 p.m. in Room 1 of the Home Economics building.

Miss Hassler has been connected with public libraries in New York, Pittsburg, and Portland. Recently she addressed audiences in Vallejo, San Francisco and San Mateo under the auspices of the San Mateo County library.

The speaker organized children's libraries in Italy in 1932 and later did the same type of work in Spain.

Miss Hassler will be the guest of The Bibliophiles and the Library department during her visit in San Jose.

Eight Students Placed In Teaching Positions Announces Miss Innes

Eight State graduates have received placements since December 21, according to the Appointment Office.

Lawrence Olinder is the new principal of Live Oak school, Santa Cruz county.

LONDON SPEAKER TELLS OF WORK IN ENGLISH DISTRICT

That the hope of the world lies in the common people was the opinion expressed by Muriel Lester, social worker of Kingsley Hall, London, when she spoke yesterday noon in the Little Theater on "The Art of Living."

Miss Lester has had an opportunity to know the common people not only through her 30 years of association with them in her settlement district in East London, but also through her wide knowledge of people of all countries gathered by extensive travel.

The necessity for outward as well as inward freedom was emphasized by Miss Lester, who is sailing for Japan and China early in February and plans to be with Mahatma Gandhi by next Christmas.

Miss Lester was brought to the campus through the efforts of the college Y.W.C.A.

Y. W. MEMBERSHIP DRIVE IS OPENED WITH DINNER AND RALLY

With a program dedicated to campus service and leadership training, the Y.W.C.A. is opening its winter quarter activities with a Sign-Up Rally supper next Tuesday evening at 5:30 p. m. in Schofield Hall at the city "Y".

Mrs. James C. DeVoss, long associated with the college and the Y.W.C.A., will be the main speaker on a program which will present the purpose and special function of the association on this campus as well as a brief outline of specific interest groups which it sponsors.

VARIED INTERESTS

For new, old, and prospective members the program presents varied interests. The Books Group has proved such a success, according to Miss Caroline Leland, Y.W.C.A. secretary, that there will be three this quarter.

Bookways, which was started in September and is headed by Harriet Feldman; New Books has Barbara Wood chairman; and June Hanaly is in charge of Freshman Books, a luncheon group.

BOOKS FAIR

Issues vital to students will be discussed in the current problems group, a joint Y.M.C.A.-Y.W.C.A. project Musical Half Hour held every Friday and Books Fair held every other Thursday are open to all students and faculty members. The Lost and Found, under the care of the Hostess Committee of the Y.W.C.A., a mending drawer, and free ink are services which are offered in the "Y" room. Here is also a place where students may meet their friends, read, or rest.

Y.W.C.A. membership is open to all women students. Further information about joining may be had in room 14.

SPARTAN DAILY JOURNEYS FAR

Alaska, Hawaii, New York On List

"This one to Alaska—one for the Hawaiian Islands—these four for New York—"

Thus Bill Roberts, Circulation Manager of the Spartan Daily, goes through his routine five days a week, preparing over 250 papers per day for Uncle Samuel to deliver to all part of the western hemisphere. Advisers, editors, news editors, and reporters of the Daily pass the circulation desk a dozen times a day, but few of them realize the tremendous task the circulation manager is going through as he prepares 250 papers each day to be sent out to exchange publications in New York City, advertising checking copies in eastern states, members of the California State Board of Education, alumni members, student teachers and patron associations and other organizations interested in the activities of San Jose State college.

"It is interesting to note", stated Roberts, "that it costs more to mail a paper to Santa Clara street here in San Jose than it does to mail the same issue to Bill Jones, San Jose State graduate now teaching in Honolulu, half way across the Pacific ocean."

"At the present time we are mailing out about 2200 papers a week—about as many Spartan Dailies as are printed in one day. And with student teachers changing their addresses every six weeks, we keep busy."

Slightly over one-half of the papers sent out by the circulation department go to towns and cities within the state. The remaining issues are mailed to addresses in 17 states and two territories.

He-Man Methods EMPLOYED IN Police Training

Practical demonstration of the use of police equipment is a good way to change husky young fellows into efficient policemen, believes Mr. William A. Wiltberger, head of the San Jose State college Police school.

To this end, students enrolled in the police training school receive a course of instruction which corresponds almost exactly with conditions found in regular police departments.

Part of these "real-life" training facilities are provided by the San Jose police department through the cooperation of Police Chief John N. Black, who is also an instructor in the school. Investigation of actual cases which come under the jurisdiction of the San Jose department comprises part of this practical work.

The objective of State's two-year police training course is to turn out practical policemen who are qualified to step directly into police departments in any city where they may be needed, according to Mr. Wiltberger.

To successfully carry out this aim, it is necessary that the students encounter actual conditions during their period of training which they will meet when on the job, he declares.

Their moving pictures of the country have never failed to thrill theater audiences, and yet in Martin Johnson's own words "We have now, without a doubt the most wonderful picture we have ever made. The new pictures, many of them taken at great personal risk, have never before been equalled."

ZINC ENGRAVING DIVISION LOOMS FOR DAILY USE

That San Jose State college and the Spartan Daily have its own photo-engraving department which can provide the black and white "cuts" for the school paper was announced yesterday by Mr. George E. Stone, photography instructor, in speaking of the students who are studying photo-engraving under his guidance.

Raymond Verdier, one of those registered in Special Photographic Problems, has changed his objective from music to this new study, declared Mr. Stone. Verdier will be assisted by John A. White.

Equipment for the course has been installed for them and Mr. Stone feels that while the subject is one which usually requires five years' apprenticeship, they will at least be able to make a start in the 10 weeks of work, and may learn to make the black and white "cuts."
