Competition Is Close Among Faculty And Student Contestants

To provide a novel finishing touch for the La Torre Identification Picture contest, ending Monday, ten photographs have been attributed for the final series by photographically inclined faculty members.

Interest in the contest increased today as the three leading contestants were running in close competition three days before the final entries will be accepted.

Although Clarence Hamsher leads the contest with 300 points, his closest rival, Harrison Walker, follows with a score of 296, three points above the score of Clarence Naas, third highest contestant.

Mrs. Luella Stevenson maintains the lead in the faculty division, although latest scores have not been received from either Mrs. Stevenson or her closest rival, Mr. Fred Buss.

The faculty members donating pictures for the final week are: Mr. George E. Stone, Dr. Gayle B. Pickwell, Dr. Oscar L. Brauer, Mr. Edward N. Torbert, and Dr. Karl S. Hazeltine.

To accommodate contestants who may be waiting until the "last minute", the contest will not close until twelve o'clock noon, Monday, February 25, when all entries must have been submitted, according to Charles Pinkham, editor of La Torre.

Hey Hey Tickets Go On Sale Soon

Tickets will soon be on sale for Junior-Senior day to be celebrated by the two upper classes on Thursday, February 28.

Bill Moore, chairman of the junior prom sales committee asks that the following juniors see him before getting tickets from the Controller's office for the purpose of distributing equally the tickets between the men and women students: Ed Wetterstrom, Dot Meyers, Hugh Staffebach, Russ Azzara, Frank Hamilton, Preston Royer, Byron Lanphear, Genny Hoaglan, Joyce Grimsley, Alberta Jones, and Mary Youngren.

Tickets will sell for 50 cents, and will include lunch and dinner, two periods of dancing, and a matinee in the afternoon. Classes will be excused at eleven for the two groups.

Authority On Russia to Speak At YW Supper

Dr. Jack Sherman, who has traveled extensively and has made a special study of Russia, will be the guest speaker at the Y.W.C.A. Supper Tuesday evening at 5:30 in Schofield Hall.

"What Russia Lacks" will be explained by Dr. Sherman, much of his knowledge on the subject having been acquired during a trip to that country last summer. Since then he has been making a speaking tour and recently spoke in San Francisco.

Tickets for the supper, which is being planned by Muriel Bullard and her committee, are on sale now in the "Y" room, room 14 of the main building.

The "new" victoria hornless talking machine was demonstrated to the assembled students of San Jose Normal school in 1910.

After-Game Hop To Follow Chico- S.J. Tilt Saturday

Inviting the entire student body to the last after-game dance of the quarter, the social affairs committee is making plans for the biggest after-game dance of the season Saturday night in the Women's gymnasium following the Chico State-San Jose State basketball game.

Expecting at least 175 San Jose State couples plus members and players of the Chico student body, the dance will probably be one of the biggest of its nature, stated Ralph Meyers, social affair's chairman.

With Jack Fidanque and his rhythm masters furnishing the environment for an enjoyable evening, the committee is expecting the last of a series of novel dances to end most successfully, according to Meyers.

Only students coming in couples with student body cards and the necessary ten cents per person will be admitted.

Members of the social affairs committee who are working on the last after-game dance of the quarter as well as the huge masquerade planned for Saturday night March 16 are: Warren Tormey, Virginia Hamilton, Paul Jungermann, Barbara Carr, Earl Glover, Alice Wilson, Bill Jennings, Joe Maynard, Steven Crow, Lou Fencil, Byron Lanphear, Jim Dunlap, Jane Smelt, and Betty Bruch.

Bouts Will Get Under Way In Men's Gym At 7:30 p.m.

For the first time in the history of the school the State boxers and wrestlers will combine to meet an outside opponent.

San Mateo junior college teams will meet the Spartans in the men's gymnasium at 7:30 tonight.

There will be eight boxing and eight wrestling bouts on this card which marks the first time that a San Jose boxing squad has appeared in a dual meet.

The boxers who will represent Sparta in tonight's battles have fought their way onto the team as a result of winning championships in the All-college tournament held last week.

Merendino, a hard-hitting southpaw, will be the State representative in the bantamweight class. This mite of a fighter has displayed a good right hand in the elimination contests and is figured upon as a potential winner by Coach Portal.

Lou Salvato, flashy star of the cinder path, will be making his debut in the field of fisticuffs when he enters the ring to exchange blows with the San Mateo featherweight. Salvato is another left-hander.

Carlyn Walker, curly haired Fort Bragg youth who is one of the most conscientious workers on the squad, will match hooks with the junior college mitt wielder in the lightweight battle.

Radio Debate To Feature San Jose, St. Mary's Teams

San Jose debaters will meet St. Mary's College tonight at 9:30 o'clock over station KQW in the sixteenth of the series of weekly radio debates arranged by the station and the college debaters.

The time of the debates has been changed to 9:30 to 10, rather than the usual time of 9 o'clock, and will feature this week the question, Resolved: That Japan Should be Given Naval Parity with the United States and Great Britain.

The affirmative of the question will be taken by San Jose, represented by Howard Morris and Anthony Anatasi. Morris will be engaging in his fourth debate for San Jose this year. He is president of the Pre-Legal club and an experienced speaker.

Anatasi will be participating in his third debate and first year in the varsity, being a logical speaker and a clear presenter of arguments.

St. Mary's will have two experienced debaters, Henry Floyd and Carl Schuck. Floyd is in his third year on the varsity, being a holder of debate medals, president of St. Mary's honorary debate organization, and senior class president.

Schuck is a first year varsity member but has had wide experience on last year's freshman team.

The subject to be debate this week was chosen because of its vital importance at the present time, since Japan seems to be determined to expand her armaments in spite of other countries' protests, and the question is. Is she Justified?

Junior Prom Dance Set Friday Evening With Colonial Motif Used

There's five dollars in those mugs. And you can get it out if you've got your hand in.

But the identification contest on the ten Angelo-drawn portrait pictures of campus personages displayed before the Morris Dailey auditorium closes today, with the five dollar award to be given tomorrow night at the Junior Prom.

Identification ballots for the ten portraits will be cast today in the same manner as for a regular election. Ballots may be obtained and cast at the balloting headquarters immediately in front of the group of portraits.

To win the prize, the contestant must be in attendance at the junior prom on Friday night, February 22. In the event of a tie a drawing will be held.

The theme of the dance is a revival of the colonial days; decoration will be in keeping with the event of George Washington's birthday, the date on which the prom falls.

The Royal Commanders have been procured to furnish music for the evening.

Bids are limited to 200 in number, and they are very nearly all gone, according to Bill Moore, chairman of the sales committee.

The bids may be secured at the controller's office or from any members of the following sales committee: Bill Moore, Ed Wetterstrom, Dot Meyers, Hugh Staffebach, Paul Jungermann, Clyde Fake, Rae Dobyns, Russ Azzara, Frank Hamilton, Preston Royer, Elizabeth Simpson, Jane Martin, Bill Roberts, and Jack Cappell.

Committee chairmen for the junior prom are: Bill Moore, sales; Byron Lanphear, decorations; Alberta Jones, bids; Genevieve Hoaglan, publicity; Joyce Grimsley, advertising; Mary Youngren, refreshments.

A.W.S. Council To Hear Club Reports

With "Reports of Committees on Recreation Night" as its principal business, A.W.S. Council will hold its regular meeting this afternoon at 5 o'clock in the club rooms.

The committee on general arrangements, under the chairmanship of Catherine Hoffmeister will make its report, as well as the entertainment committee, headed by Dorothy Maddock. Spartan Spears, under the direction of Alice Wilson is taking charge of the refreshments, and will present the Spartan Spear report.

Other business will be a consideration of the invitation extended by Santa Rosa Junior College to send delegates to the conference of Associated Women students of Alta and Central California in that city. The conference is to be held on the week-end of March first.

In a 1910 meeting of the Normal School trustees the idea of changing the school name from Normal to Teacher's training college was discussed.

Mass Hypnotism

While the Literary Digest is in the throes of despair over the final returns of the college poll because students voted down the proposal that the United States enter the League of Nations, and the Hearst newspapers continue to wax hysterical over the fact that there are actually people living in these United States whose opinions differ from the notorious William Randolph, a vitally important issue is being overlooked in all this confusion.

A perusal of several books in which a veiled attempt was made to reveal a little of the chicanery of present day manufacturing and a fortunate glimpse at a cost sheet for a popular product has convinced us that we are being gyped.

"Gyped" is putting it too mildly and makes it sound as if we were unknowingly having the wool pulled over our eyes by piratical manufacturers. Since such is not the case, "robbed" would be the better term. We know we are being robbed, but since the desire for food is a fundamental and unavoidable instinct and it is against the law to parade in the nude, we submit to the hold-up and try not to feel too badly about it.

Tremendous amounts of money are being spent every day upon advertising so that the "Jesse James" in the guise of a manufacturer may foist his worthless products upon a gullible public. Through advertising the public is being made aware of non-existent ailments and compelled to cater to these fictitious ills with somebody's famed "cure-all", composed principally of water, flour, salt and dye.

Through advertising the buying public is being made "clothes conscious". Last year's suit—although it has plenty of wear left in it—will not do this year because the style has changed.

Automobile advertisements feature the new streamlined bodies, the new doo-dads on the dashboard and the built-in ash trays and radios. Millions are spent on this type of advertising by the automobile companies. These millions should be spent instead to lengthen the life of the car or to increase the number of miles per gallon of gasoline consumed.

Just what are we to do about it? The government tests every piece of goods in the Bureau of Standards before it makes a purchase. If, instead of quibbling over the results of the Literary Digest college peace poll or attempting to create a Red scare at the sight of every parlor Socialist, public opinion about the present situation could be aroused so that legislators would be forced to make Bureau of Standards tests available to every family in the country, the problem would be solved. We doubt if this could ever be done, however. The public must want to be fooled or

PHI KAP OFFICERS

A gold gavel was presented to Kathryn Epps by Phi Kappa Pi sorority last night following installation of new officers at the home of Helen Hohmyer. Miss Epps is the outgoing president.

New officers installed at the meeting were:

President—Rae Dobyns; vice-president—Margaret Gallagher; Secretary—Mary Gray; Treasurer, Helen Hohmyer; Inter-society representative—Kathryn Epps; Reporter, Dorothy Bernard; Historian—Dorothy Sandkuhle.

Following installation ceremonies the society spent an informal social evening.

KAPPA PLANS FORMAL

Brookdale lodge will be the scene this Saturday evening of the Kappa Kappa Sigma formal dance which will honor a coterie of new members of the sorority. The rustic setting of the lodge will be decorated only by a large lighted plaque in the form of the Kappa crest.

Last arrangements for the affair were made last evening at the home of Margie-Bell Landis at a business meeting.

The sorority's next affair will be a tea for faculty women which will be held soon at the Hotel Sainte Claire. Committees were appointed at the business meeting last night, by president Mariada Moran.

RUSHING PROPOSAL

Business meetings were held by Sappho, Ero Sophian, Beta Gamma Chi and Allenian societies last night.

Eros met at the home of Eleanor Breschini. Following their business meeting the Eros spent an informal evening. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Sappho society met at Hilda

Gusfeld's home last night to continue with plans for their dance to be held March 2 at the Oakknoll county club. Geraldine Christmas, newly elected president of Sappho presided over the meeting.

Constance Lucid entertained the Betas last evening at her home. The meeting was devoted to plans for the Beta formal. Berthe Geisenhofer presided over the meeting.

Allenians met at Inwoods last night, as the guests of Marietta Thompson. Betty Savstrom was in charge of the business meeting.

The sororities are all discussing the new rushing proposal which is to have rushing conducted once a year only. The issue will be decided upon at the next meeting of the Inter-society council when each sorority representative will tell how her society feels about the new proposition.

action would have been taken long before this.

Newspapers and magazines have their hands tied. Their very life depends upon the amount of advertising they are able to solicit. Any expose by either type of publication would mean its instant death.

The only ray of hope we are able to see is that advertisements will be come so profuse that the buying public will be confused by them and ignore them altogether.

Co-op Clerk

By HARRY JENNINGS

"What's the chances, you paper peddler? How about a little business from you for a change?"

"Were you speaking to me, sir," responded the Clerk slightly lifting his eyebrows and tightening the knot in a flame-orange tie.

"You betcha", smiled a slick looking lad in a genuine Joe College get-up of cords and hickory shirt. "How's about selling you a bid to the Junior Prom?"

"Oh, that's right," replied the Clerk casually. "That's Friday, isn't it? Well, I have my bid already."

He slowly brushed back his rapidly vanishing tresses in an endeavor to assume a posture of intelligence prior to spilling a few pearls of unadulterated wisdom.

"There was a time," he began hazily, "when a Prom was a Prom. When we could drag out the tux, and shake out the mothballs—but that was long ago—now it's different—it's just another dance—no special occasion. Just another way to capitalize on the students. And whether it's lousy entertainment or not, it's got to bring in the dough. That's all we want any more."

"If necessary we'll print more bids regardless of the capacity of the hall. The old spirit has vanished before the lure of the dollar. Just another dance."

"And the advertising is original, too. A picture guessing contest! Huh", he snorted disdainfully, "it's a good thing some one in the crowd has a big brain with which to think of these things. This one is such a nice addition to the appearance of the halls. People probably think we're having a side show—Here yuh are, folks. The choicest collection of unpassed freaks in existence. That's nice stuff, ain't it?"

"Hey, just a minute, Mr. Clerk. Aren't you being a little hard on the Prom?"

"Oh, I don't know. When a class has to carry on an advertising campaign to put over what should be one of the events of the year, something must be wrong. I suppose next year they'll do away with the Prom entirely and just have a barn dance."

"Well, you sound very cheerful," replied Joe, somewhat daunted. "But let's forget the Prom. What else is taking place this week-end?"

"Oh, not much. Another light week-end—you know, light on the sleep. A couple of basketball games, baseball, track meet and the Kappa Kappa formal." With this remark the Clerk tossed out a sweet and retired to the lunch counter for a coke.

While Chico and the Spartans are enacting a battle royal in the Spartan Pavilion this week-end, the Tigrans of Pacific and the Bulldogs of Fresno State will attempt to drop each other for the count on the Fresno State court. The Tigers will find that they are up against more than five Bulldog cagers in the Raisin City and the partisan valley fans will do plenty to the Pacific hoopers if they rattle very easily. The pair of games mean almost as much to San Jose Conference champions as do the two contests with Chico. If the Tiger-Bulldog skirmishes end in an even break, the San Joseans can go on and annex the title without opposition—providing they don't drop one of the quartet of remaining games with the Chicomoles and the Davis Aggies, respectively.

The Pacific team pulled through with a pair of wins over the Aggies, the first one going their way easily. The second of the duo found the Mustangs pressing hard throughout and the Tigers barely grazed through with a 41-37 victory. Barney Dobbins, the threat and backbone of the Aggie five, again starred. All of which goes to show that the Aggie series will be puh-lenty tough.

On the Sports Calendar: Tonight: Portal's ambitious glove-wielders introduce the local intercollegiate boxing season to blood-thirsty fans when they tangle with the San Mateo Junior College squad in the local pavilion. Also on the same program we find the wrestling team taking on opposition from the same college. Time: seven bells or thereabouts.

Tomorrow: The baseball team plays the team of the U.S.S. Nevada at Spartan Field. The navy boys are reputed to have one of the strongest contingents afloat, and expect to tie an anchor to the Spartan hopes for a win. Look for some southpaw chuckers to try to drive the Nevada bunch back into deep water.

Then of course tomorrow night the initial fracas with the Chico-Spartan fives committing mayhem upon each other. The game will be preceded at 6:45 by a contest between the State Frosh and the Morgan Hill Alumni, who, regardless of the name, have a fair country basketball team.

Saturday morning. Bill Hubbard's tracksters work out with the San Mateo Junior College cinder men at Spartan Field. The meet is scheduled for 10 o'clock in the morning and is a tri-cornered affair, involving the Frosh, varsity and the Jaysee outfit. "Tex" Byrd is reported with a strong squad this season and his two-year college may upset the Spartan varsity, especially with the Frosh cutting in for some of the points.

The final events on the calendar find the second Chico clash set for Saturday night and the swimming team meeting the San Francisco Y.M.C.A. at 2:30 on that afternoon. All of which makes a real series of outstanding events for the campus sports world.

Twenty-five years ago a June pageant was given here at graduation time.

with his right hand, will uphold the Spartan cause in the welterweight class. Lewon displayed a devastating punch in his match with Phil DiAngelo on the All-college card.

Rich Matthews, another Fort Bragg product who has worked under Coach Portal for two years, will handle the middleweight assignment.

In place of Armand Zolezzi, who was the winner in the junior lightweight class of the All-college tournament, Paul Gerhart will be wearing the Gold and White. Zolezzi has run into a little parental opposition and Gerhart was the logical successor.

PORTAL PLEASED

Glenn Tucker, who made such a fine showing in the trials Friday night, is scheduled to climb through the ropes for the light heavy bout. Walker is one of the best of the Spartan battlers.

The heavyweight representative has not been selected as yet. Bruce Daily and John Schofield are the contestants for the honor.

Coach Portal is not willing to make any predictions on the outcome of the skirmishes with the San Mateans. However, he has reported that he is pleased with the spirit of the boxers and the improvement shown in the past month.

The wrestling lineup has not yet been determined but is expected that it will contain names of such exponents of the mat as Joe Salameda, Willard Haeblerle, John DeMello and Earl Glover.

GRATTON COACHING

Coach Bill Hubbard has found that his track duties are too heavy to tutor the wrestlers and has turned over the job to Eugene Gratton, local attorney and mat authority.

The Spartan mat team has scheduled many strong teams this year and is by far the most representative squad in years.

Swimmers To Take On San Francisco 'Y'

By AL RHINES

After suffering a decisive, but by no means overwhelming defeat at the hands of the Stanford Varsity last week-end, Coach Walker's Spartan swimmers resumed practice this week. Although defeated by the Indians, the locals turned in a very creditable showing, and threw a scare into the Stanford coach, Nort Thornton.

The first race of the evening delivered the first shock to the Indians as they saw their beloved 400 yard freestyle relay team go down to defeat before a fighting quartet of Spartans composed of Norm Fitzgerald, Bill Draper, Ken Douglas and Bill Ambrose. These four sprinters turned in some of the best times of their respective careers to defeat the Stanford outfit and set new pool and school records.

Captain Hal Houser met his first defeat in three years of intercollegiate competition when Captain Bob Foster of the Indians nosed him out in the one hundred breast stroke event.

The Indians received their second rude shock of the evening when Howard Withycombe, of the locals, defeated Myers and Fitting, the latter whom was favored in this event. Withycombe's time of 1:10.4 was not exceptional, although it did set a new school record. Coach Walker declares that with improvement in form the former San Jose High school swimmer will be pushing into the finish line with the best of them.

Ray Sherwin won his first major victory in two years of intercollegiate competition when he took a first place in the fifty yard sprint. The Spartans were doped to win this event, although Bill Ambrose did not win it as was expected.

The 300 yard medley relay was probably the outstanding race of the meet. Howard Withycombe gave a good account of himself to finish slightly ahead of the Stanford backstroke, Etienne. Harold Houser could not quite match the pulling efforts of Harvey in the breast stroke and Bill Ambrose started off with some distance to make up over Kuhn in the freestyle lap. He caught Kuhn in the first twenty-five yards and pulled ahead of him at the seventy-five yard mark. The last lap, however, was swum with Kuhn on the blind side of Ambrose, that is on the side opposite to the one on which he did his breathing, and he sprinted the last few yards to touch out Ambrose.

Far from discouraged at the showing of the locals, Coach Walker is now pointing for the meet against the San Francisco Y.M.C.A. A next Saturday at 2:30 p. m.

Nothing's new. So they said in the '09 college times.

Watson Pitches One-Hit Game; Lindner Hits Homer In First

By RANDY SMITH

San Jose State's Varsity baseball team, behind the one-hit pitching of Burt Watson, wins over the Mission Reds of the Coast League yesterday, 3-0 in a seven inning duel.

In the nightcap, Coach Joe Blacow uses his reserve team against Gabby Street's outfit, and the Spartans drop a 3-1 decision.

State meets a tough outfit in the U.S.S. Nevada team, which journeys from its temporary home in San Francisco to San Jose tomorrow for an argument with the Spartans. The game gets started at 2:30, barring mishaps. Quite appropriate—a president birthday, and Joe Blacow imports a part of Uncle Sam's navy for a baseball disagreement.

SCORE IN FIRST

Watson is hot yesterday, and has too much stuff in that left arm of his for the Coasters to assimilate. He is touched for a scratchy single in the opening inning, but after that he is fearfully stingy with his base blows.

State pushes across its three counters in the opening frame. Main fouls out to Joost, Mission third sacker. Atkinson singles to left; and Pura draws a walk. Carpenter skies to center field, and Al Lindner causes State supporters to cheer with a four bag smash that rolls to the club-house in left field. Colburn pops up to second to end the inning and the scoring for the game.

In the second encounter, the Missions go to work on Pitcher Tony Martinez in the first inning. Calegari draws a pass, Johnson singles to center, and Joost advanced his mates on a sacrifice bunt. Wright doubles to left, sending Calegari and Johnson across the plate. Jones walks, Bates whiffs, and then Hughes and Charlton draw free passes, which forces Wright in with the third run. Jackson strikes out to end the inning.

ONLY ONE HIT

State's second team goes hitless for six frames, being unable to touch the offerings of Jackson, Voganess or Wright, Mission twirlers. Ray Abernathy gets the only hit for State in the sixth, but a double killing follows and it goes for naught. The Spartans tally in the last frame when shortstop Raso reaches first via the hit by pitcher route, and Sanchez is safe on the Mission first baseman's error. Raso circles the bags to score.

But back to the Varsity encounter. State collects seven hits in as many innings. Lindner, with a circuit clout and a single, and Ed Atkinson with two singles in three trips, lead the base hit parade. Pura, Hardiman and Watson each garner singles.

The Misison line-up is a rookie-regular mixture, with Joost, third base; Calegari, center field; and Al Wright, second base, being the outstanding figures on the Mission nine.

"SWIM-TO-SANTA CRUZ"

Ina Eldridge is still holding the lead in the "Swim-to-Santa Cruz" marathon. Eleven miles of the distance has been tallied off by Miss Eldridge. She now has only twenty-four miles to go, to complete the distance to Santa Cruz.

Gladys Wagner is bringing up a close second in the swim.

An added attraction of the marathon swimming is the refreshments served at the close of the noon hour each Monday and Wednesday. Soup and crackers are served to the swimmers by members of the Swimming Club. This comes as a great treat to the "swimming appetite" of the women students.

'HEY HEY DAY' TICKETS TO BE RAFFLED OFF

Another raffle sale of tickets for Junior-Senior Hey Hey Day to be held February 28, will be featured at senior orientation today, according to the class committee in charge of the event.

The interest and response evidenced last Thursday warrants a second raffle. At a penny a chance anyone may be the winner of a lucky ticket. Tickets are going fast, according to Bud Applegarth, ticket chairman. The sales committee will be on hand this morning to supply the demand.

Bill Niles has announced the California Theater has been chartered for the afternoon show 'Little Colonel' featuring Shirley Temple and Lionel Barrymore promises to provide popular entertainment. The loge section has been reserved.

There will be no after dinner

Woodwind Ensemble Formed By Eagen For Juniors

A new instrumental group, the Junior Woodwind Ensemble, has been formed this quarter by Mr. Thomas Eagan, music instructor.

"The Senior Woodwind Ensemble was not sufficient for the number of music students who wished to play in an organization of this type," Mr. Eagan stated. "As the number in one group must be limited to ten, the junior ensemble was formed to accommodate more students."

"Surprising is the fact that the new woodwind ensemble sounds much better musically than the senior one did when it was first organized," said Mr. Eagan.

speeches at the Hey Hey Banquet, according to President Jack Chappell. Popular campus singers are scheduled to appear. One of the highlights of the evening will be a fan dance, but the identity of the dancer has not been revealed.

Players Will Give 'Evening Dress' At S.J. Women's Club

"Evening Dress Indispensible", the most popular one-act play that San Jose Players have produced so far this season will be given for the second time outside of school presentations today for the regional tea at the Woman's Club.

Yesterday the cast of "Evening Dress Indispensible" performed at Roosevelt Junior High for the Hawthorne P. T. A.

Mr. Hugh Gillis is directing this one-act play—a light comedy by Roland Pertwee.

Pete Mingrone is acting as stage manager for the production. The cast is as follows:

Mrs. Waybury.....Marian Faltersack
Sheila.....Betty Jean Keller
George.....Kenneth Addicott
Geoffrey.....Harold Randle
Maid.....Jean Lattin

Sigma Tau Society To Paint Murals For Hoisholt Home

If the walls of your bathroom or breakfast room seem a trifle plain, you stand a chance of having them decorated with some little pink bunnies or even a landscape of a Santa Clara Valley prune orchard by Sigma Tau, art honor society.

At least so it seems from the fact that the society is meeting Thursday evening at the home of Miss Estella Hoisholt, advisor, to paint murals upon her walls in order to test their technique before beginning work on the walls of the college cafeteria.

Plans have been completed for the cafeteria murals and work by the small group of artists will soon begin. The subjects for the wall paintings are being kept secret, according to Miss Hoisholt so that students will be interested in watching the work progress. An idea was given of the subjects

Allan Hunter To Speak At Tuesday Assembly

Allan Hunter, pastor of the Mount Hollywood Community church, will be presented by the college Y.W.C.A. at an assembly Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock in the Little Theater.

He will also attend a joint meeting of the Y.W. and Y.M. cabinets at the home of Dr. James C. DeVoss, dean of men, at 8 o'clock the same day.

NOTICE

All juniors, especially committee chairmen for the prom will meet today at 11:00 in room 1 of the Home Economics building.

Please be there as important business about the prom and bid sales will be taken up.

when Miss Hoisholt stated that caricature of campus life will be done and a large map of the campus painted in the center of the main wall space.

"LIFE IN COLLEGE is a busy one," says John Cowdery, '38. "Take my case, for example: I have a leaning toward dramatics, and spend every minute possible studying the drama and playwriting, in addition to the work required by my general course. On top of that, I have a job that takes up three nights a week. So you can see my time is pretty full. I get tired...feel 'blue' sometimes when my energy is at a low ebb. Then a Camel sure does taste good! It's really swell how Camels bring me back. Although I smoke them all the time, Camels have never made me feel nervous."

"WHEN I COME OFF THE RINK, tired, I want a Camel. Camels have a way of taking the load off my shoulders. And I've found that I can smoke all I want and still keep my nerves healthy—when I smoke Camels."

"WHEN I WENT TO COLLEGE, I switched to Camels. I found that smoking a Camel when you're tired somehow makes you feel fresher...more alert. And what a grand taste Camels have...so mild and appealing!"
