Prizes For Most Original Costume, Best Couple To Be Awarded At A. W. S. Jinks

All-Girls' Orchestra To Furnish Dance Music At Masque Tonight

Prizes will be awarded tonight at the Women's Jinks Hallowe'en masquerade, to take place from 8 to 11 in the women's gym, for the most original costume, the prettiest costume and the best couple.

Games, folk dancing, and a grand march will be followed by a reading presented by Dr. Dorothy Kaucher of the Speech department, piano and vocal solo by Gayl Kesler, tap dancing by Aileen Brown and Betty Lou Towler, and a vocal solo by Elree Ferguson.

An all-girls' orchestra will furnish music for dancing 9:30 to 11:00, and refreshments of doughnuts and cider will be served.

The women of the faculty and all women students are invited; any type of costume is appropriate, and it is to be a mask affair, according to Barbara Harkey, general chairman, of the Jinks, which is being sponsored by A.W.S.

Committee chairmen for the affair are: Virginia Perry, entertainment; and Alice Wilson, refreshments.

DeVoss Engaged In Series Of Lectures

Dr. J. C. DeVoss, dean of the Upper Division, reported that the Northern California Vocational Guidance association will meet at Mills College on December 7, upon his recent return from the executive committee meeting of that association.

Monday night Dr. DeVoss spoke to the P.T.A. at the Salinas evening high school on the subject of mental hygiene.

He expects to round out this week's activities with a talk to the P.T.A. at Evergreen, where Ronald Linn, former student body president, is principal.

Dr. Peterson In South On Institute Program

Dr. P. V. Peterson, chairman of the Natural Science department, left yesterday to attend the San Bernardino County Teachers' Institute at San Bernardino, where he will speak on "Science in Modern School Programs".

1935 Broadcast WILL FEATURE Football Players

Take down your calendar and draw a big red circle around November 15 . . . and make it big. The "Spartan Broadcast of 1935" is well on its way to production, and a glimpse at the capable cast of performers is enough to guarantee an evening of fun and hilarity.

Sponsored by the Physical Education majors in conjunction with the full support of the rest of the college, the show is a benefit performance for the football team, put on to help defray expenses to the Hawaiian Islands.

BILL OF FARE

Skits, music, an amateur show, a play, and a host of other bits of entertainment are on the bill of fare for this red letter evening in the Morris Dailey auditorium.

A committee of Carlton Robinson, Burt Watson, Luke Argilla, Harold Houser, Les Carpenter, Al Azevedo, and Charles Walker of the Physical Education department is heading, the affair, while Gil Bishop is the chairman in charge of the show.

HEAD MAN PORTAL

DeWitt Portal will act as master of ceremonies for the performance, insuring a running series of laughs.

The price for the show has been set at twenty-five cents for college students and faculty, with a thirty-five cent price applying to all others.

Hearst Pilot Praises Aviation Course Head

Aviation classes conducted at State by Mr. Frank Petersen were praised by Dick Mitchell, pilot for William Randolph Hearst, during a visit here this week.

"Though you have plenty of work yet to do, you are in the way of having a school which will be of great value to boys who want to become fliers," the aviator said.

While here, Mitchell, who is interested in photography, was conducted on a tour of the photography department by George Stone, instructor.

NAME FOR BROADCAST IS SOUGHT; LISTENER INTEREST PARAMOUNT

Students and faculty of San Jose State will be asked to assist in finding a name suitable for the weekly half hour broadcast which the college will conduct, beginning November 21.

This decision was made by the radio committee when it met yesterday for the first time. Names for the college radio program may be submitted, along with the name of the contributor, to the publications office.

Long winded speakers will be excluded from San Jose State broadcasts the radio committee assured future listeners when they voted unanimously to set a five minute time limit on all talks.

The committee's action was in accord with their previously announced motive of making listener interest the prime consideration in all the State programs.

Experience has shown, KQW radio officials have declared, that talks longer than five minutes cause listeners to turn their radios to other programs for entertainment.

Frosh Meet Santa Clara Yearlings To Inaugurate Bronco-Spartan Games

Formidable Antioch Legion Squad With Many Ex-College Stars In Line-Up Will Meet Coach Dud DeGroot Team In Stadium

By DICK BERTRANDIAS

When the San Jose State Frosh trot on the field to face the yearling squad from Santa Clara University tomorrow at noon, it will be the first athletic competition ever held between the two institutions.

Having been driven hard all week, Coach Portal's gridders will appear with potent determination and fire in their eyes. The young 'uns from Santa Clara will step into Spartan territory with the plaudits of last week's 27-6 win over Black-Foxe ringing in their ears, and they may be riding high on confidence, but confidence is a very erratic animal.

IS BIG GAME

Although it precedes the varsity clash with Antioch Legion, the Frosh fracas will be given equal import, and the day's skirmishing considered a double-bill for the spectators.

Recognized as the "Local Big Game," this tilt between first-year men of the neighboring schools is creating considerable local interest and comment.

Despite injuries, Coach Portal asserts that he expects to place a powerful bunch on the field, ready for whatever the Bronco Babes have to throw his way, and also promises retaliation of no mean sort.

Portal's starting line-up is tentative as yet, and when the final call comes tomorrow, a lot will depend on how well injuries have mended by that time.

As it stands, Ed Lowe and Jack Rocca, who have been showing well in practice, are likely starters at their respective wings.

Bill Saunders and Bob Ford will probably get the call at the tackle spots, with Joe Murphy and Fred Hamlow at the highly disputed guard jobs. Jack Anderson is the

In what is being boomed as the second half of a "double bill", San Jose State's varsity football team under the able tutelage of Dudley S. DeGroot will entertain a formidable reputationed Antioch American Legion squad in Spartan Stadium tomorrow afternoon following the widely heralded Santa Clara Frosh-Spartan Yearling contest.

Seeking to invest the squad with that final offensive punch that brings touchdowns and which was missing against the College of Pacific last week when the locals were held to a scoreless tie, Coach DeGroot has been stressing offense all week in the squad's work-outs.

ONE MORE WORK-OUT

Tapering off with a snappy signal drill last night, the squad will indulge in one more light work-out this afternoon.

It is expected that the same line-up which started against Pacific will swing out against the imposing array of ex-college stars who comprise the Legion line-up.

Barney Swartzell, regular center who was injured in last Friday's game, worked out with the first eleven last night, and is expected to greet the opening whistle from his usual position.

Captain Horace Laughlin and Charlie Baracchi at ends, Harry Hardiman and Jack Martin at tackles, and Azevedo and Glenn DuBose at guards complete the regular forward wall.

"PONY" HALFBACKS

The starting backfield will, in all probability, include the two 160 pound "pony" halfbacks, "Franny" Pura and Burt Watson, both of whom went the whole route against Pacific; Les Carpenter, the reliable, at quarter; and

Dr. Freeland Stresses Social Education Need In Senior Orientation

Entertainment and discussion of class activities were the main business of the three upper class meetings yesterday morning, while freshman women were introduced to the campus organizations by a program sponsored by A.W.S.

San Jose State college is making a definite trend towards socialization and the study of individual problems in education, declared Dr. George E. Freeland, dean of the education department, in a talk before the senior orientation group in the Little Theater.

SOCIAL INTELLIGENCE

"Social intelligence is a greater need than ever before," said Dr. Freeland, as he outlined to the class the pioneer work of the college in this field.

Class president Rinaldo Wren presided at the first organized meeting of the quarter. Burt Watson, the crooning halfback, led the class in a group of rousing old-time songs which the blase seniors sang and enjoyed lustily.

Just Among Ourselves

Note: This column is personal of sportsmanship of the highest between the president and the college. Outsiders are requested not to make use of the material.

By T. W. MacQUARRIE

Saturday's freshman game with the Santa Clara freshmen is something of a milestone in our athletic history, and important to all of us. Personally, I hope it may be possible to carry on friendly athletic relations with Santa Clara. I feel sure such a relationship would be good for both schools.

However, athletic contests bring up so many human problems that it is usually difficult for two colleges in the same community to remain friendly when the students meet every so often on the athletic fields. I think it should be possible for two high class institutions to engage in such contests, but my experience in other communities has been that the probability of continued friendly relations is remote.

IT CAN BE DONE

If both student bodies would make up their minds to exhibit the very highest type of sportsmanship, and under no circumstances to descend to the level of cheap personalities, I believe the thing can be done. The men on the field will be all right. They are athletes and can play the game while still remaining friends. They will work hard, will have some successes and make a good many mistakes, but they will walk off the field friends. We don't need to be concerned for them. The most dangerous factor in the situation Saturday will be our own attitudes, and our own capacity to reach a level of sportsmanship of the highest order.

A good many noz-college people will be in the stands, many of them violently partisan, and it will be difficult for us to hold our temper and still hear them. They will be irritating no end. There is nothing to do but pay no attention to them.

UP TO STUDENT BODIES

The student bodies should determine their own attitudes, express to each other the finest relations based on intelligence and courtesy, and simply accept the fact that others will be present who don't understand. I hope the game Saturday may prove a delightful experience, and one which will forecast many other games in the future.

COLLEGE OF PACIFIC

I have always had a great admiration for the sportsmanship shown by the students of the College of Pacific. They have never asked nor accepted odds under any circumstances.

When defeated, the students stand up and take it. They remain in the stands after the game, sing their song, and go about their business. Between halves the cheer leaders come across the field and do their utmost to add to the pleasant spirit of the occasion. I have never seen any evidence of rowdiness or any attempt to take an unfair advantage of an opponent. You never hear a Pacific crowd cheer a blunder on the part of the opponents. When the game is over, the score stands and no explanations are attempted. There is something about that fine old college which has always inspired my admiration.

Bail Out—And You Become A Member Of Caterpillar Club

One of the most unusual clubs in the world is exclusively for aviators.

The only qualification for membership is that you must have saved your life by jumping from a disabled plane in a parachute. It has never held a meeting and many of its members have never met the other members.

This strange group for some reason, perhaps, call themselves the Caterpillar Club. The United States government, as the head, officially investigates the claims of would-be members with the aid of the Army Air Corps, which keeps a record of all parachute jumps within the borders of the country; so new names are added to the roll every year.

The idea of the club was first suggested in 1922 and many famous airmen are now Caterpillars. Charles A. Lindbergh has qualified several times, the first being a jump he made in Texas in 1925.

A. P. O. Closed Dance Planned

Plans for a closed dance to be held later in the quarter were made at the last meeting of Alpha Pi Omega fraternity at the home of Dick Brown.

Horace Person, Jr., was appointed general chairman of the dance, and President Bob Schnabel named the following committee to help with arrangements: Paul Becker, Preston Royer, Jack Reynolds, Hugh Staffebach, and Bob Doerr.

The inter-fraternity smoker on November 6 was announced.

Officers for this quarter are: Irvan Beaulieu, Grand Master; Robert Rector, Master; Harry Brakebill, Recording Secretary; Burton Abbott, Corresponding Secretary; Francis Cauhape, Treasurer; Charles Peach, Sergeant-at-arms.

Hither, Yon, And Back

By RANDY FITTS

The patrons of a local theater were treated to an impromptu bit of entertainment the other evening when a flashily dressed gentleman tried to make a reading-room out of the balcony. He seated himself directly below a large chandelier, calmly unfolded a newspaper and rattled and crinkled his way through a couple of reels before the loge section rose en masse and glared at him. He paid no attention until an usher spoke to him and then he teetered his way out with an air of injured dignity.

DAMON AND PYTHIAS

A little later a gang of Santa Clara athletes arrived and thudded their way upstairs carrying star backfielder Thomas (who had sustained an injured ankle) on their shoulders. Incidentally Thomas' roomie, DeRosa, is also on the crippled list, having wrenched his shoulder and wrist a week or so ago. On campus DeRosa is frequently seen helping Thomas about and he in turn cuts up DeRosa's steak at mealtimes. Quite the Damon and Pythias—those two.

Ray Wallace oughta join the boys' and do an act. Only his infirmity doesn't show—except on paper.

Newest of the boys to turn professional is Russ Azzara. Russ is now a dance promoter, working out of the Hotel Sainte Claire. His first assignment is the "Top Hat" dance 'ce soir'. Catch the French! That's what culture does for you!

Ad Libs: Personal nomination for the most asinine story of the year: Elaine Barry's so-called romance with John (profile) Barrymore.

Bob Kinney, Del Monte maestro, joins the ranks of musicians who don't read music. He uses a card system which lists the key changes. Irving Berlin and Paul Ash are probably the best-known of the boys who never bothered to learn their do-re-mi's.

AH ME

Harry Barris, one-time member of the Biltmore Trio and composer of "I Surrender, Dear", etc, had a bit as a piano pluggler in George Raft's flicker, "Every Night At Eight."

Just when the musician's lot was getting better and better, we get the news that a chappie has invented a piano which sounds like a whole orchestra including organ, harp, sax, guitar, bassoon, oboe and others. It looks like a grand piano with a keyboard cluttered up with gadgets and push-buttons. The effects are due to string oscillations being converted into electric vibrations. Try that on your schnozzola!

Dog Caught Most Expertly

By WALT PETERSON

Oh boy, ohboyohboyoy!

Does Mons. Robert Gitler, of the library staff, know how to handle pooches or does he know how to handle 'em?

What was probably the most inane-looking specimen of the dog family in the universe came a-whooping into the libe Monday night, fairly burning up the linoleum in search of something—maybe it was a garbage can. Anyway, the first person he stopped was "Cotton" Johnson. (Apologies, Cotton, no slur intended) Immediately the pooch was in Johnson's lap, and then he was quite generously pawed off on Harry Hardiman. Our hard-hearted tackle forthwith refused to endure the dog's company and roughly placed him on the floor.

About this time Herr Gitler found out what was up and came down to rectify matters. Wow! The way that dog just leaped into his loving arms was a sight to be seen. Training for librarianship apparently entails learning how to handle canines as well as how to shuffle the tomes.

When last seen the hound was enjoying immensely the ride out in Mons. Gitler's arms, while a round or two of applause from the more venturesome students echoed about.

Spears Elect Marion Ruge To Presidency

Marion Ruge was elected president of Spartan Spears, sophomore women's service society, at a meeting held last week.

Other newly elected officers are Bessie Matthews, vice-president; Virginia Perry, recording secretary; Betty Bruch, corresponding secretary; Jewel Spangler, reporter; Marion Ciker, treasurer; Frances Churin, historian; and Betty Bedford, A.W.S. representative.

Signor Cesano Guest At Italian Club Meet

Signor Cesano, an Italian teacher who has just recently arrived from his native country, entertained members of the Italian club with games and stories of Italy at a meeting held at the home of Lawrence Scott Tuesday evening.

Plans for an informal Halloween dance to be given at the home of Victor Piccetti Wednesday night were also discussed.

Group singing of Italian songs provided additional entertainment for the evening.

Three Teams Unbeaten After First Matches

Three teams have come out of their first battles for the Manager's Club fall mixed doubles tennis trophies unscathed.

One mild upset was staged when Mel Isenberger and Edith Norton, one of the favored pairs, were defeated by Harold Kibby and Barbara Gruwell after a hard-fought three-set match. The winning scores were 6-2, 3-6, 6-4.

Bob Harris and Dorothy Smith placed themselves among those favored to cop the title by defeating Bob Stuart and Dorothy Trotti in straight sets 7-5, 6-2.

One of the favored teams, Lynn Gion and Janis Hildebrand were forced to come from behind to win a nerve-wracking three-set victory over Miss Berta Gray and George Quetin 4-6, 6-0, 8-6.

Several first round matches have not been played as yet and officials of the tournament are anxious to have these matches played so that others may start the second round. A new deadline for first round matches has been set for Friday. Second round matches will start Monday.

Spartans will have to work to come through with a win tomorrow.

The Ruffo coached Santa Clara freshmen boast any amount of fine material, and according to record possess a nicely functioning unit. They are a three way threat inasmuch as they sport a powerful running attack, are dangerous in the air, and punching holes in their line is more than a little trouble.

"Tuffy" Smith is a hard driving full who uses his weight to good effect in Santa Clara line plays.

Wall, Dietrick, J. Smith, and Pelligrini are additional threats in the backfield.

Outstanding in the line, from past performances, are Coughlin and Lind, both clever wing-men, Fox, a scrapping center, and Connolly, a big tackle.

The Santa Clara Babes are given the edge over the young Spartans, but, according to Coach Portal, his charges are 100 per cent improved over last week's exhibition, and a game is never won or lost before it is played.

INVADE GATE CITY FOR OLYMPIC CLUB BATTLE

Sparta's water dog's wound up a week of strenuous scrimmaging yesterday under the hand of "Commandore" Charlie Walker, in preparation for the all-important double-header with the powerful Olympic Club sevens tonight in the club plunge in San Francisco.

The Spartan water polo forces have shown a great improvement since their last home appearance, as was evident in the Dolphin Club struggle in San Francisco Saturday night when the Walkermen triumphed by a 12-3 count, and in an informal scrimmage with the San Jose Hi Bulldogs when the prepsters were drowned under a 21-1 deluge of points.

Walker pins his hopes on the strong junior varsity, which held the powerful Stanford juniors to a 5-4 score in the first league encounter.

Intramural basketball is on its way.

Play this year will be in two divisions, A and B. Group A will include three freshman teams and two each of sophomore, junior and senior. The B division includes six freshman squads as well as one each of sophomore and junior.

Contrary to previous reports, each team will carry eight men and there will be no exchange of players after the tourney gets underway.

The tournament is definitely scheduled to start Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock and the committee urges all players to see the schedule that will be posted on the bulletin board in the men's gym.

Class A teams will play on the north court, B on the south. Six games will be played every Monday and Wednesday afternoon and a three game playoff will decide the Intramural championship, early in December.

SOCCERMEN WILL FACE TOUGH BATTLE IN TILT WITH CARDS TOMORROW

San Jose's soccer men are preparing today by way of a chalk-talk for their third conference tilt tomorrow, a tussle with the Stanford Indians on Spartan field at 10:00 a.m. Looking forward to a tough argument from the Braves, Coach Charlie Walker will exercise the players' brains and not their muscles in an endeavor to polish up the team for this rather crucial encounter.

HAVE TO IMPROVE

Says Coach Walker, "In order to win this game we will have to equal or better our performance in the fourth quarter of the San Mateo J. C. game in the first week of the conference schedule. That quarter was the best played bit of soccer I have seen at San Jose State in the five years I have been coaching, and I think it will take that type of play to beat Stanford."

With that prospect in mind, the

Granting the senior class a special opportunity, 25 bids will be reserved for them for a week, Paul Jungermann, chairman of the sales committee announced.

Indian Exhibit On Display Loaned By Paul Walker, State Graduate Shown In Science Building

"The thing that would make a sizable dent in any cranium," was the comment of a student as he looked at the skull-cracker in Paul A. Walker's exhibit of early Central California Indian archeological specimens.

LOS ANGELES MUSEUM

Walker, a 1929 graduate of San Jose State college, who did graduate work at the University of California and was formerly associated with the Los Angeles museum, tells a story of the ancient California red man with his exhibit which is in the second show-case west of Room S210.

Weapons and ornaments, including beads and unique ear beautifiers are displayed. Sea shells with finely chiseled pictures on them are included in the collection. Small cards explain each item in the display.

MORE EXHIBITS

Walker will possibly bring further exhibits to the college which will show the development of other California Indian groups.

Dr. P. V. Peterson expressed appreciation for the use of Walker's collection and the effort he had put forth in making the Science hall exhibits more interesting.

Dr. Jones Speaks At Patrons' Meet

At the monthly business meeting of the Patron's Association held Tuesday afternoon in the Little Theater, Dr. Margaret Jones, member of the Home Economics department, gave a short talk on the development of the Conference center to be organized in San Jose. Mrs. Ouida Mallett, former Home Economics staff member, is collaborating with Dr. Jones in the organization of this center.

The Conference, being held in room three of the Home Economics building, will be open for consultation with home-makers every Thursday afternoon between the hours of three to five.

"It is for the purpose of providing advice and information to those engaged in such home-making problems as feeding the family, planning low cost diets, new methods in food preparation, menu planning, making over clothing and the care and repair of clothing, short cuts in sewing, planning and budgeting the child's wardrobe, and budgeting time and energy in the home," Dr. Jones states.

After the meeting the Home Economics staff entertained the Patron's association by taking them on a tour of the building. Later they were served light refreshments in the social room of the Home Economics building.

According to Mildred Moran, chairman of the assembly.

Black Masque, women's secret honorary society; Delta Nu Theta and the Junior Homemaking Club of the Home Economics department; W.A.A., and other women's organizations of the campus were respectively represented.

The Bull Is Going Fast—Editors Are Honored By Sales

Well, the people around San Jose State certainly deserved to be congratulated. Yep, Ol' Man Opportunity doesn't have to knock more than once around this jern.

El Toro tickets broke forth Wednesday, and by last evening they were almost completely sold out. In view of the fact that the gag-mag won't appear till November 4, that means that it was sold out more than a week before its debut. That ought to be some sort of a publications record around these heah pahts, yowsah! Yowsah!

"We feel honored my your response," aver the editors of "The Bull," "it is a compliment to be so well received by San Jose State."

Macbeth Minor Characters Well Cast, Costumed

Minor parts in "Macbeth," to be presented by San Jose Players October 30, 31, November 1 and 2 in the Little Theater, will be given interesting portrayals because of excellent casting and costuming, Mr. Gillis, director, states.

The three witches, played by Grace Petittclere, Bertha Potts, and Ann Isaksen, will utter their incantations with the aid of various appropriate staging, lighting, and sound effects. Make-up will be used freely to bring about the desired effect of wizened hags, with scraggly white beards.

Frank Hamilton will undertake the part of Malcolm, rightful heir to the throne of Duncan, King of Scotland. Robert Browne, a new member of the Players, receives his first role as Duncan.
