English Dramatist Presents Costumed Recital Tonight

V. L. GRANVILLE WILL GIVE EXCERPTS FROM DRAMA, NEW AND OLD

Sigma Kappa Delta Sponsors Appearance Of Britisher In "Dramatic Interludes"

The internationally famous English dramatist, V. L. Granville, will present his costumed recital "Dramatic Interludes" tonight at 8 o'clock in the Morris Dailey auditorium, when he appears as the second lecturer of the series being sponsored by Sigma Kappa Delta, honorary journalism society.

A presentation, in costume and make-up, of the principal characters from the drama of all time, his recital provides a vital commentary embracing the whole range of dramatic literature.

CLASSICAL SELECTIONS
Representative selections are given from the classical dramatists, the works of Shakespeare and other Elizabethan playwrights, the old comedies of manners and intrigues, and the plays of the modern world.

Mr. Granville in his previous career on the dramatic stage has played leading roles with Sir Herbert Tree, Sir Charles Wyndham, and Sir Johnston Forbes-Robertson.

NEW INTERPRETATIONS
The distinguished English actor has presented "Dramatic Interludes" in all parts of the world, and has recently added some interpretations, which he will play for the first time in America.

Student tickets for the performance are specially priced at 25 cents, and admission for outsiders is 40 cents.

Dramatics Society To Initiate New Members

Theatron, honorary dramatics society, will initiate seven new members Sunday evening at the home of Miss Elizabeth Jenks, head of the Speech department.

Theatron membership, which is the highest dramatics attainment at San Jose State, consists of thirteen students chosen by an impartial point system in dramatic activity with San Jose Players.

The present members of Theatron are: Bertha Potts, president; Kay Epps, Mae Wilburn, Jean McCrae, Frank Hamilton.

Noise Parade Looms Near Annual All-College Rally Thunders Over S. J. Judges To Select Winner

Noise, fortified by the screech of escorting motorcycle police, the blare of the Spartan varsity band, and the secretly prepared noise-making paraphernalia of over 25 entries in the gigantic Rally and Noise Parade, snakes its blatant way out of the campus and through the downtown district tomorrow at five.

SILVER CUP
"Thunder Over San Jose" is the slogan of the various organizations which have already signified their intentions of out-doing last year's successful demonstration—and the mightiest thunder-clapper wins the huge trophy given to the winner of this annual event.

Howie Burns is in charge of the

Appearing Tonite In Dramatic Interludes

"Mr. Granville deeply impressed me with the wide variety of his interpretations and the quickness with which he made changes of costume and make up," declares Dr. Dorothy Kaucher of the Speech department, who has seen the distinguished English actor perform both at the University of Missouri and in New York.

"His use of the English Language was excellent both in the character parts and in the running commentaries during which he explained the next interpretation while changing his costume and makeup," she commented, and added:

"Students will enjoy him from the artistic angle of his interpretation."

Blatant Appeal Of Students Goes For Naught; El Toro Diet Lacking

FOOTBALL THEME TO PREVAIL AT STUDENT DANCE

Carrying out the popular football theme, the men's gymnasium will be transformed into a gridiron for the student body dance to be held Saturday night from nine o'clock until midnight.

Harold Kibbee, decoration chairman of the social affairs committee, announces that footballs, banners, and gold and white streamers will be used as decorations for the affair.

Al Davina's Royal Commanders will furnish the music for the dance, and continuing the rule put into effect last year, no stags will be admitted. Students will be admitted free with their student body cards, while the admission for outsiders accompanied by a student will be 25 cents.

LATE APPEARANCE DUE TO OBSERVANCE OF ANCIENT RITUAL

El Toro . . . The Bull.

Once more, bewildered students, you will hear echoing through these halls of learning, "What, no gag-mag? That is truly El Toro."

Fear not, fair students and fairer, you will have your bull by the horns on the morrow.

The "wit and wise crack gang," under the direction of Jewel Spangler, found out that they were forgetting at the last moment to observe an old Spanish custom; namely, the fattening of the bull before he was to be delivered, with a kick for all and malice toward none, to the devouring multitudes.

At first, food was scarce and, at a still later date, El Toro wouldn't eat what was put before him, but now he is devouring his nourishment with great relish and promises to make an appearance tomorrow.

PHY. ED. MAJORS SPONSOR SHOW Tomorrow Night In Morris Dailey

For weeks the Physical Ed majors' huge benefit show has been in rehearsal, and tomorrow night at eight o'clock the finished product, the "Spartan Broadcast of 1935" gets under way in the Morris Dailey auditorium.

A full two and one-half hours of entertainment makes up the show which has been directed by Gil Bishop.

Headlining the bill are the full-length movies of the Spartan-Stanford football game.

ALGERNON SHEHTANIAN
Acts in the flesh include skits, dancers and singers. Well-known pigskinners take on tragic roles in the "Shooting of Dan McGrew". Algernon Shehtanian plays the romantic lead of Daniel McGrew. "He lives his part," says coach Bishop. Persistent enquiries failed to divulge the identity of the person who plays the character of "the lady known as Lou".

WARBLERS
Warblers Burt Watson, Joe Rapose, and Tom Gifford will each do two numbers during the program, and the "Musketeers" male quartet join voices in subtle harmonies.

For lovers of the dance there is Bill Sweeney and Dee Portal in their "Evolution of the Dance". A terpsichorean history is interpreted in an act of grace and beauty, and in what the dancers themselves term "the act genteel".

CONJURING DONE GOOD
Among the other performers are Joe Salameda who does a solo skit and Ben Allah Lyda who "conjures and mystifies". The gong will ring out in a take off on the amateur hour.

Bill Thurlow and his twelve piece orchestra (count 'em) dispense some scintillating music during the show.

Tickets for the "Spartan Broadcast" are priced at 25 cents for students and 35 cents for the general public. The profits of the show will help pay expenses of the trip to Honolulu that the football team makes this month.

COMMUNITY CHEST TO SPONSOR ELECTION OF BEST LIKED STUDENTS

Day-To-Day Progress Of State's Drive For Pennies To Be Published In Daily

Candidates in the Community Chest popularity contest will be selected by the student body today. The names of seven men and seven women are to be proposed by any student who wishes to do so at the polls in front of the auditorium from eight in the morning to three o'clock in the afternoon.

PENNY DRIVE

Tuesday the drive for pennies which will serve the double purpose of allowing the donator one vote each and proving him to be a "good neighbor", will start.

In order to reach the goal set for the student drive, it will be necessary for everyone to contribute at least fifteen cents.

DAILY SERVICE

During the school campaign, the Spartan Daily will publish a daily barometer of the advances made. George Downing, who is campaign manager for the State drive, wishes to emphasize the fact that students, even though their families are contributing heavily at home, should feel it their duty to give as much as possible of their own money.

Juniors, Seniors To Bury Hatchet

Eleven-thirty today is the zero hour when upper class men cease conflict to attend the annual Junior-Senior mixer to be held in the women's gym. For the benefit of the minute-men—last-minute men—the tickets which have been selling rapidly will also be sold at the gate.

PEACE PIPE

Juniors and seniors have authorized this annual event when they may bury the traditional hatchet and smoke the pipe of peace for two short hours. During this time the two upper classes will forget their bitter rivalry and enjoy dancing to the music of Bill Thurlow's popular campus orchestra, a lunch, and a program of games.

COMMITTEES

The following committees have been working to insure the success of the mixer.

Food: Dorothy Nelson, chairman; Alice Wilson, Maryann Rucker.

Orchestra: Jim Welch.

Publicity: Alberta Jones, chairman; Ferne Hall, Charles Leong.

Cleanup: Dorothy Sandkuhle, chairman; Frances Cauhape, Al Silva.

Tickets: Norma Thole, chairman; Joe Rapose, Elizabeth Simpson, Roberta Smith, Janet Sweet, Reida Costa, Harry Hardiman, Jack Reynolds.

Tickets may be purchased from either the ticket committee or from members of the other committees.

Education A Social Evil?

By R. W.

Education has always been a social problem. Is it in addition to become a social evil, such as feeblemindedness, or racketeering?

In a recent statement, Dean Carl W. Ackerman of Columbia university's graduate school of journalism, declared that:

"Group education has resulted in the mass production of degrees and corresponding decrease in the number of educated individuals."

In a report made public by Nichols Murray Butler of Columbia, Dean Ackerman described difficulties encountered in selecting students under the plan by which the school became this year the world's first exclusively graduate school of journalism.

ASSAULTS POINT SYSTEM

He assailed the point system of credits generally used by colleges, and said that college degrees were found to be virtually worthless in determining a candidate's fitness for newspaper work, adding:

"There were a few brilliant men and women, many potentially good students, but the 'run of the mine' was academic slang. Nevertheless, all of them had the same degree.

"Investigating the reasons for this variation, we observed that the system of education was at fault. * *

"By adopting a universal point system, educational values are measured numerically rather than qualitatively. One result was that many men who were failed or 'fired' became more useful in life than the 'A' men in college. * *

"As long as the chief object of education is to graduate numbers instead of individuals; as long as educational institutions concentrate on groups instead of individuals, they will continue to turn out men and women who will be dependents instead of independent and dependable citizens."

NOT ENOUGH STUDENTS

It may be true that when any and all persons are admitted to college the average for all is lowered; it may be true that most colleges have too many pupils and not enough students. But what is to be done?

Vast sums of money are required to operate a college. Benefactions alone are rarely sufficient to support such an institution, and the best raw material for education is not always the person able to pay high tuition fees. The only other feasible source of revenue is taxation, and when the general public pays for the upkeep of an institution of higher education, there can be no discrimination, beyond requirement of a reasonable performance which would prohibit that public from availing itself of the opportunity offered.

Dr. Robert Gordon Sproul, President of the University of California, recently stated that there had been of late an influx of students whose prime motive was not the thirst for knowledge, but the increased social and economic opportunities offered college graduates. True enough, but what, one may well ask, is the value of knowledge if not the increased social and economic opportunities?

EDUCATION vs. INTELLIGENCE

Besides, it is the efficiency experts and personnel men graduated by colleges who are demanding more and more education of their employees. It does not require a high degree of education to sell goods in a department store, but the college man has always a better chance of getting the job than the mere high school graduate. It does not require a diploma to buy hosiery for a mail-order firm; a man who had risen through the plant and knew the stock would be more valuable, but we know of a case where such a man was denied the position and it was given to a youth who had never before held a job, simply because he possessed a bachelor of Arts degree. He had majored in Japanese history.

In recent times the colleges have indeed become educational sweatshops, but as long as the demand for the product exists, it will certainly be turned out.

Let 'em Eat Cake

By RAYMOND WALLACE

Yesterday evening, as I sat in my bleak and cheerless endeavoring to study, the door flew open and my famous friend and roommate, Joe Kallikak-Juke, dashed in, carrying of nuts and chuckling gaily, evidently in a jolly mood.

"What's this?" I inquired, pointing to the bag.
"For you," he explained. He has always been of a very nature.

"Thanks," I said sarcastically, as he went into another suppressed laughter. "What are you giggling about?"

SIDESWIPE, B'GAD

"I just saw an old man hit a streetcar."

"Do you find that amusing?"

"Amusing? Why, man, I haven't had so much fun since the hogs ate my little brother."

"I never knew you had had a brother."

"Oh, yes, two of them."

"Why didn't you tell me?"

"You never asked."

"It seems to me you might have mentioned it anyway, about my roommate for a year and a half, you dope."

"Don't you call me a dope."

"Well, someone has to."

Joe's face took on an expression which reminded me of last year when he set out to search for the Holy Grail.

"How now, varlet!" he cried. "I mean, what the hell! Sirrah, ere I cleave thee to the crime!"

"You mean chin."

"Chine," he reiterated, with dignity. "Be my halidom, thee to the chine!"

"Spoken like a true churl." He beamed at the compliment me about your little brother."

A TENDER MORSEL

"Eaten by hogs at the age of seven," he declared with flourish.

"What did you do with the hogs?"

"We ate them."

"What!"

"Well, it seemed no more than fair. After all, turn of know. Poetic justice, and all that."

"I see. Precisely what I should have expected. What about other brother?"

"Dead, too," said Joe somberly. "I remember it well, the day after I broke a mirror—"

"You shouldn't have looked into it," I suggested.

"Sir!" he shouted. "Where I come from them's fighting!"

(Editors Note: Remember your big scare about the rabbit's foot?)

"Then why don't you fight?"

A MAN'S HONOR—!

"Cause I ain't where I come from," he admitted.

"But about my brother. It was when I was ten years old, the year of the big blue snow. We had been playing tiddlywinks afternoon, and as I said, I had broken a mirror the day before. I lost every game I attributed it to bad luck. But along toward when I caught him cheating me at marbles, there was only one for a Kallikak-Juke to do. I shot him."

BARACCHI, STOCKDALE, THREE MORE HURT

SPARTAN SPASMS

By MURDOCK & BISHOP

WE HAVE BEFORE us several closely typed sheets of paper tersely labeled "Dope on Nevada." This information was evidently compiled by one Tyrus Cobb, whom we have reason to believe is the director of publicity for the University of Nevada and not the famed "Georgia Peach."

Like all such information, that of San Jose included, it has but one fault. It is impossible, after reading it, to understand just how the football team described could possibly lose a ball game.

However, making due allowance for the universal failing of publicity men to wear down the word "greatest," we will here-with impart to you some of the "dope" in an effort to see just what C. L. "Brick" Mitchell will have to offer in the way of a football team in Spartan Stadium Saturday afternoon.

LOOKING AT the Wolfpack from traditional "pay-or-get-out" basis with which the public is prone to view its football teams, we find the invaders to be in the same general bracket as the Spartans of the home reservation, having won but one contest so far this season, that being a 12-6 triumph over California Aggies engineered under cover of a snow-storm in Reno two weeks ago.

Looking at Mr. Mitchell's men from the standpoint of these typed sheets before us, however, we find that they are inclined to be a tough lot of gentlemen, and promptings from the spiritual world tell us to fall in line with this opinion.

A tackle who is being boomed for All-Coast honors, two bang-up ends, and All-Far Western Conference fullback, and three lusty sophomore backs are the essence of the announced starting line-up which will include three seniors, four juniors, and four men who are playing their first year under fire.

FRANK SHOWALTER, a 215 pound six foot junior from Los Angeles, is the boy the typed sheets say is a candidate for All-Coast honors.

They say that two St. Mary's men who faced Mr. Showalter were carried from the field and that he never wears down less than three opponents to the game. Nice fella!

Senior John Benson and junior Joe Cleary are the Wolfpack ends who are scheduled to give Sparta's somewhat stellar terminal team of Cap Laughlin and Charlie Baracchi a run for the day's honors.

"One of the hardest driving backs on the coast," we read of George Tharp, the Wolfpack's pile-driving 210 pound fullback from Marysville. He is the gentleman who scored that all-important touchdown in Nevada's now famous 9-7 upset of Saint Mary's last year. As indication of his defensive ability, they remark that he stopped 11 consecutive plays against the College of Pacific.

THREE SPIRITED sophomores have walked into Nevada's first string picture this year and have gathered unto themselves reams of praise in the press.

They are Billy Grubbs of San Bernardino, Ray Rodriguez of San Francisco, and Johnny Ohrt, the pride of Colusa.

SOPHOMORE 'A' CAGERS DECISIVE VICTORS

FIVE KEY MEN OUT OF PRACTICE DRILLS

Injuries, comparatively kind to San Jose State's otherwise beleaguered gridders of late, rode back into the Spartan camp with a vengeance last night as five key men were unable to practice for Saturday's Homecoming game with Nevada in Spartan Stadium.

Bill Lewis, fullback; Jim Stockdale, left half; Glenn DuBose, right guard; Charlie Baracchi, left end; and Bruce Daily, right tackle were the men who were unable to see service because of hurts incurred in Monday's Armistice Day game with Redlands or in practice.

Lewis, the big Negro fullback who flashed so brilliantly against Pacific earlier in the year, is suffering from a severe charley horse while Stockdale, who sped fifty yards to a touchdown against Whittier two weeks ago, is in the Health Cottage with a kidney injury.

Baracchi hurt his right ankle in practice and was carried from the field.

Investigation showed the injury to be a severe bruise, and it is doubtful if the stellar left end will play Saturday.

San Jose's offense will suffer severely against the Wolfpack if these two men are not ready to go.

DuBose, regular right guard, is nursing a sore back while Daily, alternate right tackle has been favoring a bruised-knee in order to avoid complications.

LEATHER-BOOTERS IN MENLO J. C. WIN PLOT

Tired of losing to brethren soccer teams, the Spartan shin-kickers are going to endeavor to give the Menlo Junior college outfit a thorough trimming when they meet at the Bulldogs' field Saturday morning, team members vow.

Menlo, a non-conference opponent, failed to afford the Staters much trouble when they met on Spartan field several weeks ago, the home boys taking a 6-0 decision. However, it's never so easy to lose as when you think you have an easy win already in your pocket. Holding that view, Coach Charlie Walker will be drilling his charges with the idea that they will meet some tough opposition Saturday.

Rodriguez is a 175 pounder who can both carry the apple and block effectively.

Ohrt, another 175 pounder, is the pride and joy of the Wolfpack backs. He has starred in every game to date with his triple threat performances. He has averaged 15 yards on his punt returns, 40 yards on his punts, completed 50 per cent of his passes, and scored on S.F.U. and Cal. Aggies with line smashes.

Kind of a handy chap to have around, sort of.

Sophomores Win Over Senior B's

Overwhelming the hapless seniors by the colossal score of 63 to 23 in the Intra-mural basketball tourney, last night, the Soph A's further entrenched themselves in League A leadership and nearly broke all tournament records for the season.

Led by Beach, the high scoring sophomore center who scored 29 points, the sophomore scored at will and kept ahead of the flashy Frosh A team which pace by trimming the other Senior A squad by a 29 to 19 margin. Little Sekigahama was high scorer for the frosh with 15 points, to make it one bad night for the seniors.

Tennis Team Will Hold Eliminations For Posts

Candidates for the varsity and Frosh tennis squads will be active during the fall quarter, according to plans laid by the new tennis mentor, Erwin T. Blesh.

Plans formed at yesterday's meeting of the aspirants, about 20 in number, call for the deadline for candidates to be this Friday. The netters will open active competition for team places Wednesday when an elimination tournament will get under way in order to better determine the abilities of various new men in comparison with the four veterans from last year's mediocre squad.

The outcome of the present tournament will determine what position the men will hold at the beginning of the ladder tourney to be held next quarter.

Water Poloists In Tough Tilts

The water polo forces of Sparta under the tutelage of "Commodore" Walker are sending the spray flying in the local aquarium this week in preparation for two successive tilts over the week-end.

Saturday night the Spartan junior and senior squads will fight it out with the fancy Athens Club aquarians from Oakland in a conference double-header in the Washington Square pool.

Friday night the junior and senior varsities combine to face the heavy Dolphin Club from San Francisco in the local plunge. The inexperienced State collegians pulled a surprise by walloping the Clubmen 12-3 in an early season tilt in the foggy city. The much improved Dolphins will be coming down the peninsula with revenge in their eyes and will give the Spartans a busy evening, although the local pollywogs will enter the fracas slight favorites.

With last year's enviable record to shoot at, the freshman basketball squad, coached by DeWitt Portal, will hold its first official practice session of the season this afternoon at 5 o'clock.

For the present, practices will be held only on Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays at the same hour. Coach Portal is expecting a large number of aspirants to attend tonight's session.

An exceptional schedule is being lined up for the Babes and the present five will have to be a top-notch if it hopes to keep pace with the record set up by last year's ultra-powerful quintet.

Hawthorne's Was Incentive To NOTED AUTHORESS TO SPEAK Literary Efforts Of Descendant

Competing with the famous literary efforts of both her grandfather, Nathaniel Hawthorne, and her father, Julian Hawthorne, served as an incentive in the work of Miss Hildegard Hawthorne, famous authoress who will be co-speaker with Mrs. Grace Birdsell Darling at the Book Week general assembly Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock.

Keeping in the field of child literature, Miss Hawthorne has followed the footsteps of her ancestors who were so famous. Nathaniel Hawthorne wrote "Tanglewood Tales" and "The Wonder Book," while his son put forth the popular "Rumpty Dudget's Tower."

HAWTHORNE BIOGRAPHY

Following this lead, Miss Hawthorne has kept in the field of children literature, and her most successful work was the biography of her own grandfather, Nathaniel Hawthorne, the "Romantic Rebel." Calling it understandingly and humanly written, critics are high in their praises of this book of the man who even today stands as a bit of mystery in the field of literature.

LIFE OF EMERSON

Her most recent book, being published in October, 1935, is a biography of Ralph Waldo Emerson, "Youth's Champion," and already is appearing in recommended lists for young people.

Outside of biographies, her "Rancho del Sol" is a book about California under the Spanish regime, and "Open Range" is a story of the great plains where ranch owners and homesteaders are at odds.

"Tabitha of Lonely House" is a girl's story of New England in the time of the Alcotts and Emersons, with a slight touch of mystery which has particularly endeared the book to girls.

A. W. S. ACTIVITIES TO BE PLANNED AT COUNCIL MEETING

The organization and activities of A. W. S. will be discussed at a council supper tonight at 6 o'clock in the club room, it was announced at a business meeting Tuesday.

Plans for a freshman orientation program to be sponsored by A.W.S. next Thursday were explained to the council by Mildred Moran, entertainment chairman.

Charlie McClelland's orchestra will play during intermissions of the program and Orchestis will present, under the direction of their instructor, Miss Margaret Jewell, a part of the dance they are preparing for the end of the year.

Both the Verse Speaking and A Cappella choirs will offer special numbers on the program.

Vivian Sheaffer is in charge of arrangements for tonight's supper, and is being assisted by Marion Cilker and a committee of council members.

Elizabeth Walsh Visits State Student Teachers

Mrs. Elizabeth Walsh, of the Education department, has recently returned from a trip to Hollister where she visited the schools of two San Jose State student teachers; Miss Marguerite Davenport at the Justus school, and Miss Eugenia Cunan at the Fremont school.

Miss Davenport is carrying out an activity in her classroom centered around transportation in the world, while Miss Cunan is assisting in a department pageant centered around different States of the Union, which is to be given at the open house to be held before Christmas.

Pining Music Class Sends Telegram To Maestro To Return

"Hello! Give me Western Union, please."

"I want to send a telegram to Mr. Adolph Otterstein at Tucson, Arizona, in care of the Phi Mu Alpha."

Members of Otterstein's morning elementary music class who have a substitute teacher this week, got together Tuesday night and resolved to play a joke on their regular teacher, Mr. Otterstein, who is making a tour of all the chapters of the Phi Mu Alpha music fraternity in the East through Arizona.

Mrs. Otterstein, who wasn't in on the contents of the message when asked for his address, said, "Oh bless your heart, he'd get a thrill out of that!"

The telegram which was sent, read:

"Maestro Otterstein come back quick."

And was signed "your 8 o'clock music class."

Frosh Women Tell What It Takes In Men To Get Along

If you are a college man, you can consider yourself one of the following group: athletic, studious, humorous, or social, according to women who attended the meeting of freshman eristics last Friday noon in room 1 of the Home Economics building.

You are in favor with your girl-friend either because you show her a good time, you give her prestige by your presence, or you have common interests.

A freshman will never, never, turn you down, boys, because of the "catty" remarks her friends make about your red hair or that mole you have on the back of your neck! But—beware what mama and papa say about you, because, according to one fair frosh, she always listens to parental advice and follows it. This confession received unanimous approval from the congregation.

Futhermore, in reference to freshman analysis, you men are most "natural-acting" when you are bashful members of the opposite sex, interested in sports and machinery, and find it hard to learn to dance!

Noted Photographer Displays Sierra Scenes

Photographs of High-Sierra landscapes and mountain scenes taken by O. E. Dasonville, San Francisco photographer, are now being displayed in room one of the Art building.

EXHIBIT FROM LOS ANGELES SCHOOL ON DISPLAY IN ART BUILDING

An exhibit of student work from the Los Angeles Art Center School, considered the finest art school on the Pacific coast, is now on exhibit in the Art wing.

The caliber of the work being done at the school is reflected in the show. The students' efforts are equal, if not superior to much of the commercial advertising now done in the professional field. Many of the students are actually earning their living as commercial artists and are furthering their studies at the school.

The display illustrated some of the various fields in which the school specializes. Posters, fashion designs, figure studies, magazine illustrations and interior decoration designs are included in the exhibit. The furniture used in the interior decoration makeups is of original design.

"Outstanding commercial artists of the country are on the faculty," stated Miss Estelle Hoisholt of the Art department who attended the school last summer. "These professional men each specialize in one course. For example, Mr. Kem Weber, an eminent interior decorator, teaches only interior decorating, and the class in package design is trained by one of the best known artists in that field in the country."

WOOD AND COAL TRUCK BRINGS CHIEF QUINN TO COLLEGE

San Francisco Chief of Police William J. Quinn arrived in San Jose yesterday morning to address students of the San Jose State college police school—in a wood and coal truck.

It seems that the chief started from San Francisco in his official chief of police limousine with red lights and screaming sirens and everything. But . . .

When he reached Burlingame on the Bay Shore highway something happened to his official chief of police limousine with the screaming siren etc., etc., etc. The chief was equal to the emergency. He thumbed the first passing driver—who happened to be driving the aforementioned wood and coal truck.

He arrived 45 minutes late, to tell the still waiting students about Baby Face Nelson and other notorious characters of San Francisco's underworld with whom the police had to deal during Quinn's term of office.

The chief emphasized the courage needed by policemen, telling of a member of his staff who is the only police officer in the United States who came in contact with Nelson and lived to tell the tale.

Quinn also told of the training necessary to become a capable cop, which is being provided in college police schools in which field, he stated, San Jose State College is outstanding.

starts at the same time, five sharp in the afternoon.

Three iron-nerved judges, Dr. Carl Holliday, Mr. William Sweetney, and Dr. L. C. Newby, will render the decision.
