

SPARTANS SLIGHT FAVORITES TO TOPPLE UNBEATEN ELEVEN IN GAME AT STADIUM TODAY

A trifle shy on tackles, but apparently still riding on the wave of inspiration that brought them a 20-6 upset victory over Nevada last week, San Jose State's Spartans will enter this afternoon's game in Spartan Stadium slight favorites to topple Charlie Erb's Humboldt State Lumberjacks from the undefeated class.

The invaders, who have beaten San Francisco State, the Cardinal Athletic Club of Oakland, California Aggies, Santa Clara Frosh, Chico State, and Santa Rosa J. C. by decisive scores and have only a scoreless tie with Saint Mary's Frosh to mar their record, arrived in town at noon yesterday and indulged in a light work-out in Spartan Stadium in the afternoon to get the kinks out of their train legs.

MARTIN, WILSON DOUBTFUL
Jack Martin, first string left tackle who has been confined to the health cottage since the night before the Nevada game with a bad stomach, and Jess Wilson, his sophomore substitute, are the chief members of DeGroot's doubtful list for this afternoon's fracas.

Wilson is suffering from a bad ankle, and probably will be unable to go the whole route if DeGroot sees fit to play him.

To remedy the situation, Bruce Daily, giant junior, will probably

LAST DAY FOR PHOTOS; TEN SENIORS MISSING

La Torre issued a call today for ten December graduates to drop in at the A.W.S. room and have their pictures taken in cap and gown today.

As this is the last day that pictures will be taken, Kathryn Epps, La Torre editor, asks that the graduates who have not had their pictures taken yet respond at once.

Included on the list of December graduates who should take care of this today are: Albert J. Cox, Jr., Eugenia M. Cunan, James Hay, Beatrice Evelyn Kelley, Nellie Louise Mueller, Helen Elizabeth Savstrom, Caroline Adell Schrader, Arlene Sommers, Thomas I. Starks, and Johann Else Burket.

As the A.W.S. room will be vacated today by the photographers, all those who have not yet seen their proofs may call at the publications office next week, where they will be available.

NOTICE

Will the following see either Kay Epps or me regarding La Torre John F. Baker, Johann E. Burket, Al J. Cox Jr., Eugenia M. Cunan, James Hay, Beatrice E. Kelley, Helen Savstrom, Carolin A. Schrader, Arlene Sommers, and Thomas I. Starks.—Paul Jungermann, Asst. Editor.

All San Jose State students please gather in front of Fourth street entrance at 11:05 to welcome Humboldt State college rooters and students.

Impromptu rally will be held, assisted by Spartan band and Howie Burns and assistants.

Members of Mrs. Walsh's Kindergarten-Primary group, women whose names begin with S through W, will be guests at a tea Sunday afternoon from 4 to 6 at her home, 1048 Sherwood avenue.

STUDENT BODY TO HONOR GRIDDERS AT FINAL DANCE OF QUARTER

Plans are being made to accommodate the visiting Humboldt State students at the student body dance tonight from 9 o'clock until midnight in the men's gymnasium, announces Paul Becker, social affairs chairman.

ROOTERS TRAIN

Several hundred Humboldt students are expected to arrive this noon on a special train to attend the football game this afternoon at Spartan Field which sees their college meet the Spartan eleven.

The most popular man or woman on the campus—the winner of the community chest popularity contest—will be announced for the first time at the dance tonight.

Jim Dark's 9-piece orchestra, just returned from the Orient after a round-the-world cruise aboard a Dollar liner, will play for the hop, the last student body dance of the quarter.

DANCE BAND

Since it is making its first appearance on the campus, the well-known dance band will be a major attraction of the dance.

Continuing the policy of last year, no stags will be admitted. Students will be admitted free upon presentation of their student body cards, and outsiders accompanied by a student will be charged 25 cents.

Burt Watson Slides Into Popularity Contest Lead Over Kay Epps As Voting Shows Rapid Increase Near End

CLUB WILL HEAR HERBERT C. JONES

State Senator Herbert C. Jones will be guest speaker at a meeting of the Pre-Legal club Monday at 12:30 in room 11, when he will discuss the future possibilities of law practice as a source of income, and describe some of his experiences.

Senator Jones is a graduate of San Jose High School and Stanford University, and for the past thirty years has been practicing law in San Jose. A state senator for twenty-two years, he is at present chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Anyone interested in hearing the Senator's talk is cordially invited to attend the meeting.

FINAL SPURT EXPECTED AS CONTRIBUTIONS TAKE PICKUP

Burt Watson, Sparta's crooning halfback, shot into the lead in the popularity contest yesterday with a good deal more enthusiasm being shown. Kathryn Epps, who was ahead after Wednesday's voting, dropped to a close second place.

The total amount contributed so far is $130.45. Of this $28.23 has come in through the medium of the popularity contest, $28.55 from campus societies, $15.75 was collected in senior orientation, and $57.92 from the freshman class.

SOCIETIES GIVE

The societies whose contributions came in yesterday were: Kappa Delta Pi, $7.00; Delta Phi Upsilon, $5.00; Japanese Club, $5.05; Iota Sigma Phi, $2.50; and Kappa Phi,

Praises We Sing

Praises we sing, our noble Gold and White,
In Thee, our Alma Mater, is wisdom, truth and light.
To Thee will be strength, all honor, power and might,
Forever will be praises in the Gold and White.
Praises we sing, for lo! the sun shines bright
Upon the glorious colors, the College Gold and White.
And when at last we reach that final goal,
All glory will be due to the Gold and White.

Hail, Oh Alma Mater!

Hail! Oh Alma Mater, Hail, Hail to Thee!
Hail to thy tower rising gloriously.
All thy children praise thee on sea and land,
Hail, three times Hail, Alma Mater grand.
Hail thy halls of learning. Thy quad so fine,
Hail beauteous campus crowned with palm and pine.
How our memories cluster round Washington Square!
Hail, three times Hail, Alma Mater fair.

Hail, Spartans, Hail

Hail, Spartans, Hail! Hail, Gold and White!
We pledge our hearts and hands to keep thy colors ever bright.
Forward we go! We shall not fail!
Sing to our Alma Mater, Hail! Hail! Hail!
Hail, Spartans, Hail! All Hail to thee!
Hail to thy cloister'd halls and Tower standing straight and free.
Thy Gold and White, Long may they sail!
To thee we sing forever, Hail! Hail! Hail!

RALLY COMMITTEE PLANS STUNTS FOR HOLIDAY COMBAT

With the invading San Diego State Aztecs furnishing the last home opposition for the Spartan gridiron forces on Thanksgiving Day, the rally committee is working furiously to complete the plans for the first "big-time" game stunts in the history of the college to add to the holiday color.

RABBITS IN HATS

Although several spectacular surprises are wrapped up in secrecy until game time, according to Cal Sides, in charge of stunts, definite plans are worked out for the card stunts, and these card stunts depend on the full support of the rooting section for success.

A series of four huge colored pictures, made by the manipulation of the orange and blue cards, are tentatively scheduled, and the rally men emphasize the point that white shirts for men and white blouses or dresses for coeds must be worn to give the desired contrast and effect.

DIRECTIONS ON CARDS

The handling of the cards is simple, states the committee, for directions are printed on every card.

A solid rooting section of 500 students is blocked out on the east side of the stadium, and all students are requested to sit in the designated section to aid the rally committee.

Just Among Ourselves

Note: This column is personal between the president and the college. Outsiders are requested not to make use of the material.

BY DR. T. W. MACQUARRIE

Replying to a wail in yesterday's Daily, which perhaps I shouldn't, I'll just say that there is no authority anywhere for closing the college for a football game. Of course, if your work is up a cut might not hurt very much, but if it isn't, you'd better stick around and give it a boost. A football game today won't help much on December 20. It's hardest, of course, on faculty members who might like to go. Perhaps the very students they have worked with most all the quarter are the ones who will keep them tied down today.

Anyway, if you feel truly aggrieved, just take it out on the Phy. Ed. people. They planned the game for today, and I am suspicious that they are going to the Stanford-Cal. game tomorrow. Fact is, however, I believe we shall have more students out there if they have to cut classes than we would if the classes were dismissed.

COMMUNITY CHEST

If you are not in sympathy with the Community Chest, it's just because you don't know about it. I wish any of you who feel critical of this method of handling benevolences would take the opportunity of attending a couple of those report luncheons. I am sure you would be inspired by the fine effort now being made by so many good citizens to raise the money which will be needed so badly during the coming year.

College employees have been pretty close to their budget all week. In fact, they were a little ahead on Tuesday. But this effort is of more importance to the students than to the older folks. It is a learning situation more important for good citizenship than most of our activities. I believe it would be a good idea for the college to put on a miniature Community Chest next year, possibly every year thereafter. This problem is going to be with us right along and it might be well for the student body to elect or appoint a Community Chest chairman as one of their regular officers. It would be the duty of that chairman to organize the campaign each year. I believe such an idea is worth considering, although some other may be better.

ALONZO BAKER

That was about the best talk I ever heard on world conditions when Mr. Alonzo Baker of Mountain View spoke to the freshmen recently. I wish all of you could have heard him. More than 1,000 were present. His talk was clear, up to the minute, and presented in an interesting manner.

Noise in the hall is a serious disturbance for programs in the auditorium. If you know a program is going on, will you please do the best you can to limit your activities in the hallway?

If this popularity contest isn't the success you hope for, why don't you put on one for faculty members? I believe Ol' Bill would go out and vote $100 on himself. I might even risk a nickel or two on the old boy myself.

BUT, I hasten to add, if your grief is authentic, if that spot on the wall where you intend to hang Baby El Toro is as empty as you say, I am sure you will not hesitate to meet the ransom as demanded. A copy of El Toro for the ensuing school year. How's about it, Toots?

NOTEBOOK NOTES

Between nine and ten o'clock this evening a dress rehearsal will be held as preparation for the big ordeal Saturday evening. With the aid of Meadows, it is hoped that the collar button will give in and behave as fashion demands. To those not acquainted with the D.T.O. formal at Devonshire this coming Saturday evening, all this preparation may seem trivial, but they tell me that the dance will be worth it.

Carmen Dragon will be there to furnish the dansapation. According to his talkative press representative, Carmen is in the big time, and he will give the boys and gals a treat to some of the sweetest orchestrations and intermission numbers they have heard for some time.

Those who attended the Junior Foot Ball insist Carmen is a boy to watch. He has definitely shelved the loud numbers for the sweet arrangements, which is always a sign of improvement. Too many coast bands suffer from blowing too hard, and often it is an easy way to cover up a lack of tone quality.

Oh, Meadows, where art thou!

One of the newer tunes has a title, "Love Makes the World Go 'Round." Quite true, but a good chew of tobacco will do the same job for me.

REPURCHASE TEXTBOOK PLAN NEEDED AT STATE

Just what happened to the Tau Delt's repurchase plan for textbooks? It is a problem that deserves the combined effort of all students interested in money.

While wandering about the Economics building, I dropped into Dr. Berry's office. There I learned that the good doctor has completed his book on American Literature, and it is now in hands of a typist.

Just why the old hill with tune, "Seven Years With a Wrong Woman," came to me will have to be solved by De Voss—maybe it's just a coincidence, or because Dr. Berry spent more than ten years producing material.

After taking one of his examinations, one cannot doubt the point. Lovely day, isn't it. JUST FOR THE RECORDS, SIR

"Dear Mr. Engfer: Your problem is in the field of Economics and not psychology. You are to approach it as a scientist and not as a journalist."

"Your paper should treat of:

"1. The gold standard as now (what is going on.)

"2. The theoretical possibilities (your 7 under 11.)

"3. The practical possibilities (compromises.)

"4. Do people care? (This satisfy the artist in you.)"

Such reads the comment on outline handed in to Mr. Engfer last week. No comment is other than if I were Dr. De Voss I should ask why psychology is not capitalized?

Meadows, bring Steve's name along.

Still smarting from that Stanford defeat of Wednesday but undiscouraged, Spartas soccer warriors participate in their last tussle of the year tomorrow morning with the San Francisco Dons at 10 o'clock on Spartan Field.

Having cinched themselves the cellar spot in the conference, the Staters will have little incentive against the S.F.U. outfit except a chance to wind up the season with a bang. Mark Masson, goalie, Carl Robinson and Bob Doerr, wingmen, and Mel Hickman, veteran center half, will terminate their college soccer careers in this argument that looms as pretty much all S.F.U. The Senors from the hilltop town are just the reverse of Sparta in the league set-up, with first place over the Bears quite comfortably ensconced in their satchel.

Specimen In Form Of Six Day Bike Racer Who Has Retired While Is Still Alive

INVADING TEAM HAS REMARKABLE RECORD

By GENE ROCCHI
The Tunderbolts of the north, headed by their "miracle man", Charlie Erb, invade the lair of the Spartan this afternoon with a spotless record and an ambition to keep in such.

Since taking over the reins of the Humboldt State outfit this year, Erb has worked wonders with the northerners. Besides producing an unbeaten team, he has made those lumberjacks football minded. Out of an eleven which was unheard of last year, the former California captain has completely revolutionized the pigskin situation and has put it on a money making basis for the first time in the school's history.

The Erbmen employ a variation of offensive formations but depend chiefly upon the short punt and single wing back which were the ones used by Erb during his under graduate days at Cal.

An interesting thing to note is that Erb captained the California team which played Stanford, then under the leadership of our own Dudley DeGroot. Dud and Charlie are good pals, nevertheless, but still don't see how their alma maters are going to lose Saturday.

DeGroot sees a Stanford victory by a 10-16 score while his rival predicts a 7-0 verdict either way.

* ROCCHI ADDED *
* A welcome addition to the Spartan Daily sports staff is Gene Rocchi, Mercury Herald staff writer, and freshman football star, who will do a series of articles for these pages. *

By DICK BERTRANDIAS
Bruce Risley is a traveller of a sort, and does it on a bicycle. He has clicked off as many as 2500 miles in six days and gotten exactly no place at all, which is a paradoxical assertion if there ever was one, but the entire situation is cleared up without difficulty—for Bruce, let it be known, is a six-day bicycle racer.

A six-day pedler right in our midst and has been for over three years without anyone ever bringing the subject to light before. That doesn't speak well for our news-hounds, does it?

TOUGH GRIND

No, Bruce doesn't profess to be a champion, or anything outstanding in his line, but even a mediocre six-day racer is sensational in my estimation. Think of it—it makes me tired—grinding around a wooden track, hour after hour, mile after mile, and always winding up at the same spot from which you started.

And you can depend on it there are thrills. Picture yourself knocking off some 45 miles per hour and a couple of lads tangle and sprawl all over the track dead ahead. What do you do? It's simple enough—you sprawl with 'em, gathering a very painful collection of oak splinters in the process.

Bruce claims he never rode a bike until he was 15, and two years later entered his first race, a 20 mile handicap affair at the local McKinley grammar school. He didn't finish.

His first six-day grind was in the introduction of that sport in San Francisco, some years back. He also performed at the Gilmore stadium in L.A., and his last race was there in the summer of 1934.

DIFFERENT TRAINING

It seems that bike competition demands a different kind of training than boxing or swimming, for example. Where, in the latter sports one must be on edge and in trim, in bike racing the lads worry less about that period before the race, and work into shape while the contest is in progress. Bruce also mentions that when there is a lack of customers, the competitors, being frivolously inclined at times, will indulge in a bit of a party with all the trimmings.

It seems that Mr. Risley also made his debut in pictures on a bicycle, which is novel to an extreme. He had an "active" part in Warner Brother's "Six-day Bicycle Racer," and if you remember the picture you may remember Bruce. He was the lad on the bike with the green wheels.

Bruce is now interested in boxing, although he admits it hasn't the thrill of racing. He finds, however, a certain amount of satisfaction in blocking off whatever someone throws at him—so let's hope he keeps up the good work and doesn't lead with his chin, but if he does there is one consolation to be considered, there are no splinters in canvas.

BRUCE RISLEY, former six day bike racer, now a student at State, whom Dick Bertrandias makes the object of his latest feature story. Risley rode in the history making race held in the San Francisco Auditorium in April of 1934 which introduced the six day event to western fans. —Mercury Herald Photo.

Seniors Learn How To Get Jobs, Sophs, Dance, Frosh Entertained

Musical Organizations Present Programs At Orientation

Diversified entertainment kept orientation groups happy yesterday, with Dr. Heber A. Sotzin speaking to the seniors, a dance attracting crowds of sophomores, and three of Sparta's finest artistic organizations performing for the freshmen.

"Perseverance and hard work with breaks will bring employment to the individual," hopefully voiced Dr. Sotzin, head of the Industrial Arts department, to the senior class at the regular weekly orientation in the Little Theater yesterday.

DR. SOTZIN SPEAKS

The seniors were addressed in forceful fashion by Dr. Sotzin on a timely subject, "Problem of Employment," in which the conflicts and effects of the modern industrial civilization has on the people.

The remainder of the meeting was turned over to a community chest offering and a reminder by senior president Rinaldo Wrenn to welcome the Humboldt team at 11:05 today in front of the campus.

SOPHS EXCLUSIVE

Meyer Ziegler and his three-piece orchestra played for the two-hour dance the sophomore class held yesterday from 11 to 1 o'clock in Room 1 of the Art wing.

Carrying out their policy of last year, the class of '38 continued to be "exclusive" and made an effort to bar all freshmen and upper classmen from their hop.

The faculty and other employees contributed $140 dollars yesterday, bringing them up to within $100 of their goal of $2500.

BIG MONEY

A few large contributions were responsible for most of the $19.60 contributed yesterday in the contest. One in particular for five dollars was split between two of the candidates; Watson and Shehtanian. $2.50 was collected in the Spartan Daily office, the votes going to Dolores Freitas.

RALPH ECKERT TO BE FEATURED ON MUSIC HALF HOUR

Proving again the versatility of San Jose State professors, Mr. Ralph Eckert, baritone and instructor in the Speech department will be featured in a program of vocal selections at Musica! Half Hour today at 12:30 in the Little Theater.

Alfred Smith, pianist and student, who played the orchestral part to the "Each Concerto in F Minor" with Mr. Eriendsen last quarter, will accompany Mr. Eckert.

The program is as follows: Still Wie Die Nacht, Bohm; Serenade, Tosselli; The Tale of a Shirt from Rogue's Song, by Mr. Eckert.

College Debaters Meet In Quad For League Sanctions Debate

The League of Nations came in for a thorough going over in the Quad yesterday at noon when the San Jose State varsity debate team, represented by George Downing and Frank Hamilton, entertained the Santa Clara varsity. Donald Brown and George Scott were the Bronco orators who upheld the negative side of the question; "Resolved, that the United States should agree to cooperate with the League of Nations in enforcing sanctions."

NO DECISION

The debate, which was sponsored by the Spartan Senate in their effort to bring before the student body prominent questions of the day, was presided over by Mr. Ralph Eckert, debate coach, and lasted most of the noon hour. It was a no-decision affair.

"That the United States should keep out of foreign political entanglements, is a fundamental principle which cannot be experimented with," emphatically stated Brown of Santa Clara.

STATE DEFENSE

Frank Hamilton, San Jose's second speaker, was equally forceful in his statement that, "If the attacks on weak nations by their more powerful neighbors are to be stopped, sanctions must be enforced."

Brown and Downing were formerly team-mates when Downing was in attendance at Santa Clara University and at one time spoke over a national radio broadcast together.

SCENIC BLACK MOUNTAIN DESTINATION OF HIKERS

Black Mountain, above Los Altos, will be visited Sunday by the Hiking club under the leadership of Mr. Elmo Robinson of the Psychology department.

Anyone interested in hiking is invited to join the group, which will meet at 8:30 Sunday morning at Seventh and San Antonio streets. Bring lunch, and also a small container of water if possible.

A charge of 20 cents will be made for transportation to Los Altos and return. Those who bring their own cars will be paid expense money.

FORMAL DANCE IN HONOR OF D. T. O. PLEDGES

C. Dragon To Play For Winter Formal At Devonshire

In honor of the new Delta Theta Omega pledges, the fraternity will give its annual Big Game Formal Dance at the Devonshire Country Club tomorrow night at 9:30.

Carmen Dragon and his 12-piece orchestra will furnish the rhythms for the tuxedo and formal clad State students who attend the big dance.

The pledges in whose honor the dance is given are Fred Ayer, Victor Cauhape, Harvey Green, Robert Jacobus, and Arthur Van Horn. Bids may be obtained from any member or at the door.

The officers of the fraternity are in charge of plans for the dance.

Women Complete Tournament Play

Final results of the first of the Round Robin tournaments in the women's volleyball classes have been announced and new teams have been chosen for the second tournament, which will be played off in the next two weeks.

The team captained by Eleanor Longanecker won first place in the Monday, Wednesday 11 o'clock section, defeating the teams led by Lorena Morrill, Clara May Hanna, and Beatrice Chandler.

Patricia Struve, Kathleen Fitzgerald, Katherine Williams, and Marie Balanchini are the new captains in that class.

In the Tuesday, Thursday 4 o'clock class Angela Hernandez' team was victorious, winning out

USE OF LIQUID AIR TO BE DEMONSTRATED AT ENGINEER CLUB MEET

Liquid air and its applications will be demonstrated at the first meeting of the Engineers' Club on December 4.

Dr. E. C. Watson of the California School of Technology, an assistant to the world famous Dr. Millikan, will be the principal speaker and will conduct the demonstrations, according to an announcement by Mr. Frank Petersen, adviser for the club.

The meeting will be held in Room S112, main lecture room of the Science building.

The December 4 meeting will be open to everyone, Mr. Petersen states. He particularly urges engineering, mathematics, and science majors to attend.
