SITTINGS FOR LA TORRE CLOSE

Around 700 sittings was the record established by the La Torre photographers during the two weeks which they operated here, Kay Epps, the yearbook editor announced today.

Miss Epps expressed satisfaction with the way in which the students and organizations had responded to the time limit set for photographs this quarter.

The next task which the staff will work on now is the choice and arrangement of layouts for the different pages.

Although the photographers have vacated the A.W.S. room where they have been taking pictures, proofs are obtainable at the publications office, room 17, from 8 until 5.

Immediate selection of proofs is urged, before this service is also closed.

FACULTY MEMBER VISITS PRACTICE TEACHING CO-EDS

"Our student teachers are having valuable experience and an interesting time teaching in the Modesto and San Joaquin districts," reports Mrs. Elizabeth Waish, who has just returned from a trip to the district over Thursday and Friday of last week.

Miss Mary Caswell is teaching in the Ensen school in the city of Modesto in the association of Miss Iva Gross, a graduate of San Jose State and now the principal of the school. Miss Caswell is carrying on an Indian activity among the children who have made an Indian frieze on one side of the room and are planning on giving a program on Thanksgiving with Indian life as the theme.

Miss Virginia Prater is teaching the first four grades in the Castle school about 20 miles outside of Modesto. This is a one-teacher school and Miss Prater is having an interesting if busy time directing the young children in this school, states Mrs. Walsh.

Eleanor Jenkins, also student teaching at the Houston school about three miles out of Lodi is having a valuable experience teaching from the second to the eighth grade.

Dr. Mosher Lectures At Modesto Institute

Dr. Raymond M. Mosher has deserted his classes today. Instead of the usual class room lecture for the benefit of aspiring psychologists, he has journeyed to Modesto to speak on the "General Problems of Education and Improvement of Teaching" at the teachers' institute there.

A CAPPELLA CHOIR TO SING FOR FIRST TIME THIS YEAR AT CARMEL

W. Erlendson Leads Organization For Fifth Season

A Cappella choir is making its first appearance of the year before the Central Coast Counties Teachers' institute at the Sunset school auditorium in Carmel this evening, Adolph W. Otterstein, head of the college music department, announces.

ERLENDSON LEADER

A Cappella choir is starting its fifth year under the direction of William J. Erlendson, member of the music department.

The choir has made several extended trips in the past along the coast and in the southern parts of the state.

INSTITUTE PROGRAM

The Santa Clara County Teachers' institute was entertained by the college music department in the persons of Adolph W. Otterstein, William J. Erlendson, and Jan Kalas, music instructors, who gave a 15 minute program yesterday morning.

The three instructors formed a trio with Otterstein playing the violin, Kalas the cello, and Erlendson the piano.

Auto Concern Salesman Speaks To Econ Class

Mr. Eddie Johns, salesman for the Studebaker Motor company, demonstrated his talk last week to Dr. E. W. Atkinson's business economic problems class on "Buying An Automobile Intelligently," with a new 1936 model car.

Mr. Johns emphasized several important factors to be considered: dependability, economy, safety, appearance, comfort, and ease of control.

"In buying a car," Mr. Johns said, "the purchaser should consider such items as the dealer's reputation, adequate service facilities, what is the reputation of the automobile, and whether the manufacturer or the car will become obsolete within a short time."

Mr. H. T. Reynolds, local real estate broker, will speak before Dr. Atkinson's class Monday on, "The Factors Of Buying A Home Intelligently."

CO-ED WINS SPEECH BOUT

Once in a while there comes an incident that sharpens an old saw whose teeth have been dulled by age.

But it took Elrose Balcomb, at an informal get-together given by Professor Elmo A. Robinson for members of his philosophy class who live in or around Palo Alto, to prove that when it comes to talking, women still have the proverbial edge.

For, in a game of "Conversation" played for the entertainment of the guests, Miss Balcomb talked her way to victory even over Mr. Robinson, who had downed another woman, Helen MacDonnell, and, with hours of lecture practice behind him, thought he had a clear field.

Those who attended the party were: Jewel Spangler, Glenn Clabby, Elrose Balcomb, Helen MacDonnell, John Barrett, Ray Sherwin, Arnold Robinson, and Lorraine Ermev.

RALLY COMMITTEE TO DEVELOP CARD STUNTS FOR SAN DIEGO GAME

Students Are Urged To Organize Section On East Side

Though minus the leadership of Joyce Grimsley, the rally committee has been completing plans for the first "big-time" card and game stunts in the history of the school for the Thanksgiving Day game, between the Spartans and the powerful invading team of San Diego State.

"This is the initial effort of San Jose State to put the half-time stunts on a big basis," declare members of the rally committee, "and as in all new ventures, the utmost cooperation of the entire student body is needed."

MILITARY PRECISION

For the holiday game a capacity crowd is expected, and the effectiveness of these card stunts are obtained only by military precision, point out the rally men.

The special section blocked out on the east side is for the exclusive seating of students, and all students are urged to occupy these seats.

A series of four huge colored pictures, made by the manipulation of the orange and blue cards, are tentatively scheduled, and the rally men emphasize the point that white shirts for men and white blouses and dresses for co-eds must be worn to give the desired contrast and effect.

CARD DIRECTIONS

For those who shy of the supposed intricacies of shuffling the human made pictures, the committee points out that the handling of the cards is simple. Clear directions are printed on every card.

Faculty Trio Presents Musical Program At Assembly

Speaking on "The Challenge of the Italo-Ethiopian Conflict to the White Man's Civilization", Alonzo L. Baker, publicist and lecturer, addressed the annual meeting of the Santa Clara County Teachers' Institute held in the Morris Dailey auditorium yesterday.

JOHN LOUIS HORN

Co-speaker on the program was Dr. John Louis Horn, professor of Education at Mills college, who dealt with the attitude of the teacher toward his profession.

He deplored the condition where the teacher is ashamed of the fact that he is a teacher and urged instructors to take pride in their calling.

FACULTY TRIO

Included on the entertainment program were several selections by a San Jose State college faculty trio, composed of Adolph Otterstein, Jan Kalas, and William Erlendson. A dramatic reading was given by Dr. Anthony F. Blanks, University of California, and the San Jose high school A Cappella Choir presented two numbers.

There will be a special meeting of the Bay area teachers in Oakland today and tomorrow. Outstanding men in various branches of the teaching profession have been scheduled to speak.

Tickets For Christmas W.A.A. Banquet at De Anza On Sale Today

Tickets for the annual formal Christmas Banquet to be given by the Women's Athletic Association on Monday evening, December 9 at Hotel De Anza, go on sale today for 80 cents.

Since only 250 tickets will be sold, those who plan to attend are advised to purchase theirs soon from any of the freshmen women physical education majors, the members of the W.A.A. executive board, or at the women's physical education office.

All women students are invited to the banquet and may state their seating preference at the time they purchase their tickets. Organizations who wish to sit together should reserve tables early, announces Lillian Brown, general chairman of the banquet.

Yo, Ho And Ho Son Challenges Dad To Pistol Fight

"Call my seconds, Meadows! We will shoot this thing out," cries Chief of Police John J. Harper of Burlingame. "On December 4 at 2:00 o'clock we will meet at the Burlingame police range. The weapons will be pistols."

So stated Chief Harper when he and his team of pistol shooters received a challenge from the San Jose Police School pistol team headed by Jack Harper, son of the Burlingame chief.

Each member of the six man team will shoot 10 shots slow fire at 50 feet. Following the match the police students will be the guests of the Burlingame department at dinner.

The San Jose State team includes Jack Harper, Bill Young, Leon Green, Arthur Philpott, Don De Mers, and Peter Guerin.

Scoop of the week. In the same class with the dim-wits who go onstage when a magician calls are those who answer the call of the hypnotist and in that class is RAY WALLACE. Dr. Carl Duncan, who led the demonstration an eve or two ago, put Ray into the childish stage of ten in the shortest time on record, having practically no resistance from ye psychology major—all due to some kind of phobia no doubt. Anyway Ray drooled a bit and went scampering off after an imaginary kitten which he eventually caught and frolicked with all over the room. Finally he rubbed its fur the wrong way or something and it got loose much to Ray's general discomfort. All in all quite a game for a grown-up laddie. Next time, Doc, send him back to the ape stage—it shouldn't be hard.

An evening conversation piece with the 'brain trust' of San Jose State revealed the fact that spectacle-making Cecil B. DeMille is considered a propagandist for various religious interests, using his Bible-themed movies as a medium. You'll have to admit he paints with a pretty wet brush.

WELL FIDDLESTICKS!

One of the most successful comebacks in dance-band history was recently staged by the veteran New England maestro Mal Hallet. About four years ago Mal, who is a violinist, had the misfortune to fall into a mechanic's pit in a garage, breaking his arm in three places. Then followed nerve complications and general weaknesses which brought him to his ranch in Arizona for a four year rest period.

Nothing daunted, Mal opened his comeback about a year ago with a barnstorming tour covering all the Eastern spots which knew him best. Now he's right back on top with one of the best swing bands in musicdom.

The neophytes of the journalistic fraternity, Sigma Kappa Delta, are

Dr. Barry has been plagued the most so far and as I write he is due to have a bass and two sopranos go off at approximately 1:20, 1:30, and 1:45. Dick Bertrandias threw his out the window of the Art wing where it gonged merrily on rousing the whole department.

IS IT REALLY DEMOCRACY

Election time brings out many prize specimens for the enjoyment of the voting and non-voting population. One hears long tirades on the full dinner pail, stick to the Constitution, lower taxes, and what not. All of which is in the interest of democracy; or if it happens to be a Republican a republic form of government.

As one speaker once said, during a period of crisis the democratic form of government is voided to executive control. In other words, democracy gives way to dictatorship.

LET'S SING OF THANKSGIVING

Politicians may contaminate the air, but we the free citizens of these United States will sing of the sick turkey. One leg in the gravy to those who are slow thinkers.

Thanksgiving is a day when it is the practice to eat so much that even bicarbonate of soda cannot help. In some places the turkey is merely an excuse for the consuming large quantities of dressing and gravy—those made with brandy and the like.

So let's sing of Thanksgiving. More vacation, too.

FIRST WATER POLOISTS MEET DOLPHIN CLUB IN SEASON WINDER-UPPER

The first water polo team in the history of the college winds up a successful year of dunking tonight in Spartan plunge when they line up to do battle with the colorful Dolphin Club from San Francisco.

The game, which starts at 8:30, should be a close battle in the opinion of "Commodore" Charlie Walker, mentor of the local amphibians. His charges enter the fray the favorites, however, on the strength of their two previous victories over the Dolphins in San Francisco.

STRONG ON DEFENSE

Both games were played in the Crystal Palace Baths pool and the Spartans emerged on the long end of 12-3 and 6-1 scores. The Clubmen are reported as having a stronger defense, than has been evident in the past, and will probably make a real battle of it in Sparta's shorter polo course. The Frisco invaders will be led by Captain John McManus, famous water polo star, who played for the United States in the Olympic Games of 1924. McManus has scored all of the four points that the Dolphins have chalked up against Sparta from his right forward spot.

DRAPER LEADER

San Jose will follow the leadership of Bill Draper, center back and newly elected captain, who happens to be high point man for the Spartans this season. Guskar, a new star from Germany, has joined the Dolphin lineup, and is the best dribbler of the water soaked pellet that will perform in the local plunge this season.

ONE-LEGGED STAR

Some of the other men who will be seen in action for the invaders tonight include: Holmes, Bruno, Alexander, Shadle, Oakley, and Dick Ritgers, one-legged champion of the recent Golden Gate swim. Ray Stager will be seen in the role of old reliable in the Spartan net tonight, and is expected to stop many of the swift Dolphin thrusts. The starting guard combination for State will probably be composed of Jerry Tuxford, Captain Draper, and Ronald Gordon. Walker will choose his starting forward wall from Burton Smith, Bob Locks, Gene Gear, Dave Lynn, and Howard Withycombe.

Tau Delt Pledges To 'Walk The Plank' At Riot Initiation

Wild shrieks and perhaps a "thud" or two will echo over the campus tonight—and then six more men will have walked the plank which has been extending from the Tower window during the past two weeks. But the traditional plank walking ceremony is only part of the informal initiation being planned for new members of Tau Delta Phi men's honor fraternity.

The evening's entertainment will begin at eight o'clock in the Tower and extend through to hours and places yet to be determined, according to Magistrate Bob Hiatt, who is in charge. A large number of alumni is expected to be on hand.

The formal initiation is scheduled for next Tuesday evening.

Spartans Scrimmage For San Diego State Contest

Contact Is Order Of Day In Drill For Aztec Game

Continuing his efforts to keep San Jose's Spartans at the offensive peak that has carried them to successive victories over Nevada and Humboldt State, Coach Dud DeGroot ordered scrimmage for his squad last night as the team cavorted on the San Carlos street turf for the next-to-last time this year.

Greatly perturbed over the prowess of the invading San Diego State Aztecs, Sparta's head mentor drove his charges hard in an effort to gain the polish necessary to make the local's intricate attack click against the tough invaders in Thursday's Turkey Day classic.

AZTECS TOUGH NOW

Like San Jose, San Diego has come along slowly this year, really flashing true ability only two weeks ago when Loyola and Redlands both fell before the Aztec onslaught within a period of five days.

Both the San Joseans and the San Diego eleven have met Whittier and Redlands. The Spartans lost to Whittier 14-6, while The Poets beat San Diego 13-0. On the other hand, Redlands trimmed the Spartans 7-0 and lost the decision to San Diego 13-7. These two comparisons seem to make Thursday's fray a toss-up.

The Aztecs will make it hard for the Spartan Warner attack to move very far inside the ends, what with 234 pound Al Churchman holding down the right tackle spot and Jay Hershey at 207 starting at left tackle.

HERSHEY FROM SAN JOSE
Hershey is a former San Jose High boy who went to San Diego from Compton J. C. and comes home Thursday to do battle on his former stamping grounds.

Also harassing San Jose from the Aztec forward wall will be Johnny Butler, a 170 pound all-conference guard, whom the folks down south think is just about as good as they come.

The flanks will likewise be tough. Joe Frame, claimed to be the equal of Whittier's Danny (Continued on Page Four.)

Intra-Mural Championship Play Gets Underway This Afternoon

The Intra-mural basketball round-robin championship tourney will get underway this afternoon at 4:20 when the undefeated third-year men of the minor circuit clash with the highly touted Isenberger Juniors.

The flashy freshmen, led by diminutive Sekigahama and favorites to cop the intra-mural cage crown, will not play until Wednesday when they meet the untested Junior "B's." The Juniors met little in the form of competition in their league and therefore will be the dark-horse entry.

Monday and Wednesday games will be played simultaneously on both courts of the men's gym, promptly at 4:20.

JACK MARTIN, TACKLE, LOST TO STATERS AS AZTEC CONTEST NEARS

A calamity struck the hopes of the Spartan gridders Sunday evening when Jack Martin, rough and ready tackle, was forced to take departure from the campus because of the ailment which has made him inactive for the past three weeks.

STRUCK BY FLU

Martin's illness, intestinal flu, became apparent following the Redlands contest in which he played only a few minutes. His withdrawal from school leaves Coach DeGroot in a very short-handed way for tackles.

The departure of the ailing Martin leaves DeGroot with only Bruce Daily, Harry Hardiman, Lloyd Jackson, and Jess Wilson to throw against the superior weight of the heavy and powerful San Diego State eleven in the Turkey Day clash here Thursday morning.

DU BOSE TO TACKLE

During his illness, Martin lost 15 pounds in weight and although it was his wish to continue with football, DeGroot, acting on the advice of physicians, sent him home Sunday night.

It is possible that Glenn DuBose may be converted into a tackle to replace Martin. DuBose played at the position for a quarter in the Humboldt game and has the weight to throw against the running attack of the heavy southerners. Martin was almost a sure bet to make the trip to Honolulu and his loss will very likely be felt when the game begins to take its toll of the Spartan strength.

Olivarri, Sauer, McKenzie, and Downing.

CHARLIE BARACCHI, one of the best ends in San Jose grid history who will play for the last time before a local audience Thursday when Coach DeGroot's Spartans tangle with San Diego State. COLLEGE RADIO CLUB TO HAVE DANCE PARTY AT "LION'S DEN" TONIGHT

Club Offers Students Message-Sending Facilities

Final plans for a party to be held tonight were made by members of the college Radio club at its weekly meeting held yesterday in the radio shack. The club will enjoy an evening of dancing tonight at the Lion's Den, above Alum Rock park, it was announced. Jack Wagner is in charge of arrangements for the affair.

Through its message service, members have sent out 58 messages, and have handled many originating in other places.

WIDE SERVICE

The club now has a schedule at 12:30 with an operator on a trunk line and messages can therefore be sent to practically any point in the United States. It can also clear traffic to points in the Philippine and Hawaiian islands in 24 hours. A little longer time is needed for California calls, and approximately 48 hours to other points in the United States.

The club makes up a small part of the trunk line and is therefore connected with reliable operators, most of whom are members of the army and navy reserves.

SANTA CRUZ DAILY

Traffic to Santa Cruz can be sent out every day from the campus through connections made with Santa Cruz high school.

San Jose State students may use the message service of the club free of charge, the only requirements being that the messages are not too long and that they are of some importance.

FOOTBALL

They claim San Diego hasn't got any real "outstanding" backs, but they modestly admit that Charles "Tiger" Lee, a three year veteran fullback, is "mighty consistent."

It seems that the boys who play the secondary for Leo Calland, former Idaho mentor and now enjoying his first year at San Diego, take turns at getting "hot".

QUARTERBACKS

Gil Callies, Alan Lovine, Cecil Metzger, and Bill Valverde divide time at quarterback, which is the main ball carrying spot in the Howard Jones system favored by Calland.

Jim McMichael and Hideo Higashi, halfbacks, are the rest of the notable secondary.

Callies is also seen at half while McMichael can play fullback when necessary.

Nine men will see action for the last time Thursday. In the line, Captain Laughlin leads a trio of ends in their last game in Spartan colors. The other two are Bob Bruning and Charlie Baracchi.

Veteran Al Azevedo at guard and Harry Hardiman at tackle will leave large gaps in those

Kindergarten Primary Group Gives Tea Party

Tea was held at Mrs. Elizabeth Walsh's home for her kindergarten-primary group Sunday afternoon, when plans were made for the part they would play in the party to be given by the Delta Phi Upsilon society on December 4. Those present were Winelle Stone, Muriel Stone, Winifred Wilkinson, Frances Whitmore, Lurille Sinuti and Jane Scarlet.

The next meeting of the group will be on Wednesday, November 27, when they will rehearse the dramatization for the coming entertainment, which will be their contribution. All girls are asked to make an effort to be present.

Verse Choir To Appear For California Teachers

Presenting a program of poetry reading, the Verse Speaking choir, under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Jenks, head of the Speech department, will appear tonight at a meeting of the California Teachers association in Oakland.

Miss Jenks will offer a speech on "Choir Reading in Junior and Senior high schools."

The entire program, in which other colleges and secondary schools are participating, will be presented in the Oakland high school auditorium.

WILTBERGER WILL TALK TO KIWANIS

At the invitation of Allan Huntsman, Chief of Police of Santa Cruz, Mr. William Wiltberger, head of the San Jose Police School, will journey there today to speak before the Kiwanis Club on police training in colleges.

Bill Young, a student of the San Jose Police School, was a member of Chief Huntsman's force during this summer.

Curriculum Classes To Present Mock Assembly

Students of Miss Emily DeVore's curriculum classes will present to an imaginary audience tomorrow, an assembly for primary school students.

Although both participants and positions, and will make their final debut in the Aztec-Spartan fracas.

The quartet of backfield men includes left halves Franny Pura and Jim Stockdale, right half Burt Watson and fullback Gil Bishop.

Each of these nine men is a letterman and all have been on the varsity squad for the past three years.

Presents Program At Patrons' Meet

Miss Elizabeth Jenks, head of the Speech department, who will present a program of entertainment for the Patrons' Association tomorrow afternoon in the Little Theater.

Speech Students Entertain Patrons

Entertainment by the Speech department will be featured at the weekly meeting of the college Patrons' Association Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock in the Little Theater.

Miss Elizabeth Jenks, head of the department, will present Dr. Dorothy Kaucher in a group of readings; Mr. William McCoard, who will demonstrate a voice recording machine; and a group of Speech students in "The Purple Door Knob", a play by W.R. Eaton.

Mrs. Dana Thomas, president of the Patrons' Association, requests that members of the executive board, and the telephone table chairman meet in room 37 at 1 o'clock Wednesday, just before the meeting in the Little Theater.

Freshman Eristics Will Hold Holiday Meet

Offering a Thanksgiving repast too good to pass up and speeches by Miss Helen Dimmick, dean of women, and Miss Clara Hinze, of the Social Science department as well as a number of readings by Dr. Dorothy Kaucher of the speech faculty, a special meeting of all members of Freshman Eristics has been called at noon today in room 1 of the Home Economics building.

Miss Dimmick will speak to the freshman women on "Security in College," Miss Hinze on "College Traditions." Both speakers promise to make their comments of a personal nature so that the "eristics" will profit by them individually.

Little Printer's Devils To Be Initiated Tonight

Sigma Kappa Delta's tortured little printer's devils, the four pledges, are ordered by president Thelma Vickers to convene at the home of Charles Leong, 147 Carrie street, for final pledge services and ceremonies.

All members of SKD are reminded to join in the final on-looker for pledges Ora Lindquist, Dick Bertrandias, Leona Pruet, and Raymond Wallace. At the conclusion of the initiation, new members will be guests of the journalism honorary fraternity at dinner.

STUDENTS VISIT CITY COP FORCE

Today students of the San Jose Police School will dispense with ordinary classes and visit the San Jose city police department.

J. N. Black, local police chief and instructor at the college, will conduct the student cops on a tour of inspection of the city department, showing them work done in the identification, detective, and filing departments.

Following a tour of inspection through the city jail, students will be shown through the record and traffic bureaus.
