

Flying Club Plans Pilot Experience For Students On Cooperative Base

Petersen, H. Ashworth Are To Instruct Members

"It is the first organization of its kind" declared Bob McEuen, president of the San Jose State college flying club, in speaking of the group who have banded together to form a club on a cooperative basis, and who on that basis have recently purchased an airplane for their development in flying.

With the new plane which Hillis Ashworth, State-student aviator, flew from Bradford, Penn., the members of the club will be able to receive flying time at the inexpensive cost of about 50 cents per hour, declared McEuen. "This cost is very inexpensive when contrasted with the regular price of $4.50 for an hour's flying time in any other aviation school."

PETERSEN INSTRUCTS

Mr. Frank F. Petersen, advisor of the club and head of the college aviation department, will instruct the students with the aid of Hillis Ashworth, who has flown over 250 flying hours to date, and Sumner Dodge. According to McEuen, flying instructions began Saturday.

Ten flying hours per month is to be the maximum amount of time any student can receive. This time restriction is being made, said McEuen, to allow all members to receive their allotted amount of flying hours.

A tail wheel designed by Mr. Petersen, is being made at the San Jose Technical high school and will be installed on the plane within the next few days. The purpose of the wheel is to make the plane steerable on the ground, making it highly adaptable for student pilot use, said Mr. Petersen.

Mr. Grattan's appointment was announced by Walter E. Holman, president of the Junior organization. The committee is composed of forty-nine young business and professional men in all parts of the country, and will make a thorough study of all Juvenile Welfare activities.

It will also attempt to promulgate a comprehensive national program of child welfare activities for the United States.

Pickwell To Speak Today In Seminar

The life history of the Monarch and Swallowtail butterflies will be the subject of the talk given by Dr. Gayle Pickwell at the science seminar today at 4:15 in Room 8112.

From the three hundred studies which have been made of butterflies, Dr. Pickwell will show lantern slides best illustrating the four stages of the complete metamorphosis of the Monarchs and Swallowtails.

Aviation Club's New Plane

Working in preparation for the first training flights in their new Taylor Cub monoplane, members of the San Jose State flying club are pictured above making final adjustments on it. The plane was flown by Hillis Ashworth, State student, from Bradford, Pennsylvania, last week on a 2800 mile trip. It was pur-

Campus Sing Set For 11 Tuesday

The first community sing ever held in San Jose State college will lift its lusty, collective voice tomorrow at 11 o'clock in the Little Theater.

Sponsored by the Omega chapter of the Kappa Phi society, the program will be conducted by Berta Gray, Publications' office secretary, who states that the songs will be run off in snappy fashion with no delays.

The words will be projected onto a screen so that everyone can easily read them.

Since tomorrow is election day, it will be a good chance for students to give expression to their joy or sorrow, depending on how the election is going, intimates Miss Gray.

In charge of publicity are Virginia Moore, Anne Webb, and Virginia Farrell. John Andrews will be the accompanist. Mirriam Carr and Frances Young are in charge of making the slides, and Lela Merrit and Ruth Bigelow will run the projection machine.

All students and members of the faculty are cordially invited.

KQW Airs Student Views On Election

If you happen to be walking by radio station KQW on San Antonio street today between 12:00 and 12:15, you may have a chance to air your political views to a waiting world. For at that time Joy Storm, announcer, will conduct a "Student on the Street" broadcast, asking the question: Who will be elected in tomorrow's election, and why?

Only students will be questioned.

Finance Director Promises Aid On High School Deal

Few Barriers To Stop Acquisition Of San Jose Property

Guaranteeing school officials the co-operation of the state finance department in the purchase of the San Jose High school property adjoining the college, Arlin E. Stockburger, state director of finance indicated that few barriers remain to prevent closing the deal which will eliminate crowded conditions on Washington Square, as he spoke to school officials and business and civic leaders at the Hotel Sainte Claire Friday night.

LEGISLATION NEEDED

Passage of a bill by the legislature, agreeing to purchase the property in the future would enable the local school district to call a bond election with the assurance that money for the property would be available later.

Stockburger advised the group to get Assemblyman C. C. Cottrell behind the project and expressed confidence that the movement would be successful, indicating that there would be little difficulty in agreement over the price. He expressed doubt, however, that an appropriation for the purchase of the property could be included in the next state budget.

COLLEGE BOARD ATTENDS

The meeting was attended by President Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie and members of the college advisory board, Walter Bachrodt, city superintendent of schools, and legislative representatives.

Players Present Farce This Noon Free Of Charge

Mr. Bumpus Features Well Known Thespians

A satirical farce on elections and election methods, "Mr. Bumpus", written by Dr. Dorothy Kaucher and directed by Mr. Hugh Gillis, both of the Speech department, will be presented at 12:30 today in the Little Theater free of charge.

As a special production of San Jose Players, the one-act comedy features such well known Players as Gary Simpson in the title role, Florence Murdock, Bill Gordon, Marguerite Lee, Peter Mingrone, Myra Eaton, and Harold Randle.

HE'S GULLIBLE

The theme of the play is the amusing situation which arises between Mr. Bumpus, a rather gullible person who has been profoundly affected by a radio address in favor of a certain candidate, and his neighbor who has opposite views.

Timely, full of laughs, and kept on a high farce level by its delight-

'On To Humboldt' Will Be Slogan Of Rally Committee

"On to Humboldt" will be the slogan of the rally committee for the coming week, with plans for the car caravan to the Redwood highway now almost completed.

According to Cal Sides, rally committee head, if present plans materialize, a fleet of about twenty to thirty cars will leave Fourth street Friday about noon and arrive in Eureka at midnight of the same day.

100 ARE READY

Already a student canvass shows about 100 students with cars who will make the trip. The greatest difficulty at the present time is a lack of cars to accommodate the crowd expected to turn out for the week-end trip.

During the week every student who has a car and can make the trip, or every student who hasn't a car and would like to make the trip will be contacted by the rally committee either through the Spar-

Fat
 In The Fire
 By RAYMOND WALLACE

It grieved us deeply that Queen Billie, otherwise known as Wild Bill, thought it advisable to abdicate from his exalted position. However, we wish to correct the statement which appeared in Friday's Daily, to the effect that Queen Billie had called off his appearance at the dance because he was to go to San Francisco to arrange a vaudeville tour. Of course, we realize that he may have made this statement merely to save face, but in the interests of our public and our devotion to duty and truth, we feel it incumbent upon us to publish the real reason for his trip. It seems that Queen Billie had been making a round of the night clubs in his regal costume, and having been arrested for female impersonation, had to go Saturday to answer the charge. Queen Billie lacks the true queenly behavior anyway. When we met him in the co-op the other day and bowed ourself past, never turning our back, as custom demands, he attempted to knock our head upon the floor, and falling this, seized a wastebasket which it was his intention to jam over our ears. Had we not suspended form to the exigencies of the moment, he might well have succeeded, too.

Perhaps it is best after all that he abdicated. In the picture of him which appeared in the Daily last week, where he stands in full regal robes, attended by his minions, he looks more like the phantom of the opera than a queen, anyway.

The editors of Fat in the Fire wish to thank their fans, Miss Pauline Dorsey, who writes in occasionally to let them know that she, at least, reads their column. She causes a little dissension between them, because it is a little difficult to divide one fan between two writers, but they take turns in puffing up their chests.

Miss Dorsey's last letter concerns itself with school spirit, which she thinks is almost non-existent on this campus. Her feeling is borne out by the scarcity of the material turned in to the contest for a new college yell. Personally, we feel that a new song would be very

Mrs. Kelly discussed the founding of Junior Audubon Societies and told prespective teachers how study of birds.

"A sympathy with the lives of persons in other countries which may lead toward international understanding can be instilled in children through their observing the migratory habits of birds."

Markham Portrait
 Given To Library

A portrait of Edwin Markham, famed poet and former San Jose State instructor, and a memorial volume of the life of Henry B. Norton, vice-principal of the college until his death in 1885, were presented Friday to the college library.

Presentation of the Markham portrait, declared by President T. W. MacQuarrie to be a remarkable likeness, was made by Mr. Claud H. Simson of San Jose. It was autographed by the poet to Henry Meade Bland, California poet, "with admiration and friendship".

The volume in memory of Henry B. Norton was presented by Miss Mary E. Norton, cousin of the former vice-principal and at one time herself an instructor in the college.

The name of Mr. Norton, who came to the college in 1875, was inscribed on the memorial stone in front of the quad by the class of '84.

much in point. The present ones sound more like hymns or dirges than anything else. If we want spirit, why not have a song that can be roared out with feeling, something in the nature of the Piff Song from "The Desert Song."

State To Sponsor
 Music Conference
 December 5 Here

San Jose State college, for the first time is to sponsor the California Western School of Music Conference in the east-bay on December 5, in San Jose.

Mr. Adolph W. Otterstien, head of the college music department, has been appointed chairman for the conference.

 Part of the affair is planned on the campus and the rest which will include a banquet and musical demonstrations will be held at the Hotel Sainte Claire that evening, declared Mr. Otterstien.

Maurine Thompson, instructor in the music department, will conduct a music clinic for voice and will be visited by members of the convention.

CLINIC
 Also Mr. Otterstien said, they plan to hold an instrumental clinic which will be directed by himself. The purpose of the conference is to stimulate finer teaching among music teachers and future teachers who anticipate to teach in the east-bay.

Plans are also being made to have out of town talent and orchestras participate in the program.

Seniors On Trial
 Alum Rock Party

"By the time college students reach their senior year, they have a rather superior air and consider themselves above freshman enthusiasts," said Coach Dud DeGroot recently in a senior orientation talk.

In order to show Mr. DeGroot and others who think that the senior class is dull and stolid, the splurgiest splurge in the school calendar will be put on by the group Thursday evening, November 5, from 6 to 10 at Alum Rock Pavillion.

Out-picnicking, partying and dancing all other classes this affair will prove to the world that seniors can still have a good time, being after all, freshman at heart.

Dinner, 25c, and dancing, 15c, will be the main events of the evening, tickets for which may be bought separately. Dorothy Sandkuhle, Jim Welch, Bill Thurlow, Harold Kibby, Marion Starr, and Paul Becker, have tickets to sell. Transportation will be provided.

Hollywood needs you, Howard Withycombe!

The director for Universal Pictures who is on the lookout for talent to take part in the filming of a sequel to "All Quiet on the Western Front" spotted Howard lurking in the shadows, just watching, during tryouts held in the Little Theater Thursday afternoon.

He announced him as being the correct type, though he didn't even tryout.

But our "Noel" Howard, shy as the fawn in its native haunt, fled, with the director screaming in pursuit.

"Stop him! Catch him! He's our man," cried the director. But our Lothario had fled, and evidently hid himself away for the rest of the day, for we see that he is still around.

Noted Lawyer To Address Law Club
 At Monday Meet

Attorney H. A. Gabriel, prominent criminal lawyer of San Jose, will address members of the San Jose State college pre-legal club today at 12:30 in Room 11, Anthony Anastasi, club president announces.

Called "California's cleverest criminal lawyer" by Assemblyman C. C. Cottrel during the E. C. Stamper trial of several years ago, Gabriel will acquaint pre-law students with problems of beginning law students in his talk.

Gabriel is the first outside speaker on the pre-legal club program this year.

Tentatively scheduled as next speaker is George J. Stepovitch, Santa Clara graduate, class of '35. His subject will be "What is Law?" and is expected to present his subject two weeks from today.

The policy of outside speakers, according to Owen M. Broyles, club adviser and social science department faculty member, is for the purpose of student orientation. Other prominent legal personalities are scheduled to speak during the fall quarter.

"All students wishing to hear a clever speaker should attend the Monday meeting," says Anthony Anastasi, president of the club.

Dr. Gwinn Urges
 Students To Mix

Dr. Joseph Marr Gwinn, addressing pre-teachers recently, urged them to participate in extra-curricular activities.

Affiliation with social groups while in college will make it easier for students to deal with the different classes of people they will be required to meet when the time comes for them to enter the teaching field, Dr. Gwinn said.

This pre-teacher organization is to facilitate friendships among college students as well as to provide an opportunity for members of the education department to inform them of problems they will meet in student teaching, he further stated.

Dean Hunt Talks On Race Problem

Race Relations Group
 Given Negro College
 History Outline

"The negro in the United States should try to raise his status in the eyes of the whites through his own proven worth, and his personal efforts toward self-betterment," stated Dean J. H. Hunt of Bishop college of Texas in speaking before Mr. Woodruff's class in race relations in Morris Dailey auditorium last Friday at eleven o'clock.

Mr. Hunt, now doing graduate work at Stanford, outlined the history of negro colleges in the United States. He said, "In 1860 the first negro colleges were founded, being mostly elementary and having white people as teachers, because of the very ignorant state of the newly freed negroes."

By 1928 a number of highly considered colleges were founded in the south for negro students, among which are Fiske, Lincoln, and Atlanta.

Negroes from the northern and western states frequently go to these institutions, as chances for social activities are much greater for them in these all-negro colleges, said Mr. Hunt.

"Educated negroes are extremely limited in the ordinary professional fields, teaching being the only profession offering a reasonable opportunity for them. So most of them going to college expect to be professors. The medical and dental fields are too expensive for the average negro."

Mr. Hunt maintained that though the basic problem of the negro race, that of social intermingling with whites, is far from being solved, the inherent optimism and diplomacy of the negro which has carried them thus far forward will continue to do so until the difficulties are worked out.

7 Sparta Boxers In Finals Tonight

Stockton Meet Draws To Close; Locals May Win

Harris, Latka, Radunich Walker, Griffin, Seitz, Gerhart Ready

San Jose State, with its potential championship boxing aggregation, will invade Stockton tonight for the finals of the Pyramid bouts, and if the determination of the seven Spartan boxers is any indication of the outcome of the tournament, San Jose State will have the team cup in its possession by the time the cock crows on the morrow.

The team as a whole has already scored 27 points and the remaining fistcuffers have an opportunity of raising the ante to asset when the judges decide which deserves the team cup.

Captain Bob Harris will again lead the charge of Portal's warriors when he tackles the hard-hitting Ed James of the Twin City Athletic Club. The winner of this bout will then fight the winner of the other semifinal bout in this division. All through the bouts the 156-pound class has been the most hotly contested and Harris will undoubtedly have his hands full.

Plenty of action will be seen in the George Latka-Manuel Cabral senior lightweight affair. Latka has been training faithfully and, due to his upset over Montana Wilson last week, will enter the ring a slight favorite over his San Jose Bear opponent.

Joe Sietz and Byron Lanphear both promise a win and this bout at 175 pounds promises to be the best in the novice class.

Bill Radunich mixes gloves with Merrill Quick of the Amblers Club of Stockton. According to trainers, the San Jose heavy has found a real punch and this novice classic is turning the prognosticators prematurely gray.

Don Walker, San Jose senior heavyweight has been suffering from a slight cold, but everything is once again under control and Ed Hanna of the Napa Athletic Club is promised a real fight.

The all-San Jose affair between Stan Griffin and Paul Gerhart in the 175-pound class concludes the roster of the San Jose camp.

SHIN-KICKERS LOSE MUDDY BATTLE TO UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA BEARS 4 TO 1; BILL PITCHER SCORES FOR SPARTAN TEAM

By "STU" FOOTE

Unable to prove themselves good mudders, State's soccer team went down to defeat to the tune of 4-1 before the league leading University of California squad Saturday in a conference game at Berkeley.

As the score shows, the Bears had plenty of trouble in downing the Spartans and up to the third period the outcome was still very much in doubt. However the locals seemed mired in the mud that covered the field, and found great difficulty in getting away their kicks. Many times a Stater would take a boot at the ball and find himself lying in the morass for his efforts.

On the other hand, the Bears, used to wet fields due to those soupy bay fogs, seemed right at home in the mud and were able to out kick the Spartans at every point in the game.

MUSANTE SCORES

Soon after the opening period, California sunk its first goal when Musante, star center forward for the Bears, managed to work the ball thru State's backfield to score. The locals, aroused by this goal, came back quickly and had the ball twice in scoring position, but the booters were unable to make their shots true due to the condition of the field.

It was the second of these first period threats on the part of State when Martin Olavarri put on one of the best exhibitions of dribbling ever seen in the conference. He took the ball all over the field, thru nearly every man on the Bear squad, but saw his scoring chance ruined when the ball glanced off one of the uprights.

The third period saw both sides score. State rang up its tally when Bill Pitcher, hero of the Stanford game, kicked the elusive pillet squarely into the Bear's net, and thus prevented State from receiving a goose egg game. Musante and Stratton accounted for the Bear's goals in this period.

COUNTS AGAIN

In the fourth stanza Musante came back again to score California's last point. Musante was easily the star of the Bear squad. He accounted for three of the four U.C. goals. Also the Bear's must thank their ace goalie, Wither-spoon, for stopping State's many scoring threats.

Big Bill Pitcher, Jack Marsh, Socko Wall, and Dick Main were outstanding for State and did much to prevent a larger score for the Bears.

Interclass games will start with practice the week beginning November 17 while the actual games will begin on November 23. A round robin will be played at that time between junior, sophomore and freshman teams.

Cross Country Runners Lose To Bear Aces

EDWARDS FIELD, Berkeley, Oct. 31—California's powerful cross country team swept to a convincing 15 to 40 victory over San Jose State here today as five Golden Bear runners flashed across the finish ahead of the Spartan leader, Bob Harris, on the rain-soaked Edwards field track.

Les Voorhees copped the two-mile event in the fast time of 10 minutes 18 seconds to sweep the meet from the Spartans.

SHORTER COURSE

Running conditions which caused a last minute switch from the muddy three mile course through the steep Berkeley hills, found Coach Glen E. "Tiny" Hartranft's distance runners badly outclassed after the fourth lap.

Obviously out of condition and running without the services of their best man, Bud Bayer, the Spartans made a valiant attempt to keep pace with the California stars.

VOORHEES LEADS

Les Voorhees, Bob Baker, Clarence Hall, Lawrence and Charles Mehler went into the lead in that order after touring the first four laps in 5 minutes and 8 seconds. Vin Ruble followed closely at their heels.

A final last lap spurt brought Harris to the front but too late to prevent a clean sweep of the event. The tall blonde boxing captain finished in 10 minutes 37 seconds.

HARRIS SURPRISES

Harris led Sherman Sawtelle, Bud Everett, "Chuck" Malbon and Vin Ruble to the finish over the soft, spike-torn cinder track.

Among the entries, but running unattached, was Ted Volmer, the short bespectacled Bear freshman and second place winner of a recent cross-city run, who finished in third place behind Bob Baker after holding the lead for the sixth and seventh laps.

State Freshman Eleven Plays Scoreless Tie With Salinas Squad On Sloppy Gridiron

Zimmerman Stopped On Six-Inch Line As Game Ends

By WILBUR KORSMEIER

An intercepted pass and a 58 yard dash down the sidelines almost spelled victory for the Spartan frosh Saturday, but Captain Leroy Zimmerman was hauled down six inches from touchdown territory and a second later the final gun went off as the scoreboard read San Jose 0, Salinas J.C. 0.

A meager crowd braved the cold and wet weather at the Salinas Bowl Saturday to watch these two elevens battle on almost even terms throughout the entire contest. But with only seconds remaining, they were treated to an almost "Frank Merriwell" finish, as Zimmerman took the Salinas pass and lacked only a short step of reaching pay dirt.

The Spartan yearlings threatened a number of times but always lacked the punch at the critical moments to put the ball across. The Salinas boys, however, never presented scoring a threat although they rolled up slightly more yardage.

BLOCKED PUNT

At the outset of the game, the locals sent their opponents back in their tracks, and with the ball on their own 28, Salinas attempted a punt, but Bill Nobile, Ed Crotser, and Hugo DeGroot crashed through to block it, and Crotser picked up the pigskin and scampered to the five yard line before he was stopped. After two line plays, a short pass to Presley was intercepted by Judge on the two yard line to stop the threat as the quarter ended.

The frosh came right back after receiving the punt, and after two incomplete passes, Zimmerman ran around end for 11 yards to the 19 yard stripe. After two more line plays and another pass, Zimmerman's dropkick was short giving the ball to Salinas.

A couple of quick kicks and some expert tackling by Bob Harrell pushed Salinas back, and then a long punt was fumbled and recovered by Battaglia for San Jose on their opponent's 19 yard marker. But again the yearlings were unable to make any yardage, and on the fourth down, Zimmerman was unable to find a pass receiver and was thrown for a ten yard loss.

SPARTANS IN DANGER

The fourth quarter saw the Spartans in danger when Joe Sunseri fumbled a punt in the end zone but managed to retrieve it and carry it out to the 10. Zimmerman passed to Lewis for nine yards, but after two incomplete passes, San Jose booted out to only the 35 yard line where Salinas fumbled and the locals recovered. Two more incomplete aerial tosses and another poor kick gave Salinas the ball on the

INTRA-MURAL SPORTS

By KERMIT ANDERSON

Bounding down the final stretch intramural basketball will reach its culmination this week, with several league championships still hanging on the final encounters.

Hayward's Hotshots are leading the Inter-City league but will be challenged for the victory cup by the Palo Alto Flashes when they meet Wednesday. The Club League finds the Five Jokers with the title tattooed to them.

DeSelles and the Buffateers will settle their differences for the laurel wreath in the Gold and White group this week sometime, while Main's Prunepickers by their victory over the hitherto undefeated Wolves are this column's choice in the Spartan League.

This afternoon at six the Daily Staff's somewhat subdued outfit, whose only alibi after their loss to the Japanese was "we was doped," tangle with D.T.O. and Donadios play the Wolves.

GOLFERS READY

Nineteen golfers are ready to start their trek around the 18 holes. Dick Edmonds, genial sports editor, has been practicing secretly in his bedroom here of late, and seems to be the people's choice—for sports' editor.

Spartan 48.

Three incomplete tosses and then the one that was taken for a ride by Zimmerman ended activities for the afternoon.

Salinas piled up seven first downs to the Spartan's three, but it was an alert secondary and charging line that gave San Jose the chances and breaks it had. The frosh gained a net yardage of 62 yards compared to 83 by their opponents, and averaged 2.07 per play to a 2.3 average for Salinas.

Bill Nobile played an outstanding game at the pivot spot for San Jose, as did Battaglia at guard and Bob Harrell at end. Harrell, despite his small stature, was hard to take out of the picture, and he was always down on the punts to nail the receiver. Hugo DeGroot turned in an exceptional game at the other end position.

Education In Correct Methods Of Driving Discussed By Neilson

Police Students Hear Head Of State Vehicle Department At Meet

"Education in correct methods of driving should start in kindergarten," stated Niel Neilson, head of the California State Vehicle department, during a speech to the police students yesterday morning.

Mr. Neilson, who was introduced by Mr. William A. Wiltberger, head of the police school, spoke on the necessity of education for the drivers of automobiles, and also for future drivers.

DRIVE COURSES

According to Mr. Neilson, courses in driving courtesy and traffic rules are to be introduced into the high schools and junior high schools. Some schools are even training members of the kindergarten department to ideas on driving.

"The fact that accidents in California have increased nine per cent in the past year, and in the United States 10 per cent, calls for action in the field of accident prevention. Injuries are more costly than death, and could be to a great degree avoided by adequate education," Mr. Neilson further stated.

INTEREST

"Law enforcement depends on the interest of people in authority, and the knowledge that people have of law. Not one person in a hundred understands what law means, and no one has insisted that he learn," averred Mr. Neilson.

"A good device would be something mechanical in the automobile to tell a speeder when he is going too fast, or better yet to squirt tomato juice in his face."

Closing his speech he said that the state is endeavoring to build up uniformed and coordinated enforcement system throughout the territory, and that the drivers need to be educated in law, mechanics, and common sense. He also stated that a better identification method is needed in the state vehicle system.

Qualifications Limit Prospective G-Men To Cream Of Crop

Probably every male student at State—especially every police school student—has at one time or another considered the possibility of becoming a "G" man.

But it's a difficult field to enter, according to qualifications recently sent out by the Federal Bureau of Investigation of the U.S. department of justice.

AGE LIMIT

In the first place, there's an age limit including the ages of 25 and 35. The applicant must be a graduate of a recognized law school, expert accountant, or must have had a constructive type of law enforcement experience. He must also have had two years' practical experience in commercial, business, or professional fields.

In addition, the prospective gang-buster must be physically vigorous and able to pass a stiff physical examination in Washington. A citizen of the United States, he must be willing to serve in any section of the country or in its possessions.

WHEN HE DOES

When an applicant successfully passes every qualification, becoming a member of the department, his entrance salary is $3200 a year.

At the present time, there are only a few more than 600 of these special agents. Anyone who thinks he lives up to the requirements may receive application blanks from the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Washington.

Several Prizes Given For Most Realistic Hick Costumes

Engaging a professional seven-piece hill-billy orchestra to sway the dancers in bonnet and pantaloons with a teasing combination of modern scintillation and rural atmosphere, the A.P.O. fraternity will make Smith's Barn the scene of revelry on Saturday night, November 7, from 9:00 p.m. to 1:00 a. m.

The hill-billy band, known as Terina's orchestra, has numerous radio performances to its credit, and has also played at Coconut Grove in Santa Cruz. The members of the orchestra, dressed in hill-billy costume, will present several novel numbers of entertainment, according to Chuck Plumteux, chairman of the dance.

TOMMY TO SING

Tommy Gifford, popular campus entertainer, has also consented to help bring down the rafters with some of his famous romancing in song.

Costume prizes will be presented for the most realistically back-to-the-farm representations, which will be judged by Mr. William McCoard of the speech department and Dr. Max Heaslet of the English department. DeWitt Portal, athletic coach, will officiate as master of ceremonies.

PRIZES SECURED

On questioning Chairman Chuck as to the nature of the prizes, the reporter noticed a stubborn expression of mystery and an almost possumish attitude which leaves further information concerning the prizes open only to the future.

The renovation of the barn loft into a replica of "old times" will be brought about by no other than four A.P.O. pledges, it was disclosed yesterday by committee heads. Rolling wagon wheels into place, twisting harnesses, and hanging lanterns from the rafters are a few of the things which will be done by Bud Rink, Jack Mabel, Walter Fisher, and John Holtorf.
