SPARTAN CAGERS LOSE AGAIN TO SAN FRANCISCO QUINTET; HEDMAN LEADS 47-35 VICTORY

Dons Finish Fast To Nip Locals In Last Period; Score Tied At Half

By JACK MARSH

It seems a pity to start again with the name "Ivor Thomas" but circumstances up around Kezar pavilion last Friday night, when the San Jose State Spartans and the University of San Francisco Dons played in that hallowed but empty pavilion more than provoke it.

For Ivor Thomas, one handed and, we suspect, with malice aforethought, spot shot his teammates to an all-even tally at 22 in the first half only to see the towering Hedman and long shot artist Walsh more than nullify his efforts toward the end of the 47-35 game, which saw Bob Free's 110 strong caravan file out toward Chinatown and its delayed New Years to, we imagine, forget.

San Jose State, working at its best with the taller and heftier

Novel Effects To Feature 'Cruise'

The sophomore class plans to present something new in the way of decorations for a dance, according to Elaine Johns, head of the decorations committee.

To be held on February 27 at the Scottish Rite Temple, the theme of the dance is "Antartic Cruise".

Offering a wide opportunity for decorations, blocks of ice and columns of parchment will be used to add an antartic atmosphere, Miss Johns further stated.

According to plans, a large scene of the antartic will be placed on a stage at one end of the dance floor. Large columns of parchment will be placed upon the floor. Each column will have a different colored spotlight in it. These will form an interesting pattern on the ceiling.

Important Session Scheduled For S.K.D.

An important meeting of Sigma Kappa Delta, honorary journalistic fraternity, is announced for 12:30 sharp today, according to the pledging committee.

All members are requested to attend, to decide on the procedure of "dress parade" for the nine new "galley slaves" invited into the Spartan Daily honor group.

Five More Days To Get 'Ball' Bids

Gold Room Of St. Claire To Be Scene Of Masquerade

By CHARLES McLEAN

Only five more days to buy your bids for the Artists' Masquerade Ball!

Hurry, hurry, hurry, you lucky people, and start jimmying little brother's penny bank, because if, by hook or crook, you can gain possession of one dollar, one solitary dollar, you can treat yourself to what is promised to be a sumptuous, dazzling, and glorious time.

Everybody will be dressed in costume, and the party is intended to be as colorful and gay as possible.

The Ball will be held Friday, February 19, in the Gold Room of Hotel St. Claire. Frank Paradise's orchestra will provide the music, and Joe Rapose will vocalize.

Bids may be obtained from the following persons: Elizabeth Jarvis, Doris Smith, Sal Merendino, Josephine Monnot, Louis LeBarbera, John Knight, Tom Cheal, Marion Kyle, Mickey Slingluff, Evelyn Moulthrop, Bud Watson, Maryan Rucker, Marie Smith, Elma Heber, and Bobbie Sweet.

Phelan Contest Open Until March 19; For San Jose State Only

Contrary to reports to the opposite, the James D. Phelan literary contest for San Jose State college students will remain open through March 19, the English department announced.

Mistaking this statewide contest for San Jose State's own Phelan competition, a swarm of anxious students invaded the office of Dr. Raymond Barry, head of the English department, demanding explanations and longer time.

Campus creative writers now have longer time, 35 days to be exact, in which to enter their manuscripts in the Phelan contest confined to students enrolled in San Jose State college.

Cash prizes, amounting to more than $300 will be awarded in four fields of literature: short story, essay, poetry, and one-act play.

Dr. Mosher Tells Jubilee Plans To Council

Definite plans for the coming Diamond Jubilee will be told the student council when Dr. Raymond Mosher comes before that group at the regular meeting tonight in the council rooms.

Two weeks ago the executive group, led by president Paul Becker, suggested that Dr. Mosher give plans already formulated that the council and student body might know what is in the offing. Tonight full details will be given. As the 75th anniversary celebration is primarily for the students and work up to now has been wholly in the hands of the central committee, tonight's discussion will bring definite ideas to the foreground.

Aside from the Jubilee discussion, the matter of an appropriation for awards in a music creative writing contest will also be brought up for action. Final consideration on the matter had been delayed until the appearance of Ray Ruf, music manager, before the group to give wanted details.

Should time permit, the important discussion of departmental budgets will take place. Regardless of when the study of former allotments occur, president Becker urges the department heads keep in mind the fact that budget requests must be in for consideration by at least May 1.

Game Excursion Proves Success

Marked by the impromptu "em-seeing" of elongated John Knight, and Jack Gruber, San Jose State's Friday night excursion to San Francisco was pronounced a distinct success by those attending.

With 110 students taking advantage of the special $1.75 rate which included street car, train rides, and a dinner at Clinton's Cafe, caravanners were treated to entertainment by Harvey Brooks and Marijane Leishman.

John Knight and his gangly 6-4 Club membership will sell tickets in the quad today for the P.A.A. boxing tournament in San Francisco tonight.

Ringside tickets priced at $1.10 will be sold for 40 cents to students only.

A crowd of 400 students is expected to go to the tournament tonight, in which San Jose State has a man in every division.

Varsity Debaters To Leave Tuesday

San Jose State college debate activities are in full swing with the return Saturday night of four lower classmen debaters from a three-day tournament at College of Pacific, and four varsity debaters leaving tomorrow for Linfield College in Oregon as this institution's representatives, in the annual Pacific Coast Debate Tournament.

Two freshmen, Dick Woolcott and Dale Borden, and two sophomores, Al Britton and Charles Fuller, represented San Jose State at the annual junior college debate tournament at C.O.P. They upheld the affirmative of the question, "Should Congress be empowered to fix maximum and minimum hours?" George Downing, freshman debate coach and varsity verbalist, accompanied the troupe to Stockton.

Downing, Anastasi, Howard Morris and Ervin DeSmet, all varsity debaters for the tournament in the Oregon city. There they will meet contestants from thirty colleges and universities with each squad debating seven rounds against the others.

It is tentatively planned to stop over at Humboldt State and Oregon State colleges for debates at each of those institutions.

Popular Campus Crooner To Receive $100, Contract With Lord & Thomas

(Special to the Spartan Daily)
LOS ANGELES Feb. 14—Declared by radio listeners to be the outstanding artist from five colleges competing on "California's Hour", Joe Rapose of San Jose State college tonight was announced the winner of the final contest held in Los Angeles February 7.

Rapose, a tenor, appeared first on "California's Hour" as one of a group of talented young men and women from San Jose State college. He sang "The Way You Look Tonight".

The winning artist is a post-graduate in the art department, majoring in art and minoring in musical education. He is 22 years old. Although his interest chiefly is in art he has not slighted athletics during his college years. He came to San Jose from San Leandro high school. He has credentials for teaching commercial art and probably will continue to mix singing with his paints.

The San Jose State tenor was the two hundred and ninety-second artist to appear before the microphone on "California's Hour".

By winning "The California's Hour" final contest, Joe Rapose, popular campus tenor, will receive $100 and a radio contract with Lord and Thomas, well-known Los Angeles firm.

Over-The-Week-End
By MARIAN SCHUMANN

Week-ending started off with a bang when the train began rolling toward San Francisco . . . a large group of Staters filled with lots of pep and that bound-to-win spirit made the journey to cheer the basketeers on . . . Bob Free did a most sensational thing . . . missed the train! Finally made it after following the train to College Park.

College songs were sung all the way up . . . also yells were led by Jerry Girdner . . . John Knight did his share of yell leading and song directing . . . even working up an impromptu program . . .

Evelyn Piari did her share toward making the trip a hilarious one by singing in her own special way "Sing me a Swing Song and Let Me Dance" . . . "Jackie" Tuttle then did her part by dancing while the Staters, under the direction of "Six-six" Knight sang "Organ Grinder's Swing" . . .

Someone in the group then spotted Cordelia McLain from the Hawaiian Islands; so she sang a Hawaiian song and did a hula for the crowd.

Arriving in San Francisco, "Robert Free and Company" crowded into street cars and made for the Clinton Cafe where dinner was served and more entertainment followed . . . Frank Bettencourt played several piano solos . . . Harvey Brooks did some mean tapping . . . Marijane Leishman sang a medley of "With Plenty of Money and You" and "I Can't Give You Anything but Love" . . . Lucile Conolley sang "Good Night My Love" . . . and John Knight was persuaded to give one of his piano arrangements announced as one of tunes he is noted for murdering . . . it was "Silent Night, Holy Night" and he really swung it . . .

Next on the program was the mad dash via street cars to Kezar pavilion to watch State's team play a very exciting game of basketball . . . one of those kind where it's tied half the time . . .

Following the game many of the party went over to Chinatown to help celebrate the Chinese New Year . . . saw Jack Gruber, Virginia Morgan, Les Carpenter, Lucile Conolley, Jane Dangberg, and Barbara Bunker among those who dashed from one street car to another . . . Chinatown bound . . .

The homeward stretch found many subdued Staters on the train, having yelled themselves hoarse before and at the game . . . but in one car a party made up of Bob Robb, "Jackie" Tuttle, Ernie Nelson, Marijane Leishman, and Harvey Brooks were indulging in some close harmony . . . while in another section Anne Webbe, Ruth Holmes, Charlotte Millhone, and Barbara Titcomb were trying vainly to drown them out . . . but enough about the "Frisco" trek . . .

Kappa Kappa Sigma played hostess at a gay dancing party held at the Mark Hopkins Saturday night . . . danced to the music of Griff Williams in the famous "Room of the Dons" . . . decorations were based on the Valentine motif and favors were cleverly carved little rings which were presented to each co-ed attending . . . had hearts and forget-me-nots carved on them . . .

Corlas Burger was present at the Kappa dance with Bob Johnson and June Chestnut at the home of Burton Abbott last night, . . . Seeming to favor the Mission boys were Wilda Merritt popular Beta with George Artz of Santa Clara . . . Kay Burrell was with Jules Perrin, a Santa Clara football player and Joan Gruit with Bob Solomon also of Santa Clara.

Marvis Volgraff, former State co-ed who is soon to be married, was honored at a shower given

Let 'Em Eat Cake

By RAYMOND WALLACE

Well, folks, fan mail already—or almost, anyway. I had to beg permission to print it, but Coral Kluge has written something of great current interest, on the issue of smoking in the new Spartan Union. Quoting from her:

"Will the students get what they want or will they get what the faculty and the department heads think they should have? The students want a union of their own, for them—a sort of sanctuary where they may relax and spend their leisure time in a comfortable way. A union of the sort they want would assure them of their independence, in a sense.

"If a girl wanted a cigarette, she could go to the lounge, eliminating the current necessity of dashing across the street to a little store and huddling in a dark corner in a tiny booth.

"If they can smoke in the union, they will. If not, they will go where they can. In this way the union is abandoned—and what is gained?"

"I can see the union as I believe it will be. I can see printed signs hanging over doors and on walls, reading "Positively No Smoking In This Building" and "No Talking" and "Don't Drag Your Feet". I can see an orderly, well-arranged room, filled with tables placed in well-lit parts of the room and surrounded by the correct kind of chairs—all empty. I can feel the air in this room—clean, fresh air, free from smoke and heavy with discipline. And I can see students smiling and shrugging their shoulders as they pass, saying, "Well, it was a good idea, anyway, wasn't it?"

Did any of you regular readers happen to read Rejeana James' "Coedornments" last Thursday?—although I've spent all quarter trying to convince her that no one reads it. And if you read it, did you notice the phrase which said, "colorful scarfs for BOTH the mature and collegiate individual." What do you suppose she meant by that?

And do you suppose there could be any connection between that and the fact that the college NYA checks carry instructions on the back for illiterates to endorse by mark, X?

Today Cuthbert Kallikak-Juke begins his "stoo-on-the-street" poll of student opinion. If you see him down on San Antonio between Second and Third, avoid him, or he will thrust a microphone into your teeth and demand your opinion on "un-endurable pleasure indefinitely prolonged."

Who says that youth doesn't bloom in the spring, tra-la? The other evening as I was on my way home from a session with the yellow fever (Chas Leong, to those who've never had it), I saw a boy and a girl standing on the sidewalk in the rain, their arms around each other and kissing under an umbrella. The age of romance lives again!

What this country needs is a new vice.

Sarah McClatchey, Pipe And All, RETURNS TO SAN JOSE As Menace To Local Pedestrians

By STOVER TREMAINE
"Women make the best drivers," stated Mrs. Sarah McClatchey, popular convention delegate, while driving about San Jose in her sleek, low-swung model "T" before leaving for the Safe and Sane Women Drivers' Convention being held this week at Inaccessible Heights.

"Women are more alert in responding to signals," said Mrs. McClatchey as she sped through a stop signal, being narrowly missed by a four-ton truck. "Same to you," she yelled back in response to the signals of the gesticulating driver.

RIPPING FENDERS
"Women know how to judge distances better than men," she declared, swinging her car around a corner on two wheels and ripping off the fenders while forcing her way between two streetcars. "It's all right, I was going to take them off anyway. It makes it better to play spatter tag with pedestrians," she explained.

"At the convention we are going to make new rules for pedestrians," she asserted. "At present they are safe if they have one foot on the curb, but we are going to pass a law so that we can go up on the sidewalk after them. However, we are going to give them a sporting chance by having steps put on the telephone poles," she added.

BOTH HANDS
"The first rule of safe driving is always keep both hands on the wheel," said Mrs. McClatchey, cupping her hands to shield the flame of a match as she lit her inevitable corn cob pipe.

"Always keep your eyes on the road," she stated as she rubbed the pipe cinders out of her streaming eyes with her grimy knuckles. "You should always keep your brakes in good condition," she declared, putting her foot on the front tire to slow down at an intersection.

"I think I got one," she exclaimed joyously as the car thudded over the prostrate body of a pedestrian.

"Who done this?" queried a burly officer shuffling to the scene.

LITTLE JOLOPI

"Officer, I cannot tell a lie. I done it with my little jolopi," replied Mrs. McClatchey, placidly cutting another notch in her steering wheel with a bowie knife.

"Well, I guess I won't make the convention this week," she said as she was escorted off to the klink by a squad of the city's "finest".

Boxers In PAA Tourney Tonight

Two Heavies In All Spartan Final

Eleven Battlers To Represent State In Semi-Finals And Finals Of Pacific Association Tournament

By WALT HECOX

Climaxing three successful Mondays at the Junior PAA boxing tourney in San Francisco, Coach Dee Portal is taking 11 of his Spartan leather tossers north tonight to box in the semi-finals and finals.

Big Don Walker and Willie Radunich, both from Washington Square, provide the main thrill of the evening as they fight it out for both the PAA and college titles. Radunich was unable to fight in the recent all-college tourney because of a broken thumb that he received in his fight with Jim Sverchek of the Olympic Club during the Golden Gloves tourney.

FIRST TOURNAMENT

Dale Wren, 124-pounder, fighting in the first tournament of his life against outside opponents has won his way to the finals, and will fight for the championship in that division tonight. Speed and remarkable knowledge of his fundamentals has brought Wren to the front.

Paul Tara, and George Latka, will be found fighting in the semi-final round of the 135 and 40-pound classes, respectively. These two boys have already proved themselves to be among San Jose State college's top ranking fighters. According to those who have seen the earlier rounds of the tournament, Tara and Latka have a better than average chance of winning.

RUGGED TYPE

Tony Pisano, hardworking little 130-pounder will fight in the finals of that division. Although he may find the going tough in his last fight of the tournament, Tony is the rugged type that likes a good fight and does his best against a tough opponent.

The 147-pound class finds Karl "comeback" Drexel, meeting Karney Tope of the Olympic Club. If Drexel can get past Tope and his red pants, he has an excellent chance of ending on top in the tournament.

At 156-pounds, Bill Moulden and Captain Bob Harris are fighting in the semi-final round. Possibilities of an all-Spartan final here. Harris eliminated one of the toughest men in this weight division when he won a decision over Johnny Mattero in the quarter-finals.

SICK LIST

A possibility of Pete Bolich arising from the Health Cottage and fighting in the 165-pound semi-finals still holds. If he is able to fight, Pete has an excellent chance of winding up in the number one spot.

Herm Zetterquist will fight in the light heavyweight finals. Entering the ring for the first time in his life last week, Herm found himself during the second round of his fight with Perry Mann and scored the first of the two knockouts that put him in the finals.

benches of both squads.

Not one man on the Spartan's quintet missed caressing the spring-founded floor of Kezar pavilion.

The Spartans play St. Mary's in Spartan pavilion here Wednesday night. St. Mary's, receptors of an upset victory over Santa Clara's Broncs, are now tied for first place in the Northern California Intercollegiate Conference with the same Santa Clara.

Wrestlers Defeat Oakland 'Y'

Matmen Win Six Out Of Eight Matches

Losing but two of the eight matches, San Jose State matmen downed the championship aspirations of the Oakland YMCA Friday night in defeating the club, 14 to 8.

Johnny Jones, 185-pound heavy-weight, turned in the most brilliant performance of the evening in downing the "Y" giant, 290-pound John Croll with a fall in 4:34. Jack Fiebig, team high point man, was forced into an extra period before downing his opponent, Elmer Rossi, YMCA 125-pounder. Frank McGuire surprised by taking top time over former Spartan, Bruce Allen, with the time of 1:03.

In defeating the Oakland YMCA Coach Gene Grattan's wrestlers have proven definitely to be in the championship class, and are now being considered as "in the running" for the Far Western team championship honors.

Coach Gene Grattan stated after the meet "The YMCA presented the best team they have had in years and I am certainly proud of my boys' showing in all eight matches."

RESULTS

- 118—Puckett (SJ) won by default.
- 125—Fiebig (SJ) won by fall over Rossi (Y).
- 135—Olavarri (SJ) decided over Hedberg (Y).

WITHYCOMBE SETS RECORD AS CARDS WHIP SPARTAN MERMEN

Making good its boast, the Stanford swimming team came, saw, and conquered, by defeating the San Jose varsity and freshman swimming teams Friday night in Spartan pool.

The Indians walked off with 60 points to far outdistance the Spartan frosh, their nearest rivals who tallied 34. The Gold and White varsity had 19 points. Unofficially totaling the San Jose scores the final count would give the Stanford team a 60 to 53 victory.

NEW RECORD

Captain Howard Withycombe accounted for one of the two new records established during the meet, as he knocked two-tenths of a second off his own 150-yard backstroke time with a new record of 1:45.6.

The other new mark of the evening was established by the Stanford four man 400-yard free style relay team of Dick Clarke, Martin Scatena, Alec MacKenzie, and Jack Vibert. The Indian quartet set the new time at 3:47.7.

440 EXCITING

The quarter mile event proved to be quite a race, that is, for second place. Dave Rider, brilliant Card distance man, proved himself the class of the field by taking the blue ribbon spot in extremely easy fashion.

But fighting it out for the second place spot were Martin Wempe and Wally Kemper of the San Jose frosh and Jack Peterson of the Stanford team. Kemper moved into second place soon after the half way mark and held that position until the last fifteen yards when Peterson forged ahead by inches and touched him out at the rope.

DIVING EXHIBITION

Ben Winkleman, Red and White diver gave the crowded pool arena an exhibition of very brilliant diving winning the event with a point total of 149.05. Roger Tassi and George Devins rated two and three respectively while Bob Fosdick, frosh spring board man, took fourth place.

State Frosh And Varsity Nines Meet Mission Reds In Double Header Today

Coach Gil Bishop's baseballers are scheduled to meet an aggregation of Mission Reds pros from San Francisco today providing ole man weather extends yesterday's climatic conditions over for another day.

To date, Coach Bishop has only been able to slip two games in between the rainy days. One, a loss, against Stanford and the other, a 5 to 3 victory over Coach Fitzgerald's Bronco bat men.

PITCHERS

The Santa Clara tilt saw the beginning of Bishop's experiments with the pitching staff which revealed a triple strength in the chucking position. Marvin Olsen and Art Carpenter, pitchers No. 2 and 3 relieved Watson by chucking an inning apiece. Both men in their respective innings fanned two of their batters, Olsen, with his tricky deception and Carpenter with his fast balls that thudded into Riordan's mit before the batter had half begun to swing.

Today's game with the Reds will probably see Carpenter starting in the box. His fast ball will undoubtedly give the city pro men as much trouble as it gave the last inning batters of the Santa Clara outfit.

Olsen, very likely, will also take a turn at twirling, probably dividing duties evenly with Carpenter. Watson, because the game today will be more or less a practice affair, will not see action.

COACH KAMM

Coach Willie Kamm of the Mission outfit, who for years was the leading third baseman of the American League, is expected to bring down a large number of regular and "rookie" players.

Both teams are expected to use many substitutions giving as many men as possible a chance to work out under game conditions.

Today the frosh will see their first action of the season. They will precede the varsity in a seven inning game with some of the "lessers" of Kamm's club. After the freshman tilt the varsity will meet another group of Reds in a nine inning skirmish.

The frosh game will begin at 1:30.

Coach Gil Bishop's squad this present season.

Jim, as he is better known, stands some five feet six inches in height, and tips the scales at the tremendous weight of 135 in his stocking feet. Despite the diminutiveness of this scrappy three

B man, he is claimed one of the best that has ever played for the Spartans. Last year the young aviation enthusiast hit around the .300 mark and is expected to repeat this season.

Luque is a junior and will return one more year of competition.

'Process Of Seeing' Subject For Lecture, Demonstration Tuesday

The "Process of Seeing" will be the subject of a talk and demonstration by Mr. Clark Baker, Lighting Counselor of the Pacific Electrical Bureau, on Tuesday, February 16 from 11 to 12 a.m. in the Chemistry lecture room in the Science building.

Mr. Clark's subject will embrace color and motion in seeing as well as reading in seeing and form seeing as they relate to fundamentals and applications.

Color in seeing means the law and the psychology of color ac-ording to Mr. Baker. He further stated that on seeing color we do not use any nerve energy and that humans are affected emotionally by color.

Mr. Baker's lecture which will be thoroughly demonstrated, is primarily for the electrical class of the Industrial Arts department and the class in Household Appliances of the Home Economics department, however, any students who are interested are invited to attend.

MacQuarrie Goes To New Orleans

1910 to 1933 was Superintendent of Schools in New Orleans.

A colorful note offsetting the more serious business of the convention will be a repit of part of the parade of the Spardi Gras, the Crescent City's famed festival held each year just before the opening of Lent.

OVER 15,000

Propheying that the city will be packed with a throng in excess of 15,000 administrators. Dr. Gwinn says he has received word that hotel room is already exhausted, and that it has been necessary to secure additional accommodations for delegates in private residences. Besides the main convention of the Department of Superintendence there will be some 15 separate education conventions holding sessions simultaneously.

EXHIBITS

A regular feature of the convention is the exhibits of school supplies. Business firms from all over the country take advantage of the opportunity to meet school heads and display their goods. This year two floors of the New Orleans Municipal auditorium will house the exhibits, representing 225 firms and making a veritable fair. Among the articles to be seen are school furniture, books, building specialties, fire alarms, time signaling systems, play ground equipment, and office furniture.

Entertainment which educators will be privileged to attend while away, includes complimentary breakfast at Duelling Oaks, the city park, an open air concert in the Municipal auditorium Plaza by the Louisiana State University band, and a pageant called "Dixie Night" which will portray the Colonial Days in the South.

Tricks For Police School Talk Magician Uses Sleight-Of-Hand

With a "Now you see it, now you don't" technique, Carl E. Zamloch, noted magician and ex-big league baseball player, demonstrated through his sleight-of-hand tricks that the hand is not quicker than the eye, but the deception is due to misdirected attention, before the combined classes of the police school students at the San Jose State college Friday in Room 210 of the Science building at 11 o'clock.

DECEPTION

Bewildering rapidity and finesse marked the performance of Mr. Zamloch's demonstration, and at the end of the tricks he asked the students to tell what they had seen. Mr. Zamloch's tricks were used to show the students that deception in magic is no different than it is in any other profession.

It is used in baseball in the execution of a hit-and-run play. Every where one sees deception," said Mr. Zamloch.

"Observation," he stated, "is an important phase in police work, and the best way to cultivate the art of seeing is to make magic your hobby," he explained.

EDUCATION USE

Mr. William A. Wiltberger, director of the police school here said "This is the first time sleight-of-hand has been used in the education of future police officers, and if it proves successful, the usefulness of sleight-of-hand tricks may play an important part in police schools all over the country."

The students were asked to report what they had seen during the course of the various tricks.

Valentine's Day NO ROMANCE Comes And Goes

By CHARLES LEONG
"Will you be my Valentine?"

This question is merely a whisper from the dead past, as far as San Jose State college is concerned. Nobody asked nobody this fervent declaration of love around the campus last week. (In spite of our massive network of operators and checkers to find out.)

Tau Delta's tower has not been used for any passionate reenactment of a Romeo et Juliet moonstruck pattern of eternal fidelity.

This week no campus affair is even dedicated to the spirit of Valentine. No dances, no nothing.

"Do you sell Valentines, big red, lacy ones?" was the question asked of co-op clerk Bud Stewart. His was a perplexed and surprised "EH?" for an answer. A microscopic search revealed no Valentine cards of any sort, comic or sentiment, offered for sale in the co-op. No heart-shaped boxes of candy.

Grapevine information reveals that the sale of Valentine cards and candy in the co-op of the two major universities within cupid's shooting distance of here is doing the "best and biggest Valentine business" in years. And here the Spartans disdain to fiddle around with such.

Maybe Cupid's bow is stolen. Or, romance is dead!
