Pre-Registration Speech Tests To Be Held Two Days

Diagnostic Exams Required For Classes

Offering beginning speech students the chance to take the required pre-registration tests before registration day, the Speech department is conducting tests today and tomorrow.

The test is required of those who are planning to take Speech A, Elementary Voice and Diction, Speech 1A, Oral Interpretation, or Speech 2A, and Public Speaking who have not taken the test as yet.

AIDS STUDENTS

Now in its second year at State, this diagnostic test is proving a helpful aid to students and teachers. The test serves entirely in a diagnostic capacity, there being no "passing" or "failing". Through this test, suggestions can be given students if they are signing in the wrong class. The definite analysis guides him in self-development. It is of special help to the instructor, who can adjust the assignments with a clearer understanding of the students' needs.

In addition to $25 for the student Welfare fund, the San Jose State college Patrons' Association is offering two awards of $15 each to students in the Industrial Arts department and the Home Economics department, according to Mrs. C. C. Gilliam, president of the group.

"We selected these departments as they have had no special awards to work for this quarter," Mrs. Gilliam said.

At present the Varsity House committee is working on a new quilt for the boys and is completing the curtains for the house.

DELEGATES TO CONFAB PICKED

Three Representatives To Go To Student Congress

Three delegates to the Student Congress, to be held at the University of California, April 9 and 10, were named at a meeting of the intercollegiate debate group yesterday. The remainder of the delegation will be selected at next Tuesday's meeting.

Those selected were Audrie Lassere, Marguerite Blizzard, and Frank Leeds. Miss Lassere will prepare to speak on the subject of neutrality; Miss Blizzard is working on the problem of raising the living standards of the masses; while Leeds is dealing with criminal syndicalism and teachers' oaths. Three other delegates, one for each of the problems, will be chosen at the Tuesday meeting, according to Debate Coach Ralph Eckert.

The idea of a Student Congress originated here at San Jose State college where it has been successfully operated for the past two years. At its recent convention, Delta Sigma Rho, national honorary debating society, voted to sponsor the plan on a national scale, this year's regional congress to be held at the Berkeley institution. Procedure in the congress is made as similar as possible to that in our national legislative body.

SPARTAN SQUIRES CONTINUE

FIGHT FOR LADIES

JOUSTING AT NOON IN QUAD

At the sound of the trumpet at noon today in the quad the Spartan Squires will again do battle for the honor of their "ladies".

Equipped with three-foot swords with sponges full of ink on the end, three young stalwarts will attempt to make each other as black as possible. The cleanest one at the finish is pronounced the winner, or if one of the contestants succeeds in knocking his opponent's tin funnel from his head, he wins the fight then and there. Yesterday's battle in the quad eliminated everybody but two Ken

Hankin Comedy Opens Tonight

Radio Broadcast Features Band Concert

Music Group To Play In Auditorium Thursday

Mr. Thomas Eagan, diminutive "leader of the band", raises his batoned right hand this Thursday evening at 8 o'clock to direct San Jose State's band in the second campus broadcast from the Morris Dailey auditorium.

Following the air-planes pioneered by last week's Free-conceived "Sports Parade", a radio program pronounced a success by studio officials and listeners alike, the concert will last for a half hour period over station KQW.

According to Mr. Eagan, no definite selections have been made as to the numbers to be played, as "any music in the folio is eligible, all depending on the mood of the hour."

The half hour concert precedes the formal semi-annual band appearance which will be held in the Morris Dailey auditorium April 14. The concert tomorrow night is free to the public.

Unique Orchestra Entertains Crowd

Featured before a capacity crowd, the unique "tin, pot, and bottle orchestra" proved itself to be the highlight of the final student recital of the quarter in the Little Theater yesterday morning.

The freak instruments played through the strains of the "Valse Lante" by Delibes, and were accompanied by Mrs. Sibyl Hanchett, faculty member of the college music department.

The audience was also impressed by the performance of William Tyler, violinist, and John Andrews, pianist, who combined their talents on "La Capricciosa" by Ries.

"Valse Brillante" by Mana-Zucca was also another highlight of the program. It was played by Jack Green.

TURNING THE PAGES

By BEN JOHNSON

Thursday, February 4, 1932, was the occasion for one of the biggest celebrations to be held on the San Jose State college campus. Governor James Rolph Jr. delivered the dedicatory speech for the new gymnasium and at the same time broke ground for the new Natural science building.

A capacity audience of over 3000 students, faculty, alumni, and townspeople jammed into the new pavilion to hear the Governor's talk along with many other features. Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie, president of the college, spoke on the "College Building Program", and John Horning, president of the student body, presented "The Student's Point of View".

The building later to be known as Spartan Gym had been built at a cost of $200,000 over a period of more than three years. Among the many features, which we take as a matter of course today, but which then were something extraordinarily fine was the way the roof had been constructed eliminating view, destroying pillars that are prevalent in so many basketball courts, such as the one on the Stanford campus.

Another feature that attracted much attention was the swimming pool that had been constructed at the northern end of the gym. Even at the present time the pool is the center of much interest. Coach Charles L. Walker has been the reigning head of the plunge since it was opened.

After the program in the new gym, which included the singing choir, the assemblage adjourned several songs by the 350 voice to the spot where the Natural Science building now stands, to watch the governor turn the first spadeful of ground.

The first game in the new gym was played before the dedication ceremonies on Wednesday, January 20. The Spartan cagers entertained the rivals from Stockton, College of Pacific, and sent them home on the short end of a 25 to 21 score. This game was the start of many victories and championships for San Jose teams.

Der Deutsche Verein To Elect Wednesday

Election of officers for next quarter will be held at a meeting of Der Deutsche Verein, German honor society, Wednesday night at the home of Mr. L. C. Newby, advisor of the group.

Two pledges will give their initiation speeches during the evening. Those who have no transportation should meet at the first table in the library no later than 7:00 o'clock.

BEHIND THE NEWS

By MAXINE WALTHER

The wholesale executions in Russia are but mock trials in which Stalin and Trotsky are in league to carry out plans for their country is a suggestion made by the magazine, "Time".

Dr. Victor Hunt, social science instructor, in his discussion in the "Behind the News" class yesterday, asserted that no one outside of Russia can understand all the factors involved in the recent executions in the country.

ON THE LEVEL

That the trials were on the level is the belief of those who attended them. Will Duranty, political commentator, is also of this opinion.

Trotsky, though professing to have evidence to show that the men convicted were not guilty, nevertheless did not come forward to save them. In addition, he declared that he was not involved with the men on trial in any plot to overthrow the government. That the men were double-crossed, is another statement alleged to have come from Stalin. That is, they were made to confess by worse than third degree methods and were promised lenient treatment if they confessed readily.

STALIN REGIME

At last summer's trial, the men accused were said to have formed an organization to fight the Stalin regime, which was supposed to have degenerated into a beurocracy. It was brought out in the trial that they had planned Stalin's death. The men admitting their guilt, were submissive throughout the trial, according to Dr. Hunt.

The world was shocked again a few months ago when 17 more men brought to trial confessed to espionage, sabotage, and terrorism. They were supposed to be in league with the German and Japanese governments who were to help Trotsky and his followers to regain power in Russia in case of war. Thirteen of these men were executed, two are now in prison, and the others are free, having been involved in a minor way.

TROTSKY INVOLVED

Attempting to show just how Trotsky may be involved in the situation, Dr. Hunt explained that the erstwhile leader, years ago, issued a criticism against the Stalin regime, declaring that the merchants of the towns were being allowed to profit, thus taking the money away from the new government, and that Stalin was not helping the Socialists' cause in other countries.

And, though the foregoing might be some indication that the one time leader of Russia, now in exile, might be guilty of plotting against the government, Dr. Hunt pointed out that it is open to question whether a man like Stalin, who sincerely believes in Communism would ally himself with Fascists.

SURREALISTIC ART DISCUSSED BY PEGASUS

Members of Pegasus, the literary society, turned their talents to surrealism, the latest trend in modern art and having to do with the inner soul, when they, last night, read a group of original poems, and displayed original surrealistic drawings, at a meeting at the home of Dr. James Wood, faculty advisor of the society.

"It was all so wonderful, although I didn't understand a single word of it," revealed a member poignantly, holding up one of the creations which depicted chiefly some rusty razor blades, a loaf of French bread, and a deep sea diving suit.

Bear Nine Downs Spartans 7 to 5

Errors Give Cal Win In Ninth

Carpenter Hits Homer, Drives In Two Runs; Riordan Gets Two Hits And Two Runs

University of California's baseball nine, together with old Lady Luck, eked out a 7-5 victory over Coach Gil Bishop's Spartan club yesterday afternoon on the Bear diamond in Berkeley.

Clint Evan's league leading aggregation were given a big scare by the Spartan team yesterday, when Bishop's stickmen went on a scoring spree in the third inning that netted them a one run margin that they held until the ninth frame, when costly errors scored two runs for the Bears and a victory.

SAN JOSE SCORES

San Jose's big scoring spree started when third baseman Jimmy Luque walked to first on balls and went to second on Tony Martinez's hard drive to short. Les Carpenter, next batter, then became the hero of the contest when he connected with one of pitcher Daugherty's offerings that netted him a home run and scored both Luque and Martinez before him. Carpenter's homer was the longest hit of the day and the only circuit clout for both teams.

Captain Burt Watson did some nice chucking yesterday when he shut out the Bears for five straight innings, but costly errors together with timely hits credited him with a defeat. Clint Evan's stickmen got the jump on San Jose in the first frame when second baseman Koral walked, and hits by Connolly, Porterfield, and Bell netted the California nine four runs. Then some air-tight twirling by Captain Watson shut out the northern city club for five straight innings.

STATE GOOD

Other scores of the California nine came in the last two innings, when Koral scored in the seventh on Connolly's drive after he had reached first by a bingle. This run tied the score but remained so only till the next inning when catcher Lombardi tripled to score Humburg before him, who had got on, on an error, and then scored himself on a passed ball in the infield.

Coach Bishop's club played good ball yesterday except for a couple of innings, when the hitting power of the Spartans had the highly touted Evans pacing up and down on the sidelines, for fear that his six straight victories on the Bear schedule might come to an end. However defeated, the Spartan nine was credited with a moral victory over the Pacific Coast leading club.

Outstanding performances of the day were: Les Carpenter's long drive, Watson's chucking, and Riordan's two hits and two runs.

Tell your friends about the Arizona State boxers. They'll be here Friday—six-shooters and all.

BOXERS TO MEET ARIZONA

Arizona State college at Tempe will bring ten colorfully dressed men to San Jose Friday with intentions of further spoiling the Washington Square boxing season, and to continue their unbeaten record.

The Arizona fighters will arrive in San Jose dressed in cowboy fashion, including six shooters and spurs. They will, however, toss away their guns and don boxing gloves before they battle with the Spartans.

Among the fisticufflers to invade the State pavilion will be Barry DeRose. Although a comparatively new man at the game, DeRose has fought his way to the Arizona 145-pound intercollegiate championship. This boy is fast and clever, and rated one of the best amateurs ever developed in the Gila monster state.

At 165 pounds, the out of state boys present Ford Gano, undoubtedly the classiest man on the bulldog team. Gano is only a sophomore, but has already established himself as number one man on the squad.

Inebriation Out; College Students Better Drinkers, Literary Digest Survey Shows

By JACK MARSH

The college drunk—continually burlesqued by humor magazines and tsked, tsked by parents during the last decade—is now learning to stand on his own feet and hold more liquor per square inch, according to a survey just completed by "The Literary Digest".

The undergraduate who can down 'em and stand without a waver is admired by his fellows—the drunk abhorred.

Contempt, says the Digest, has taken the place of any moral revulsion at the sight of student drunkenness.

While inebriation is on the wane, repeal is blamed for the change of opinion toward actual student drinking. The Digest shows that from 1,475 questionnaires sent to student editors and leaders, 303 reported an increase in the consumption of hard liquor, while only 100 signified an increase in light liquor drinking.

Beer, the logical substitute for milk shakes and ice cream sodas, is fast becoming a part of the students' daily luxuries.

A distinct absence of campus drunkenness was noticed by all colleges, students doing their drinking at out-of-town dances and roadhouses and in the privacy of their own apartments.

All this, you understand, is according to the Literary Digest.

If accosted by a lackadaisical bleary-eye on the campus tomorrow, remember that even the Literary Digest Poll, as in the November Landon prediction, may be guilty of error.

Police Students See Wax Casts At Orientation Class Tuesday Morning

Alva Pieler, Agent For Oakland Firm Specializing In Reproducing For Investigation, Speaks On Methods For Copying Articles

Death masks, tire prints, and patterns of rifle barrels were among the wax casts shown at the police orientation class yesterday at 10 o'clock by Mr. Alva J. Pieler, agent for an Oakland firm specializing in reproducing for investigation.

Mr. Pieler explained to the class how the reproducing material could be used in police work in identifying tools and weapons used to commit a crime.

WITH POLICE

At present, Mr. Pieler is working for the San Francisco morgue, and the Oakland and Berkeley police departments.

In making a reproduction, a rubber-like substance called moulage, is poured over the object to be reproduced, and when the substance cools, an exact copy is made of the original. The material is a combination of beeswax and glycerine with water added for moisture. The mixture is then heated until it becomes pliable enough to spread or pour over the object. When the mold is hardened, wax is poured in and the cover is removed when the wax is hardened. Every detail is found in the cast that was in the original.

WORKING ON MUMMY

Mr. Pieler is working on a death mask of a mummy, and when it is completed he hopes, with the use of hot water to soften the moulage by smoothing out the wrinkles, he will then be able to tell with some accuracy how the person looked when alive.

The moulage will not destroy the most delicate piece of evidence to be copied. Finger prints, scars, and cuts can be reproduced with accuracy. Pores in the skin can also be copied.

IDENTIFICATION

"In former years bodies were kept for years pending identification," declared Mr. Pieler, "now we make a death mask of the body that will last indefinitely, and identification may be made from the mask."

Mr. Pieler showed colored copies of oranges and strawberries so the class could see how well the fruit could be copied.

A wax cast of a file with the original was passed around the class for examination and comparison.

NOTICE

Will all members of the Recreation Night games committee including those lowly Spartan Knights please meet with Mary Wilson in women's gym at 12:30 today.
