Journalism School Set For Next Fall

Seniors Will Receive Diplomas At Friday Commencement Rites

Dr. MacQuarrie Speaker; Invocation Given By Rev. Lean; Rector Presents Clock As Class Gift To School

More than three hundred seniors will receive their diplomas, in recognition of four years of academic achievement at San Jose State college, in the 75th commencement to be held tomorrow afternoon at 4 in the quad.

A traditional procession of caps and gowns, of graduates and faculty members, opens the program of the oldest state educational institution in California.

Invocation will be given by Rev. Theodore R. Lean, Minister of the First Christian Church of San Jose.

A huge clock, to be set on the Administration Tower, is the gift of the graduating class of 1937, and is presented by Robert Rector, class president. Jack Marsh, president of the associated students, will accept the token in behalf of the student body.

Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie, president of the college will give the commencement address and will present the diplomas, credentials and degrees to 325 graduating seniors.

Honorary degrees will be given to Caroline Hubbard Bailey, assistant in the library, San Jose State college; Alice H. Doughert, member State Board of Education; Oakland; Jan Kalas, Instructor of Music, San Jose State college; and George P. Morgan, Superintendent of Tuolumne County schools.

Thomas Eagan will lead the band in the college hymn, "Hail, Spartans, Hail", and will follow with the Recessional, "Coronation March", from "The Prophet".

Guests of the graduates who hold special tickets will be given the preference in seats, but friends and students without tickets will be welcome to the commencement exercises.

SUMMER CLASSES TO COOPERATE ON PLAYS

Five classes in the summer School of the Theater will cooperate together in the production of two English comedies during the college summer session from June 28 to August 6.

Instructors in Play Producing, Makeup, Voice and Diction, and Laboratory Theater will be Mr. Hugh Gillis, Mr. Lawrence Mendenhall, and Mr. James Clancy. In addition, a course in Motion Picture Appreciation will be offered by Mr. Gillis.

Written in the period after Shakespeare, "Beaux Strategem", by Farquhar will be the first comedy to be presented by these classes.

The second play has not yet been definitely chosen but will probably be a choice between the "Quality Street" "The Distaff Side", or a Launsdale comedy. Mr. Gillis states.

MARTIN ELECTED HEAD OF CLUB

Dick Martin, senior music major, was elected president of the 6-4 club at the weekly meeting of the campus organization yesterday. Martin, 6 feet five and one-half inches, succeeds 6 foot 6 inch Johnny Knight as head of the organization.

Francis Hutchinson was elected vice-president and Larry Welch secretary.

Two sergeant-at-arms, Al Wempe and Virgil Carlson were also elected.

Professional Newspapermen To Join Instructional Staff; Bentel Heads Department

FORMER DAILY EDITOR SUCCEEDS BERTA GRAY AS PUBLICATIONS OFFICE ASSISTANT

By ORA LINDQUIST

With an increased instructional staff of three professional newspapermen, a school of journalism and publications will be inaugurated into the San Jose State college curricula next year.

Introducing a practical course into the study of journalism in college, the three instructors will be: George McMurry, city editor of the San Jose Mercury Herald who will teach city newspaper coverage; Robert Couchman, editor and publisher of the Morgan Hill Times, who will give instruction in country journalism; and Alvin Long, of the Long Advertising Agency of San Jose and San Francisco, who has had wide experience in newspaper advertising, who will deal with the subject of advertising.

Dolores Freitas, former editor of the Spartan Daily and 1936 San Jose State college graduate, will be the Publications office assistant. She is succeeding Miss Berta Gray, who is resigning to become secretary at the local Y.W.C.A.

Mr. Dwight Bentel, present head of Publications and Journalism instructor, will be in charge of the new department.

Attempting to eliminate the greatest objection to the study of newspaper work in the colleges, that of dealing with theory, the new staff will attempt to give one of the most practical and the most professional courses in journalism.

"We will link our study in with the photography department, which is one of the best on the coast, and the printing department, and that, coupled with the work on the college daily newspaper, should result in practicality, the keynote of the new school," declared Bentel.

In spite of the enlarged staff in newspaper study, the four year journalism students will devote most of their study to attaining an extensive background in liberal arts, according to the Publications Director.

Spartan Daily Says Adieu To You

Fare thee well, seniors. Best of luck, whether in class-room teaching or cannery. For four, or five years, now, you have gazed raptly every morning at the Spartan Daily—before class, during class, before breakfast, during breakfast, if any.

These many years you have cursed us . . . in spite of our putting out a paper for you every day, and praised us a little bit. And pestering us for publicity and groaning about a lost article.

But we think that you enjoy the paper, as put out by fellow students. And we enjoy putting it out; otherwise we wouldn't stand the day after day gaff of being slaves to deadlines, etcetera.

As you read this, we are on the way to a picnic, for a one-day rest. Then more Daily grinds next quarter. So long, seniors and fellow students.

—the spartan daily staff.

O. A. HALE WINNERS

Winners in the O. A. Hale Awards contest will be announced during Commencement, Friday, according to Dr. Raymond Barry, head of the English department.

Loris Deibel Named To Succeed Personnel Office Secretary

Loris Deibel, secretary in the social science office since December, was yesterday named to replace Mrs. Lucille McKeown in the Personnel office.

Having accepted another position for the summer, Miss Diebel will not take up her new duties here until September. Patricia Cloud, who has been a part time assistant in the Personnel department this year will assume the position during the summer months.

Miss Diebel, who transferred here from Oregon State college, is a social science major.

At one time she was secretary to B. F. Irvine, blind editor-in-chief of the Oregon Journal, the largest newspaper in the northwest.

La Torre

La Torres will be distributed again today in the Publications office at 10 and 3 o'clock. Student body cards must be presented, and four cents tax will be charged for students in attendance at school for the three quarters. For the other students, a fee of 40 cents per quarter will be levied.

Additional Units Offered For Attendance At Summer Sessions

Demonstration School For Prospective Teacher Planned; Bachelor Of Education Curriculum Given

Modern educational methods together with several degree courses will be featured during the annual San Jose State college summer session, according to an announcement made yesterday by the college registrar's office.

The session will be held in three different periods of two weeks each, from June 28 to August 6, and all college students who attend the three sessions will be granted nine quarter units of credit.

POLICE SIGN-UP

One of the departments of the session that has attracted the biggest sign-up ahead of time is the newly established California Technical Institute for Police Officers' Training.

Over 100 state law enforcement departments representing city police departments, county sheriff's office, district attorney's offices, and state patrol officers will be in attendance, according to

Dance Group Elect, Initiate 10 Members

Ten new members were elected to Orchestis, honorary dance society Friday night following their successful competition tryouts on June 10. Norma Talbart, Elinor Offenbach, Normal Welby, Mary Louise Zingheim, Nelda McHenry, Fradelle Krauss, Martha Hartley, Emma Gulmert, Helen Perry, and Eloise Johnston make up the largest group ever to be chosen for membership since Orchestis was founded on this campus.

The formal initiation was conducted by Betty Bruch, newly elected president for the next year. She succeeds Janet Cameron, graduating senior.

THE CANDID CAMPUS . . . OBSERVED

By CHARLES LEONG, Editor

WEDNESDAY NIGHT . . .

It's quiet here as I am writing; even the last copy-boy has gone. Mountains of La Torre wrapping paper surmount the Publications office.

Wait here, now, what is this? It's a copy boy, emerging from this mountain of La Torre debris. Let's see, I was writing about the new Student Union, and what a realization of a long-awaited dream it is.

"Say, chief, aren't you going to write a final, farewell column?" he asked, apparently with one eye on an "A" grade.

That's why he addressed me as "chief" for the first time. Anyway, I looked surprised. The last column. It is, I suddenly realized.

A DROWNING MAN . . .

they say, has a recall of all past events. As I sit here, all the events of the past quarter seem to pass by in view. As editor for the last quarter, I feel lucky that I am in the editorial chair, privileged, to say the least, of one of the most colorful and eventful sessions in San Jose State college history . . .

Such milestones of progress as the Diamond Jubilee, the Spardi Gras . . . both with their pageantry, color, spirit, crowds, exhibits of student skill and enthusiasm . . .

built by Dr. MacQuarrie . . . real, practical, vocational and cultural courses . . . the success of the police school . . . known throughout the west . . . now, something new in professional training, the mortician's course . . .

and of course, the announcement today that gladdens the hearts of all members of the fourth estate . . . the new department of journalism to start this fall . . . a great impetus for the Spartan Daily . . .

and the recent hot political race . . . all these things, happening day to day . . . makes the life of an editor interesting . . . we mean, makes life interesting for an editor, and we're glad to be sitting on the editorial desk . . .

Now, should we say "thirty", which in newspaper jargon means goodbye, the end? No, we'll be back next quarter . . . and so, see you this fall.

Childs' Summer School

Editor's Note: The following explanation of a demonstration school to be conducted at San Jose State college this summer was submitted by the Education department to the Spartan Daily.

This summer the San Jose State college is conducting a school for children from the first grade through the sixth grade. This will give an opportunity for those children who wish to spend a few hours each day in worthwhile and enjoyable activities a chance to satisfy this desire.

The school will be organized on the activity basis. Children will have much opportunity to construct and to create. They will take many excursions to places of interest in the community—the farm, dairy, reservoir, city water works, boats, and so on. The purpose is to help them better understand their environment and their relation to it.

CHILD ORIGINALITY

The school is to be characterized as the "child centered school" where children will be given much opportunity for self-expression and the use of their initiative and originality. Under the guidance of superior teachers they will have many happy and challenging experiences. Every effort will be made to fit the school to the child instead of fitting the child to the

Just Among Ourselves

By Dr. T. W. MACQUARRIE

A NUMBER OF students have suggested that they might enroll in my class in mental hygiene this summer. They are somewhat careful about it, however, not knowing how I judge my fellow men, nor how considerate I may be as a marker. Do I give many A's? Do I use the normal curve? Does a course in mental hygiene put one in the Health Cottage?

DANGEROUS . . . BUT . . .

I may as well make a general, public announcement that I am a terror as a classroom teacher. Non-workers, apple polishers, day dreamers, desk whittlers, and lip-stickers, look out! I do let a few get by, but not many. I think I shall wear a little sign this summer, one you've often seen on the highway, "Dangerous But Passable".

Let me see. Commencement is tomorrow, and summer session begins on the 28th, closing on the 6th of August. Registration for the fall quarter is September 20, the first football game on the same day. So there you are, the summer's gone already.

WHAT DO?

Got a job for the summer? They seem to be plentiful if you are looking for them. Going to take a trip? Going to summer school? You are not just planning to do nothing, I hope. Make up a schedule now and have some adventures, something to do about in the fall.

This has been a really wonderful year for San Jose State. Diamond Jubilee and all. I can hardly believe my senses that we are getting along so harmoniously when so much of the world is in turmoil. Most of us have had a feeling of well being, a consciousness of successful achievement. It is that happiness.

Do you feel smug about your college? In just the right company, do you brag a little? Look out for that. If you can't brag everywhere, don't brag anywhere, and if you can brag everywhere, you won't want to.

DEEPLY APPRECIATIVE

San Jose State will always be a wonderful college, just as long as we think clearly. We have many difficult problems to solve, plans to initiate, interests to harmonize. Our efforts will be successful if our plans have in them the elements of success. All the enthusiasm in the world will not avail if we are moving in the wrong direction. Personally, I am thankful, deeply appreciative, for this past year. It has been wonderful to be associated with all of you fine people, students and faculty.

GOODBYE FOR NOW, AND GOOD LUCK. Drop in and see us some day even if you don't come back to college.

NOTICE

If any student has books from the San Jose Public Library he wishes to return he may do so this afternoon at the south door of the new library on San Fernando and Market.

Let 'Em Eat Cake

By Raymond Wallace

SWAN SONG for the quarter. But back again next fall like a phoenix, with my typewriter in one hand, a sheaf of copy paper in the other, and Joe Kallikak-Juke under the bed.

WHY NOT AN

A.B. IN PRUNE-PICKING

Pretty tough for those who have to graduate this year. The rest of us only have to spend the summer in the cannery. The graduate is condemned for life—like going to the mines in Siberia. The canneries last year must have had the best educated force since the rise of big business, for almost every graduate I knew turned his gown into an apron and rode boldly forth into the spinach and the prunes.

The fortunate ones go on for another year, or two, or three, and those of real executive ability are contriving to go ahead and do graduate work somewhere, to stave off the inevitable another year. What about an A.B. in prune-picking? Most of us have the necessary units.

AND NOW FOR THE EXPOSE

But enough of pessimism for the nonce. (Where the devil's the nonce? Joe must have taken it. All right, enough pessimism for the moment.) I feel that in this last column of the year the time has come to expose the secret of the various characters of whom one reads in the columns of this page. Many of you would like to know who they really are, so here's the dope.

WHY SARAH, WE'RE SURPRISED!

Mrs. Sarah McClatchey, with whom so many have become acquainted through Stover Tremaine's reports, is none other than the famous countess of Cathcart, who was refused admittance to this country several years ago on the grounds of moral turpitude. Mrs. McClatchey has since married her sixth husband, which accounts for the change of name. Through diligent search into the records, it has been shown that there is Kallikak and Juke blood in the veins of Mrs. McClatchey, and Joe has confessed to me that at last he has found his soul-mate. He has spent his evenings lately in courting her.

When questioned on this topic, Mrs. McClatchey took her corn-cob from her mouth and spat vigorously, drowning a little lizard which was running by. "Joe's a nice boy," she said, "but he ain't got no moral senes. Why, I've known him, in his character of a friend, to have a child scared half to death, and then let it go. No, I'm afraid Joe hain't got what it takes."

NONE OTHER THAN . . .

The Man in the Green Hat, of whom you have all read in the editor's observations on the Candid Campus, is none other than Leong himself. He is the only man on this campus definitely known to possess a green hat and have nerve enough to wear it.

Last, but not least, we have JOE F.-X. KALLIKAK-JUKE himself. I have been begged by interested parties not to disclose his name, in the cause of international diplomacy. It is feared that such a disclosure would strain relations between the United States and Graustark. However, my conscience is my guide, and I can no longer preserve his incognito. JOE KALLIKAK-JUKE is Randy Fitts.

NOAH COUNT BAILEY

All this, you say, seems to take no account of Bailey. Well, of course. Bailey is of no account. But I have not forgotten him. The only reason for not divulging Bailey's character previously is simply this: Bailey has no character.

FAMOUS FINALES: Watch out, Bailey, you may be paralyzed by your stroke of genius.

Construction On Stadium Lighting System Scheduled To Begin This Week

Construction of the long hoped-for Spartan Stadium lighting system has begun! Mr. Roy Butcher, well known San Jose electrical engineer, started work at the stadium early this week, and the long waited-for football lights have now become a reality.

BEST ON COAST

According to Coach Dud DeGroot, the new lights will be the best on the Pacific Coast, baring none! "These new lights are definitely the best lights I've seen on the coast," stated the popular football head, "they are of the new reflector type, and will not light the field in spots, but throw a wide flood of light."

These lights will be placed on eight steel poles, each sixty feet high, and will set up along the edge of the playing field next to the cement wall in front of the bleachers. The poles will extend 15 feet higher than the top seat in the stadium and will not obstruct any view to the playing field.

EIGHT POLES

The eight poles will be constructed with four poles on each side of the field, equally separated between the two ten-yard stripes and the forty-yard line.

In addition, a new timer, the same as used at the basketball games will be used for the benefit of both the players and fans.

SCHOLARSHIP AWARD GIVEN TO SANDERS

Norm Sanders, for two years a quarterback on Coach Dud DeGroot's varsity football team, was awarded the Webster Benton Memorial Scholarship during the Recognition Day ceremonies in the Morris Dailey auditorium Tuesday.

According to Physical Education Director Dud DeGroot, the basis for the selection of the award winner was first, his general attitude and need of the scholarship; second, scholarship; third, character; and fourth, athletic ability. Only seniors are eligible to win the scholarship.

Sanders, a Physical Education major, began his athletic career at Washington Square as a freshman, when he competed on the freshman football, basketball, and track teams. Since his freshman year he has confined his activities to football due to the fact that he was working his way through college and did not have to compete on more than one athletic team.

Norm is active in the P. E. majors' organization, and has displayed a fine quality of leadership while playing football. His scholarship record shows a B average. He will be playing his last football season for San Jose State college.

NOTICE

There will be a short cabinet meeting of the YWCA at 11:00 a.m. today in Room 14.

Walter McPherson Awarded Graham Peake Medal As Sports Poll Winner

Walter McPherson, winner of the All-Spartan Sports Poll, which was known this year as the Marlais Sports Poll, was awarded the Graham Peake Gold Medal at the Recognition Day assembly last Tuesday by Graham Peake, local insurance man and donor of the award.

McPherson, an all-around athlete participating in football, basketball, and baseball, in a last minute rush of votes from the students and coaches edged out Stan Griffin to win the Sports Poll and receive the Peake Award.

McPherson makes the fifth Spartan sport great to receive this award. The first Graham Peake Award went to Jack Wool, present pole vault record holder and football man. Other recipients of the award have been Bud Hubbard, Dee Shehtanian, and Burt Watson.

Graham Peake's statement in regard to the awarding of the medal for next year was, "This medal, in the future, will be presented annually to the student who in the current year by exhibition of physical skill and sportsmanship has contributed most to the fame and reputation of San Jose State college."

Students And Grads Enter Monterey Bay Two Mile Swim

Five Spartans and two former San Jose State swimmers have signified intentions of entering the annual Santa Cruz two-mile swim in the Monterey Bay Sunday.

Freshman aqua captain Martin Wempe and former varsity captain Norm Fitzgerald are probably the best bets of the seven Washington Square fin flippers. Although favorite in the race will be Stanford's Dave Rider, holder of the coast 1500 meter record and winner of the recent Golden Gate swim through the ice waters of the San Francisco bay. Ralph Gilman representing the Olympic club will make one more attempt at open water swimming and might take the grind from the Indian star. Gilman is a student at Ohio State and has done well under five minutes in the 440 and hit 2:09 in the 220, but it will be a longer race Sunday than the Olympic giant is used to.

Gene Gear, representing Stanford, will be the other former Spartan but will go into the event as a decided long shot. Other State mermen will be Lloyd Walker, Al Wempe, Elmer Leslie, and Archie Eldridge, all of whom have been training religiously for the distance gruel and might fool some of the experts when the awards are passed out.

. . . Winners

Norm Sanders, varsity quarterback, who was chosen as this year's winner of the Webster Benton Memorial Award. The Benton Award is given annually by an anonymous former Stater in honor of the late Webster Benton.

Lowell Todd May Not Take Part In National A. A. U. Meet In July

By KEITH BIRLEM

Lowell Todd who ranks as the country's third best javelin thrower, will probably be left at home while many lesser lights will travel to the National A.A.U. meet to be held in Milwaukee in July.

The San Francisco Olympic Club had to go as far as Texas to complete the roster of their championship aspiring squad which has signed the Hardin-Simmins star Alton Terry, who undoubtedly is the best spear tosser in the nation but hardly a likely man to represent a California institution such as the winged O.

219 FEET

Todd, who has a mark of 219 feet, has failed to hit the 200 mark in only one meet this year, will probably be lying on some sunny resort beach while some palooka will be grabbing off third place at the national meet with a heave of under 200 feet. Johnny Mottram will be the other Olympic club spear tosser and defending champion. Mottram has failed to show the form he exhibited last year and will stand little chance of placing in the meet.

BERKELEY MEET

Of more interest at the present time will be the National Intercollegiate meet to be held at Berkeley this week-end in which the best track material in the country will pass before the reviewing stand. Terry and Reitz in that order have been picked by Brutus Hamilton, California coach, with Todd down around eighth place, but we look for the Bear mentor to get the surprise of his life when the Spartan sails the stick out around Terry's best mark and possibly beyond.

However, the winner of this meet does not gain the spoils of victory garnered at the Milwaukee fiasco. Four winners will rate trips abroad with two going to Europe while the other two tour the Orient. In the intercollegiate meet the winners will rake in a lot of glory and be content with a plated medal.

INTRA-MURAL SPORTS

By BART MAYNARD

A week ago last Thursday ended the final intramural baseball game of the season. The game which was five innings, was ended in a 15 to 1 victory for Bishop's Bombardeers over Hartranft's Out-of-Towners.

With ten games under their belts the Out-of-Towners lost only two. One was to the Rabbles and the other to the Bombardeers.

For the season the Out-of-Towners had Jack Reardon throwing the horsehide with "Tickey" Vasconcellos behind the plate. This is why they were placed among the first four squads of the classes.

Gil Bishop's teams showed how good the Out-of-Towners were when they led them by the nose in last week's game. The Out-of-Towners were only able to score one in the beginning of the game. Then the Bombardeers went to town and literally threw Hart's team around the diamond.

Senior Football Managers Named

Athletic Manager Gil Bishop yesterday announced the naming of Joe Cassera as senior personnel football manager and Don Hill as senior equipment manager.

Cassera and Hill will assume duties at the beginning of next September, at which time a chosen grid squad will return for early

COLLEGE AVIATION STUDENTS TO ENTER NEW YORK COMPETITION TODAY

Hillis Ashworth, Sumner Dodge Represent San Jose State In Annual National Intercollegiate Flying Contest At Long Island

Hillis Ashworth and Sumner Dodge, college aviation students, begin their first day of competition at the Annual National Intercollegiate Flying club contest at Long Island, New York, today when they represent San Jose State college against a host of other colleges and Universities.

The contest requires that they must compete in the paper straffing, bomb dropping for accuracy, and spot landing events.

Winning team of the contest will receive a $250.00 cash prize, the W.T. Piper Trophy and the flying club trophy.

According to Mr. Frank F. Petersen, head of the college aviation department here, both Ashworth and Dodge have unusual flying instinct and have displayed rare flying form during practice sessions in San Jose.

"Both boys should be somewhere near the top of the heap at the end of the competition because both have over 200 hours flying time and are used to flying the type of ship they are to fly in the contest," Mr. Petersen said.

Entering the contest will be Stanford University last year's winner, Purdue, Amherst, Yale, Harvard, Cambridge, Carnegie Tech, Princeton, San Jose State college and several other institutions throughout the country.

College To Hold Summer Session For Children Of Primary Grades

MISS DE VORE LEADS

The school will be in charge of Miss Emily De Vore, Associate Professor, Education and Teacher Training, at the college. Miss De Vore has had wide experience in conducting such schools in other teacher training institutions.

FACULTY

Mr. A. H. Horrall, Assistant Superintendent of the San Jose Schools, will be adviser.

The room teachers will be: Miss Olive Zeitz, First and Second Grades.

Mrs. Mabel Willson, Third and Fourth Grades.

Miss Marion Eley, Fifth and Sixth Grades.

These teachers are regular classroom teachers in San Jose elementary schools. They have been chosen because of their outstanding work. As San Jose schools have so many excellent teachers, the college did not feel the necessity of bringing in teachers from Columbia or elsewhere.

In connection with the school a small reading clinic will be conducted for children who have special reading disability. This will be under the direction of Dr. Brant Clark and Mrs. Lillian Gray, both of whom have specialized in this field.

NURSE IN ATTENDANCE

Miss Grace Plum, the college nurse, will be in attendance each day to assist in carrying on the health program.

Miss Doris Dean will direct the physical education activities. She will give special emphasis to games and creative rhythms.

Miss Philoma Goldsworthy and Mrs. Pearl Guild, who will supervise the art and music respectively, plan to give the children much opportunity for creative expression in these special fields.

SPEECH WORK

Miss Elvena Miller, who supervises speech work in the Seattle schools, will assist in work of this kind if any child has speech difficulty.

The school will serve as a center for demonstration work for teachers attending summer school. Thus they will get to observe the theories they are learning about in classes put into practice.

The school will be conducted at the Lowell school between the hours of 8:30 and 12:00 each school day beginning Monday, June 28. Because of the small staff, the Enrollment must be limited.

NOTICE

All students planning to take Observation and Participation during the fall quarter must sign up in Room 161 immediately. This course is a pre-requisite to student teaching. Satisfactory completion of Elementary School Curriculum is required before enrolling in Observation.

Students Receive Recognition Day Awards Tuesday

Four Six-Day Trips Planned For Summer

Two Units To Be Given For Attendance At Each Session

Both college credit and a vacation are given those who attend the West Coast School of Nature Study this summer on their four six-day sessions, it was announced yesterday by the Natural Science department.

Two college credits will be given to students attending the school for each of the six-day Nature School sessions. The work is arranged in such a manner that there will be little or no duplication.

The two Fallen Leaf sessions will be given in different territory so that one person may take both trips.

The Nature school is a vacation school without halls, classrooms, or textbooks that appeal to the student interested in the out-of-doors and nature. The day from 8 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. is spent on the trail, there are, however, no strenuous hikes, only enough territory being covered to find a good sampling of the field under consideration.
