Homecomers To Watch Cal. Tech, State October 22

Details Of Dance To Be Announced At Later Date

"This year's fall home-coming is expected to attract a larger crowd, and have a more friendly spirit, than any that has preceded it," was the statement made by the alumni president, Ronald Linn, yesterday.

Those who return October 22 and 23 will have an opportunity to see their former school play a football game under the bright lights of Spartan Stadium. This is the first year that night football has been played at San Jose State and consequently will be an enjoyable affair for the alumni.

To members of the association a small fee of 32 cents will be charged, instead of the regular price of admission.

Full details of the dance have not been completed, but will be announced as soon as possible.

MUSIC MAJORS

Department Has New Regulation Involving Teacher Credential

All music majors will be required to play or sing at an informal recital before they will receive their teaching credential, according to a new ruling made by the music department. The new requirement will become effective this quarter, according to Adolph W. Otterstein, music department head.

The recital will be a comprehensive, practical examination and will be held during the last week of each quarter. Students must make appointments for the event with Miss Frances Robinson, violin instructor, who is to be chairman of the committee in charge.

Lane, Gruber To Vie For Honor In Senior Election Tomorrow

As a result of a close election last week for the office of president of the senior class, a run-off will be held between the two contestants, Dick Lane and Jack Gruber at the regular upper class orientation hour tomorrow.

Both students have been active in class and student body affairs, Gruber being present member of the student council and Lane having been president of the class last year.

Miss Frances Scott, who was elected vice-president of the fourth yearmen last Thursday, will take charge of the election. Other officers who were elected last week include Bruce Wilbur, secretary-treasurer, and Philip Weed, sergeant-at-arms.

Student Union Closed To Private Functions

8 ASPIRANTS VIE FOR YELL POST

Yell leader elections will be held today, according to President Jack Marsh.

The polls will be open from 8 A.M. until 5 P.M. All full time students are urged to cast their votes for their three choices.

Jerry Girdner, Bob Swanson, "Pinky" Garcia, Billy Newby, Ray Bruton, Louise Rosacco, Byron Lanphear, and Susan Shaver are the candidates for the position.

CLUB TO STUDY NEW WORLD BATTLE DANGER

Perennial war dangers embodied in Mussolini, Hitler, and Stalin, the Spanish conflict, and the Far Eastern crisis will be studied thoroughly by the San Jose State college International club during the ensuing year, Dr. William Poytress, adviser of the organization, announced today.

The group will also study all new "incidents" that may arise and their influence to world peace.

Reorganization of the club is scheduled for today in Room 24 at 4 o'clock, Dr. Poytress said. All students interested in international affairs are cordially invited to attend the session.

STATION W6YL ON AIR FIRST TIME THIS YEAR

W6YL is on the air. According to an announcement made by Mr. Harry Engwicht, radio instructor at San Jose State college, W6YL, the college radio club's amateur station, went on the air for the first time yesterday morning.

Who or what was in communication with the local station, Mr. Engwicht did not announce.

Private Wire To Any U. S. Station, Alaska Or Hawaii Club's Aim

Arrangements are being made by the San Jose State college radio club to handle radio messages for the students and faculty to all parts of the United States and possessions, Mr. Harry Engwicht, club adviser, announced yesterday.

Although preparations are not completed the radio club is making schedules that will include the Hawaiian Islands and Alaska if possible, and will provide the personnel of Washington Square with a private wire as soon as possible.

Study Photography

A picked force of sixteen State Highway patrolmen will take a course in photography under instructor George E. Stone here shortly, it was announced yesterday by the photography teacher.

Closed Meetings Not Allowed In Union

No campus organization will be allowed to have closed meetings or closed functions in the premises of the Spartan Union.

This edict was reached by the student executive council at its weekly conference last night. This action was taken because the council feels that since the Union is a cooperative student project, no one group should take entire advantage of its facilities.

DANCE NOT BARRED

However, they point out there is no ban on informal student groups getting into the spirit of dancing.

Several additions for the convenience and beautification of the Union, including pennants and decorations, card tables, ping-pong tables, and a representative group of magazines, were voted from student body funds.

The sum of twenty dollars was granted to Arthur Van Horn, La Torre editor, for the purchase of permanent photographic material.

Student 'Cow' Trail Sidewalks Replace

The shortest distance between two points is a straight line, and three thousand students can't be wrong.

The college officials found this out and so a new sidewalk is being made to replace the student trail between the swimming pool and the science building.

For the past few years efforts have been made to stem this overflow of students from the walks on the campus by placing portable fences across the short-cut trails. But college students are notorious hurdlers.

Survey Shows Need Of Signals

Students Agree On Stop And Go Lights In 'Death Trap' Area; Majority Admit Danger Of Fourth Street Crossing

Stop and go lights on the corner of Fourth and San Fernando streets is the solution of the "Death Trap", a survey of campus opinion indicates. A great majority of those questioned admit that there is a perpetual danger of death on the northwest corner of Washington Square, and that a remedy is necessary if death is to be avoided. Following are some of the opinions offered:

Keith Birlem, football star: A policeman is stationed at that corner only part of the time; the danger is always there. Stop and go lights would be the solution.

Edmund Cary, senior pre-med major: It is my opinion that the best solution would be to have an underpass crossing Fourth street. If this is impossible, stop and go lights would be satisfactory.

Miss McFadden Named Chairman Of Cottage Board

Appointment Honors Health Cottage Founder

NAME SUCCESSOR

Margaret Twombly To Be New Health Head

Miss Elizabeth McFadden, founder and first president of the Edwin Markham Health Cottage, Inc., has been named chairman of the board of directors of the Cottage.

According to N. O. Thomas, secretary and treasurer of the board, action was taken as recognition of the years of service Miss McFadden has rendered to the students of this college, and so that the board would feel that they still have the "old president" to call upon for advice.

SAVED FUNDS

Miss McFadden started to save funds to start a convalescent home in 1914 and attained her objective in 1924.

Miss Margaret Twombly, who has worked with Miss McFadden for several years, has succeeded her as head of the Health and Hygiene department and has been made acting president of the Health Cottage.

Miss Verna Johnson has been re-appointed Dietician, and succeeds Miss Margaret Cooper who resigned at the end of last year.

Miss June Poysky succeeds Miss Mildred Carmean as nurse, and Miss Dorothy Cavanaugh remains on the staff with Mrs. Evelyn Aielo, former Miss Evelyn Fagundes, as housekeeper.

"Politicians" Battle Staid Professors

"Under Lights" Stunts Second Feature

Stunts "under the lights" and a faculty versus students football game scheduled for Spartan Stadium are the two features promised by the rally committee for tomorrow night's rally, it was announced late yesterday.

Introducing a football team composed entirely of members of San Jose State's austere faculty, a half-time game will be played between the faculty squad and an aggregation composed of undergraduates.

LINE-UPS

Captained by Dr. L. C. Newby, head of the language department, the team's tentative lineup will consist of Dr. A. B. Lubowski, Bill McCoard, "Tiny" Hartranft, Gil Bishop, Bill Hubbard, Dee Portal, Dr. James C. DeVoss, Dr. Graham, Mr. Thomas Eagan, and Dr. Ward Slattery.

Student team supporters will be represented by a team made up of campus "politicians". Captained by Byron Lanphear, the squad will consist of Jack Marsh, Jack Wiles, Jim Welch, Charles Leong, John Knight, Jack Gruber, Don Walker, Walt McPherson, and Bob Free.

Augmented by the presence of San Jose State's band the rally assemblage will leave Fourth and San Fernando streets at 7:15, from where they will trek to Spartan Stadium. Entertainment plans include the introduction of new yell leaders, who will teach new yells and the Spartan "fight song" in-

CLASS SINGS EX OFF SCHEDULE

Tommy Tucker may have sung for his supper, but an "Ed Measurements" class sang an ex away last week.

The song that turned the trick was Happy Birthday, and the inspiration for the tune was Uncle Jimmy DeVoss, head of the Psychology department and instructor of the Ed Measurements class which meets at 9 A.M.

After listening for five minutes to the chorus of voices raised in commemoration of his natal day the genial Doctor dismissed his class and then took the afternoon off himself.

Radio Club Meets In "Shack"; Engwicht Announces Program

The San Jose State college Radio club held its first official meeting in the radio "shack" near the Industrial Arts building Monday night.

Mr. Harry Engwicht, club adviser, announced that in the future social meetings will be held on Wednesday nights twice a month, while the regular business meetings will be held weekly on Monday noons as usual.

Just Among Ourselves

By DR. T. W. MacQUARRIE

Pacific has given us a couple of lessons in college courtesy in other years, but we don't seem to learn very easily. They had to give us another Friday night. Somehow or other we attract each year certain irresponsibles who put us into the cheap class. It's most embarrassing.

While their students were standing in their places after the game, "taking it" in all good sportsmanship, with our band and rooters celebrating before them, a bunch of hoodlums were trying to damage the Pacific goal posts. Dear me, but it was crude.

BE ORIGINAL

In the first place, damaging goal posts is not our stunt. Sar Jose has never made that a practice. Other schools may do it, but why copy them? Can't we think up something of our own? In the second place, if we did damage those posts, Pacific would simply order repairs made and send us the bill. We'd pay it, of course, and that out of an athletic budget sadly strained as it is. And in the third place, it was dangerous. Those uprights above the bar weighed probably 250 pounds each. If the fixture which held them had broken—as well it might under the swaying strain—someone could easily have been killed, possibly several. Two hundred and fifty pounds, falling that distance, doesn't stop for a mere human head—certainly not if it happens

OH, RALEIGH!

Editor, Spartan Daily:

In the past two decades women have been asserting themselves. They have broken the chains of inferiority that men have placed upon them throughout the years. They have been given equality.

But today there is a new movement going around, founded by women. Not satisfied with equality, a few of that sex demand that women be recognized as superior to the males that reside in our fair country. In fact I have listened to rabid fanatics cry out that voting privileges should be denied men, and that the country be governed only by women.

Therefore I suggest that Patty Blackwood and others of her sex who deplore the disappearance of Sir Walter Raleighs, to turn into Raleighs themselves and offer their coats to some of us poor beasts when there is a mud puddle on the campus to be crossed.

to be a bit soft on top.

COURTESY NEEDED

Isn't it about time we were developing a sense of college courtesy? The great majority of us would no doubt like to have it that way, but a few scatter-brains lead the non-thinkers and we pass into the class of hoodlums. I have wondered, too, if we had lost that game, whether our gang would have stood in their places while the Pacific band and rooters had their fun. Most of us would have done it, but the goal-post fanatics would have faded out of the picture long before the ceremony was over. I suggest that we have regular instruction each fall in college courtesy.

MEN OR PULP?

If we could find some way of picking out the irresponsibles, we might be able to teach them something. However, it may be necessary to have a group of old reliables, who can be depended upon, to police the situation. We are very proud of our size—but what's the use of being so big, if it's largely pulp?

BEHIND THE NEWS

Major aspects of the present situation in the Far East concerning the primary reasons for the undeclared Sino-Japanese war, why Japan chose the present time to act, and the possible outcome of the conflict, were discussed by Dr. William Poytress in the Behind the News class yesterday.

CHINA'S DAWN

To understand the cause of the present situation one must have some idea of the historical background of the countries involved. When China was opened to the world by Great Britain in the latter half of the 19th century, world interest was centered on China as a new market. Ten years later the United States opened Japan to the world, and since then she has proven herself a power to be reckoned with.

The World War proved to be Japan's first great opportunity to advance her policy of territorial expansion. Typical of Japan, she seized the opportunity. That she didn't gain her objective in her 21 demands against China following the World War, was because other world powers realized that if accepted, these demands would make China practically a vassal of Japan.

JAPAN STEPS IN

Following the war, the period of peace throughout the world gave Japan an opportunity of furthering her plans for economic control of China.

China, meanwhile, was in a position herself that made it easier for Japan to gain her ends. The Chinese government was split into opposing factions—the Central government, headed by General Chiang Kai Chek, and the Soviet faction, composed of Bolshevistic sympathizers.

The present situation is, therefore, the result of Japan's seizing of the opportunity before China becomes strong enough to repel foreign invasion.

New Boxing Regulation To Stop Collegiate Club Fights

Offenders Become Ineligible Under Conference Rule

Prohibits Local Team From Entering AAU Meets

Intercollegiate boxing will from now on be "intercollegiate" in every sense of the word, according to an announcement from Dudley S. DeGroot, head of the San Jose State college physical education department. A new rule fostered by the Pacific Coast Conference prohibits any further competition between college boxers and amateur club boxers.

NOW IN EFFECT

This rule, which went into effect with the beginning of the present school year, will put an end to Spartan boxing teams or individuals entering any outside tournament or fighting any non-collegiate boxer.

Undoubtedly the new law will bring more colleges together in dual meets, and it will throw more emphasis on the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate tourney and the National Intercollegiate.

INELIGIBILITY

Any person who violates the rule at any time during the year will become ineligible for further collegiate boxing. And the "joker" in the set-up is the fact that any man who boxes a person who has been declared ineligible makes himself ineligible for college competition.

Abiding by the new regulation will keep San Jose boxing squads from participating in the Pyramid Belt tournament and the many A.A.U. championships held on the coast and in the east.

HARD SCRIMMAGE ON TAP FOR POLOISTS

Intensive scrimmages have been in order to the San Jose State college freshman and varsity water polo teams this week in preparation for the Dolphin club tilts Thursday night in Spartan plunge.

Although victors in their opening encounters last week, Coach Charlie Walker found room for much improvement, and as a result he has done a little experimental shifting of the varsity lineup.

One of the major changes is the placement of Ronald Gordon in the goal keeper's cage in place of Captain Howard Withycombe when the team is playing in the deep end of the pool. If the change seems best, Gordon will open at goalie if Sparta defends the deep end, and Captain Withycombe will start if the team defends the shallow end.

With Gordon in the goal, another shift has been made. That of using Withycombe in the forward spot in place of Jack Butler, a promising sophomore, thus eliminating the all-sophomore trio of forwards—Martin Wempe, Frank Savage, and Butler.

In the guard spots, Coach Walker is toying with the idea of having Wes Hammond and Bob Garcia change positions, putting the latter in the center back spot with Hammond at left back. This latter change is not definite as yet.

SAN JOSE, CALIFORNIA, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 6, 1937

FLAGSTAFF RATED TOUGHEST ASSIGNMENT TO DATE FOR SPARTANS

The Spartan football squad is expecting a tough battle from those burly Lumberjacks of Flagstaff. And the local gridders don't figure to get inside the 20 yard line next Friday night and then lose the ball. This is evident by watching the various strings scrimmage. Intense drill on downfield blocking is taking up much time. Four times the Pacific safety man stopped Spartan ball-carriers when he was the only man between the San Josean and the goal line.

BLOCKING

Together with drill on downfield blocking, DeGroot is smoothing over the rough spots noticed in last Friday night's game. Goal line plays and fundamentals are receiving much attention.

The Spartans are taking to heart the fact that Arizona is rated tougher than Pacific. At least that is what Coach Bill Hubbard says, and he saw the Flagstaff outfit whip Whittier College.

MEN BACK

The addition of Bob Drexel and Walt McPherson will no doubt bolster the team strength. Bob is now fully recovered from a shoulder injury, and Walt is showing the same type of play that made him the sensation in the Hawaiian Islands last year.

Arizona will pull into town fresh from two straight victories from Whittier College and Cal Tech. Their first game of the season was dropped to Texas Tech., 6-0, on a blocked kick in the final four minutes of play. Their main hope lies in a 160 pound speed-burner, Dutch Salzbrenner, and a line that averages 192 pounds from end to end.

HODGSON OUT OF SOCCER TEAM LINEUP

The Spartan soccer eleven regained one member but lost another yesterday. John Javrotsky returned to the squad after being out last week, while Ham Hodgson is temporarily out of the line-up, being confined to the Health Cottage.

Hodgson, regular fullback of the San Jose team, will probably be ready for action when the Spartans meet San Mateo junior college there Saturday morning. He has been in the Health Cottage since Monday.

According to Captain Bill Pitcher, the local squad will be about on a par with the junior collegian team. Pitcher is confident that the Spartans will break into the win column if they can get their offense rolling against the Jaycee eleven.

Coach Hovey McDonald, returning to his coaching duties after being out over the week-end with a wrenched back, has been holding team practice at Spartan field.

of the college. From 7 to 9 o'clock facilities will be available for participation in recreational types of games. Those attending may come for any part or all of the two hours. Any sort of costume may be worn, but rubber soled and low heeled shoes are required of all.

Frosh Grid Men In Stiff Workout

With the yearling reserves scrimmaging the Los Gatos High school varsity in the foothill city, freshman coach "Tiny" Hartranft conducted a stiff workout for his regulars on the Spartan field yesterday.

in first class condition for their meeting with the highly touted junior college eleven.

Standouts in practice yesterday were Romeo Simoni, left end, and Myer Dougherty, who is showing a first class ability in the left guard spot.

Simoni is a left end from San Jose High school where he was named as first string P.A.L. end by every coach and team in the league. His game against Mt. View High and the COP frosh makes him an end to watch against San Mateo Saturday.

Feminine Faculty Prefer Badminton

Ping Pong, Cards, New Decorations Added

Checking on the turnout for the first of the weekly faculty recreation nights sponsored by the women's physical education department last Thursday, members of the San Jose faculty proved that their interests are varied, with badminton a slight favorite.

Other sports that ran badminton a close race were ping pong and square dances. The following departments were represented at last Thursday's meet: Chemistry, commerce, education, library, home economics, psychology, health, speech, and women's physical education.

Each Thursday evening the women's gymnasium will be open for the use of the faculty and staff

La Torre Appointments Necessary Before Mid-Month, Says Editor Van Horn

"Come early and avoid the rush," is the new motto of La Torre campaign for securing appointments to have pictures taken for the yearbook.

Those that keep putting it off until a later date are just going to be left out in the cold when October 15 rolls around and the deadline for appointments has arrived, says Arthur Van Horn, editor.

Of course the staff doesn't care much whose "mugs" adorn their pages, but the folks back in the old home town might like to point to the portrait and proudly announce that "this is my Willie who still goes to college."

The book this year is to feature vim, vigor, and vitality with plenty of candid camera shots in it. Those that are interested in submitting "life" pictures should contact Arthur Van Horn immediately.

San Jose State co-eds have found the co-operative living idea a success and are now ready for a third house with completion of enrollment at the 438 South Ninth street residence.

Eleanor Bidwell has been chosen president of the house, and with the help of Dr. Eertha Mason as adviser has figured out a comparatively high standard of living at the low cost of eighteen dollars a month. With each of the girls "pitching in" and doing her part the members have found the plan to be very successful and have expressed the desire to continue with the scheme.

When questioned on the idea, one of the members stated, "I find the experience and practicability of this co-operative living idea invaluable, and I expect to adapt myself in preparing for post-collegiate days."

DANCES AFTER GAMES SLATED

Victory Motif Planned; Hill's 'Hot-Shots' To Swing High-Low

"Finding love for only a dime," which to para-phrase a popular refrain is just what Johnny Diehl and his rejuvenated Spartan Knights are planning for State students starting Friday night.

Launching plans for a series of "after the game dances", the Spartan Knights will lower dance prices to the parallel of the depression era and create a medium for after-game enthusiasts to get together at the Newman club, located opposite the student union building. Dancing will prevail from 10:30 to 1 o'clock.

Later plans will be announced prior to the football game, but the "victory" motif is being planned. Music may be provided by Terry Hill and his "hot shots", although the orchestra selection was unknown at time of publication.

Election of squires is now commanding a great deal of the Knights' attention for three members of the frosh class will be "squires" as will 10 others selected from the student membership.
