Plans Made For After-Game Dance

JUNIORS SELL TICKETS

Final plans for the after-game dance to be held Friday evening at the Woman's club were formulated during a gathering of the junior class in the Morris Dailey auditorium yesterday, with the newly elected officers of the group conducting their first meeting.

TWENTY-FIVE CENTS

Tickets for the dance were placed in the hands of the junior students and the admission charge will be 25 cents per person, according to President Jack Hilton. Terry Hill's dance orchestra has been engaged for the occasion, and specialty artists will entertain during the evening. Dancing will commence at ten-thirty and last until one in the morning.

The affair, which it is hoped will become a tradition, is the first of (Continued on Page Four)

Faculty Gathers

Alumni Attend Meet Sunday At Sunol Ranch Home

President T. W. MacQuarrie, Dr. James C. DeVoss, Dr. Raymond Mosher, and their families attended annual gathering of alumni of San Jose State college Sunday at the Sunol ranch home of Albert Carter, representative to Congress from Oakland and former student at San Jose.

The gathering held each year is for alumni of classes earlier than 1910. There was one former collegian who was a member of the class of 1883 in attendance.

Mr. Carter played football for State the same year, 1902, as did Willie Heston, who after leaving San Jose attended University of Michigan, where he received All-American rating.

Local Dance Group To Organize

Miss Luva Stratton, Prominent Teacher, Will Donate Own Services To Community Movement To Popularize Dancing

Pledging to donate her own services to the cause of a civic dance group in San Jose, Miss Luva Stratton, prominent dancer-teacher of this city, began yesterday a movement to organize local dancers for the cause.

Speaking for the Spartan Daily, Miss Stratton said: "San Jose now has a handsome civic auditorium and many interesting civic groups, but we have no civic dance group. Such a group, in order to be successful, must be composed of young people with a sincere desire to dance.

"I know that the financial question is the great one, particularly

L-Shaped Structure Planned To Finish Fourth Street Quad

Tentative plans for the proposed new library building have been drawn up, and will be submitted to Governor Merriam, according to an announcement released from the president's office. The structure will form an L, complementing the Natural Science building and completing the Front Quad. The building will cost $600,000, it was announced.

The building will house the library and several classrooms, relieving the crowded conditions somewhat. There will also be a basement, which will be used for library purposes.

Governor Merriam has announced that he will consider the project, after receiving many letters and telegrams from alumni and interested persons. An appropriation of several million dollars was passed in the last legislature for the construction of public buildings.

Color Is Added To Nite-Light Stunts

GELATIN WILL BE USED

Sparta's novel rooting section, exponents of the original San Jose State college "nite-lite" bleacher stunts, will this week delve into the realm of color, according to announcement from the rally committee late yesterday.

Friday night's between-halves activities will feature four new stunt letterings, powered by the tiny flashlights used effectively in two former night games, in three colors.

Color effects will be produced by the use of small squares of colored gelatin, fastened beneath the instruction on stadium seats, and placed before the flashlight bulbs.

With four stunts planned for the Cal Tech game this Friday night, bleacher novelties include a block "CT", "SJ", "Fox", for Cal Tech's coach, and a large "Cap" in honor of the injured Captain "Pop" DuBose.

Johnny Knight, elongated band master, reports that plans are in progress for novel band stunts and spell words. The between-halves show will be in charge of Jack Gruber, prepared by rally chairman Bob Free.

A.W.S. Assembly

State Rainbow Club On Program For This Week

Campus Rainbow girls will be in charge of the A.W.S. assembly to be held Thursday at noon in Room 1 of the Home Economics building, announces Amy Silva, A.W.S. official.

"These meetings will be held every Thursday," stated Miss Silva, "and are for every woman student in college. I urge all who can possibly attend to do so."

On October 28, the meeting will be under direction of Beta Gamma Chi; November 4, Allenians; November 18, Tau Mu Delta; December 2, Phi Kappa Pi; December 9, Kappa Phi; and December 30, W.A.A.

November 5 Set For AWS Hi Jinx; Silva Names Committees

These committee heads are Frances Oxley, general chairman; Leona Solon and Helen Hooker, publicity; Clara Belle Staffelbagh, decorations; Women's Athletic Association, games; Norma Welby, refreshments; Jeanne Ewing, entertainment; Dorothy Krauss, posters.

Women Staff Members To Edit Spartan Daily Alone For One Edition

Ora Lindquist, Jeanne Morehead, Veteran Journalists, Named Co-Editors

LADIES OF THE PRESS, A TRIBUTE!

Male staff members of the Spartan Daily will soon lay aside their pencils and notebooks for a day while the ladies take sole charge of the publication of the paper.

Sports page and all, it will be woman-reported and edited, continuing a tradition established last quarter when Marian Starr edited the first all women's edition.

Chosen by Editor Charles Leong to be co-editors of this year's edition are two veteran senior staff members, Ora Lindquist and Jeanne Morehead. Both have a wide experience gained in reportorial work and in executive positions on the Spartan Daily.

Los Gatos claims Miss Lindquist as a native daughter. She attended the Los Gatos High school where she was a member of the student council, year-book staff, president of the girls' association, and a member of a number of school clubs. Now Spartan Daily associate editor, Miss Lindquist has also held the positions of news editor and feature editor.

Miss Morehead hails from Watsonville where she was a member of the year-book staff and active in music circles and student government. She has held the positions of news editor and copy editor and is now an associate editor with Miss Lindquist on the Daily.

ROMAN GENTLEMEN FIND
NEW USES FOR MAIDS

Today we digress a little from the original purpose of this series to correct a contemporary. Some time ago Robert L. Ripley stated in his column that the practice of kissing was started by Romans who wished to see if their wives had been sampling the wine.

A brief San Jose visitor yesterday was Postmaster-General Farley. Many observers believe his present tour of inspection to be one of the stamp and postcard high chief's last official acts in office.

wine supply was low, Roman families found it necessary to encourage abstinence in the servants. Nevertheless, in the Snurpus household it soon became apparent that someone was making inroads on the barrel.

One day Mrs. Snurpus noted that the walk of Erpia, the upstairs maid, was slightly unsteady.

"I think," said Mrs. Snurpus to her husband, "that Erpia has been imbibing."

"Tain't so," said Erpia.

"I'll find out, dear," said Snurpio. He placed his lips on those of Erpia.

"Well?" asked Mrs. Snurpus sometime later.

"I'm not sure yet, dear. I'd better investigate some more."

RIBBING RIPLEY

He did so. And in the following days further investigations took place. Certain remarks that Snurpio dropped at his club caused many Roman gentlemen to become suspicious of their female servants and to inaugurate investigations.

But Mr. Ripley is wrong on one point. The Romans were gentlemen to a remarkable degree; they seldom suspected their wives.

Just Among Ourselves

By DR. T. W. MacQUARRIE

It seems odd to have carpenters, painters, plumbers, cement workers, and laborers tearing up the campus and pounding on the walls while college is in session. We have just finished a long summer vacation when that work should have been done, but we have had enough experience with complicated governmental affairs to know that it is best to take the improvements whenever we can get them, inconvenient or not.

I talked with one of our former football players last night at the practice. "They are no better than we were," he said, "no heavier, no faster, no more alert, but they have better spirit. They are a serious, hard-working, fighting gang."

It seems to me there is a better spirit on the whole campus. I don't know whether the campus reflects the team, or the team the campus. Possibly we have all gotten the idea at the same time. It's a step forward.

Community Chest days are here again. Be sure to stick in a dime if you can't make it a dollar. We've had street car tokens and buttons in other years but times are better now. College spirit will go a long way. We have usually done well with the Chest drives. We are not well off ourselves, but college people usually understand and always help a little.

All Industrial Arts majors planning to be practice teachers next quarter should report to the Industrial Arts office immediately.

THE CANDID CAMPUS... OBSERVED

By CHARLES LEONG, Editor

PERSPECTIVES:

The Man in the Green Hat barged in today, and told us that he was tired of campaigns for a while—including motion picture double bills and . . .

"But NOT the Community Chest . . ." we reminded him. He agreed. And even went as far as to praise the One Chance during the year that allows college students to show, in a tangible fashion, their civic mindedness.

He, the Man in the Green Hat, offered to treat us to a coke, and so we indulged in an hour of what's right and wrong with the campus.

HELLO, HELLO:

Hello, That's it, pointed out the M. in G. H. Remember the good old days, he asked. He always reminiscences over the "good old days" when slobbering over a coke. For instance, we had a free telephone in the co-op.

Another thing, he argued, was perhaps the great abundance of first-class colds were due to drafts in the library. Both upper and lower libes.

We promised him that we'll venture into the library sometime and find out. Which was a good excuse to get away.

MORE PERSPECTIVES:

With the proposal of a new library plant for the college, there is every right to feel the growth and development of San Jose State Achievement in the forms of so many thousands of men and women properly trained for life cannot be tangibly measured, nor the results compiled, but one could at least point to a growing physical plant and say . . . "There . . ."

Sophomore men are getting to be a colorful group. Lots of comment one way and another about their primitive attire. We think it a good thing for their healthy animal spirits and enthusiasms to display in this satorial splendor.

Let the spirit of youth prevail. The French are right in saying "Better be radicals in youth . . . and conservatives in old age . . ."

BEHIND THE NEWS

Captain Russell G. Duff, F.A., guest speaker for yesterday's Behind the News class, gave a talk sympathetic with the Japanese viewpoint in the present struggle with China. His statements were based on his personal experiences and observations during his stay in the Orient.

JAPAN WANTS INFLUENCE

According to Captain Duff, the popular idea that the military faction of Japan is entirely the cause of the Sino-Japanese affair is a fallacy. He stated that from his observations he believes that all the classes of Japan are in sympathy with the idea of Japan's gaining a sphere of influence in China, and that Japanese children are brought up to believe that it is Japan's place to take care of and control China. There are political and economical reasons for this, he stated—aside from the fact that Japan needs China as an outlet for her products and as a source of raw materials, in which Japan is almost entirely lacking.

Another fallacy concerning Japanese motives believed by a great many people, is that Japan is too crowded and needs more room on the main land in order to expand. Captain Duff pointed out that Japan has still a great deal of room for expansion in Manchukuo and in Korea, beside many islands over which she has control.

Captain Duff concluded by pointing out the fact that the Occidental viewpoint of the situation is very different from that of the Japanese, in view of the fact that history shows Japan has been planning control of China for centuries and has been looking into the future, while outsiders are prone to think of the situation only in the light of present happenings.

Soccer Eleven In Game Today

San Francisco Jaycee Faces Spartans

Determined to break their tying habit, members of the Spartan soccer eleven held scrimmage practice last night in preparation for today's game with San Francisco Jaycee.

With a record of two ties in three conference games, the local shinkickers draw a bye in conference play this week. To fill the gap between last Saturday's game with California and the game with Stanford one week from Saturday, the Spartans have scheduled the Rams for a practice game on Spartan field this afternoon. Game time will be 4 o'clock.

Still without a victory, the local eleven is determined to break into the victory column today. Thrice denied in their bid for victory, the Spartans have grown stronger with each game. Last week they reached their highest peak to tie California, defending champions of the conference.

Spartans Near Mile Mark In Yardage

LOCAL GRIDDERS LEAD PARADE OF UNBEATEN, UNTIED ELEVEN

By FRED MERRICK

As San Jose's steamrolling grid eleven nears its first mile of yardage, reports from all points of the nation also show the Spartans at the top of the unbeaten and untied list. Only obscure Louisiana State of north east center Louisiana tops the local eleven in scoring. The Monroe Louisiana team has tallied 236 points in four games.

In the five consecutive victories recorded by San Jose to date, the Spartans have scored 163 points and rolled up 1708 yards. Of this total, 978 yards have been made from scrimmage while the remaining 730 came as a result of 51 completed passes.

BEST IN NATION

Needing only 52 yards to pass the first mile mark, the San Jose eleven, along with California's "wonder" team, heads the list of unbeaten and untied teams of the nation. The Spartans and the Bears are the only teams with five victories. Thirty teams have four victories.

Leroy Zimmerman, pass-throwing and ball-carrying fullback, establishes himself as one of the individual high scorers on the Pacific Coast with a total of 34 points. He has also contributed directly to many more touchdowns by virtue of his accurate passing.

MR. AND MISS RATE HIGH STUDENTS ASKED TO GIVE OPINIONS AS NAME PREFIX IN VOTE

Would the students of San Jose State college prefer to have faculty members call them by their given name, both names, or be addressed as Mr. or Miss?

According to a vote taken in Dr. James C. DeVoss' Educational Measurement class, Mr. and Miss is rated the highest. Twenty-six members of the class voted for the latter, ten were in favor of just the first name, and ten didn't care.

One suggestion was made that teachers address the students with full name, such as "John Blair". It was urged that the dignity that belongs in the class room is more easily retained if the Mr. or Miss prefix is used.

Arguments for the other side pointed out that there are many times when the situation demands that a shorter name be used. Dr. DeVoss said that the matter was still open for discussion, and asked students to contribute their ideas, possibly through the columns of the Spartan Daily Thrust and Parry department.

First Day Subscriptions Indicate Record-Breaking Total For This Year's Charity Drive, Says Berg

Organizations, Names, Quotas, To Be Posted
In Quad, Chest Drive Director Announces

If the spirit which prevailed on opening day of the Community Chest drive may be taken as evidence of which way the wind is blowing, student subscription for the year '37 is bound to exceed by far any other single year, calculates Chairman Norman Berg.

The total sum donated by the student body last year was $293.51 which is double the sum subscribed in 1928, but only $13.53 more than in 1935, when the student body gave $281.08.

The figure for the current year stands at $25.10. The $25.00 was received on opening day from the Spears, sophomore women's society, and the ten cents was forfeited by Ben Johnson, Daily writer, last Thursday—four days before the campaign started.

To the Spears will go two gold stars, the first for being the initial contributor and the second for exceeding their quota. A placard bearing the names of the organizations who have fulfilled their quotas will be posted in the quad shortly, according to Berg. The names of organizations and the stars will appear summarially as quotas are reached.

Letters containing campaign instructions, run off yesterday, will be posted in Co-op boxes shortly.
