

Grid Rally Tonight At Theater

Spartan Daily

VOL. XXVI SAN JOSE, CALIFORNIA, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1937 Number 43

Spartans Face Aztecs In Turkey Day Gridiron Classic At 11 o'Clock; Crowd Expected At S. J. Stadium

When the Spartan gridgers lope down out of their cream colored field house to face the championship San Diego Aztec warriors Thursday morning they will be entering the familiar home greensward for the last time this year.

As the first whistle sounds at 11 o'clock on the morning of Thanksgiving Day, another record-equaling turnout of students and townspeople is expected to have passed through the stadium turnstiles to witness the turkey-day classic which many sporting authorities claim will decide small college football supremacy on the West coast.

Still enthusiastic from the trouncing they bestowed upon Santa Barbara's Gauchos in return for the Southern California conference championship last Saturday, and refreshed by a three-day stopover and rest at Atascadero, the San Diegans are expected to give Coach DeGroot's charges a stubborn brand of hard hitting competition in this, the Spartans' last game on the mainland.

Although San Jose is given a slight edge on the victory side of the scoreboard in many quarters, students and rooters gather tonight in the California Theater for one last pep rally and avowal of faith in the power of Sparta.

Friday noon the team sails for Honolulu.

Delta Phi Upsilon Will Meet Tonight At "Y"

Delta Phi Upsilon, San Jose State's honorary Kindergarten-Primary society, will hold one of its most important meetings of the year tonight, according to Prexy Lois De Shields.

"Tonight's meeting will be held at Pete's Place in the Y.W.C.A. building," Miss De Shields stated late yesterday.

ENROLLMENT TABULATIONS

EDUCATION MAJORS AT SAN JOSE LEAD; MUSIC DEPARTMENT SECOND

Approximately 13 per cent of the students at San Jose State college this quarter are education majors.

This fact was disclosed in the results of a survey of the enrollments of the departments of the college made by the Spartan Daily recently. Out of the 3,100 students enrolled, only 502 are majoring in education.

San Jose State, which was originally a teacher training institution, still attracts more education majors than any other type of students, however.

Philosophy is the smallest department, according to the figures, with two majors and five minors, which is .06 of the entire student body.

"Shatterproof"

This San Diego State quarterback will keep the Spartans on the alert Thursday morning. Flashy Max Glass was the hero of San Diego's win over San Jose last year, and this year he is again running wild. Down the southern way, he is nicknamed "shatterproof".

Dr. Atkinson Speaker At Tulare Institute

A speaker at the Tulare County Institute, Bakersfield, this morning will be Dr. Earl W. Atkinson, head of the college Commerce department.

Dr. Atkinson will speak on "Commercial Training on the College Level", and will discuss the desirability of commercial training at the various school levels confining itself to the particular fields best suited for it.

Initial Press Club Meet Held

The Press Club, a newly formed organization of staff members of the Spartan Daily and La Torre, held its initial meeting last night at the home of Jack Marsh.

Frank Olson was elected president; Wilbur Korsmeier, vice-president; and Ora Lindquist secretary-treasurer.

The first undertaking of this group will be a Christmas toy-pile drive for needy children in this area which will start next week.

Bob Tonkin was appointed to look into the matter of selecting appropriate pins for the club and will report upon his selection at the next regular meeting.

All students who have worked on either staff a previous quarter and are still active members of the staff are urged to attend the next meeting tomorrow at 12:30 in the Spartan Daily office to discuss future members, time and place of meetings, and to make further plans for the Christmas toy pile drive.

Junior Meeting Is Postponed

The junior class meeting, which was to have been held this morning in the Morris Dailey auditorium to make tentative plans for the Junior Prom, has been postponed because of conflicting meetings, according to an announcement made by Prexy Jack Hilton.

With Hilton as general chairman, assisted by John Holtorf, the chairmen for the affair have been appointed by the executive committee.

SOIL EROSION TOPIC TODAY OF TALK BY HYATT

All San Jose State college geology, forestry, and agriculture students are invited to attend a special discussion of soil erosion and conservation by Harry H. Hyatt, of the United States department of agriculture, today at 11 o'clock in Morris Dailey auditorium, according to Mr. Fred Buss, college instructor in geology.

The discussion and lecture will be illustrated with slides provided by the office of the state coordinator. Mr. Hyatt has agreed to answer questions later concerning the problem, and government efforts to meet it.

Erlendson To Return

Mr. William Erlendson, member of the Music department faculty who is on leave this year, will be on the campus next summer conducting the A Cappella choir and giving a course in sight singing and notation, and a course in music history. Mr. Erlendson is now attending Harvard.

Black Honored

Police Chief To Be Given Dinner

Honoring the 21st anniversary of Chief John N. Black as a member of the San Jose police force, Chi Pi Omega, police school fraternity, and the Police club, will be hosts at a dinner tonight at 7 p.m. in the Gold room of the Hotel Sainte Claire.

The anniversary dinner is an annual event for police students who honor Chief Black each year. Members and heads of the Art and Music departments have been assisting on decorations and entertainment for the affair. These include Mrs. Carolyn Hayes and Mrs. Ruth Turner of the Art department, and Mr. Adolph W. Otterstein, head of the Music division.

According to Ed Grant of Chi Pi Sigma, and John Knight of the Police club, this year's dinner promises to be better than ever and much time is being spent on arrangements.

Henry McClenahan is president of the Police club, and Bob Drexler heads Chi Pi Sigma.

KERN TEACHERS HEAR COLLEGE PRESIDENT

President T. W. MacQuarrie was guest of the Kern county Teachers' Institute yesterday, as they opened their three-day session before Thanksgiving. During his stay in Bakersfield he was guest of honor at both the Kiwanis Luncheon club at noon and the San Jose State college annual alumni dinner yesterday evening.

Tomorrow Dr. MacQuarrie will travel to Merced, where he will be a guest at the luncheon meeting of elementary principals of Merced county, and will sit at the Merced County Teachers' Institute in the afternoon. The following day he will be present at the Palo Alto city institute.

CHANGE TAU MU DELTA HOP PLANS

The formal Tau Mu Delta dance, scheduled for Friday evening, will be given in the home of Mrs. Sybil Hanchett, 99 South Eleventh street, instead of at the home of Mr. Adolph W. Otterstein as was formerly announced.

The party is the first to be given by the organization this term, and is solely for members and their escorts. Adviser of the group is Miss Frances Robinson.

CAMPBELL SPEAKS

Dr. Earl Campbell, instructor in Social Science at San Jose State college, will be speaker before a meeting of Lions club members tomorrow at the Sainte Claire hotel, and will discuss the national government's policy on taxation. The meeting is scheduled for 12:15.

San Jose State college's final football rally is scheduled for tonight at the California Theater where local football fans will give the 1937 Spartan pigskinners a noisy send-off before their departure for the Hawaiian Islands Friday.

With a half-hour pep rally scheduled for 9:00 o'clock, football enthusiasts will be treated to a double feature program which includes the pictures "Alcatraz Island" and "Forty-Five Fathers".

Featured by the presentation of an award by Prexy Jack Marsh in appreciation of the football leadership of "Pop" DuBose, Sparta's injured grid captain, the half hour program will be dotted by speeches by DuBose, Coach Dud DeGroot, variety acts, band numbers, and yells led by "Pinky" Garcia.

Price of admission will be 40 cents, according to Bob Free. Contrary to a statement printed yesterday in the Spartan Daily, all seats except loges will be sold at the regular admission price.

Tonight's rally will be the first of its kind this year to be held before the townspeople of San Jose.

"Tonight is San Jose State college's first opportunity to show the people of San Jose what kind of spirit we really have," rally chairman Bob Free stated yesterday. "We should have approximately 1000 students attending tonight's Honolulu send-off."

Musical Recital This Afternoon

Members of Miss Frances Robinson's advanced violin classes will give a student recital in Room 108 of the Music building at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

The program will be short and will include three numbers; First Movement of the Wieniawski violin concerto, played by William Tyler; the second number will be played by Vincent Shank and Kathryn Morton; the concluding selection, Introduction and Rondo Capriccioso by Saint-Saens, will be played by Paul Lanin.

Mr. Lanini will play on a violin he made himself. Those who are interested are invited to attend.

DR. H. A. SOTZIN SPEAKS AT MEETING

At the Golden Gate Graphic Guild meeting held Friday night, Dr. H. A. Sotzin, director of Industrial Arts here, spoke on education and industry, taking as his keynote the statement that "training programs must keep abreast of industry."

He emphasized the need for education and industry joining forces to develop a more efficient program in preparing youth for economic security in an increasingly complex age.

Falling Axe

Scoopish prophecy: The nation will probably have a new chief librarian officiating over the crowded musty congressional book tiers before long. The heat's beginning to glow for aged Herbert Putnam who for three decades or more has reigned in despotism over the largest library in the world.

Editorial-ette

Even more than the Fourth of July, Thanksgiving day is the one national holiday which is American in everything from Cape Cod cranberries to the traditional turkey gobbler who loses his red-jowled head on a certain Wednesday afternoon in November. This year America, thankful for the 1937 measure of national prosperity, closes eyes momentarily in hasty gratitude . . . and hopes that the present financial and trade slump is ONLY a slump; not the predicted second post-war depression.

And You?

The Roosevelt family (not the Oyster Bay Roosevelt family) will carve the annual Thanxday gobbler in Warm Springs, Georgia, Thursday.

Emitting its characteristic shriek "FOO-FOO", it is with pardonable pride and permissible prestigious procedure that for the first time the likeness of the Yippoo bird appears above to astound and amaze the scientists of the world.

SCIENCE BAFLED

Known only to a very few by its scientific name (Yippoo sukuhtofalldis), this strange creature clearly establishes a link between bird and mammal—the weakest link in the chain of animal life.

It was drawn from memory by Mickey Slingluff, who saw it in a vision. Like Galahad, only Mickey was pure enough to be granted such a privilege, but unlike King Arthur's trusty, the surrealist athlete was able to leave a tangible trace of his great experience.

FOREIGN OPINION

Dr. Maximilian J. F. Wienerstrudel, famous Viennese yeast specialist, when contacted by trans-Atlantic telephone and given a description of the Yippoo, verified Slingluff's conception of the creature in all its details. Wienerstrudel is the president of the International Prevaricators Association.

Asked his opinion of the matter, Mr. Dwight Bentel, journalism head, issued the following statement: "I have definite proof that this figment of a childish mind is NOT the Yippoo bird. It looks to me as if Mickey must have had a bad dream, during which time his idea of a Thanksgiving turkey got mixed up with something else."

SONG HAS SOUR NOTES

New Theme For Prison Picture

"SOMETHING TO SING ABOUT" (rank optimists!) with James Cagney and opponents; "Adventurous Blonde" with Glenda Farrell and Barton McLane. Fox Mission Theater.

This program goes the League Against Double Features one better. It would be impossible to figure which of the two is the "B" picture. (Is there a "C" classification?)

CAGNEY STRUGGLES

The Cagney picture is a gruesome struggle—Cagney against scenario, director, and leading lady—and Cagney loses. He fights gallantly, turning on all of the pleasant Cagneyisms and in that respect the picture is alive—but Miss Daw must attempt to act in addition to her singing, and a very poor story must be unfolded—so Cagney, by force of superior adversaries, comes out badly defeated and the picture emerges a badly constructed and produced bit.

One always feels a bit sorry for individuals with ability when they are so hopelessly struggling against superior odds. And Mr. Cagney has ability, although four out of five of his pictures hide the fact (this one among them). He has a directness and a vivacity which are refreshing when not completely submerged in cheapness and twaddle.

GLENDA LISPS

The second feature is another of the Torchy Blane series—and perhaps it's better to say no more. Glenda Farrell—still lisps.

The only thing to recommend the program is the California-Stanford game short. If you take advice—do that science assignment instead.

—HUGH GILLIS.

"ALCATRAZ" with John Litel, Ann Sheridan, Mary Maguire, and Dick Purcell; "45 Fathers" with Jane Withers. Fox California theater.

Continuing the cycle of prison pictures, "Alcatraz Island" deviates from the usual procedure of jail-break and what goes on within prison walls by telling the story of an extortionist who, like Al Capone, is finally convicted by the government on the charge of evading his income tax.

The efforts of his daughter, whom he has tried to send to an exclusive girls' boarding school, in obtaining his release provide the theme of the second half of the film.

Acting in this film is better than average. Litel, as the father who is convicted, gives a sincere and forceful characterization. Ann Sheridan, in a very poor part, is strikingly beautiful, while Mary Maguire, given a much meatier role, is not quite sure of herself. She is known as the "Mary Pickford of Australia"—why, nobody seems to know.

JANE AGAIN

Jane Withers, in "45 Fathers", goes about her usual business of breaking furniture, wrecking the peaceful atmosphere of an old man's "Spear and Gun Club", and foiling the attempts of a socialite to "hook" a young man, who is taking care of her since her father died. A so-so program picture, which is made amusing only by the feats of The Harthams, who do a burlesque on ball room dancing and turn a court into furore with their ventriloquism.

HIGH SPOTS: In "Alcatraz", Litel spending his first night "on the rock" listening to the periodic, nerve-racking fog horn of the Golden Gate; a convict out to "get" Litel, meeting another convict who intends to get HIM. In "45 Fathers", the courtroom scene.

Partial Grid Sked Given

New Schools Negotiating For Contests

SOUTHERN ARIZONA TEAM TO OPEN SEASON REGISTRATION DAY IN LOCAL STADIUM

By WILBUR KORSMEIER
Spartan Daily Sports Editor

A partial and tentative 1938 grid schedule was announced yesterday by Dudley S. DeGroot, head of the Physical Education department and head football coach. The list includes many of the better teams encountered this year, and new schools with whom negotiations are now being made.

Coach DeGroot intimated that Santa Barbara State and Montana State have been seeking dates on next year's calendar with the thought of a home-and-home agreement. Whether or not these two schools will provide opposition for the Spartans next year is not quite definite.

LENGTHY SCHEDULE AGAIN

Because of the apparent success of the full schedule this year, another lengthy list of games will be in store again next season. Starting out again on Registration Day, the Spartans are scheduled to meet the Tempe Bulldogs of Arizona State Teachers college under the stadium lights.

Although it is certain in regard to some of the colleges, specific dates have not been set for all of them. The College of Pacific will come to San Jose for a night game October 21, and on the following Saturday, October 29, it is definite that the locals will travel to San Diego to face the Aztecs in a Shrine benefit game.

THREE HOME GAMES

Flagstaff, the team that gave the Spartans plenty of trouble this season, will again come to San Jose, as will Charley Erb's Humboldt Lumberjacks. The razzle-dazzle Redlands outfit is also slated to play again in the local stadium.

A game that will pit an outstanding northwest team against the San Joseans is the Willamette clash, tentatively set for picturesque Multnomah Stadium in Portland. There is a possibility that this game will be played in Salem, however. A victory for the Spartans will even the score at two-all.

Whether or not the Spartans will return to the Islands again will be decided after the local gridders reach Hawaii. On the results of this conference depend much of the remainder of the 1938 schedule.

DAILY QUINTET WINS INTRAMURAL TITLE FROM ACORNS

By DAN O'NEILL

Chalk up a championship for the Spartan Daily! They played their heads off last night and this morning finds them intramural basketball champions of San Jose State college. The Acorns were the losers and the final score was 46 to 34.

WELCH SCORES

Playing inspired ball, the Daily team hit their stride five minutes after the contest began. Curtis, Smersfelt and Hodgson put the Acorns into the lead by sinking buckets soon after the opening whistle. But with the score 12 to 6 in favor of the Acorns, the scribes began their real offensive thrust of the night. Niles and Radunich sunk successive shots to tie the score at 12 all and from there on the Daily team was never headed. Welch started the winners on to victory by dumping one in to make the count 14 to 12. Then the scoring parade started. Welch hit the net twice more, bringing the total to 18. Ellis shot a beauty from the side, and Niles contributed a charity toss to bring the score to 21 to 12. Here the Acorns came out of their slump as Smersfelt hit the net for two points to up the Acorn total to 14. Carruth followed his mate with another goal. However, Welch tallied just before the half ended to bring the Daily total to 23. A free toss made by Hodgson and another Acorn goal ended the half with the Daily leading 23 to 19.

RADUNICH, WELCH, NILES

The pace quickened in the second half. Radunich, Welch, and Niles did most of the Daily scoring, but their lead was at all times threatened because of the offensive power displayed by Carruth and Curtis. Ellis and Radunich put the finishing touches on the poor Acorns by contributing timely tallies during the final moments of play.

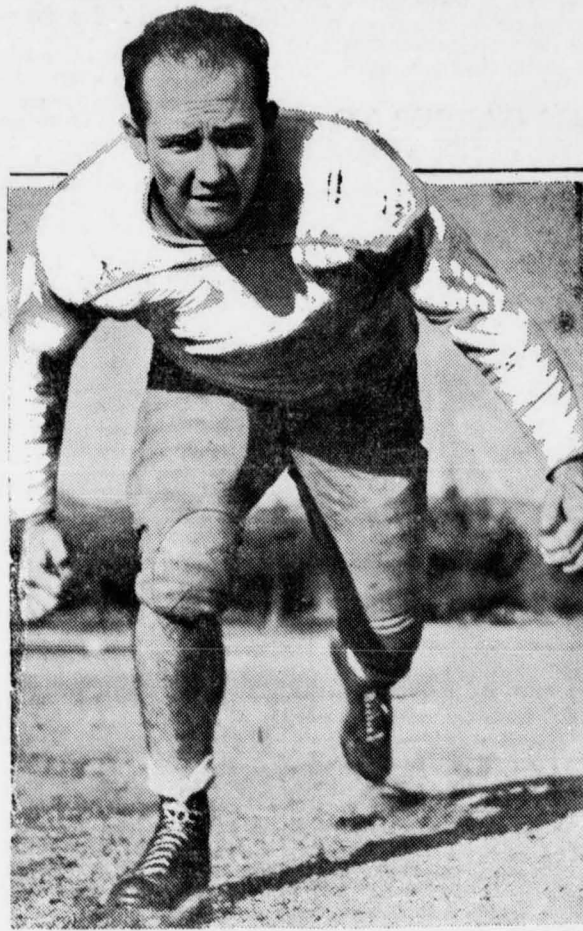

The Acorns missed the services of Kohn, stellar guard, who was tossed out for being too rough. The Daily team was forced to begin the contest minus Nick Radunich who apparently forgot all about the game. However, Nick came just in the nick of time and contributed his share to the Spartan victory. Ellis, playing at guard for the scribes, turned in an outstanding game. Besides scoring 9 points, he starred defensively. His mate at guard, Bruce Daily, held in the check the vaunted Acorn scorers and was in the thick of the fray throughout.

Single Touchdown Made On Pass Against San Diegans

SAN JOSE, CALIFORNIA, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1937

LEADS FORWARD WALL . . .

HERB WARD, 209 pound left tackle of the invading San Diego Aztecs, has not failed to find a place on an all-league team since 1932. A senior, Ward has been one of the outstanding men on the San Diego forward wall in the two successive championship campaigns by the Border City eleven.

Forward Wall To Average Near 200 Pounds

Keith Birlem Out Of Holiday Clash

A forward wall that has not yielded a single touchdown this year will perform for the San Diego State college Aztecs on the turf of Spartan Stadium Thursday.

Coach Leo Calland has an outfit that has rolled up an enviable record, and that was undefeated, untied, and unscored on until the Redlands game. The Bulldogs pulled the prize upset of the year when they connected with a pass and a field goal to down the championship Aztecs.

WIN TITLE

Last Saturday the border city lads invaded Santa Barbara to battle the Gauchos for the title of the Southern California conference. The Santa Barbara team claimed a line that weighed at a 206 pound average, with speedy Howard Yaeger as the star ball-carrier. San Diego's line, tipping the scales at a mere 200 pounds, stopped every Gaucho thrust, and when the game was over, the Aztecs had two touchdowns and the title in the bag.

HEAVY LINE

Gawin Neilson and Herb Ward weigh in at 206 and 209 pounds respectively at the tackle positions. Herman Baecht and Bill Timmons claim weights of 198 and 195 respectively at the flanker spots, and the guards lean close to the 190 pound mark. John Duich, center, carries 205 pounds, and has been a constant threat in the middle of the line all season.

Coach Dud DeGroot expects to have his outfit at almost full strength. The few men which remained home from Tempe are rounding back into shape, and will no doubt be ready Thursday.

The injury to Keith Birlem, outstanding quarterback and Santa Clara all-opponent choice, will be felt, but DeGroot has Norm Sanders, Dave Titchenal, and Bull Lewis all ready for that position. Birlem will be definitely out of the holiday clash but it is expected he will be in trim for the Hawaiian trip.

SOCCER ELEVEN PRIMED FOR CLASH WITH GOLDEN BEARS

Given added confidence by their 4-1 victory over the University of San Francisco Saturday, Spartan shin-kickers yesterday opened a two-day practice session for tomorrow's game with California.

California "took it on the nose" Saturday, losing to Stanford 1-0, the first defeat of the season for the Bears. California must win tomorrow to assure themselves of the title.

The Spartans hit their real stride for the first time this season in winning from the Dons Saturday. Featuring a nice passing attack and showing strong offensive drive, the locals exhibited the power they have been threatening to show all season.

The two squads played a 1-1 tie in the first meeting this season.

Exhibit Tiny Book

Library Show Case Is Scene Of Display

By FLORENCE TOLAND

Featuring the now famous tiny book of Lincoln's addresses, oddities in literature have been shaped into a novel exhibit now on display in the library show case. Several other minute books on display were loaned by Miss Jeanette Vander Ploeg of the library department.

Of interest are the horn books, which allowed children to handle their own books for the first time, printed about 1700. Mounted on a piece of wood with a small handle, these books were printed on a slip of paper and covered with a piece of horn.

A variation of this type were the battledore books, mounted on cardboard but otherwise the same. This form of children's literature contained easy reading lessons, woodcuts, the Lord's Prayer, the alphabet and numerals. They were printed as late as 1840.

Ancient butcher's bills inscribed in early sumerian cuneiform and used by the ur dynasty of kings who ruled from 2400 to 2100 B.C. are also to be seen.

JAN GARBER TO RETURN FRIDAY

Jan Garber and his dance orchestra, in a return engagement, will appear at the Civic auditorium Friday night.

Featuring sweet and melodious tunes both classical and popular, dancing will begin at 8:30 p.m.

Soloists with the aggregation are Russell Brown, Fritz Heilbron, Tony Allen, and Rudy Rudisal.

MOSHER SPEAKS

At its weekly meeting held yesterday, the San Jose State college Pre-Legal club was addressed

By CHARLOTTE LOWE
Advice on correct apparel for college came out of the Home Economics department this week from the instructor of clothing, Miss Pauline Lynch.

To the relief of many Miss Lynch announced that she believes low waistlines will not become fashionable due to the fact that the present mode is too comfortable and suitable to the American woman.

Combining her own knowledge with the rules given out by a representative of Vogue magazine who recently visited the department, Miss Lynch stated, "The correct length for daytime skirts is 14 inches from the floor, for afternoon from 12 to 14, and for evening, ankle or full length."

"Broad shoulders and full sleeves are still popular, though in a modified form," she declared. "The use of many darts is taking the place of pleats."

This year, fullness in skirts lies below the hips, she said, and lines are much straighter.

"My advice to campus girls," Miss Lynch stated, "is to be conservative in choice of color. Choose one color for a base, varying the tone. It is best to select a coat in this color and work from this. In this manner only one set of accessories is needed."

Miss Lynch suggests sport clothes for school, cuban or flat heeled shoes.

"Whatever you do, don't try to dress out of your own type," she concluded.

by Dr. Raymond Mosher, who demonstrated how personnel tests and standardized aptitude tests can be used as a basis for indicating success in law. The meeting was presided over by O. M. Broyles, Social Science instructor and adviser of the club.
