Russian Comedy Plays Before Packed House; Few Tickets Remain

Jean Holloway, Bill Jennings Have Leads In Soviet Farce; Norman Berg Is Stage Manager

Playing to a capacity audience, "Squaring the Circle", a roaring farce of love under the crowded housing conditions of the new Russia, opened last night in the Little Theater. The performance will be repeated tonight and Friday evening at 8:30.

With Jean Holloway, May McBride, Bill Jennings, and Frank

Wilson, who was scheduled to play the part of Abram in "Squaring the Circle" was stricken yesterday with an infection, which he sustained in the play's "brawl" scene at a recent rehearsal and was confined to the Health Cottage late yesterday.

James Clancy, speech instructor, substituted for Wilson last night and will probably do so again tonight.

Wilson playing the romantic leads, the play moves from one complicated situation to the next. Featured in the supporting roles are Victor Carlock, Francis Pearson, and John Knight. Others in the cast include June Falcone, Morah Jones, Etta Green, and Eileen Brown.

FEW TICKETS LEFT
Free student tickets will be issued from the Speech office, Room 49, today and tomorrow from 3 to 5 in the afternoon.

Dr. Newby Acts For Seniors Today

Lower Class Excluded From Annual "Mixer"

Freeing themselves from the shackles of lower class naivety, seniors will mix from 11 o'clock until 1 p.m. at their annual get-together to be held in Room 1 of the Art building today, instead of the regular orientation meeting.

A feature of the event will be the presentation of "Pyramus and Thisbe" by Dr. L. C. Newby.

Tommy Gifford, well-known campus crooner, will entertain the dancers with a number of songs rendered in his individualistic style.

Dancing, the principle attraction of the annual get-together, the purpose of which is to better acquaint the class members, will be to the rhythmic mixing of a popular campus dance band. Music suitable for the Big Apple will be furnished for those who desire it.

With informality predominating, the seniors will enjoy refreshments during the noon hour. A charge of ten cents will be made to cover necessary costs incurred in presenting the annual affair.

PROFITS OF PROM CAUSE GRAY HAIRS

Sum To Be Used For Social Activities

WHAT TO DO WITH THE PROM PROFITS?

That is the worry that has Junior classmen befuddled. With a considerable profit made from the successful annual dance sponsored by the juniors, the problem of spending the money is now confronting the third year men and is causing many a gray hair.

A sum will be taken from the profits for social activities of the class, and Prexy John Holtorf indicates that he is willing to consider any suggestion. Purchases, including a class gavel, to become the permanent properties of the group, will be considered.

The money remaining after the necessary items have been taken out will be turned over to the Controller's office, in accordance with the recent regulation that no class activity may be held for profit.

Today, according to class officers, the question will be settled in Room 24 at 11 o'clock, with all juniors urged to be present.

Hugh Gillis, head of the drama department, is the director of the current college production "Squaring the Circle".

Special Meeting In Front Quad At 11 O'clock Today

GILLIS SEEKS TALENT FOR IBSEN DRAMA

Tryouts Will Be Held Next Wednesday In Little Theater

Anxious to find new talent, Mr. Hugh Gillis of the Drama department urges newcomers with or without experience to tryout for parts in "Wild Duck" by Hendrik Ibsen Wednesday, February 2, from 4 to 6 o'clock in the Little Theater.

The play, which will be the fourth of the current season and the most ambitious undertaking of the year, will be produced March 9, 10, and 11.

"Wild Duck", one of Ibsen's best plays, is a dramatic tragedy that ranks among the classic dramas of the world. It will afford a good contrast to the current production, "Squaring the Circle".

For those who desire to tryout, books are on reserve in the library. It is not necessary to memorize a part, but both part and scene should be studied so that independence from the book is possible in the tryout. For further information, those trying out should see Mr. James Clancy or Mr. Gillis.

Walter L. Bachrodt To Speak On Present Bond Issue

Classes To Be Excused So Students May Hear Talk

A special mass meeting of San Jose State college students will be held this morning at eleven o'clock in the front quad to hear Mr. Walter L. Bachrodt, superintendent of schools, speak on the bond issue that will be presented to the voters of San Jose February 1.

CAMPUS EXPANDS

The college recognizes the vital importance of securing the bond issue, as it means that the college will have all of Washington Square if it is passed. As it is, the San Jose high school is now occupying the north-east section of the square, where conditions are such that enrollment has tripled the number for which the buildings were erected.

If the bond issue is passed, the buildings will be turned over to the college, which will relieve crowded conditions here.

It is especially requested that all students who are permanent residents of San Jose attend the meeting, as there are some who are eligible to vote for the issue.

All eleven o'clock classes will be automatically excused for the meeting, and a huge turnout is requested by President T. W. MacQuarrie.

Decide New Flying Organization Will Be "Off Campus"; Twelve Students Sign For Membership

San Jose Business Men Apply For Entrance; Bob Baer To Be Owner

San Jose State college's new Flying club will definitely be an off-campus organization, it was decided at a meeting held yesterday. Approximately 12 college students have enrolled and 7 San Jose business men have applied for membership, according to Dr. Paul Narbutovskih, adviser of the organization.

"The new club will officially have no connection with San Jose State college," Dr. Narbutovskih declared, "and the college will not be responsible for the actions of the group."

A proposition was introduced calling for the incorporation of the club, in order that members would not have their prosperity jeopardized in case of a damage suit. Upon the suggestion by Bob Baer that he be given legal owner-

DAILY EDITORS CO-OP GUESTS

With Executive Editor Wilbur Korsmeier and Managing Editor Ray Minners of the Spartan Daily as guests, the YMCA Co-op House held its weekly banquet last night. Each week some faculty member or prominent students are invited to the Wednesday evening banquet.

The guests spoke briefly concerning the newly-formed house, indicating that such an organization is pioneering in the establishment of more co-operative houses near the campus.

NEWMAN CLUB DANCE TO BE HELD FEB. 25

Plans are rapidly being developed for the annual Newman club dance to be held in Newman Hall February 25.

A popular orchestra is being secured for the gala event which will prove especially popular with Spartan dance fans, according to Newman members.

Hampton Richey, publicity chairman for the dance, announces that special lighting effects are being planned by Santa Clara electrical engineers.

RED RUSSIAN RASSLERS ...

Bill Jennings as Vasya, and Frank Wilson as Abram of "Squaring the Circle", which goes on again tonight and Friday, are illustrating here the "new" Russian mode of "slap 'em when he's down", while Jean Holloway as Ludmilla looks on admiringly. It was during the enacting of this scene that Wilson received the injury that was responsible for his withdrawing from the cast. He is now recuperating in the Health Cottage.

NAMES DAY

GYM JAMS

By MARY MONTGOMERY

Sponsored by the Women's Athletic Association (in case you don't recognize it, that's WAA) in general, and the Swimming club in particular, the quarterly Swim-a-Nic will be held on February 7, a Monday. This affair is for any woman in college who can wangle a cap out of her friends and a heart "OK" out of the Health office.

Swimming will be from 4:30 to 5:30, but come any time. At 6 the group will go en masse to the Italia Hotel for dinner, which costs 50 cents. The affair will end by 7:30 and a splashin' good time is guaranteed.

Physical Education minors, now forming a club, will have a shin-dig this evening at 7 in the Women's gymnasium. A business meeting, games and (oh, boy!) refreshments will be in order.

Does anyone know why the Freshman Majors are publicity shy?

Orchesis initiation was last night. The ceremony followed that of the first Orchesis group at the University of Wisconsin. New members were welcomed and the whole group danced.

What is it that Delma Josephs sees in the gymnasium roof that she spends so much time there?

Fencing club, meeting Tuesdays and Thursdays at 11, is making a big hit (or should we say touch) with both men and women students. It is still open. No requirements.

Volleyball club will have its initial meeting Monday noon under the faculty advisorship of Miss Fraedrichs. It is not too late to sign up.

Also at this time will be played the ping pong games.

The tennis ladder tournament is progressing so rapidly that we can't keep up with it. It has been almost three weeks now since anyone has challenged anyone else.

PLANS DANCE

Don Walker, chairman of the Spartan Knight's dance to be held on February 19, has announced that special bids are being made to which miniature trucks will be attached.

Miss Beatrice Cilker has set February 12 as the date for her marriage to Wesley Hubbard. Miss Cilker, one time Fiesta de Las Rosas queen and State student, is a sister of last quarter's Social Chairman Marion Cilker. Coach Hubbard will act as best man and Marion Cilker as maid of honor.

Thru Clothes Doors

By PATTY BLACKWOOD

With all the frost these mornings, it hardly seems fair to be flaunting of print silks and washables, so I thought COATS a more suitable subject for the present, and PRUSSIA'S really have some nice ones. The spring coats are gayer this year, and do not look as if just anything to jerk on over a pretty dress. They are made to BLEND in with your ensemble, and are also fashioned of interesting materials, with fancy and unusual trimmings of leather and what-nots. For SPORTS-WEAR, Prussia & Co. are showing FINGERTIP lengths which are perfect over skirts and sweaters. These are in HERRINGBONE and DIAGONAL TWEEDS, PLAIDS, and FLEECEs, with padded shoulders and surprise pockets—at $12.95 and $13.95. The FLEECE coats come in such colors as: TOAST, BEIGE GREY, EMERALD GREEN, RED EARTH, and the ever popular NAVY. One in particular, of this group, which took my fancy was an APPLE-GREEN HERRINGBONE Tweed for $12.95—Another feature on a BEIGE GREY FLEECE was the QUILTED REVERS which lent a SPRING touch along with its padded shoulders and hip-length hemline. PRUSSIA'S also have three-quarter length and full-length swing styles with NATURAL LYNX fur collars which are the tops for SPECTATOR SPORTS.

After a general resume of hats, it appears that flowers are to be prevalent on milady's bonnet. INCA-RUST and NAVY are important colors, and co-ed pull-ons in PASTEL FELTS will be high, wide, and handsome with college femmes. Also—a new version of the bandana called "THE KAL-

The blue room . . . red room . . . the hall . . . or east wing . . . Know those places? They belong to that most famous of all houses—the White House, and today we may have an intimate tour through its stately rooms and grounds by opening Ethel Lewis's delightful new book, "The White House", which is an informal history of its architecture, interiors, and gardens, published last year by Dodd, Mead, and Company, New York.

WHITE HOUSE VIEWED BY . . .

Mixing delightfully spicy anecdotes of its occupants and their activities, the author pictures with vivid clearness the White House inside and out, from its early existence to the present day. Because individual rooms their decorations and furniture (which incidentally have changed almost as often as the official tenants) have seemingly gathered history and beauty with the years, the co-ed will get great enjoyment in an informal 'chatty' description of "The White House".

FIRST LADY SPEAKS . . .

Expressing great pride and joy in the grounds surrounding her home, Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt in the book's forward says "The greatest pleasure I find in my life at the White House is having all the flowers I want around me and being able to send them whenever I wish to the friends who will enjoy them".

DWELLING OF THE GREAT . . .

Within the White House walls have lived great Americans. Ceremonies from state funerals to weddings and debuts have taken place there. Today the White House is a stately, majestic, yet gracious home with which every American can look with pride.

Let US look with pride through "The White House" and follow its path down the years.

TAU MU DELTA TO PRESENT CONCERT

Graduating seniors of Tau Mu Delta, national honorary music sorority, will give their annual vocal and instrumental concert soon, it was decided at a meeting which was held at Miss Maurice Thompson's home recently.

A committee of Wilmoth Shankleford, Dorothy Currell, and Eleanor Davis was appointed to discuss plans with Phi Mu Alpha, music honor fraternity, for a party which the two groups will hold jointly in the near future.

President of Tau Delta is Violet Thomas.

History Majors Tea This Afternoon

An informal tea and social meeting will be held this afternoon in Room 1 of the Home Economics building by Sigma Kappa Alpha history honor society.

The tea will be given for all history majors, both upper and lower division.

President of the society is Bernard Murphy, who has charge of arrangements for the tea.

SPARTAN CAGERS ENTRAIN TOMORROW FOR TWO GAME SERIES WITH U. OF NEVADA

Hubbardmen Battle Quintet Averaging Over Six Feet

Coach Bill Hubbard's suddenly "found" cagers embark early tomorrow morning for Reno, Nevada, and a two-game series Friday and Saturday nights with Coach "Doc" Martie's strong Wolf Pack, proclaimed one of the strongest teams in the history of University of Nevada.

Boasting a rafter-scraping squad which averages well over six feet, the Nevada University team, recently returned from a pre-season barnstorming tour of the Rocky Mountains, has lost to four "big-time" schools in the persons of University of Wyoming, Utah Aggies, Brigham Young University, and two games to Colorado University. Their win column lists such schools as Greeley State, Denver University, University of Wyoming (split one and one) and Brigham Young University.

With Coach Hubbard's Spartan men of the hardwood finally showing the type of game they are capable of, State should show well against Nevada. Basketball fans, enthusiastically proclaiming the type of "follow-in" floor game of Hamilton "Nominal" Hodgson, newly-found sophomore forward, look for the blonde star to show up well in the two-game series against the Wolf Pack.

Hubbard will in all probability start the same five as against San Francisco State, that of Thomas and Carroll at guards; Radunich at center, and Smersfelt and either Bendeich or Hodgson at the forward position.

Score-keepers at the Nevada gymnasium will have their hands full both nights, for Martie's men include a Radetich at center and a Radovitch at guard, as in opposition to State's Willie Radunich.

Spartan Mermen Meet Y Saturday

Coach Lyle Collet of the San Francisco Central YMCA swimming team will bring 18 outstanding mermen to Spartan Plunge Saturday night in an effort to avenge the thumping the city splasher took at the hands of Coach Charlie Walker and his team last year.

Collet who was drafted from Chicago where he coached two international "Y" championship teams is out to build up the Y record after a two-year famine during which time the "Y" victories were few and far between, according to a publicity release from San Francisco.

Sparta's mermen will have to be at their peak in order to win Saturday's performance, and accordingly Coach Walker is using all his available strategy in order to combat the strong San Francisco aggregation.

However, the Gold and White will attempt to give students and San Jose spectators a full evening's entertainment, by attempting to put the "screws" on at least one more record, the 300 medley relay, the team to be probably composed of Al Wempe, Captain Howard Withycombe, and Jack Windsor.

GENEROUS REWARD
To the person who returns my two books (Gov'ts in Europe and Prin. of Ed. Psych.) I offer a generous monetary reward. Both books are easily identified as they are underlined with red pencil. BE A PAL!—Don Walker.

NEVADA CAGE STAR

Frosh Nine Has Late Schedule

Due to a late schedule, freshman baseball practice will begin about February 14, according to Gil Bishop, varsity baseball coach.

The schedule for the yearling nine includes a large number of high school and junior college opponents, necessitating a later playing season. Strong competition will come from leading prep and jaycee nines around the bay region.

With 35 candidates already signed, Coach Hovey McDonald is expecting an even larger turnout when the squad holds its first practice the second week in February.

SILVER MOVES UP IN NET STANDINGS

The only change in the varsity tennis ladder this week finds Sterling Silver in the No. 8 spot by virtue of twice defeating George Quetin in straight matches, both times by the score of 6-4, 6-3. Most of the play thus far has been confined to the lower brackets with nobody as yet challenging the supremacy of Number 1 Spartan Racquette Ed Harper.

SPARTANS ADD GAME WITH OAKS TO BASEBALL LIST

Two more games were added to the San Jose State baseball schedule yesterday when Coach Bishop conferred with "Red" Adams, manager of Oakland professional ball club for contests on February 5 and 19.

TENTATIVE DATE
The first of the two contests with Oakland is at the present tentative, and will be played in San Jose. The second game on the 19th is definitely arranged and will be played on the Oaks' home grounds in Oakland.

If the contest on February 5 is definitely scheduled, it will be the initial game of the season for the Spartans, and will give Coach Bishop only one week to "whip" his men into shape. At the present the baseball squad has had few work-outs on the diamond because

State Swimmers Meet Willamette, W.S.C.

By BEN JOHNSON
Assistant Sports Editor

Sparta's 1938 swimming team will journey into the great Pacific Northwest at the conclusion of the regular season to meet Willamette University, Washington State college, and possibly the University of Idaho, according to the fourteen meet schedule released yesterday by Coach Charlie Walker.

Plans for the trip have been tentatively set for a couple of weeks, but it wasn't until Monday that final word came from Willamette putting the final completion on the schedule. As yet nothing definite has been heard from Idaho, but confirmation is expected in a couple of days.

Besides the northern engagements, four collegiate meets, two club engagements, and four AAU championship events have been lined up for the Spartan splashes. The college affairs include California, Stanford, Menlo junior college, and Stockton junior college. This latter meet will take place on the first leg of the post-season trip which will be made by automobile.

Sports Personalities

Elbert "Pinky" Garcia, head yell leader and prominent member of San Jose's varsity baseball squad, was born and reared in the vicinity of Redwood City, where he attended his prep school days and was outstanding in student activities and athletics.

Garcia came to San Jose in 1934 and in his stay here has been very prominent in baseball, and boxing, and was elected head yell leader for the present school year. In his athletic activities, Garcia excels in baseball. This is his second year on the varsity and has proved himself capable of holding his own when it comes to playing the first base position. Garcia also handles the bat with equal ability.

At the present, the former Redwood City star is a junior and has one more year of competition. He is majoring in commerce and will graduate in 1939.

Freshman Cagers Face Two Squads Tomorrow Night In Twin Feature

Arnerich Reverts To Original Lineup

Dissatisfied with the appearance of the Spartan freshman Tuesday night when they defeated San Francisco State junior varsity, Coach Larry Arnerich of the San Jose yearlings will return to his former lineup tomorrow night when the frosh play a double header in Spartan Pavilion.

Experimenting with his quintet, Arnerich opened the game in the bay city with a revised team on the floor. For the first ten minutes the team functioned as a unit, but from there on the passing and shooting left much to be desired.

The freshman mentor stated yesterday that he expected two tough games tomorrow when the St. Leo's and Five Wounds CYO quintets oppose the Spartan Babes in a twin-bill.

Planning to use the entire squad if possible, Arnerich gave indication that he might have to use the starting five men the major part of the time. Anderson and Bachman at forwards, Keeley in the pivot spot and Lakin and Cancilla in the guard positions will compose the first quintet.

Next game for the "Mites" after Friday's bargain bill is scheduled for February 4 when they tangle with the Santa Clara freshmen in the second game between the two squads.

Golf Delegates Meet Saturday

Two delegates from San Jose State college will meet with representatives of the Northern California Intercollegiate Golf conference at San Francisco Saturday to map out the conference schedule for the coming season, according to Coach Bill Hubbard.

Jack Phelps and Johnny Marlais, members of the golf team, are to represent State at the meeting. Along with the conference schedule to come under discussion, the delegates will also make various rule changes and probably select sites for the matches.

St. Mary's, Santa Clara, U.S.F., and San Jose State make up the golf conference teams, which will be represented.

RAY STRONG OF S. F. CO-OPERATIVE SPEAKS TO S. J. ART MAJORS

Young Artists Of Today Offered Positions In Government Pictorial Departments Due To Photography Influence

Declaring that the biggest field for young artists today is with government departments doing practical work, Mr. Ray Strong of the Artists Cooperative in San Francisco spoke Tuesday before freshman and sophomore art majors.

"As those in charge of this type of government work, as well as most advertising firms, want visual and pictorial form instead of writing, artists are going to play one of the most important roles in society for this season," Mr. Strong asserted in his talk on "The opportunity for art jobs".

PHOTOGRAPHY INFLUENCE

This movement was brought about through the use of photography for advertising purposes and story telling as it is done in several weekly pictorial magazines. This resulted in government departments using the idea in the construction of charts and literature to show the natural resources and depict ways and means to help the deficient resources such as forests.

For example, there are charts made by the forestry department portraying the amount of timber now available as compared with the amount several years ago, the San Francisco painter pointed out. Mr. Strong explained that it is difficult to sell or exhibit art work in the bay cities because collectors want paintings by famous artists, the result being that the galleries exhibit only art works by the better known artists. For this reason there is a movement by art workers to unite so members may share the expenses of exhibiting their works at art galleries and to bring up the prices on all types of work.

"Nowadays one may hear the laughter of children in art galleries where classes are being held for them in creative painting," the artist commented. "There is a lot being done to bring appreciation of art to the laymen and to teach new artists, and people are getting away from the old type of art enjoyment.

ART DOESN'T AWE

"Art today does not over-awe people because exhibitions are now being held in many of the smaller cities of the country instead of just a few big cities. This results in more people being able to enjoy many of the fine paintings and thereby gaining a better appreciation of art," Mr. Strong concluded.

An example of the work that is being exhibited throughout the country is now on display in Room 1 of the Art building.
