SAN JOSE, CALIFORNIA, MONDAY, JANUARY 23, 1939

FROSH DROP THRILLER TO BRONCOS, 33 TO 29; MAESTRI OUTSTANDING

By JOHN SPURGEON

A fighting San Jose State freshman five was finally downed by the Santa Clara frosh in the last half of a game at the Civic Auditorium Saturday night by a score of 33 to 29.

Sturz and Maestri, playing outstanding ball both on offense and defense, kept the Macmen in the game during the first session. It was in this period that Texdahl shined at center, taking the ball off the backboard and tipping in shots.

STATE LEADS

The Spartan freshmen only lost the lead once during the first half after it started, and then they quickly regained it.

At the end of the half-time period, the Spartlets had a lead of one point. The score being 18-17.

Upon returning to the floor, Santa Clara went into high gear and grabbed a lead that the Macmen were never quite able to surpass.

OFFENSE DIES

The freshmen's offense, like their big brothers, completely disappeared in the second period, except for the closing seconds of the encounter.

In the closing minutes of the contest the Spartlets showed signs of offensive power; however, the Missionlets had achieved too large a lead for the Staters to overcome.

THREE MINUTES

Trailing at 23 to 31, with three minutes to go, three quick baskets; one by Texdahl, one by Tippman, and one by Sturz brought the count up to 29 to 31.

It was at this time, that Mangin, Santa Clara's high point man dumped a one-hander in to cinch the game for the Bronco freshmen.

STURZ HIGH POINT MAN

Sturz dropped in eight points to claim high point honors for San Jose. Texdahl made six; followed then Maestri four, Tippman four; and Carter, Shoening, and Crockett followed with two apiece.

The freshmen, in taking this de-

Swimmers Fail At PAA Meet

With most of the team members hampered by colds, Coach Charlie Walker's San Jose tank team failed to make a showing in the P.A.A. 50-yard freestyle championships at Fountaine plunge, San Francisco, last Friday night.

None of the Spartan entries managed to splash into the finals, but Coach Walker's tankmen profited from the competition afforded them by top swimmers in the bay area.

The local waterdogs go back to work today in preparation for the coming aqua campaign which Mentor Walker has lined out for his proteges. The Spartans have tentatively scheduled a list of top-notch teams for this season, and the program which Walker has lined up is still awaiting approval from Athletic Manager Gilbert Bishop.

feat, played a much better brand of ball than they had in any of their previous encounters.

Mangin of Santa Clara was high point man of the evening with 18 points to his credit.

TENNIS TEAM LOOKS STRONG IN CONTESTS AGAINST CLUB

Not even the threat of rain kept Erwin Blesh's tennis team from inaugurating their 1939 campaign Friday as the boys competed against a group of players representing the San Jose Tennis Club.

Of six matches played Sparta's netsters won two and broke even in three others.

George Kifer won a singles encounter against Dr. Otto George by scores of 6-4, 6-2. Dr. George, who is the California veteran champion, was out-steadied by his younger opponent.

EGLING BEATEN

Victor Ehle drew with Frank Smith of the Tennis club, 7-5 and 6-8. George Rotholtz, former Spartan star, bested George Egling 6-3, 3-6, 6-4, and in another singles match Walter James led George Quetin 6-4, 4-6, 4-0.

The Spartan combination of Ehle and Graves drew with James and George, 6-1, 4-6. Rotholtz and Smith of the club drew with Egling and Krysiak, 6-2, 4-6.

KRYSIAK PROMISING

Showing championship form in the Spartans were Kifer and Eg-ling, who are ranked the two best players in the college. John Krysiak, formerly of Modesto J.C. was also promising.

Next match for the locals is scheduled for February 10 against San Mateo J.C. Today's challenge match will be played between George Quetin and Don Graves for the number three position on the varsity.

STATE GOLFER SCORES ACE

Franklin (Hap) Day, San Jose State college junior, achieved a life-long golfing ambition Saturday morning on the Hillview golf course when he scored a hole-in-one—a feat never before accomplished by a Washington Square golfer.

Playing with Barbara Spaulding, an eye-witness to the feat, Day used a six-iron to hole the ball on the short 140 yard fourth green.

Amann Is New Fistic Hope; 1800 Attend

By BEN MELZER

Big Al Britton entered the ring against "Mild" Bill Amann last Friday night in the final bout of the All-College boxing tourney and said:

"Stop me Bill, if you've heard this one."

Bill has no sense of humor, so he did . . . in 65 seconds! Britton lay crumpled on the canvas like a raw oyster on toast.

Earlier in the evening "Mild" Bill's humor was worse and it took him about 40 seconds to dispose of Tony Greco, even before the bewildered Tony had a chance. And incidentally, it would be superfluous to tell you that "Mild" Bill Amann, former San Jose high school ace, stole the show with his bombing performance.

The 3200 casaba fans who had turned the Civic auditorium into a noisy arena during the first half, settled back in their seats after the intermission and confined their noise making to disagreeing with the "men in stripes".

While Bruce Hale was threading the hoop at all angles to aid the Bronco slaughter with 13 digits in the second period to run his game total up to 19, Sparta's scoring guns were silenced by an airtight Santa Clara defense that limited the Hubbardsmen to three field goals.

The Mission City team jumped into a 5-0 lead on field goals by Hale and Passaglia and a free toss by Nelson, but the Spartans made a quick comeback on field goals by Kotta and Bendeich and a free throw by Thomas. But this was the closest San Jose ever came to catching the Broncos who weren't headed from then on.

HALF-TIME LEAD

Santa Clara's half-time lead was mainly due to the work of Ferrick and Hale, who each collected six points, while the entire Spartan lineup "divided up" for San Jose's end of the scoring.

A great deal of the Broncos' success can be attributed to the effectiveness of George Barsi's men at the foul line where they hit the netted halo for 15 out of 17 charity tosses.

ANDERSON

Hale, who topped the scorers with 19 points, was ably assisted by Bob Ferrick who came across with 11 from his guard position. Webb Anderson was the best of the Spartan lot with six points, and Captain Lloyd Thomas threw in five.

Thomas turned in the outstanding game for the Bill Hubbard entry, and ranked second only to Santa Clara's Hale as the outstanding man on the floor.

Dress Rehearsal Of Play Tonight

Drama 'Beggar On Horseback' Opens Thursday Night At 8

MOST DIFFICULT PLAY OF YEAR TO STAGE

"The Beggar on Horseback" cast will hold first dress rehearsals tonight in the Little Theater for the first complete view of the hilarious Kaufmann-Connelly production which opens at 8 o'clock Thursday night.

Under the direction of Mr. James Clancy, Speech and Drama instructor, playgoers will be offered the season's most unusual drama—a fantastic comedy in which even the audience will at one time participate as intimates of the cast.

Also the most difficult of the year's nine plays to stage, "Beggar on Horseback" has hundreds of props, numerous scene changes, and costumes which had to be treated for the "dream" characters.

With Mr. Wendell Johnson of the dramatic department as chief technician, the resources of several other departments have been used for the play. Mr. George E. Stone, Photography department head, is making special slides to be projected as background, and Miss Majorie Lucas, of the P. E. department, will assist with the rhythmic dance movements used.

Photographs of most of the fantastic costumes and those of the principle characters will go on display in the library early this week, according to Mr. Clancy.

Student Conducts Novel Experiment

Imulin sugar has been extracted from the common garden dahlia root by W. D. Bradley, student of the Science department, in a series of sugar experiments, according to Dr. Elton S. Stinson, instructor.

According to Stinson, Imulin is the sugar commonly found in the Jerusalem artichoke.

Bradley is also conducting some special research work on the roots of the common sour doke.

MUSIC CONTEST

START WORK
Mr. Matthews urges those intending to compete to start work right away, as music composition requires a lot of time. "I am sure that there are many musically talented students here not in the Music department who would have a good chance to win a prize," he stated.

The winning pieces will be played in a program sometime in May.

Bedding Tempts EARLY RISERS In H. E. Building

By IRENE MELTON

Ho-hum! Students attending classes in the Home Economics building may find little or no pleasure in the "Early American Bedding" display exhibited in the hall showcases.

Snowy-white blankets, fairly radiating warmth and comfort, serve to emphasize the unfairness and cruelty of an educational system that compels people to leave their cozy beds to attend classes in the wee sma' hours of the morning.

OH, SLEEP
The fact that the quilts and blankets were made as far back as 1800 doesn't alter the situation. Like wine, they seem to have improved with age, and their billowy, enveloping softness beckons invitingly to bleary-eyed, disgruntled stragglers en route to eight o'clocks.

OH, S-L-E-E-P
The final straw is the sample of an old-fashioned, four-postered bedstead. This is too much, and one of these mornings some early riser is going to succumb to the temptation. He'll break through the glass of the showcase, wrap himself in a blanket, and snatch a badly-needed forty winks, perhaps dreaming of the world lit. lecture he's missing!

tion of the California Home Economics Association in San Francisco Saturday, January 21.

"Why Educate the Consumer?" was the subject of a lecture given at the gathering, which was held at the Western Women's Club in the bay city.

Among the teachers who attended the affair were: Dr. Margaret Jones, Mrs. Sarah Dowdle, Miss Pauline Lynch, Miss Elizabeth Cameron, Miss Carol Mitchellson, Miss Winifred Reynolds, and Miss Gladys Venzel.

S.G.O. TO LOOK OVER PROSPECTS

For the purpose of looking over prospective members, Sigma Gamma Omega, college on-campus social fraternity, met at the Hotel DeAnza recently at one of their periodical "smokers".

Routine business took up the course of the evening, and plans were laid to hold another "smoker" Wednesday, January 25, at the DeAnza Hotel.

Music Clinic Attended By Instructors

College Band And Symphony Perform Before Large Group

First annual Materials clinic, sponsored by the northern section of the California School Band, Orchestra and Choral association, was held in Morris Dailey auditorium Saturday.

Approximately 125 high school band and orchestra instructors attended.

According to Mr. Merton Carlyon, director of Music Education at Watsonville high school, and president of the northern section, the purpose of the clinic is to acquaint instructors with required orchestra and band selections which will be used in the National Music Festival competition on Treasure Island in April and May.

SYMPHONY PLAYS
Required selections, numbering 49, were played by the San Jose State college symphony under the direction of Mr. Adolph W. Otterstein, and the college band under Thomas E. Eagan.

Otterstein is president of the Fifth Regional Association embracing the states of California, Arizona, Nevada, and Utah, which was represented at the clinic along with the northern California section.

The purpose of the national festival movement, Carlyon said, is to interest young people of high school age in music.

"The instructors presented," he said, "will determine which of the required selections is best suited for his group, and will prepare it for the forthcoming festivals."

Student Art Work Now On Display

Student art work varying from designs for tooth paste boxes to ceramics may be seen in the display in cases and on the walls of the main hall and the alcove of the Art wing.

The exhibition represents the best work from various classes of the Art department and will be changed every week or two according to Miss Leana Fisher, Art teacher in charge of the exhibits.

Work from the following classes are included in this week's exhibit: freshman drawing and composition, freshman design; second quarter design and composition, printed textiles, figure drawing, ceramics and art appreciation lab.

WOMEN HOLD SWIM FEST IN POOL TONIGHT

Frosh vs. Sophomores; Juniors vs. Seniors

The first of three interclass swimming meets for women students will be held at the college pool tonight from 7:30 to 9.

Two dual meets will be run during the course of the evening: juniors versus seniors, and freshmen versus sophomores. Similar meets will be held on the two successive Monday nights. At the end, the team having the largest total score will be declared school champions.

Any woman student may enter the events provided she has had six practices this quarter. Participation in a college class will qualify one. Miss Ruth Burmeister, president of the Women's Swimming club, urges all girls eligible to come tonight, regardless of whether or not they have signed up.

Swimmers are to report at pool desks at 7:10 when the final team line-ups for the events will be decided; and officials for the meet are to report on pool desks at 6:55 according to Miss Gail Tucker, faculty adviser.

Because of the lack of previous experience of most of the participants, Miss Tucker announces that there will be no spectators other than members of the women's swimming classes.

"Whether or not the Student Union will be subject to taxes will depend on the interpretation of the question by the assessor. PURCHASED IN 1936
According to Dr. MacQuarrie, the former library was purchased from the city in 1936 by the San Jose State college corporation, a non-profit organization, which has leased the property to the state since that time.
