

DE VOSS SPEAKS TODAY AT 12:30

Dean of the upper division, Dr. J. C. DeVoss, will speak on "Psychology and Religion" at the Chapel Quarter Hour today at 12:30 in the Little Theater. Soloist will be Harrill Johnson, with Dorothy Currell at the piano. Clare Nichols and Albert Well are co-chairmen.

Three Days Remain Before Revelries; Cast Works Hard

SHOW BEGINS AT 7:30 IN CIVIC AUDITORIUM

With only three days remaining before San Jose State college's annual production of fast and furious music and comedy, the Revelries, Directors Bailey and Melzer and the cast of 60 students are working overtime on rehearsals.

The student-written and produced show, climax to an all-day Spardi Gras celebration, will be presented in the Civic auditorium at 7:30 Friday night.

NEWCOMERS

Newcomers are prominent in the cast, practically the entire bulk of comedy and music featuring many who are making their debut as Revelries entertainers. According to Bailey, the fresh and unusual talent displayed by the performers during rehearsal will make sure-fire hits in the show.

The comedy line-up for the production includes Roberta Long, who played the lead in "Duley" last quarter; Len Baskin, the "Mad Russian"; Happy LaBee, master at rib-tickling dialects; and Bob Tremaine, "Idiot's Delight".

SINGING STARS

Singing stars of the show who will twinkle in the musical portion of the Revelries are Lovely Pat Matranga, blondly beautiful Margaret Morrish, pert, brunette Elinor

Spanish Luncheon Tomorrow Noon

A Spanish luncheon will be served in the cafeteria tomorrow noon, at the regular price of 22 cents. The decorations and the menu will be in keeping with the Spanish theme.

This is one of a series of projects which the class in institutional management are working upon. Elizabeth Jarvis, whose project the Spanish luncheon is, will plan the menu, take charge of the decorations, and compute the food cost.

Those who have presented their projects are Ruth Crawford, Tressie Richards, Mary Gaspard, and Emily Edson.

ART MAJOR WINS DRAWING AWARD

Larry Ogino, San Jose State college art student, has been awarded a cash prize by the Santa Clara County Democratic Central Committee through its Precinct Workers club, for the best drawing submitted to that organization to be used as its official club emblem.

The winning entry is a pen and ink drawing showing the Democratic Donkey in overalls, victorious over the G.O.P. elephant, and bears the prophetic figures, "1940". The award will be officially presented to Ogino at the Horace Mann School Saturday night.

Tradition Brings SEVENTH MEMBER Of Family Here

By MARY ELLEN STULL
Romance, tradition, and San Jose State college go hand in hand in the Thomas B. Hooker family of Hanford, according to pretty Jean Hooker, brunette co-ed, who is the seventh and most recent member of her family to attend college here.

EVER SINCE MOTHER

"Mother went here when it was still a normal school, and since then all of us kids have just taken it for granted that we'll come to college here," Jean smiled.

"We've had one traitor, though. My brother Harwood disregarded tradition and went to Santa Barbara State."

ROMANCE

Three of Jean's sisters met their husbands while on the Washington Square campus. Helen met and married Clayton Schuttich, who is teaching in Carmel. Benita married Carl Wilcox, a member of the advertising staff of the San Jose News, and Betty married Rex Dunipace. Her other sisters who went to school here are lone and Katherine.

Romance for Betty on the campus—well, it runs in the family.

JUNIOR CLASS MEETS AT 12:30 TOMORROW

A gigantic mass meeting of the junior class will be held tomorrow at 12:30 in Room 39 (near the Health office) for the purpose of relaying some of the plans to the entire class, according to Hugh Staley, class president.

"The meeting will be of utmost importance to every junior," said the prexy. "We have had good turnouts for our secret meetings, but in order to give every loyal third-year student a chance to participate in swamping the seniors, this meeting will be held in the open."

Staley expressed the desire to have every member of the class present. The entire list of plans cannot be divulged at the gathering but the most important to the class as a whole will be released.

Pledges Feted By Engineers

Members of Epsilon Nu Gamma, engineering fraternity, entertained 15 pledges at a smoker at the Lion's Den last night. The affair preceded formal initiation scheduled to be held next week.

A magnetic coil, similar to the one shown at the World's Fair, has been constructed by Dave Saverker and Roy Mollenberg, members of the club. The apparatus makes it possible to "float a dishpan in the air", reporter Jack Bisby declares.

This is one of several exhibits to be featured by the fraternity on Spardi Gras day.

Juniors Marked By Big Six; Hugh Staley Tops List

By JERRY STICKLES

Around the halls and by-ways of this institution today are posted lists naming thirteen men, or rather juniors, who will be the first to be snatched by the seniors, according to a late release by the big six last night.

The only thing worrying the big six is whether the juniors will be able to read well enough to know if their names are on the list. If they can't read, it won't be long before they find out in a more forcible manner, the six commented.

"THE SHOTS"

The list will be headed, "The Shots", which will in some way ease the inferiority complex that the juniors naturally hold in awe of the seniors.

"It's best to get the cockiest ones out of the way first," declared Keith Birlem, "then the other class members won't feel so badly when they are snatched. We are trying to be fair during the whole event."

SENIORS, NOTICE

This afternoon in the student body president's office in the Student Union will absolutely be the last day to get Sneak Week information. Please come to that office between the hours of 12 and 4:30. Remember, you will have no chance to participate if you do not register. —Keith Birlem.

Heading the list will be Hugh Staley, who has been acting as president over the junior class of imbeciles last quarter.

Then following in quick succession will be Carlton Peregoy, who may not come through the week as good looking as he started. Herman Zetterquist because of his modesty towards publicity, and Hank Vasconcellos, who doesn't know what it's all about.

REST OF 'EM

And of equal importance will be Doan Carmody, Ed Crotser, Bill Lukenbill, Charlie Anderson, Delos Bagby, Chubby Kotta, Swede Smerfelt, and Bill Gurnea.

If it becomes necessary and Mr. Bill Sweeney violates any senior traditions, seniors will also break traditions and take the necessary measures to show Sweeney that the seniors mean business.

The big six committee from the senior class is composed of Keith Birlem, Jack Marsh, Stan Griffin, Butch Haney, Howie Withycombe, and Archie Eldridge.

Bryce Receives U. C. Fellowship

James Bryce, graduate from San Jose State college last June with an A.B. in Economics, has received a teacher's fellowship at the University of California, according to word received by Dr. William Poytress, head of the Social Science department.

Bryce will begin his duties at the University when it opens for the fall quarter in August.

Seven Neophytes Are Accepted By Business Society

Stanford Educator Is Speaker On Value Of Research

Pi Omega Pi, national business education honor society, accepted seven neophytes into their organization at their initiation meeting last night at Il Campo Bello in Los Gatos.

Mr. Ralph Fields, associate professor of education at Stanford University, spoke on the "Value of Research in Business Education".

Those accepted into the society include Margaret Hull, Margaret Alexander, Anna Marie D'Anna, Virginia McEnerney, Florence Campos, Joseph Myers, and Manuel Silva.

Clifford Horn, president of Pi Omega Pi, presided over the session, assisted by Adelaide Colby in charge of general arrangements for the evening.

Weaver Meadows, commerce instructor, is the local campus sponsor for the club.

Sorority Has Six Vacancies; Frosh Pledges Desired

Gamma Upsilon, organization for girls who work at the desk in the Student Union, desires at least six new members, Vivienne Dennis, president, announced today. Freshmen will be particularly welcome.

Girls who are interested in joining are asked to give their names to Vivienne Dennis or Marcelle Chabre, or to the member in charge of the desk sometime this morning.

Members are requested to place suggestions for officers in the top drawer of the desk in the Union, according to Marcelle Chabre. The membership and nominating committees will meet in the Union at noon to select new members and candidates for officers, the latter to be elected by members of the sorority next week.

RADIO CLUB TO MEET TONIGHT

A meeting of the Radio club will be held tonight at 7:30 in the Shack.

The meeting will consist of continuing the work of remodeling the Shack and all members are urged to be present and lend a hand, according to Mr. Harry Engwicht, club advisor.

At the conclusion of the work refreshments will be served.

My Country 'Tis Of Thee...

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Spartan Daily will from time to time print articles which we believe have a noteworthy significance on the American scene. The Pulitzer prize-winning editorial by R. G. Callvert which was published in the Portland Sunday Oregonian of October 2, 1938:—

In this land of ours, this America, the man we choose as leader dons at no time uniform or insignia to denote his constitutional position as commander-in-chief of armed forces. No member of his cabinet, no civil subordinate, ever attires himself in garments significant of military power.

In this land of ours, this America, the average citizen sees so little of the army that he has not learned to distinguish between a major and a lieutenant from his shoulder straps. When the chief executive addresses his fellow countrymen they gather about him within handclasp distance. Goosestepping regiments are not paraded before him. When he speaks to the civilian population it is not over rank upon rank of helmeted heads.

In this land of ours, this America, there is no tramp of military boots to entertain the visiting statesman. There is no effort to affright him with display of mobile cannon or of facility for mass production of aerial bombers.

In this land of ours, this America, there is no fortification along the several thousand miles of the northern border. In the great fresh water seas that partly separate it from another dominion no naval craft plies the waters. Along its southern border there are no forts, no show of martial strength.

In this land of ours, this America, no youth is conscripted to labor on devices of defense; military training he may take or leave at option. There is no armed force consistent with a policy of aggression. The navy is built against no menace from the western hemisphere, but wholly for defense against that which may threaten from Europe or Asia.

In this land of ours, this America, one-third of the population is foreign born, or native born of foreign or mixed parentage. Our more numerous "minorities" come from fourteen nations. The native born, whatever his descent, has all political and other rights possessed by him who traces his ancestry to the founding fathers. The foreign born of races that are assimilable are admitted to all these privileges if they want them. We have "minorities" but no minority problem.

In this land of ours, this America, the common citizen may criticize without restraint the policies of his government or the aims of the chief executive. He may vote as his judgment or his conscience advises and not as a ruler dictates.

In this land of ours, this America, our songs are dedicated to love and romance, the blue of the night, sails in the sunset, and not to might or to a martyrdom to political cause. Our national anthem has martial words; difficult air. But if you want to hear the organ roll give the people its companion—"America . . . of thee I sing". In lighter patriotism we are nationally cosmopolitan. Unitedly we sing of Dixie or of Ioway, where the tall corn grows, of springtime in the Rockies, or of California, here I come.

In this land of ours, this America, there is not a bomb-proof shelter, and a gas mask is a curiosity. It is not needed that we teach our children where to run when death-hawks darken the sky.

In this land of ours, this America, our troubles, present or prospective, come from within—come from our own mistakes, and injure us alone. Our pledges of peace toward our neighbors are stronger than a ruler's promise or written treaty. We guarantee them by devoting our resources, greater than the resources of any other nations, to upbuilding the industries of peace. We strut no armed might that could be ours. We cause no nation in our half of the world to fear us. None does fear us, nor arm against us.

In this land of ours, this America, we have illuminated the true road to permanent peace. But that is not the sole moral sought herein to be drawn. Rather it is that the blessings of liberty and equality and peace that have been herein recounted are possessed nowhere in the same measure in Europe or Asia and wane or disappear as one nears or enters a land of dictatorship of whatever brand. This liberty, this equality, this peace, are imbedded in the American form of government. We shall ever retain them if foreignisms that would dig them out and destroy them are barred from our shores. If you cherish this liberty, this equality, this peace that is peace material and peace spiritual—then defend with all your might the American ideal of government.

It's a HORSE On Me

A FABLE

By BEN MELZER

Joe Babbitt prided himself on being the shrewdest horse dealer this side of the Mississippi river. He could talk turkey to a cold chicken and have hash turned over to him in the morning. That's how good he was, which is of course, no mean recommendation.

"I have yet to find a man who can put one over on me in the matter of horse-flesh. When I do, it'll be a surprise to me."

Babbitt's way of relaxing was to go off to the other man's countryside and see what deals he could cook up. This is exactly what a lot of other people do on other things besides financial.

Ben Melzer

The Sunday he was taking his little daughter for a ride in the country was something different for Joe. He could relax then, but no other time.

A horse, a bit on the funny side, in a pasture lured his daughter. She wanted to pat the horse, so he stopped the car and took her over to the horse. The horse greeted them with a "Hello, folks!" Babbitt was dumbfounded; he had never heard of a talking horse. He answered, "How are you, old Betsy?" The horse answered, "My name isn't Betsy!" "I'm awfully sorry," said Babbitt. He looked about him for a possible ventriloquist; there was nothing.

"I imagine you're surprised that I can talk. Well that is nothing! Did you know that I am the only horse that ever won a hundred races at Santa Anita; that at one time I copped two Kentucky derbies, and that I have beaten the best horses in Asia, Europe, Africa and the state of New Jersey. I am indeed, a famous horse."

Babbitt was aghast. This was indeed a famous horse. A fortune could be made with a talking horse. "Millions! Millions!"

He rushed to the farmhouse, met a tall lean farmer, and requested a sale for "the horse in the pasture". The farmer agreed, obtained the necessary legal papers and in a few preliminaries had sold the horse to Babbitt for 25 dollars on the dotted line. Babbitt couldn't understand anything so easy. He was jubilant.

"Say," he exclaimed, "don't you know you have a talking horse? A horse that actually talks?"

The farmer nodded nonchalantly in the affirmative. "Why sure I know he can talk. He's been talking for years."

Babbitt was exhilarated, "Why man, that horse told me he had won races at Santa Anita, two Kentucky derbies and had won races all over the world. Why, he's a seventh wonder of the world! The world!"

"Land Sakes, Alive," drawled the farmer, "You don't believe what he told you, do you? He's a blasted liar . . ."

(CONTRIBUTORS' COLUMN)

PUSH AND PULL

Dear Thrust and Parry Editor:

According to what we are taught in the Education department, cooperation is one of the big points in modern, progressive education. Also, that it is something that is not inherent, but that the spirit of it must be instilled into the children. But how can a person teach something like that when evidently they don't even know what the word means?

FOR WHAT?

It seems high time that those of us who are going into the teaching field snap out of the lethargy into which we seem to have fallen and begin to work together a bit more towards some common aims and purposes. Perhaps we do not realize it, but there is no greater need for professional cooperation and loyalty in any field more than that of teaching.

Soon many of us will become members of an army of three million that is guiding an even greater army of twenty-seven million boys and girls. If we don't begin to work together while we are in training, how are we ever going to do it when we are out in the front line trenches?

—Sincerely, Homer Alderman.

Editor, Thrust and Parry:

Since it is more than obvious that our "play-reviewers", however well-intentioned, know nothing at all about the stage and drama technique in particular, I herewith submit my application for the post of reviewer.

WELL!

I am an inveterate playgoer, student of drama, an experienced director, stagehand, ham actor and amateur playwright. Among my acquaintances I number several professional actors and dozens of good and bad amateurs.

Have been educated to distinguish between the techniques of the stage, motion pictures, and vaudeville.

I am not carrying a torch for anything but the fair name of drama as she is dramaed. I am only an experienced amateur in the field of creative writing who feels that he could do a much better job of this particular thing by reason of a good deal of practical experience.

—Yours for better reviewing,
John Weybrew.

O.K.

Dear Thrust and Parry:
You know that was a swell dance we had before breakfast the other morning. The committee is to be congratulated for having such a swell orchestra, entertainers, decorations and all the other stuff that makes a good dance.

It was a lot of fun and I wish we would have more of them from time to time these refreshing May mornings. —Signed, Ham Ricketts

Up and Down The Sports Rialto

WITH DAN O'NEILL

ABOUT OJAI

A few dots and dashes about the recent Ojai invitational tennis tournament in which Erwin Blesh's net aces came through with outstanding individual performances...

Although the boys came home minus medals Coach Blesh was very proud of the improvement shown by the whole squad. For instance the work of Harper and Egling in the intercollegiate doubles was pleasing to Headman Blesh. They lost to the combination of Hudlow and Parker from Redlands but the match was extended to three sets. The scores were 6-8, 6-2, 9-7, with the last set so close that it could have gone either way.

Harper also played a fine match in the singles against Kendis, U.C.L.A. star. He came from behind in the second set and had a fine chance to win but due to a recent attack of the flu he lacked the stamina to finish out on top.

WERE ON SPOT

In the men's open division Ken Boscacci and George Quetin were decidedly on the spot. The pair was eliminated by Bortolozzo and Rigus after a hard struggle, but Blesh was amazed at the fine play-acting of his entrants.

Krysiak, Ehle and Kifer also participated in the tourney and acquitted themselves notably. Krysiak won his first match and was later eliminated by Bill Stanford, number one man at U.C.L.A. Krysiak and Ehle went to the quarter-finals in the doubles before being checked.

So the boys of Coach Blesh surprised everyone by their sterling play and with a few breaks might have come back with a title or two dangling from their belts.

EXTRA HELPING

Say a prayer for the Santa Barbara Gauchos. The track men of that institution must face Tiny Hartranft's harriers Saturday and from reports the southland college has a cinder squad that rates little better than the average prep squad. They were beaten handily by Fresno State and we all know by now what the Spartans did to Hanner's brigade.

San Jose Net Squad Thumps Broncos; Closes Third Perfect League Schedule

Dual Showing Of Grid Squad On Tap This Week

Two football games on the program for this week ought to keep the gridder "Sons of Sparta" busy.

Thursday night in their weekly practice session before the large no-pay audience at the stadium and then a quick change of scenery for Friday afternoon on the San Carlos turf before a costume bedecked audience of Spardi Gras revellers, the DeGroot mentored outfit will perform.

Not having any definite information on the rosters of the teams he expects to field, Dud explained that he would probably leave the three-team idea and pick two teams for each of the two game periods.

So successful was their first spring appearance beneath the arcs last Thursday evening that Dud has decided he will outfit the teams with two sets of colored jerseys so as to acquaint the spectators with all of the performing players.

Hal Buffa, senior guard publicized in yesterday's paper by a feminine member of the fourth estate will probably be the target of all eyes in the forthcoming two games because of his apparent "opposite-sex" appeal. Buff is one of those hard-plugging guards usually performing sans publicity and always keeping at the job. This new angle will probably arouse many of the lethargic line-men into new fight and a new squad will be fielded on Spardi Gras day to prove that "Handsome Hal" Buffa is not the only guard on the team.

Seriously, Coaches Warner and DeGroot will be looking for even a better display of offense in this week's two contests and with the two-game idea in evidence, more rivalry will probably turn the two contests into a game really worth watching.

BALL TEAMS SEEK LEADS

Thrills and excitement have come thick and fast in the battle for the league leadership of the intramural softball tournament, and today finds the Darkhorses and Internationals fighting for the coveted top spot.

The Darkhorses are leading the Stoooges 3 to 2 at the end of the fourth inning in one of the fastest games of the current tournament.

On the other field the Internationals found things easy with the DTO's and after four innings have a substantial lead of 8 to 0. The Internationals have looked impressive in their last two starts and are tied with the Darkhorses for first place.

The Jugglers and Leftovers are staging a slugging battle for fourth position in the league. At the end of the fourth the Jugglers lead the Leftovers 13 to 8.

S. J. MEETS GAUCHOS AND PHANTOM FOE NEXT SATURDAY

San Jose's cinder machine faces a dual assignment this week-end when the Spartans face Santa Barbara State and Drake University.

Although the Spartans will engage in only one meet, the results will decide two encounters. Coach Tiny Hartranft named a 16-man squad Monday night for the Santa Barbara trip and it will be the performance of this team that will also determine the result of the Drake meet.

SEND RESULTS EAST

Outcome of the Drake encounter will not be known for at least a week after the Santa Barbara engagement. Hartranft will send the Spartan performances in the Gaucho meet to Des Moines where they will be compared with those of the Bulldog dual encounter a week later. Drake is just opening its season although the Bulldogs have some outstanding performers who competed in the Drake Relays last Saturday.

Unless Santa Barbara turns up with a one-man track team during the week, San Jose's Spartans will annex their fourth straight dual meet victory Saturday. Hartranft and the 16-man squad will leave Friday night for the Channel City, doped to win handily on past performances.

DOUBLE DUTY

Several Spartan entries will do double duty against the Gauchos,

Frosh Spikemen Schedule Additional Meet

Just when freshmen track stars had put away their spikes for the 1939 season, Coach Tiny Hartranft announced yesterday that still another meet remains on the frosh schedule.

Opposition will be a strong prep aggregation, Washington Union high school of Centerville. The meet will be held at the Centerville oval, tomorrow afternoon at 3:30.

Whether this will be the final frosh meet or not depends upon success of the P. E. office in scheduling meets for the Spartlets within the next two weeks. The abbreviated yearling season is due to the fact that the frosh are not entered in a conference, and will not participate in either the Fresno Relays or Santa Barbara meet.

Frosh stars believe that they have yet to hit their best form, and welcome Thursday's meet as an added opportunity to show their stuff.

Especially anxious to better previous marks and prove their potential varsity power are Captain Bill Tykol in the sprints, Karl Evans in the broad jump, John Sidell in the 880, Jim Groves, miler; Wayne Rose, hurdler; Leland Vaughan, high jumper; and Tom Sidell, pole vaulter.

NOTICE

There will be a WAA council meeting Thursday, 12:10. Important. —V. Moore.

Spartan Netmen Swamp Mission City Team 7-2

Santa Clara's Broncos bounced right out of the tennis picture yesterday when Erwin Blesh's Spartans lambasted the Mission lads, 7 matches to 2 on the local club courts.

Ken Leake, star Bronco racketeer, showed up to good advantage for the visitors, defeating John Krysiak, high-stepping Spartan.

The doubles team of Egling and Harper, heavy favorites in the San Francisco tournament, came through in great style to smash Leake and Sullivan in two straight sets. In another close contest the Santa Clara team of Storm and Boyer upset Ehle and Quetin in three close sets.

The Spartan netmen have run up an enviable record, going undefeated for three consecutive years in conference play. Yesterday's games culminated the season's conference schedule for the Spartans.

On Saturday Blesh will send three men to the individual championships in San Francisco. John Krysiak will uphold the singles and George Egling and Ed Harper will uphold the doubles event.

The players and scores follow: Leake (SC) def. Krysiak (SJ) 6-4, 6-4; Harper (SJ) def. Storm (SC) 6-4, 6-1; Ehle (SJ) won by default; Kifer (SJ) def. Sullivan (SC) 6-3, 6-3; Egling (SJ) won by default. Boscacci (SJ) def. Boyer (SC) 6-1, 4-6, 6-2.

Egling and Harper (SJ) def. Leake and Sullivan (SC) 6-3, 6-3; Storm and Boyer (SC) def. Ehle and Quetin (SJ) 6-8, 6-3, 7-5; Boscacci and Krysiak won by default.

NOTICE

Yal Omeders! We will meet tonight at the apartment of James Rouse, 167 E. St. John street to draw up the schedule for working in our Spardi Gras booth. It is essential that every member be there. We will also discuss the hayride. The meeting starts at 7:30. —Arthur Chomor.

SWIM SEASON NEARING END

Spartan splashers of San Jose State are coming to the end of a successful season with only three more swims on the schedule before the C.C.A.A. meet in Santa Barbara.

Two of these meets are with Cal Poly. On Saturday night the San Joseans will work out against the coast team and the Santa Maria Swimming club in a triangular meet. On May 13 the Mustangs will come north for a return engagement.

MEET MENLO

After returning from San Luis Obispo they will have a rematch with the Menlo junior college. The Spartans left the Menlo boys in their backwash several weeks ago.

St. Mary's Gaels are the last scheduled team to meet the Spartans. The date for the hostilities has not yet been announced due to conflicting engagements at Moraga.

SANTA BARBARA

Climaxing the season will be the C.C.A.A. tournament in Santa Barbara May 19 and 20. Eight California colleges will come together to settle the champions of the California colleges.

Students Attend Youth Conference At State Capitol

Local Delegates Are Named On Special Committees

By RUTH PLUMB

Some 500 California students attended the Second Annual Youth Model Legislature when it convened two days ago, April 29 and 30, in Sacramento.

Approximately fifty of these students were representatives of local organizations, such as the campus and city YWCA, the YMCA, the Young Democrats, the Sociology club, and the Santa Clara Youth Council.

NEW IMPORTANCE

Until now very little importance has been attached to the movement as a whole. The youth of California were just realizing their potential significance in national and civic affairs. But today with national attention focused on them (Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt sent her greetings) they are quickly becoming aware of and accepting their responsibilities in regard to social betterment. They have begun to utilize their powers.

DISCUSSIONS

Round-table discussions were conducted Saturday afternoon by youth chairmen assisted by adult experts. Topics which received special attention were the national health program, housing and slum clearance, jobs and unemployment, democratic liberties, education, recreation and sports.

Their findings were read and debated in the assembly proceedings Sunday and will become part of the year's legislative program.

Several San Jose students were elected to special convention committees. With the Auditing and Ways committee will be Margaret Mackey; the Resolutions committee, Edith Ownstead; the committee on Rules and Procedures, Elizabeth Stevens.

BOUCKE ON AIR TONIGHT AT 9:15

Bob Boucke, campus singer who recently appeared with Cupid Dan, will make a reappearance over KQW this evening at 9:15. Boucke will be a regular member of the program every Wednesday evening at this time.

REVELRIES

Tully, and Tommy "Penny Serenade" Gifford.

Sheldon "Carpet" Taix and his Californians will supply the scintillating swing for the chorus, a baker's dozen of feminine pulchritude.

Revelries tickets, general admission for 35 cents and reserved seats at 50 cents, may be purchased at the controller's office or in several downtown stores, Roos Bros., Ferguson's, or Sherman Clay. According to reports, the tickets are going fast, and everyone is urged to buy his ticket early.

Outdoor Dance Friday Evening; Taix Orchestra

A long awaited hope will become a reality on Friday evening with the first outdoor evening dance ever held on Washington Square, declared Steve Hosa, Social Affairs chairman, yesterday.

Following the Spartan Revelries, dancers will glide to the rhythm of Sheldon Taix and his orchestra on the specially decorated tennis courts. There will be plenty of room for the dancers and the courts will be smooth and danceable, according to Hosa.

One end of the courts will feature an Oriental garden setting with lanterns and all, while the opposite end will be decidedly Western in theme. Refreshments will be served all evening and dancing will last from 10 until 1 a.m.

Hosa says the Spardi Gras dance this year promises to be the most successful affair of this kind ever held on the campus, and the entire committee is working hard to make it so.

There will be no charge for the dance to those who have student body cards.

Spanish Society Plans Rio Del Mar Party

With the alumni dinner-dance a successful past occasion, members of Sigma Delta Pi, national Spanish society, are laying plans for their annual beach party excursion to Rio Del Mar.

Although plans are not complete at the present time, the beach party will be held sometime during the latter part of May. Members of the group will spend the entire day at the beach, said Martin Olivarri, president.

Operator Roth

Gordon Roth, junior Radio Speech major, received word from the Federal Communications Commission in San Francisco recently that he will receive his broadcast operator's license soon.

Roth applied for a licensed technician's permit.

Plan 'Jitter Bug' For Spardi Gras

A new kind of "Jitter Bug" will be the concession held by the Entomology club this year at Spardi Gras this year.

Called "Bucking Bronco" last year, the club concession will again test the endurance of hardened bronco busters, says John Harville, president.

In charge of construction of the concession is "Rocky" Pisano. Dorothy Marquard is chairman of the prize committee, and Ernestine Smith will take charge of decorations.

Reed Discusses Fair Sculpture At Art Enthusiast Meeting

Telling of his impressions of the sculpture of the Golden Gate Exposition, Thomas H. Reed, sculpture instructor, spoke before a gathering of art enthusiasts Tuesday in the Little Theater.

Mr. Reed declared during his lecture that the sculpture was both good and bad, pointing out the faulty or poorer pieces as well as emphasizing those that were excellent examples of fine sculpture.

The sculpture instructor illustrated his talk by means of the electric lantern and photographs taken when he visited the Exposition.

This was the first in a series of lectures featuring "The Art of the Exposition", which will be given by members of the Art faculty during this month. The

ORGAN CONCERTS TO CONTINUE

The first of a series of planned out-of-doors organ concerts was heard by a good-sized audience in the inner quad at noon yesterday.

Thus encouraged, the Music department plans to continue these programs, declares Miss Eleanor Joy, secretary of the department.

The next serenade will be heard Tuesday noon, the organist and program to be announced later. Miss Dorothy Currell was yesterday's soloist.

next talk will be by Herbert H. Sanders on ceramics Monday, May 8.
