Feminine Leads For 'Seagull' Selected

Play Director Will Cast Male Roles Today At 4

Four feminine cast members for Chekov's "Seagull", to be presented as a playreading by the San Jose Players, February 22 and 23, were announced late last night by Miss Margaret Douglas, director.

At the tryouts yesterday afternoon six men were chosen but will not be definitely cast until after re-tryouts today at 4:00. They are as follows: Howard Melton, Eli Dragout, Blend Dorer, Charles Leach, Johnson Mosier, and Paul Hobbs.

WOMEN PLAYERS
Of the women selected for the reading, Arkandina, actress, will be played by Lorraine Callander, best known for her work in "Quality Street" and as a student director. Nina, young, with stage aspirations, will be portrayed by Janey Bronson, first year student and member of last year's "Our Town" cast.

FIRST OF ITS KIND
Eileen Brown, well-known for her monologues, will interpret the role of Masha, and Hilda Hanchett will play Pauline. Barbara Bellah has been chosen as stage direction reader.

All PE majors planning on attending must sign up with Ethel Hambrey or Harvey Rhodes on the lists posted in both gyms.

DR. T. Z. KOO LECTURES TODAY

Chinese Discusses Far Eastern Situation At 4 O'clock

Noted for his ability as an interpreter of international affairs, and his charm as a speaker, Dr. T. Z. Koo will speak in the Morris Dailey auditorium today at 4:00 on the subject, "There is no peace in Chinese universities".

His ability as a speaker is attested by the fact that he will address the San Francisco Commonwealth Club, known to secure only the foremost lecturers, directly before speaking here.

In addition to his reputation as an authority on world affairs, Dr. Koo is an accomplished flutist and connoisseur of Oriental art.

The address is being sponsored by the YWCA and YMCA, who on the suggestion of Dr. MacQuarrie, chose the Morris Dailey auditorium because of Dr. Koo's popularity on his previous visit to San Jose, as a speaker for the Open Forum.

FIVE-MAN PISTOL TEAM MEETS BRONCO SQUAD

The Police School pistol team will meet Santa Clara University ROTC next Thursday afternoon at the Santa Clara range, announces Frank Kallam, captain of the State team.

A five-man team will be taken, according to Kallam, to compete in the first meet of the quarter.

Each man will fire thirty rounds; ten at slow fire, ten at time, and ten at rapid fire.

Tentative plans for the group include a week-end trip in the future, with stops at Fresno, Bakersfield, Santa Barbara, and Salinas police departments in these respective towns.

Women's Intramural Sport Days Start Saturday

Interclass and intramural games have been scheduled for the weekly Saturday sports days held in the Women's gym from 8:00 to 12:00. Games are open to all women interested, with three practices in the particular sport required before playing.

Saturday, February 10, from 11 to 1 o'clock is the time set for the first interclass volleyball playoff. The winner of this game will get its class year engraved on the WAA plaque hanging in the foyer of the Women's gym.

A LITTLE GAS GOES LONG WAY

◆ 60,000 miles—a little more than twice around the world! This is how far one "cub" plane would travel on 3000 gallons of gasoline, averaging 20 miles to a gallon.

Planes at the San Jose Airport use approximately 3000 gallons of gasoline a month, according to Frank F. Petersen, head of the Aviation department. There are eleven planes in use at the airport—five by the Civil Aeronautics Authority flight training, two by the two college flying clubs, and four private ships.

Eighty percent of the gasoline used is for CAA flight training, Petersen said.

Orchestra Plays New Revelries Numbers

Two new songs, selected for the spring quarter Spartan Revelries, will be introduced by Lowell Jones, San Jose State college band leader, at the Sainte Claire hotel dinner dance Saturday night, Director Bill Van Vleck announces.

The compositions are Jack Harcourt's "Every Moment" and Wilbur Scott's "Blue Solitude".

Acting as master of ceremonies during the introduction of the original songs, Van Vleck will interview the students. Saturday night will inaugurate the presentation of a series of programs at the hotel introducing songs by college students turned in for performance at the Revelries, Van Vleck said.

Any embryonic songwriters, according to Van Vleck, may turn in compositions to the Revelries music director, Sheldon Taix, or to Lowell Jones for consideration. Three pieces each week are expected to be introduced, with the possibility that the program may go over to the KQW hook-up in the future, he said.

Lantern Slides Made For Science Classes

Butterflies, bugs, the size of a house, and prehistoric scribbings... and all in color!

Dr. Robert Rhodes, science professor, is preserving, for future classes, colored lantern slides of nearly everything that walks, crawls, or flies.

Dr. Karl Hazeltine, Mr. John H. Applegarth, and Les Brubaker, in connection with the work, have built 35-millimeter film holders into the backs of standard-size cameras, for the benefit of the finer lenses and longer bellows extensions.

Entertainment Opens With Basketball Contest At 7:30

SECOND T. B. TESTS MUST BE CHECKED

Persons who took the second tuberculin test on Wednesday should report to the Health office sometime today for readings, announces Miss Margaret Twombly.

Miss Twombly also states that the facilities of the physiotherapy section of the department will be at the disposal of students during the noon hour.

Two Debate Club Members Speak Tomorrow At 4:00

"The Subsidization of Football" will be the debate subject when two Debate club members meet two St. Mary's speakers in a radio broadcast over station KSFO tomorrow, 4 to 4:30.

Jean Crites, presenting the negative side, and George Hopper, affirmatively speaking, will represent San Jose State college. The two St. Mary's debaters will give introductory speeches.

Charles Leach and Woodrow Semerau, also Debate club members, will be honor guests at a dinner at Salinas junior college today. After-dinner speeches on "Inflation Neutrality" will be given by the two students, followed by group discussions on the same subject.

Leroy Troutner is debate manager, and Mr. Ralph Eckert of the Speech department is faculty adviser of the group.

LA TORRE APPOINTMENTS

Seniors, Faculty

Seniors and faculty members must make their appointments for La Torre pictures at once if they wish to appear in the school year-book, Assistant Editor Alberta Gross announced yesterday. The date for the appearance of the annual is not far distant and pictures must be in, she further warned.

Another warning was also issued to those students who have not paid for their proofs. This charge

Frosh-Soph Mixer. More than 500 lower classmen have these three words on the tip of their tongues today, as the time draws nearer every minute when the gaiety and festivity of the evening will commence.

BASKETBALL GAME
The program tonight will open at 7:30 tonight with a basketball game between the freshmen and sophomores in the Men's gym. Lusty-throated followers of each team will fill the gymnasium to lend their support to their classmates on the hardwood floor.

After the game the lights will dim, the music will sound out, and the students will dance. There'll be an intermission and with it will come entertainment, refreshments, and the like. And then more dancing.

WRITE NAMES
Doris Rowe, general chairman, urges students to write their names on the slips of papers that they will be given when they enter either of the doors (one facing on Fourth street, the other on San Carlos street).

"Come, stag, and wear your class garb," she concluded.

MUSIC RECITAL TUESDAY IN AUDITORIUM

Presenting an hour program of vocal and instrumental music, the San Jose State college Music department will sponsor its first student recital of the quarter Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock in the Morris Dailey auditorium.

Among the featured attractions on the program will be the famous Bach "Concerto in D Minor" for two violins, played by Mrs. Rose Ellen Dudgeon Saunders and Miss Margaret Hoare, both junior music students, according to Adolph W. Otterstein, head of the department.

Tuesday's recital will be the first in a series of student programs sponsored by the Music department.

NO BORROWING; NO 'BEEFS' . . .

Nearly 800 students posed before the camera Wednesday and Thursday to complete the last lap of a committee's attempt to do away with borrowed student body cards.

Human nature, like anything else, has a tendency to veer from the straight and narrow that has been ruled by the hand of society. As a result, the conscious-stricken tendencies of those students who have allowed others to borrow their student body cards has become nil. Instead there has come about a justifiable "beef" from those who would benefit from the sale of tickets but who have been "gyped" by outsiders using student cards.

Now with the use of photographed cards the exchanging of these pasteboards is almost, if not entirely, eliminated. What was once a bug-a-boo among students and administration officials now remains a thing of the past.

Credit for this goes to several students who have had the foresight and ability to bring this change about. To Steve Hosa and Bill Rodrick goes a vote of thanks for their work in this project.

DEFINITE ACTION AWAITED . . .

Since $500,000 was first appropriated for the building of a new San Jose State college library, the administration of this college has steadily pushed the idea of getting work started on the structure, important to the further development of the college and vitally necessary to relieve the overcrowded conditions now existing.

So far, despite the attempts made, their work has not borne fruit, and yesterday Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie and Head Librarian Miss Joyce Backus traveled to Sacramento to push the construction of the building in the not too distant future.

Of course, now we have no $500,000 with which to construct the building, but we do have $275,000 appropriated and readily available for construction when and if it starts. That sum would go a long way towards building a library, which, if it would not fulfill former expectations, would help considerably towards relieving present congested conditions such as we find in the reserve book room and would provide us with a few more classrooms, also very much needed, for now the enrollment is far greater than was anticipated upon the college's original construction.

So the Spartan Daily sincerely hopes, as the balance of the student body and faculty must, that this visit to Sacramento will bear fruit in the form of a definite construction date for a new and finer library as contrasted to the seemingly fruitless efforts of the past. —Rodrick.

Thinking It Over . . .

By GARDNER WATERS

On the right, Ladeez and Gentlemen, we have the protector of society, the saviour of American ideals, the last ditch of democracy. The Dies Committee, Ladeez and Gentlemen, the Dies Committee.

And on our left we have the freer of the slave, the destroyer of the arch-fiend capitalism, the exhalter of the worker. The Communist Party, Ladeez and Gentlemen, the Communist Party.

It would be a gory fight if we could only get them into one ring. But if that were to happen probably one would whip the other so badly that that would be the end of the latter, and that would not be so good for the United States.

So long as we have both extremes of the economic scale freely swinging at each other and with little danger of either being struck a death blow, then we need have little worry that the interests of any group will be suppressed by another.

Almost everyone who has done any thinking on the subject is sympathetic and partial to one extreme or the other. It is more difficult, therefore, to see the part that each faction plays in the development and growth of a civilization which refuses to remain static no matter how many would like to see it so.

Unfortunately, capitalism and terms which have no definite meaning—except that to those who favor the one, the other is something evil, a threat to civilization, and so on. Perhaps it really makes no difference after all whether there is any generally accepted meaning to these terms.

What is capitalism today will not be capitalism two, three generations hence. What is communism today will not be communism 30 or 50 years from now. Out of the welter of opposing social forces there develop new political and economic structures, new systems of thought. What they will be, is today only guesswork.

Leaving aside the question of economic organization, it would seem that in any event, that type of political organization which would permit of the greatest growth and with a minimum of conflict is one which would be of democratic form.

It may be that there are times when only a revolution can sever the chains which prevent progress. But certainly revolution is to be used as a last resort, and certainly there is not yet, and perhaps never will be, need for revolutionary methods in this country.

To those of a leftist inclination, progress in the United States seems too slow. To those who favor conservative measures, the change is coming too rapidly. But so long as progress is not altogether hindered by the conservatives, we need not worry. So long as the revolutionary element does not attain its goal, we need not worry.

The virtue of a quasi-democratic political organization, such as exists in this country, is that growth with a minimum of conflict is possible. Conflict cannot be eliminated, but it may be minimized.

As for the Dies Committee, the American Legion, and other allied conservative groups, and as for the so-called communist-controlled groups, we need not fear so long as they only bark. When they bite, then is the time for sterner measures.

Scanning The Stacks

By IRENE MELTON

If the librarian at the reference desk screams a nerve-wrackingly loud answer to your politely phrased question one of these days, don't be too surprised. It's not her fault, honestly.

You see, it seems some of the brighter fraternity lads devised as part of initiation rites for their neophytes, memorizing of the Greek alphabet. This Machiavellian scheme has resulted in shattered nerves for both the pledges and the librarians, who every day point out to droves of initiates the well-thumbed pages of Webster's Dictionary.

So if you hear a chorus of "Alpha, Beta, etc." the next time you're near the reference desk, just grin and bear it. The librarians do.

What with Finland's dramatic part in today's war headlines, it is unusual to note her fame in a more peaceful field. Frans Eemil Sillanpaa, Finnish novelist, has been announced as the winner of the Nobel Prize in Literature for 1939.

This famous writer and short story author has written many works, but only one is in our library. This is MEEK HERITAGE, translated from the Finnish and first published in England.

As up-to-date as tomorrow's headlines is the 1939 Britannica Book of the Year, just received at the reference desk. This work, a newsreel in book form, contains scores of vital, timely pictures, the majority of which have been taken from Life magazine.

Demands for reference work on natural science subjects increased almost 20% over last quarter, according to the education desk librarian.

Pictures, projects, and books on grains, grasses, stars, and animal life are being constantly called for by student teachers. The unit school system now in use, whereby all the schools teach the same subject at approximately the same time, is undoubtedly the cause for the increased demand, the librarian reveals.

SWING MUSIC HELPS NEW TYPE PLAY

"The modern trend toward 'swing' types of music, as contrasted with the sweet, romantic type, adds much to the interest of modern musical comedy," says Mr. Hugh Gillis, head of the Drama department.

Gillis cited a new type of play which he described as a combination of vaudeville with legitimate drama. "This is perhaps best exemplified by the production, 'Pins and Needles', in which the lines were spoken to the direct accompaniment of swing music," he said. This play was comparatively successful, Gillis pointed out, having run three years on Broadway. "However, in my opinion," he concluded, "swing could never affect drama of the serious type because it is so entirely unsuited to the mood of this kind of production."

BOXERS MEET 'Y' TONIGHT

Knight Team Out To Win Novice Fight Titles

Chuck Kerwin's Spartan Knight Novice boxing team has definitely served notice that they are out to win the team trophy in the tournament January 25th and 26th by adding two new men to their squad giving them an entrant in every division, according to Chauncey Benevento, manager.

HEAVYWEIGHT INTEREST
Additional interest in the heavy-weight class has been added since the entrance of Walt Mazzone of the Spartan Knights. The other new Knight entrant is Russell Wetterstrom in the 135-pound class. Both men, as with the other Knight entrants, plan to box left-handed.

Mazzone, it is said, looks exceptionally good in the gym, and is reportedly training on raw meat to give him the killer instinct. According to Benevento, Mazzone has been exhibiting extreme viciousness in workouts.

DEADLINE SET
Portal warned all managers to be sure and get all entry blanks in by noon Wednesday, as that is absolutely the deadline. All managers and boxers must be present at the drawings and weigh-ins at 4:00 on Wednesday afternoon.

NEW MARKS MAY BE SET IN SWIM TRIALS

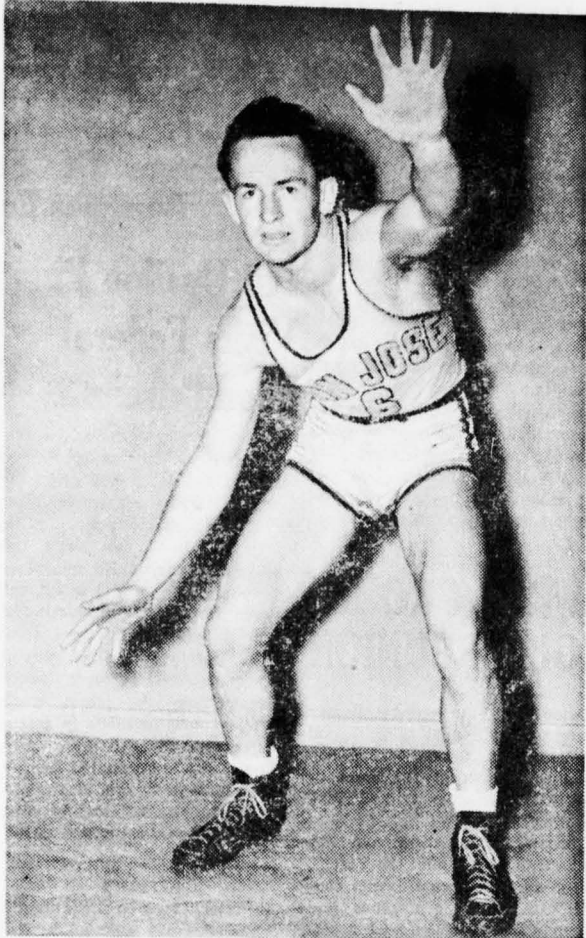

Stepping off the hundred yards in each of the three swim events, the second round of time trials get under way in the pool this afternoon as Charlie Walker gets closer to those distance heats that now form the question mark for his 1940 aquatic aggregation.

WEMPE MISSING
Martin Wempe has yet failed to show for practice and leaves the 220 and quarter mile events with no depth. Dick Ofstad is the only veteran for the gruelling distances, but might step in to take over Wempe's duties in good style. Ofstad was coming ahead fast at the conclusion of last year's season and if he can match his late marks early this year will be right in there for all of the bigger meets.

Johnny Hatch, by virtue of his college and pool records in the 100-yard breaststroke, will probably have little trouble with the four lap race and his big trial will come next week over the eight lap or regular 200-yard intercollegiate distance. Dean Foster, who can match strokes with Hatch at eight laps, will have his first chance at

VARSITY CAGERS HEAD SOUTH FOR TWO GAMES WITH GAUCHO QUINTET

Miracles Lead In Hoop Contest

Miracles garnered the lead in the intramural basketball tournament yesterday when they defeated the Mohawks, 35-21. Quad Rats were victorious over Los Piojos, who have as yet to break into the win column, 40-34.

Johnson of the Los Piojos team outpointed all players for a losing cause, with 15 points. Baskin and Buckingham held scoring honors for the Quad rats with 13 and 11 points, respectively. McKinney tallied 12 digits for Los Piojos, while Swartzell made 12 points for Mohawks, and Sweatt 10 for the Miracles.

Hubbard and company head south this morning for their second bid in the California Collegiate Athletic Association basketball race, where the Spartans battle Santa Barbara State tonight and again tomorrow on the Gauchos' home court.

MAKING TRIP

Making the trip for the Spartans are Allen, Bachman, Carruth, Carter, Figone, Ford, Kotta, Maestri, Moore, Smersfelt, Tornell, Sturz, and Urhammer.

The Spartans will employ a brand new offense against the Gauchos in order to overcome what they lack in height. Hubbard's probable starting lineup finds Kotta, and Carruth at forwards, Urhammer at center, and Allen and Maestri at the guards.

TEAM TO BEAT

Santa Barbara, who has been tabbed as the team to beat in the CCAA conference, will be at its full strength for the two games. Steward, Guerrero, and Brewster, remembered by Spartan cage fans for their fine showing here in the State college cage "clinic", will carry the Gauchos' offensive thrusts.

At the present time the Spartan

Crack Portal Team Makes First Test Of 1940 Campaign

San Francisco YMCA furnishes the first 1940 competition for Coach DeWitt Portal's varsity boxing team tonight in San Francisco. The matches are billed to start at 8 o'clock.

BOLICH vs. SCHWARTZ

Coach Milt Aftergut has virtually the same team he had in the past, and many of the matches will be return goes between boys who have fought before. For example, one of the feature matches will pit Spartan Pete Bolich against Maury Schwartz. These two boys met for the first time in the Junior PAA tournament four years ago.

Another return match will present Jim Kincaid against Earl Gonsolin of the San Francisco 'Y'. Gonsolin is reputedly one of the classiest boxers of the Bay area, and gave Kincaid a boxing lesson for two rounds at San Jose last year. Kincaid won a TKO in the last round, and Gonsolin is out to prove that he lost on a lucky punch.

TAYLOR FAVORED

Don Taylor, one of the five Spartan boxers to tour the Orient, will also be watched with interest in his match with Mickey Losberger of the 'Y'. Losberger won a close decision last year, but Taylor's added experience may pull him through tonight.

Aftergut and Portal have matched their men on paper, and the matches billed tonight are, tentatively, the YMCA men billed first: Stanley Sapiro vs. Wilson Maruyama, Nick Chippa vs. George Konoshima, Bobby Wyma n vs. Dick Myagawa, Harry Budde vs. Mark Guerra, Earl Russell vs. Charlie Stone, Eric Morse vs. Bill Moulden, Tim Heffernan vs. Bill Amann, and Hiram McQueen vs. Don Presley or Herman Zetterquist.

Badminton Tourney Starts Today Noon

All members of the student body are eligible to participate in a mixed doubles elimination badminton tournament to be held at noon today in the Men's gym, Lyman Nickel has emphasized.

Entrants may bring their own partners to the matches or draw for them at 12:10, Nickel said. A small fee will be charged to help pay for birds.

contingent is leading the league by virtue of their two wins over Fresno last week.

The Spartans will be seeking revenge tonight after the drubbing handed them by the Gauchos recently in the cage clinic tourney. A double win for the Spartans this week will give them at least a tie for the title.

Frosh Face Two Foes In Week-End Contests

Taking to the road for the third time in four days, San Jose's strong frosh casaba contingent will tangle with the Salinas junior college quintet tonight in the southerners' gym. Tomorrow evening San Mateo's once defeated five will tangle on the jaycee floor with the local yearlings in the second contest between the two schools this season.

Although Coach Carroll's squad dropped a close decision to Menlo Wednesday, the frosh are playing their best brand of ball to date. In their last three contests, the yearlings have averaged over 49 points per game. The reason for the sudden offensive spurt is the newly-found forward combination of Warren Sunseri and Kaleb Borg. Handicapped by failure to find a pair of running mates for Pete Filice, high-scoring pivot man, the Carrollmen were slow starting this season.

Baseball

Varsity players will be distributed equipment Monday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock. Freshmen will get their equipment Tuesday afternoon at the same time. All equipment will be given out by "Pop" Howell.

College faculty leaders and student body officers will be among the honored guests at the Freshmen Retreat at the Lion's Den in Alum Rock Park tomorrow afternoon and evening.

Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie, president of the college, Dr. James DeVoss, dean of the upper division, and Paul Pitman, dean of men, will be among those honored, as will Hugh Staley, student body president.

FROSH-SPONSORED

The affair is sponsored by the Frosh Commons, the only campus organization devoted exclusively to the interests of freshman men.

Following the afternoon recreational period which will include team sports and various games there will be a banquet at 5:30. A round table discussion by three faculty members will highlight the evening.

ECKERT, HEATH

Leading the discussions are Ralph G. Eckert of the Speech department, speaking on "The choice of a mate", Claude M. Settles of the social science division, who will talk on "The choice of a philosophy", and Harrison F. Heath, mathematics professor who has chosen "The choice of a vacation" for his topic.

All freshman men planning to attend and stay for the evening banquet are asked to sign at the 'Y' office by noon today. Tickets for the dinner are 35 cents, an added cost of 10 cents to be asked for transportation. Students with cars are asked to bring them and indicate this on the sign-up sheet.

Frosh Commons, headed by Ronald Maas as president, is sponsored by the college YMCA and has for faculty adviser Mr. Milton Reddahl.
