Finnish Relief Program In Auditorium Today At 11

Dr. Graham Presents Talk On Growth Of Nationalism

By ELIZABETH MOODY
With the combined efforts of the Social Science and Music departments, an hour-long program featuring the theme "Finlandia" will be presented this morning at 11 o'clock in the Morris Dailey auditorium. Contributing to the entertainment will be the college Symphonic band, the A Cappella choir, and Dr. Frederick Graham, associate professor of history.

Dr. Graham will present an eight-minute address, discussing the culture and background of the Finnish people, with particular attention to the growth of nationalism among them.

MACQUARRIE APPROVES
Speaking of the program, Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie, college president, said, "We should, as a matter of principle, express our interest in a project which offers relief to a people whose territory has been invaded, and whose people have been bombed from the air, apparently without provocation, and certainly through no fault of their own."

CLASSES DISMISSED
All classes will be dismissed to facilitate attendance, according to Adolph W. Otterstein, head of the Music department.

The program will include four numbers each by the Symphonic band and the A Cappella choir. The choir will sing Tchesnokoff's "Cherubim Song", "In Heaven Above", by Christianson, with Stanley Taft singing the solo; "Bushes and Briar", by Vaughan

Quarterly Swim Meet Tomorrow Afternoon, 3:15

Women's quarterly swim-a-nic has been set for tomorrow afternoon in the pool, according to Miss Gail Tucker, swim instructor.

Open to all women—"sink eases" and "swim eases"—the party will be followed by an Italian dinner at the Italian hotel on North Market street. Price is 50 cents for the dinner.

The swim begins at 3:15 p.m. although co-eds may enter the pool anytime between that time and 5:15, Miss Tucker said. Dinner will follow at 5:45 to 7 o'clock.

Students may go to either the dinner or swim, but should attend both, Miss Tucker said. Those expecting to attend the dinner should sign the bulletin board in the pool or in the Women's gym.

DEBATE TEAM CHOSEN BY FROSH

A meeting of the Interclass Debate Tournament coaches yesterday afternoon resulted in selection of the freshman team speakers, and requests by the sophomore, junior, and freshman coaches for more volunteers to enter the contest.

Ronald Maas and Vincent Carbone are the members of the freshman team, chosen after an elimination debate to select the best speakers. All students interested in debating and who have not participated in a college debate before are asked to contact Dave Atkinson, sophomore coach, Charles Leach, junior coach, and Jeanne Crites, senior coach.

The tournament, sponsored by the Spartan Senate, honorary debate society, is on the pertinent topic of "Subsidization of Football" and speeches will be made on the subject. "Resolved: That subsidization of athletics is justifiable".

Winners of the novice debate tournament will have their names engraved on the prize trophy. Interclass run-offs will be given before the Debate class meetings, Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock, February 19 and 26.

Dave Atkinson is chairman of the committee in charge of the tournament.

FREE SMALLPOX VACCINATIONS GIVEN TUESDAY

Smallpox vaccinations will be given free to students on Tuesday, February 20, Health office officials announce.

The tests are not required of swimmers as it is dangerous for one to swim the same quarter he is vaccinated, declares Miss Margaret Twombly, Health department head.

Last day to sign for vaccinations is Friday.

BOYS 'OVERRUN' 1915 NORMAL SCHOOL

"We have forty-one boys in school, more than we have had for ten years!"

Don't get excited, girls. This was in 1915, not 1940, so there's still a chance. Quoted in the February, 1915 issue of the Normal Times as the words of Dr. Dailey, the article is headed, "Many Boys Attending Normal".

Says the item, "You don't see these forty-one boys sneaking around out of sight, either. In fact, they are so much in evidence that seeing them scattered about the halls, you might think there were at least 100 of them!"

Three Days Left To Purchase Prom Bids

Positively No Tickets Sold At Auditorium

Students have only three days left to purchase their bids to the semi-formal Junior Prom February 24 in the Civic auditorium, according to Bob Swanson, general chairman.

He further states that bids are going fast and that positively no bids will be sold at the door.

PHELAN CONTEST Prizes Awarded In Six Divisions

A total of fifty-four dollars will be awarded to winners in each of the six divisions of the annual Phelan Literary Competition, the English department announced yesterday.

Setting the absolute deadline at 5 p.m., Tuesday, March 26, the department has established the following rules which will govern all entries:

1. Manuscripts must be typed, double-spaced.
2. The title of each contribution must appear on the first page of the manuscript and also on a separate sheet, along with the writer's name.
3. Students may submit any number of manuscripts in each division.
4. A minimum of 1,000 words must be observed in all essays and short stories.

The six divisions, as finally classified, are Essays, Short Stories, Plays, Sonnets, Lyrics, and Free Verse, and first, second, and third prizes of $28.00, $17.00, and $9.00 will be awarded in each division.

Rules for the competition have been mimeographed and are available to all students in the English office.

Frank Carroll Fills Graduate Manager's Post In Surprise Move

Takes Over Duties Next Quarter

By FRANK BONANNO
Spartan Daily Sports Editor
The job situation at San Jose State college was finally taken care of with the appointment yesterday of Frank Carroll, former Spartan basketball captain, as the new graduate manager, filling the last vacancy made available with the resignation of DeGroot and Hubbard last week.

SUCCEEDS TEAMMATE
Carroll, appointed by Tiny Hartranft, newly-installed head of the Physical Education department, succeeds his former cage teammate, Walt McPherson, who played with him under Bill Hubbard during 1936-37-38.

The appointment of Carroll to the graduate manager's job came as a complete surprise to campus followers, as the vacated position was not expected to be filled until the termination of the winter quarter.

FROSH CAGE COACH
According to Carroll, new duties will not be taken over until the completion of the present quarter. At the present time Carroll has been handling the destiny of the freshman basketball team, a job he has held for the past two seasons.

Whether Carroll will continue to handle the frosh cage duties will not be known until the Physical Education department reorganizes itself and the newly-appointed

FRENCH PLAY OPENS TOMORROW

"Topaze", amusing comedy produced by Iota Delta Phi, French honorary society, will open tomorrow night in the Little Theater at 8:15 o'clock.

With dialogue entirely in French, the presentation is expected to be one of the best shows put on by the society, Dr. Boris Lubowski, director, stated.

Tickets for the production may be purchased at the Controller's office or from members of Iota Delta Phi. Admission for students from any school is 25 cents. Adult admission is 40 cents.

Groups of students and teachers from Stanford and other nearby communities are planning to attend, Dr. Lubowski said. Beatrice Cubicciotti, former member of Iota Delta Phi, who played the leading feminine role in "Tovarich" two years ago, is bringing her French class from Watsonville to attend the performance.

Wendell Johnson, speech instructor, has designed sets for the production. Peter Mingrone is technician.

Agreement Clinched After Conference

Final assurance that Glenn Scobey "Pop" Warner would return to the fold as Advisory Coach was given last night by Athletic Director "Tiny" Hartranft, after the latter conferred with President T. W. MacQuarrie.

It had been generally assumed that Warner would be back when the whistle for spring practice was blown, after Ben Winkleman had been named to the head coaching position, but it wasn't official until President MacQuarrie returned from a conference with Warner in Palo Alto yesterday morning, when all the details were worked out.

TO COACH OFFENSE
In making the announcement, Hartranft didn't reveal any salary figure, but said that Warner would work on the same basis as he did for the 1939 season. In that capacity, Warner has charge of the offensive tactics, but does not handle the defensive responsibilities.

Head Coach Winkleman is glad to have Warner working with him as he told newsmen the other day that he considers Warner 'aces' in the football coaching field.

PORTAL MADE LINE COACH
The finishing touches were put to the football staff for the 1940 season, when Hartranft announced that DeWitt Portal had agreed to be line coach for the third year. Previous to that he was freshman coach.

Warner will assume his duties with the opening of the spring quarter when Winkleman issues the call for spring practice. No definite date has yet been set, but it should be around the first of April.

Savage Poloists Out To Trounce Juniors Friday

Frank Savage and his Hungarian All-Stars are out to badly trounce the juniors in their water polo game which opens Junior-Senior Mixer activities Friday night, according to the team's own declaration.

The game will start at 7:30, and will be followed by half an hour of entertainment provided by members of each class. Featuring the senior half of the bill will be Jack and the Three Jills.

Official rivalry will end with a dance on the main floor of the Men's gym, from 9 to 12 o'clock. Alice Good, junior, is chairman of the dance committee.

Special attraction of the evening will be the serving of refreshments, cost of which will be covered by the admission charge of ten cents per person.

For Those Interested . . .

Another chance for students interested in current affairs to hear noted authorities in the field is offered tomorrow night when "America's Town Meeting of the Air" comes to San Jose State for the second week.

The subject up for debate this week—"Is There a Revolution in the Arts?"—is rather broad. The title refers to the three arts, painting, music, and literature, with noted authorities in each field speaking. Walter Damrosch, long known wherever American music is discussed, and Clifton Fadiman, literary critic for the "New Yorker", are two of the speakers.

Again as last week, the Student Union will open in time for all students interested to come, listen to the talks, and then spend an hour or so discussing pro and con, the ideas presented by the speaker.

Last week over twenty students listened to the talks on "Is Youth Doing Its Part?", and a lively discussion ensued. Any interested student should take advantage of this opportunity to express his ideas on topics of national interest.
—Johnson.

Falling On Deaf Ears . . .

Long a source of complaint voiced by students and outsiders alike who have attended dances and athletic events in Spartan Pavilion is the highly inadequate public address system in use there. Due to the problem of combating the poor acoustics of the gymnasium or because of faulty equipment, the system is barely or not at all audible.

Especially was this condition evident at the recent intramural and all-college boxing tournaments when near-capacity crowds attended. A large number of the spectators were left entirely ignorant of the names of the participants and general information given out over the inefficient public address system.

This same fault has also prevailed at dances, with floor shows and entertainment during intermissions losing much of their appeal because of the crowd's inability to hear the performances.

Disregarding the inconvenience it causes the students, if the college hopes to maintain and build up attendance at boxing and wrestling matches and basketball games, steps should be taken to remedy the public address situation. It is our obligation to provide the most suitable conditions possible for those who contribute paid admissions which help finance our competitive athletic programs.
—Swenson.

EXAM CRAMMING
Does Go On,
SAYS LIBRARIAN

Although scorned by educators, San Jose State college students do cram for exams; if figures released by Miss Ethel Fillmore, librarian, are indicative of study trends.

According to the number of books issued daily in the reserve book room, approximately twice the number of volumes are issued to students during the week before mid-term exams than a typical second or third week in a quarter.

During the week of January 29 to February 2, 822 books were checked out on Wednesday; 810 on Thursday, and 807 on Friday. When compared with the totals of January 8 to 12, a typical mid-quarter week, the overconcentration of study is very noticeable. During the above mentioned period 455 books were issued on Wednesday, 550 on Thursday, and 426 on Friday.

Tuesdays and Thursdays are the heaviest days, although Friday mornings usually call for additional work on the library workers, said Miss Fillmore.

With the whole town "Gone With the Wind", the college library has entered into the spirit of the Old South with a book exhibit on the "Land of Cotton".

The home of Scarlett and Rhett is described in such books as A SHORT HISTORY OF GEORGIA, by E. Merton Coulter, which contains chapters on Savannah and the march of Sherman to the sea.

Vivid pictures of the Reconstruction period in the South, told so picturesquely by Margaret Mitchell in her now-famous book and enacted so graphically in the current movie, are also found in this volume.

In another book, THE SOUTH LOOKS AT ITS PAST, is found a section entitled "The Past Does Not Come Back", a theme which gave the motion picture its name, according to the foreword of the film production. The preface asked the audience to "look for this civilization only in books, for it is one which is gone with the wind."

Joseph Hergesheimer's SWORDS AND ROSES, a novel of the land of the honeysuckle and magnolia, DIXIE AFTER THE WAR, by Myrta Lockett Avery, and "THE OLD SOUTH . . . Struggles For Democracy", by William E. Dodd, are other works found in the book exhibit.

Also "you-all" conscious is the reference desk, which is staging a "Land of Cotton" exhibit all its own, with pamphlets dealing with the Old South on display. THE SOUTH'S PLACE IN THE NATION is the title of one of the booklets.

Thrust and Parry:

As several satirical articles in the Daily have already pointed out, it is time that something be done about conditions in the library.

The argument, advanced with varying degrees of seriousness, that students are entitled to use the library as a social hall is ridiculous. In fact, this social-meeting argument is so absurd, baldly stated, that it would seem unnecessary to attack it. Yet there are enough students who, through their actions in the library, manifest a belief in it amounting to a religious fanaticism that it must be attacked.

Why should the self-centered, loud-mouthed, inconsiderate extroverts of both sexes be allowed to raise such a hullabaloo that it takes one who is trying to study for an examination three hours to do one hour's studying? The writer has no greater love of study than most students, but, like most students, when it is necessary for him to work in the library, he would appreciate the opportunity to do his work without being hindered by a din of conversation.

There is probably not a person in school who has not, at some time, talked too much in the library. These people do it partly in self-defense, and partly for a momentary thoughtlessness. They would be glad to cooperate in an effort to reduce the noise. On the other hand, there are some persons who have probably never stopped talking in the library. These are the ones who need policing.

Here then is the problem: There is too much noise in the library. Most of the noise is caused by conversation which has nothing to do with studying.

The students responsible for this rumpus have shown no inclination to stop it; they even defend their sacred right to disturb others.

The solution which these facts most quickly suggest is this: Station a police student or two in the library, with instructions to warn the noise-makers once, and, if they persist, to make them leave the library. The police students would take the names of these students, and the second time that a student is kicked out, his name would be sent in to the Personnel office or to Dr. MacQuarrie, and a heart to heart talk would follow, with possibility of the suspension or loss of library privileges.

The police students would not want to do this, and I don't blame them. I wouldn't want to do it either. But a man who is going into police work must learn to do things people do not like.

The natural reaction of the students would be to protest, "We aren't children anymore. It is an insult to place a police guard over us."

Here again I agree. It would be an insult to most of the students. But the fact remains that such policing is needed. We can rest assured that the loudest outcry would come from the students who are most in need of this policing. Why not try it?
—FRANK CARTER.

CASABA MEN SET FOR U.S.F.

Invading Kezar pavilion—home of Northern California basketball—for the first time this year, Coach Bill Hubbard's varsity basketball quintet will tangle with the University of San Francisco tomorrow night.

STATE WON ONE

The Spartan hoopsters sprung one of the biggest surprises of the season when they whipped the leading Dons 39 to 35 two weeks ago. The Frisco quintet is one of the strongest in the bay region.

The contest with the freshman squad yesterday served as a tune-up for the U.S.F. tilt.

Although they hold one decision over the Dons the Spartans will enter the fray as underdogs. University of San Francisco has performed several times this year on the pavilion hardwood which, according to cage followers gives the home team a ten-point advantage.

PRACTICE THIS WEEK

The Spartans have always managed to give the Dons a good battle on every occasion, and tomorrow night's tilt should prove another thriller from start to finish. Who will start for the Spartans depends on performances shown in practice this week, stated Hubbard.

Badminton Sign-up

For Meet Ends Today

Badminton players who wish to play in the San Mateo junior college matches Friday must sign opposite their names in the gyms today. Lyman Nickel has emphasized.

A school bus will provide transportation to San Mateo. A charge of 35 cents will be made, 25 cents for the round-trip and 10 cents for thirds, according to Nickel. The money is payable to Francis Fischer.

Tentatively scheduled to make the trip, provided they sign up, are: mixed doubles teams—Ford-Dowling, Fischer-Silva, Popp-Webb, Dahl-Paulus, Spangler-Kendall, Zaepffel-Nickel, Hambey-Day, Turner-Kumm, Kohlmoos-Gold, Hamilton-Crowley, Sutfin-Hildout, Copley-Fosberg, Pogue-Holtorf, and Fischer-Fairley.

Fischer-Sutfin are scheduled to play in the women's doubles; Kendall-Webb, men's doubles; Ann Zaepffel, women's singles; and Nickel, men's singles.

State vs. YMCA Bouts Postponed To February 29

Next action for San Jose's Spartan boxing team will be February 29, in a triple header, announced Coach DeWitt Portal last night after receiving a phone call from Coach Milt Aftergut of the San Francisco YMCA, postponing the meet scheduled for tomorrow night.

Virtually every man on the squad will see action on the 29th, as Portal's crew will meet University of San Francisco, and San Francisco State college, the two teams originally scheduled for that date, in addition to the YMCA.

ATHLETES 'PREP' FOR COMPETITION

Baseball

With Saint Mary's their first opponent on February 27 far from a "breather", varsity baseballers are engaging in their first active work this week. Coach Walt McPherson has plenty of similar doses of conditioning to administer, if the weather holds out, before his charges are pronounced fit to meet the onslaught of the ever dangerous Gaels.

While the frosh horsehidlers, under Coaches Larry Fiorini and Jack Riordan, are preparing on the main diamond for an earlier contest with the University of California freshmen a week from Thursday, Mac has been turning his charges loose on batting practice in the stadium.

Bill Clemenson Pittsburgh Pirate hurler who has been working with the varsity pitchers, will be absent from practice for several days. Clemenson hurt his left arm in an auto accident near Mission San Jose Monday night.

Track

Spartan track and field artists, who are working out between the rainy spells, will not face their first competition until March 16 at the Long Beach relays, according to Coach Tiny Hartranft.

Tiny was planning to take a team of stars to the Indoor meets in San Francisco this month, but has called it off because of inability of the harriers to get out and train due to the weather.

Meanwhile the spikesters are concentrating upon condition. Main worry of Hartranft lies in the development of a sprinter since Jim Hallstone dropped out of school. The solution may be Jim Kerr, who did some sprinting along with his 440 duties last spring.

Vin Ruble, of uncertain status due to first degree leg burns suffered recently, appears to be rounding into old-time form. Vin stepped off a 52.5 quarter mile this week, but the real surprise was John Sidell, up from the frosh, who paced the same distance in 52.4 seconds.

Walt McPherson Proves Self Adept Young Man In Spartan Sport Circles

By BEN FRIZZI

If anyone had ventured to give his opinion a few years back that Walt McPherson, successor to Bill Hubbard in the new P. E. set-up, would turn out to be one of San Jose State college's finest athletes, he would have been considered slightly balmy in the upper regions.

But that's just what the former Spartan athlete panned into—one of the finest ever turned out on Washington Square.

The former graduate manager, who steps into the post vacated by Bill Hubbard who goes to Rochester University with Dud DeGroot, wasn't considered much of an athlete at San Jose high school, where he "prepped". In fact, "Mac" couldn't even make the varsity baseball team. And today he is Spartan baseball mentor, and considered a good one.

DEVELOPED IN COLLEGE

Mac, who wasn't even a fair basketball or football player in high school some six years ago, is now head casaba coach and assistant to Ben Winkleman on the gridiron. Walt developed in college just as did Lloyd Thomas, who came here from San Francisco unheralded as a grid star but turned out to be one of the finest of ends, being accorded "Little All-American" honors.

In fact, Walt developed so rapidly that he won his frosh numerals and varsity letters in the major sports of baseball, basketball, and football four consecutive years.

And while accomplishing this remarkable record, made it all the more sensational by being an honor student and member of Tau Delta Phi, honorary campus scholastic fraternity.

Mac was a backfield star on the high-scoring Spartan grid machines of 1937-38, and in his senior year captained the varsity through its first major triumphs. He was a member of the champion Northern California Intercollegiate Basketball Conference Spartan team in 1938 and played a major role in upsetting the favored Santa Clara Broncos in two hectic games played in the Civic Auditorium.

WILL COACH GOLF

Upon his graduation that same year with a special secondary physical education A.B. degree, Walt did graduate work at Stanford University where he received his general secondary certificate in 1939. He coached frosh basketball

Stalling Act Used To Stop 'Hot' Yearlings

Coach Bill Hubbard's varsity basketball contingent was forced to come from behind yesterday afternoon in the first game of the "Milkshake Bowl" cage series to nose out a fighting freshman five, 52-50.

STALLING ACT

The varsity, fading badly in the closing minutes of the game, had to employ the old stalling act to protect their two-point lead and win the game. They managed to keep the ball away from the frosh for a minute and a half, which was enough to give them the first of a two out of three game series.

The senior team forged out in front early in the first half with clever ball handling and trick shots by Urhammer, who made 10 points in the first half, and Hal Carruth. Lanky Bill Helbush with 8 points in the first half kept the scrappy yearlings in the game all afternoon. The varsity left the floor at halftime with a four-point margin, 28-24.

The second half found the tables reversed and the frosh went to work in quick order. Helbush and Cowan tied the count at 28 all. Two field goals by Kotta and another by Tornell put the varsity out in front. Captain Pete Filice finally hit his stride and sunk three field goals in succession to tie the game once more.

Filice, given the assignment to guard Urhammer, did a good job until the closing minutes when Urhammer slipped by to score two field goals that gave the varsity the game. Urhammer only made two field goals during the entire second half.

Little Carruth took scoring honors with 15 digits, Urhammer had 14, while Filice and Helbush had 13 and 10 respectively for the frosh.

The second game will be played either Thursday or Friday.

Poytress Discusses Republican Chances

Roosevelt Wants To Name Successor, Says Social Science Department Head

Possibilities of a Republican victory in the 1940 election campaign hinge on a possible break in the Democratic party, Dr. William Poytress, told his Behind the News class yesterday.

Although believing that President Roosevelt doesn't want to run for a third term, Dr. Poytress was of the opinion that he did want to name his successor.

If Garner, representing reaction, is made the Democratic candidate, there is strong possibility of the formation of a new party which may give the Republicans the chance to get back into the political saddle, Dr. Poytress told the group.

During his discussion, the Social Science department head listed the points in the New Deal program which would be attacked by the Republicans, including:

1. The national debt and government spending policies;
2. Unemployment (there are almost as many out of work now as in the Spring of 1933);
3. Failure to re-create business confidence.

Referring to the coming contest as an attempt by the "outs" to get back to the "fleshpots", Dr. Poytress pointed out that there are more on the federal payroll now than in November, 1918, at the end of the World War.

"The presidential campaign will be no bed of roses," he said. "It won't look like one—neither will it smell like one."

Republicans will not attempt to overthrow New Deal reforms, but are making the claim that they will improve them. They maintain that the Republicans are better administrators than the Democrats and that they can make the reforms work by renovating them, according to Dr. Poytress.

Senator Vandenberg of Michigan was given the best chance among the Republicans for the candidacy, in spite of Gallup polls to the contrary. "The politicians have no use for the 'gang-buster' Dewey," he said.

Fourteen Pledges Start Initiation Week Today Noon

With "Hell Week" starting today at noon, members of Delta Theta Omega, social fraternity, will hold a joint meeting with Kappa Kappa Sigma, social sorority, tonight at the home of Emile Bouret, 1625 The Alameda, according to Ed Smithey, "rushing" chairman.

Fourteen pledges will face the trials of "Hell Week", Smithey said. They are: Dick Payne, Bob Roberts, Bill Kidwell, Maurice Denham, George Edwards, Jim Otterson, Leon Sparrow, Jack Ronald, Bill Anderson, Willard Shank, Buzz Peregoy, Charles Parker, Denny Morrissey, and Armand Green.

Climaxing "Hell Week", informal initiation will be held Wednesday night, February 21.

Hunt Discusses Nippon Relations

Dr. Victor Hunt, Social Science department instructor, will deal with the topic, "The Future of Japanese-American Relations", when he speaks to the Open Forum group tomorrow at 11 a.m. in the Little Theater.

The implications of trade treaty negotiation will be emphasized by Dr. Hunt in his speech, according to Miss Marie Tinkler, program chairman.

All students are invited to attend the program which should be of interest because of the possible developments which may arise out of Oriental-American relations, Miss Tinkler added.

LEGAL GROUP WILL HEAR WARMKE

Attorney Leon Warmke, secretary to the Board of Bar Examiners, will be the guest speaker at tomorrow night's dinner meeting of the Pre-Legal club at the Italian hotel at 6:30.

Warmke, according to Mr. Owen Broyles, adviser to the club, is an ideal speaker for the group. A graduate of San Jose State college, he studied law at Stanford and later taught at Stanford and Santa Clara.

His conclusions, drawn from years of experience as secretary to the board, as to who should study law and what their training should be, will form the basis for his talk.

Anyone who would like to attend the meeting is advised to see Jack Friedman, Carl Noddin, or Mr. Broyles. The charge for the dinner is 50 cents.

Second Student Music Recital Tomorrow At 11

Representing all sections of the department, thirteen members of the San Jose State college music department will appear tomorrow morning at 11 a.m. in Morris Dailey auditorium in the second of a series of morning concerts.

One of the featured numbers on the program will be the duet for two bassoons played by Zeannette Cupich and Lyle Derby. The two bassoonists will play Jancourt's "Sonata No. 2 for Bassoon".

Vocal section of the program will be presented by Mark Guerra who will sing Adams' "The Holy City", accompanied by Margaret Otterstein.

Others in the concert will be Jean Brier, Ellen Saunders, James Diehl, Jean Telfer, Sidney Voight, and Dorothy Currell.

NOTICE

Members of the riding club, don't forget the meeting Wednesday at 3. Please try to be there as we want to make plans for future rides and picnics.—Berget Bern.

SPEECH TOURNEY

Three Staters Participate

Three San Jose State junior college debaters will participate in the junior college speech tournament at the College of Pacific February 15, 16, and 17.

The speakers are Wesley Young, Dave Atkinson, and Charles Norby, who will participate in a "town meeting" at the gathering. Young, who will represent the Pacifist group, will also take part in the extemporaneous speech contest.

Dave Atkinson, who will speak for the bankers in the "town meeting", will also participate in the oratory competition. Charles Norby will represent the corn and wheat farmers.

The oratory contest will consist of memorized speeches. The extemporaneous competition will be on the subject of "Threats to our Democracy from Within and Without".
