Payne Returns; Council Selections Expected Tonight

Bob Payne returned to the campus Thursday unexpectedly to find himself president of a student body of more than 4000.

He came back to college several days before it was reported previously that he would return, in time for a noon meeting of the council Thursday to discuss the student body situation.

TWO VACANCIES

Most momentous order of business on the calendar for tonight's meeting in the Student Union is the probable naming of two students to fill the vacancies left by Al Aiton and Verne Williams.

Payne said the council would surely discuss the appointments and in all probability would name the two remaining members.

WILLIAMS TO LEAVE

Williams was on the campus last week and said he expected to leave late in the month for New York where he will sail September 30 on a Naval Reserve cruise similar to the one from which Payne has just returned. It is probable, however, that he can defer any further training until next summer.

CARDS ARE PROBLEM

At the meeting Thursday, Payne said the council debated whether to put owners' photographs on student cards as was done last spring. Alternative method to prevent promiscuous use of cards by outsiders was a "mystery code" system, not revealed.

From one source it is understood that the cost of the photographs is around $150. Payne said, however, that considerable money is brought in every year by the purchase of duplicate cards to replace those lost.

YW-YMCA Sponsor Student Centre

Last quarter's experiment of a Student Centre will be continued this fall at 120 East San Antonio street, according to Clare Harris, secretary to YW-YMCA. From 11 to 1 o'clock each day students can enjoy ping pong and other recreational activities. Coffee, milk, and candy bars will be on sale too.

LOST-FOUND SALE HELD THIS WEEK IN STUDENT CENTRE

No, it isn't a pawn shop, but students who lost personal belongings during last year may redeem them at the YW-YMCA Lost and Found sale this week. The sale will be held Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday from 11 to 1 o'clock in the Student Centre, Third and San Antonio streets.

Books, pens, clothing, umbrellas, galoshes, and notebooks will be on sale. Edith Rand, College YWCA finance chairman, is in charge of the sale. Students are invited to bring their lunch and eat at the Student Centre while attending the sale.

Band Divided Into Two Tone Marching Unit

San Jose State college's marching band is to be divided into a two tone unit to comply with the shortage of new uniforms, according to Mr. Thomas Eagan, director of the band.

LARGEST ENROLLMENT

Due to the largest enrollment since the band was first organized in 1925, fifty of the 150 members will have to be satisfied with the old black and white attire, Eagan said.

The problem of distribution of the new gold and white wool suits was settled by awarding them to the members of the front ranks.

Old uniforms assigned to the rear ranks will aid in more colorful football games and during the half, Eagan explained.

NEW UNIFORMS FOR U.S.F.

The outfits are expected to be completed in time for the USF game October 18, in San Francisco.

Tentative plans have been made for the band to march at the Fresno game at Fresno, and the Santa Barbara game at Santa Barbara, Frank Holt, chairman of the band council, stated.

RECORDINGS

Recordings of the San Jose State college Fight song and college Hymn, which were made Friday at band meeting, will be played at a re-creation broadcast of the Montana State football game tonight over KQW, Eagan said.

DRAMA TRYOUTS HELD THIS AFTERNOON, 4-6

Tryouts for the San Jose Players' first production of this quarter, "Much Ado About Nothing", rollicking Shakespearean comedy, will be held this afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock in the Little Theater, announces Hugh Gillis, head of the Speech department.

NO EXPERIENCE

No experience is required for the tryouts, which are open to all students.

A desire to continue the practice of inviting students in all departments to try out for the plays is expressed by Mr. Gillis, who states that the drama activity is one of the entire student body and not concentrated in any one department of the school.

ROY D. WILLEY RECEIVES PH.D. IN EDUCATION

Dr. Roy D. Willey, instructor in education, is among the most recent faculty members to receive a Ph.D. His degree was obtained last spring in the Stanford School of Education with a minor in psychology.

Dr. Willey's thesis concerned a study of functional arithmetic in elementary schools of Santa Clara county. With the aid of about 52 Santa Clara county elementary grade teachers, Dr. Willey discovered that at certain levels of maturity there are abilities and interests peculiar to the various grades.

"Thus," states Dr. Willey, "there should be a more even distribution of arithmetic studies in the grades, instead of the present system where experts judge, for instance, that fractions should be placed in the fifth grade."

More advanced, scientific study would start simple fractions in the first grade, and progress to harder ones in the sixth.

"This is just an example of what would be done with arithmetic subjects," Dr. Willey pointed out. During his two years at Stan-

ROSEMARY BELL WINS AWARD

Rosemary Bell, senior education major at San Jose State college, was awarded the Nora D. Staffebach scholarship, the Education department has announced.

This award is given annually to the most outstanding student in the department. Being outstanding is just part of the requirement. The student must also show promise of future success in the field of education, the department pointed out.

The award is given by the wife of Elmer H. Staffebach, head of the Education department, and is not given on a basis of need.

Miss Bell graduated from San Mateo high school in 1937 and attended San Mateo junior college before entering San Jose State as a junior.

Students Needed For Verse Choir

Wanted—Fifteen interested students to join the Verse Choir.

The only prerequisite, according to Ramon Irwin, director of the choir, is a genuine interest in the group. The class meets from 3 to 4:25 Tuesday and Thursday afternoons, and can be considered an extra-curricular activity.

The course, which offers two units, is particularly desirous of men enrollees, Mr. Irwin points out.

Health Examination

Attention all students entering San Jose State College for the first time.

Did you know that reports of your grades may be withheld at the end of this quarter if the physical examination, required of all students, is not taken?

Those who have not taken the examination should make an appointment immediately, according to Miss Margaret Twombly, health and hygiene head.

Thirty-four football players, Coaches "Pop" Warner and Ben Winkelman, Faculty Representative Dean of Men Paul Pitman, Trainer Walt Denny, Manager Chauncey Benevento, and three newspaper representatives, 42 in all, were in the party as it took off from the San Francisco airport at 7 a.m.

Lindner Installed Grand Magistrate Of Tau Delta Phi

Al Lindner took over the office of Grand Magistrate of Tau Delta Phi, men's honorary scholastic fraternity, at the first meeting of the quarter in the Tower Friday noon.

Lindner becomes head of the fraternity due to the fact that Dick Uhrhammer, elected Grand Magistrate last spring, has failed to return to school.

Elected to fill the office of Magistrate, vacated by Lindner, is Bennie Frizzi, former Master of Entrance.

Lindner announces that the fraternity will commence its regular noon luncheon meetings Friday noon in the Tower. At that time elections for the offices of Master of Entrance and Master of Finance will be held, the latter due to the resignation of Milt Cohen, who was forced to do so because of a conflicting schedule.

String Quartets Present Recitals

Five string quartets have been organized from among Miss Frances Robinson's classes in advanced string music, she announces. Programs for approximately six studio recitals are now in preparation.

Members of the groups will present programs in Room 108 of the Music building on alternate Tuesdays at 4 p.m.

No More "Legal" Graft

The recently-published decision of the Unemployment Insurance board in barring students from receiving benefits is likely to arouse considerable protest from those directly affected because it automatically sweeps away a neat little "nest egg" which many had undoubtedly counted on to help them financially through college.

This seems to be the second of such measures designed at least in part to prevent so-called "grafting" of seasonal workers in school. The first raised the required minimum earned to $300. It should be pointed out, however, that technically students may receive the benefits if they can satisfy the proper authorities of their complete willingness to quit college and go to work whenever and wherever called; however, receiving the insurance under false pretences carries a stiff penalty with three dollars having to be paid back for every one received.

The validity of any protest against the decision to which we prefer, however, may be doubted for the original purpose of the act was to provide the ordinarily year-round employee with adequate, if temporary, financial support in case of a depression or sudden loss of a job, and not to provide students with an education at the expense of the state, their temporary employer, and thousands of those steadily employed. The amount contributed by the employee here is negligible in proportion to the total compensation it is possible to receive.

It seems to us that the obvious resentment of many at not being able to receive what amounts to, in this case, a weekly hand-out, is exemplary of a breakdown—fostered, we feel, by the government's somewhat indiscriminate use of millions of dollars for like purposes in the past few years—in what at least was the American tradition that it was up to the individual, and not the state, to provide the living.

Opportunity For Actors

A call has been issued by Hugh Gillis, Speech department head, for students to try out for parts in the San Jose Players' opening drama of the 1940-41 season, Shakespeare's "Much Ado About Nothing".

This play offers a variety of character types; comic as well as straight roles. Eighteen men and four women, besides numerous players to act as soldiers, are cast in this curtain-raiser.

The "no-experience-necessary" announcement made by Mr. Gillis should provide incentive enough for any student who has the urge to appear on the stage. Freshmen especially should heed the call as it will provide an opportunity for them to become acquainted with the instructors and techniques of this department of the school; and if they display their wares successfully now they may find themselves in leading roles before the season is far gone.

And to upperclassmen who have for one reason or another neglected trying out for this extra-curricular activity, it still isn't too late. This is a prime opportunity for San Jose State college's actors.

DR. T. W. MacQUARRIE

Just Among Ourselves

I AM GLAD we passed that draft law. I am glad we had the courage to come out flatfooted and say to our young men, "Your Country requires of you a certain service, you will now put your own personal plans aside and respond to the call."

I was afraid for a while that timorous politicians might force us into a volunteer situation. That would have announced to the whole world that we were afraid of our own citizens, that we had within our gates enough disloyal people to tie our hands in an emergency. It would have meant that in case of war certain of our citizens would give aid and comfort to the enemy.

But we didn't, and heaven be praised. We gave everyone a chance to air his opinions, even if they were dictated by subversive influences. We discussed the matter over the length and breadth of the land and then passed the law with great firmness. Thank goodness we did not fail democracy that time.

It sounds fair to say, "What's the use of drafting men if we can get them to volunteer." It is anything but fair, it's undemocratic. Why impose upon the fine, loyal, devoted citizens and force them to carry the load while the slackers, cowards, traitors among us remain behind to dilute our unity and disrupt our system?

If our country needs us we must all respond to the call whether we like it or not. When our machinery of government makes a law, it is for us to obey. If we do not approve we have a right to be heard, and have a right to urge that the law be revoked or changed, but we have no right to disobey.

We say it's a government of the people, yes, but a government nevertheless—and government means control. Citizenship means responsibility as well as privilege. In a democratic country majority rules; in an emergency the majority dictates, the minority must obey.

Don't be afraid of that draft, young men. Welcome it. Do your duty with enthusiasm, cooperate with the authorities all the way. Some of it you will not like, but most of it will be an adventure, an inspiring participation in a great national effort.

Don't try to evade your responsibility, and be sorry the rest of your life. The day will come when you will be ashamed of yourself, when you will admit that you really were a coward although you may have camouflaged it under some other show of justification. You will find yourself explaining and explaining, but there will be no ring of sincerity in it.

I hope you didn't get married to escape that draft. I can't imagine a cheaper type of American than one who hides behind a woman's skirts in order to evade what has always been a man's duty, what is really his privilege. What will your wife think of you in the days to come? How proud your children will be!

On the other hand, if you are not selected for the draft, don't volunteer. If you have any disability, don't try to cover it up. If you should be retained for some other duty, accept that responsibility. Do your duty honestly wherever it lies.

If you are called on the draft or the National Guard I wish you would come in for a little visit before you go. I am an old soldier myself and it would give me great pleasure to see and talk with you before you set out on your grand adventure.

Through The Perry-Scope

LOOKING BROWN AND healthy from his long sea cruise down to Cuba and Panama, Bob Payne hustled back onto the campus Thursday, catching everyone by surprise at his early return.

Payne finds himself heading a student council which must in the very near future, probably tonight, choose two men or women to fill the vacancies left by Alton and Williams.

The job left open by Williams will perhaps be retaken by him in the winter quarter if he returns to school after his Naval Reserve cruise.

The other spot will be a permanent appointment since Aiton has completely withdrawn.

Among other business which engages the council at the moment is the matter of student cards. According to information we have at hand, the board is thinking of throwing aside the photograph system inaugurated last spring on student cards and using some sort of a mystery code instead.

Placing photographs of the owner on each card is an almost foolproof way of preventing others from using the pass. We have it from one who has worked on the gates that spotting an impostor is fairly easy from the photographs, in spite of the fact a lot of them are hardly recognizable.

It stands to reason that it would be the wrong photograph than from a set of code figures set up on the card. We hope that Payne will be able to put it through.

FRESHMEN VIE FOR TEAM SPOTS

Battles royal are taking place at Spartan field these afternoons as Coach Fred Hamlow puts his frosh gridders through their paces for the season opener in Salinas Friday night.

There are at least three candidates of equal ability fighting it out for every position on the team, according to Hamlow, who is having a tough time himself trying to work out a starting combination.

Competition for each position follows Centers, Charlie Marshall, Del Colclough and "Sag" Saghettellon, 235 pounder Quarterbacks, Vernon Cartwright, Newt Pederson, and Cliff Francom, all weighing more than 180; Halfbacks, Tony Durate, All-Honolulu griddler, Forrest Michaelis, George Klinger, James Baskins, John Desalernos, and "Buzz" Peregoy, brother of Carleton, varsity fullback of last year's team Fullbacks, George Morasci, likely looking prospect from King City, Al Hardesty, and Paul Wilson, a good punter; Guards, Bill Johnson, "Hands" Weldenhofer, San Francisco all-city man, Fred Brandt, Elwin Hunt, and Doug Hawkins; Tackles, Walt McKinney, rugged 185 pounder, Bill Fernard, 210, Charles Uhrhammer, 205, and Arlie Lehmann; Ends, Vic Robinson, Don Thompson Howard Brose, promising lad from San Francisco, Jack McKune, and Frank Mieull.

Assisting Hamlow with coaching duties are Bill Felse, backfield mentor, and Hank Vasconcellos, who is handling the line.

Polo League On; San Jose Preps For Opening Tilt

The Bay Cities Water Polo league will continue to function this year, despite earlier rumors that the circuit might fold up, Spartan Coach Charlie Walker reveals, after attending a meeting of league officials last week.

Two divisions of the league started three years ago will continue play, with several new team additions to replace those clubs who have dropped out.

In the first division San Jose, will be pitted against the Olympic Club, San Francisco YMCA and possibly the Athens club, which has not yet made up its mind whether to join or not.

In the second division the San Jose frosh poloists will compete against the San Francisco "Y" and Olympic Club "B" teams, the S. F. Jewish Community Center, S. F. Aquatic park, and an Oakland club which will form if the Athens club backs out on its first division entry.

First game on the San Jose home and home schedule is slated for Spartan pool within two weeks against the Olympic Club. The frosh will engage the Olympic Club second team in a preliminary.

AMBITIOUS 1941 BOXING SCHEDULE OUTLINED; IDAHO, WASHINGTON HERE

San Jose State college's colorful boxing aggregation will start its perennial campaign for the Pacific coast title with the most ambitious schedule ever attempted, according to Punch Professor Dee Portal.

The tentative 1941 schedule calls for eight dual meets and three tournaments. The season will close with the National intercollegiate tournament in Pennsylvania March 27, 28, and 29, preceded by the Pacific coast intercollegiate at Sacramento on March 21 and 22. Only winners of the PCI will be entered in the Nationals.

IDAHO, WASHINGTON
Five of the eight dual meets listed are scheduled as home events. Highlight of the dual meet season will be the tentative home and home round robin agreement with Washington State college, and the University of Idaho. Present plans call for a Northwestern tour meeting both teams.

Later the Northern squads will barnstorm south, and meet the Spartans here.

TOP ATTRACTIONS
Completion of this schedule will assure local fans of witnessing two of the best collegiate teams in the nation. University of Idaho is the 1940 National intercollegiate champion, while Washington State finished in third position in the PCI behind Idaho and San Jose.

FRESHMEN MAT HOPES MEET IN GYM TODAY

Candidates for the freshman wrestling squad will meet today at 5 o'clock in the small gymnasium, according to Coach Gene Grattan. All men interested are urged to be present.

Previous experience is not necessary, according to Grattan, as fundamental instructions will continue all this quarter before the regular season begins.

JUNIOR PAA
First interscholastic competition is scheduled for November in the Junior PAA tournament at the University of California. Only men who have not won any previous AAU, intercollegiate, or YMCA titles will be eligible for this tournament, Grattan announced.

Last year's frosh team was the most successful in the history of the sport, losing only one dual meet, Grattan said, and winding up the season by capturing the Northern California Junior college championships at Salinas, as well as the CCAA championships against varsity teams from San Diego, Santa Barbara, and Fresno State colleges.

TRAVEL PROGRAM
The 1941 schedule is being completed, and Grattan hopes to have as extensive traveling program as last year. The 1940 frosh team also scored dual meet victories over varsity squads from San Francisco State, and California Aggies.

be presented to the winners of each division, Walker states. San Jose won both divisions in 1937-38 with the Olympic Club winning both titles last year.

Phi Epsilon Kappa members please be present at the first meeting of the year in Spartan Stag's building tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. Election will be held and some very important business settled.

FORMER TRACK STARS JOIN OLYMPIC CLUB

Four former San Jose State college trackmen will compete for the famed San Francisco Olympic club harriers in next year's track and field campaign.

The four San Jose stars, whose college eligibility has expired, joined the club, one of the most powerful independent outfits in the west last week. They are Vin Ruble, middle distance man; Tony Sunzeri, pole vaulter; "Ticky" Vasconcellos, broadjumper and Lowell Todd, javelin tosser.

All competed with the Olympic club off and on last season, with Todd serving more than the others. Next year, the four will be used regularly to strengthen the Olympic club middle-distance and field events.

All are school record holders. Todd consistently throws the javelin well over the 210 foot mark, Ruble runs the 880 in the vicinity of 1 minute 54 seconds. Vasconcellos leaps better than 24 feet and Sunzeri is capable of doing 13 feet 9 inches in the sky-climbing event.

State Takes On Two Opponents In Week; Montanans Tonight

Dick Hubbell, George Ford, and Fred Lindsay.

San Jose enters tonight's game with the old "do or die" spirit. They figure they must win, or at least put up a whale of a ball game to make up for last Monday night's rather dismal showing against Texas A & I.

Coaches Winkelman and Warner tapered off their boys with a light drill Saturday morning, preceded by three days of scrimmage and fundamental work, stressing above all blocking. Poor blocking was given as one of the major reasons for the Texas loss.

SPARTA FAVORED
San Jose rates the favorite's spot in tonight's game, mostly because of their 35 to 0 win over the Bobcats last year. Although it appears the Spartans are not the team of last year, reports from Montana show that the Bobcats have not improved a great deal either. Montana won two and lost seven for last year's record book.

They are reported to have lost several players from last year's eleven to the National Guard, while several others have joined the Army.

Both teams enter the game with one contest behind them. Montana "warmed up" for the San Jose game by taking on Western State college Saturday.

San Jose expects to be in fair shape despite several minor injuries to key players.

Kenny Cook and George Terry have recovered from their lime burns; John Allen, who had been running a fever from a cold in the chest, will be set to go; Ralph Herrick and Ray Belnap, who had damaged shoulders, are okay; and the bruised Rex Pursell and Morris Buckingham are ready.

WILSON DOUBTFUL
Just how long Jim Wilson, big guard, will last, remains to be seen. Wilson has been hobbling around with a bad bone bruise in his right leg, and didn't appear too fit during last week's practice. Gray McConnell, huge tackle, came out of Friday's practice with a bruised right shoulder, which is reported not serious enough to keep him out of play.

One of the standouts of last week's scrimmage was Wilbur Wool, young reserve center. Wool plays a bang-up defensive game on the order of Bob Titchenal, last year's captain. Wool was spotting plays, and intercepting short passes over the line of scrimmage, which was a Titchenal specialty. Another boy who looked plenty good in last week's workouts was Bud Nygren, who gets better with each practice session.

Ed Wenberg opened up with a slashing type of end play which caught the eyes of onlookers.

UTAH GAME
Following the Montana game, the Spartan party hops off in their two Mainliners for Logan, Utah, on Tuesday. They will lay over in Utah for five days, awaiting Saturday afternoon's clash with Utah State's Aggies.

As for Aggie prospects, they are reported to have one of the dark-horse outfits of the Rocky Mountain area.

Immediately after the Utah game, the party will take off for home, arriving at the San Francisco airport Sunday morning at 1 o'clock.

Making the trip as a representative of the Spartan Daily is John Healey, former sports editor. Other newspaper representatives are Stub Stollery of the Mercury, and Bill Fiest of the News.

VARSITY HURLER BEATS S. F. SEALS, 6-3

An indication of what Spartan baseball opponents will have to face the coming spring was demonstrated Thursday night when Pete "Khaki" Filice, varsity pitcher, hurled Franco's Market to a 6-3 win over the San Francisco Seals of the Pacific Coast league.

Filice kept ten hits well scattered, and aided by good support, managed to keep ahead of his Class A opponents.

Filice, who is expected to carry the brunt of the Spartan hurling assignment in the coming collegiate campaign, blanked the Seals for five innings. He struck out five and walked four. Only one of the Seal runs made off him was earned.

Filice not only figures prominently in Spartan baseball circles, but he will also be a serious contender for a center berth on Coach Walt McPherson's basketball team. He led last year's frosh basketball team in scoring.

Commerce Enrollment Reaches 2100

FOUR-YEAR DEGREE OFFERED MAJORS

By PAUL LUKES

With a noted increase of two-year graduates from California junior colleges, the San Jose State college School of Business has passed an enrollment figure of 2100 in its various commerce classes, Dr. Earl W. Atkinson, Commerce department head, announced Friday.

Showing an increase of approximately 150 students, the enrollment of four-year commerce majors jumped from 300 last year to 451 this year, according to Dr. Atkinson.

ACCOUNTING POPULAR

Accounting courses rank first with 400 students enrolled. Typewriting classes are second with 310 students in seven divisions. Two hundred and fifty are in shorthand and secretarial courses, and more than 245 students are registered in marketing, selling and advertising.

More than 150 prospective students were turned away from the department's accounting classes because of lack of space.

ENROLLMENT TOTALS

While the enrollment in the junior college has had a slight increase in total business students, the increase is most noticeable in the four-year degree groups. Without any duplication of other majors, the commerce degree students total as follows:

Four-year accounting majors	138
Secretarial majors	63
Merchandising majors	132
Business teaching majors	118

DEGREE OFFERED

These are exceeded only by the number of those students seeking general elementary teaching credentials, according to Dr. Atkinson, and are closely followed by majors in Natural Science and Social Science courses.

Dr. Atkinson attributes this rapid increase in commerce enrollment to the fact that San Jose State is now giving an AB degree in the four-year courses, which has encouraged junior college students to include in their first two years the lower division requirements of the School of Business.

Exchange Returns Texts Tuesday

Because Tuesday mornings are marked by less confusion than Mondays, the Students Book Exchange has decided to return unsold books to their owners in the Student Union on Tuesday morning. Money received for books which were sold will also be distributed at that time.

Seventy per cent of the books placed with the Exchange have been sold.

A service fee of 5 cents will be subtracted from the sale price of each book, but no fee will be charged for books which were not sold.

Mr. Staff? He Was Right On The Schedule

"But it's right here on the Class schedule!" She was sweet and shy—you know the type.

"What is?" The department secretary was patient but a little tired. Registration day grind.

The secretary explained; "staff" in brackets meant that the whole department prepared the course. "Oh-oh, I see! Well, then, is this little number the amount of units I get?"

The secretary looked. The number was A129.

Frank Elsas, Cornetist, Joins Faculty

Frank Elsas, new member of the music faculty, has arrived to take charge of classes in brass instruments, announces Adolph W. Osterstein, Music department head.

Elsas left a position as solo cornetist with the Goldman band, official brass band of New York City, to take over his duties here. He received his M.A. degree at New York university.

He replaces Maurice Faulkner, who resigned this summer to teach at Santa Barbara State college. In addition to teaching brass instruments, Elsas will conduct San Jose State's 20-piece brass choir.

Madrigal Group Starts Rehearsals

Rehearsals of Miss Maurice Thompson's Madrigal group, consisting of about 20 advanced voice students, began Friday in preparation for their spring program.

"I am very much encouraged by the good material among voice students who have transferred here this quarter from other institutions," she said Friday.

The "Four Musketeers", male quartet with San Jose State college last year, are now auditioning in Hollywood, according to Miss Thompson. The group, which was booked during the summer at Camp Curry in Yosemite, includes Carlton Lindgren, Harvey Browning, Harry Harter, and Bob Gleason.

Pre-Legal Club Plans First Meeting Monday

Plans are being made for an organization meeting of the Pre-legal club to be held next Monday at 12:30, the place to be named at a later date, announces Owen M. Broyles, adviser of the group.

"Because the club is of help in orienting those who plan to enter law, all pre-legal students should become members of the club," says Mr. Broyles.

Many practicing lawyers and judges in this community are former members of the club and in the past they have given valuable advice and information to club members.

According to the adviser, talks by various members of the bar are planned for the group.

Art Department Opens Laboratories For Non-Major Students

Unemployment Compensation Restricted

Restrictions have become more strict on those students who expect to go to school while receiving the benefits from California State Unemployment insurance, according to a notice received recently by Paul M. Pitman, Dean of Men.

These limitations are a direct result of violations of last year of the act by students all over the state. The only students who would be exempt of any penalty are those who could prove that they are going to school for lack of something else to do. That is, they would rather go to school than do nothing.

In order to be eligible for such benefits, the applicant must be immediately available for a full time job, which is the point by which these penalties are fixed. Lists of all college or university students from every institution in the state will be sent to every branch agency and office of the insurance administration to forstall any possibility of a student registering for the aid in any other district.

Penalty for failing to heed the warning will result in a triple indemnity fine; that is, the state can force the false applicant to pay back three dollars for every one that he took from the state, according to Pitman.

Junior Orchesis To Hold Meetings Every Thursday

Junior Orchesis, dance organization open to all women students interested in improved dance technique, will hold weekly meetings every Thursday from 4 to 5 in the Dance studio, announces Miss Marjorie Lucas, instructor.

The society has no entrance requirements of previous dance experience.

Senior Orchesis, women's honorary dance society, will hold its regular meeting tomorrow night at 6:30 in the Dance studio in the Women's gym, according to Miss Lucas.

Practice periods other than the meetings have been set for Monday from 4 to 5 and Fridays from 3 to 4.

OPPOSITE STATE THEATRE

To encourage an interest in art among the students from a purely vocational or hobby standpoint, the Art department is opening a workshop, according to Marques E. Reitzel, head of the department.

"Certain laboratories in the department will be open for experimental purposes to students not art majors or minors. Those students who have always wanted some art experience but have not been able to arrange their programs accordingly, now have the opportunity to paint, model in clay, carve in wood or stone, to try their hand at flower arrangement or to work in various crafts, he said.

There will be someone in charge of the laboratories to take care of equipment and supervise the work. No credit will be offered for the work and students must furnish their own materials.

Mr. Reitzel and Miss Leena Fisher, co-ordinator, will be in charge of the workshop and either students or faculty members interested in attending may sign up in the Art seminar.

"From time to time lecturers will give demonstrations which are to be held for the benefit of workshop students," Mr. Reitzel said.
