DRAMATIC GROUP OPENS SEASON WITH COMEDY ON OCTOBER 24

'Much Ado About Nothing' Judged Bard's Funniest

San Jose Players, campus dramatic group, opens its twenty-ninth active year of production and its twelfth annual season with Shakespeare's famous comedy, "Much Ado About Nothing," to be presented in the Little Theatre October 24 and 25.

CAST NOW COMPLETE

Cast for the drama has been completely selected from the students who took part in the tryouts Monday and Tuesday, a majority of the roles going to individuals who have not appeared in productions here before.

Leading parts in the play have been awarded to Ellen Wylie, sophomore speech major from Palo Alto; Barbara Bellah, senior speech major from La Crescenta; Lenyth Spenser, senior speech major from Modesto; Ruth Froehlich, junior speech major from Hayward; Major West, post-graduate from Pomona college, and Clarence Cassell, junior English major.

MALE ROLES PREDOMINATE
Twenty-three members are in the cast, 19 male parts predominating over the 4 feminine roles in the group.

One of Shakespeare's funniest and gayest comedies, according to Director James Clancy, "Much Ado About Nothing" concerns itself with Benedick, who has no use for women, and Beatrice, who has no use for men. Both, hot-tempered and sworn to eternal celibacy, finally fall in love with each other.

Settings will be designed by J. Wendell Johnson and constructed under the supervision of Peter Mingrone.

Tau Deltas Hold Election Today

Election to fill two vacant posts will be the main order of business on the Tau Delta Phi fraternity calendar today noon in the Tower.

The business meeting will be preceded by a luncheon, prepared by the officers. Grand Magistrate Al Lindner will preside over the meeting and urges a large attendance.

GRIDDERS HONORED

BIDS AVAILABLE FOR SIXTH ANNUAL S.G.O. DANCE TOMORROW NIGHT

In honor of the Spartan grid-ders, Sigma Gamma Omega will hold its sixth annual Football dance tomorrow night at the Scottish Rite temple, according to an announcement by Lewis Daniel, publicity chairman of the group.

GRIDDERS GET FREE BIDS
All varsity football men who did not make the trip with the "Flying Spartans" are invited to attend the dance free of charge with their dates, according to Frank Lovel, SGO president.

More Feuding In Enrollment Row

"In response to 'Social Science Poytress' and 'Natural Science Peterson,'" said Dr. Earl W. Atkinson, Commerce department head, yesterday afternoon, "I doubt whether both departments combined have as many four-year degree majors as I have in my department."

"Incidentally, Dr. Atkinson went on to say, "I wish to call attention to the fact that all students must have 21 units in both of these departments, and none are required in mine."

Joe West, Registrar of the college, said that he believed he had as many students enrolled with him as all departments combined.

State Team Seeks Second Win Of Season At Logan

By BENNIE FRIZZI

Utah State's Farmers, and the San Jose State college Spartans, rated evenly, square off in the Utah stadium tomorrow at 2:30 o'clock.

San Jose will be seeking its second win in six days, having overpowered Montana State Monday night.

Utah State, with injuries to several key players, is planning to play a "waiting game" against San Jose, according to latest reports to come out of the Aggie camp. Coach Dick Romney had his boys working behind closed doors yesterday, after an open Wednesday workout during which he stressed defensive measures to hold back San Jose's wide-open attack.

UTAH WANTS RAIN

If Romney sticks to his "punt, hold and pray" plan, he will welcome rain. San Jose has already shown it can't navigate so well in the rain, witness their 10-to-0 defeat by Texas A. & I.

San Jose worked behind closed stadium doors also, yesterday, and may be cooking up some trick stuff on the order of that which they sprung against Fresno State last year in ringing up a stunning victory.

All the other Spartans are reported fit and raring for action. The spirit is high, and they figure

LIMITED MEMBERSHIP FOR CO-OP UNDEMOCRATIC

House For Boxers May Be Organized; Men Needed

Disbanding its plans to sponsor a co-op for men interested in boxing, the State college Cooperative Housing Committee yesterday went on record as being unwilling to back any house that appeals to any certain group of students, it was announced by Erwin Blesh, chairman of the committee.

NO RIFT

Explaining that there had been no rift over having a house primarily for men interested in boxing, Blesh said that members of the Housing committee felt that it was against the democratic idea of the cooperative movement to limit membership to any one group of students, under the college-sponsored set-up.

"If Portal can establish a house to accommodate boxers, or any of the other coaches can establish houses for participants in their respective sports, there will be no objection. However, any house under the auspices of the college committee must be open to all men students and not to any certain organization," Blesh said.

EIGHT MORE NEEDED

While the drive to meet the quota of 25 is still eight short, the committee is still anxious to form a cooperative house open to all men, whenever enough members sign and pay the $2 deposit at the Controller's office, he said.

WENDELL, BUT NOT WILLKIE, ESCAPES PICKWELL'S ZOO

A Gila Monster roaming San Jose State college by night? "Could be," says Dr. Gayle Pickwell, professor of zoology.

SPECIALLY ORDERED

Dr. Pickwell explains that his Gila Monster, Wendell, more formally known as Heloderma suspectum, has disappeared from his laboratory, Room 201 of the Natural Science building. Wendell, who measures 18 inches not including tail, was specially ordered from an Arizona reptile farm for Dr. Pickwell's zoology classes.

EXOTIC DIET

If Wendell was stolen, his captor must needs put in much of his time collecting worms, centipedes, bird eggs, and smaller lizards, for such is the fare of healthy, husky Gila Monsters.

If, on the other hand, he escaped, and is wandering about (they wander only at night), perhaps he is the explanation of hysterical tales of co-eds who have been "chased" or "annoyed" when crossing the campus at night.

Wayne Rose New Artizan President

Wayne Rose was elected president of Artizans, men's art society, at their first meeting of the quarter, it was announced yesterday. He is replacing William Lee.

Archie Case is the new vice president and John Soares was elected secretary. Ronald Hathaway and Bob Mathison were re-elected to the offices of treasurer and sergeant-at-arms, respectively.

Artizan members are urged to attend the meeting scheduled for Monday night, according to Soares.

BULLETIN!!

By JOHN HEALEY

LOGAN, Utah, Sept. 26.—With Utah skies definitely clearing, San Jose's chances of defeating Coach Dick Romney's Utah State eleven became greater as Coaches Warner and Winkelman prepared to lay plans for drilling the Spartan aggregation in their last practice session.

Making a major shakeup in the starting lineup, Warner and Winkelman announced that Aubrey Minter, diminutive Negro halfback, will be the only regular to start in the Spartan backfield. Dick Hubbell will start at fullback in place of Tornell. Bud Nygren, who showed well in the Montana State game, will start as Minter's running mate at right halfback. Jack Sarkisian, dependable blocker, will open at quarterback in place of Rishwain. In the line Svend Hansen, hard-hitting tackle, will start in place of George Hearn.

Strange as it may seem, the altitude is causing more concern than was anticipated. Logan, although being some 1000 feet lower than Butte, seems to have more effect on the California players than did the air in the Montana city. Breathing may be of more importance in this game in the fact that it is an afternoon game and will be considerably warmer.

Coaches Winkelman and Warner were honored at a Logan civic club luncheon today and were given a sightseeing tour through Logan Canyon to Bear Lake.

NEW SYSTEM TO BE USED FOR PHOTOS

Individual photos for the 1941 La Torre will be taken according to a new plan this year, announces Lois Silver, editor, who explains that the yearbook staff will set the time for members of organizations to have their pictures taken, instead of students making their own appointments with the photographer.

Appointments will begin Monday and students may begin taking pictures by Wednesday, October 2.

Appointments can be made from 11 to 1:30 daily at the La Torre desk in the Publications office.

Spartan Hall And Mary George Give Initial Party

Climaxing the fall initiation of new members to the Mary George and Spartan Hall cooperative houses, a joint get-together was held last night at the girls' house at 146 S. 10th street.

Held as a "get-acquainted" party, dancing was the main entertainment, starting at 8:00 p. m. Refreshments were served.

Highlight of the evening's diversion was the introduction of "Spardi," one month old mutt, and mascot of the men's cooperative.

The affair was under the co-management of Betty Stafford and Leo Singer.

This dance was held as a step to further mixed social activities in the college, according to the chairmen.

WORK BEGINS ON SECOND STORY OF LIBRARY BUILDING

With the main skeleton of the first floor nearly completed, "Dutch" Houghling, foreman, announces that the second story of the new library building will start going up today.

The second floor of the library will contain the education reading room, art reading room, a lecture room, conference room and library school room, according to Miss Joyce Backus, head librarian.

The library is expected to be completed in March, but will probably not be in use until the fall of next year, since it will take considerable time to move the materials from the old building, Miss Backus said.

Council At Work . . .

The Student Council is to be commended for its action in continuing the use of owners' photographs on student body cards.

This system proved its value last spring when it was first inaugurated at San Jose State college. In spite of the fact that many of the pictures were taken several years ago and resemble, in many cases, the photographic art in a police gallery, they constitute a threat that is not taken lightly by most students.

The pictures will cost no more than any other attempt to make the cards "borrow proof." It is estimated that prints of everyone in the college will cost around $5, no more than the cost of the cards themselves. The primary expense in the operation, however, is not the pictures but the time and labor involved in affixing them to the passes.

It is a big job, getting those cards out and it calls for some sort of organization which can be set up and remain permanent. The council came to this conclusion when it discussed the matter Tuesday night.

Here is an opening for one of the service organizations on the campus to perform a service which will eliminate a vexing problem for future student councils. An efficient set-up is needed to get the photographed student body cards to each member of the student body as soon as possible after registration.

An organization is needed which will be able to carry over from year to year, which will train its junior members to take over the duties when older members leave.

It seems logical, without knowing the difficulties of the Registrar's office, that cards with the appropriate photographs could be prepared in advance for those in college the spring quarter. There would be some waste, it is true, but no more than occurs in registration booklets, which are prepared ahead of time.

New students, of course, would have to wait some time for their permanent card, but the whole system, it seems, would be speeded up by an efficient plan worked out somewhat on the order outlined.

NOTHING SACRED

The Political Payoff

SOME WELL-WISHER dropped a copy of A. N. Everett's How to Study Politics into the top drawer of my desk (the one that won't lock), the sly inference being that I have much to learn. Students are on the whole content to accept whatever the editor allows as expressive of the paper's editorial policy, but the circumstances of changing the nation's board of directors every four years brings out the latent flourishes in even the most unregistered of us.

Politics is a lot like farming—twenty per cent agriculture and eighty per cent fixing something that has got busted. Party diplomats cook up a lot of mud pies for the visitors but most of the time they're out scrubbing their own back steps. That's really the fault of the public; everyone likes to see the political knitters drop a stitch occasionally.

Newspapers figure politicians fair game. Politicians include in their now-I-lay-me's a special plea for mercy; after all, another four years and that job licking stamps that Cousin George has will be civil service. Even if he's for, a writer is usually against, especially if his editor is Republican, voting on the Progressive ticket.

If, at the end of another eight weeks, the referee counts ten over Politician Roosevelt, my two-dollar win ticket will pay for another year's subscription to Esquire. If Willkie puts on his hat and goes back to the TVA, I'm going to tear all his colored rotogravure pictures off our parlor wall and somebody will have to give me Esquire for Christmas.

Shhh! Auto 'Shop Talk' Taboo Around Librarians

Warning: Refrain from asking Miss Dora Smith, reference desk librarian, for any literary material pertaining to automobiles during the next few days. That disgruntled look she wears at the moment is the result of a long, ragged scratch in the shiny paint of her new car.

The mark resulted from too much new car in too little space in a parking garage. When attendants attempted to move the machine during Miss Smith's lunch hour yesterday . . . one scratch!

FROSH MEET SALINAS TONIGHT

PUNCHING THE BAG

By CON LACY

George Latka, local lightweight fistic hope, is again signed to meet Sammy Angott, NBA titleholder, in San Francisco next month, according to reports printed in the local papers. You will remember, however, that in the past reports have been published regarding Latka matches between Angott, Lew Jenkins, Lou Ambers, and Henry Armstrong, but the matches have never gone through as scheduled.

NON-TITLE FIGHT

It seems that champions have a habit of avoiding him in matches where their titles are involved, but it seems now that Latka may actually get Angott in the ring. The match is scheduled for October 21. However, Angott's title will not be involved.

With the Angott match signed, Latka's bout with Toby Vigil October 4 at Hollywood Legion stadium assumes added importance. If Latka wins both bouts, he may well be the uncrowned king of the lightweights. However, if he drops the nod to Vigil next week, the Angott match will mean little.

Incidentally, George Raft, who owns half of Latka's contract, will be in his corner in both bouts.

BILLY RISES

Billy Latka, Georgie's younger brother and former Spartan student, is also going great guns in the professional ranks. Billy was signed to meet Fred Apostoli, former middleweight champion, who is hitting the comeback trail, but the match fell through due to Apostoli's poor showing in warm-up bouts. Apparently, Apostoli's handlers figured Billy was too tough a match yet for the former titleholder.

Frisco promoters are after the match, and, if Apostoli's condition improves, the match is likely to be re-signed. Such a match would be Billy's first chance at the big time, and a win over the former champion would put Latka in the money.

Untested Yearlings Seek Upset Over JC

Frosh Poloists Look Good In First Showing

In their first test of the season the Frosh water polo team last night out-manuevered San Jose high's fairly strong team in the local pool. Showing excellent speed and ball handling the yearlings proved that they are a strong team this year.

Marty Taylor, last year's Bulldog captain, exhibited excellent speed at the center forward position. Also, Joe Hunter, of Blythe, displayed speed and ball handling ability at the center position and will be contending strongly for that spot. Al Corcoran, of Long Beach, also showed speed and ball handling ability at the center back position. Others with promise were Parker Show, Victor Hugo, and Kahl.

Although not an official game because of the Bulldog's league ruling, it gave Coach Walker a chance to line up a tentative first string. The Spartan Frosh will scrimmage Tuesday with a strong varsity team from Sequoia high school, which will further prove their ability.

San Jose State's freshman football team will make its initial bid for gridiron recognition tonight in Salinas, when they open their 1940 schedule against the strong Salinas junior college outfit.

STILL UNTRIED

By virtue of their 38-to-0 win over Santa Maria last week, the Panthers will be favored to repeat again tonight. The Spartans, still untried in actual game competition, will field a starting eleven that has only one scrimmage under its belt.

Coach Fred Hamlow will take the entire squad of 45 men to Salinas in order to give every player an opportunity to show his ability. With Francome and Cartwright on the sidelines with injuries, Hamlow will have Pedersen as the only quarterback available for tonight's game. Francome may see some action if the four stitches on his forehead have healed sufficiently by game time tonight, stated Hamlow yesterday.

WIDE-OPEN GAME

Expecting a wide-open game, Coach Hamlow drilled his yearlings on defensive tactics yesterday to stop the razzle-dazzle used

QUOTA FOR C.A.A. FLIGHT TRAINING SET AT 20; PLEDGE ARMY SERVICE

NAME CHANGED BY COMMITTEE; PLAN COURSE

With several changes having been made in the Civil Aeronautics Authority program—or what was formerly the CAA program—San Jose State college's quota in the primary course has been set at 20, it was announced yesterday afternoon by H. F. Minssen, vice principal and co-ordinator of civil pilot training here.

Candidates are taking physical examinations this week, and final physical exams will be given by Dr. Charles Moore, flight physician. Training will begin next week.

NEW SET-UP

The program is worked under a new set-up this fall, according to Mr. Minssen, with the government regarding the training as courses instead of an extra-curricular activity.

Another major change is that all candidates must sign a pledge that they will be available for military service. This is the first time this requirement has been made.

NOW CAB

Name of the program has been changed from the Civil Aeronautics Authority to Civil Aeronautics Board, Mr. Minssen said. The primary course is now known as control private flying course.

Three CAB instructors are already on the San Jose State college staff and another one is expected to be hired soon, it was announced. Two instructors who gave training in CAA here last year, Allen Crane and Fred O'Hanlon, have joined the Canadian air forces and will not give instruction here this year.

To be accepted for the program, students must have had two years of college training, Mr. Minssen stated. Age limits are from 19 to 26 years of age.

Noon Auction Of Lost, Found In Quad Today

Lost and found articles will be auctioned off in the quad today from 12 to 1 o'clock, according to the YWCA, which will conduct the sale.

Attention of all students is called by Bill Evans of the Information office to the services offered by State's Lost and Found department. Information Office, Room 1, is active throughout the year in returning lost property to its owners.

All lost articles should be turned in to the department office, and students who find such articles should take them to the office immediately. It is requested that students who find property do not try to contact the owners through the Spartan Daily, but through the Lost and Found department. All property found in the various departments should be turned in to Lost and Found and not to the department offices, said Evans.

It is suggested that all students put their names, addresses and telephone numbers in books, coats, and other personal property as a means of identification.

CO-RECREATIONAL SWIMMING 1-2 EVERY FRIDAY

Men's and women's physical education departments are sponsoring co-recreational swimming every Friday from 1 to 2 in the college pool, it was announced yesterday by Miss Gail Tucker.

If not enough students turn out at this hour, co-recreational swimming will be discontinued and the group having the most swimmers will be allotted the time, warned Miss Tucker.

Each student planning to attend the class must have an approval from the health office. Both men and women students are required to bring their own caps, but suits will be provided by the college. Desk attendants and guards will be on duty at all times.

Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 12 to 1 and Friday from 2 to 4 will be open for women only, while Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday from 1 to 2 will be reserved for men swimmers.

The Women's Swimming club, sponsored by AWA, meets every Monday evening from 7 to 9 in the pool, according to Miss Lucas. The time is spent in recreational swimming and special practice for competitive meets.

MAUGHAN IN PRACTICE

Although Utah's Coach Romney is worried over injuries suffered by two first-string tackles, Jack More and Sam Merrill, a smile returned to his features yesterday when Whitney Maughan, ace kicking and blocking back, took an active part in practice for the first time in three weeks. Maughan was laid up with a shoulder injury.

He is reported to be about the best booter in the Big Seven conference, and his toe was one of the reasons Utah was able to hang the only defeat on the University of Colorado champions last year. That victory was the high point of the Farmers' 1939 season.

BELNAP HURT SLIGHTLY

Two Spartans who brought satisfaction to Coaches Winkelman and Warner with their great play at Montana are Svend Hansen and Ray Belnap, tackles. Belnap was slightly hurt in the Bobcat clash, but will be back at tackle tomorrow afternoon.

NOTES ON TRIP

A few sidelights on the trip are furnished by John Healey, covering the trip for the Spartan Daily. Healey telegraphed yesterday:

"Little Aubrey Minter, Spartan halfback, led the ball carriers in the Montana game, carrying the ball 16 times for a net gain of 132 yards.

"Montana State had little chance to show their wares. Only three men carried the ball and only for a total of 14 times.

"Spartan Coach Ben Winkelman plans to leave today to scout the Nevada-Brigham Young grid game in Provo. The University of Nevada will oppose the Spartans late

JAPANESE BLUFF AMERICA IN ORIENT POLICY

By PAUL LUKES

Questioned regarding the strong possibility of an Axis-Japanese alliance against the British and its possible effect on the United States, Dr. William Poytress stated yesterday that he thought we would continue to give all aid short of war.

Granting it is agreed that our interests lie with Britain in the Far East and that we will get into the war sooner or later, our present policy of granting aid without being physically active is only giving Japan courage to force the issue now, is the opinion of Poytress.

Library Filled To Capacity Daily, Says Librarian

Although the fall quarter has scarcely started, students are already making good use of the library stack room, according to Robert Gitler, circulation librarian.

Approximately 500 students enter the stacks daily at an average rate of 65 to 70 persons per hour.

The stack room's busiest hours are from 10 o'clock in the morning, when the library is usually filled to capacity with students, until 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon, when the students begin to leave the library, Gitler said.

Records show that books on social sciences are those which are taken most often from the stacks. Books on applied arts such as aviation and other technical courses have gained rapidly in popularity during the past year, while books on literature are also widely read.

"We are always glad to help the students find the books they want," Gitler said, "and if we seem abrupt at times, it is only because we are so rushed with work."

in their schedule.

"One can't say the Spartans do not eat well when on these trips. They get the best of foods and plenty of it. Meats are always the most plentiful with steaks taking the upper hand.

"A little about Utah State college. It has an enrollment of 3500, about 1500 girls. It is one of the outstanding agricultural schools of the country and has some of the finest show stock in the west. The college is located in Cache valley, some eighty miles from Salt Lake City.

"In football, the Farmers ended up next to the bottom in their conference last year. They play such teams as Utah University, Santa Clara opponents this weekend; University of Colorado, Brigham Young University, and the University of Idaho.

"Our foreign policy has been determined for us in Downing street since England failed us in Manchuria," Poytress stated. "This policy has been one of appeasement."

"I regard the Panay bombing as a deliberate attempt to call our bluff and see what we would do," Poytress continued. "I talked to men who were on that boat. That attack was no accident."

"In the past I have publicly criticized President Roosevelt for not playing a stronger hand in China, but it appears now that considerable pressure has brought to bear on the President to go easy."

Poytress then went on to explain that Fortune magazine had revealed that a majority of business men contacted on the subject of our Far Eastern policy were for appeasement.

"This thing may be just a flare-up. We have had them in the past, you know," he concluded.

FRESHMAN WOMEN PLAN BREAKFAST

Sunday morning at 9:00 o'clock the Freshman Women's Club will meet in Schofield Hall of the YWCA for a breakfast party, at which they will plan activities for this quarter. Annette Zaepffel, freshman chairman of the college YWCA, will act as hostess at the gathering.

All freshman women are invited to come and get acquainted, announces Clare Brown Harris.
