Rivals For Historic Shield

KNIGHTS, FROSH-SOPH CLAIM SEPARATE RIGHTS TO HISTORIC PLAQUE

Freshmen and sophomores yesterday argued with Spartan Knights for the right to put the historic shield up as a prize for the tug-o-war between the two classes Thursday.

Wednesday the shield, which was discovered in the vaults of the Anglo-California bank as the building was being torn down, was turned over to Gus Covello, former student and Spartan Knight.

The Knights want the shield to hang in their new official residence at 95 South Fourteenth.

Freshmen claim the prize belongs to them because members of their class locked it in the bank vault 13 years ago after the biggest class battle ever seen on the campus.

Participants of the historic battle were not available for opinions on legal ownership of the shield.

Yesterday Spartan Knights warily allowed the plaque to be photographed near the main gate, scene of the "Spartan Battle of the Century".

Sophomore President Tom Taylor, also a Knight, favored release of the shield to the two classes.

Orchesis Attend Dance Symposium

Members of Orchesis, honorary women's dance society, will attend a dance symposium at Mills College tomorrow and will present a demonstration dance at the afternoon session.

"The Hollow Men", impressionistic dance, presented to spoken accompaniment of the poem by T. S. Eliot, is the dance Orchesis will present. This dance was originated by the students and first performed last night at the Orchesis dance recital in Morris Dailey auditorium. The dance was selected as the group's most interesting problem of the year.

Albert Frankenstein, music critic for the San Francisco Chronicle, will speak to the group on "The Function of the Critic".

REVELRIES SCRIPT ACCEPTED BY COMMITTEE BOARD

Revelries script submitted by co-authors Kathleen Bearce, Paul Lukes and Harvey Brooks was given final approval for spring production by the Revelries board at a meeting yesterday afternoon.

The theme of the musical comedy is centered around the past, present and future of college life. It is written in three acts with a prologue.

The Revelries committee will meet at 12:15 o'clock Monday to select a director's name to put before the student council for final selection. The director will be announced at the council meeting.

Directors do not have to be interviewed, but are advised to be in the Speech office at the time of the meeting Monday. Applicants for the position include Peter Gilli, Major West, Harvey Brooks, and Kathleen Bearce.

Other prospective directors are asked to hand in their applications to the Speech office, room 159, before 12 o'clock Monday.

Tentative date for production of the annual show has been set for Thursday and Friday evenings, May 1 and 2, in the Morris Dailey auditorium. Spardi Gras, spring carnival, will probably be May 2.

T-STUDENTS HOLD MEETING FEB. 27

The regular quarterly meeting of all T-Course students for the purpose of making out programs for next quarter will be held on Thursday, February 27, at 11 o'clock in the Morris Dailey auditorium.

In addition, a very important change in procedure will be explained. Every T-Course student should be present.

Harrison F. Heath,
Coordinator.

GILLIS ANNOUNCES CAST FOR TRAGEDY; PLAY TO RUN FOR FOUR NIGHTS

Juracich To Portray Horatio, Cassell Chosen As Laertes

By IRENE MELTON

Joseph Juracich won the role of Horatio and Clarence Cassell the part of Laertes in tryouts for "Hamlet" given in the Little Theater yesterday, Hugh Gillis announces.

Other results of the tryouts as released by Gillis include casting of Howard Melton as Rosencrantz and John Caro as Guildenstern. Warren Thomas will be seen as Osric, and Frank Soares will portray the ghost. Voltimund will be played by Earl Miller, who is also seen as the ship's captain.

George Walston, who will appear as Cornelius, will also serve as reader of the prologue.

Ronald Hadley will portray the priest and also Francisco, a soldier, in later scenes. Denny Morrissey will be seen as Marcellus.

The role of Bernardo has been won by Frank Thompson, who will also be seen as Fortinbras in the later scenes of the play.

Norval Guttormsen will appear as the player king and Leonard Green as the player queen. Green is also seen as Reynaldo, servant to Polonius.

Keith Bickford is the first player; while the two grave diggers are Duane Heath and Harrison McCreath.

Barbara Trelease has won the role of Queen Gertrude, and Elizabeth Stowe will be seen as Ophelia. The group of court ladies will be made up of Audrey Tracy, Cherry Phillips, Ruth Madland, Kay Walton, and Barbara Rampe.

James Clancy will appear as Hamlet in the drama to be presented in the Little Theater April 23, 24, 25, and 26. Ray Irwin and Lawrence Mendenhall of the Speech faculty will be seen as King Claudius and Polonius, respectively.

EASTER TALKS ON DIFFICULTIES IN READING TODAY

Dr. Emmett A. Betts, director of the Pennsylvania State college reading clinic will lecture today at a special institute meeting of the teachers of Santa Clara county in the main room of the San Jose Civic auditorium.

Dr. Betts will speak to the group on the subject, "Bases for Effective Reading Instruction", and will also present an analysis of reading difficulties.

According to Mr. A. H. Horral, Assistant Superintendent of Schools for the city of San Jose, Dr. Betts is one of the leading authorities on the subject of beginning reading and the testing of eye movements.

Dr. Betts arrived by plane yesterday from Pennsylvania, and will present two lectures today, one of which will be before the California State Association of Optometrists.

Today's sessions will go along entirely educational lines, beginning with an analysis of certain phases of differential diagnosis by Erich Pressburger, M.D., ophthalmologist formerly of Fuch's Eye Clinic, Vienna.

PHELAN CONTEST DEADLINE ONE MONTH AWAY

Only a little over a month remains for students to complete their entries for the annual Phelan Literary competition which will close on March 25 at 5 o'clock, according to Dr. Raymond W. Barry, head of the English department.

Contributions for the contest will be accepted in six divisions—sonnet, lyric, free verse, essay, short story and play.

All contributions must be typed in double space with the full title of the selection placed at the top of the first page and an abbreviation of the title at the upper left-hand corner of each succeeding page. All pages should be numbered.

Plays must be submitted in a form suitable for publication with the title in capitals, stage directions underlined once and names of characters underlined twice.

Each person must submit a cover sheet bearing the name of the author, the titles of each contribution and the division into which each is submitted. The author's name must not appear anywhere on the manuscript.

First, second and third prizes and honorable mention will be awarded to the winning entries in each division. Prize winning material will be published in El Portal, annual literary magazine.

Students may submit as many entries as they wish to each division or they may submit entries in several divisions if they so desire, Dr. Barry said.

Freshman Debate Team Meets UC

Two members of the freshman team will take part in a preliminary debate with University of California today at 3 o'clock in room 127, announces Natalie Ross, debate manager.

Debaters Lawrence Viau and Kenneth Fisher will discuss the affirmative side of the question, "Resolved, That Civil Liberties should be curbed during war time."

The same debate will be broadcast on radio station KROW Saturday, March 1, at 2 o'clock.

The debate class will act as audience for today's debate and students interested are invited to attend.

Dedicated To The Best Interests . . .

University of California has a "Good Bear" organization, dedicated to protecting the interests of working students. The organization maintains an employment bureau and sets up certain standards for student working conditions before allowing business concerns to display the "Good Bear" emblem.

Any concern which fulfills these standards of hours and wages is awarded the emblem on the theory that students will patronize them, knowing they give workers a fair deal. Business men have responded favorably and have been rewarded by increased college patronage after displaying the emblem.

San Jose State college is a poor man's school, and a larger percentage of working students attend here than at most colleges and universities. It is much easier to work one's way through school at any state college than at the higher-priced private institutions, and college labor fills a valuable need for concerns which cannot employ a full-time worker.

Student working conditions have improved greatly in the past few years, but there are still a few concerns which do not pay a standard wage.

Why not a "Good Spartan" organization for San Jose State college?

Editorials and features appearing in the Spartan Daily reflect the viewpoint of the writer and make no claim to represent student opinion, nor are they necessarily expressive of the Daily's own policy. Unsigned editorials are by the editor.

WOULDN'T Journalism Department Head Dwight Bentel's face be red if he knew that one of his recent class assignments backfired and caused more work for the librarians than for the students?

The wily professor, in an effort to test the research ability and perspicacity of his pupils, requested that they find the correct name of the last survivor of the ill-fated Donner party.

To make things harder, Bentel gave the class the name of the woman reputedly the last survivor, only it wasn't the correct name. The students were supposed to leap this hurdle in the race for education and, with mental discernment, discover the right name of the woman by diligently employing the library's facilities.

Things went along fine until the speediest and most ambitious class members exhausted the stack room's supply of research books, leaving bare shelves for their successors.

Undaunted, the prospective "fourth-estaters" doggedly trooped to the reference desk, thereby inaugurating a series of headaches-by-day and nightmares-by-night for the exhausted librarians who were requested for information on the Donner party.

Student faith in the good "ole" reference desk began to totter precariously as minute after minute went by with no results. Assistant librarians were called in, and then assistant assistants joined the milling throng around the reference files.

Well, to cut it short, the information was finally found, and of all places, in an old 1888 volume from the locked folio case—a work now out of print.

"Pen Pictures from the Garden of the World" was the title of the work, and no one would ever guess what place was meant by the "Garden", except possibly the local Chamber of Commerce.

That's right, subtitle of the book is "Or Santa Clara County, California", and the entire edition is filled with half biographical sketches of pioneers in early history of this county.

Almaden quicksilver mines, now being opened again, are given space in the volume, as is the Santa Clara Mission and other local points of historic interest.

And as for the last Donner Party survivor, and the assignment, well, Bentel must have found out that his future news-sleuths have a "nose for news". At any rate, we're grateful for a column idea.

CONTRIBUTOR'S COLUMN

Thrust and Parry

Dear Thrust and Parry:
I would like to try to settle once and for all a question which is still brought up in Thrust and Parry. It's the old freshman-sophomore superiority stuff.

An editorial the other day said that since "dinks" appear to be the insignia of the freshman, why not determine by a method of contest whether or not the freshmen have to continue to wear this green cap. That is completely the wrong idea of the "dinkies". The "dinkies" are being worn by the freshmen in order to promote class spirit and because the freshmen want to wear them.

I would like to commend Allan Isaksen, the freshmen class president, in really supporting this idea. We freshmen think the sophomores will heartily agree that we are above all those who think there should be a determination of which class is the superior. The holding of contests to decide who may or may not wear "dinkies" and which class is the superior will only turn eventually into a "brawl" as has been the case in other schools.

The editor of the Spartan Daily told about the shield which caused a great brawl between the freshmen and sophomores thirteen years ago. Let's not have another brawl like that. Let's forget this superiority idea. If we are to have contests in the future between the freshmen and sophomore classes,

JOHN HEALEY The Bystander

IT has been several times both verbally and editorially the seeming superiority of the American college student.

Monetary drives for the students of war torn Europe and Asia are met with willingness and good heart. Community Chest drives, Rice Bowl drives are recognized by American students as good for humanity. They give freely. It is an outstanding characteristic of the American people as a whole to "give until it hurts".

Recently this willingness to give has gone deeper than just on monetary standards. There appeared in the Daily recently an article asking for blood donors to help someone in trouble.

It was later revealed that numerous students from both the high school and college quietly replied. These students were willing to help someone in stress—and asked nothing in return. To these that were willing to relieve the suffering in humanity, we salute.

With the increasing popularity of ice skating, there has been numerous sales of second-hand skates and other equipment.

It might have saved a little embarrassment and expense if a bill of sale had been obtained when the equipment was purchased. It was found that some students had invested in stolen goods.

Let them be with the idea of class spirit.

Sellers Puts Scalp On Block Against Champ Ted Kara

With four scalps gone and Coach DeWitt Portal's hair at stake, the storming San Jose State college team tangles tonight with the highly-favored University of Idaho national championship squad in Moscow.

HAIR SCALPED

Portal, who has vowed to shave his head if the team loses more than 50 per cent of the matches on the current Northwestern tour, will lose his hair if the Spartans do not at least break even tonight. The four losers against Oregon State Wednesday night have paid the penalty by having their hair clipped and only four survivors retain their hair.

In the 4-4 Oregon State meet, Tony Nasimento lost a TKO to Hal Peterson, Mark Guerra was defeated by Arnold Hildebrandt, Bill Moulden lost to Hank Dickman, and Stan Smith was beaten by George Christensen.

WINNERS

The winners were Bill Sellers over Jiro Yasudo by forfeit, Dick Miyagawa won over Bill Livingston, Jack Sarkisian KO'ed Bill McFadden, and Jack Kemper defeated Ken Pruitt.

Sellers has been elected captain for tonight's meet and faces National champion Ted Kara in the feature match of the night. In the 127-pound class, Dick Miyagawa, who won in Oregon, meets Frank Kara, who holds the Pacific Coast title at that weight. Both Kara's are favored.

In a surprise move by Coach Louie August of Idaho, Laune Erickson, national 165-pound champion, has been moved up to the 175-pound class and will face Jack Sarkisian.

Following is the way both teams will square off tonight:

- 110—Bill Sellers (SJ) vs. Ted Kara.
- 117—Dick Miyagawa (SJ) vs. Frank Kara.
- 118—Tony Nasimento (SJ) vs. Norman Jensen.
- 145—Mark Guerra (SJ) vs. Don Reed.
- 165—Bill Moulden (SJ) vs. Chace Anderson.
- 175—Jack Sarkisian (SJ) vs. Luane Erickson.
- 185—Jack Kemper (SJ) vs. Veto Berilus.

New Football Manager Named

Sebastian "Scrappy" Squatrito, sophomore journalism major from San Jose, has been named senior manager of San Jose State's football team for the 1941 season, according to Frank Carroll, graduate manager.

Squatrito was junior manager of the 1940 football squad and at the present time is junior manager of the basketball team.

Spartans Receive 1941 Bid For Hawaiian Game

San Jose's Spartans are going back to the Hawaiian Islands this year!

STILL DOUBTFUL

Physical Education Department Head Glenn "Tiny" Hartranft disclosed yesterday that San Jose has been invited to take part in a Police Benefit game against the University of Hawaii on December 14 and will in all probability accept.

However, Hartranft says that the game is tentative in so far as financial arrangements are concerned. Terms of the contract still have to be ironed out, and San Jose will accept the date if they are satisfactory.

1942 CANCELLED

The invitation automatically cancels Spartan plans for a 1942 invasion of the Islands, unless other plans are made after this year's date, according to Hartranft.

The way for this year's date was paved by Utah State which cancelled plans for a game this coming season in favor of a date in 1942.

The last time the Spartans invaded the Islands they lost their first contest in five Hawaiian starts, a 13 to 12 loss to Hawaii university in 1938. It was the only loss suffered in a 13-game schedule under Coach Dud DeGroot. In two previous years the Spartans had won four straight in the Islands.

CARROLLMEN IN PRELIM CONTEST TOMORROW NIGHT

Spartan fans who witness tomorrow night's cage contest between the State frosh and Madera high will see what frosh Coach Frank Carroll terms the best unit that he has had all season. Tipoff time is slated for 6:30 in the local pavilion.

NEW LINE-UP

In a surprise move, Carroll juggled his line-up for the USF frosh tussle and was completely satisfied with the showing that his starting quintet made. The new starting five is composed of Paul Borg and Charlie Townsend at forwards; Art Watts at the pivot post; and Wayne Staley and Chet Madsen at the guards.

Borg has been the Spartababe sparkplug as of late and won a starting berth due to his ability to hit the hoop and his hustle. Townsend was a second string forward until last Wednesday, but is one of the fastest players on the squad. Watts has been made over from a guard to a center and is one of the best rebound men on the team.

MADSEN GOES

Chet Madsen and Wayne Staley have been the starting guards since early in the season. Staley's sharpshooting eye has garnered many a point for the frosh. Madsen is less spectacular but is considered to be a steady player who rebounds consistently.

Wrestlers Face Wolf Matmen In Cage Prelim

MATCHES START AT 7 SHARP TONIGHT

Minus three star performers, an injury-ridden Spartan wrestling team will make its first home appearance of the season tonight in Spartan pavilion, risking an undefeated record against the Wolfpack of the University of Nevada.

PRELIM TO CAGE

A new type of double header is on tap with the wrestlers performing as a preliminary to the San Jose-Nevada basketball game. Mat fans should appear early, as the matches start at 7, and will be over by 8.

Captain Mel Bruno Davey Hines, and Yosh Uchida are the three regulars out of competition for the meet. Bruno, sensational 165-pounder, is out with a bad leg received in the match with Clarence Kemp, coach of the San Francisco YMCA, last week. Kemp handed Bruno his first dual meet defeat in four years.

HINES OUT

Davey Hines at 155 pounds is also out, with bad ribs. Hines, clever sophomore, was undefeated in intercollegiate competition last year, and handed Kemp his only defeat this year. Uchida, featherweight, is out with a cut eye.

The Nevadans will start a strong team led by Coach Frank Rosachi. Rosachi will meet Bob Norona in the feature match of the evening. Rosachi was the outstanding Nevada wrestler and wrestled a sensational draw with Norona in Spartan pavilion last year.

The rest of the line-up will remain the same as last week. Carl Kuhl at heavyweight, Bob Riddle or Charlie Smith at 175 pounds, Don Carmen or Bill Hoover 165, Vic Gorin 155, Dave Kawamota 145, Ivan Olsen 135, Bob Norona 128, and Con Lacy 121.

VARSITY, FROSH BASEBALL TILTS CANCELLED

The 1941 debut of both the Spartan varsity and frosh baseball teams was officially cancelled when varsity Coach Walt McPherson announced that both proposed tilts had been called off due to bad weather and lack of practice.

The varsity nine was slated to cross bats with the Bank of America nine and the frosh were supposed to tangle with the University of California frosh. The frosh contest against Cal was transferred to April 22, however, but no arrangements with the Bank to play at a later date have been made as yet.

Mentor McPherson stated that if the ground became in even half-way decent condition by Saturday, then he would hold an inter-squad game. The varsity will make its debut Tuesday when they face Fireball Quentin "Cootie" Thompson and the Stanford nine in Palo Alto.

Nevada Quintet To Engage Spartans In Gym Tonight

The University of Nevada Wolfpack from Reno invades Spartan pavilion tonight for the first of a two game series which will conclude tomorrow night.

The games will mark the wind-up of the present season for the Nevadans, but it will be more on the order of a tune-up for Coach Walt McPherson's cagers—a tuneup for the crucial San Diego series which takes place here Monday and Tuesday nights.

JUGGLES LINEUP

McPherson was far from pleased with the work of his squad in the U. S. F. game which the Spartans dropped by a 46 to 38 score Wednesday night in San Francisco. The Spartan mentor juggled his squad considerably in order to arrive at the best possible combination for the Aztec series which will probably decide the CCAA conference winner.

Tonight McPherson plans to continue working his men in different combinations to find the best possible unit. He'll brush up on their offense in the second game and be ready to shoot the works against the San Diegans next week.

LOOK AHEAD

At the same time McPherson thinks that his men may be looking too far ahead and may find the Nevadans a tough bunch of ball players. The Nevadans have dropped doubleheaders to College of Pacific and Saint Mary's College, but have trounced the San Francisco State Gators, one of the smoothest college fives around these parts.

All was not disgusting for McPherson in the Don clash. He was impressed with the work of Captain Hal "Pappy" Carruth, who looks as if he may hit the stride he set earlier in the season. Carruth was hot in the earlier stages of the game and was responsible for the Spartans holding a two-point lead at the half.

Coach Charlie Schuchardt of the Wolves will open tonight's game with Edwards and Harris at forwards, O'Shaughnessy at center, and Vaughan and Miller at guards. McPherson is undecided just who to start, but in all probability it looks as if the starting Spartans will line up with Bill Helbush, Stu Carter or Captain Carruth at forwards, Menno Siebert at center, and John and Ernie Allen at guards.

INDIAN MERMEN BEAT SPARTANS, 46-29, IN MEET

Stanford university's powerful swimming aggregation turned back the thrust of the Spartan aqua paddlers last night in the local pool and walked off with a 46-29 triumph over Coach Charlie Walker's varsity mermen.

Paced by the sensational Roy Vitousek, who swam on two winning relay teams and annexed a first place in the 100-yard free style event, the Indians showed surprising power. The team of Weeden, Vitousek and Reynolds broke the only pool record of the evening when they traversed the 300-yard medley even in the record shattering time of 3:09.2. This same team held the previous record which they set when swimming as freshmen.

Dean "Diz" Foster and Roger "Frenchy" Freller won third and fourth places in the Senior PAA breast stroke event held in the Fairmont hotel pool the other evening against competition from various colleges.

Don Thomsen and Dean Foster accounted for two more San Jose victories when they won the 50-yard free style and 200-yard breast stroke events, respectively. Howard Adams, showing the form that made him Senior PAA champion,

LEON AMYX, GRADUATE OF '31, EXHIBITS ART IN SAN FRANCISCO GALLERY

A one-man oil and water color exhibit by a San Jose State college art major and graduate of 1931, Leon Amyx, was on display at the Vera Jones Bright Gallery in San Francisco recently.

Amyx, now head of the Art department at Salinas junior college, included "capable and attractive water color landscapes" in his exhibition, according to one San Francisco paper.

Alfred Frankenstein, music critic for the San Francisco Chronicle, also declares that Amyx is more than ever somebody to watch in the art world.

SECOND EXHIBIT

The artist lives in Salinas, according to Frankenstein, who also points out that Mrs. Bright gave Amyx his first local show last year.

Speaking of Amyx's first exhibit, the music critic writes, "One remembers mainly California landscapes in a dryish, architectural style much beholden to Cezanne and Marin."

IMPROVEMENT NOTED

This time, Frankenstein goes on to say, the pictures are more fluent and supple; there is less discipline and more feeling, less reaching and more achievement.

Frankenstein's article on the local college graduate appeared in the February 16 issue of the paper under the title of "Five Small One-Man Shows".

Further praise is given the exhibit by the Chronicle music critic's declaration that Amyx's work is not "run-of-the-mill creation."

CHURCH PARTY TOMORROW AT 8

Celebration of the 80th anniversary of the Trinity Episcopal church will begin a three-day celebration in the Parish House tomorrow night at 8 o'clock to which all college members and their friends are invited.

The party, sponsored by the Young Churchmen's club, features a musical program and old-fashioned dancing. Refreshments will also be served and all guests are invited to wear costumes of the period, according to Frances Murtle, president.

JAPANESE CLUB INSTALLS OFFICERS

Installation of officers for the Japanese Students' club will be held tonight at the home of Miss Clara Hinze, faculty adviser, at 231 S. 17th St. The meeting will begin at 8 p.m.

New officers are David Sakal, president, with his cabinet composed of Fred Yamaguchi, vice-president; Alice Okamoto, secretary; Johnny Kawachi, treasurer; Mary Tawara, assistant treasurer.

After a short business meeting, refreshments will be served, and games will provide recreation, according to Jane Okata, reporter.

Synthetic Fabric Exhibit Displayed

"Synthetic Fabrics" is the title of an exhibit prepared by Beatrice Gray for Dr. Margaret Jones' class in Methods, and now on display in the Home Economics building.

The exhibit asks the question, "Are synthetic materials, product of the age of chemistry, the 'Fabrics of the Future'?"

Rayon, the first and still the most important synthetic, is featured and the more well-known developments in the field of modern textiles—nylon, vinyon, and fiber glass—are also presented.

Philosophers Appear On KQW

Although students who participate in "Thinking Out Loud," a program presented by members of Elmo Robinson's philosophy classes over station KQW every Tuesday at 5:45, are prepared to discuss any subject which comes up, they were not prepared for the program to go on the air 15 minutes earlier than usual last week.

However, the group proved equal to the emergency and went ahead with the discussion in spite of their astonishment.

About six philosophy students take part in the program each week. Without any previous organization or discussion of the material, they talk over questions of current interest in this locality, Robinson said.

DR. CARL DUNCAN GIVES FACTS ON INSECT LIFE AND ITS IMPORTANCE

By FLORENCE SCUDERO

Did you know that there are more kinds of insects on the earth than all plant and animal life put together? And that without them 80 per cent of the fruits and vegetables would be lost?

There are at least 5 to 10 million insects living in the world, and it is doubtful if all other life exceeds one million, said Dr. Carl Duncan of the Science department.

PEGASUS ELECTS THREE MEMBERS

Three students were elected to Pegasus, literary honor society, at a recent meeting. Formal initiation will take place just before the end of the winter quarter.

Dorothy Bailey, sophomore journalism major from Los Gatos, was chosen for her series of sketches "On Higher Learning"; Billy Davis, senior English major, for biography; and George Konoshima, senior commerce student, for essays.

The group, with a membership limited to fourteen, has one remaining vacancy. Anyone wishing to be considered for membership may turn in a manuscript to Dr. James Wood, Dr. Esther Shepherd, or to any member of the society.

Edward Levin To Speak Monday Night

Edward Levin, a member of Father Hubbard's expeditions to Alaska, will speak to members of the Cosmopolitan club Monday evening, 7:30, at the home of Miss Gertrude Wright, 240 S. 13th, on "Alaska, its People, Country and Defense".

His subject will also cover every other aspect on Alaska, according to Flora Deane Russell, chairman of the club.

Levin has accompanied Father Hubbard, well-known Santa Clara priest whose expeditions into the less civilized regions of the Alaskan territories have been told throughout the country, on several of his trips and will probably go again this April.

Models Selected Monday For AWA Fashion Show

Models selected by the various organizations to exhibit styles in the annual AWA Fashion Show March 5 in the Morris Dailey will hold tryouts at Roos Bros. Monday evening at 7:30, according to Beverly Byrnes, chairman of the affair.

From the 25 women and 15 men selected, this elimination tryout, conducted by experts from Roos Bros., will pick those students most adept at modeling, Miss Byrnes stated.

"Campus Futures of 1941" was chosen as the theme of the Fashion Show and will cover collegiate styles in campus wear, active and spectator sports, formal and job-hunting.

Several entertainment acts will be given between the showing of fashions, supplied by local talent and one of the school orchestras, Gerry Averitt, co-chairman with Miss Byrnes, stated.

In charge of men models is Bill Van Vleck with Alice Good originating the decorations.

PIANO-ORGAN RECITAL PRESENTED TONIGHT BY NINE MUSIC STUDENTS

Under the direction of Miss Margaret Thomas of the Music faculty, nine students of the Music department will present a piano-organ recital this evening at 8:15 in the Little Theater.

The program will be composed entirely of piano and organ solos. Opening the recital will be an organ solo "Prelude, Chaconne and Fugue" by Buxtehude, played by Palmo Roth. This will be followed by Sibelius' "Romance" played as a piano solo by Dorothy Ford.

Tau Delta Phi To Observe 25 Years' Service Tomorrow

Twenty-five years of activity will be observed tomorrow as Tau Delta Phi, men's honorary scholastic fraternity, will take part in activities marking a quarter of a century since its founding in April, 1916.

Doug Harville heads the committee in charge of arrangements for the day's program, which will include visiting in the tower, ping-pong, badminton, and other games open to members, alumni and their escorts. Weather permitting, a softball game between alumni and present members of Tau Delta Phi will be featured.

Activities get under way in the Tower at 10 a.m., according to Grand Magistrate Franklin Kelso. Starting at 1 o'clock and lasting until 3 in the afternoon, the Tower will be open for inspection by guests and wives of the members and alumni. This will mark the first time in five years and the second time in 25 years that women have been allowed in the Tower.

In the evening the activity will shift to the Trocadero ball room in Santa Cruz where a semi-formal no-corsage dance will be held. Vance Perry is in charge of arrangements.

The fraternity was founded by a group of faculty members and students with the twofold purpose of honor and service.

Three honorary members, H. F. Minssen, K. S. Hazeltine, and B. W. Spaulding, all members of the college faculty, took an active part in the 1916 organization.

BETA GAMMA CHI DANCE TOMORROW

Final plans for the annual winter formal, set at Sequoyah Country club, from 9 to 1 o'clock tomorrow evening, were made by members of Beta Gamma Chi, social society, with Stella Schnable presiding over her first meeting as president of the group, Wednesday.

Celeste Joseph, outgoing executive, turned the gavel over to Miss Schnable.

Other members taking office are: Dorothy Ford, vice-president; Vivian Campbell, secretary; Jean Gordon, treasurer; Eileen Gibbs, AWA representative; Audrey Brinkworth, reporter; and Stevastene Jacks, intersociety representative.

Lowell Jones' orchestra will provide music for the dance, which will feature the group's insignia worked out in red, white, and blue to carry out the spirit of Washington's birthday, which is the same date.

the land birds and fresh water fishes, and 30 to 40 per cent of land mammals depend on insects for their food supply.

Many insects are beneficial in one part and injurious in others; however, it is wise to know all the facts about them before concluding that all are bad. Judge each on its own merits, said Dr. Duncan.

Three chorale preludes, "Die alte Jahr vergangen ist," "In der ist Freude" and "Christ lag in Todeshanden" by Bach played by Charles van Bronkhorst, organist, will be presented next.

This number will be followed by three piano solos, played by Melrose Yeyand. They will be "Sonata in F Major" by Mozart, "Song Without Words" by Weyand and "Clair de Lune" by Debussy.

The next soloist on the program will be Edith Hughes, organist, who will play two numbers by modern Pan American composers. These are Panto's "Tom Thumb's March" and "Polochinelle" by Villa Lobos.

Following this, Manuel Sauer, organist, will play three solos, "Ave Maria," "Litany" and "Cantata" which will be followed by two piano solos, "Ballade" by Brahms and "En Route" by Palmgren, played by Charlotte Morley.

The recital will end with an organ solo played by Lucille Machado. Miss Machado will play Mendelssohn's Sonata No. 2.

The program is open to the public and everyone interested is invited to attend.

Students Invited To Attend Church Choir Services

Students are invited to attend rehearsals for choir services to be held at the First Methodist Church, Fifth and Santa Clara streets, the afternoons of February 28 and March 27.

Rehearsals, scheduled for every Tuesday evening at 7:30, will be given in the church, according to Mrs. S. Ellingson, director of the services.

The afternoon service will be given by a women's singing group while the evening service will present a combined women's and men's choir.

The singing is part of an annual church service entitled the World's Day of Prayer, according to Mrs. Ellingson. Singers will include representatives from all local churches.
