

COUNCIL MAY FILL TWO STUDENT POSITIONS TONIGHT

Two important positions may be filled tonight by council appointment when the student government body meets in the Student Union at 7 o'clock.

Revelries director and next year's La Torre editor are the two jobs to which students may be named.

Recommendations for the director of the annual musical show will be made to the council by the Revelries committee which will meet today at 12:15 in the office of Hugh Gillis.

Journalism Head Dwight Bentel will submit his recommendation for 1941-42 La Torre editor six months earlier than usual in a precedent-breaking move. Heretofore, the yearbook head has not been named until near the end of the spring quarter.

Because of the long time necessary for planning the book and making the dummies, Mr. Bentel said both he and the staff felt much was to be gained by making the appointment earlier, allowing the future editor to get preliminaries out of the way, ready to get into actual work in the fall.

FACULTY HEARS KELLOGG SPEAK

A meeting of faculty members invited to attend their services to be held in the First Methodist and Santa Clara rooms of February 27.

Subject of Kellogg's discussion will concern color control theories, in which he will advance his ideas about establishing red, yellow and green, the primary colors reflected by light, to be used in paints, rather than the present primary colors of red, yellow and blue, according to Marques E. Reitzel, Art department head.

Reitzel Conducts Lecture Series

Marques E. Reitzel, head of the Art department, is conducting a series of weekly lectures in Redwood City, according to Pearl Pinard, art office secretary.

Lectures are entitled "High Lights of Art" and are held at the Sequoia high school each Thursday night.

The course is designed to give background for appreciation of art for the layman. To make the adult student more discriminating about the things they surround themselves with, the lectures include color and design, Reitzel explained.

IS CLASS SHIELD AGAIN IN BANK LOCK BOX?

Whereabouts of the 12-year-old wooden shield found in an Anglo-California bank vault last week remained more or less a mystery over the week-end as Spartans Knights refused to reveal its hiding place.

It was believed Friday, however, that Harvey White and Mert Crockett of the Knights had put the shield back into the safe-keeping of a bank lock-box, although neither would comment.

Clarence Russo, a member of the organization, expressed a belief that the plaque had again been put away in a strong box.

Members of the freshman and sophomore classes still retained a hope that Spartan Knights would release the shield as a prize for the tug-o-war to be held Thursday.

It was in the fall of 1929 when freshmen managed to gain possession of the prize as a result of a long battle, locking it up in the local bank, where it remained until last Wednesday when it was discovered as workmen were tearing out the vaults while preparing to raze the building.

Former Faculty Member Dies

Clara Hettie Smith, for eight years a member of the History department faculty at San Jose State college and former member of the San Jose Board of Education, died in Ojai, Ventura county, last Thursday, according to word received here by friends.

Miss Smith taught at the college from 1912 until 1923 and while here was active politically, in one election narrowly failing to secure a seat in the city council.

She was actively connected with many philanthropic and civic undertakings in San Jose, leaving in 1923 to do rural school supervision in Ventura county.

She was active in student affairs at the college and was adviser to the college student council.

Funeral services for Miss Smith will be held in Ventura today.

Levin Addresses Club On Alaska

A member of Father Hubbard's several expeditions into Alaska, Edward Levin will tell of his many experiences to members of the Cosmopolitan club at their weekly meeting tonight, 7:30, at the home of Miss Gertrude Wright, 240 S. Thirteenth street.

Mr. Levin has chosen as his topic, "Alaska, Its People, Country and Defense". His talk will cover many other aspects on Alaska, according to Flora Deane Russell, chairman of the club.

SPARTANS FACE AZTECS C.C.A.A. CHAMPIONSHIP ON BLOCK TONIGHT, TOMORROW IN PAVILION

BY FRANK BONANNO

Championship caliber basketball is slated for the Spartan Pavilion tonight and tomorrow, when league-leading San Diego State college and second place San Jose State lay their chips on the table and with no tricks outlawed fight it out for the California Collegiate Athletic Association title.

OUTCOME AWAITED

At this writing the outcome of the Aztec-Santa Barbara two game series on Friday and Saturday night is not known; but regardless of the results will have no direct bearing on the Spartan-San Diego games tonight and tomorrow.

With the University of Nevada games used as tuneups for the San Diego series, the Spartans need both games from the Aztecs to assure them of finishing on top of the CCAA race.

In the first meeting between these two quintets, San Jose won the opener 44-37, but had the tables reversed on them in the second game, 50 to 39. Playing without the services of little All-American, Milt Phelps during the first series, San Jose will have an added threat to use against the Spartans tonight.

PHELPS RETURNS

With Phelps back in the lineup, San Jose will front a team of three year veterans. Out to avenge the double defeat handed them last year by the Spartans, which knocked them right out of the title picture, San Jose again in the same situation this year, will not be taking unnecessary chances tonight and tomorrow.

Former Instructor Exhibits Art Here

Fifth of the bi-monthly art exhibits in the Art wing hallways is up for display today for a two-week's showing.

Painter of this collection is Carolyn Bradley of the Ohio State college and instructor here for the past two summer sessions. She is well known for her work in the East, according to Director of Art Display Louis La Barbera.

For the first time this quarter portraits in water color are being shown. Included in the art show are landscapes by the same artist.

Afternoon Dance Planned For Friday

The second afternoon student body dance of the quarter will be held in the Women's gymnasium from 4 to 6 p.m. Friday, announces Harrett Mannina, social affairs chairman. Admission is set at ten cents per person.

Several door prizes will be provided for both men and women students, and "coke" will be on sale for five cents.

Gene Goudron and five pieces of his dance orchestra will play popular rhythms for the dancers. Door prizes will be named later this week, according to the chairman.

Revelries Director To Be Named Today

Selection of a name to be submitted to the student council for director of the Revelries will be made at 12:15 today at a meeting of the Revelries Board in the Speech office, room 159.

Prospective directors are advised to meet in the Speech office today but they will not be interviewed, announced committee members.

Few Co-eds On NYA Receive Extra Work

An excess of women's NYA allotments this month will make it possible for a limited number of students to work extra hours with special permission, announces Dean of Women Helen Dimmick.

Women wishing to apply for the extra hours must make arrangements with Miss Dimmick right away.

Students who have worked this month and wish to work again next month should fill out renewal application blanks before March 12 if they wish to be considered for the position.

Legal Club Hears Warmke Tuesday

Attorney Leon Warmke, secretary of the State Board of Bar Examiners, will discuss the nature of the California bar examinations and what they show about legal instruction tomorrow at the meeting of the Pre-Legal club.

The dinner meeting will begin at 6:30 and will be held at the Italian hotel.

Mr. Warmke often reviews examination papers for those who have failed and has much evidence as to why candidates fail the examinations and what type of people make the best lawyers. He is a graduate of San Jose State college and of the Stanford Law School.

Pre-Legal members who wish to attend this meeting are asked to sign up with Mr. Broyles in room 26.

Black Masque Meets

Members of Black Masque, senior women's honorary secret society, will hold a social luncheon in the Tea Room of the college cafeteria at noon tomorrow. There will be no formal program.

Rehearsals For 'Hamlet' Start Tomorrow

First rehearsal of "Hamlet" will be held in room 53 tomorrow night, Hugh Gillis announces.

Reading and cutting of the script for the Shakespearean drama to be presented here April 23, 24, 25, and 26 will take place at the first meeting of the cast, which was chosen last week.

Dr. Margery Bailey, Stanford professor of Shakespeare who will assist with editing of the script, has consented to take over some of the earlier rehearsals of the group in order to familiarize herself with the various characterizations, according to Gillis.

A discussion of the play and production ideas will be held by the entire cast at tomorrow night's meeting, Gillis says.

Courtiers and soldiers, as well as other non-speaking parts, will be cast next quarter, according to Gillis.

Leading parts in "Hamlet" were won last week by Joe Juracich, Clarence Cassell, Howard Melton, John Caro and Warren Thomas. Barbara Trelease will be seen as Queen Gertrude and Elizabeth Stowe as Ophelia.

'Jean-Dinky' Mixer Set For Thursday

Traditional lowerclass rivalry will get into full swing Thursday at the "Jean-Dinky" mixer starting at noon in the quad with a tug-of-war and ending with a dance in the Men's gym from 8:15 to 10 p.m.

Class superiority will be determined by the group winning four out of seven points in competitive sports and attendance, announce class officials.

One point each will be awarded the winner in the following sports: swimming, from 6:30 to 7 o'clock; water polo, 7 to 7:30 o'clock; basketball, 7:30 to 8 o'clock; the noon tug-of-war. Three points will be given the class with the largest attendance.

The victor of Thursday's events will be presented a perpetual cup donated by a local jeweler.

"This affair is actually a competitive arrangement to bring to a climax recent frosh-soph disputes. All freshmen and sophomores are urged to attend this mixer and help make it a success," state class officials.

Tickets for the affair are being sold for 15 cents a person.

Former Student Takes Radio Course

Gilbert A. Engel, student here during the spring of 1940, has been selected to pursue a course in radio operations and airplane mechanics at the Army Technical School at Scott Field, Illinois, according to a release from Hamilton Field, California.

Engel is a private in the Army Air Corps. He enlisted in San Jose and reported immediately for duty at Hamilton Field.

The Pre-Final Pressure Is Off

In three weeks students will begin another siege of finals, but this time they will enter final week under less pressure than they did last quarter. This is because of a new ruling that instructors must not give examinations during the week before finals.

The majority of students find that their work tends to pile up on them. Even though at the beginning they made good resolutions to keep up in all their assignments, still at the end they find they have a term paper, a book report and a notebook due, to say nothing of several books to read and a composition to write.

This isn't necessarily because they are lazy or careless about their work. It is just because, in keeping up with their daily assignments, they have to let the bigger term projects, which most classes require, slide along with a little being done on them from time to time. Then, as the end of the quarter draws near, they have to rush to get it done.

Under this new ruling, students will have the week before finals in which to finish up their term papers, notebooks and so forth without having to cope with a series of "pre-final" examinations. If they are fortunate, they will also find time during this period to begin a review of the work they have covered during the quarter in preparation for "the test".

This will not only relieve the pressure for students, but it will also give them a chance to put their best into their work when the time comes.

Who Owns The Shield?

Twelve years ago five freshmen fled through the countryside by automobile with a small piece of wood a foot and a half in diameter, on which was glued a ply-wood Spartan head. Three times the shield switched cars and continued the flight from the sophomores, until it finally was lodged where no one could get to it—a bank vault.

It was the intention of the two classes for the shield to be offered every quarter as a prize to be kept by the winning class for the duration of the quarter.

Although not legalistically minded, to us there can seem no doubt but that the class which locked the shield up still retains prior rights of ownership. At any rate, Spartan Knights have little basis for hanging on to the shield merely because a friend of a Spartan Knight worked in the bank where the article was kept, and since the Knights are looking for a shield, decided it would make a nice gift.

Knights want the shield to hang in their new official abode at 95 South Fourteenth. It would look nice, they feel, above a fireplace or davenport.

But after all, the plaque is only plywood, decorated with a Spartan head and a little gilt pint, now pretty well rubbed off. It has no sentimental value for the Spartan Knights, they have none of the group interest in the article which would arise in the hearts of freshmen and sophomores. Another plaque could be made which would serve the purposes of the Knights in the same capacity, while the historic tales which float around the piece hallow it to the hearts of all lower classmen. There can be no replacement for them. There can be only one such shield with which their class forerunners staged the "Spartan Battle of the Century."

THIS IS JUST STUFF: Once, back in the dim reaches of last quarter I wrote, but feebly, a seven-inch conglomeration that catalogued the idiosyncracies of the various members of the Spartan Daily staff. On this groggy Saturday morning, with the sun and I in a conversational mood, it seems appropriate to take up where last the ink was dry.

I have heard it said, more often than not, that the journalist never does anything. What the critics mean is that the writer never studies the patterned prosals that

Nothing Sacred

Somebody else has whipped up. There has never been, with a rare exception, a member of the Spartan Daily staff who was also a good mathematician or a good chemist, or one who even understood these arts.

To the chem major, all other studies are subordinate to his primary subject, and he and the psychologist and the musician and the mechanic seem unable to understand that to a journalist his profession is a composite of all of these. Not that the writer knows a single important fact about any of the liberal arts; but he does understand them, and understands their place in the relative scheme of things.

To watch Frank Bonanno punch a typewriter all over a desk and then completely rewrite his finished draft; or Vance Perry working himself into a nervous break-

DR. T. W. MacQUARRIE

Just Among Ourselves

“ONE of the cleverest gadgets in the neighborhood is the glass mailbox in front of the modernistic house around the corner. Now they can see at a glance that their son at college has again forgotten to write them.”

One of our students received that this week on a postcard, a gentle hint from his dad that the home folks wouldn't mind hearing from him once in a while.

Which brings up the general question.

Dr. DeVoss tells me that he has had more than the usual number of letters this year, and particularly in the last few weeks, from parents whose boys have failed to write. Of course, we all agree that it is careless, possibly a little bit lazy, certainly thoughtless, perhaps petulant. It's a way we have of punishing the home folks when they don't behave.

There is nothing much that one can do about it. We invite the young man in and ask him if he is still registered in the college, if he is all right, and if he happens to remember some recent ancestors of his.

The delinquent is usually much embarrassed, didn't realize that it had been so long, had been carrying a letter around in his pocket for three weeks—waiting for a stamp, had even thought of telephoning.

Army captains receive a good many letters about careless young soldiers who forget their parents. I remember an incident in France. A young fellow was being marched up and down the main street of the village. He was rigged out in overcoat, rifle, bayonet, and a heavy marching order, full pack, couple of extra bandoleers of ammunition. He may have had some bricks in his pockets to satisfy the two old sergeants who were in charge and who were in no mood to favor the young fellow.

I found that the discipline had been ordered by the major of the battalion because the man had failed to write to his mother back in Kansas. Incidentally, the major had ordered the soldier to write five letters to his mother that very night and he, the major, would choose the one which seemed best to indicate the attitude of a dutiful son. Those letters were to be written in good spirit or the one-man parade would continue the next day.

If you know what I mean.

Margin For Error

MARY JANE KIRBY

EVERY other columnist has, so now it is my turn:

Most important and influential time of the year seems to be SPRING. Why we don't know, but it seems to have a stronger effect on every department of college than any other season. And it doesn't stop there. Every walk of life is influenced by the synchronized appearance of the birds, bees and nature's new spring ensemble.

Those much publicized first signs of spring seem to lubricate the wheels of the world at large. Business people dress up their shop windows, a revolution in the fashion world takes place, poets, painters, writers and musicians glow with potential masterpieces and the road to romance has a traffic jam.

Even our enterprising advertising staff seems to have fallen victim to the charms of the green grass, etc. They are planning a special spring edition of the Daily, to be devoted mainly to what new clothes can accomplish for those students who during the long dreary miserable winter have lost their sense of originality, but still have the "where-with-all". (Their ulterior motive is commercial—synonyms with advertising.)

The question arises; men wear clothes, but who looks at them? The women! From this it follows that a woman should write the fashion column (this is probably the closest she'll ever get to airing her opinions regarding said subject.)

State Boxers Tie Idaho Vandals 4 To 4

KEMPER, PORTAL SAVE SCALPS ON NORTHERN TOUR

A fighting San Jose State college boxing team came from behind Friday night to earn a 4-4 tie with a highly favored national championship University of Idaho squad on its home grounds, at Moscow.

The tie was a moral victory for the Spartans inasmuch as Idaho is reputed to have the strongest team in the United States. Coach De Witt Portal attributes the team's unexpected showing to the "ambitious and tenacious" offense displayed for the first time this year.

The meet was undecided until the final heavyweight match when Spartan Jack Kemper came from behind to defeat Veto Berllus of Idaho. Berllus shaded Kemper in the first round, but Kemper came back strong and had Berllus on the verge of a knockout in the final round.

Kemper's victory made him the only double winner on the trip and the only boxer to return without his scalp shaved. Portal also saved his hair as San Jose won eight out of its 16 matches on the tour.

The Spartans might have won the meet in the 127-pound class when Dick Miyagawa cut his eye in the second round. Miyagawa was leading Frank Kara, PCI titleholder, at the time but was forced to forfeit the match.

In a surprise move, Portal substituted bantamweight Bob Webber for Tony Nasimento in the lightweight class. Webber lost an unpopular decision to Norman Jensen.

The summary:
120 pounds—Ted Kara, Idaho, defeated Bill Sellers, San Jose.

127 pounds—Frank Kara, Idaho, defeated Dick Miyagawa, San Jose (cut eye).

135 pounds—Norman Jensen, Idaho, defeated Bob Webber, San Jose.

145 pounds—Mark Guerra, San Jose, defeated Don Reed, Idaho.

155 pounds—Bill Moulden, San Jose, defeated Claude Hansen, Idaho.

165 pounds—Stan Smith, San Jose, won from Chace Anderson, Idaho. (Technical knockout).

175 pounds—Laune Erickson, Idaho, defeated Jack Sarkisian, San Jose.

Heavyweight—Jack Kemper, San Jose, defeated Vito Berllus, Idaho.

Sweaters Clinch 'A' League Play

Sweatt's Sweaters, by virtue of their eight-game win streak without a defeat, have clinched the "A" league lead in the intramural cage tourney despite the outcome of their two remaining games.

However, a battle for the second place spot between the Poops and Atom Smashers will be waged, with both teams tied with five wins and two defeats.

In the "B" league play the Hotshots and the Seven Dwarfs are battling for the league lead. At the present time both teams have won seven games and lost one.

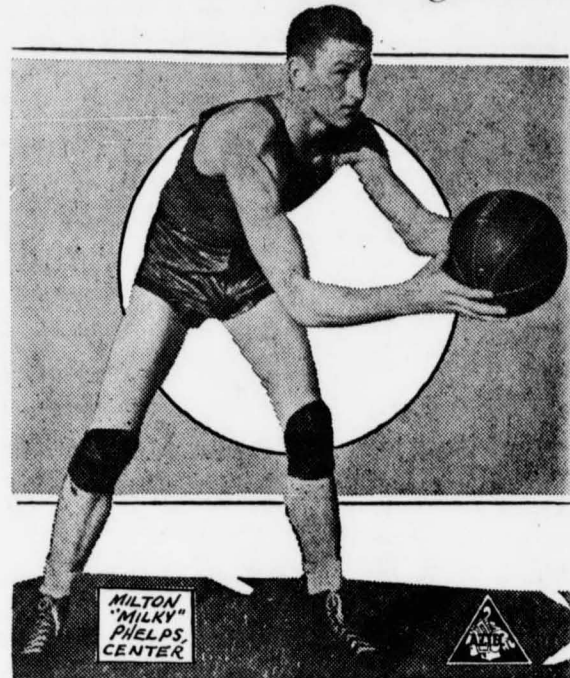

In today's play the Hotshots take on the Magicians and the Seven Dwarfs play the Leftovers. Standings at the end of six weeks of play:

In Thick Of CCAA Cage Race

Milton "Milky" Phelps, Little All-American forward from San Diego State college, will be in the thick of California Collegiate Athletic Association race tonight and tomorrow night, when the Spartans battle the Aztecs for what may be the deciding games of the conference race.

VARSITY BASEBALLERS OPEN AGAINST STANFORD INDIANS TOMORROW

San Jose State's varsity baseball nine will make its belated appearance of the 1941 season when it treks up to Stanford tomorrow to engage the Indian nine on the Sunken diamond. Rain, which caused the season's opener to be postponed, may also cause McPherson to cancel this tilt.

The Spartan varsity will go into the fray with a few meager days of practice behind them and no actual contest played. Still in doubt as to whom he will start, mentor McPherson will probably stick with a lineup of mostly veterans.

INDIANS STRONG

In Stanford, the Spartan nine will be facing a far better than average team. Led by Quentin "Cootie" Thompson, ace fireball hurler, the Indian aggregation has shown plenty of power at the plate. They have downed the Gaddinnin All-Stars 13-4, Bank of America 13-8, but received for a 13-8 defeat at the hand of the Kenneally All-Stars.

MOFFETT FIELD

If rain postpones tomorrow's tilt then the ball club will endeavor to open its season on March 3, when it tangles with the Moffett Field Flyers on the Army diamond.

Hank Luisetti Plus Olympic Club vs. Spartans--Maybe?

The possibility that San Jose State would play the mighty Olympic Club basketball quintet in the Civic Auditorium on March 10, was virtually assured Saturday, according to Director of Athletics Glenn "Tiny" Hartranft.

The one hitch that remains for Spartan fans to see Hank Luisetti and company from playing Coach Walt McPherson's cagers, is the outcome of the P.A.A. tournament being held in San Francisco at the present time.

According to Hartranft, Luisetti and the rest of the Olympic Club team have agreed to meet the Spartans in the Civic Auditorium providing they don't find it necessary to compete in the Tourney on March 11.

If the Olympic Club can win the title in two straight games on March 5 and 6, and a playoff is not needed on the 11th, San Jose fans will get another opportunity to see the mighty Luisetti this time against the Spartans.

SPARTANS HAND NEVADA WOLVES DOUBLE SETBACK

Siebert, Helbush, Carruth Lead San Joseans In Scoring

BY BEN FRIZZI

Spartan basketballers got into the mood for the series opener with San Diego tonight by handing the University of Nevada a double setback over the weekend, 50 to 42 on Friday, 57 to 42 on Saturday night.

Tall Menno Siebert led the Spartan attack, taking 12 and 14 points on the two nights for a total of 26. O'Shaughnessy led the Wolfpack scoring by matching Siebert for high point honors, making 16 on Friday and 10 on Saturday for a similar total of 26.

START FAST

In Saturday night's game the Spartans started fast with Siebert sinking the first five points for San Jose, but the Wolves spurted to the fore by 9 to 7 in six minutes. That was the only time they were ahead. With Siebert, Carruth, Uhrhammer, Carter and Helbush peppering the basket the Spartans had a 31 to 20 margin at halftime.

Uhrhammer showed signs of coming out of his slump during this scoring spree, whisking in two quick baskets just before the gun. Also encouraging was the sparkling play of Captain Hal Carruth, who accounted for 16 points in both games.

CARTER SPARKLES

In the second half the Spartans kept hitting the basket and were never headed. Charlie Sturz played a good defensive game in this half, while Stu Carter kept the game alive for the fans with his clowning, in addition to turning in a sparkling game.

In Friday night's game the Spartans started slow and found themselves behind in the first few minutes by a score of 5 to 0. Ernie Allen, Siebert and Boysen put the Spartans back in the ball game in short order and by halftime Coach Walt McPherson's cagers held a 21 to 18 advantage.

NEVADA SPURTS

Nevada closed the gap and in six minutes went ahead, 23 to 22 on Vaughn's field goal. The lead see-sawed back and forth for several minutes with Siebert and Helbush finally putting San Jose back in front with ten minutes to go, 30-29.

At this point the game developed into another affair similar to the hectic Gaucho series with Nevada going into a 40 to 39 lead with four minutes to play.

Both games were rough with Referees Bunn and Bailey calling 70 fouls during the two night stand. San Jose drew most of the fouls, 43 compared to Nevada's 27.

Helbush for San Jose, and Harris for Nevada, pressed the high scorers for honors, the former scoring 18 points in two games, while Harris accounted for 16, fourteen coming on Saturday night for high point honors.

Nevada Wrestling Matches Postponed

The scheduled wrestling meet between the University of Nevada and San Jose Friday night was postponed at the last minute until March 7.

Early Friday morning Coach Sam Della Maggiore received a wire from the Nevada graduate manager stating the Wolfpack would not be able to appear.

Next competition for the grapplers will be in the annual Far Western tournament at Oakland Friday and Saturday.

FROSH CAGERS IN DOUBLE WIN OVER WEEKEND

Coach Frank Carroll's freshmen five took another double header over the weekend defeating the Leon Jacob's quintet 56-43 Friday night and swamping Madera high Saturday night 42-13.

FROSH PADDLERS HAND PAPOUSES 40-35 DEFEAT

Coach Charley Walker's freshman swimming team nosed out the Stanford frosh 40-35 last Friday in the Palo Alto pool, avenging the defeat the Indian varsity swimmers handed the Spartans Thursday night.

This is the third straight win for the frosh mermen in as many tries.

Marty Taylor, winner of the back stroke, Walter Sindel, Don "Scoot" Thomsen, and Foster Dockstader, winner of the 100-yard free style, teamed up in the 400-yard relay to nose out the Pappoose paddlers and capture the meet.

CAPTURE DIVING

Harry Brownell and Don Scott took first and second in the diving, defeating the Indian dunkers.

Stanford captured five firsts to the Spartans' four but were unable to garner the necessary runner up points.

DINNER FOLLOWS SWIM AT QUARTERLY CO-ED GET-TOGETHER THURSDAY

If it rains as much this week as it did last week, women students who attend the Swim-a-nic scheduled for this Thursday evening may have to do their own swimming or use outboard motors to transport them to the Fior d'Italia hotel for the dinner that follows the swim.

Swimmers will meet from 4 until 5:30 at the pool for the swimming part of the program. Swimming ability is no object at the Swim-a-nic and the only requirements are a swim cap and an O.K. from the Health office.

Following the swim, those students who desire to will adjourn to the Fior d'Italia hotel for an Italian dinner. The cost of the dinner will be 50 cents. Those who plan to attend the dinner should sign up by 4 o'clock on the bulletin boards in the Women's gym or at the pool.

Concluding the evening, the group will attend the State-Fullerton junior college swimming meet at the pool.

The Swim-a-nic is a quarterly event sponsored by the Women's Swimming club for all women students. One has been held each quarter since the pool was constructed.

Committee for the Swim-a-nic includes Jessie Burns, place cards; Elaine Hanks will assist with decorations. Norma Ojstedt, Swimming club president, is in charge of the affair.

BRONSON-WISE ENGAGEMENT

Miss Helen Bronson, secretary to the Registrar, has announced her engagement to Laurs Lee Wise, who attended San Jose State college from 1935 to 1937.

Miss Bronson graduated from San Jose State college with the class of 1939 with her A.B. degree in commerce. Mr. Wise graduated from Stanford university with the class of 1939.

As yet no definite date has been set for the marriage.

Women Students Invited To Dance

Women students interested in attending a series of dances to be given for Moffett Field enlisted men, starting March 8, are invited to fill in application blanks in Dean of Women Helen Dimmick's office, room 19.

The applications, which should contain references, will be submitted to a downtown committee for approval. The women will be notified by the committee.

Women are advised to attend in groups, as transportation will be provided only for the Moffett Field men. The dances will last from 8:30 to 11:30 o'clock, and will be held in the gymnasium of different city school departments.

Business Society Meets Tonight

The last meeting of this quarter will be held by members of Pi Omega Pi, business education society, at the home of John Hermsdorf, 601 South Fifth street, this evening at 7:30 sharp, declares Rupert Kendall, president.

Members of the group who are now doing their student teaching will discuss problems with which they must deal, and subjects they are teaching.

"Since this is our last meeting, we would like to urge all members to attend, so they may hear the valuable information of the discussion which is planned," Kendall exclaims.

COMMERCE CLUB REPLACED BY FOUR GROUPS

Too large to function as an efficient organization, the Commerce club, long an active group on the campus, has been replaced by four specialized groups, announces Earl W. Atkinson, Commerce department head.

Pi Omega Pi, the first of these, is an honor society for those working for special secondary credentials in commercial education, and has been on the campus since 1934. This is headed by Rupert Kendall, with Milburn Wright as faculty adviser.

Accounting majors are enrolled in Alpha Eta Sigma, headed by Raymond Col, with Wilbur Kelley and Weaver Meadows as faculty advisers. This group plans affiliation with a national group.

For secretarial majors, there is Pi Delta Sigma, headed by James Gualtieri, with Jay Burger as faculty adviser.

The four-year merchandising students are now forming a group, and are working out plans for affiliation with a nationally known merchandising fraternity. President is Norman Brown, and advisers are Carlton A. Pederson and Guy C. George.

FIVE WEEKS REMAIN IN MUSIC CONTEST

Five weeks remain in the annual creative music contest which is scheduled to close on March 31, according to George Matthews of the Music department.

Students who wish to take part in the contest may enter compositions in the following divisions: piano solo, vocal solo, instrumental groups and choral groups. Any students, regardless of whether he is a music student or not, may enter the contest.

Cash awards will be made for the winning compositions in each division.

A public recital of all winning numbers will be presented some time during the spring quarter.

Concert To Be Given March 4 By Symphony

San Jose State college's annual symphony concert will be given on Tuesday evening, March 4, at 8:15 in Morris Dailey auditorium, according to Adolph Otterstein, head of the Music department.

Included on the program will be "Symphony Number 5 in E Minor" by Tchaikowsky, "Concerto Number 2 in D Minor for Flute and Orchestra" by Mozart, "Afternoon of a Faun" by Debussy and "Pop! Goes the Weasel" by Cailliet.

This is the first time that the symphony orchestra has presented a flute concerto, Otterstein said. Major symphony orchestras have not been using woodwind and brass solo instruments in recent years, he added.

"Pop! Goes the Weasel" is an arrangement of a familiar American folk tune and has become quite popular as an orchestral selection.

"Afternoon of a Faun" is an example of impressionistic music. It is also a well known selection for orchestras but it is very difficult to play because of the woodwind and harp parts, Otterstein added.

Luncheon Club Hears Speaker

Mary Morrissett, field secretary for the Student Peace Service, sponsored by the American Friends Service committee, will speak to members of the Fireside Luncheon club today noon in the "Y" club-rooms of the Student Center, 120 East San Antonio street.

Explaining the summer student projects in the United States, Miss Morrissett will also speak on those in Mexico and Cuba.

The Student Peace Service is an educational program where students meet at an Institute of International Relations for a training period, after which they work in various communities for 6 or 7 weeks.

Miss Morrissett will be here primarily to interview and recruit those who have an interest in these projects. Everyone is cordially invited to attend, according to Emi Kimura, chairman.

Spartan, vs. Aztec

terson and Phelps at forwards, and Kenny Hale and Harry Hodgetts at guards, has proven the best unit for Coach Morrie Gross. In the second game of the Spartan-Aztec series, Echle proved the spark plug of the San Diego team and his control of the backboard helped to completely bottle up the Spartans.

SHOOT THE WORKS

Confident of playing better ball on their home court, San Jose, faced with the almost superhuman task of dumping the Aztecs twice will "shoot the works" tonight.

Still seeking the starting combination of a five-man unit that can click together, Coach McPherson has refused to pick a starting lineup until just prior to game time. In the Nevada series San Jose failed to impress with their ragged ball playing; but should find the CCAA title games an added incentive against San Diego.

The combination of Bill Helbush and Dutch Boysen at forwards, Menno Siebert at center and the two Allens, (Ernie and John) at the guard posts, looked good against Nevada and may get the opening assignment tonight, although Boysen has started very few games he has been responsible for sparking the Spartans on several occasions.

CHOP STICKS SOLD THIS WEEK FOR W.S.S.F. DRIVE

Chop sticks for 15 cents a pair will be sold on the campus between classes, in classrooms, in the quad and everywhere Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week, according to Emi Kimura, chairman of the World Student Service Fund Drive beginning today.

The chop sticks will symbolize the drive for funds to aid students in war-torn China and the Far East to continue their education. The goal of the drive has been set at $100, half of which has already been collected at the lecture of Dr. T. Z. Koo.

Tuesday afternoon at 4:00 will mark a second meeting of representatives of organizations who will start the sale of chop sticks. Delegates will help tie the chop sticks together at the meeting. Dean of Men Paul M. Pitman will also speak to the group at this time.

A dance in the new Alexander Hall of the city YMCA will conclude the drive Friday night. Admission will be 10 cents per person and all students are invited to spend an evening of fun and dancing, according to Miss Kimura.

Unusual Maladies Afflict Students

Unusual maladies seem to be accompanying the 'unusual' weather on the campus, according to latest reports from the Health office.

Four cases of German measles were reported to the Health Cottage and several cases known at homes, with almost certain possibilities that more are expected early this week.

The incubation period for measles is 10 to 14 days, but three days before the rash appears the victims can spread the disease to anyone with whom they come in contact, if they have not had it.

As if that were not enough, four students were hit by automobiles within less than two weeks.

The only explanation that could be given by Miss Margaret Twombly, head of the department, "It could be due to the rain, or perhaps the students are becoming more confident or the cars more reckless.

Y.M.-Y.W. REMAIN; S.C.A. EXTENDED

As a result of the panel discussion Thursday on the proposed Student Christian Association to replace the college YWCA and YMCA, the plan has been extended for several weeks before being put to a vote, it was announced by Clare Brown Harris, secretary to the college YWCA.

It was proposed by Len Brennan, Asilomar delegate, that a survey be conducted next quarter relative to the needs of the campus in the economic, social and religious spheres in order to judge whether an S.C.A. might be better designed to meet these needs rather than the present "Y" system.

From the discussion was brought out the fact that many men on campus would like to participate in the discussion groups and Cosmopolitan club and the numerous recreational and religious activities of the college YWCA, Mrs. Harris stated.

Kay Connelly, Rex Pursell Announce Engagement

The engagement of Kay Connelly, San Jose State college co-ed, and Rex Pursell, Police School graduate, was announced recently at a supper party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carleton Perego.

The marriage is scheduled for early summer. The couple will reside in Carmel.

The bride-elect is a member of Phi Kappa Pi and Alpha Zeta Beta sororities.

Mr. Pursell was recently appointed radio man for the Carmel police department. While attending San Jose State college, he played football and was a member of Delta Theta Omega, social fraternity.
