CCAA CHAMPIONSHIP AT STAKE TONIGHT AGAINST LAST-PLACE FRESNO

Team Seeks Title For McPherson

By FRANK BONANNO

Vowing to win the California Collegiate Athletic Association championship for its young coach, San Jose State's varsity basketball team invades Fresno high school pavilion tonight and again tomorrow in its all-important two-game series with Fresno State college.

Anxious to annex the CCAA title for Coach Walt McPherson in his first year as varsity mentor, the members of the Spartans have served notice to Fresno that they will be out to win both games for McPherson.

In order for the Spartans to register their first CCAA crown, they must win both games from the Bulldogs. A split in the series will find San Jose winding up the season in a tie with San Diego State college.

Slightly handicapped with the necessity of taking only 11 men to Fresno, McPherson picked the following men to make the trip: Hal Carruth, Stu Carter, Dutch Boysen, Bill Helbush and Roy Diederichsen at forwards; Menno Siebert and Dick Uhrhammer at centers; and Ernie Allen, John

SECOND DANCE HELD TODAY IN WOMEN'S GYM

Dancing, door prizes, and coca cola at five cents per bottle will highlight the second afternoon dance of the quarter in the Women's gymnasium from 4 to 6 p.m. today.

Gene Goudron will present a five-piece unit of his regular dance band at the affair. Goudron comes from an engagement at the Coconut Grove in Santa Cruz.

Two of the door prizes will be purchase orders from Brooks and McGowan's, local men's stores, several theater tickets, and two dance bids for the Grove. All of these will be awarded to students holding tickets drawn at the dance, according to Harrett Mannina, social affairs chairman.

"Although this is a short quarter, the social affairs committee planned seven dances for inexpensive student entertainment," declares Mannina, "and we urge them to attend this event." A noon quad dance, and one at night, are the only ones remaining to fit failing budgets this quarter.

Hair Problems Confront Men In Drama Casts

Men in the "Margin for Error" cast have nothing on the male actors in "Hamlet" when it comes to hair problems.

If the Nazi consul in the Booth satire objects to receiving a German "ear-lowering", he'll be setting a bad example to all men in the "Hamlet" cast who are asked not to get a haircut from now until after the productions.

A note on the drama bulletin board contains the unusual request by Director Hugh Gillis, with this additional information, "If the matter becomes serious, a neck trim (careful not to get it taken off top) will tide you over."

However, not even a neck trim is allowed for three or four weeks before productions, warns Gillis.

The Shakespearean tragedy went into first rehearsal yesterday afternoon in the Little Theater under the direction of Speech Department Head Gillis.

Tickets for "Margin for Error", to be presented March 6, 7 and 8, go on sale in the Speech office Monday at twenty-five cents for students and fifty cents general admission.

A poster has been set up in front of the Morris Dailey auditorium advertising the murder-mystery-melodrama-satire which will be under the direction of Ted Hatlen, Speech faculty member.

Cast for the play includes Frank Soares, speech major, as Baumer, the consul who is shot, stabbed, and poisoned.

Howard Melton is seen in role of Max; while Ronald Hadley portrays Horst, the Bund leader. Ed Soares is Moe Finklestein, the cop, and Ollie Bauquier is Mulrooney.

Frank Thompson will be Denny, and Earl Miller will appear as Dr. Jennings. The two women in the cast are Martha Bullitt as Frieda, and Barbara Lee Bellah as Sophie.

PORTAL'S FATHER SUCCUMBS

Clem X. Portal, father of DeWitt Portal, Spartan boxing coach, died yesterday at 10:55 a.m.

Funeral will be held tomorrow morning in St. Joseph's church. John P. Higgins Funeral Home has charge of arrangements.

Spardi Gras Committees Named; Morrissey To Assist Surber

Definite plans for the annual spring Spardi Gras were started yesterday by Reed Surber, general chairman, at a meeting to appoint committees in the Student Union.

Denny Morrissey, sophomore speech major and class vice-president, was named assistant director, and Tom Taylor, sophomore president and yell-leader, was appointed master of ceremonies. In charge of contests will be Verne Williams, Jerrie Jurras and Beverly Byrnes. Fred Hauck and Bill Raye will plan all construction, and they will be assisted by the Spartan Knights.

Dave Atkinson and Charles Brown have been appointed to take care of prizes, and Margaret Schrader and Jerry Monnot will make arrangements for feeding the Spardi Gras attendants. Don Anderson, business manager of the Daily, will handle publicity.

Second Year Students Also Cop Perpetual Trophy During Mixer

By PEGGY RICHTER

Lowerclass rivalry was brought to a traditional climax during the frosh-soph mixer last night with the second-year students winning the evening's honors, perpetual cup, and the much discussed wooden Spartan head.

The historic shield was presented to Sophomore President Tom Taylor by the president of the freshman class, Allan Isaksen, after the Sophs had won four out of five points during the evening's activities in the gym.

'TIME' PUBLISHES DUNCAN FEATURE

A Spartan Daily feature item made Time magazine this week with a brief note on the Dr. Carl Duncan scorpion episode which appeared in the Daily issue of Tuesday, February 4.

In a laboratory mishap, Dr. Duncan was bitten by a scorpion. Dr. Duncan suffered little damage; the scorpion died. George Morris, Spartan Daily reporter, turned in the story.

The plaque will be left in the custody of the sophomores until Spardi Gras day next quarter. It will then be awarded to the class winning a tug-of-war. The two class presidents guarantee that a Class rivalry flared into active combat yesterday at noon after three attempts to determine the winner of the tug-of-war failed because of a weak rope.

Freshmen forcefully took possession of the shield, which had been brought to the scene of the tugging contest to be presented to the winners.

Under protest of the two class presidents, freshmen and sophomores tangled in the lee of the main building, battling for the shield.

After approximately 10 minutes of struggle which threatened for a time to reach the proportions of the "Battle of the Century" 12 years ago over the same shield, Tom Taylor, sophomore president, and Allan Isaksen, freshman president, managed to gain joint possession of the plaque and rush it to Dean Pitman's office, where it remained in safekeeping the rest of the day.

Industrial Arts Dance Tonight

The Industrial Art club's annual informal dance for all department students and their friends will take place tonight at 8:30 in the Lion's Den.

Refreshments will be served to all those attending, states George Crabill, vice-president of the club.

Admission will be fifty cents per couple, which will cover the music and refreshments as well as the club membership fee, states Crabill.

Symphonic Band Permitted To Play ASCAP Music

By ELIZABETH MOODY

When an irresistible force meets an immovable object . . . If the irresistible force is San Jose State college's symphonic band, and the immovable object is American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers, the immovable object gives the irresistible force some grease for its bearings so that it will be even more irresistible.

The point of all this palaver: The symphonic band had scheduled Victor Herbert's "Indian Summer" as part of their annual program, to be given in April, and to be broadcast through KQW. But Victor Herbert was the founder of ASCAP, and under the present set-up, KQW is not permitted to broadcast ASCAP music. The number was taken off the program.

But the symphonic band's alert publicity manager, one James Adcock, wasn't satisfied. So he wrote a letter to Carl Fischer, president of ASCAP — protesting that musical education was being stifled and whatnot.

Result? Fischer sent the band a special license granting them permission to broadcast ASCAP music, provided that the program was strictly non-commercial.

Further result? The entire program of the concert has been revised to include numerous selections on the ASCAP list, which have been denied to the ears of San Jose State college students for the past several months!

non-breakable rope will be provided for the affair.

STATEMENT

Congeniality was expressed between the classes as exemplified by the officials of the two groups. Congratulating each other on the success of the evening the presidents commented:

"I, Tom Taylor, and I, Allan Isaksen, hereby agree that this has

THREE CO-EDS NEEDED TO FILL C.A.A. QUOTA

Three women flight trainees are needed to complete the Mills college C. A. A. flight training quota, announces B. Fillmore, flight contractor for the college.

State co-eds who are interested in flying are asked to sign up immediately in Frank Peterson's office, room 111A, as applications must be approved tonight.

Qualifications for joining the civilian flight program include normal vision without glasses, age group between 18 and 27 years, and completion of two years of college work, preferably.

The course is free, with transportation provided from San Jose to the Oakland airport. There is a $15 fee for insurance and medical costs.

Mills college program offers an opportunity for San Jose State college women flyers who are barred at present from taking CAA flight training under the program here.

SYMPHONY ON NATION WIDE BROADCAST

San Jose State college symphony orchestra has been invited to make a nation-wide broadcast on the American Youth Series Sunday, April 5, according to Adolph Otterstein, head of the Music department.

This series is sponsored by the Music Educators National conference and the National Broadcasting company. The program will be broadcast at 8:30 in the morning.

On April 7 the orchestra will present a concert in the San Jose Civic Auditorium as a feature of the California Western Music Educators conference which is continuing in San Jose, Otterstein said.

The symphony orchestra will present its annual campus concert Friday evening at 8:15 in Morris Dailey auditorium.

MEASLE EPIDEMIC COMES BACK AFTER SIX YEARS

Maybe it's just a coincidence, but the last quarter also ended with a measles epidemic—the flu.

The end of this quarter is near and the measles seems to have taken hold of a good many students. And maybe it's also a coincidence that six years ago at the end of the winter quarter there was another measles epidemic. No one is blaming the students—it happens to be the season for that—all.

Five more cases were added to the list yesterday, and according to the Health office there will continue to be a flow of students coming in with the disease.

POLICE STUDENT GIVEN POSITION

Harold Toussaint, three times Golden Glove champion and a two-time police student here, was appointed to the Sunnyvale police force earlier this week, according to William Wiltberger, head of the police school.

Toussaint was a member of the university boxing team, and later turned professional. In 1936 he was lightweight champion of California. He was also winner of several other championships.

Sportsmanship At Its Best

Sportsmanlike relations between San Jose and San Diego State were welded more firmly together during the Spartan-Aztec basketball series here Monday and Tuesday nights.

The Aztecs players were accompanied up here by a potent little band of Aztec rooters who well represented the quality of students attending the Aztec institution.

Despite the fact there were some 67 fouls called during the two-night stand, the number in no way reflects the quality of sportsmanship exhibited on the floor and in the crowd by the opposing sides. There was none of that sort of competition that borders on the belligerent side of collegiate athletics.

The rooters were the first to cheer the Spartans as well as their own team when the players made their appearance on the floor. Instead of razzing the opposition as is the case in many colleges, they applauded our yells and players. Which is the way it should be!

HOW many times have you sat in the oculist's office and gazed apprehensively at the eye-testing chart on the opposite wall with a sinking feeling at the pit of your stomach?

You knew more definitely than you ever knew anything before that only the first line of the chart was visible to your straining, eager eyes.

Slowly you started to read the letters on the wall, just a jumble of unintelligible characters that slowly merged into each other and melted away to nothingness while you were reading them.

Was that an A or an E? You halted at the uncertain letter and squinted appraisingly. Then you flung caution to the winds, muttered a rapid "E" and rushed headlong into the next line, which was even worse than the first.

Such experiences are common to all of us at one time or another when we find it necessary, for some reason, to test our vision. Those few individuals who survive such an ordeal with balanced minds and emotional equilibrium are to be admired, if they can ever be found.

A. P. Herbert, British humorist, has taken pity on people who suffer at eye-tests and offers his own solution of the problem in a book entitled "Sip! Swallow!", an edition to be found in the red star collection in the library.

Herbert's answer lies in substituting the usual unintelligible eye-chart drizzle with something on the order of this quotation,

"You may say what you like about the pleasures of art and the joy of public service but after all is there anything like a nice fried sole and a jolly good bottle of wine with a blonde?"

Of course, this suggestion is divided into separate letters, some capitalized and the others small, just like the printing on a usual eye-doctor's chart except for the fact that this makes sense. ("And what sense!" some people might add.)

This article, together with many other amusing pieces by Herbert, appeared in Punch, English humor magazine, and have been combined into this delightful book which we heartily recommend for relief from term paper and final headaches, to be read after finals week, of course.

For the term papers themselves we recommend use of the extensive references available at the library's reference desk.

A series of booklets entitled Headline Books present brief but adequate accounts of international economics, security, and society. South America, United States, and other countries are dealt with in pamphlets which may prove valuable to research seekers.

"Recreational reading" might well be the term applied to "Mark Twain's Travels", a new arrival in the book department.

These are heretofore uncollected sketches written by Mark Twain for the San Francisco Alta California in 1866 and 1867, describing the adventures of the author and

There was the usual razzing for the officials of the game, as is the case in any closely-contested basketball game. It's just human nature to see it the "other way" in the heat of excitement, despite the fact that the refs are out there calling 'em as they see 'em.

The only exhibition that was questionable was the tumult sent up by some of the more enthusiastic rooters when Phelps, one of the Aztec stars, stepped up to attempt the free throw that netted San Diego a tie with only three seconds remaining before the completion of regular playing time. That's one thing that could have been done without. Anyway, it may have inspired Phelps to score the point which he might not have done before a tense, hushed crowd.

While passing bouquets, one to Tommy Taylor, the dynamic Spartan yell leader. Tommy knows how to draw the maximum of rooting out of every student. If you yell for him he's all for you. If you give out with a half-hearted attempt, he'll signal his disappointment to you with a meaningful look.

—Frizzi.

By HAMMOND and RICHTER

THIS column is dedicated to the best interests of co-eds who find man-snagging a major sport, recreation, study and hobby, and consider "making the grade" more important than making grades.

Let's analyze the above, in order.

Sport, and very competitive, too. There's the girl-chase-man, the man-chased-by-girl chase. The three varieties are most evident in the spring, the fall, the winter and summer.

And, now for recreation. One of the more popular forms of recreation is the chase: the girl-chase-man, the rarer man-chase-girl, and the man-chased-by-girl. This, too, is most evident in the winter, spring, fall, and summer. Ah, the chase. Tally-ho!

And it is a study, believe us. It deals with the more intricate and complex problems of what to wear with whom, where, when, why, how come, what for, and because. This type of study is most evident in the winter, also spring, fall and summer.

Hobby? Most confousing, but amusing.

Nothing Sacred

THIS IS "Boost-the-Help Week" and this is the space devoted annually (or whenever we think of it) to the business of proving that the respective members of the Personnel and Registrar's offices can be human with the right kind of treatment.

The prospect of an increase in enrollment may delight Dr. MacQuarrie, for it backs up his arguments that we should have a larger budget; and it may provide the heads of divers departments in the school with the logical subject matter for a big beef as to who educates the largest percentage of these students. But to the Registrar it means that many more numbers to count and that many more graduating seniors to hunt down; and to the members of the Personnel Board it represents a bigger lot of poor grades.

There should be a law compelling every freshman student and every JC transfer to become acquainted with the members of the Personnel Board and to understand what each is here for. Each has a definite task to perform, too often an unpleasant task, but like good doctors, they would rather turn their efforts to the task of preventing rather than curing our scholarly ills.

Each student has a problem, and the Personnel office exists for the purpose of helping those that are incapable of solving their own troubles without help. The Freshman needs advice and a word on how to use it; the Sophomore needs tolerant understanding; the Junior needs some one to take a mental inventory for him, and the Senior should be in a position to inflate the ego he so sorely needs by consoling himself that he knows the administrators like brothers.

It is easy to take poor grades to the deans and advisers; there is nothing that takes less effort and gives a greater measure of satisfaction than sharing your woes with some one else. But the wise student, and the one who has the least of the troubles that all come our separate ways, shares his plans instead of his failures.

The Bystander

SAN JOSE State college really saw the old fashioned class spirit yesterday. Both classes showed the old enthusiasm that prevailed 12 years ago.

You can see that the students still like those "blood and thunder" brawls. I have never seen so many students in one spot in my life.

It is hard to say who won the tug-o-war. The rope wasn't strong enough, and both sides had too much beef.

All yesterday morning, before the actual struggle at the noon hour, both sides were at each other's throats. First the freshman wanted to erect a new tombstone in place of the sophomore monument of class spirit. The sophomores interrupted the procedure, and a short scramble ensued. The freshman finally saved their board, but failed to erect it as a new monument.

They teased each other all morning, with battles taking place in different parts of the campus.

The only thing wrong with the tug-o-war was the management and the rope. Some upperclassmen or even the student-body president should have controlled the event.

I thought maybe the battle for the shield would develop into a battle royal equivalent to the one 12 years ago. It took a lot of talking on the part of the class presidents to quiet the onrushing class members.

What a time! I can't wait until Sneak Week to see the upperclassmen battle it out for the superiority.

That shield may be a jinx. With the blood of the battle 12 years ago just dry on the gilded paint, there almost followed yesterday another "battle royal". Students were running in and out that clump of palm trees in the center quad, like ants do in and around a chocolate cake. What is there about a piece of wood that makes students battle for its possession?

To change the subject—I observe that the Nazis and Communists have started a subtle but effective sabotage on the San Jose campus: German and Red measles.

Gilding The Lily

By FLORENCE SCUDERO

UNDER the galoshes and raincoats there are signs of spring... the first day the sun came out, up popped shades of pink and blue on instructors and students alike.

Blue is taking the lead of campus colors with the powdered shade the co-ed's favorite... pink is second on the list with shell pink rating highest.

Also along with spring comes the Palomino—in new soft hook-ups... crushable and packable horse leather in golden tan... typically Californian... worn with a matching belted bag and slim belt.

While we're on the subject of shoes... most Spartanettes seem to be having a time keeping their saddle possessions clean... we found a preserver for them... just ordinary floor wax... keeps off water stains and prevents them from getting too dark.

VARSITY CAGERS WILL BATTLE EX-CASABA GREATS

'38 Five Won NCIC Title From Broncs

San Jose's favorite sons of 1938, a team of true champions, will return to the maplewood floor once again when they battle the present edition of the Spartan basketball team. In this case, the favorite sons are the varsity cage squad who annexed the Northern California Interscholastic Basketball conference by crushing George Barns' Broncs 50-44 in '38.

WEDNESDAY NIGHT
Headed by an impressive array of talent, the ex-greats are confident that they can take the measure of the present cage club that is headed by Captain Hal Carruth. The tilt is slated for Wednesday night in the local pavilion.

The 1938 Spartan aggregation captured the coveted title with a first unit composed of Frank Carroll and Chubby Kotta at forwards; Willie Radunich at the guard post; and Lloyd Thomas and Walt McPherson at the guards. In all probability this will be the starting lineup for the contest with the varsity.

O. C. FIVE NEXT?
Both mentors McPherson and Carroll will desert their positions to endeavor to show the pupils how the masters do it. The March 5 tilt will probably be the final game of the year for the varsity unless Hank Luisetti and company win the PAA tournament, held in San Francisco, in two straight games.

The ex-greats will probably hold a distinct height advantage over the varsity, but the varsity squad will probably be in the better condition. In the preliminary game, Frank Carroll will send his fresh squad out to seek a victory over the Purple Knights, a local age team with a strong record.

SPARTANS BATTLE FRESNO TONIGHT FOR C.C.A.A. TITLE

STARTING UNIT
Completely satisfied with the showing made by the unit of Helms, Carruth, Siebert, Allen and Allen, Coach McPherson will give these men the opening assignment tonight. With Carruth back in form, San Jose will have its scrapping captain as an added scoring threat to use against the Bulldogs. From Fresno comes the information that the Bulldogs will be out to turn the tables on San Jose in an effort to climb from the cellar position in the C.C.A.A. San Jose dumped Fresno twice earlier in the season, and by virtue of its home stretch drive during the last four conference games are favored to repeat the earlier feats.

FRESNO LINEUP
Coach Hal Beatty will open his strongest lineup against the Spartans tonight. Orchard and Petrovich at forwards, Acker at center, and Kraus and McCall at guards.

The Spartans will leave the campus early this morning and will return to San Jose Sunday afternoon.

NOTICE
The Fireside club, of the Congregational church, for college students, will meet at the home of Mrs. Mason, 82 South 17th street, Sunday, March 2, at 8 o'clock. All students are invited.

Frosh Paddlers Win Fourth Straight Meet

Coach Charley Walker's powerful freshman swimming squad won its fourth straight meet last night, taking the measure of San Jose and Monterey high schools in three-way competition in the local pool.

The frosh amassed 72 points, the Bulldogs from across the campus scored 45 for second place, and Monterey tallied 24.

Marty Taylor looked especially fast for San Jose in taking the 100-yard backstroke over Britton of San Jose high and teammate Hall of the frosh. Taylor paddled the distance in 1 minute 8.8 seconds to come within four seconds of the school record.

CORCORAN FAST

Another of Coach Walker's men who looked good was Al Corcoran, who swept over the 220-yard freestyle distance in fine time of 2 minutes 40.5 seconds. Corcoran led teammate Sindell under the wire by better than 15 yards.

The frosh won all but two first places in the meet, bowing to superior men in the 100-yard breaststroke won by Waite of San Jose hi, and in the diving event won by Pat McConnell, also of the Bulldogs.

The victory marked the second for McConnell over the frosh divers. In a meet earlier in the season McConnell out-dove both Scott and Brownell of the frosh.

FOURTH STRAIGHT

Previous victories chalked up by the frosh, acclaimed to be one of the best yearling combinations ever turned out here by Coach Walker, were over Stanford and University of California frosh, and a win over San Jose hi.

Results of last night's three-way meet:

50-yard freestyle—Dockstader (F), Thomsen (F), Hazeltine (SJH). 25.9.

100-yard breaststroke—Waite (SJH), Johnston (F), Curtis (SJH). 1:20.5.

220-yard freestyle—Corcoran (F), Sindell (F), Damiano (Monterey). 2:40.5.

100-yard backstroke—Taylor (F), Britton (SJH), Hall (F). 1:08.8.

100-yard freestyle—Thomsen (F), Dockstader (F), Brown (SJH). 1:04.

Diving—McConnell (SJH), Brownell (F), Scott (F).

150-yard medley relay—Frosh (Taylor, Johnston, and Dockstader), San Jose high second, Monterey third. 1:28.5.

200-yard freestyle relay—Frosh (Hall, Sindell, Corcoran, Thomsen), San Jose high second, Monterey third. 1:51.7.

Varsity Nine Will Battle Army Club

Walt McPherson's aggregation of horsehiders will seek its first victory of the 1941 baseball season when they cross bats with the Moffett Field flyers Monday afternoon at 3:15 on the flyers' home diamond.

In its only previous start, the nine dropped a 5-2 decision to the Stanford baseball club. Up to the Stanford tilt the varsity had but two practices and since that game they have failed to add any more.

Either Tony Nasimento or Pete Filice will get the starting call on the mound. Behind the plate it will be Lou Ales or Phil Nell.

Near Title

Coach Walt McPherson sends his varsity basketball quintet against Fresno State tonight and tomorrow night in Fresno. A double win for the Spartans will give them the CCAA championship, bringing McPherson's first year as cage mentor to successful close.

SWEATERS CLINCH INTRAMURAL PLAY

Sweatt's Sweaters, winner of last year's cage tourney, made it ten straight yesterday, defeating the Seven Uppers 34-16, and ending their league play.

As a result of this victory they gained undisputed title of the "A" league and will meet the Hotshots, who won the "B" league, for the intramural championship some time next week.

The Poops moved into the second place spot by handing the Cellular Rats a 34-13 defeat. However, the Poops and the third-place Atom Smashers each have another battle which will decide the second place position.

SPARTAN WRESTLERS VIE FOR FAR WESTERN TITLE AT OAKLAND 'Y' TONIGHT

San Jose's grunt and groan athletes, namely Coach Sam Della Maggiore's varsity and freshman wrestling teams, are set to invade the Oakland YMCA tonight and Saturday night in an attempt to win the Far Western wrestling championship they last won in 1937.

Since that victorious season, the Spartans have faced a drought as far as the championship of the far-west has been concerned. Last year the strong Olympic club team of San Francisco won the title, with the University of California finishing second, and San Jose third.

This year's entry list indicates that it will be one of the most hotly contested matches in the history of the event. San Jose is given only a slight chance of finishing near the top due to injuries and bad breaks.

BRUNO OUT

The bad breaks include Mel Bruno's dropping wrestling in favor of a good job. The four-time champion of the conference has accepted an offer to teach judo at Chino State Prison.

Schools which will be represented, and which will be out to wrest the title from the Olympics in an effort to bring the crown down south for a change, include: Inglewood A. C., Whittier A. C., Los Angeles City College, Hollywood A. C., Los Angeles A. C., Sherman Indian School of Riverside, Fullerton J. C., and University of California at Los Angeles.

Spartan varsity entrants are: Carl Kuhl, heavyweight; Bob Riddle, 175 pounds; Vic Gorin, 155; Dave Kawamota, 145; Ivan Olsen, 135; and Bob Norona, 128 pounds. Pacific Coast Intercollegiate Champ Con "Killer" Lacy was forced to withdraw from the 121 pound division due to outside work, thereby nullifying Spartan chances in this weight.

THREE-DAY W.S.S.F. DRIVE CONCLUDES WITH 'Y' DANCE TONIGHT AT 8

Dancing in the new Alexander Hall of the city YMCA tonight at 8 for 10 cents a person will conclude the World Student Service Fund Drive which has been conducted on the campus the last three days.

Over 800 pair of chop sticks, which have symbolized this drive for funds to aid students in war-torn China and the Far East, have already been distributed, and more are available at the Student Center.

A Chinese luncheon in the cafeteria today from 11:30 to 12:45 will be one of the concluding features of the drive. Chop Suey, rice and fish will be served and students are urged to bring their chop sticks to eat with.

Chop sticks have been selling for 10 cents a pair, and more than one pair may be sold to a person. Representatives of campus organizations and all students who have been acting as salesmen are asked to bring the money they have received to the Controller's office as soon as possible, by Emi Kimura, chairman of the drive.

The International Student Service and the National Intercollegiate Christian Council, who are sponsoring the drive, hope to raise approximately $100,000 from American students to help students in the Far East to continue their education.

The goal of the local drive was set at $100, half of which was raised at the lecture given by Dr. T. Z. Koo recently.

"All funds gained through the sale will go indirectly into the fund which is sent with the rest of the money from the United States to aid students in the Far East who are studying under impossible conditions brought about by war and famine," Miss Kimura declared.

A Saturday night open house is to be held at the Student Center, and Betty Grass, chairman, invites all men and women students to bring their chop sticks and learn how to use them.

Kappa Phi Holds Doughnut Sale

The weekly doughnut sale sponsored by Kappa Phi, organization for Methodist women, will be held in front of Morris Dailey auditorium from eleven until two o'clock today.

Proceeds from the sale will be used to send delegates to a convention which will be held in South Dakota this summer. Price of the doughnuts is two for five cents.

The newly-elected Kappa Phi pledges will conduct the sale today.

Williamson Wins Gregg Company Dictation Award

Delbert Williamson, senior commerce student, was recently awarded a pin by the Gregg Publishing company for writing and transcribing accurately dictation given at a rate of 140 words a minute, announces Weaver Meadows, Williamson's shorthand instructor.

"I very much doubt if we ever have had a student in the department before who could write Gregg at that rate for a period of five minutes," Meadows said. "It is a rate of speed seldom attained by any other than court reporters."

Williamson's transcription was 95 per cent correct, Meadows said, and was finished in less than the allotted 45 minutes. He is a member of Pi Omega Pi, national business education honor society.

Delta Beta Sigma Holds Barn Dance

Delta Beta Sigma, social society, will hold a barn dance at the Swiss-American social hall from 9 to 1 tonight.

Gerry Balthazar is general chairman for the affair, and is assisted by Elizabeth Cooper and Janis McClanahan.

Both popular and "hayseed" music will be provided for dancers at the invitational hop.

Refreshments will be farm hand lunches provided by the members for their escorts and themselves. Cider will be supplied by the organization.

Decorations will consist of hay, and guests will wear gingham and jeans to suit the theme of the event.

Genevieve Gomes is in charge of obtaining music.

D.S.G. PLANS PARTY TONIGHT

Delta Sigma Gamma, social fraternity, will hold a party at the organization house tonight. Purpose of the affair is to give a "pre-mortem" celebration for members who will be snowed under with examinations more than some of the other brothers, during final week.

Party chairmen Curt Bowman and Wayne Lund are planning a post-mortem party for the first of next quarter. This event will be given for members who did not fare so well in their finals. Figures on the scholastic standing of the fraternity for the last quarter's scholarship award will be compiled at the same time, declares Bill Booth, secretary of the group.

Pledges Honored At Dance Tonight

Pledges of Delta Theta Omega, social fraternity, will be honored with an informal dance at the Hillsdale Farm, tonight from 9 to 1 o'clock.

The affair is invitational, according to Jim Meredith, grand master of the organization.

Neophytes who will be complimented are Mickey Aitken, Gareth Adams, Bob Hines, Don Streepey and Victor Morton.

DTO's regular Wednesday meeting has been changed to Tuesday for next week, Meredith announces.

SOPHS WIN SPARTAN PLAQUE

(Continued from Page One) been by far the most successful two-class event in the history of San Jose State college. They added, "Our classes showed more spirit and enthusiasm than reported at the 'Battle of the Century' twelve years ago."

Isaksen expressed apologies for his fellow classmates who started the quad brawl yesterday noon. Freshman and sophomore officials stated that their respective classes would pay for any damage done in the quad.

Second-year students were the winners in water polo, basketball, and attendance at the mixer. Freshmen won the swimming meet by default when one of the sophomores jumped the gun.

After a fast game of water polo, which was tied on two occasions, the sophomores finally pulled out in front to cinch the game with a score of 3 to 2.

One of the severest spankings of the evening was the 35 to 9 defeat the sophomores handed the freshmen in a rough and tumble game of basketball.

ADAMS HIGH MAN High point man of the evening was Gareth Adams who tanked 11 points. He was followed by Fred Lindsay with 10 points.

Frosh Leonard was high scorer for first-year men with 4 points. Despite the beating, the frosh were in there plugging all evening long, but were unable to match the inspired "superiority" of the sophomores.

The freshmen scored a "moral victory" by hanging an effigy of a sophomore attired in jeans and a white sweat shirt with a "43" from the rafters of the gym. On the back was written "grave robbers" in bold black letters.

NEW COMMERCE COURSE OFFERED NEXT QUARTER

Starting next quarter the Commerce department will offer a class in Commerce Fundamentals specializing in the very fundamental and allied subjects such as reading, writing and arithmetic, announced Dr. Earl W. Atkinson, head of the Commerce department, yesterday.

The class will meet four days a week—Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday—under the instruction of Mr. J. A. Burger at 3 o'clock.

"One of the interesting features of the class," declared Dr. Atkinson, "will be the use of the Spartan Daily as a supplementary text."

From the front page of the paper nearly 20 words will be selected to drill the class in spelling. Dr. Atkinson pointed out the fact of the lack of good spelling of many of the commerce students.

Women Attend Playday In SF

Ten women students from San Jose State will attend a basketball playday tomorrow on the campus of San Francisco State college.

Theme of the day will be "The House That W.A.A. Built". Purpose of the meeting is to acquaint W.A.A. members from surrounding schools with each other.

Among those attending will be Evelyn Woodard, Genevieve Polden, Patricia Popp, Darlene Krier, Louise Zaneta, and Nadine Mirassou.

Biology Students Take Field Trip To Davis Tomorrow

Leaving at 6:30 tomorrow morning 140 students of Dr. G. A. McCallum's and Dr. Robert Rhodes' biology classes will go on a field trip to Davis.

At 9:45 the group will arrive at the Davis stock pavilion where Mr. Nickolas R. Ittner will lecture and demonstrate the judging of hogs, sheep, horses, and beef and dairy cattle.

After luncheon at the California Inn, Dr. Echert will discuss "Major Problems in Entomology". He will be followed by Dr. V. S. Assmundson who will explain and demonstrate poultry selection and culling.

At 2:40 Dr. L. C. Roadhouse will explain "Why Dairy Education" and at 3:30 the busses will leave for San Jose.

"The California College of Agriculture at Davis is presenting this program with top ranking men in their fields," said Dr. Rhodes. "The trip will not only prove one of valuable instruction, but will serve as a get-acquainted scheme."
