REVELRIES CAST HOLDS COMPLETE REHEARSAL TOMORROW EVENING

First complete rehearsal of the entire cast of Revelries will be held tomorrow evening in Room 53 in the Speech department.

To save time, the cast will be divided in three parts. The characters in the first act will begin at 7:30, the second act at 8:30 and the third act at 9:30. All members of the cast excluding the orchestra are asked to attend the meeting. Measurements for costumes will be taken at that time, it was announced.

Members of the 25-piece orchestra for the program will attend a rehearsal later in the week, it was decided.

There is still time to turn in songs for the production if students who are composing have not finished them. Songs were turned in by Betty Stuhlman, of the Ero Trio, Jack Stewart, Harvey Brooks, director of Revelries chorus, Harry Brownell, and Wilbur Scott.

Tickets for the program will go on sale the latter part of this week. There will be two distinctions in prices, 50 cents for center and orchestra seats, and 35 cents for upstairs and wing seats. Wayne Lund is in charge.

Posters and feature boards of the student production have been completed and will be placed in downtown store windows and in front of the Morris Dailey auditorium.

The show, "Hard To Get", student-written and student-acted, will be presented May 1 and 2 in the Morris Dailey auditorium.

Pre-Legal Club Plans Meeting Tonight

There will be a meeting of the Pre-Legal club this afternoon in room 11 at 12:30, announced O.M. Broyles, adviser of the club.

William B. Somers of San Jose will speak to the group on the topic: "The Lawyer's Long Road to Practice." Anyone who is interested in law or the legal profession is invited to attend the meeting.

WHISKERINO CONTEST SIGN-UPS SCHEDULED FOR WEDNESDAY, 9 TO 4

Sign-ups for the Whiskerino contest will be held Wednesday from 9 to 4 o'clock in the Publications office, according to the Spardi Gras contest committee.

Lorraine Titcomb is in charge of signing up and encourages all organizations to enter teams.

Delta Sigma Gamma, social fraternity, issues a challenge to any other organizations on campus to a better 10-man beard growing team, according to members. The group voted to assess each member who did not enter the contest two dollars and warns other groups that their team is really tops in whisker sprouting.

Prizes will be given for the fullest beard grown in the two weeks preceding Spardi Gras, the most unusual growth, and a consolation prize for the feeblest fuzz.

Registering of candidates for the queen contest will also be held Wednesday. Names of nominees must be in the student body president's office in the Student Union sometime between 9 and 4 o'clock.

Primary election will be held April 23, at which time students must vote for a minimum of 5 and

"Hamlet" Tickets On Sale Today In Room 159

Ticket sales for "Hamlet", to be presented in the Little Theater on April 23, 24, 25, and 26, open today in room 159, the Speech office, according to Hugh Gillis, director of the Shakespearean tragedy.

Tickets are priced at 25 cents for students, with 50 cents the price of admission for the general public. All seats for the performances are reserved.

As many seats for the Thursday and Friday night performances were reserved with the purchase of season book, best seats are available for the Wednesday and Saturday night performances, according to Gillis.

Selection of the stage crew is also scheduled for this week, according to Peter Mingrone, technician for the "Hamlet" production. Dean Paizis, freshman speech major, has been selected to act as stage manager. It is planned to include some women on the stage crew, but it will not be an all-woman stage crew as has been the case with previous plays, because of the heavy sets that will be necessary.

Any student who is interested in working with the stage crew on this production should apply to either Paizis or Mingrone immediately.

CO-OPERATIVE UNION TOPIC OF BLESHTALK

The desire to see all student co-operative houses banded together under one central form of government was expressed in a recent talk to members of Spartan Hall by T. Erwin Bleshtalk, adviser. Bleshtalk pointed out the numerous benefits that would be gained by such a union.

"Under the new plan," he said, "the students would gain to a great extent in their meals. If one person did all the buying for the five houses, then the volume would increase and naturally the benefits from mass buying are well known."

Hoping to make the co-op movement here at San Jose State a powerful one, Bleshtalk expressed the desire to see the entire co-op system run by one person in direct charge.

San Jose State has five such houses at the present time; they are Grace Hall, Mary Post, Mary George, Spartan Hall and Eckert Hall.

No action has been taken as yet, but it is expected that the various houses will hold discussions pertaining to the plan.

STUDENT COUNCIL DISCUSSES BUDGET TONIGHT AT 7

The Student Council will meet tonight at 7 o'clock in the Student Union, Student Body President Bob Payne states.

The budget and reports from Revelries and Spardi Gras heads will be the main topic of business.

ENTRIES CLOSE TUESDAY FOR LETTER WRITING DAY, PRIZE MONEY OFFERED

Seeking to gain as many "Letter Writing Contest" entries as possible, Dean of Men Paul Pitman announces that the date for the close of entries has been extended until tomorrow at 12 noon in Dean Pitman's office. The previous deadline was slated for today at 4:30. College students will compete for $25 in cash prizes, donated by the Spartan Shop, of which $10 is the first prize.

Letters that are being written for the contest should be bonafide letters to parents, friends, relatives, or legislators. If the letter is being written to a legislator, Dean Pitman emphasized, the direct point to state is to "vote for us" and tell why. Letters written to other sources should be sufficiently effective so as to move the source to write to his legislator, labor leader, or influential friend.

It has been estimated that over 5,000 letters will come from students of the college alone. All English classes are co-operating to the fullest extent by writing letters as assignments.

Every student submitting an entry should have an addressed envelope attached to the letter, as after the judging is over the letters will be sealed and mailed. No stamp is necessary as the administration will furnish the postage.

Judging of the contest entries will be in the hands of Jerrie Jurras, A.W.A. president; Bob Payne, student body president; Gay Van Perre, student body secretary; and John Healey, Spartan Daily editor. Also serving will be select members of the faculty from English, Social Science and Commerce departments.

The idea of the letter writing is to smoke up campus life and to hope for some good brief letters that will hit the highlights of State's needs. Best letters will be printed up and used as models for the Letter Writing Day that will be Thursday.

Entries in the contest are limited to 200 words.

FACULTY HOLDS BUSINESS MEET WEDNESDAY

Faculty members of San Jose State college will meet Wednesday afternoon, April 16, at 4 o'clock in room 24. The meeting is called by the Instructors Association.

"The violent changes in international and national affairs should not be allowed to 'black out' the concern of the faculty for their immediate problems. Education for life in a democracy is still our basic work and that means that faculty people should be actively interested in the work of the legislature," declared Owen Broyles last Friday afternoon.

Broyles will summarize the business of the recent meeting of the executive council of the ACSI, and J. W. Richardson of the Science department will review the meeting of the State College Presidents with the Board of Education.

Faculty, Seniors Buy Annuals This Week

This week, April 14 to 21, will mark the last chance for faculty members and seniors who have been student teaching to purchase their copies of La Torre.

Faculty members are asked to order their annuals from the secretaries of their respective departments.

Seniors should get yearbooks in the Publications office at the La Torre desk or from the Journalism secretary from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

There is room left in the club layouts for some active campus organization desiring to have its picture in the annual. Ken Stephens states that the leaders of such groups should report to him immediately.

Poytress Speaks To YM-YW Groups

Dr. William Poytress will be guest speaker at tonight's meeting of the Fireside Luncheon group, YM-YWCA-sponsored discussion activity, scheduled for 12:10 in the Student Center, 120 East San Carlos street.

Dr. Poytress will use as his topic, "Let's Get Educated on South America," says Emi Kimura, chairman.

General theme for this quarter's discussions is "What Can We Do Now for Reconstruction in America and in the World?"

Debaters Plan Discuss Labor

An inter-squad discussion of the bill regarding compulsory arbitration of labor disputes, soon to be introduced into the State Senate, will be held by six members of the debate group Wednesday.

According to Granville Rogers, meeting head, the same bill will be discussed in a session of a model legislature to be sponsored by Sacramento junior college and attended by 11 local colleges and universities. Wednesday's confab is to be a preliminary to the Sacramento gathering, which will be attended by members of the Spartan debate team.

Senior Ball In Quad?

It has recently been suggested that the Senior Ball be held in the inner Quad and with this suggestion has come vociferous commenting both pro and con from all angles. The most strenuous objection is that Seniors don't want their final fling in the social world to be held in the college. What could be worse, claims this side, than to come to college for a dance. On the other hand, those for the plan urge what could be better than a dance in the inner Quad under a star studded sky and a pale yellow moon. Also, this side points out, that with the money saved from hiring a hall, there could be brought in to play for the affair a big name band.

Back East most of the Senior Balls are held in school gyms and big name bands play for the occasion. Even here on the West Coast the same situation prevails. Stanford university recently had Kay Kyser play on-campus for one of its big affairs of the year.

Red-Letter Day . . .

"The pen is mightier than the sword." Ever since the Richelieu of Bulwer-Lytton's play first uttered this oft-quoted adage, it has been proved innumerable times. One has only to cite the case of one A. Hitler, house-painter.

Propaganda has been one of the strongest weapons in the creation of a new Germany for the little Austrian with the delusions of grandeur and the unholy greed for power. While not with the same goal as the oratorical Fuhrer, the students of San Jose State college will be afforded the opportunity this week of again proving the might of the quill dipped in ink. Thursday will be Letter-Writing Day.

April 17 has been designated as the day for students to write to their parents and friends in an effort to persuade them to write to their legislators urging passage of the bill, Number 2249, which includes appropriations for buildings and expansion of the State campus. It should not be necessary to offer a prize to induce students to write

HARRY GRAHAM

DEAN PITMAN'S enthusiasm for a "Letter-Writing Day" on this campus is laudable, but judging by past Write-Your-Assemblyman flops this is a lost cause, and one which I hesitate to champion. The prize winners will be either English majors who present flawless mottoes or sophomores who have a flair for the witty—as have all sophomores. The possibility of an honest opinion getting part of the $25 is remote.

The general policy of a member of the legislature is determined by the attitude of the voters of his district. Those districts which are not under the influence of a state college are apt to be indifferent or perhaps antagonistic toward the expenditure of a large sum of money which can do them no particular good. Certainly a flood of letters, no matter how well-written or with what intent, cannot change the mind of a man representing that district.

The district itself must be convinced—and even this particular area is little interested in the advancement or problems of the school to which it owes an actual debt. The job of selling each college or the organized body of schools should begin within the district, and should be continued over a period of time. This business of swamping busy government officials with prejudiced college opinion is simply a substitute—and a rather futile one.

I appreciate the honest endeavor on the part of the Spardi Gras committee to keep prejudice out of the queen judging. Acting under the advice, no doubt, of some campus cynic, they appointed family man Ben Frizzi to the doubtful honor of election judge. No matter how the balloting goes, the election judge will get the axe; and married or not, Ben will hear the cries of "Sabotage!". Inactive or not, Nu Iota Chi, the penwipers' frat, will be forced to nominate a queen candidate, just to show Brother Ben that we appreciate his position.

San Jose State has as good a gym as there is to be found on the Pacific Coast, but San Jose has something better than a first class gym. It has a picturesque section of ground called the Quad.

Instead of paying $350-400 for a hall to hire, a platform, well constructed, could be put in the Quad for approximately $200. After the dance the platform could be disassembled, and sold, or could be kept as a gift from the Senior class.

To date the committee that decides the matter of the Senior Ball has remained quiet but nevertheless active. As soon as the news breaks one way or another, then there will be protests from the side that didn't win out. What could be better than to have the Seniors hold an election and decide the question for themselves. It is not necessary that the student committee do as the majority wishes, but it certainly would be wise to heed the call.

their letters. Any student who has the best interests of State in mind can see the value that these letters would have. It is true that we ourselves would not feel the direct benefits of the passage of the bill, but it should be taken into consideration that if someone hadn't taken a similar interest several years ago we would not now have the new Men's gym, the Women's gym, the home economics building and many of the other improvements around the campus. In the words of S. B. Prexy Bob Payne, when he addressed the Junior class, "We're in a sorry plight up here, and we need money." Of course, the financial plight of their off-spring is an old story to the folks at home, but in the interests of higher education it is worth a try. Besides that an unsolicited letter from the 'kid' would probably give Mom and Pop a bit of a thrill and a pleasant surprise.

A little pressure from voters at the most opportune time might provide just enough of a margin to get the bill passed. The pen it seems is also mightier than the politician.

The Bystander

For years the Spartan Daily and other factions have preached more cooperation between downtown organizations and San Jose State college. Although local businessmen recently admitted the college the biggest industry in the city, cooperation between the two still seems to be nil.

Last week an incident happened which seems to prove that little has been accomplished to help the relations between the two.

With the announcement that Phil Harris was going to play in the Civic auditorium, members of the Revelries board, the student body president, and a Spartan Daily photographer arrived at the auditorium with a plan to try and have the noted band leader "plug" Revelries tunes over the air waves. On arriving at the large auditorium they were curtly denied entrance unless paying admittance. They were accused of trying to crash the gates. An explanation did no good.

All these students wanted was an opportunity to talk with the band leader and ask him to plug the songs for the biggest of student shows. It would not only be an advertisement for the student body and college, but also for the city as well.

The delegates got to see Phil Harris, but he had to come to the outer foyer of the auditorium.

Maybe the person who denied admittance to the college students had a good reason for his action, but at the same time his denial could have been more pleasant, although I doubt if any reason would be sufficient to match the publicity the college and city would receive from such a plan.

This is one incident, probably there are numerous others.

It is hard to put the finger on the trouble. Whether this was just a personal grudge is hard to determine, but from my point of view I see little reason for the action. It wouldn't have done any harm to let these students into the auditorium to conduct their business and then retire.

The state assembly recently passed a bill to ban communists from using public school buildings for meetings. This is undoubtedly hand in hand with the proposed proposition to conduct an investigation of state institutions for subversive activities.

Dr. MacQuarrie stated last quarter that this college would cooperate with the investigation, although such activities were not apparent on the campus.

I wonder how they are going to determine whether this or that group is communistic to prohibit them from using classrooms.

Thrust and Parry

CONTRIBUTOR'S COLUMN

Dear Thrust and Parry:

The new system suggested by the contest committee for electing a queen for Spardi Gras will in my estimation be most fair to all the candidates. As I understand it, every voter expressing an opinion will have to vote for at least five candidates who have "quently attributes". Because the queen will express the choice of more students than just those in the organization sponsoring her, she will represent the most popular choice possible.

In all events we won't have to rely on the judgement of "SOME BIG NAME" for choosing our queen. I would like to have some choice in who is going to be queen of Spardi Gras, and by electing her I will be able to do so.

Yours sincerely,
 Ken Stephens.

Democracy Versus Dictatorship

Dear Thrust and Parry:

It seems to me that this whole question of how we are to elect a queen for Spardi Gras reaches to the very bottom of our philosophy of government. To elect our leaders and representatives in other fields we use the electoral system. Why not in choosing a queen for Spardi Gras?

This is the first Spardi Gras I've seen and I would like to have a choice in the selection of the queen to rule for the day. This seems to me preferable to having a queen chosen by a group of dictators as would be the case if the queen were chosen by an off-campus person.

Yours for representative government,
 Robert Green.

War And Fashion

"World affairs dictate today's fashions."

This statement was made by Pauline Lynch, clothing instructor, recently.

Sewing machines will be humming in homes where they have seldom been used before. This will take the strain off clothing manufacturers who are swamped with government orders for uniforms. We can speed up the national defense program more this way than any other, Miss Lynch states.

Fashions will be of a larger scope this year. This she attributes to the "fall of Paris" and partial shifting of the style center to the United States. Liberality of American designers has also contributed to this shift.

War will still influence fashions this year as they did last season, with military and nautical themes being used to good advantage. A touch of color will denote Pan-American friendship.

Horsehidiers Divide Two Tilts With Gaucho Nine

Gridology

Diminutive Carter May Be Answer

Rough And Tough McConnell Ready

Bill Donnelly, End, Rates Raves

By SAUL SIMON

The highest scoring team in the nation two years ago, San Jose State's "Golden Raiders" may well be on the road to gridiron greatness again this year. Last season's record of a single defeat in an eleven-game schedule makes an impressive debut for Spartan Mentor Bill Winkelman in his first season as head coach.

With one year's experience behind him in coaching, the wily Winkelman can be expected to open up his bag of deceptive tricks and shoot for a bowl bid this season.

Despite the loss of Bud Nygren, leading scorer on the Pacific Coast last season, the Winkelman-Warner grid machine should continue to chalk up the huge gobs of yardage and grab the points that pay off in touchdown land. It isn't this year's aim to pick the starting lineup of the State eleven, but there is the opportunity of tabbing some of the huskies for the future.

Number one on the gridiron parade may well be the diminutive Carter, who recently cavorted at the maplewood for Walt McClellan's cagers. Last season, the little screwball played on the varsity football team but didn't see much action. This season, weighted down with 170 pounds, the shooting seat Carter could well prove the man to relieve Aubrey Water at the left half spot. Provided that Carter cuts out the rolling around, he should go.

Number two man on the future parade is big, rough and tough Ray McConnell. McConnell may not be the starting tackle at the beginning of the season, but he certainly will rate before long. He's the kind of a player that you dream about. He likes to stand up and let the enemy smash at him.

Just about the toughest spot to pick a standout in is the end position. Johnny Allen is a cinch to prove one of the classiest performers on the coast, and not far behind the talented Allen will be Bill Donnelly. Donnelly is an adapted pass receiver and a classy defensive man.

GOLFERS FACE USE HERE TODAY; JC FAILS TO SHOW UP

San Jose's varsity reserve golfers were "stood up" by Salinas J. C.'s divot-digging team Saturday, when the Salinians failed to show up for a scheduled match at the San Jose Country Club course.

However, that didn't keep the Spartans from going through a practice round and sharpening their eyes for future reference.

This afternoon at the Country Club, San Jose's varsity regulars are scheduled to take on a crack University of San Francisco team in their third match of the season.

In two previous matches, the Spartans won over the University of California and dropped one to Stanford's great team. Playing for San Jose will be Captain Warner Keeley, Jack Bariteau, Herb Showers, Bob Borchfield, Elmer Anderson, and Dale Wren.

BUSY WEEK ON TAP FOR TENNIS TEAM

San Jose State's varsity tennis team will make its sixth appearance of the season this afternoon when it faces the University of San Francisco net men in the Bay City.

SPARTANS FAVORED

In the first league game of the season on the local courts the State net men handed the Dons a 6-3 defeat. As a result of this win the Spartans are favored to make it two straight over the Bay City racquet men.

Tomorrow Coach Erwin Blesh's aggregation will play host to the invading Ram tennis team from San Francisco junior college. The game is scheduled as a practice game and will give Coach Blesh a chance to let his reserves see action.

S.F. STATE THURSDAY

Thursday the Bleshmen will meet the strong San Francisco State team, which will decide the leader in the Northern California Intercollegiate Tennis conference.

To date both the Spartans and Gaters have gone undefeated. If the Spartans hope to win the title for the fourth straight time, they must hurdle Coach Dan Farmer's strong aggregation, states Coach Blesh.

FROSH MEETS S. J. HIGH TRACKMEN

San Jose track fans will get their first glimpse of "Tiny" Hartranft's freshmen cinder artists this afternoon at 4 o'clock on Spartan field. Their opponents will be the San Jose High varsity.

The Bulldogs will prove stiff competition as the Spartlets have scored a quintet of wins, the latest being over San Mateo High, 68-45.

Bud Mortenson, high school hurdler was the only double winner against San Mateo, taking both hurdle races. Ed Verege and Chuck Townsend have shown good form in the timber topping events in practice and should prove formidable opposition.

Yakubovsky, Seeley and Lindsey, 100 and 220-yard dashmen should place in these events. The Bulldogs have Watanabe in the century and Amaral in the furlong. Both have fair times to their credit.

Gorham, high school weight man looked good against San Mateo, tossing the shot 47 feet 3 inches. Wilson of the freshmen will work in this event as well as throw the discus.

Ray Cressio Hurls 8 To 0 Game For Spartan Win

San Jose State college's varsity baseball team split a doubleheader with Santa Barbara State's Gauchos at Backesto Park Saturday afternoon, dropping the first game 1 to 0 and winning the second on an exhibition of batting power, 8 to 0.

Ray Cressio pitched a sparkling game to pace the Spartans to their victory. Cressio was touched for nine hits, but was rarely in trouble.

Meanwhile the Spartan batters were jumping on three Santa Barbara pitchers for 15 base hits. John Allen, Cyril Taylor and Bill Donnelly led the hit parade on the Gauchos, each slamming out three hits.

The first game was a tough one for Carl "Lefty" Stubenrauch to lose. The lefthander pitched great ball for six innings, letting the Gauchos down with only three hits.

He developed a slight streak of wildness in the sixth and was yanked in favor of Tony Nasimento. It was in this inning that Santa Barbara pushed over the lone run of the game.

Markham led off with a basehit and Trankala walked on four pitches. At this point Nasimento came in to pitch, getting rid of the first batter Stansbury. On an attempted squeeze play, Gaucho Fitzgerald missed the ball completely while Markham came tearing into home from third base.

Spartan catcher Bill Donnelly had him trapped by a city block, but the diminutive Markham executed a pretty fade-away slide at the plate to go under Donnelly and score.

San Jose had a big scoring chance in the first inning when the bases were loaded on a two-base hit by Donnelly and walks to Hunt and Allen. But, Horace Tomar, Gaucho chucker, bore down to get out of trouble.

Tomar pitched a brilliant game, allowing only six hits and squeezing out of several tight spots.

The Spartans really went to work quick in the second game, getting three runs in the first inning on walks to Allen and Frizzi, and hits by Donnelly, Terry and Lindsey.

A walk to Terry and hits by Allen and Donnelly produced one more for San Jose in the third. In the next inning the Spartans made it 6 to 0 on singles by Taylor and Allen, and another blow, this time a two-bagger by the hard-hitting Donnelly.

A walk to Donnelly, a two base hit by Allen, and singles by Frizzi and Terry netted Sparta its final two runs in the sixth, Terry banging Allen and Donnelly across the plate with a screaming line drive off the pitcher's glove that carried into centerfield.

WRESTLING TEAM ENDS DUAL SEASON WITH 16-14 WIN OVER U.C.L.A.

By BEN FRIZZI

An undefeated season was registered by Coach Sam Della Magiore's wrestling team Friday night when it won its fourth dual meet of the year by two points, this time taking UCLA by a score of 16 to 14 in Spartan pavilion.

A fall victory by 136-pounder Ivan Olsen and a default win by Captain Bob Riddle in the 175-pound class gave San Jose its margin of victory.

Olsen's win over Bruin Dick Fulmer was the most sensational of the evening. Both men started fast in the first period, but neither was able to get an advantage.

In the second period Olsen went to work fast. In a flurry of action by both men, Olsen succeeded in pinning Fulmer after 4 minutes and 25 seconds of tussling.

Given a chance to do likewise, Fulmer couldn't get anywhere with the rugged Spartan with the result his shoulders were pinned again in a little less than ten seconds.

HINES LOSES

Davey Hines suffered his first intercollegiate loss in the 165-pound class to Bob Mariam, powerful Bruin grappler. Despite his loss, Hines actually appeared to be the better man. Mariam piled up his margin early, then went into a shell and defied Hines to pin him.

The match brought out the finer scientific points of college wrestling and was soundly applauded by the fair-sized crowd.

In the opener, Con Lacy won an easy decision over Ogi Ogamachi of the Bruins in the 121-pound division. Lacy gave his opponent a tough evening, and did all but pin Ogamachi's shoulders.

INTERESTING

One of the most crowd-pleasing matches came in the finale in which Dale Tipton, 220-pound Bruin giant, won by a fall over plucky Charlie Smith, much smaller 175-pound Spartan.

Tipton displayed some rugged tactics on Smith, but had a tough time pinning Charlie, who got in a few licks of his own.

Other matches saw Dick Badger decision Spartan Dave Kawamoto

Tracksters Face Fresno State Tomorrow

Coach Glenn (Tiny) Hartranft's varsity track team is scheduled to meet Fresno State college in Fresno tomorrow afternoon. The meet was originally slated for Saturday but the cinderpath could not be used because of the rain.

Spartans making the trip are to leave by bus this afternoon at 4 o'clock. Fresno has had its share of rain this season along with San Jose, but the Bulldogs are expected to easily topple the locals.

Hartranft's men have had only one meet, against Stanford, and lost it by the lopsided score of 115½ to 14½. No stars have been found on the Spartan squad as yet, but with a little more practice some may pop up. Sat Yamamoto has the best chance of starring tomorrow. He has done 23 feet 6 inches in the broad jump in practice and if he can do it in a meet it will mean points. He is also a high jumper.

If Johnny Dierker gets a little more confidence in himself he should come out ahead in the javelin event. He has reached the 190-foot mark, but was unable to place against Stanford. Burton Stokes and George Terry threw the spear further than Dierker against the Indians and will be counted on to take points.

at 145; Vic Gorin, wiry Spartan 155-pounder, outclass Tom Iwamoto, and Bruin Frank Cooper decision Yosh Uchida at 128 pounds. The latter match was contested on Thursday night.

STATE FROSH NINE WINS OVER MENLO J. C. 8-0

A big third-inning combined with runs in the fourth and sixth frames netted San Jose State's freshman baseball team an 8-0 victory over Menlo J.C. at Menlo Friday afternoon.

The Spartababes pushed across six runs in the third inning on six walks, two hits, and a nifty steal by Joe Zucca, first baseman Bobby Silva's line-drive double drove in two tallies.

The frosh scored again in the fourth when another pass and a single by Bob Meusel, left fielder, drove in the run. The final tally was made when Lew Boltano, short, walked, stole second and then third and was hit in on a swinging bunt.

On the mound for the Spartababes was Jack Gottschang, who turned in a brilliant performance. He limited the Menlo batters to three scratch hits. Only three balls were hit to the outfield during the game.

The frosh got only five hits but the wildness of the Menlo pitchers proved the final margin of victory.

Coach Leroy Zimmerman shook up the team for the game and got good results from the revamped line-up. Lew Boltano, moved to short from the center field post, and Chuck Fasanaro moved from catcher to right field in order to put more hitting power in the field. Will Jones took over center and Bob Meusel moved into left.

Other Spartans playing were Len Lazarus, catching; Joe Zucca, first; and John Urzi, third.

The batteries for Menlo were Hagen and Martin pitching; and Sonnicksen catching.

This week the freshmen have a busy schedule. Today they meet Mt. View high, there. Wednesday they travel to Santa Clara high. Thursday the frosh plays host to San Mateo J.C.

SPARTAN KNIGHTS PLAN SEMI-FORMAL DANCE AT COUNTRY CLUB FRIDAY

Spartan Knights go into action today on their final week of preparation for the semi-formal spring dance they will present Friday night at the San Jose Country club.

Promising San Jose State college dancers one of the quarter's biggest social successes, the men's honorary service fraternity will honor seven pledges recently admitted to the group during formal initiation held last week.

Music will be provided by Gene Goudron and his orchestra, featuring a girl vocalist and several novelty numbers.

Goudron's band has been acclaimed on more than one occasion by Spartan dancers. He has completed successful engagements at the Coconut Grove in Santa Cruz and at some of San Francisco's more popular dance hotels.

"We think we have landed one of the outstanding bands in this vicinity in Goudron and his organization. He's always been a crowd pleaser. This, coupled with the beautiful setting of the Country club in the Eastern foothills, should make our dance a pleasing attraction," states Clarence Russo, chairman.

Bids are on sale at the Controller's office for $1.25, or may be secured from any member of the fraternity.

State Graduate Wins Honor At Music Conference

Douglas Peterson, a pupil of Melio M. Mayo, San Jose State graduate, and teacher of music here in 1936, won the coveted first trumpet chair in the all-conference orchestra of the California-Western Music Educators Conference.

Sunday afternoon the try-outs for first chair in the different sections of the all-conference orchestra were held before six judges. Peterson won over competition from five states. He has been studying three years with Mayo, who was formerly with the San Francisco Symphony and the Exposition band of 1939-1940. He is now with the San Francisco and San Carlo Opera companies, and leader of the Municipal band here.

STORM SEQUENCE USED IN FESTIVAL SCENE OF ANNUAL EXTRAVAGANZA

A torrential downpour, crashing thunder, lightning and a wind of gale proportions will all be utilized in the storm sequence of "Isle of the Pacific," swim extravaganza, which is to be presented at the college pool Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights by the Women's Swim club.

The storm opens the production which centers around the celebration of a religious festival on a tropical island.

Second Concert Given Tomorrow By String Quartet

The second in a series of five string quartet programs will be presented by the Pro Arte-Coolidge concerts, in the Morris Dailey auditorium at 8:30 tomorrow night.

Each concert features a different type of music. The group will confine itself to composition by modern American composers who have produced their works since 1924.

Tomorrow's program will include: "Quartet on Indian Themes", by Frederick Jacobi, "Quartet No. 8" in A major, by David Standy Smith, and "The Wind in the Willows, by Randall Thompson. The last piece named, was suggested by a book for children, written by Kenneth Gramme.

Those performing are: Antonio Brosa, first violin; Laurant Halleux, second violin; Germain Prevost, viola; and Warwick Evans, cello.

The "Quartet No. 8" is dedicated to Mrs. Elizabeth Sprague Coolidge, who gave a music foundation fund of $1500 toward the cost of presenting this series, which is $2500.

Several of the college faculty are patrons for the affair.

Devera Brenner Announces Betrothal

Devera Brenner, freshman student from Los Altos, recently announced her engagement to Sydney Gutterman, former San Jose State student now attending Stanford business school, from which he will graduate in June.

The couple hope to be married

As the storm devils are driven out the storm abates to mist that is penetrated by the golden light of the rising sun. The rising of the sun ushers in the first swimming event of the show, The Swim of the Golden Sun. Swimmers in this event will be some of the members of the Women's Swim club led by the club president, Norma Ojstedt. This number is characterized by quick darting flashing movement; the swimmers use no arm motion. Costumes will be entirely of gold, with huge gold swim fins attached to the swimmers' ankles. The movements of the swimmers typifies the darting of sun beams. It is accompanied by quick runs on the marimba.

Swimmers in the Golden Sun swim are Ruby Freitas, Doris Stratton, Carmen Opferman, Elizabeth Hall, Harriet Sheldon, Evelyn Woodard, Emily Currier, and Evelyn Gould.

Technical crew for the extravaganza is Jim Lioi and Peter Gilli, who also handle all effects for the storm sequence.
