In the three poetry divisions of the contest the winners are as follows: Sonnet, Katherine Sanford, first; Warren Lewis, second; and Dolores Stephens, third; free verse, Otto J. Peterson, first and third; and Watson Lacy, second. Lyric, Katherine Sanford, first; Lois Johnson, second; and Warren Lewis, third.

Presentation of the awards will be made by Dr. James O. Wood of the English department while Dr. Raymond Barry, head of the department, will preside over the assembly.

GUERARD SPEAKS
Guest speaker of the day will be Professor Albert L. Guerard of the English department of Stanford university. His topic will be "The Social Responsibility of Art".

Professor Guerard received most of his education in Europe. His chief field of study is comparative literature and he is also the author of several books. These include "Literature and Society" and "Art for Art's Sake".

PEGASUS RECEPTION
Following the assembly, members of Pegasus, honorary literary society, will give a reception and picnic for the contest winners at the home of Dr. Harold Miller in Saratoga. Transportation to Dr. Miller's home will be provided.

El Portal, campus literary magazine, which contains the prize-winning entries, will go on sale today at the Spartan Shop. Cover design for the 1941 magazine was made by William Lee, student in the Art department.

RADIO SOCIETY
PRESENTS PLAY
THURSDAY

Wierd noises and ghostly sounds which have recently been heard coming from the direction of the Speech wing can be traced directly to members of K.S.J.S., Radio Speaking society, who are now in rehearsal for "The Giant Stair", mystery thriller which they will present in the Little Theater at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

The cast for the play includes Harriet Sandifer as the moody, supersensitive Till, and Winifred Doolittle as her sister, Mrs. Weatherburn. The part of Sheriff Bane is played by Dean Paizis, while Ronald Hadley interprets the role of District Attorney Cantpole.

John Shepard as the narrator and Lew Daniel as the announcer complete the cast. Tommy Taylor has been acting as director in charge of production.

The play, which is a Columbia Workshop production, is a mystery story with a psychological tenor. The plot is built around the disappearance of Mrs. Weatherburn's husband.

"The Giant Stair", a Wilbur Daniel Steele story, is a half hour play and will have no admission charge.

Professor Albert L. Guerard of the English department of Stanford university will be guest speaker at the annual Phelan Contest Award assembly this afternoon. His topic will be "The Social Responsibility of Art".

Budget Discussion
At Council Meet
Today Noon

Final discussion of the college budget will take place when the student council meets today noon in the Student Union. Newly-elected council members are asked to attend today's meeting, Student Body President Bob Payne announces.

The administration recently approved the council's decision to set the student body fees at $12.50. Minor changes in the budget are expected before the final report.

At a meeting last night, the council stressed that organizations and individuals are requested to make reservations before tomorrow for the quarterly "gripe" dinner which will be held Monday. The council hopes to secure student opinion on various campus problems at this meeting. Faculty members are not invited.

New council members will be honored at a dinner dance to be held in the Lake Merritt hotel in Oakland Sunday evening.

FRESHMEN PLAN
FAREWELL DANCE
JUNE 6 AT 7:30

"Summer Night" is to be the theme of the farewell dance to be held in the Women's gym from 7:30 to 10:30 o'clock Friday evening, June 6, for freshmen students, announces Dorothy Anne Shaw, chairman.

A series of "coke" and ice cream cone sales will be conducted on the campus every Thursday from now until the dance, by members of the freshman class. Proceeds from the sales will be used to finance the farewell party.

Only first-year students and their guests will attend the party, states Miss Shaw. The orchestra which will furnish dance music has not yet been chosen.

MUSIC AWARD RECITAL
GIVEN IN LITTLE THEATER
TOMORROW NIGHT

A student show for students is the manner in which George Matthews, music instructor, describes the music award recital scheduled in the Little Theater tomorrow night at 8:15.

The program will consist of student-written and performed numbers. In some cases the composers will present their own works.

All pieces played are those which won top honors in the original music contest that was open to the whole student body last quarter.

Dr. Albert Elkus, Music department head at the University of California, judged the compositions under four classifications: Piano solo, vocal solo, instrumental ensemble, and vocal ensemble. Prizes, which are cash awards, will be presented at Wednesday's recital, according to George Matthews, music instructor.

Outline of the program is as follows: Instrumental ensemble numbers include "Fantasia for Woodwinds" by Charles Pyle, "Variations on an Original Theme" by Orrin Blattner, "Melodie" by Albert Meyers.

These selections will be played by the Woodwind choir and conducted by the composers: "Mountain Twilight" and "The Fog" by John Draper come under the head of vocal solos, and will be sung by Corrine Gorham. "The Highland Spinster" by Douglas Harville will be sung by Merle Williams and accompanied by Dorothy Currell.

In the violin solo group is "Gypsy Life" by Jay Morris, who will play his own composition, accompanied by Ann Kennard.

Piano solos, all played by the composers, are: "Refugee's Scrapbook" by Manuel Saenz, "Thoughts" by Alister McNabney and "Illusions" by the same composer.

Vocal Recital
Given Tonight
By Bel Canto

A vocal recital supplemented by instrumental music will be presented by Bel Canto, women's singing club, in the Little Theater at 8:15 tonight.

Miss Alma Lowry Williams, music instructor and director of the group, will lead the performers.

Featured soloists of the evening will be Mrs. Lydia Boothby, harpist and member of the faculty, and John Draper, horn player.

This accompaniment will serve partly as background for the first group of songs which includes: "Now is the Month of Maying", "Exandet's Minuet", "Jardin d'Amour", and "I Hear a Harp".

Louise Midwinter, violinist; Ina Mae Spink, flutist, and Eloisa Ardaiz, pianist, will participate in the second number titled "Brandenburg Concerto No. 5" by Bach.

The singing organization returns in the third number along with Kathryn Wood, playing piano, and Doris Mosier and Rae Steele, violinists. Elgar, Kountz and Henderson are composers of numbers in this third division.

Schubert's Quintet, "Die Forellen", will close the presentation with the following taking part: Benning Dexter, piano; Sidney Voigt, violin; Charles Hendrickson, viola; Max Hagemeyer, cello, and Warren Thomas, bass.

Students Vote On
Two Amendments
Thursday, 10-3

Student vote on two amendments to the college constitution will be held Thursday from 10 to 3 o'clock in front of the Morris Dailey auditorium.

The proposed changes will deal with the present class and student election system, according to election judge Ben Frizzi. Voters must present their student body cards before balloting.

The first amendment concerns class elections and class officers. Class elections will be held each quarter for all classes with the exception of the freshman group, which will hold elections only in the winter and spring quarters.

Elections will follow a nomination assembly and be conducted on the same basis as the General Student Body election. Student eligibility for class office will depend on scholastic rating.

The officers of all classes will be: President, vice-president, and secretary-treasurer.

Amendment two to the constitution deals with an election judge who will be appointed by the Student Council two weeks before the end of each school year and with his committee will be in complete charge of elections.

Bibliophiles Aid In Homecoming Plans

Most recent campus organization to add an event to the alumni Homecoming day program Saturday is the Bibliophiles, librarianship majors and minors group.

Grace Hines, president, and Miss Helen Bullock, faculty adviser, announce that Bibliophiles will give a breakfast for their alumni at 426 North First street Saturday morning at 9 o'clock.

Other campus groups holding alumni events include Tau Delta Phi, Delta Phi Upsilon, Art department, and the boxing team. Several fraternities and sororities will hold open house.

DEBATERS MEET
STANFORD TEAM
TODAY AT 3:45

In one of the final meets of the year two members of the Spartan debate team will contest a Stanford duo on the problem, "Resolved, That civil liberties should be curtailed during a war crisis."

Scheduled to be held on the Stanford campus today at 3:45, the debate will feature Ronald Maas and Joel Gustafsen defending the negative side of the question for San Jose.

Also taking place today is a debate before the Fact Finders club at San Jose High school. Held in the newer symposium form, this event will center around the question, "Should strikes in national defense industries be prohibited?"

Chairman for the discussion is Richard Flower, with Carson Ronas taking an affirmative stand and Bette Jane Toland upholding the negative side of the problem.

YWCA Holds Ice
Cream Sale In Quad
Tomorrow, 11 To 1

Ice cream will be on sale in the quad from 11-1 tomorrow with YWCA girls behind the booth, announces Clare Harris, YW adviser.

This is the second of a series of such sales. All proceeds will be used to send two YW members to work on social service projects this summer.

SENIOR BALL BIDS GO ON SALE FOR FOURTH YEAR
MEN EXCLUSIVELY TODAY

Senior Ball bids will go on sale exclusively for seniors today, announces Don Anderson co-chairman of the dance with Gay Van Perre.

They may be obtained in the Controller's office in the Student Union for $3.05. The bids are $2.75 plus a 28-cent tax fee. The general sale, open to the entire student body, will begin June 2.

The formal ball will be held at the Olympic club overlooking Lake Merced in San Francisco Saturday, June 7.

Students Vote On Finals Tomorrow

Students' opinions of the present final examination system will be aired tomorrow morning during 9 o'clock classes, according to Harrison Heath of the Personnel office.

The results of the poll taken from student opinions will be brought before the committee meeting when the faculty will vote for the second time this year for keeping or abolishing the system.

"This will be the first time an outside organization will use the club since it has been newly decorated," commented Anderson.

As the sale will be open to seniors for just one week, fourth year students are advised to get their bids as soon as possible.

Seniors are asked to sign up either tomorrow or Thursday for the traditional Mt. Hamilton trip, which will be held June 9.

Sign-ups will be taken in the student body president's office in the student union.

Think! Then Vote

Once again students will be given an opportunity to voice their opinions on a very important matter when they are allowed to vote tomorrow on whether or not they wish to continue with the present system or giving final examinations.

This question has been hashed over, pro and con, many times before. The majority of the faculty members seem to prefer it to the old system where a short final examination was given during each class period. Now it's up to the students to express how they feel about it.

Before they do vote, however, they should weigh the question carefully to be sure they are voting for what they really want. The words "final exams" send cold shivers sailing down the spines of most of us. They are something we would prefer to do without.

Overemphasizing The Trivial . . .

Monday night comes the second "beef" dinner of the present school year, one of many activities in which students already burdened with more than they can do are expected to take an active interest. Monday night nearly 200 organization members are asked to sit in on an argument between group factions and people who like to hear themselves shout and judge intelligently the needs and the work done by the various fraternities, et al., on this campus.

The idea of a dinner during which the minor grievances of these clubs might be aired was a good one; and still is, for that matter. Unfortunately, however, the dinners have done little else but overemphasize the trivial matters which could be dealt with by the organizations themselves, or by the student council.

Organizations which have ignored the open invitation of the council to take a Monday night off and bring their woes to the

Yet on the other hand they are something we can scarcely omit.

They give the instructor one last chance to see what his students have learned and very often they give the student a chance to redeem himself, for in classes where one or two exams beside the final are given, the final counts quite heavily.

Under the present system students have a better chance to study for finals. No tests the previous week, no classes to attend during the final week, no other assignments to interfere—all these do their part in giving the student a chance to accomplish some good hard study.

So when you vote tomorrow morning on this all-important question, be sure you weigh the matter carefully before voting one way or the other.

student administrators' meeting decide that in justice to their self-assumed dignity it behooves them to make an appearance at the dinner. And appear they do, usually with an armload of arguments.

At the last meeting, the price of La Torre, the question of the student prexy's operating expenses and the appropriation of the men's Physical Education department, all matters which are the business of the individual group or of the council, were used to occupy a good three hours. The conclusions reached were hardly valuable, since little has been done since on any of the questions.

The idea of the dinner is a good one; but the planning lacks a little foresight. Those who have arranged to attend should do so with the idea of either finding a real grievance to bring before the meeting or should shut up and enjoy the meal.

—Graham.

Gilding The Lily

By FLORENCE SCUDERO

Lights are dim, there is the tantalizing scent of a Schaparelli's perfume, you're dancing in your newest and gayest formal at your last college dance to the strains of a famous orchestra with your best beau at the newly-decorated Olympic club.

That's right it's the Senior Ball and only two weeks away. Almost everyone has a new dress—and the question comes up what to get or what to look for?

Cottons are tops this year for the spring formal wear . . . it could be a design of tremendous floral prints, stripes, or just the ever popular white. . . Make it pique or gingham . . . it could be cut low at the neck with a full skirt . . . perhaps with a short bolero . . . or newest and cutest on the list the mid-rif-less.

Speaking of evening wear . . . we found the blessings of m'ladies week-end wardrobe . . . the little hug-me-tight . . . midrif sweaters which can be worn over a long skirt as well as with slacks and shorts . . . comes in a puckery cotton chenille also.

If you're making your own formal . . . try the pique . . . or waffle weave pique . . . if you're making a jacket maybe you're clever enough to design a neat design which can be embroidered . . . just for a bit of color and dash of smartness.

Army's Got Him But He'll Return

Dear San Jose State:

Today I have my "questionnaire"; When school is out this means adieu.

But if someday Herr Chance permits I'll be back here with you.

It's all a game this whole affair— A game that we call war; We play to win the things at stake— The very things we're living for.

Our hopes, our dreams, our ideologies,

Our friends and kin whom we adore;

For them we play this game— They are the things we're living for.

The rules are those of life and death;

We live and play them much the same.

To get the things we want in life We have to play the game.

And those who lose are those who die;

For them the game is o'er.

And those who win are those who live,

When ends this game called war.

So now adieu and thanks to you, You've helped me make a game of war.

It's things like you, dear San Jose, That make a win worth playing for.

— Marvin A. Dillwood.

Speaking Of Jobs!

By ED. HAWORTH

The results of the teacher placement program to date should bring encouragement to those who have felt some doubt about opportunities for employment this year. May 20, 1941, found 91 graduates placed in their first teaching positions. On the same date in 1940, 73 inexperienced teachers had accepted positions. Placement of experienced candidates has progressed to exactly the same point as last year, 47. Since there are about 20 less candidates graduating with teaching credentials this year than in 1940, the prospects of employment for the present senior class appear very promising. Evidence is at hand to indicate that non-teaching candidates are also faring rather well. Although the Appointment office has announced on two or three occasions that interviews with employers would be arranged for graduates interested in merchandising and insurance positions, not one senior has appeared to take advantage of the offer. The interviews, incidentally, can still be arranged. The draft has, of course, played a large part in reducing the number of men available for such openings.

Repetition of a statement seems to be in order—there are still many seniors who have not supplied the Appointment office with sufficient information and materials for effective placement service. Recommendations, student teaching details, and photographs are still being awaited in many in-

Wake Up, Open Your Eyes, Says Student

Dear Thrust and Parry:

In your recent letter you suggest that we should keep our noses where they belong instead of where they don't and we would be better off. Would you say the Holland, Belgium, Czechoslovakia, Norway ad infinitum were crushed simply because they couldn't keep their noses where they belonged?

Then, you would have us believe that the catastrophe which befell France was the fault of the English not fighting. Now, I am ready to admit that the English have made certain mistakes (although it must be remembered that it is far easier to see mistakes from the sidelines), but the fall of France was due largely to internal dissension and lack of national unity.

You don't seem to realize that any war anywhere is of concern to us, for the prosperity of this country depends upon foreign trade. Perhaps a little item by a famous commentator will illustrate a point that you evidently fail to see:

"An isolationist is one relaxing on the deck of a ship; his wife runs up from the cabin yelling: 'John, the ship is sinking!'"

"What are you excited about?" John says. "Does the ship belong to you?"

— George Hopper.

On-Campus

Thursday students will go to the polls for the eighth time this quarter. All the elections have had grand turnouts so far in fact, one set a new record with over 1400 students casting ballots.

Election officials are expecting a let-down Thursday and yet the amendments to be voted upon directly concern every student in this college.

In the past, each class has had as many officials as seemed necessary. One of the proposed amendments calls for the stabilization of class officers by having only a president, vice-president and secretary-treasurer. This will make class elections more uniform and efficient.

The second amendment specifies the election of a judge to supervise student balloting. Responsibility will be put directly upon one person and a committee appointed by the student council; this should eliminate any questionable voting.

SPORTS SHORTS

By SAUL SIMON

A couple of guys with brains are those fellows Jack Lercari and Charley Cook. Although the big orange grid machine masquerading as the Home Guard eleven won the closing day game, Messrs. Lercari and Cook can still have a good laugh on them.

For Lercari, the likeable Sacramento JC transfer, turned in some of the best playing of the day. Not so big in brawn, Lercari makes it up in brains. Lercari isn't the blocker that Pederson is, but Pederson isn't the signal caller that Lercari is, so that evens up matters.

Mr. Lercari was listed at the number two out of two possible choices on the Draftees eleven. But when he entered the fray in the second quarter his unit began to pick up speed and move. There are 50 plays in the Spartan's repertoire and to the other quarters on the turf they were just 50 plays.

But Mr. Lercari used a select few and set up his plays to advantage. Up in that little old noodle of his there's a brain clicking. His fourth quarter signal-calling was a thing of beauty and joy forever. Brawn is okay but brains make the machine move out and roll.

As for Mr. Cook, he can have a snicker or two on the house. Down where Cook came from in Compton JC they have a coach named Tay Brown. While down there Charley learned a trick or two to advantage. One of the things that Cook came up here with is when you have the ball within the enemy's five-yard line, the thing to do is draw them offside. The worst that can happen if you don't center the ball on the required number is a both-sides offside. But a sucker is born every minute, and when you have the opportunity, take advantage of it.

Mr. Cook merely faked centering the ball and then watched innocently while the referee moved the ball to the one calling an offside on the opposition.

LETTERS FOR WINTER, SPRING QUARTERS GO TO 69 ATHLETES

Baseballers Top List With 14 Men Winning Blocks; Terry Gets Two

By WALT LERNER

Sixty-nine Spartan athletes were awarded varsity letters for the winter and spring quarters of 1941, it was announced yesterday by Graduate Manager Frank Carroll.

Baseball led the list with fourteen Block "SJS" given out by Mentor Walt McPherson. Captain Ben Frizzi and Tony Nasimento received the letter award for the third time.

Basketball was a close second with thirteen lettermen. Captain Hal Carruth and Johnnie Allen received their third awards. Walt McPherson's varsity tied for the Conference championship this past season.

TERRY GETS TWO

George Terry was the only man to receive more than one letter for the year to date. The erstwhile star end for the Spartan eleven got his letters for both track and baseball.

Coach Charley Walker's CCAA championship merman received eight letters. Jack Windsor, Dean Foster, and Martin Wempe all were three-year veterans.

Varsity letter winners:

points. Adams, DTO forward, leads the individual scoring with 109 points in seven games, followed by Dave Leonard and Larry Sutton, SGO forwards, with 73 and 70, respectively. Bob Gager, DSG, dropped to fourth place with 62 because of a sprained ankle, followed by Lundquist with 57 in fifth place.

Civitan Boxers Present Two-Night Program

The final tournament of the Civitan boxing club will be held in Spartan pavilion tomorrow and Thursday nights at 7:00. There will be no admission charged.

The Civitan program, sponsored jointly by the San Jose State P.E. department and the Civitan club, has turned out to be a successful venture. Dr. Harry Hill has organized the youngsters for this final tournament and fans who turn out are assured an interesting and exciting evening.

According to Dee Portal, Spartan boxing coach, the young battlers put on quite a show. The extreme youthfulness of the boxers makes them more interesting to watch.

Frosh Tennis Team Meets Bulldogs Today

Coach T. Erwin Blesh's freshman tennis team will make its third start this afternoon at 3:30 against the strong San Jose high school netmen, who won the PAL championship this year, on the Castro courts.

Crucial Game Of Pub-Drama Series Today

The crucial game of the titanic Drama versus Publications series is on this afternoon at 4 o'clock on the San Carlos turf.

Words and hats have reached a new high with the latest tentative agreement being for the losing team to buy the winners milk shakes.

Some spokesmen for the teams have even gone so far as to wager a barbecue. No official wager has been hit upon yet, but it is reported that the winning team will benefit nicely.

The journalists, pounding the ball to all corners of the field, took the first game 17 to 10. In the second game played last week, the pub lads entered the game a little "Cocky", let the dramatists pile up a lead, and

Edwards Upset In Santa Cruz Tennis Tourney

Ronald Edwards, defending champion in the Casa Del Rey tennis tourney at Santa Cruz, was upset in the semi-finals Sunday by William Crosby of Oakland 5-7, 6-1, 6-0.

Edwards defeated Crosby in the state tourney two weeks ago in straight sets.

Crosby went on to defeat Harold Wagner, San Francisco State star, to win the championship 6-4, 7-5. Both Edwards, favored to hold the title, and Jack Jossi, Oakland netmen seeded second, were eliminated from the finals.

Edwards is now in preparation for his invasion of Philadelphia for the National Intercollegiate Singles championship June 23 and 29. Edwards is being sent to the Nationals by the student body through action of the student council.

While in the East, Edwards will enter several national and invitational tournaments, bringing the name of San Jose State college to the eyes of the Eastern colleges.

SGO Five Wins Seventh; DTO's Down DSG's 35-26

FILMS OF MILITARY LIFE PRESENTED TODAY, 12:30

Films of military life at Randolph and Kelly Fields will be shown in the Little Theater at 12:30 today.

Although designed primarily for men entering the army air corps, the film will be shown to the student body as a whole today.

Students examined and qualified by the Southern Traveling Flying Cadet board are being organized into units for group training. Each group consists of 20 men selected from one college or university.

Reason for this is to establish a more active esprit de corps and to foster amiable rivalry between the schools, according to Lieutenant R. L. Crew.

Twenty-six men were qualified for Army Air Corps training by the cadet board. Of this number 14 reported to the army representatives in the Morris Dailey auditorium yesterday.

The following twelve men are requested to report to the same place at 12:15 today: Kenneth W. Jones, C. J. Thelen, Ranson W. Rideout, Calvert A. Moody, L. H. Greensides, John W. Woffington, J. W. Wilson, Italo V. Barbier, George Mollenberg, Eugene Rochi, Robert Titchenal, Dean R. Foster.

The 14 men who reported yesterday are already part of Unit No. 1. To be filled, the unit lacks six men. The six first-comers today will be placed in this unit if they qualify.

According to orders from the War office, this unit is to be given the utmost publicity. The War office, in addition, gives assurance that the group will be kept together. The unit will be known as the San Jose State College Unit No. 1.

The unit number will vary chronologically for subsequent units.

Students wishing to apply for admittance into the air corps should report to the lieutenant in charge for more information.

ENTOMOLOGY CLUB RETURNS FROM OUTING

Entomology club of San Jose State returned from its annual trip to Clear Lake Oaks Sunday evening. The group, accompanied by Dr. and Mrs. Carl Duncan, left here Friday afternoon by automobile to spend the week-end collecting specimens.

The outstanding event of the trip came Saturday night, when, according to the students, a fine barbecue meal was served. The chef who cooked the meal was Henry Stabo, a student in Entomology.

During the process of collecting, a butterfly, of the Pieridae family, only found in lower California, was captured. The students are mounting their specimens and will soon have them ready for display, stated Dr. Duncan.

Math Picnic June 3 At Alum Rock Park

Members of the college Mathematics department will hold their picnic June 3 at Alum Rock park. Martin Wempe will act as chairman for the affair.

The price will be 40 cents per person, and any person in the Mathematics department, anyone taking any course in mathematics, all aeronautical majors and all pre-engineering majors are eligible to attend.

Students desiring to attend must sign up before Thursday at 5 o'clock. Signups may be made with Martin Wempe, John Pitsker and Lois Bohnett.

John J. Lillard, associated with the Western Division of the Soil Conservation Service, with headquarters in Berkeley, will speak three times today to students of Biology 22 at 8 a.m. and 11 a.m. in room S112, and at 1 p.m. in S210.

His topic will be "Work of the Soil Conservation Service", illustrated by a sound film.

Dr. Robert Rhodes states that his long training and expert work will make his lectures especially valuable to those about to teach, as the subject lends itself to activity units in school classes. He invites everyone interested to attend the lectures.

Junior Triumph Feted By Victory Party Next Week

Junior class victory party, celebrating the decisive defeat over the seniors during Sneak Week, will be held Tuesday, June 3, at Club Almaden, announces Wilbur Scott, president of the junior class.

All those wishing to participate should sign the paper in the quad sometime this week for reservations.

The party will start in the afternoon and continue through the evening with swimming and dancing, states Scott.

Refreshments and box lunches may be purchased at the club by those not wishing to bring their own food. Juniors must furnish their own transportation.

Bundles For Britain Theme Of Zeta Chi Drive

Backed by a number of civic and service groups, the Bundles for Britain Ball, the first of its kind in Santa Clara county, will be presented by Zeta Chi, on-campus social sorority, Thursday evening in the Civic auditorium from 9 until 1.

Sponsored also by several campus societies, the ball is given to benefit those in war-torn England, states Miss Harriet Peime, president of Zeta Chi.

"All the profit will go towards helping air-raid victims of Britain," Miss Peime declared. "All who go are promised a good time for themselves plus the satisfaction of knowing their money is helping to alleviate the suffering of others."

Lowell Jones' orchestra will play for dancers. Tickets will be sold in the quad this week or may be purchased from any member of the sorority. They are also being sold at booths in downtown stores. Admission to the semi-formal affair is 55 cents per person, $1.10 per couple.

Miss Peime is also general chairman for the dance assisted by various committee heads: Juanita Hadfield, finance; Barbara Fulton, tickets; Alice Jane Bittencourt, advertising; Bety Lane, contact; Lois Bohnett, decorations; and Dorothy Mulcahy, concessions.

A business meeting for Knight members will precede the get-together at 7 o'clock.

According to Don True, Duke of the Knights, last vote on the Squires will be held Thursday noon in room 57A of the Speech wing. The meeting will start at 12:15.

Hell Week for the Squires will officially begin on Monday, June 2, and will continue to Thursday, with informal initiation being held that evening.

SYMPHONIC GROUP PLANS VARIED CONCERT

Symphonic orchestra members and conductor Adolph Otterstein are well into rehearsals for the quarterly concert set in Morris Dailey auditorium June 3 at 8:15 p.m.

A varied program is arranged for the presentation which is free to the public.

Handel's "Overture in D Minor", arranged by Wullner is listed first with Beethoven's "Violin Concerto in D Major" as the second performance.

Sidney Voight, violinist-music major and pupil of Miss Frances Robinson, is soloist for the Beethoven work. Voight has appeared in several campus recitals and was a recent soloist at the Kiwanis club.

"Five Miniatures" by Paul White and "Symphony No. 2 in D Major" by Sibelius will round out the program.

White's miniatures are in five sections: "By the Lake", "Caravan Song", "Waltz for Tennie's Doll", "Hippo Dance" and "Mosquito Dance".

This humorous music was written about ten years ago, but only recently became popular after the release of records by the Boston Pop orchestra.

A resume of the activities engaged in during the year in Nature Study classes is now on exhibit in the upper hall of the Science building.

The exhibit is put in by students in the 3-5 p.m. lab section under the chairmanship of Leola Erickson. It gives a complete schedule of the ideas, materials and costs possible for Nature Study class projects, and should prove profitable to students and those learning to teach, said Dr. Matthew Vessel.

New Library Color Scheme To Feature Rainbow Effect

By WENDELL HAMMON "A symphony in color" might be one way for describing the color patterns that will cover the interior of the new library building of San Jose State college.

From the top of the pent house roof, (roof of the fan room) to the floor of the basement may be seen almost every color of the rainbow, and even some that miss the rainbow.

Starting with the roof with its birch green, and red brick tile down to the basement with its green white tiles, and hospital green steel partitions, the color scheme grows broader ranging into 26 different color variations starting with an "off white"—to a deep brown.

To paint the building the contractors estimate over 250 gallons of paint will be utilized, and some 1000 pounds of stucco for the exterior of the building.

Several shades of brown will cover the walls of the library such as Indian brown, malt brown, sunburn, maize brown, and deep brown. The colors of green make up a list quite similar—fawn green, birch green, side wash green, army green, and hospital green.

This only touches upon the color scheme of the painting design. Several other color variations that help make up one's color vocabulary are chocolate brown, orchid, buff, straw yellow window sills, and red lining.

Some of the difficulties which the contractors had to meet were the requisitioning of aluminum paint by the government, the impossibility to locate stainless steel, and the lack of bronze.

HOBO PICNIC SPONSORED BY A.W.A. TONIGHT

Bringing to an end the associated women's activities for this year, the annual AWA Hobo picnic at Alum Rock park will be held tonight from 5 to 7, open to all women on campus.

The affair, for women only, is costume with gingham and slacks in order, according to Marcela Smith, general chairman.

Busses will leave Seventh and San Carlos streets at 4:10 and 5:10 to take women to the park. They will return at 6:30 and 7:30. There is no charge for transportation.

Patty Popp is in charge of games with Winnie Rice planning the menu.
