Second Story Hour Play Broadcast; Third Due Tuesday

Last night the KSJS student broadcast the second play in the "Story Hour" series over KQW at 9:15. The play was an original comedy by Ted Hatlen of the Speech department.

CAST NAMED

Students in the cast of "Parting Such Sweet Sorrow" included Tommy Taylor, Lois Ijams, John Shepherd, and Frank Valenti. It was directed by R. L. Irwin, radio instructor and club adviser. Fred Ruig of KQW acted as production manager for the show.

"BLAZE OF GLORY"

Next Tuesday night's broadcast, November 11, is an original radio mystery drama, "A Blaze of Glory". It was written by State alumnus Johnson Mosher, A.B. '40. Mosher, a former KSJS member, will return to direct and play the leading role in the program.

The cast consists of Johnson Mosher as the homicidal maniac, Ely; Jack Hume, Charles; Frank Thompson, Reggie; and Winifred Doolittle, Zarova, the gypsy. Frank Valenti will do the narration.

While attending San Jose State, besides being active in speech and radio, Mosher helped to write the "Music and American Youth" program broadcast over the National Broadcasting system last year. "A Blaze of Glory" will be the third play of the Story Hour series.

SEMERAU SPEAKS ON KFRC FORUM

Woodrow Semerau, past debate manager, will speak over the KFRC inter-collegiate forum Sunday, on the topic "Are the Movies Being Used for Propaganda Purposes?"

The program, beginning at 11:15 and lasting a half hour, is made up of a spontaneous informal discussion given without preparation.

Along with Semerau from State will be Robert McCarthy from University of San Francisco; Ruth Lane, San Francisco College for Women; and Louis Morengo, University of California.

Miss Lucie Lawson of the Speech department will be faculty moderator for the Sunday forum.

Faculty Musicians Prepare Recital

Rehearsals are now in progress for a recital to be given by the first faculty instrumental trio ever organized in San Jose State college, according to Adolf Otterstein. The trio, composed of Adolf Otterstein, violin; Benning Dexter, piano; and Alexander Reisman, cello, will play a group of works by Rachmaninoff, Mendelssohn and Beethoven.

The date of the recital has not been announced.

Faculty Members Invited To Dinner

Dr. and Mrs. Jay C. Elder will be the weekly faculty dinner guests at Spartan Hall tonight.

Spartan Hall initiated this idea at the beginning of the year. Its purpose is to acquaint the faculty with the house and its members.

'Can't Knit Or Sew,' But Good Yarn Winders

National defense work has acquired an element that college officials didn't expect.

Four stalwart men of Sparta have applied for work in the campus Red Cross room.

The first gentleman marched into room 36 and said although he couldn't knit or sew he would like to help in some way. This worthy lad was put to work winding yarn. Since then three other noble fellows have offered their assistance and have been wholeheartedly welcomed.

"More workers are needed and if the men are willing to help, the women certainly should do their part, too," Miss Pauline Lynch says.

Print Collectors Distribute Etching By Cartoonist

Dr. Marques E. Reitzel, Art department head and chairman of the American College Society of Print Collectors, announces the twenty-fourth print to be distributed by the society, "Sun Bathers on the Roof", by John Sloan.

Sloan has worked as a newspaper cartoonist, lived among the Indians of the Southwest, and taught school for fourteen years. Among his many recognitions John Sloan is regarded as the dean of American artists.

Deckard Ritter, art librarian at Ohio Wesleyan university, describes the etching by Sloan as "Lazily unrestrained in effect, clear in line, not unlike Rubens in flesh portrayal, human, amusing, and in general very much like John Sloan."

Prints by Sloan the size of this one, about 6 by 8 inches, sell for $100. The print will be in the Art wing for the following two weeks accompanied by the announcement which gives a short thumbnail sketch of the life of Sloan.

Prints by great artists are reproduced by the society and distributed to the 125 members in colleges and universities throughout the nation.

KSFO OFFICIALS PREPARE SERIES

Word has just been received from KSFO inter-collegiate debate heads that the collegiate debate series for Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors will soon get under way.

CONTEST FOR SPEAKERS

The KSFO debate series terminates with a contest in which the outstanding speakers are chosen to take part. Woodrow Semerau was chosen last year as one of the three leading speakers.

The program, according to word received by the Speech department, will be a half hour program with each contestant giving a short formal speech, followed by discussion presided over by a faculty moderator.

The exact date of the first debate has not been set as yet, nor has the schedule of schools taking part.

Rally Committee Needs Talent For Variety Show

"Anyone who can sing, dance, play a musical instrument, tell a joke, act, or even stand on his head should meet with us at 3:00 this afternoon in Morris Dailey auditorium as we need talent for next week's variety show," shouted rally committee chairman Dick Payne.

FOR FRESNO GAME

The variety show to be held Thursday, November 13, will be a full hour of entertainment which will act as a rally for the Fresno-State game to be held the next day.

Several of the spots are filled but there are still places in the show to be filled by those who volunteer today.

BASKIN EMCEE

Leonard Baskin is to act as master of ceremonies and will also supply comedy in a skit with Izzy Gold and Bill Mitchell.

The Ero Swing Trio will be featured in the Chattanooga Choo-Choo and Elmer's Tune.

16-PIECE ORCHESTRA

The backbone of the entire show will be the 16-piece solid swing orchestra which will play all of the most popular pieces and campus favorites.

Dot Taylor, drum majorette for the marching band, will do a baton twirling and tap-dancing routine.

The rest of the entertainment is to be lined up in the next day or two. To make this task easier, the rally committee is holding the meeting tomorrow for anyone interested in performing and asks for all the co-operation possible.

HEAR YE! HEAR YE!

We, the officers of the sophomore class, with the authorization of the councils and class, do proclaim the week beginning with the second Monday in November "No-Jeans-For-Freshman Week".

Any freshman apprehended wearing the traditional sophomore attire will undergo an embarrassing treatment and will be inviting pneumonia and other afflictions of that type.

La Torre Picture Appointments Due

Members of the following honorary groups should make appointments for pictures before 2 tomorrow afternoon: Alpha Eta Sigma, Alpha Phi Omega, Artizans, AWA, Black Masque, Chi Pi Sigma, Delta Epsilon, Der Deutsche Verein, Epsilon Nu Gamma and Kappa Delta Pi.

Reports from the business office of La Torre show that many organizations have not paid in full for their pages in the Yearbook. Walt Schmidt said that he would not make a second extension of time. He has given one extension and said that this would positively be the last one.

SAN JOSE PLAYERS OPEN 1941-42 SEASON WITH 'THE RIVALS,' 8:30 TONIGHT IN LITTLE THEATER

Tonight at 8:30 the San Jose Player's open their 1941-42 season with the first presentation of Richard B. Sheridan's comedy hit, "The Rivals," which will have a 4-day run in the Little Theater. Tickets for the play are on sale in the Speech Office, room 159. General admission is 55 cents and student tickets are 28 cents. Associated student body cards must be presented to receive student rates.

Pitman Announces New Naval Unit Of Mosquito Boats

An entirely new naval unit known as the Coastal Guard has just been organized, according to word received by Dean of Men Paul M. Pitman from naval reserve headquarters yesterday.

COAST PATROL

The new unit, organized for the purpose of coast patrol will consist of numerous "mosquito-type" boats, and will be under the jurisdiction of the regular naval reserve. Young men seeking enlistment in this new service may enlist for a maximum of four years. If the national emergency ceases to exist previous to the end of the four year period, enlisted men may be granted earlier discharge if they so desire.

According to Lieutenant Nash, recruiting officer in San Francisco, two types of applicants are highly desirable for this coastal service; those students that are mechanically inclined or trained, and those who have had previous small boat experience. After four months of service in the Coastal Guard, men may transfer to the regular navy if they wish to.

Young men that are interested in this branch of service may file their applications with Lieutenant Nash at 105 Market Street in San Francisco.

Eleanor Wagner, sophomore speech major portrays the most popular role in the play, that of the voluble Mrs. Malaprop, who attempts to run the affections of her niece, Lydia Languish. From this comic character has come the term "Malapropism," inspired by Mrs. Malaprop's trait of using the wrong word, often giving the exact opposite meaning of that she intended.

Bob Acres, portrayed by Leon Fletcher, is the most outstanding comedy part for a man. Although naturally a coward, he pretends a courage he does not feel to protect his honor and family name, two virtues which are highly esteemed by his friend Sir Lucius O'Trigger.

Sir Lucius, an Irishman played by Clarence Cassell, is the chief minor role in the play. Jack Hume as Jack Absolute, and Shirley Kress as Lydia Languish, the young lovers in the play are not comic characters but are involved in amusing situations brought about by Lydia's romantic ideas about love and marriage, and Jack's pretension that he fits those ideas.

Howard Evans and Barbara Whittaker as Faulkland and Julia the sentimental lovers balance the other characters and add a picturesque touch to the story. Frank Thompson as Anthony Absolute, portrays the typical irascible old gentleman. Anthony, who thinks he has a sweet temper, in reality loses it easily, thus creating comic situations.

WOMEN'S PART IN DEFENSE

The on-campus chapter of the Red Cross has been asking that women volunteer to help complete the projects which it has undertaken to accomplish for National Defense and War Relief. As yet women students have not seemed to show any great amount of interest in the project.

Yesterday three men students presented themselves to those in charge and offered their services, saying they didn't know much about sewing, but they were willing to do anything they were capable of doing to further the organization's work.

If men students can find time and inclination to help with Red Cross work it would seem that women students could, too. Most women students have taken Home Economics courses and know something about sewing, if not about knitting. For those who are not adept at either, instruction is offered at the college Red Cross headquarters.

Men students are doing their part in the present national emergency by draft and volunteer service in the army or navy. Many of them have had to give up finishing school because they were called for service. If they can make sacrifices as great as this, can't the women students sacrifice a small part of their time and perhaps pleasure to help in the National Defense program?

And it would seem that students should find a certain amount of pleasure in doing this work itself. The feeling of having accomplished something worthwhile and having "done your bit" should produce a very pleasant self-satisfaction. Besides the righteous feeling one would experience, social contacts could be made through the Red Cross as well as any other campus organization.

If men students can make sacrifices and give up a year or more of their normal lives to aid in National Defense, should we leave such parts of the program as Red Cross work to them, too?

—Christenson

IT'S GREAT TO BE AN AMERICAN

It's great to be an American and it's great to be going to college. How many of us really stop to think of the advantages we have over young men and women our age in other parts of the world today. We're coming to college to take courses in which we are interested and which we ourselves have chosen; we can express our opinions freely and not have to worry that some "big guy" is going to "bump" us off for not supporting his campaign.

We have time to play, too, and that time is our own. It might be interesting to other students of the college to know what the Fourth Estate does after hours. One night this week the Daily staff is holding a party for Frankie Rondoni, the printer who saw this publication to bed safely for more than five years. Next week the journalists are taking the dramatists on for a game of touch-football on San Carlos turf. It'll be a game played for the fun of playing, not for grim determination to win or suffer the consequences.

There is some departmental rivalry in the college, but just enough to keep things interesting. If the Drama department thinks some publicity in the Daily is misinforming, then the Journalism department hears about it, and if the Journalism department doesn't like the way the Music department plays softball the Music department will be able to read about it the next day in the paper. The rivalry is in the spirit of good, clean fun, and no one is harmed by it.

We can sit here and wave our red, white, and blue flag, and sincerely believe deep down that it's great to be an American and it's great to be going to college.

Open Letter To Mr. Broyles

Dear Mr. Broyles:
I wish to thank you for the oral lesson in animal husbandry which you so kindly delivered for me in one of your classes, in which, unfortunately, I was not present. Also I wish to thank you for answering my article in this manner. You see, Mr. Broyles, in anticipation of your answers, I made several small financial wagers upon your method of attack. You, my dear sir, showed me to be an expert prognosticator. In return, I would like to have you share in my good fortune.

But I heard no mention of your answering the question on what you meant by social significance.

Perhaps I can explain to you just what a hen does. She clucks before laying the egg and cackles with happiness over getting rid of her burden after laying the egg. Is this what some instructors do?

In anticipation of your written reply,

I remain,
Walter Schmidt.

Student Dislikes Two-Tone Band

Dear Thrust and Parry:

Judging from the comment of the State students in the rooting section last Friday night, they don't appreciate the two-tone effect of the band.

If the Music department actually agreed to limit the band to the number of new uniforms then why don't they?

The band is perfect in every other respect!

Let's have some action on this situation before the Fresno game!

Wes Young.

Senior Bench Suggested

Open letter to the Senior class. It has been suggested to me by several members of the Senior class that one of the benches near the new library be for the exclusive use of the fourth year students.

This would be a tradition to be followed by Senior classes in the future and would add much to the very small number of traditions that we have. Many students have commented that this part of college color is noticeably lacking on our campus.

Almost every other college has this sort of thing and we of the Senior class could prove ourselves to be real leaders by instigating something of this sort.

At the next meeting let's bring this subject before the class members and get their reactions on having a Senior bench.

Mr. Broyles Answers Student

Dear Thrust and Parry:
The letters in Tuesday's show why we have social problems. I refer to Walter Schmidt's. First, he took literally what given as irony, humor and ad absurdum.

I do not blame God for the of the world. My view exp the futility of blaming God anything. I attribute social society.

My analysis is in terms of here and not in terms of life after.

Now as to economics, a reason why things do not out is the unequalness of beings. If men were created if we had equality of power, then our price would order affairs beautiful and competition would be Rather than "enter a period status quo" (how funny that ment is) we would have full of everything and maximum factation of wants. Winter Picks Nine Frosh Gridders As Varsity Material

By NIELS NIELSEN

Members of San Jose's greatest freshman football squad turned in their suits this week and knuckled down to the serious occupation of studying.

PERRY OUTSTANDING

From this team will come the stars of future San Jose State varsity teams. Basing his judgment on their play throughout the season, their improvement, and their possibilities, Coach Bud Winter named nine players: Bill Perry, Colin Hill, Harold Fullride, Art Beltran, Frank Roberts, Al Long, Charles Ziebak, Bob Creighton, John Shehtanian and Bud Ingle as possible varsity greats.

Perry, whom Winter rates the outstanding player on the team, displayed his ability at quarterback. His signal calling, blocking, natural leadership, defensive play and place kicking will undoubtedly be useful to the varsity.

GROUND GAINER

Hill at left half was the team's leading ground gainer and chief offensive threat. With the exception of the St. Mary's game he averaged at least one run of 35 yards or better per game. Starting out on a wide reverse he was always a threat with a long pass. Fullride played behind Hill all season but when he was in the game he displayed plenty of hard running. He also showed, in the Marin game, possibilities of becoming a great punter.

BELTRAN FAST

Beltran, although very light, is wiry and fast. From right half he was a man to watch on reverses and on the receiving end of passes. Roberts was the most improved man on the team. Starting the season down on the second or third string, he worked up to starting right tackle and played great ball.

STRONG LINE

Creighton at the other tackle was consistently good. He charged hard, didn't "sucker" easily and didn't give ground. Long and Ziebak teamed together to form the middle of the line through which little yardage was made. Both are small but tough and hard to take out of the play. It was Long who blocked three punts against Marin.

Ingle, despite an injured leg, played a left end which at times was brilliant. His defensive work was especially good. Shehtanian played plenty of rugged defensive ball at center. His line-backing and spirit were an important factor in every game.

Grapplers Hold Novice Tourney Late This Month

With more wrestlers turning out each day, plans for the annual novice wrestling tournament to be staged this month are getting under way, announced Coach Sam Della Maggiora.

FROSH GRAPPLERS

The tournament is for all wrestlers who have not placed on the varsity squad and will be composed of teams managed by the varsity wrestlers this year. There will be four or five teams in the tourney.

At the present time more freshmen wrestlers are needed to bolster the already strong team and no previous experience is necessary, states Della Maggiora. Managers are also needed for both freshman and varsity teams.

HIGH SCHOOL STARS

Among the freshman squad are several outstanding high school stars. Al Long, captain of the local high school two years ago; (Continued on Page 4)

Chet Carsten And Bill Rhyne Creep Up On Statistics Leaders

Fullback Chet Carsten and righthalf Bill Rhyne had a field day against Santa Barbara State last week, and as a result came through with the biggest gains in game statistics.

Carsten, although dropping from 5 yards per try down to an average of 4.6 yards per carry, raised his total yards gained to 174, good for fourth place behind Fred Lindsey, 311; Allen Hardisty, 298; and Aubrey Minter, 219.

His passing yardage took a tremendous jump from a net of 8 yards to one of 108 yards.

Rhyne took over in the ball-packing averages by jumping from a 3.5 yards per carry average to one of 5.6. Lindsey continues to make a one-man race in the scoring department with a total of 55 points compared to Carsten's and Minter's 18 in second place.

SAN JOSE IN TOP SHAPE FOR SOCCER TILT WITH STANFORD AT SPARTAN FIELD; GAME AT 3

By WILBUR AGEE

The outcome of the Northern California Intercollegiate Soccer league will be decided this afternoon at 3 o'clock on the local field north of Spartan Stadium when the Spartan kickers play host to a strong Stanford University soccer squad.

Both teams have a claim on the title, with the Spartans holding the edge. The Staters have won two games and tied one while Stanford team has won one and tied one.

Actors, Scribes In Grid Classic Monday At 3 P. M.

Resuming rivalry that started in the spring quarter last year on the diamond, the Publications and Drama departments will square off Monday on the San Carlos turf at 4 o'clock in a six-man football game.

Boasting a strong team, the dramatists say they will avenge their baseball defeat by trouncing the lowly journalists. Not to be outdone, the Scribes say they will not only be baseball champs but will reign supreme on the gridiron as well.

Fred Lindsey Will Not Play In Reno Game Says Doctor

Fred Lindsey will not play in Reno Saturday. What first appeared as a common "charley horse" in his right leg turned out to be a torn muscle, and team physician Jack Vogelmann believes he will not be ready by game time Saturday afternoon.

The loss of Lindsey leaves Coach Ben Winkelmann of the Spartans only two other fullbacks—Allan Hardisty and Chet Carsten. Hardisty is at the present time the leading kicker and passer on the team and is second to Lindsey in total yards gained on the ground.

He has a kicking average of 39.7 yards per try, and his passing has picked up 157 yards.

Carsten hasn't that impressive a record, but his passes gained over 100 yards against Santa Barbara last week.

The game this week end will be the seventh meeting between the Nevada Wolf Pack and the San Jose State Spartans. The Staters have won four contests, dropped one, and tied one.

Past scores between the two teams:

Year	SJ	Nev.
1931	0	18
1932	0	0
1934	10	0
1935	19	6
1940	30	7

The main spark plug of the Nevada team is a 6 ft. 2 in. colored boy, Marion Motley. Motley is the Wolf Pack's chief runner, kicker and passer. Last year in the game played in Spartan Stadium he gave Spartan rooters many an anxious moment with his 50 and 60-yard tosses.

STATE FAVORED

The Spartans are slightly favored in today's encounter because they defeated the University of San Francisco kickers 4-0. The Dons held the Indians to a scoreless tie in their opening battle.

The team is in top shape for the Indian clash and the same lineup that started the previous games will receive the nod with the exception of Ted Andrews, who will probably start at the fullback slot in the place of Tom Winovich. Andrews has played good ball at the fullback spot in recent practices and in the Menlo game. Moving him into the backfield gives the Spartans added strength on the right side. The left side is ably taken care of by Roy Diederickson.

BACKS STRENGTHENED

Earl Paulus has been shifted to the fullback spot also and along with Dick Payne and Winovich will be ready to replace the starters if needed.

The Spartan attack will rest on the shoulders of Gemo Yakubovskiy, Captain Art Tindall and Dale Nelson on the center of the forward wall. These three have accounted for a majority of the Spartan scores.

WINGS GOOD

At the halfback spots John Peebles and Ernest Figone have shown heads up playing, making possible the scoring of the forward line. Bob Baruether and Ed Bellett from the wing spots have kept the forwards well supplied with shots at the opponents cage.

The starting lineup will be Baruether, Yakubovskiy, Tindall, Nelson and Bellett on the forward line; Bud Roccosin and John Peebles at halves; Figone at center half; Diederickson and Andrews at fullbacks; and Harold Sonntag at goal.

"Y" SECRETARY FROM ORIENT ADDRESSES COLLEGE GROUP AT "BEAN FEED" THIS EVENING

Mr. Lawrence Todnem, "Y" secretary from Peking, China, will speak on the "Effects of Japanese Occupation in China" to the men of the college "Y" at six o'clock today in the city Y. M. C. A. The speech will be preceded by a chili bean supper, Sam Zones, president said.

Mr. Todnem will present many elucidating facts about the Orient, as he has spent most of his life in Far Eastern countries and has charge of "Y" work in Northern China, Zones said.

In recent years, Mr. Todnem has received several honors from the Chinese government for missionary work done among the Chinese.

"During Mr. Todnem's work among the Orientals, he has gained rare insight into their ways and into the economic and political difficulties of their governments," said Ralph Cole, secretary of the "Y." Mr. Todnem will return to China within a month.

A basketball game will be played later in the evening with the college "Y" men playing against a local high school team which is undefeated.

All men are welcome to attend, but they should contact the "Y" so that the number coming can be determined, Zones said.

Novice Tourney This Month

James Yagi, from Santa Clara, and Bill Rowe, from Sequoia, are the leading fresh candidates for starting berths.

The varsity wrestlers are continuing their nightly workouts in preparation for their invasion of Wyoming, Utah and Colorado during the Christmas vacation. They will meet the universities and club teams on this trip. No definite schedule has been made up as yet.

SCHEDULE

Other meets tentatively scheduled for the coming year are: A home-and-home meet with Nevada and Wyoming, California university, California Aggies, University of California at Los Angeles, San Francisco State, San Francisco YMCA, Olympic club, Oakland YMCA, Stockton YMCA and Modesto Junior college.

Among the tournaments the Spartans are entering this year are the Senior PAA, Far Western, Pacific Coast Intercollegiate, County tournament in honor of the late Gene Gratton, and the Junior PAA, to be held in San Jose for all wrestlers who have not won a major title in the tournaments.

In March, Coach Della Maggiore will take a small team to the Nationals to be held this year in Michigan.

This council was organized by members of the five co-op houses last spring quarter to co-ordinate activities.

There are 15 members in the council. The presidents, house managers and members from each house at large are elected.

President of the council this quarter is Leroy Sorenson of Spartan Hall. Bob Meusel, also of Spartan Hall, was elected to the council last week.

S. J. S. Band Leaves For Reno Saturday Morning at 5

Three special Greyhound buses have been scheduled to take the college marching band to Reno, Nevada, this Saturday.

A party of 90 including head drum major Ray Vidler, assistant major Robert Belknap, drum majorettes Janie May Reed and Dorothy Taylor, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Eagan, Mr. and Mrs. Reed, and Mr. A. Otterstein will leave San Jose at 5 o'clock Saturday morning and will arrive in Reno around noon.

The game with Nevada will be at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The special buses will leave Reno at 8 o'clock Saturday evening for San Jose.

Head Drum Major Vidler is working out special band formations for the half-time activities. Plans are being made to have the band completely outfitted for the occasion in gold uniforms.

Approximately 28 members will be unable to make the trip due to jobs and sickness.

Students who will be unable to make the trip and have uniforms are asked to contact Mr. Eagan immediately, so he will be able to make arrangements to outfit other members of the band.

A Delta Epsilon meeting will be held today in the Seminar at 12:30. Please attend.—J. Daily.

The Debate meeting will be in room 53 today at 4 o'clock.

La Barbera Speaks On Industrial Design

Monday evening Louis La Barbera, Art instructor, spoke before a meeting of the American Association of University Women at the home of Mrs. Thomas Topp, Arroyo Way.

In his talk, "Contemporary Industrial Design", La Barbera made note of the fact that there is a quarrel between the aesthetic good of past and present. "The same principles of good taste apply to both," he said.

La Barbera was the first speaker to appear before the Association Art lecture series.

Pledge Appointment

Several hundred juniors and seniors met in the annual upperclass mixer last night in the Men's gym to start the year's competitive activities between the two classes.

The intermissions were devoted to two programs, one each devoted to the two upperclasses. The senior song scroll was also introduced and will now stand as a point of spirited rivalry between the classes, according to Lew DeLiel, president of the seniors.

Dancing was from 7:30 to 10:30.

CHAUNCIES TIED IN GRID GAME

The Chauncies hit a snag yesterday noon on the San Carlos turf when they were held in the first half of play by the Coinsados in the intramural football tussle.

The Coinsados' second touchdown came in the closing minutes of the game when Jack Gottschang took a pass from Johnny Uribe to the head of Cyril Taylor, Chauncies safety man, in the end zone. The two teams will complete the game tomorrow.

The Stinkers, who are right behind the Chauncies in the tournament, took a convincing 30-0 lead over the Bobcats, who have yet to come through with a victory.

Phi Kappa Pi Holds Pledge Dance

Over one hundred members pledged and their guests attended the Phi Kappa Pi pledge dance at Hillsdale farm Friday night at the football game.

The Hallowe'en dance was given to honor the seventeen pledges of the social sorority.
