Eckert Defends Beer Title At Journey Tonight

By CHRIS JENSEN

Eckert Hall will be the defender in the Novice tourney tonight and tomorrow
no, it won't be in the ring
the rooting section.

For three consecutive years now from Eckert have carried the banner for excellence in the boxing sections.

This year the Eckerites will compete against Spartan Hall, Alpha Omega and the P. E. Majors.
Cummings has not announced whether he will have a cheering section or not.

STRONG VOICES

From the Reed street boys
the effect that they will have
and a host of strong voices make makers as an attraction.
The Spartans have been making pom-poms and plan-nets. Mary George, Mary and Grace Hall have been cheering for Spartan Hall.

A fine will be levied against any man who fails to bring a girl on one of the nights.

P. E. BACKERS

The Physical Ed Majors will have many Varsity House men for backers. Their backers are making up a larger group of supporters for yelling purposes and they will undoubtedly be heard in the balcony.

It will be the theme of the Pi Omega's group. A five-office— and a live outfit of brothers will bring it to the latest Krupa numbers for the customers.

However, many an unattacked
Wilson's surprise at being elected to the post? Can you imagine the chagrin of Jean M. Wilson?

Red Cross Drive

DONATIONS REACH FOUR FIGURES

With the proceeds from last night's basketball game with Men-to junior college donated to the campus Red Cross drive, the fund was well into the four figure bracket today.

Donations will continue to be taken all this week. Red Cross boxes are in the Business office, offices of the Dean of Women and the Dean of Men as well as that of the President, the Controller,
and in the Co-op.

TOURNEY TONIGHT

Tonight are the Novice Boxing quarter-finals and semi-finals. Admission for the 15 bouts of all weights is ten cents for those students with A.S.B. cards. For other students, the price is 25 cents, and for outsiders, 40 cents. All proceeds will be turned over to the Red Cross.

GROUPS CONTRIBUTE

Organizations are asked to contribute through their representatives, according to Dave Atkinson.

Ten Bouts Announced For The Opening Of Annual Boxing Tournament In Men's Gymnasium At 8:00 P. M.

By BILL MORROW

Tonight fate will deal out equal shares of happiness and disappointment to twenty novice boxers, when they square off in the opening bouts of DeWitt Portal's annual Novice Boxing tournament.

Ten winners will be proud and encouraged; ten losers will be a bit sad and rueful.

The spectacle Coach Portal describes as resembling "a great stage show, with tragedy and comedy playing equal parts," gets under way in the Men's gymnasium at 8 P. M., with semi-final and final matches to be held Thursday night at the San Jose Civic auditorium.

Color and excitement combine for thrills at this show, at which unknowns will suddenly rise to brief glory, and favorites will be rudely pushed from their perches.

Results of the drawings yesterday to determine the personnel of the fight card for tonight's opening of the Novice Boxing tournament, have been listed for your convenience on the sports page of this issue, complete with weights and names of each boxer.

Rooting sections and individual spectators will get hysterical at times, for who can remain rational when two young huskies are doing their best to beat each other's brains out; especially when one or both of them happen to be a friend of yours.

FIVE TEAMS FIGHTING

Five teams have been entered in the tourney: Eckert Hall, Spartan Hall, P. E. Majors, Alpha Pi Omega, and an unnamed team managed by Jim Cummings. This

Junior Orchestra Will Meet; Plan Spring Program

Junior Orchestra will hold its first meeting of the quarter tomorrow afternoon in the Women's gym between 4 and 5 o'clock.

Any woman who wishes to be a member of Junior Orchestra should read the requirements posted in the dance studio in the Women's gym. Anyone interested in Junior Orchestra is invited to attend the meeting tomorrow, announced Miss Marjorie Lucas, dance instructor.

"Women not enrolled in dance classes should bring to the meeting something suitable in which to dance," Miss Lucas said.

The present plan for Junior Orchestra is to meet alone at 4 o'clock, then meet with Orchestra at 4:30.
Orchestra's regular meeting time is from 4:30 to 6:30 on Thursday.

Orchestra is beginning work on the annual spring program set for the 6th and 7th of May. Several numbers are being planned in which the two groups will be combined, Miss Lucas concluded.

LITERARY SOCIETY ELECTS OFFICERS FOR NEW QUARTER

Thomas Pagenhart, senior English major, was elected president of Pegasus, literary honor society, Monday evening, in a meeting held at the home of Mr. Wesley Goddard, faculty member.

Elizabeth Moody was elected vice-president, and Charlotte Rideout, secretary of the group.

Ruth Gardner, junior English major, was made a pledge. Other pledges were William Kidwell,
Alice Peck, Barbara Bell and Lois Johnston.

Initiation of the new officers will take place early this quarter.

Wrong Wilson!

It's confounding but not amoosing, or at least the Election committee thinks so.

After the ballots had been printed and the backers of Jean
M. Wilson, sophomore nominee for secretary - treasurer, found that they had put up Jean H.
Wilson, who had no aspirations to the office.

Both being from Palo Alto,
there had been some haziness
in middle initials.

Can you imagine Jean H.
Wilson's surprise at being elected to the post? Can you imagine the chagrin of Jean M. Wil-

The Election committee said the matter was beyond its control.

Coast Nature Study School Meets, Discusses Death Valley Excursion

Plans for the West Coast School of Nature Study annual excursion to Death Valley, to be made during the Spring vacation, were discussed before nearly 100 students at a special meeting yesterday noon by Dr. Victor Peterson, head of the Science department.

Dr. Peterson discussed the functions and mode of operation of the school. Kodachrome slides which had been taken on former trips were shown by Dr.
Robert D. Rhodes, who also explained the conditions for camping which enable students to attend the six-day meet with minimum expense.

Civilian Defense, Soldier Welfare Group Appointed

Separate committees to work on civilian defense and soldier welfare were appointed from the executive council of the Service Men's committee at the meeting of the group yesterday.

MEMBERS NAMED

Working on civilian defense will be Marilyn Skinner, Henry Leland, Margaret Schrader, Tom Griffin and Wesley Young. Members of the soldier welfare group are Dave Atkinson, Patty Scholk, Charlotte Rideout, Dorothea Bernsdorf, and Florence Booth.

Maintenance of the two separate but co-ordinating groups was for the convenience of organizations which might desire or would be able to offer their facilities in only one field. Both groups will work in the part of the Dean of Women's office set aside for the original Service Men's committee. A member of the council will be present throughout the day to answer any questions that organizations or individuals may have with regard to either phase of the group's efforts.

QUESTIONNAIRE PROPOSED

Advisability of sending out a questionnaire to determine the abilities, talents, and facilities of individuals who are interested in helping in civilian defense and soldier welfare is being considered by the council. Margaret Schrader and Florence Booth were appointed to investigate the problem.

Bee Laurence was appointed by the council as secretary and chairman of publicity. Weber Lund was appointed chairman of finance.
First of his duties will be to contact each organization concerning a donation in an effort to raise money to meet the council's administrative expenses.

Winter Quarter Enrollment Drops

Drop in enrollment of women students this quarter over last quarter is 248, while that of men is 282, according to figures released by Dean of Women Helen Dimmick and by Mrs. Elizabeth Marchisio of the Registrar's office.

Total enrollment of women students is 1665, while 1342 men are registered.

Greatest decrease for the women was in the group of students who room and eat out, Miss Dimmick says. She attributes this to the fact that most of these either worked for meals or else held jobs in other lines, and perhaps most of them obtained permanent positions.

Comparative figures of enrollment show that 13 per cent of the women and 14 per cent of the men did not return to school during winter quarter last year, while this year 14 per cent of the women and 21 per cent of the men failed to come back.

"This drop is possibly due to the national emergency," states Mrs.
Marchisio.

VACANCIES FOR N.Y.A. ANNOUNCED

Women's NYA will have approximately 30 vacancies after February 1, announces Dean of Women Helen Dimmick.

Applications are being taken now, Miss Dimmick says, although many of the vacancies will be filled by eligible students already on file.

Revelries Will Honor Typical College Woman

To glorify the typical college co-quette, one of the policies of "Good News," the 1942 Revelries show, according to Len Baskin, director.

Following out this idea, 18 of the best-looking women at San Jose State were cast for the chorus last night, along with 18 good-looking fellows," Baskin said.

ZONES AND FRELIER

Two more parts have been cast.
Zones, junior history major, will play "Windy," one of the leading parts in the show.

Frelier, junior French major from Palo Alto, will sing in a solo number, his interpretation of the Maurice Chevalier style.
Wednesday night starts the first of the night rehearsals which will continue until the show's opening night, January 27.

SCOTT COMES THROUGH

Walter Scott, chorus accompanist
keeping up his record of having a top tune in the past three years shows with his "Busy B" written for "Good News," according to Baskin.

SOCIAL FRATERNITY INITIATES PLEDGES

Eleven pledges were initiated recently by the Alpha Pi Omega, social fraternity.

The new members are: Carl Peterson, Glenn McMenomy, Bruce
Roberts, John Watson, John Wellington, Virgil Young, Bill Flett, Gene Resini, Jim Peppones, Alvin
Hass, John Hubbard.

Mr. M. D. Wright is the new faculty adviser for the group.

NATURE SCHOOL EXCURSION

The West Coast School of Nature Study, organized ten years ago by members of the Natural Science department here at San Jose State college, is planning a trip to Death Valley for this year's Spring excursion.

The school, one of the most extraordinary and revolutionary educational enterprises ever to be attempted in the United States, is unique in that it recognizes the inspirational values in education. Things peculiar to the ordinary school, such as textbooks, examinations, classrooms and laboratories, are not to be found in this unusual institution. Merely the quiet appreciation of nature in the field constitutes its entire curricula.

Students here at San Jose State are fortunate in having such an outstanding faculty in the Natural Science department, for, by instituting this "back to nature" movement, they have given students a chance to study nature as it really is which almost invariably makes the student more vitally interested in this subject.

The Death Valley trip will take place Easter Week and will satisfy two units of the 21 required for graduation. The tuition for the trip is only $12 which includes all materials used during the six days in the field.

This is an opportunity to really enjoy yourself for a week among the breath-taking scenery and magic colors that only Death Valley knows, and at the same time, earn two units.

Seven members of our Natural Science faculty comprise the staff, each one specializing in one phase of outdoor life—flowers, trees, insects, rocks, birds, mammals, and water life. Although an outdoor activity, the School does not involve a strenuous hiking program.

The groups go into the field at eight o'clock in the morning and during this time they study some particular type of wild life. The afternoons are usually spent in observing some nearby natural phenomena, while the evenings are taken up with illustrated lectures.

Since every instructor goes into the field, the groups are small and the discussion informal. All this adds to the more pleasant unconscious absorption of natural phenomena rather than the deliberate learning of the classroom.

Students from the college are given first chance at registering in the School, but soon advance publicity will be sent out and then the maximum enrollment will be completed.

So, if you want a week's relaxation, two units toward your Natural Science requirement, and a more intimate understanding of the wondrous beauty of nature, it behooves you to take this trip with the West Coast School of Nature Study.

--- AND FOUR TO GO

Faced with the appalling fact that approximately four men out of ten fail to pass the Army physical examinations, the government is belatedly planning mass programs in physical education to gird up American youth.

Dee Portal, far-sighted physical education instructor on our campus, has already plans for such a campaign in San Jose schools. His ideas include mass participation in the various sports now open to only a few students of better than average ability.

Tonight another of Dee's innovations comes to public attention when the Novice Boxing tournament swings into action. And we mean just that, for every year since its inception the Novice tourney has provided enough action and thrills to pack the Men's gym with students usually too lackadaisical to even attend the football or basketball games.

NEW LIBRARY

Few students realize the importance of the new library building to the prestige of our school. One of the most modern, well-ventilated, scientific buildings on the campus, with numerous interesting facilities available, the building is a delightful place for a student to study with comfort and to pass an idle hour with profit.

Among features of interest within the building are music rooms, where students may retire for half-hour periods to listen to recordings of great musical masterpieces.

The procedure for obtaining recordings is

This year's sock fest promises to top all previous efforts. Most of the punchers are inexperienced but all are willing to mix it up—a feature so sadly lacking in many of the professional bouts.

The tournament serves a three-fold purpose. First, to interest the college man in self defense and to show him what good condition will result from a well-balanced training program. Second, it interests contestants in boxing as a sport and often supplies the varsity squad with top notch material. Third, it donates all proceeds of the first night's battles to the Red Cross in the interests of National defense.

One for the money (Red Cross), two for the show (it promises to be a good one), three to get ready (physical fitness), and let's all go.

the same as that for books. Students simply look up in the files the recordings they wish to play and sign them out for an allowed period of time.

The stacks have been enlarged and streamlined and are accessible throughout the day to interested students. Books are spaced neatly and are simple to find. Windows and desks are advantageous for those who wish to examine books in comfort. Materials in the stacks cover every field of knowledge that is interesting or valuable to students.

FOR SERVICE CONTRIBUTION

Dear Editor:

Between blackouts, "popping to," air-raids, and "rat-race" I'll try to answer your letter, which I appreciated no end, will be swell hearing what is happening at State through Spartan Daily.

This is a fine school. All we do is sleep, eat, and fly.

Near Sabotage In State College Band Gives Eagan Scare

As the symphonic band struck up a march that vibrated to the rafters of the Morris Dailey Auditorium a suspicious air of sabotage, fifth column activity, and subversive activity was aroused in the breasts of those who recognized it and nearly caused heart failure to Thomas Eagan.

It seems that during the tryouts last Tuesday, Mr. Eagan, director, spent the class hour over in the music building listening to students, leaving the band in the hands of a student director.

While waiting for Mr. Eagan to return, he directed the band through one choral after another until the members were getting into a musical rut.

So for a little change, the leader selected a march from a pile of music laying beside him and passed it out. The band began to play with strong and sonorous tones and then the change came.

They had hardly begun the second strain when a streak of lightning flashed through the auditorium door, which, seconds later formed into Mr. Eagan. His arms waving wildly in the air before he could get close enough to speak brought the musicians to an abrupt stop. As the goggled-eyed musicians stared with awe at their director standing on the podium, waiting for his breath he blurted, "You've been playing the German National Anthem."

all play golf, tennis, swim, and sail here. (This is what I told us, so I am just repeating.) They call this the Ryan Club. All kidding aside, we are all working hard here.

We are surrounded by Texas and Oklahomans (I think they know every Texas song or story man in the history of Texas, and incidentally, allowed the rest of the states to join "her" union in 1847. You can easily see by that the Texans are the upper classmen.)

Sorry that I have to end this brief chat, but I have to study some comprehensives coming this morning. Don't let anyone tell you we don't study!

ENTERTAINMENT

Henry Busse and his orchestra will play at the San Jose Auditorium Monday night from 10 to 1 o'clock.

He will feature Lee Edwards, vocalist; "Fuzzy" Combs, singer; Otto Glaeser, comedian; and "Chubby" Jackson, pianist.

Before forming his own orchestra, Busse played with Paul Whiteman. His trumpet solo in the recording of "When Day Is Done" gained him fame as a musician.

Twenty-Two Varsity Track Men Start Training Monday Says Coach Winter

Twenty-two varsity track men will appear Monday in their first day of training. Coach Winter gave his men a light workout, principally to take the kinks out of their muscles, and reports that lots of stiff limbs and aches resulted. The extensive training program under way is, to say the least, unique. Any students carrying a load of books to their classes are throwing them as they walk between buildings will be Frank Minini and Lawton Hay. Humboldt State College Will Start Strongest Team In History Against Spartans Friday And Saturday Nights

Basketball Coach Walt McPherson doesn't know it (at least until he reads this) but when he takes his team up to Arcata to meet Humboldt State college on Friday and Saturday he'll be facing the strongest team in the Lumberjack's history according to information released by the lumber country school.

Here's what their publicity bureau has to say.

"This year is the third year together for three of Humboldt's first stringers, and the second for three other team members, so prospects at Humboldt may be considered the brightest in the school's history.

In fact, Griffith himself (the coach) is satisfied that this year is the year for the supreme effort on the part of the Lumberjacks.

San Jose defeated Humboldt 60 to 42 and 55 to 51 in Spartan pavilion last year.

The big star for the Arcata school last year was Bill Lee, a 5 foot 7 inch forward who scored 383 points for an average of 15 points per game. Lee is back again this year as well as three other regulars from last year's squad. These are Lem Longholm, the running mate of Lee at forward; red-haired, eye-glass wearing Rod Belcher at guard, and Howard Goodwin, 6 foot 3 inch center.

Managers Wanted: Any men wishing to become sophomore boxing managers, please report to Coach Dee Portal or John Dahl any afternoon between 3 and 5 in the Men's gym.

Freshmen Mermen Face Bulldogs Here Tomorrow

Coach Charley Walker's freshman swimming team will take to the water Thursday afternoon in the local pool at 4:15 to battle its cross-campus enemy, the San Jose high Bulldogs.

UNDEFEATED SEASON
Last year the freshmen mermen were undefeated in seven meets and won a decisive victory over the Bulldog swimmers, coached by Sam Della Maggiore.

However, prospects for this year's team are slightly lower than previously expected, states Coach Walker. Time trials Friday were not too good, but with a few more nights of practice they may come around, he went on.

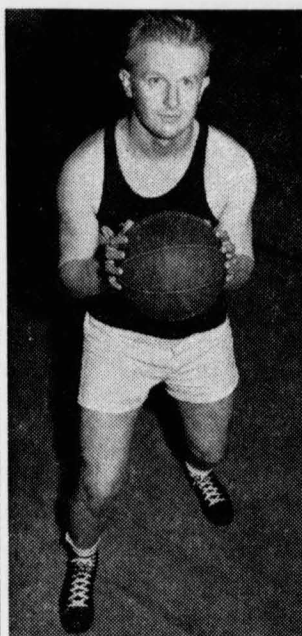

DIVING STRONG
The Bulldogs should have little trouble in the diving event with Pat McConnell practically assured of a first. He won last year going away. As to the remainder of the team, little is known about their strength.

The probable line-up in each event will find Jim Davis, former Bulldog, and James Jackson, formerly of Sandon high school, in the 50-yard sprint; Davis and Karl Hazeltine, also from the local high, in the 100-yard sprint; Ed Kiefer, from Roosevelt high in Chicago, and Hazeltine in the 220; John Coates, of Palo Alto, and Prescott Kendall, from Alameda high, in the backstroke; Jim Sheridan, of Palo Alto, and Robert Hepler, member of the water polo team from Venice high, in the breast stroke; and Cecil Dumballian, from Sequoia high, and Fred Hadley in the diving. In the relays, Walker will use Hugh Morris to fill in.

Varsity Here
The varsity will face the San Francisco YMCA in the local pool at the end of this month. At the present time the date has not definitely been set, states Walker.

Prospects for this year's team are not as strong as last year despite the fact that several outstanding members of last year's freshman team are not on the varsity.

Leads Scoring

BOYSEN, HELBUSH PACE SAN JOSE STATE HOOPSTERS

Dutch Boysen, chunky, blond forward, continues to lead the Spartan scoring parade after eight games with a total of 69 points. Boysen has caged 30 field goals in 109 attempts and his hitting is a little better than half from the foul-line marking, with nine points in 15 tosses.

As a result of his playing in the Wardrobe and Stanford clashes, Bill Helbush has moved within five points of Boysen with 64. Helbush has made 25 field goals in 76 shots at the basket, and has scored 14 points in 23 attempts from the foul line.

GUARDS HIGH
Roy Diedericksen, who led the scoring attack against Golden State with 10 points, is again resting in the third spot with 44. Diedericksen has caged 19 field goals in 53 attempts and has made six out of nine charity tosses.

OPPONENTS OUTSCORE
With eight games gone by, the Spartans find themselves just six points under their opponents with 340 to 346. The Spartans, however, have a better average on shots from the floor, sinking 143 out of 542, while holding the opponents to 142 out of 576 shots. From the foul line the Spartans are slightly weaker, getting only 54 points out of a possible 103, while the opponents have taken advantage of the charity tosses to garner 62 points out of a possible 106.

Spartan Frosh Cagers Drop Game 45-38 To Menlo

The Spartan yearling basketball team played listless ball in dropping a 45 to 38 decision to the Menlo junior college Oaks last night before one of the season's smallest crowds, in Spartan Pavilion.

Menlo went into the lead three minutes after the start of the game and was never headed. At half time they were 12 points to the good, 24 to 12, which was cut down to six as Greg Sargent and Paul Corbusiero combined to sink three quick goals. Up until then it had been Porter McConnell who personally kept the frosh in the game, scoring seven of the 12 digits. However, he couldn't continue as he left the game on personal fouls early in the second period.

SLOPPY PASSING
The junior college looked better than last week when they met the frosh; their passing was smooth and they had control of both backboard the entire evening. The freshmen, on the other hand, played the poorest ball they have shown this season. Their usually fine passing was sloppy; they failed to follow their shots, and their ball-handling was poor.

Sargent and Corbusiero, the only men who showed a semblance of a shooting eye, tied for high-scoring honors for the yearlings with nine points apiece, followed by McConnell with seven.

The frosh next meet Hollister junior college Friday evening in the Spartan Pavilion.

Novice Boxers Go Into Action Tonight

is a considerable decline from last year's 12 teams, for the draft and war have cut deeply into the college's male enrollment.

But the popularity of the tournament with the students, and the spirit and earnestness of the men in it, have not diminished one whit.

It is still a "must see" for sports fans on the campus, who last year packed the gym to the rafters. Coach Portal hopes to get a sizable representation of downtown citizens tomorrow night at the finals in the auditorium. He will move the entire set-up — boxers, rooting sections and all—to the civic location.

NO REAL FAVORITES
It would be foolish to name any "favorites to win" at the bouts tonight, for not even the managers nor the fighters themselves know their comparative abilities, nor will they know them until the final bell.
