

FROSH-SOPH MIXER TO FEATURE ST. PATRICK'S DAY THEME AT HOP IN MEN'S GYM THURSDAY

Decoration for the Freshman-Sophomore mixer held Thursday evening, 7:30 to 10:30 in the men's gym, will be in keeping with the nearest holiday, St. Patrick's Day, according to the Sophomore committee chairman Doug Aitken.

The gym will be decorated in green and white with a large shamrock at either end, an expression of good luck to both classes. A large number of balloons will be suspended from the ceiling and dropped sometime during the evening.

Crazy hats are the dance theme. Everyone attending is expected to make some kind of outlandish headwear and wear it during the mixer. A suggestion offered by the mixer committee is a hat made from an old record and a bandana.

Admission will be 28 cents (tax included) and tickets may be purchased at the controller's office or from members of the Sophomore and Freshman Councils.

The dance will follow a whole day of activity and competition between the two lower classes.

BIG BRAWL

Things get off with a bang at 12:15 o'clock Thursday noon with a tug-of-war and a free-for-all brawl on the San Carlos turf. The brawl will be duel between the male members of the two classes to see who can remove the most pants. Ripped ones don't count.

After the brawl, differences are laid aside until 6 o'clock when the rivalry begins all over with athletic competition. This will include swimming and water polo and a basketball game.

Points are awarded for all these activities and will go to determining the winner of the gold cup symbolizing class superiority which will be given after next quarter's mixer.

Educator To Talk Tomorrow At 4

Earl Gridley, secretary of the Bay Area California Teachers' association and secretary of the placement bureau of the Northern California division, will speak at San Jose State college tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock in room S112, the science lecture room.

All junior and senior education majors, special secondary students, students enrolled in teacher training and all other interested San Jose State college students are urged to attend the lecture, Marjorie Easton, acting president of the CSTA, said.

Mr. Gridley will speak on general education problems of California and other phases of education. Dr. Staffebach will dismiss his classes at 4 o'clock, Wednesday, so that they may attend the lecture.

Mr. Gridley is well known to former San Jose State students as he has placed hundreds of them in the teaching profession.

FRESHMEN HOLD FIRST ALL-COLLEGE ICE SKATING PARTY MONDAY NIGHT

San Jose State's first all-college ice skating party will be held Monday evening, March 9, from 8 to 11 p.m. at the San Jose Ice Bowl on East Santa Clara street.

Sponsored by the freshman class, the party will feature special contests during the evening in a number of events. Prizes are offered to the best in the trio skating, partner skating, figure skating and waltzing contests. The prizes will be two free tickets to the ice bowl.

SKATING TAUGHT

Chairman of the affair, Bill Kelley, announced that the regular ice bowl instructors will be on

FINAL STUDENT RECITAL PRESENTED THIS MORNING, 11

The last student recital of the quarter under the direction of Mrs. Margaret Weyand, piano instructor, and featuring group ensembles, an intermediate orchestra and tuba solo will be presented in the Morris Dailey auditorium at 11 o'clock this morning.

The student groups are composed of music majors who are learning to play one of the many instruments they must master before obtaining their music credentials.

Thomas Eagan, director of the symphonic band, will direct his intermediate woodwind ensemble in two numbers: "Sinfonietta" by Novacek, and "Petite Symphony" by Gounod. Walton Brainerd will be soloist on the flute. This group is composed entirely of woodwind instruments such as clarinets, oboes, bassoons and flutes.

Richard Brewer, junior music major and tubist in the San Jose State college symphony, will make his recital appearance playing "Air and Bourrie" by Bach. Accompanying him will be Martha Bartholomew.

The last part of the recital will be performed by the intermediate orchestra which is under the direction of Adolph Otterstein but which during the recital will be conducted by student music majors.

Raymond Vidler, senior music major, will conduct the orchestra through the first number, "Romantic Overture" by Johnson. Louise Brain, also a senior music major, will conclude the program conducting the group in "A Festive Procession" by Demarest.

Elliott Speaks Tomorrow; Morris Dailey Auditorium

Roland Elliott, executive secretary of the National Student YMCA recently returned from Europe where he had been studying conditions among interned students, will address students in the Morris Dailey auditorium tomorrow at 4 p.m.

Symphony In Brass Goes Under Baton Of Frank Elsass Tonight In Morris Dailey Auditorium; Talent Displayed

The San Jose State college "Symphony in Brass," under the leadership of Frank Elsass and featuring three soloists, will present its annual brass choir concert tonight at 8:15 o'clock in the Morris Dailey Auditorium.

Leaving at 4:30 o'clock tomorrow morning after the concert, Mr. Elsass will go to the Philadelphia Navy yards where he will enlist in the U. S. Navy Band. Mr. Elsass organized tonight's program which will display the talent of members of the orchestra and State music majors.

This brass choir is composed of six cornets, five trombones, four horns, one baritone, one bass, and one harp. The unit plays special arrangements obtained from operas, symphonies, marches, and hymns.

Appearing for the last time until the termination of the war as a cornet soloist, Mr. Elsass will play a special arrangement by Alexander Reisman, cello instructor, of the "The Lord's Prayer" by Malotte. Miss Lydia Boothby, harp instructor, will play with the group for that number.

Ted Misenhimer, senior music major and first chair horn player in the choir, will appear as the vocalist singing a tenor solo, "None But the Lonely Heart" by Tschai-kowsky. Misenhimer also arranged his own number.

A trombone solo will be performed as the third of the concert. Charles Robbins, first chair trombonist in the San Jose State College Symphony and soloist with the group, arranged his own solo "Cujus Animam" from Stabat Mater by Rossini.

BULLETIN

Playing on the Aztec court last night, the San Jose basketball squad lost a close one by a 35 to 33 score.

Leading 14 to 12 at half time, the Spartans faded in the last few seconds under a blistering San Diego spurt.

High point man for the locals was lanky Bill Heibush with 8 points, followed by Dutch Boysen, who garnered 6.

Foul shots missed by the Spartans proved the difference between victory and defeat. The four shots missed on foul tries would have put the game on ice if made.

Open House, Talks, Movie Scheduled For Co-op Week

Co-op week will officially open tonight when the San Jose State Co-op association will sponsor open-house for faculty, townspeople and students of San Jose. Spartan Hall, Grace Hall, Mary Post and Mary George, all members of the council, will open their residences for public inspection. The hours are from 7 to 9:30.

Thursday evening Miss Jean Douglash, president of the council, has secured several speakers and a movie on co-operative living. Dr. Bertha Mason will speak on "The Standard of Living in the Co-ops;" Mr. E. S. Thompson, college controller, will speak on the financial set-up in the co-ops. Miss Grace Plum will explain the organizations of student co-operatives and give a short history of them. Mr. Hal Norton, who has been identified with the student co-ops at the University of California for some time, and at present is secretary of the six co-ops at Berkeley, will discuss San Jose's place among the student co-ops.

On Thursday, March 5, a dinner will be served at the Student Center, 120 E. San Antonio street. The charge will be 25 cents.

The drive will close March 6 with an "off the record" dance which will also be held at the Student Center. The price will be 10 cents.

WA Fashion Show Models Selected Annual Event

Models for the fifth annual Fashion Show to be held March 11 in the Morris Dailey auditorium were chosen last night.

Models selected are: Patricia Eagan, representing Delta Sigma; Martha Ramke, Beta Chi; Jeanne Wright, Ero Chi; Maurine Wells and Judy Kappa Kappa Sigma; Siglin and Elsa Anderson, Sigma Spears; Martha Perkins, Christine Meany, Sappho; Webster and Gladys Larson, Joyce Uzzell and Betty Phi Kappa Pi; Ida Raye, Delta Epsilon; Audrey Zeta Chi; Helen Sevely, Alma Car-Pi Delta Sigma; Jane Campus representative; Ruth Patterson, Ero So-Gamma Chi.

Drama, "Winterset" Given March 11-14

"Winterset," Maxwell Anderson now in rehearsal under direction of Ted Hatlen of the department, will be presented in the Little Theater March 11 to 14.

Anderson, author of the first play of the San Jose Playhouse, was at one time a school teacher in California and later went into newspaper work in San Francisco.

He began his writing career as author of verse and miscellaneous articles, but it was as a playwright he gained greatest fame. Among his outstanding plays were "Saturday's Children," "Elizabeth the Queen" and "Both Houses."

"Winterset" has become well known to American audiences through the movie version produced a few years ago. Clarence Brown and Audrey Tracey will appear in the roles then popularized by Margo and Burgess Meredith.

Junior Prom Bids On Sale To Class Controller's Office For $1.65

Junior Prom bids go on sale for the second day exclusively for the students for $1.65 at the Controller's office, but will be offered to the general student body starting Friday.

"Star Dust" bids will be limited and Marjorie Behrman, prom bid chairman, announced that "from previous junior proms we have been told that many a disappointed junior is left standing cold because he failed to take the opportunity of the first week. As soon as the student body is included in the sales, it's first come first served.

This formal dance, held in the San Jose Civic auditorium Friday, March 13, will feature Eddie Fitzpatrick and his orchestra and entertainers, and in a recent interview he consented to follow any plan of entertainment that the prom committee wished to present. Ken Stephens, publicity chairman, said that student singers may appear with the orchestra for the night.

"LOW-DOWN" ON EUROPE

Roland Elliot, executive secretary of the National student YMCA, is scheduled to give "A Skeptic's View of Europe" in a talk open to all students in the Morris Dailey Auditorium tomorrow at 4 o'clock.

Mr. Elliott returned from Europe January 24 after visiting every country on the continent. The intimate knowledge of Europe under Nazi domination that he was able to obtain from the people in the occupied countries themselves, qualifies him to speak with authority on conditions there.

While gathering his material Mr. Elliot lived for weeks among the vanquished peoples where money was absolutely valueless and he was forced to suffer cold and hunger along with them.

"Food is the capital question," he says. "A ten cent American hamburger has as much bread as the French get in a day, more meat than they get in a week and more butter than they get in a year. As the war continues the toll in health will mount and its effects will be felt for three generations or more."

Sponsored by the World Student Service Fund, Mr. Elliott will explain the terrible effects of war so far, what we can expect before the conflict is ended, and what we can do to remedy the situation.

Students need not have altruistic motives for attending the talk as Mr. Elliot will touch many questions that are much in the public mind . . . questions that can only be had first-hand, due to censorship. Mr. Elliott's views are recent and first-hand, and his talk should prove interesting to us all.

On Land, On Sea, In The Air

Dear Editor:

I have been receiving the Daily for several weeks, and as many Spartans have already written, pausing in the day's occupation to read what is going on at Washington Square is truly a "pause that refreshes."

Though I am an alumnus of some five years or more, it is interesting to know how State is fitting herself into the defense program, what Dr. MacQuarrie is discussing these days in "Just Among Ourselves," and news of professors and students I have known.

Drama without Hugh Gillis and Jim Clancy is going to make college seem a little different. Was disappointed to read that a professional script is being used for the 1942 Spartan Revelries.

Am working as a clerk in the headquarters of the 11th Regiment here at Camp Robinson (Arkansas). From one who is on land. Good luck to you in your campaign!

Sincerely,
Pfc. Edwin Wetterstrom, '36.

Dear Editor:

I just want to write a short letter and thank you for sending the Spartan Daily to me. It is a source of much enjoyment, I assure you.

At present I am a pilot here at Daniel Field, Augusta, Georgia, awaiting orders to proceed to a point of embarkation.

My main comment on the "On Land, On Sea, in the Air" column is that it is a swell way to keep up with your old college friends. If only their addresses could be printed with their names!

Ever since October of 1940, a group of us had been trying to locate Charlie Stone, who left our class at flying school to become a navigator. Well, try as we may, we had no luck until one day about six weeks ago I read the service column in the Spartan Daily and found a letter of his printed there. We now know he is, or was, in Bangor, Maine.

Thanks a lot and keep it up, will you—we appreciate it.

Sincerely,
C. E. Blanchard, Jr.
Second Lieut.

Dear Betty:

Your letter telling of the coming of the Spartan Daily arrived here in January some time, and the papers are now coming through. They may take a little time to get here, but they are certainly welcome. All mail service between here and the mainland has been slowed up, but that is just one of the things we take for granted now. It seemed rather funny to be reading of all the familiar activities, places and names so far off here, and I enjoy it a lot. So do several other fellows who are over here from San Jose. We all send our thanks to you and the students who made this possible. Thanks.

At present I am working in the laboratory here at Tripler General hospital. After the grades that Dr. Richardson gave me in chemistry, he would be surprised to hear that, but here I am nevertheless. It is interesting work, and for an idea of what is done here, visit our local hospital, double the size and consider that we are in the war casualty area, and you have a vague idea. It seems to be a military secret what we are doing here, so no details pass the censor. Don't ask me why, see the censor.

While speaking of the hospital, I would like to put in a plug for the Red Cross. They have certainly done a fine job over here, especially right after the attack and during the Christmas holidays. Their work is not being done by any other organization, and is a very important piece of work. Anything you have done in your drives is greatly appreciated and badly needed.

I see by the papers that you have blackouts every once in a while on the coast. We have only had one over here so far, but it has lasted quite a while. The football team has probably told you all about things as they were at first and they are the same now only more so, so I think I will close and let you guess the rest (the censor wouldn't let it through anyway).

Sincerely yours,
Bill Bronson,
Honolulu, T. H.

Between You And Me

BETTY FINLEY

One of the members of the English department practically got down on his knees the other day and begged his class in English fiction, an upper division course, to try to write like other college students. He said, quote: "The written examinations that come in, far surpass junior high school work in inferiority. The penmanship is terrible, the spelling, if possible, is worse, and the grammar——." With this, he threw up his hands in horror and fell over in a dead faint. (Well, practically!)

Maybe it's a little late in the day to add our congratulations to the cast and those responsible for the Revelries, but we thought they were swell and certainly a definite improvement over productions of other years.

Swim extravaganza for this spring is set for "Americana." It really ought to be good if it's going to surpass those given in other years, which Miss Gail Tucker expects it to. The one last year we thought was pretty well put over, but maybe we're prejudiced. Regardless, the aquacade is one of the highlights of the year's activities and everyone shouldn't miss the chance to see it.

Models for the AWA fashion show, scheduled for a week tomorrow, March 11, were chosen last night. Sounds as though everything is pretty well on the way. Last year it was a grand show. I think everyone enjoyed it. Those working in it and the audience. At least great appreciation was shown while bathing suits were being modeled. (That was the only time though, honestly.)

Spring quarter isn't far off. Are we looking forward to it? School goes on as usual, attended by the sunshine. Beach life goes on as usual, attended by the students. Seniors usually go off. Oh, spring quarter.

Thrust And Parry

Thrust and Parry:

Congratulations.

We wish to take this opportunity to congratulate the Spartan Daily for adopting the seniors as their proteges. It was our understanding that all newspapers stressed the policy of impartiality. Two weeks ago we, the juniors, sent a letter to the Spartan Daily. Later we were told by the big-wigs on the staff that our contribution was lost. We wrote another letter, again addressed to the seniors. This time an answer appeared on the editorial page before our epistle was published. Obvious conclusion: Spartan Daily has adopted a policy of favoritism, or the seniors deliberately and maliciously robbed the contributors' box.

Congratulations to the guilty party for setting a good example of back-knifing and deceit for the rest of the student body. We might, on the other hand, find room for forgiveness, because we remember other bad examples: Last year's Junior Prom, with its "pick-up" band; smallest number of voters during elections, and their feeble and die-hard attempts to stimulate a small amount of enthusiasm in the class of '42.

In answer to your statement that we sent two representatives to the Junior-Senior Mixer committee where you sent eight. We are absolutely convinced that our two representatives are an equal for your eight. They are backed by a class that has faith in their abilities, and a class that is more than a match for the seniors' weak pretenses at a supposed superiority.

—Representatives of the Junior Council.

Hugh Manley, Vice-Pres.
Denny Morrissey.
Tom Taylor.
Izzy Gold.
Lorraine Titcomb.
Marjorie Behrman.

Officers of the Senior Council: Your critical remarks on Monday's Daily under Thrust and Parry are a little untimely. I do not feel an alibi is necessary, but I do believe you should be enlightened.

Some time ago Mrs. Portal and I planned to add to our family by having seven pounds two ounces of femininity—known to her more intimate friends as Nancy Ann. When you naive seniors have had more experience in world affairs, you will come to know that a man's first obligation is to his wife when a blessed event occurs.

Barring acts of God, I guarantee you seniors that I will be present when you will try to sneeze SUCCESSFULLY to sneak. Furthermore, I assure you that I will be accompanied by a junior who will bring the fury of which has been known before.

When this day arrives, we seniors will prove that he who laughs last gathers no moss. As ever, the Thrust and Parry Producers.

—DeWitt Portal, Jr. Advisor
P.S.—I was there last night. Where was Bill Sweeney?

Former Students Gain Ensign Rank

Two former San Jose State college students received their commissions as ensigns in the United States Naval Reserve last month. It was announced by Navy officials.

Hadley Wallace, member of Alpha Eta Rho, international aviation honor fraternity, who graduated in 1941, was given his commission February 12. While in the Corps Christi, where he completed his training, he specialized in flying the Navy's fast carrier fighter planes.

Lynn Ashcraft was commissioned February 25. While in the Corps Christi he was appointed company sub-commander in the Aviation Cadet regiment with the rank of lieutenant. He specialized in the flying of the Navy's patrol bombers.

Another Spartan, Thomas Selby, former varsity track man, completed his primary training at the Oakland elimination base and will be sent to the Naval Reserve Aviation base at Dallas, Texas.

Spartan Swimmers Battle Winged "O" Mermen Thursday Night In Local Pool; Coach Walker's Boys Favored To Win

With the San Francisco Jewish Community center failing to have a team this year, Coach Charley Walker has scheduled a meet with the number two team of the San Francisco Olympic Club Thursday night in the local pool.

The meet, the sixth for the Spartan this year, would bring another victory for the San Jose mermen. The number two team is composed of younger talent and is far from equalling the strength of the number one team which has so far led the teams in the Bay Area.

Hams, Scribes Battle Today On Hardwood

The basketball classic that Washington Square sports fans have been waiting for will finally come off this afternoon in the Men's gym. Need we tell you it will be the Journalists versus the Dramatists?

Coach Sebastian Squatrito of the Journalist faction held final practice last night in an effort to pick a starting five out of the wealth of casaba talent in the Daily office. Squatrito smilingly shook his head in wonder as swisher after swisher whipped through the baskets from the gifted hands of the pencil-pushers, and proclaimed he would have to wait until today to name his opening lineup.

On the other side, it was understood that the coach for the Dramatists was wandering about with a basketball under his arm in the Little Theater vicinity yesterday. When questioned, he explained that he was trying to find five "men" in the Drama department who knew what it was. If they did, they would start.

Game time is 4 p.m.

Frosh Swimmers Battle Monterey There Friday

Rested from their overwhelming defeat by the Stanford freshmen two weeks ago, the San Jose State frosh mermen travel to Monterey this Friday to tangle with the untied Monterey high school swimmers.

Led by Jim Davis and Jim Jackson in the sprints, and Cecil Domballian in the diving, the Spartan yearlings are heavy favorites to win the meet with the Theodore who as yet have not competed in any meets.

Coach Charley Walker has placed the Stanford meet in the experience file, as the Spartans didn't have a chance to cope with the strong Papooses who, besides beating the local frosh, also recently walloped the Stanford varsity and the San Francisco YMCA.

Others who may hold the yearlings in their quest for victory year's. However, they should come through with flying colors as in the past.

Track

Sports fans will get their first look at the Spartans' track team this year when the thinly-clad lads battle for inter-class honors Thursday and Friday afternoons on the local cinder path.

SEEK THIRD WIN

Coach Walker will send his top men against the Winged "O" team Thursday night taking no chances on losing battle number four. A win will give the Spartans an even score with three wins and three losses in the six meets including the Thursday night battle.

To date the Spartans have shown their only weakness to be in the diving. However, Coach Walker was faced with a problem this year with no divers returning from last year's team. He had to rely on freshman and they have not been too outstanding their first year. Next year though should be a different story with three yearling divers working out this year.

STRONG MEDLEY TEAM

The remainder of the events are comparatively as strong as last with the only slight difference coming in the sprints. The distance, breaststroke and backstroke are equal to last year's as seen by the strength of the medley relay team. They pushed Oregon to a new pool record two weeks ago in the local pool.

Spartan Mitmen Face Cal Aggie Punchers Friday

Coach DeWitt Portal's unchallenged boxing team will without doubt hold another meet this Friday night when they tangle with the Cal Aggie's leather swingers in the Civic auditorium.

Faced with the difficulty of finding opponents, the Spartan mitmen have been idle the last two weeks. At the present time no other meets are scheduled with the exception of the 2C2A tourney at Fresno and the Pacific Coast tourney at Sacramento.

Coach Portal has not as yet received the Cal Aggie's entries, and definite starters have not been named. However, it is hoped that the invaders will bring along a complete team.

To date the Spartans have been victorious in four meets, taking the University of San Francisco into camp twice and Moffett Field and San Francisco State once.

Several other meets are being planned but as yet no definite plans have been made. It is hoped the Spartans will meet a team from the San Francisco Presidio.

are Bob O'Brien in the diving events and Karl Hazeltine in the backstroke. Fred Hadley and Ed Kiefer are other almost certain point winners for the frosh.

One advantage the Monterey team will have is that they will be in their own pool.

Thirty Clubs In Final Preparation For Inter-Class Track Meet This Week; Team Rivalry At Very High Pitch

By NIELS NIELSEN

Rivalry between team sponsors for the Inter-Class meet Thursday and Friday is beginning to reach the boiling point.

There is never any love lost between Eckert and Spartan Halls especially as they are located across the street from each other and have merely to look out a window to see what the other house is doing.

The news has come, over the college grapevine, that both these sponsors want their team to win and that anything happening to either squad will not be purely coincidental.

RIVAL FRATERNITIES

Competition between the two sponsors is also a natural. Delta Theta Omega and Alpha Pi Omega, on-campus social fraternities, are backing teams and it is rumored that there is quite a bit of friction here also. Both fraternities are pledging and there is little doubt that the brothers will think up some clever little tricks for the neophytes to carry out.

Entries are not yet closed for the meet, Coach Bud Winter announced yesterday, and anyone wishing to compete should sign up with him in the gym immediately.

There is room for sprinters, middle distance and distance runners, hurdlers, jumpers, vaulters, and weight men. Winter stressed the point that men belonging to organizations which are sponsoring teams should feel it their duty to compete.

SCORING CHANGE

Although the varsity track men are taking part, men without special ability will not be handicapped as a scoring system which puts the stress on the last few places will be used.

Scoring will be much the same as used in the cross country meets. The first place men get one point, the second place man two and so on down through the entire field. The places gained by each team in each event will be added up and the team with the lowest score will be awarded five points for first place in the event. The second lowest team gains three points, the next two and the fourth gains one.

"This type of scoring puts the premium on the last few places and tends to even the event," stated Winter. This combined with the fact that the teams were formed with an eye to keeping the meet close, the outcome possibly depending upon the relay, should provide spectators with plenty of close contests.

First competition after the Inter-Class will be the indoor meet in the San Francisco Civic Auditorium, March 13. Here the tracksters will meet their first big time competition when they tangle with teams from Olympic Club, Stanford University, California, and U.S.C.

State Net Team Strengthened By Morton's Return

Vic Morton, lost to the Spartan net team for while this quarter, returned to the fold this week. Morton, who held down the No. 2 singles spot on the varsity team last year and teamed with Ronald Edwards at the top doubles, is being counted on heavily this year.

Besides Edwards and Morton, Coach T. Erwin Blesh has several other outstanding players. Among these are Dink Clark, local high school star; Greg Sargent, promising frosh player, and Don McKenzie, another freshman.

HORSEHIDERS PREP For S. F. STATE ON SATURDAY

With their next game scheduled for Saturday against San Francisco State in Spartan Field, Sparta's baseball team will practice this week under the coaching of Tiny Hartranft.

The P. E. head is taking over the coaching of the horsehiders until the return of the regular coach, Walt McPherson, who is in San Diego with the basketball team. He'll be back in time for Saturday's game.

In the 8-to-0 comedy of errors turned in by the Spartans against Stanford last week, the San Joseans were only able to garner four hits, two by freshman first baseman George Wehner.

Len Lazarus, who was to start for the Spartans in the catcher's slot, suffered a broken finger the day before the Indian contest. Bob Jester, a San Luis Obispo transfer, took over his duties.

State Grapplers Enter Tourney This Weekend

First tough competition of the year will be faced by the Spartan wrestling team this week-end when they enter the 13th annual Far - Western tournament at the Oakland YMCA.

Last year the Spartans captured the third place team honors, garnering 23 points. Ivan Olsen and Dave Hines took firsts in their respective weights to place San Jose in the first three.

RANK HIGH

Ingelwood YMCA took the team championship followed closely by the San Francisco Olympic club. However, the Spartans placed ahead of the San Francisco YMCA, California and UCLA.

This year Olsen will be the defending champion at 136 pounds, and Captain Hines, who took the 155 pound title last year, will be after the 165 pound title this week-end. Both will be favored to repeat this year.

TOUGH COMPETITION

Others on whom Coach Sam Della Maggiore are relying are Gray McConnell, heavyweight; Hans Wiedenhofer, at 175; John Castleman at 155; Leroy Charlesworth at 145; Bill Fawcett at 128; and Bobby Sakamoto at 121.

Main competition for the Spartans will come from the San Francisco YMCA and University of California at Los Angeles if they enter the tourney. Other entrants will include the Olympic club, Berkeley YMCA and California.

All freshmen basketball players, please meet in my office at 12:15 today.—Frank Carroll.

New Junior Orchestras members, meet from 5 to 6 o'clock with Orchestras today in the dance studio.

From the Sidelines

Wrestling

SPORT that few people know much about at San Jose State is wrestling. However, it is one thing that is well known about by most students, it is one thing that the Spartans highest in on the Coast Intercollegiate title last year the Spartans won through the season undefeated in dual meets and won the Coast Intercollegiate title in Los Angeles.

FOUR CHAMPIONS

The Spartans had four individual champions and four runners-up in it and the greatest appreciation while bathing in the pool. (That was though, honestly.)

The Spartans, and second place were clinched by Knute and Con Lacy.

LOOKED FORWARD

Wrestling was started at San Jose and was strengthened through years under the efforts of Coach Grattan, who was killed in an automobile accident in 1940.

Interest in developing the cold but had an eye for the future and started a wrestling team that took in the youth in high school.

Last year a tournament was held for the wrestlers from junior school age up to senior age to moss. As ever, the interest was in the less publicized Portal, Jr. After his death the tournament was carried on by his colleagues and appropriately named the Grattan Memorial tournament.

Last year the Memorial tournament found many outstanding candidates in the junior and senior school and senior men's divisions for medals.

NEW HIGH

This year the tournament set a new high with five juniors, two high schools and three teams in the senior division entering the tournament.

The main outcome of this program has been shown by the Spartans turned out by San Jose college. From junior high school the boy goes into high school and there he is further advanced in wrestling. From there only a short step into college wrestling.

CARRIES ON

Another man is carrying the program started many years ago by the late Gene Grattan. With his effort the program strengthened this year, and the tournament was the largest staged. Coach Sam Della Maggiore has taken over and is doing a great job in San Jose and the Naval Reserve.

He not only coaches the school team but also coaches the high school.

Five Students Represent S. J. State At Extempore Discussion Contest On Inter-American Affairs Friday

Five members of the varsity, junior varsity, and Pan-American League will represent State at the Pan-American Extempore Discussion contest on Inter-American affairs at San Francisco State college all day Friday, March 6.

Spartan representatives chosen at a recent contest include Richard Flower, sophomore general elementary major; Arthur Grey, junior economics major; Liberata Ruscigno, sophomore pre-legal major; Frank Griswold, sophomore pre-legal major; and Jane Ellen Curry, sophomore history major.

Topic for the contest, which offers as a prize to the National winners a free tour of South American republics, is "How Can We Best Implement the Good Neighbor Policy?" Delegates from Bay Area colleges participating in the district contest will use a three-way form: formal speech, round-table discussion, and question and answer.

Judges at the local contest were Dr. William Poytress, head of the Social Science department; Mrs. Mildred Winters, associate professor of History; Claude Settles, associate professor of Social Science; and Ward Rasmus, speech instructor.

ROOSEVELT APPROVES

The contest is under the sponsorship of the office of Inter-American affairs headed by Nelson Rockefeller. President Roosevelt has also expressed his approval of the contest, the object of which is to promote friendly Latin-American relations.

Both Mrs. Winters and Miss Lucie Lawson, debate coach, will accompany the representatives to San Francisco. Mrs. Winters is assisting the delegates on bibliography and Miss Lawson on delivery.

The affair will officially open at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon with registration in the Fredrick Burk auditorium at San Francisco State. The affair will proceed all through the day until the final selection at 10 o'clock in the evening in the half-million dollar CBS studio in the Palace Hotel.

Wilson, Ruth Wood, Paul Woodruff, Gemo Yakubovsky, Percy Yim, Chester Young.

All seniors with 135 units or more should appear for a special meeting tomorrow at 11 o'clock in the Little Theater. Seniors will be excused from classes at that hour; attendance at the meeting is extremely important.

— James C. DeVoss,
Dean of Upper Division.

All students desiring records of the Revelries songs which were recorded on dress rehearsal, please sign for them on the sheet outside room 165B in the Speech building or see Mr. Mingrone by Wednesday.

There will be an important meeting of Kappa Delta Pi Tuesday, March 3, in room 155, at 7:30.

DEBATE MEMBERS ATTEND LECTURE AT STANFORD, 7:30

Members of the Varsity and Junior Varsity debate squads will attend a lecture by Lewis Mumford, critic, at Stanford tonight. The event will replace the regular Tuesday night meeting of the group.

Those attending Mr. Mumford's talk on "United States and World Unity" will leave for Stanford at 6:45 o'clock in front of the Student Union. Mr. Mumford will speak at 7:30 o'clock. The lecture is part of the current series of talks by well-known speakers being presented at Stanford.

Those going to hear Mumford include Florence Booth, Rex Gardner, Hampton Richey, Royal Scott, Francis Stoffels, Warren Thomas, Bette Jane Toland, Kenneth Fischer, Richard Flower, Francis Griswold, Helen Cronk, Joanna Overman, Lois Cronk, Eleanor Wagner, Liberata Ruscigno, Wesley Young, Harrett Manning, Henry Leland, Marjorie Howell, Arthur Grey, Marilyne Skinner, Tom Pagenhart and John Sayers.

Chem Fraternity Installs Officers

Phi Upsilon Pi, honorary chemistry fraternity, has elected and installed new officers for the term. Officers installed were Robert Gates, Brand Analyst; Isaac Dundas, Master Analyst; Leslie McLaine, treasurer; Richard Poytress, secretary; and James Greer, Sergeant-at-Arms.

Plans were discussed to have speakers on various phases of chemistry at a projected stag dinner meeting to be held in the near future.

June Graduates

Seniors who will graduate in June of this year, and are interested in teaching in Southern California in the elementary field only, are asked to consult Mr. Howard in the Appointment office before the end of the week. The examinations will be held March 7.

This takes in the Bellflower public school district.

All students desiring to work on the stage crew or as electricians for the production of "Winterset" sign on the sheet near room 165B in the Speech building or see Mr. Mingrone.

Sociology Club Members: There will not be a meeting as scheduled on your calendar; however, there will be a meeting Thursday night at the Student Center, 6 p.m., to hear Marion Holley. Read our notice on the main bulletin board in front of the Morris Daily auditorium. All should be present at this meeting.

Members of the Soph council will please attend the meeting in the Student Union today at 1 p.m.

Naval Reserve Opens Enlistment For Men 17 To 19

B. J. Barber, chief quartermaster of the United States Navy, in charge of the recruiting service in San Jose, announces the opening of a new Navy program for 80,000 college men.

This is a program of voluntary reserve enlistments for men between the ages of 17 and 19, inclusive.

Upon enlistment, students will be placed on inactive duty to continue college courses, with emphasis being placed on mathematics, physics and physical training.

One and one-half years' work completed, 20,000 men who pass a comprehensive navy examination and meet physical requirements will be selected for flight training.

Another 15,000 will be transferred for future training as officers and will be permitted to continue their college courses until they receive degrees. Some 5,000 in this group will specialize in engineering, the others pursuing courses acceptable to the Navy.

The remaining 45,000 will be permitted to finish two college academic years and then ordered to active duty at naval training stations.

Further information can be obtained at the local Navy recruiting office, Post Office building, San Jose, or from the Dean of Men's office.

College Shop Gets Fluorescent Light

Nine overhead fluorescent lights for lathe workers in the machine shop have been added to the Industrial Arts department. One has been added for each lathe.

According to Mr. George Spearman, auto mechanics instructor, there should be a minimum of a 50-foot candlepower light for this type of work and the new lighting fulfills the qualifications.

Previously ordinary incandescent lights were used of 50-watt power. This equaled about one foot candle power.

NEWS BRIEFS

Personnel Officer

Peter Nardi, police student graduate from San Jose State in 1938, recently took over the task of personnel officer at the Hendy Iron Works in Sunnyvale.

Nardi replaces Howard Scribner, who also was graduated from San Jose State police school.

Nardi will be handling the identification work at Hendy's as well as the personnel work.

Paul Replogle, also of San Jose State police school, is the lieutenant of police at Hendy's. Replogle left San Jose State at the first of the year.

Settles Talks At Dinner Thursday

"If you have no tires—do your traveling at the 'Round the World' dinner, sponsored by the Seekers' league at the First Methodist church, Thursday, at 6:30 p.m.," declares Harriet Johns, a member. Dr. Claude Settles of the Sociology department is scheduled to be the speaker for the evening.

Price of tickets is 50 cents and reservations should be made by Wednesday, March 4. Those wishing to make reservations should call Ballard 4364-W. Purpose of the dinner is to raise funds for the Costa Rico Mission, and everyone interested is invited to attend.

CONTINENTAL BROTHERS QUARTET SCHEDULED TO OPEN FLOOR SHOW FOR DELTA SIGMA GAMMA DANCE

At exactly 11 o'clock the Continental Brothers quartet singing the fraternity theme song to open the floor show at Delta Sigma Gamma's annual winter semi-formal Saturday night dance at the San Jose Country Club.

The quartet will be featured also in a medley of college songs and will assist Harry Harter in his rendition of the "Hamfenpoof Song" of Yale University. Members of the group are Don Dourgian, Laughton Hay, Ted Worley, and Warren Untiedt.

Also entertaining in the complete floor show offering of the dance will be Barbara Trelease in the role of a typical telephone operator handing out the latest gossip about the campus. A member of the Ero Swing Trio, Miss Trelease is a drama major, having played outstanding roles in "Hamlet" and the more recent production "Ah Wilderness" by Eugene O'Neill.

Harry Harter will sing a second comic specialty, "Lydia," and the DSG Glee club will entertain with the fraternity Sweetheart Song, offering it to the public for the first time.

APPLEBY PLAYS

Clyde Appleby's 12-piece orchestra will play for the dance with drummer Johnny Quinn presenting an original specialty number composed especially for the DSG dance.

With the band will be Lois Anderson, vocalist, and the Ero Swing Trio whose members are Miss Trelease, Betty Stuhlman, and Jane Reed. A Spanish dance team will be featured in a bolero number. Harry Harter will be master of ceremonies.

PROM BIDS GIVEN

Immediately after the floor show which will end at midnight, balloons used as decorations for the ballroom will be released from the ceiling. Inside one will be a bid to the Junior Prom to go to the couple who seizes the lucky balloon.

"Dancing in the Sky" will be the theme of the evening. Dancing will be from 9 to 1 o'clock. Bids may be obtained for $1.50 from any fraternity member or pledge.

CLUBS HOLD JOINT MEETING THURSDAY

A joint supper meeting of the YMCA and YWCA Cosmopolitan and Sociology clubs will be held in the Student Center Thursday at 6 o'clock. Miss Marion Holley, social worker and sportswoman, will speak on this occasion.

Entertainment for the supper has been planned by the YMCA.

Head of the supper committee is Marie Gattuccio. Price of the supper is 25c, and tickets are obtainable from the presidents of the organizations, namely, Sam Zones, YMCA; Ami Kimura, YWCA; Ellen Okagaki and Russ Oaks, Cosmopolitan club; and Jane Desmond, Sociology club. Tickets may be obtained also from Marie Gattuccio. Non-members are invited to attend.

SPARTAN KNIGHTS HOLD INITIATION THIS EVENING

Spartan Knights, men's honorary service organization, are holding informal initiation tonight, the first one this year, at the campus houses.

The Knights have a ceremony which they follow every year this time called "The Marriage Race" for squires. This is a part of the informal initiation.

The pledges will start their punishment by working the co-op houses and the campus sorority houses.

It is very important that pledges report at 6 o'clock in the Student Union with the names of the squires, says Duke Taylor.

The officers for this year have been: Duke, Tommy Taylor, Earl, Marty Taylor; Scribe, L. Nicholson; Chancellor of the chequer, Bob Spaulding, and Guard has been Dave Hines.

The following men will be initiated tonight: Hank Innes, Campbell, Al Gross, Porter, M. J. nell, Dick Miyagawa, Edie, Bill Seely, Ken Sheen, and Bill White.

CHASE TALKS HERE FRIDAY; SUBJECT, POST-WAR FINANCE

"After the War—What?" is the title of economic commentator Stuart Chase's talk to be given in the Morris Dailey auditorium Friday, March 13, at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Chase is expected to discuss the natural economic problems resulting from the war with his views on the situation prior to the conflict. Well known as a "liberal" economist as opposed to orthodox economist, Mr. Chase has gained recognition through his remarkable ability to transform the intricacies of a profound subject into interesting material that can be understood by the layman. However, he differs from other popularizers in that he refuses to "talk down" to his audience, but in his writings or in his lectures he will "talk up" to them.

The effect of technology on the future and human livelihood will be the central theme for his discussions although he will touch with a wide variety of subjects. Among his best known works are "Men and Machines," "The Deadly Waste," "Your Money is Worth," "The Economy of Abundance," and his latest book, "Money, Idle Men."

Both Dean of Men Paul Poytress and Dr. William Poytress, head of the Social Science department, have openly expressed admiration for Stuart Chase's interesting manner of presenting his subjects. Tickets for the talk may be obtained from Mrs. Helen Poytress, the Dean of Women's office.
