AWA MODELS 'FURLOUGH FINERY' FASHION SHOW WEDNESDAY

Wednesday night the fifth annual AWA Fashion Show will be held in the Morris Dailey Auditorium free of charge and open to the public.

"Furlough finery" for funning, "Lounge Lizards," "beach, bicycling, bathing, and "woo wear" between blackouts, are the three divisions into which the fashion show has been divided, Gerry Averritt, Fashion Show chairman, announced Friday.

The stage will be decorated for spring with an arbor, picket fence, and a box hedge.

Dorothy Manchester, instructor in home economics, will be the commentator for the women's show. Mr. Dick Hart, from Roos Bros., will be the men's commentator.

MUSIC

Included in the entertainment program for Wednesday night will be a vocal number by Kenny Sheets, toe dance by Marion Jacobson, and a Hawaiian dance by Bernice Norris.

Stanford danced in, and also in the direction of the "Good News," 1942 Revue show produced here last year by Stanley Hollingsworth.

Stanford's piano arrangement of "Blue" by George Gershwin. The show's clothes will be modeled by models chosen from sororities, fraternities, and other campus organizations. Over thirty models were submitted and models were selected from those by members of Roos Bros.' personnel.

Roos Bros. have officially opened their new store in the Spring, and the latest in their fashions from formals to sportswear will be modeled at the fashion show, Miss Averritt said.

Theater Orchestra Plays Tomorrow

The San Jose State college theater orchestra, under the direction of Edward Azherian, senior music major, will make its debut in a concert tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock in the Morris Dailey Auditorium.

The orchestra was organized last year by Azherian to provide the outstanding musicians with an opportunity to play light music.

Edward Azherian, conductor, is the author of the school song, "Spartan Triumphant," solo clarinetist of the San Jose State college symphony, Stanford symphony, and the San Jose Civic symphony. He studied conducting under Adolf Otterstein.

Forensic Squads Meet Tomorrow Night In Library

Faculty moderator for the evening will be Dr. J. B. Cooper, psychology instructor. Frank Griswold and Florence Booth will act as student co-chairmen.

"Skull Crackers"

Four San Jose State college debaters will appear on the KROW "Skull Crackers" program tonight at 9 o'clock.

This is the last "Skull Crackers" program of the current series with Scott Weekly as emcee.

ICE BOWL SCENE OF ALL-COLLEGE SKATING PARTY

Tonight the first all-college ice skating party sponsored by the freshman class will be held at the San Jose Ice Bowl on East Santa Clara street from 8:30 to 11.

With prizes offered in trio skating, partner skating, waltzing and figure skating, this party promises to be one of the most successful affairs of the season, Bill Kelley, committee chairman, predicts.

Special feature of the skating party will be a "farmer ice hockey" game with the freshman class challenging the rest of the school to a match.

Admission to the ice bowl will be 33 cents for students with student body cards. All outsiders will be charged 55 cents. Stags will be admitted. Admission price includes skates. However, Kelley emphasized that no tickets are being sold on-campus. "All admissions must be paid at the ice bowl ticket office," he said.

Music for the party will be provided by the ice bowl phonograph, and the refreshment stands will be open all evening for the convenience of the skaters.

SPARTAN BOXERS BEAT CAL AGGIES; STAY UNDEFEATED

Adding another seven-bout victory to their list, Coach Dee Portal's San Jose boxing team Friday night continued undefeated with a 7½ to 2½ win over the California Aggies in the Civic auditorium.

Two of the best fights of the night were in the smaller weights, when Spartan Charlie Townsend kept his record unblemished in outpointing Al Simpkins of the Aggies at 135 pounds, and Ken Sheets edged out Cal's Al Benton in a close, well-matched welterweight battle.

Dick Miyagawa again put on a beautiful boxing exhibition in decisioning Jim Scally by a wide margin at 127 pounds, and TKO victories by Roy Diedericksen and Russ Hofvendahl of San Jose also featured the locals' win.

The two heavy hitters on the San Jose team—Woody Gibson and Frank Minini — both won their bouts, but only after surprisingly tough battles. Ralph Burlington, Gibson's 175-pound opponent, held his own with Woody for the first two rounds, and both were exhausted at the end of the third. Minini had trouble in tagging Aggie heavyweight Earl Atkins, but took a three-round decision.

In the opening bout, San Jose favorite Bob Webber started off by taking the first round, but a cut over his eye forced a halt to the battle in the second. The judges called it a draw between Webber and opponent Milton Takahashi.

Complete results:
120 pounds—Webber (SJ) Takahashi (CA), draw.
127 pounds—Miyagawa (SJ) Scally (CA).
135 pounds—Anderson (CA) Bonetti (SJ).

Tickets On Sale In Speech Office For Four-Night Production Of "Winterset" Opening Wednesday

Tickets for "Winterset" which opens in the Little Theater Wednesday evening for a four-night run are now on sale in the Speech office, Room 159.

Prices of tickets are 28 cents for members of the student body and 55 cents for outsiders. Prices include amusement tax. A.S.B. cards must be presented to secure student rates.

Eighteen members of the cast of this Maxwell Anderson play are veterans of former San Jose Players' productions.

Clarence Cassell who takes the role of Mio, lead in the play, appeared in Sheridan's comedy "The Rivals," last fall, while Audrey Tracey, who plays opposite him in the role of Miriamne took part in "Heartbreak House."

Other members of the cast include James Spitz as Troek, Bert Holland as Shadow, Keith Bickford as Garth, Vernon Rose as Ezdras, Howard Melton as Gaunt, Ollie Bacquier as Carr, Norval Guttormsen as Herman, Leon Fletcher as Lucia.

Esther Lacinola as Pliny, Gordon Fine as the sailor, John Shepherd as a policeman, Warren Thomas as the radical, and Harrison McCreath as the sergeant.

The play is under the direction of Mr. Ted Hatlen who was director of the last two productions. Sets have been designed by Mr. Wendell Johnson of the Speech department and depict an old tenement house under a huge bridge.

Mr. Peter Mingrone is technical director for the production and John Caro will act as electrician.

NATURE STUDY GROUP COMPLETES PLANS FOR TRIP

Dr. Robert Rhodes announces that the organization for the camping group of the West Coast School of Nature Study is complete. The group will be divided into units of twelve persons with four people doing the work each day and then having two days free through alternating with the other two teams.

Special menus have been prepared for the desert climate, and the food for each meal has been arranged so that no shortages will occur.

The group will camp in the government camp ground near the Furnace Creek Ranch in Death Valley. By staying at the camp ground, students will save a considerable amount and still get all the benefits of the excursion.

There is room for about ten persons with the present transportation facilities, according to Dr. Rhodes.

The trip will take place during Easter vacation, and for the six-day session, at which no examinations will be given, students will receive two quarter units.

Eckert Hall Wins Inter-Class Track Meet Team Title

Led by Bill Rhyne, who placed in six events, Eckert Hall scored an easy victory in the Interclass track meet held Thursday and Friday in Spartan Field.

Eckert rolled up 52 points as compared to 38 markers for Alpha Pi Omega, the nearest competitor. Delta Theta Omega took third spot with 32, while Spartan Hall, without its captain, Bill Smith, had to be satisfied with 29 points for fourth place.

Runners were at a disadvantage Friday as a strong cold wind swept across the stadium. Even though it was almost at the backs of the sprinters, the chill it brought counterbalanced any advantage it gave. The distance-men were especially handicapped as they noticeably slowed down in the back stretch.

Outstanding times were turned in by Bud Veregge, who nipped Bill Rhyne at the finish of the 140 yard low hurdles in 15 flat, by Rhyne who took the 140 yard dash in 13.5, the equivalent of a

Thrust And Parry

Dear Editor:

In a recent Thrust and Parry column, the senior class said that we juniors would grow up next year. Well, when do they intend to grow up?

Yes, seniors, you're still in your infancy, and the evidence lies in the Spartan Daily with your attack on the junior class. Its arguments are babyish and not typical of the maturity of the class of '43.

First of all, through "authoritative sources," you say that the juniors have slandered you. Well, that's interesting to hear, considering we're juniors, and this is the first time we've heard of it. And just who are these so-called "authoritative sources"? No doubt they possess short-wave sets and listen to broadcasts from Tokio.

Now, what's all this about the senior bench? You say you must give the matter deep consideration so you can assure yourselves of getting the best. There doesn't have to be much consideration in the matter if what we hear from a senior be true. When we questioned him as to what the seniors were going to do about the bench, he said: "Well—I don't know. Uh—you see, we want to get some old bench that's already built, and then we'll put a plaque on it. We don't want to spend any money in building a new one."

And speaking about financial reports, yours can't be too good if you can't afford to build a new bench. Besides, what about the senior class egotism? You would not want to dirty your clothes by sitting on any old bench, where some lowerclassman or junior and his girl friend perhaps sat while they whispered sweet nothings into each other's ears. That would be degrading. That would hurt your class pride—or something.

And as to the personal about Dee Portal, we answered them quite fact, there were walking around the day morning with deep shade of red nancial status can attain.

Another thing: You the axis-juniors. Well, iors, why don't you of the axis and live tiny, because no matter do or say, you can't — Junior Class Council Francis Stoffels, Bill McGinnis, Vernon Rose, Arthur Grey, Com

"M" MEANING MILITARY

This quarter we have had our defense courses, next quarter we will be able to take "V" courses, but as yet nothing has been done about instituting "M" courses, "M" meaning military.

A few years back the students of this college decided that they did not want R.O.T.C., now it is impossible to install new R. O. T. C. units because officers cannot be spared from the armed forces to teach the courses. But, at the University of Chicago a plan has been worked out which is becoming more popular every day.

They have planned a system whereby students are given their basic training by civilian instructors who have proved to be better teachers than the R. O. T. C. officers. Although the course does not lead to a commission, the students are a step ahead of their college brothers who have not had this training. Not only Chicago, but other colleges are adopting this pre-induction period of training.

Taking into consideration that most of the men at San Jose State college will be in the armed forces before long, we suggest that a group of "M" courses be inaugurated here.

Many of the college instructors have seen army service and could be drafted to teach us. Let's be one step ahead of other colleges and put the Spartans on top of the military ladder with well planned courses in military training.

On Land, On Sea, In The Air

Dean Pitman recently received a letter from Ed Turner, now stationed at Fort Bliss, Texas. In commenting on army life, Turner says:

"We are sleeping six in a tent, and the wind and sand blow pretty hard; so until we were issued three blankets, we slept a little cool. Believe it or not, I now have long underwear on for the first time in my life, but they do feel warm.

I visited Houston and Galveston. If a soldier wants to find Paradise, send him to Houston. The people there were really swell. They take them to parties, dances, luncheons, and to their homes for the week-ends. # Nine Drops Game To S.F. State In Ninth Frame

A four-run rally in the first half of the ninth inning gave a 7 to 5 victory to the San Francisco State team over San Jose State in the Spartan diamond Saturday afternoon.

Leading 5-3 at the close of the eighth, the Gators came back in the ninth when a triple by Braga, first baseman, scored two runs. Fanfelle walked, and he then scored on a single by Dawson. Dawson reached first base and lived up to second on a sacrifice play to end the inning.

San Jose State took an early lead in the first with one run, and San Jose State added another and led 2-0 until the last half of the eighth when San Jose scored four runs on consecutive doubles by outfielder Ardaiz and first baseman Wehner. Ardaiz scored on a sacrifice and Boitano and Wehner came in on Wehner's sacrifice.
