Bob Berry and his orchestra will feature special music for the occasion, including the Air Corps song which will be dedicated to former students killed in action.

Decorations will be built around the "Victory" theme. Real flags and simulated flags made of crepe paper, and balloons will be used.

Admission to the dance is free to student body members, while others will be charged 40 cents. Dancing will be from 9 to 12 o'clock. Refreshments will be available.

Patrons are Mr. and Mrs. Claude Settles, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Haworth, Miss Maude Coleman and Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Sanders.

SJS SYMPHONY PRESENTS FINAL CONCERT JUNE 9 IN AUDITORIUM

By WALLACE TRABING

William Erlendson, San Jose State college choir and piano director, will be the featured soloist with the San Jose State college symphonic orchestra at its final school year concert Tuesday night, June 9, at 8:15 in the Morris Dailey auditorium.

Adolph Otterstein, conductor, declared, "It is expected that there will be sufficient seats for everyone. Tickets are available for reserve seats and they may be obtained free from members of the orchestra or from the Music department secretary, Miss Joy."

Mr. Erlendson has chosen for his solo "A Major Piano Concerto" by Mozart. Mozart wrote his two greatest piano concertos in one month, March, 1786. They are really symphonies for piano and orchestra. The orchestra score is interesting in that Mozart did not use oboes, but used clarinets instead. Haydn seldom used the clarinet either during that period probably because it was not played right. In "A Major Piano Concerto" the music on the whole is brilliant. The slow movement is quite melancholy and the piano has an opportunity to really sing.

Another interesting note about the Piano Concerto of Mozart is the fact that the piano in Mozart's time was only five octaves in length, while the modern piano has seven and a half octaves. This, no doubt, had a great deal to do with the melodic form of his music, and the fact that his piano music at times is in easy reach of both hands.

Spartan Night Of Knights

Last Organization Dance Of Year Scheduled For Tomorrow Night At Rite Temple By Spartan Knights

A last call for fun before finals is what Loren Nicholson, publicity chairman, terms the Spartan "Night of Knights" sport dance at the Scottish Rite Temple tomorrow night, featuring Bob Berry's band.

This is the last organization dance of the year and a chance to relax before starting on the week of finals, says Nicholson. Bids are on sale at the Controller's office at $1.25, or may be purchased from any of the Spartan Knights.

Bob Berry's orchestra, well known to students at San Jose State college, will play both "hot" and "sweet" music. Several specialty numbers have been arranged.

Juniors Requested To Sign Up Today In Quad For Class Party At Adviser's

Juniors who plan to attend the class party next Friday afternoon should sign in the quad this morning from 9 to 12 o'clock. The sign-up is necessary at this time, so that arrangements can be made for refreshments, said Bill Bristol, sign-up chairman.

The party is strictly for juniors and will be held at the Mt. Hamilton home of junior class adviser Dee Portal. This will be the last opportunity for Spartan students to avail themselves of this picnic spot without cost.

Latin-American Music To Liven Seniors Last Ball

Spanish-American music and decorations will help carry out the "Adios" theme which has been chosen for the senior ball to be held in the Hotel Sainte Claire, Saturday, June 13.

Christine Mansfield and Ruth Wool have been in charge of plans for the ball. Charlie Parker was chairman of the orchestra committee, making negotiations with several name bands before deciding on Paul Pendarvis.

Mary Serr has been acting as chairman of the decoration committee. Elena Lindeman has also assisted in decoration, loaning authentic Spanish-American tapestries and hangings to be used for the ball.

Dorothy Jones is publicity chairman for the ball, and Joyce Uzzell and Betty Wool, co-chairmen of the bids committee.

Bids were designed by Ernie Ralph, to appear as miniature diplomas. They are now on sale in the Controller's office for seniors only. Price is $2.50, including amusement tax.

The dining room, lounge and patio of the Hotel Sainte Claire will be converted into a South American hotel, with the dining room serving as the main dancing hall and the lounge as a second room for dancing.

Soph Men Wear T-Shirt; Women Wear Gold, White For Sophomore Recognition Day; Badges Furnished

The whole college will recognize the sophomores Monday morning, for the sophomore men students will appear on the campus with jeans and T-shirts and the women in gold and white, because Monday will be "Sophomore Recognition Day."

"Full cooperation is necessary to make this day outstanding for the sophomores," declared Loren Nicholson, president of the sophomore class, "a day of fun and prominence for the sophomore class before settling down for finals."

Glenn McMenomay, publicity chairman, informs the sophs, "Do not forget to obtain a badge ('44) at one of the booths that will be set up on the campus Monday. Show 'em you are a sophomore."

Tickets are now on sale at the Controller's office or may be obtained from the sophomore council members for the evening of swimming and dancing at the Roosevelt Junior high school gym. They are on sale for ten cents. Dancing and swimming will be held from 7:30 to 10:30.

In further stirring enthusiasm for the class members, Mel Warner, vice-president for the sophomore class, stated, "Sophomore Recognition Day is an innovation for the sophomore class in which they will be officially recognized by the rest of the college. It is an opportunity for all sophomores to show the other classes the spirit of our class."

Ten Winners Slated For Finals

Ten speakers emerged from Wednesday's preliminaries of the first All-College Extemporaneous Speech contest as finalists and will vie in Monday's eliminations for the coveted bronze keys going to the three winners.

Those entering the Little Theater finals are: Richard Flower, Marilynne Skinner, Warren Thomas, Florence Booth, John Sayres, George Hopper, Tom Griffin, Frank Griswold, Bert Holland and Bruce Skidmore.

All ten entrants will be given one hour in which to prepare a seven-minute speech, and the talks will be judged on the basis of organization of material, relevance and discrimination in selection of material, and delivery.

Mendenhall and Mary Serr, committee chairmen, have arranged the transportation problem. The plan is to have all those who have available cars and those who do not yet acquired a ride to leave at the Student Union between 9 and 9:15 o'clock Sunday morning. The cars will be filled with all those persons left over and will be able to catch the bus which leaves at 9:30 o'clock from the bus depot.

Those who have cars and are going to take them to the party are urged to fill them to capacity in order to cut down the number of which must be used.

WELCOME SAN JOSE

Chairman Williams Welcomes Alumni; Extends Thanks To Committees

By YANCY WILLIAMS

General Chairman, Homecoming
I have a dual purpose in writing a few comments for this Homecoming edition of the Spartan Daily.

First: As president-elect of the San Jose State College Alumni association, I wish to extend an invitation to those who are graduating or leaving college to become affiliated with our Alumni association.

The small annual dues of one dollar will entitle you to a year's subscription of the monthly Alumni Bulletin, library privileges, special football admission rate, participation in the Alumni Scholarship Fund, and many other features and activities that will keep you in touch with your classmates and your college. Our percentage of association membership is higher than the average of all the major universities and colleges in the United States, and we intend to further increase it to make more complete our contacts with those who have left the college.

Second: As chairman of the 1942 Homecoming celebration, I want to thank the committee and others who have done so much to make it a success.

The names of those who have been giving their time and talent are accounted for in other columns, so I won't repeat their names and responsibilities. Nevertheless, the success of the Reunion will be directly to their credit. I can't pass on without expressing my appreciation to the Alumni and Publications offices for their very efficient work, cooperation and guidance. Evelyn Cavala, president of the association for the past year, has been most helpful with her co-operation and leadership.

In closing, I want to express the hope that those attending the 1942 Homecoming will enjoy it as much as I have enjoyed working with the splendid committee that has done the planning and arranging so well and conscientiously.

cializing in the javelin throw. As he was consistent around 200 feet he would have been added strength to this year's team. Stokes also received two letters in football and basketball. He completed his primary flight training in Oklahoma. Upon completion of his basic training here he will be sent to one of the advanced schools in the state of Texas.

ACCOUNTING MAJOR

Arnold Grim was an accounting major while at San Jose, and prior to going into the Air Corps was an accountant. Grim was one of the leading skiers at San Jose while attending school.

Bronson received his A.B. at San Jose and then went on to George Washington university, Washington, D.C. Bronson was a resident of this city.

ON THE SQUARE

By CHRIS JENSEN

WELCOME—Through the medium of this column we would like to welcome the alumni back to the campus. For we "regulars" who have been on Washington Square this year there has been a big change.

NEW LIBRARY—This is something you alumni should all visit. There is the Treatment Room which has all the relics of a bygone Sparta. Then there is the music library which contains more classical discs than any other college library on the coast.

DEFENSE—We would also like to remind the "old Grads" that San Jose State college is ranked among the first 50 colleges in the United States as a defense school. The Spartan Service and Defense Council was formed in the fall and has sponsored weekly dances for men in the armed forces as well as putting on entertainment programs at nearby army camps.

The Department of Industrial Arts under the department head, Mr. Hartley Jackson, has also done much to aid defense. Courses, which prepared students for production jobs, were founded. Already many of these students have gone into the war industries.

ON LAND, in the air and on the sea you will find former Spartans. In fact, 1200 men from State have entered the service.

NEW ALUMNI—Perhaps some of you seniors do not know it, but when you graduate you will be a member in good standing in the Art Department

Graduating art majors are invited to visit the Art department on Homecoming Day for a special event.

In addition, all alumni are invited to tea and exhibition from 3 to 5 o'clock in the Art building.

Members of the art faculty will be present at the tea to greet returning alumni and to spring a surprise for the graduating art majors. Representatives of Sigma and Tam and Delta Epsilon will be there too.

Among the Homecoming breakfasts scheduled today was one for Mu Phi Epsilon, music sorority, 8:30 at Hotel Sainte Claire.

Alumni association for one year. The Alumni Bulletin is sent to more than 10,000 former students each month.

JOSE STATE GRADS

JUST AMONG OURSELVES

By DR. T. W. MacQUARRIE
President San Jose State College

That was easily the best Recognition Day program we have ever had, and I have attended all of them. A good many of them have been little short of pathetic, and for a time it looked as if the whole idea should be given up. I don't know what made it go over so well this time, but there was a fine audience, the events went off on schedule, the interest was friendly, sustained and enthusiastic. I was impressed again by the fact that I hardly knew our best students. I couldn't pronounce the names, and the funny thing about it was that the Student Council couldn't pronounce them either. We'll have to work out some system some day for honoring scholarship. That's what the college is for—scholarship. I wish I could know every one of them.

I forgot to tell the group that Helen Buss (2.979) has a fellowship Stanford next year in biology. Helen is one of the best students we ever had in biology. I am glad she has that fellowship—but she didn't tell me who the fellow is.

It won't be long, young folks. Next week is the last for regular classes. Those of you who are serious and want to get an education are putting in your best licks now. Those of you who run off to the Cruz for the week-ends, who skip classes on Thursday and Friday will simply go along in the old rut, kidding yourselves.

One of our young men was absent from class the other day, and gave as his excuse that he had a flat tire. He lives down here on Ninth street. He may have flat feet too.

Funny how the lure of the beach attracts some of us. It's too bad to have an almost black tan. It simply means that you have spent endless hours when you should have been doing something else. I saw a picture in the paper of two girls at the beach. One of them said to the other, "You want to look out for the big, brawny fellows who have a heavy tan. It's most generally the thin, skinny fellows who have the best jobs."

Also, Saturday is Homecoming. If you happen to be around, you will find it very interesting. The class of 1892 will be honored. Fifty years ago they graduated.

In addition to them there will be many members of the Golden Era, people who have already had their fiftieth anniversary. Our Homecoming has developed a unique personality. The old grads come back and really have a good time. Their memories and stories give them a wonderful day. I am glad they feel so friendly about the campus. It is a fine thing when alumni continue their interest.

The luncheon on the south campus is a time for much jollity. The classes get together, and some of the new classes. The class of 1892 will be there in force. There is usually a good program put on by the present-day students. In recent years the affair has been most interesting, a delightful event of the college year.

By BOB CONNER

Homecoming Day is tomorrow—that's the day that all soldiers get leave to come back to State . . . The women who attended this institution when it was a normal school won't find it any different . . . no men now, either . . . They are all attending Uncle Sam Tech.

Alumni—That's Latin for "The teachers were sorry we had to leave but they were sure glad to get rid of us."

Homecoming Day at SJS is the day the old grads get all the attention and praise from the school . . . they deserve it . . . anybody who got out of this school deserves it . . . It looks as though I'm here for life . . . The army doesn't even want me . . . They took one look and scanned their files for something lower than 4F.

Wonder if the alumni remember the Co-op . . . If their school days were anything like mine, I wonder if they remember their classes . . . What are those? . . . Sure way to get students to go to the Co-op is to announce an assembly . . . I think the Co-op sponsors them . . . Heard one of the waitresses say yesterday that if they have two more assemblies this quarter they will break even for the year.

Reviving college spirit of past years, recalling "buggy rides" to Berryessa and Saratoga, looking for loved landmarks on the campus, inquiring after favorite instructors, and checking up on class mates—about 500 alumni of San Jose State college will be back on Washington Square Saturday for the annual Homecoming Day.

Message From President Cavala Says "Have Fun"

Greetings and best wishes on June 6! To have you come back for a visit is always just right. This is your day — so have a good time.

Evelyn Cavala, President, Alumni Association.

Between the reception committee and guides, you should have no trouble finding your way around. Just ask someone if you are a little lost.

The library is featuring our Treasure Room, as well as the Listening Room. Won't you visit both of them?

Incidentally, the membership booth is right out in front—how about joining for next year?

Thanks for coming!
— Evelyn Cavala, '35, President, Alumni Association.

A full day of entertainment has been planned for the visitors, beginning with reception and registration at 9:30 and concluding with a radio broadcast over station KQW from 6 to 6:30.

"Pioneers for 80 Years" is the theme for the day, in commemoration of the college's 80 years of service as a state educational institution. Pioneer and patriotic motifs have been planned for decorations and exhibits.

Yancy Williams, San Jose business man, is general chairman for the Homecoming. Official hostess is Miss Evelyn Cavala, teacher, who is president of the Alumni association. She will preside at the traditional luncheon at 12:30, when College President T. W. MacQuarrie will be a special guest.

Honorees for the day are the classes of 1892, 1917, and 1932, those who graduated 50, 25 and 10 years ago. The '92 grads become members of Golden Grads, organization of alumni of 50 years or longer.

Main object of interest will be the handsome new library building, which was open but not completed for last year's Homecoming. Miss Joyce Backus, head, has invited alumni to visit the building and enjoy its popular Treasure Room and Listening Room.

Classes with the largest attendance at the luncheon will share big boxes of candy. New officers for 1942-43 will be announced.

Delta Phi Upsilon, childhood education society, will have a tea from 3 to 5 o'clock, Homecoming Day, at the home of the adviser, Miss Emily DeVore, 156 N. 31st street. All Delta Phi Upsilon alumnae are invited.

PI MU ALPHA SCHEDULES VICTORY CONCERT HONORING MEMBERS IN UNITED STATES ARMED SERVICE

It's America as far as the Phi Mu Alpha Victory concert is concerned, because the whole program that will be presented Thursday, June 11, in the Little Theater is the work of American composers.

The concert, under the sponsorship of Beta Eta Chapter of the Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia fraternity, is presented in honor of the former active members of the Phi Mu Alpha, music fraternity, who are now serving in the United States armed services.

"This will be one of the biggest events of the Music department this year," stated Stanton Selby, president of the Phi Mu Alpha. "Besides three large organizations—the brass choir, woodwind ensemble and the cappella choir—many soloists will appear.

ORGAN SOLOS

Clarence van Bronkhorst, who plays in the organ-piano recital this evening, will play two organ solos, one of which will be the popular "Donkey Serenade" by Elmore. He received the Phi Mu Alpha memorial award for the outstanding senior music student at the year at the composition contest Wednesday night. Stanton Selby, senior music major, of the Beta Eta chapter of the Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, will present a piano solo, and President Willardson will present a piano solo. He is piano instructor and director of the choir. Two piano solos will be presented by a tenor, and a soprano, and a soprano music solo.

ORIGINAL WORKS

A part of the works for the concert are original compositions written by the students of San Jose State college. Orrin Selby's "Two American Sketches" which received first place in the national Phi Mu Alpha contest last year, will be played by the choir. Tickets are free and may be obtained in the Music department office in the Music building.

SJS PLAYERS HOLD INITIATION DINNER TONIGHT

Outstanding college students picked for their contributions to the theater will be initiated in the San Jose State College Players tonight at the annual initiation dinner at the San Jose Country club at 6:30 o'clock.

The event will be followed by the annual Players breakfast Sunday morning, June 14, at the De Anza hotel at 10 o'clock.

Program for the evening's initiation will be the presentation by graduating seniors of three scenes taken from next year's Players productions. Howard Melton and Cherry Phillips will give a scene from "Life With Father"; a scene from "Ladies In Retirement" will feature Clarence Cassell, Ruth Froehlich, and Babs Granite; and Harrison McCreath and Olivia Allen will give a scene from "Arsenic and Old Lace." Mr. Ted Hatlen will also show slides from the various productions of the past season and deliver a running commentary.

Those invited to join the Players are Deane Healey, Eleanor Wagner, Warren Thomas, Margaret Moore, James Spitz, Oliver Bauquier, Bill Kidwell, Duane Heath, Margaret Moeck, Leon Fletcher, Rosemary Withgitt, Barbara Whitaker, Josephine Falcone, Jeanne Wright, Jack Hume, Norval Gutormsen, Bert Holland, Jack Miller, Marian Jacobsen, Denny Morrissey and Shirley Kress.

Spartan Knights Give Sport Dance Tomorrow Night

A special coronation ceremony to honor the new Student Body president, Tom Taylor, will be held during the evening of dancing. Nine pledges recently initiated into Spartan Knights will also be honored, it was announced.

Nicholson extends an invitation to all students who want a good time to attend the Spartan Night of Knights' dance tomorrow night. "There will be plenty of room to dance as the temple is large," Nicholson concluded.

PI EPSILON TAU NOMINATIONS MADE AT MEET

Officers were nominated for next year at the regular meeting of Pi Epsilon Tau, general elementary honor society, Tuesday evening.

The three offices have two candidates running for the position. For president, Elsie Bursch and Marjorie Tregellas are the candidates. Birdie Hoskins and Ennes Veglia are running for the vice-president post, while Virginia Davis and Evelyn Savoie are vying for the office of secretary.

Annette Dixon and Esther Johnson were elected by unanimous ballot for the treasurer and reporter positions respectively.

Those members who were not present are asked to vote today in the Education office, Room 161, for one of the three remaining positions.

On My Honor

Wonder why they call it Homecoming Day . . . Maybe they should call it "Up the river again," or "Two-time loser returns to the old cell."

Looks are sometimes deceiving, but I can tell if the alumnus is old or young . . . If he's old, he just walks around; but if he's on the younger side he will stop every now and then, look around, and then whistle at the blonde across the campus . . . If she's a young alumna, she'll whistle back.

STEELE, KNOWLES ERASE SCHOOL MARKS IN BROADJUMP, MILE RUN

Delta Theta Omega Wins Inter-Frat Track Tourney Third Straight Year

Two school records fell by the way yesterday afternoon when Thelno Knowles established a new mile mark of 4:23.2 and Willie Steele leaped through the air in the broadjump to come up with a mark of 25 feet 7 inches.

Knowles beat the old mark of 4:27.2 set by Vin Ruble in 1940 and thus added the number two record broken to his credit.

Steele made the best jump in the United States this year to erase Billy Smith's mark of 25 feet. Steele hit 25 feet 4 inches on his next to last jump but fouled by a good three inches. In the qualifying jumps he did 24 feet 8 1/4 inches.

SMITH UNDER

Billy Smith couldn't do any better than 24 feet 10 inches yesterday. However, he did go over the 25 foot mark on one occasion but he fouled and the jump didn't count.

DTO'S WIN

Delta Theta Omega maintained the track title for the third straight year, and thus became permanent possessor of the inter-fraternity track tourney cup.

The DTO team led by Omar Cowles and Bob Call piled up 45 points to lead their nearest opponent, Alpha Pi Omega, by the wide margin of 23 points.

TRIPLE WIN

Cowles scored wins in the 100 yard dash, 120 yard high hurdles, and the 220 yard low hurdles. Cowles' hurdle times were slow but he did turn in a 10.1 century. Call won the 440 yard sprint and came back to take the 220 yard dash.

The APO team took only two first places but managed to take enough runnerup spots to move into second place with 22 points. Bruce Roberts won the pole vault with a jump of 10 feet, and Bryce Becker took the broad jump with a leap of 20 feet 10 inches.

IRON MAN

Dick Knox, Delta Sigma Gamma iron man, took two firsts out of the eight events entered, winning the mile behind Knowles and taking the 880 yard run. Doug Bacon took the other DSG first place when he won the two mile run, to give him a third with 20 points.

Gamma Phi Sigma took fourth behind DSG with one first place for a 16 point total. Maurice Smith won the javelin throw with a heave of 146 feet.

Sigma Gamma Omega took fifth place with a 12 point total. Wayne Sargent garnered their only first place with a 5 foot 4 inch jump in the high jump.

Despite the fact that Lawton Hay took firsts in the discus and shotput events, Beta Chi Sigma could do no better than last place with 11 points. Hay heaved the 12 pound shot 49 feet and tossed the discus 118 feet.
