WAR CHEST DRIVE GOES OVER $1000 MARK; THREE DAYS LEFT IN WHICH TO REACH $2500 GOAL

The War Chest drive contribution total passed the $1000 mark yesterday as 111 students contributed $185 to the fund, announces Don DeVoss.

The drive officially closes Friday when it is hoped the goal of $2500 will have been reached. As it stands now, Spartans will have to contribute more than $1400 in the next three days. The present total is $1037.

A faculty goal of $6000 has almost been reached, states Miss Muriel Clark of the President's office. Custodians and office staffs together with faculty members have contributed $5776.

The drive will come to a climax Friday with an assembly featuring Lt. Beth Veley, a war nurse on Bataan peninsula, according to Dean of Men Paul Pitman.

Members of Pi Epsilon Tau, general elementary honor society, are going out to a valley farm this Sunday to pick tomatoes. The money they earn will be given to the War Chest, states DeVoss.

This has come as a result of the meeting called Tuesday by DeVoss of all organization heads. Other organizations have called special meetings in which the importance of the War Chest has been stressed. This phase of the Chest campaign is aimed at individual contributions within the fraternities and societies and does not put any emphasis on contributions by groups as a whole. Results of these organization contribution efforts have not been announced, but it is expected that the money contributed in this way will help to swell the total to well over $2500, says DeVoss.

Mamie And Joe:
We of the Spartan Daily staff in compliance with many requests, are now asking you WHAT GOES ON?
Questions of the following nature have been brought constantly to our attention: Why isn't Joe in the draft? Have they really a tire for sale and if so what do they want for it? Is there any chance of their ever getting together?
How about it? Let's get together. Please.

Prompt Purchasers Will Get La Torre

Students purchasing advance subscriptions to the La Torre can be assured of receiving their copy of the yearbook in the spring even if they leave school for the service or war work before then, announces Jerry Becker, business manager.
He states that the student's home address as well as local address is placed on the advance subscription form, so that the La Torre may be sent to that address in event the student leaves school before the annual is distributed next June.

Cut In A. W. A. Budget Expected; Activities Planned

The A.W.A. will probably have to cut its budget, it was announced yesterday at the Associated Women's Activities meeting.

Dean Paul Pitman said that if any money is left over after the student-body budget is planned it will be granted to the A.W.A. However, it is probable this organization will have to get along with $715.00 instead of $800.00 as in former years.

The A.W.A. meets every Tuesday at 4:00 p.m. in the A.W.A. rest room. All organizations are asked to send a representative to each meeting. If a representative from an organization fails to appear twice, that organization will not have a vote in the A.W.A. activities.

It was decided at the meeting to have a jamboree this quarter with games and dancing for both boys and girls, instead of a jinx, which would be restricted to just girls.

Miss Margery Behrman urged all representatives to tell their organizations to be sure to buy La Torre before the price goes up October 23.

Beverly Roberts, president of the A.W.A., appointed Viola Coonrad to finish writing the constitution.

Freshman Select Council Members

Freshmen met yesterday in the Morris Dailey auditorium to choose members of a governing council.

It was decided to have a dance within the next two weeks in order to allow members of the class to get better acquainted with each other. The dance committee, under the leadership of Ted Worley, was made up of student-body presidents from different high schools. It will have a meeting next Tuesday at 4:00 p.m. in room 24 to which all freshmen are invited.

The committee consists of Betty Jansen, Carolyn Burgess, Lorraine Jones, Jack Ashley, Gauretta Buhmer, Jack Smith, Frank Gaggie, Marianne Hayes, Jack Wilber, Gregory Vistica, Frank Bernard, Jim Gillen, William Kemp and Len Gelhaus.

The faculty advisor for the freshmen is Dr. Robert Rhodes.

Council Asks Organizations To Aid War Chest

Showing disappointment in the student response to the War Chest, the Council last night reluctantly decided to ask all campus organizations to donate as much as possible out of their treasuries to meet the goal of $2,500.

Chest Chairman Don DeVoss reported there was only a total of $1,040 collected up to last night.

Upon the recommendation of P. E. Head Tiny Hartranft, the Council moved and passed that for the duration no more varsity sweaters be awarded. Instead a suitable substitute plus a block will be awarded.

The reasons for the action were the loss of funds by the P. E. department and the shortage of wool.

The deadline for the sale of student body cards was set for 5 p.m., October 21.

In regard to the COP raid of Monday night, it was decided by the student rulers that any Spartan student taking retaliatory measures would be dealt with accordingly.

STRICTLY JUVENILE

College of the Pacific students who invaded our campus Monday night and "succeeded" in such mature accomplishments as burning two large "P's" in the grass, and cleverly slopping paint on our library and sidewalks, have added little to the competitive spirit of this Saturday's football game.

On the contrary, we feel they've detracted from it. Oh, to be sure, it must have been jolly fun when the little devils were driving down from Stockton and planning how they were going to pull a fast one on those San Jose State kids. Wouldn't they be furious and chagrined, though?

Sorry, "men," but they wouldn't be and weren't. Disgust and resentment towards you were the only reactions, neither of which state of mind is conducive to sportsmanship and spirited rivalry.

Thinking students at State realize that the majority of Pacific students will feel the same about the whole childish business. Such campus vandalism has always been a source of embarrassment to the student and faculty leaders of both institutions, and has been discouraged on the basis of good common sense.

Last year a few jerks from San Jose went up to Stockton to set off the Tiger bonfire. They did, and got their heads shaved and painted. Spurred on by this act of reckless heroism, our team went on to win.

Even then, a year ago, the entire affair was strictly juvenile. But this year such stuff should be absolutely out. Oh, we're not going to wave the American flag at this point and trot out the cliches about a nation at war and other such obvious reasons why you shouldn't have. That goes without saying.

College education itself, to say nothing of college football, has been bitterly criticized as a waste of time, money, men, and materials which should be in use right now to win the war.

We who are on the side which looks to the maintenance of colleges and universities as a chance for young men and women to better equip themselves mentally and physically for what looks like a long struggle have only one convincing way in which to prove it. And that is by "buckling down" and doing away with just the kind of adolescent tricks you clever fellows pulled off.

You've given the opposition a highly damning example of "college waste" for them to use in their arguments against us. Thanks a lot.

—Morrow.

Sophomore, Junior and Senior Classes Will Cast Votes To Elect Officers For Current Quarter Today

The members of the sophomore, junior and senior classes will go to the polls today to elect their executives for the fall quarter.

Candidates were nominated in the class meetings held Monday. Although the meetings were marked by poor attendance, Student Body President Tom Taylor expressed his hopes that there will be a large turnout for the elections. "After all," said Taylor, "it is the duty of every sophomore, junior and senior to vote for those who will have charge of their class activities."

PRE-GAME RALLY MOVED UP A NITE; Team On Hand

Final decision to change the date of the greatly-anticipated pre-game rally from Friday to Thursday night was announced at a regular meeting of the Rally Committee yesterday.

According to Chairman Hugh Manley, such a disposition was made necessary because numerous sorority pledge dinners and social affairs would have hindered attendance on Friday. The event will be staged in the Morris Dailey auditorium from 7:30 to 9 o'clock.

COACHES ARE GUESTS

Master of Ceremonies "Scrappy" Squatrito will introduce Coaches Tiny Hartranft, Dee Portal, Bud Winter, and Gene Rocchi, as well as members of the football team, who are to be guests of the evening. Captain Wilbur Wool will, in behalf of the team, give his

RUN-OFF ELIMINATED

According to Election Judge Marvin Zemanek, the elections this quarter will be governed by a preferential ballot. This type of ballot awards the offices to those candidates that receive the most votes. This will eliminate the run-off election in cases where more than two candidates are seeking an office.

Zemanek also announced that the polls will be located in front of the Morris Dailey auditorium and will be open between the hours of 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Voters will have to present their student body cards before they will be allowed to participate in the elections.

According to a clause in the student body constitution, the class elections are supposed to be held on the same day as the class meetings. "This quarter, however," Taylor explained, "it was impossible to do this."

23 CANDIDATES

A total of 23 are seeking class offices. The freshman class will choose their officers for the fall quarter from their newly selected class council at a later date.

The candidates seeking office are:

SENIORS

Doug Curry, Bill Kidwell, and Gene Long for president; Fred Joyce and Dan Meehan for vice-president; Elyse Bartenstein, secretary-treasurer; and Margaret Bailey, Student Council representative.

JUNIORS

Doug Aitken, Jack Gottschang, and Earl Poytress, president; Gerald Becker, Tom Kerr and Dick Fry, vice-president; Jewell Abbot and Jeanne Wright, secretary-treasurer; George Coles and Glen McMenomy, council representatives.

SOPHOMORES

Al Gross, Bert Holland, president; Ed Kincaid, vice-president; Lucille Meek and Mary Stowe, secretary-treasurer; and Donna DeMahy, council representative.

Barrymore Radio Scripts Written By Ex-Spartanite

Once a student active in dramatics and radio writing at San Jose State college, Jean Holloway now earns $600 a week turning out radio scripts for Lionel Barrymore.

Proving to a Columbia Broadcasting System representative that she could produce a radio play in 15 minutes, Miss Holloway began her career in 1939 at a writers' conference in Colorado.

Since that time she has written scripts for the Kate Smith show, free verse drama for Walter Huston, biographical sketch about Composer Debussy with an orchestral background, an all-negro production called Jubilee, and lines for over 200 bit players.

FOX POP

By KENNY FOX

I'm a jellyfish, a push-over, one of those whom P. T. Barnum handily pictured as being produced at the rate of sixty every hour, day and night.

But I do feel that Barnum's description is a little inaccurate in that it assumes heredity, and heredity alone, as the single factor which made me what I am today. For in looking back I feel that environment, as well as heredity, has fashioned me as I am, a willow-like creature, bending to the very wind which carries the words of others.

I was no more than in my sixth year when my cousin, nine months my junior and a pretty good salesman, convinced me that the family auto, parked on the steep hill before our home, offered opportunity for great sport. In truth, I really wasn't convinced, but my objections were weak in the face of his enthusiasm and I just couldn't utter the word "no." So, by some mechanical method, known only to my cousin at that time, we carried out his plan and, luckily, ended up unhurt in a vacant lot some two blocks below our home. But even at the reckoning I could not, or at least did not attempt to explain that I had been the innocent one in the affair.

This episode, I see in retrospect, was the first of a long line of similar events, each of which demonstrated my inability to object to the suggestions of another.

I recall when once, soon after I had reached the age which first allows the recognition of more than one sex, I was happily awaiting Friday night when the high school basketball team was to take the floor in defense of its league championship. With the knowledge that on Friday night my weekly allowance and the family car were to be simultaneously mine, I approached Sandra with what I considered a routine proposal: that we should see the game.

"But, Kenny," she smiled sweetly, "that's the last night Robert Taylor plays at the State. And I can't go any other night."

"Can't you?" I asked rather weakly, at the same time attempting to picture Robert Taylor as the one person I had wanted to see Friday night—anyway.

About the same time, when first I entered a men's shop with the right and means to select and purchase my own clothing, I found, to my horror, that I could never become a customer; that is, in one sense of the word: as a person who purchases what he wants when he wants it.

I entered the shop intent upon the purchase of a sport coat, akin in design and material to those which had jumped into prominence in male fashions. It seems now that the conversation was brief.

"That isn't what you want," said the proprietor, as though I should have known.

"Isn't it?" I asked, despite the fact I was certain of what I wanted.

"Now, over here—" he went on; and soon I departed—with a double-breasted suit.

There were numerous other similar incidents, all of which, if I had only realized then, were leading me to my present despicable state which, I fear, may greatly handicap my chances for future happiness.

And, indeed, such a black prediction must have basis in fact for my father, himself, has said that I will never amount to anything.

NOTICES

Miss Wilson invites all beginners of social dancing to attend the Recreational Social Dancing club Wednesdays between 4 and 5 p.m. in the Women's gym.

There will be a meeting of all freshmen students working for any teaching credential in the Morris Dailey auditorium Thursday, October 15, at 12:30. If you have a class, do not cut it, but call at the Education office, room 61, any time after that date for some of the details of the meeting. This meeting includes Special Secondary students as well as those working for general elementary and junior high school credentials.

Will the following people please report to the Book Exchange between 10 and 3 o'clock today to collect money and books? "This is your last opportunity," declared Marie Hayes.

All Home Economic students: Eta Epsilon will have its formal initiation in the tea room of the Home Economics building at 7:30 p.m., Monday, October 19.

JUNIOR CLASS: Today you go to the polls to vote on a class constitution. Time was limited in class meeting the other day, and there was little opportunity to give you an outline of the constitution. For your convenience and enlightenment, you will find twelve inches of Junior class constitution on the fourth page of today's paper. Read it over before you vote. Remember, this will be your constitution until graduation.

Here are the advantages of a permanent constitution: At the beginning of every quarter, the new class council has to decide what kind of laws they are going to abide by. This takes a couple of weeks, and by the time things are again in working order, the quarter is over.

The constitution before you today has a distinct advantage over previous quarters' constitutions in that it provides an opportunity for everyone in the class to be a part of the class activities. At one time the various committees of the class were limited to the council. Now under this new constitution, committees are open to the whole class. For the first time, YOU may be a real part of your class. We suggest that you give your vote of approval at the polls today.

HEALTH: Do you have headaches, hangovers, hicoughs, hooping cough, or hysteria? Take that pain to the Health office. You're paying for it.

When any waste of time or energy is a prolonging of the and intentional destruction of property is a boon to the one would think that college students would, for the duration at least, put aside their traditions and pranks and go all out for the winning of the war. Not so with few "loyal" COPers. Possibly you have seen the damage done to Art building steps. It is not much the defacing of the property that is the real issue, but it is a wasted man power that has gone into this little project that makes it almost criminal. The janitors of this school have to give up time they should be devoting to more important things to try to eliminate the paint from the and re-planting of the lawn. The boys who did the damage probably rode down from Stockton in an automobile, and, unless they came down for purposes other than trying to make our campus uglier, they utterly wasted their time.

Seen on the campus: Two dignified sophomore co-eds walking daintily across the San Joaquin turf with two San Jose high school sophomores chasing them at speed. The sophs, so it seems, were playing football, and were very intent on tackling the v.d.s.c's. By the looks on their faces, one could tell that they were quite worried about the pending danger, although they didn't turn around nor give outward signs that everything wasn't as it should be. Stunned by the lack of attention they were receiving, the future gridiron turned to other things, and relief of the co-eds was, oh, great!

Tch, tch. Was visibly impressed by the attempted sabotage of our campus by some over-eager Pacific zealots. Now that scares hell out of me; in fact I don't think I'll even suit up Saturday. It must take a pretty tough customer to control the raging fire big enough to mar our lawns. And it must have been a pretty rugged geezer who risked his life slapping paint on the Library building. It seems to me that this sort of thing went out with the flying wedge.

But doubtless the characters who visited us Monday night are throwbacks from the 1941 era and are still moaning over that "foto-finish" 7 to 0 defeat at the hands of the Spartans. Just what that bit of campus-wrecking was supposed to accomplish we cannot say, but at any rate it looks like a boomerang from where we sit.

It should save Coach Hartranft the trouble of firing up his boys for one of the "crooshal" games of the year. On the other hand, the big gold machine should have all the incentive in the world in trying to erase COP's 1941 "moral victory".

USF, generally rated one of the pre-season favorites on the coast, was knocked off its perch Sunday by a fighting band of Loyola gridders to the tune of 7 to 2. Loyola, outmanned and outweighed, but certainly not outfought, hammered at the Don goal line all afternoon without result until the dying minutes of the fracas when they managed to punch over the victory score.

Moral: The Don balloon of invincibility has been burst and a determined State squad can accomplish the same results, only more convincingly.

On the other side of the ledger Fresno continued on its victory trail, crushing San Diego 66 to 0. Fresno seems determined to build up a series of high score wins and to throw around itself a "Rose Bowl" halo that is likely to backfire before long. Confidence is okeh but over-confidence is likely to prove disastrous.

State fans, both of them, may be in for a surprise one of these fine Saturday afternoons if the plans of Coach Hartranft work out according to schedule. Yesterday he gave the players some T-formation bucks and a few weird passes that are just screwy enough to click for a payoff touchdown when the right time arises. All of the plays are crowd-pleasers and can be counted on to cause enemy scouts a lot of trouble.

Intra-Mural Teams After Top Position

Out to overcome the league-leading Akamain eight, Marvin Sheets yesterday led his squad to a 30 to 0 half-time score over Jack Gottschang's men in the second week of intramural play-off.

The other squads, captained respectively by Bill Toasperm and Akamain, were deadlocked in a 6 to 6 tie at half time.

Akamain came out of the first week's encounter in first place by virtue of his 12 to 0 triumph over Gottschang's gridders. Second place is occupied jointly by the gridders led by Marvin Sheets and Bill Toasperm. They came out of their skirmish tied at 12 points each. Gottschang's gridders ended up in the cellar because of their defeat at the hands of the leaders.

Board Of Strategy

Casaba Coach Blesh Makes Plans For Opening Games Of Season

With basketball season just around the corner, Ed Blesh, new basketball mentor, is busy on the telephone scheduling games and making plans in general for his proteges so that they can take to the maple by the first of December.

An attempt is now being made to organize a freshman team if there is any way possible to secure transportation to other schools. Blesh has already made plans for a second squad but there will probably be such a large number of frosh out for the team that he is going to try and get a team even though freshmen are eligible for the varsity this year. There will be a number of Junior colleges and high schools wanting games and he wants the freshmen to play them if possible.

NO INFORMATION
The new coach does not have any information on the frosh or Junior college men for this season, but he stated that he will have a better idea of his new material after the meeting Thursday noon. New men coupled with last year's veterans should provide a quintet that will give any team in this sector a real battle.

Returning veterans are led by Bill Helbush and Bert Robinson. Helbush was the runner-up in scoring last season behind Don Boysen, who graduated last spring. Helbush and Robinson were the nucleus of last year's squad, which was a high-scoring outfit in spite of the fact that they lost more games than they won.

ATTEND MEETING
All men who are out for football or soccer and who plan to go out for basketball are urged to attend the basketball meeting in room 24, Thursday, at 12:20 p.m.

Even The Smell Can Be Eaten
By DICK FRY
When Dr. William Poytress told his class in War Economics that due to scientific advances in the field of food dehydration one could now get hamburger that resembles redwood chips, he didn't know the half of it.

An excerpt from a Honolulu sheet entitled, "This is War on the Economic Front," and post-dated to 1943, puts the Doc to shame. It runs:
"Trading was brisk this morning on shares in Pine-Pin, Inc., a device invented by Jim Dole to make use of the residue of the pineapple after all the sliced fruit, juice, gratings, bran, hull, core, and stem have been utilized in the cannery. The new food, manufactured from the odor of fresh pineapple, is to be used as a wartime substitute for meat."
Tough luck, Doc, but we're afraid that meat from the odor of fresh pineapple beats your redwood-dust delicacy.

Two of last year's Spartan grid stars are really doing themselves proud on the Navy Pre-Flight 11 up at Moraga. Bill Rhyne and Allan Hardisty are the lads. Rhyne was the right halfback on last year's aggregation, while Hardisty played the fullback position. It was Hardisty who scored the touchdown against the COP Tiger last year.

He also passed and ran for one of the Sea Hawks' touchdowns last week. Rhyne also scored, besides being on the receiving end of Frankie Albert's passes.

SPORTS SCRAPS

By "SCRAPPY" SQUATRITO

It may be a little bit late, but at this time we'd like to extend congratulations to Coach Roy Diederichsen and his soccer squad for their inaugural victory last Saturday.

Always good for copy is Boxing Coach Dee Portal. If he isn't "drooling" about the prospects of his fistic squad, he pops up with some kind of invention. Last year it was the thumbless boxing gloves. Now it's a "human" punching bag. Details are in an adjoining story.

The student body will get a chance to meet the entire team at the rally Thursday night. Newly elected Captain Wilbur Wool and members of the coaching staff will give out with a few words on what the Tiger will look like after Saturday's tussle.

Hugh Manley, committee rally chairman, also informs us that we are scheduled to make an appearance. He said we were going to be an M. C., a master character, or something of the sort. Being a sports writer, we wouldn't know what all those stage abbreviations mean.

If everything goes as scheduled, the fans of the Golden Raiders are going to find an entirely new looking squad Saturday afternoon. Coach Tiny Hartranft has ordered new uniforms for the team. They will consist of blue jerseys with white numerals and white satin pants.

BOXING COACH PORTAL DOES IT AGAIN -- DREAMS UP "HUMAN" PUNCHING BAG FOR PUGILISTS

By JOHNNY HUBBARD

"Dee" Portal, San Jose's boxing coach and inventor of the thumbless boxing glove, has done it again.

This time he has dreamed up, believe it or not, a human punching bag—one that can dodge, and duck, and even hit back. And it isn't a complicated robot either. The beauty of the thing lies in its simplicity.

It's nothing more than a helmet, and yet it isn't like an ordinary boxing helmet. The old style headgear is something like a cut-down football helmet—built mainly to protect the fighter from a cut around the eyes, or a possible "cauliflower" ear.

DEE'S INVENTION

"Dee's invention, on the other hand, is built not only to avoid injuries of this sort, but to keep the fighter's head from being knocked around like a rubber ball by his opponent's punches. This is accomplished by a part of helmet that comes down over the shoulders, and keeps the head and body in a straight line—so that if a person wearing the helmet is hit on the head, his whole body absorbs the shock, not just his head and neck.

WON'T PULL PUNCHES

This means that a member of Portal's boxing team won't have to take it easy on his sparring partner when he is training for a

Stratagem Of Importance In Modern Global War --- Miss Clara Hinze

By DICK FRY

This war is a global war and in order to get a true picture of the present geographical set-up, its relation to and influence upon this war, it is necessary to study the positions of the various countries upon a globe and not from flat maps, Miss Clara Hinze told the War Aims class yesterday.

Miss Hinze pointed out to the group that to think in terms of flat surfaces gives the observer a completely distorted view of the actual positions of certain strategically located areas.

"In order to get a true understanding of the actions of peoples and nations it is essential that one know under what conditions—climatic as well as political and economic—these various groups function.

CLIMATIC INFLUENCE
 "Climatic conditions, in fact, determine to a very large extent the economic and therefore the political directions which a certain section may take. For instance, slavery was due largely to a climatic factor. Immigrants from western Europe settling in the south-eastern portion of the United States were not adapted to such a humid climate and the intensive heat tended to sap their strength and give them a very lackadaisical attitude. But there was still the problem of planting and harvesting crops if the landowner was to keep possession of his acreage—so the Negro was imported from Africa. This same climate which had proved so non-conducive to work for the middle-European, acted as a mild elixir to the black men from north Africa. Thus the system of slavery was established because of certain differing climatic conditions and their effect upon man.

"The environment of man is today world-wide—not limited to a locality a few miles square as in the recent past. Today man is within convenient reach of the entire globe and this feature is playing a large part in the present war. Lands which were once isolated and therefore of very little use in the economic life of the rest of the world are now becoming of utmost importance in the race for resources upon which to back this war.

VACANT LANDS
 "Especially interesting at this time is a true picture of the heretofore dark regions to the north. In the northern hemisphere, it is important that these areas be clearly outlined and understood. Comparatively vacant areas of the earth's surface are today determining the actions of many countries in their strivings to obtain living space.

"When America declared its neutrality policy shortly after the outbreak of the war in Europe, we included in it a clause calling for defense of the Western Hemisphere. Few people realize what an area this covers—North America, South America, southern Greenland, most of the Pacific ocean, the western half of Iceland, the Azores, New Zealand, and the like. Since two-thirds of all land surfaces of the globe are in the north-north-eastern tip of the Soviet Union. To say then that we will defend the Western Hemisphere is more of a statement than first meets the eye.

THREE THINGS IMPORTANT
 "Geographical factors will not only play an important part in this conflict, but they should contribute greatly to the pace that will follow. In determining geographical boundaries after the war three things should be taken into consideration: What do countries actually need in order to continue to function in a normal manner? Where are these materials located? and How can they obtain them?"

WAAC Officer To Talk To Co-eds

Lt. Mary E. McGlenn of the WAACs will speak to the women students Thursday morning from 10:34 to 11:12 in the Morris Dailey auditorium, and following the assembly Lt. McGlenn will be available for questions and interviews in the Dean of Women's office, Dean Helen Dimmick announces.

This lecture has been arranged by the Army and will be of utmost interest to every woman student, especially those who have intentions of joining the WAACs, she said.

Faculty women who are interested are also urged to attend.

 bout. He won't have to worry about hurting the fellow on the receiving end of his punches. This will keep him from developing a very bad habit—that of pulling his punches, or, in other words, not putting his weight behind his blows. This habit, often picked up in training, very possibly keeps a fighter from being as hard a hitter as he could be.

Portal is having test models made now, and expects to have them ready in time for his team to use in training this season.

Vote today on your constitution, but read it over first. Here are the rules and regulations that your council will come under if you give your vote of approval. This constitution has not grown out of any one head. It has been under constant revision for two years. It has now been shaped into something well worth accepting.

CONSTITUTION OF CLASS OF 1944

Article I EXECUTIVE

Section 1. The president, vice-president, secretary-treasurer, and Student Council representative shall be elected by the class.

Sec. 2. The president, vice-president, secretary-treasurer and three other sophomores shall form the Executive Council of the class of 1944.

Sec. 3. The Student Council representative may serve on the Executive Council, but if not, is automatically a member of the general council.

Sec. 4. The president, vice-president, and secretary-treasurer shall each choose one member of the Executive Council.

Sec. 5. The Executive Council shall execute all class activities except where such jurisdiction is specifically prohibited.

Article II LEGISLATIVE

Section 1. The Executive Council of six and a general council of ten shall together act as the legislative body of the class.

Sec. 2. The Executive Council shall elect ten members of the class to act as a general council, or nine members of the Student Council representative is not appointed to the Executive Council.

Sec. 3. The two councils, acting as one, shall pass by a majority vote all legislation necessary to the business of the class.

Article III ADMINISTRATIVE

Section 1. The Executive Council shall choose from the council at large the following administrative officers: A.W.A. Representative, and Publicity Manager.

Clause 1. No member of the executive committee, except the vice-president, may hold more than one office. He may hold only one other office in addition to his regular office.

Sec. 2. Only council members may be committee heads.

Article IV POWERS OF THE PRESIDENT

Section 1. The president shall have the right to veto any legislation passed by the class council.

Sec. 2. The legislative body may over-ride the president's veto by an affirmative vote of two-thirds of those present at a meeting.

Article V MEETINGS

Section 1. Regular meetings shall be weekly. They shall be at the call of the president, and must be announced at least two days before. A quorum is necessary to conduct business.

Sec. 2. Any member of either council who fails to attend two meetings without excuse shall be warned twice by the secretary and then be suspended from the council if they do not attend the third meeting. Suspended members must be replaced at the same meeting.

Article VI ADMENDMENTS

Section 1. This charter may be amended by a two-thirds vote of the class at any regular meeting providing that said amendment has been introduced, in writing, at the previous regular meeting.

Respectfully submitted,
 LOREN NICHOLSON,

Spring Quarter Prexy
 of Class of 44

 opinion as to the capability of his squad and its position regarding the COP game.

Head Yell Leader Ed Kincaid, aided by his new assistants, Paul Mallen and Bob Johnson, will be on hand to add to the vocal spirit of the occasion, while the college marching band promises further boosting of morale. Added arrangements for entertainment, according to "Scrappy" Squatrito, have also been completed.

CARD STUNTS

Members of the rooting sections at the COP game will participate in card stunts, as compiled by the Rally Committee. Chairman of the committee in charge is Marty Taylor. Other members of the group are Jack Elmer, John Jameson, Bobbie Allen, Thelma Simpson, Joan Snider, Margie Sullsch, Arilee Hansen, Bill White and Bob Col.

"Those desiring to sit in the rooting section must wear white shirts (men) and blouses (women)," stated Rally Chairman Hugh Manley. It is also suggested that student body members remain in the stands until after the singing of the college hymn.

In charge of the flag-raising ceremony at the game will be Bob Col and Scrappy Squatrito. Members of the banner committee are Bill White and Hank Imsen.

JOB SHOP

A local store is in need of a shipping clerk from 8:30 to 5 or 6. Two students, if interested, could divide their time to fit their programs.

Board and room is offered to someone who will wait in tables from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m.

Service station attendants are still needed. Hours are to be arranged and pay is 50 cents an hour.

If you are experienced, a drug store job will net you 75 cents an hour. Work-time is from 4 to 8:30 p.m. on week days and from noon to 9 or 10 p.m. on Saturdays.

A bus boy may find a position for Saturday and Sunday work. Pay is four dollars a day and meals.

KNICK KNACKS

 serve caught destroying property can be COURT-MARTIALED. Remember, you're not a civilian now. You're on reserve with the United States ARMY, MARINES, OR NAVY. You come under their jurisdiction in case you commit a crime. San Jose State doesn't have to be hit on the head to realize the seriousness of such acts as COP committed on our campus the other evening. Maybe their student body can afford to pay for such acts of violence, but we can't. Our budget has had to be cut already this year. We knew we were superior as far as football teams go, but now we know that we have COP beat in every way. So when they come to visit us, just help them pin their diapers up and let's forget it.
