Size Of La Torre Depends Upon Student Response To Campaign

"The 1943 La Torre will be a ten-page condensed year-book or an annual approaching the size of the 213-page 1942 edition, depending on the student response to our present campaign," announces Jerry Becker, business manager.

The business staff has set up a sales goal of 1500 books, and at present little more than 400 have been sold, according to Becker. "We must sell those 1500 La Torres if the standard of the yearbook is to be upheld," he states.

This week has been designated as "Buy a La Torre Week" by the yearbook staff. A sales booth has been set up in the quad, and in addition 20 student salesmen will cover the campus during the week selling La Torre advance subscriptions.

"Students leaving school before next June for the armed services or war work can be assured of receiving their La Torre," states Becker. "The permanent home address of the purchaser is being placed on the advance subscription form, and in the event that the student is not in school when the yearbook is published next June, we will send the La Torre to his home address."

The advance subscription price will be $3.00 this week. Next Monday the price will go up. The last week of this quarter is the deadline for buying the yearbook, states Becker.

"Hayloft Hop" Bids Now On Sale

"Our seventh annual Hayloft Hop is going to be a real old-fashioned country-style barn dance," states Jerry Becker, president of Alpha Pi Omega, on-campus fraternity.

The barn dance given each fall in honor of their pledges is to be held this Saturday night at the Swiss American Barn. Music for the dance will be provided by Al Maas and his "Corn Huskers". Maas promises that there will be a few novelty numbers in keeping with the theme, but he said the music would be mostly the latest type of popular pieces.

"No city slickers will be allowed," says Becker. "We would like to see every one who intends to really enjoy themselves over the week end at the Hayloft Hop."

The barn, located south of the city limits on the Almaden road, will be decked out in hay and straw and all of the rest of the fixings that will lend to the rural atmosphere of the occasion. An added attraction, according to Refreshment Chairman John Watson, will be the serving of plenty of "old-fashioned" apple cider.

Bids are now on sale, and may be purchased from any member of APO or from the Controller's office. The price of the bids will remain the same as last year's bids—$1.10, announced Promotion Chairman Tom Marshall.

CARS FOR BAND

Attendance of the San Jose State Marching Band at the SJ-USF game in San Francisco on Sunday depends upon student body members here.

Since opportunity for other transportation facilities has grown scarce, those possessing five or six passenger cars have been asked to bring five band members to and from the football game.

Assurance that expenses, including all those of the driver, will be paid in excess was made by Band Instructor Thomas Eagen, who stated: "Whether or not you appreciate the numerous appearances and spirit of the college band will be shown by your response to this plea."

If interested, sign up with Mr. Eagen this week.

WAR AIMS CLASS TO HEAR POYTRESS

Combining the lectures scheduled for October 15 and 19, Dr. William Poytress will discuss the military and economic organization for war in the United States before the War Aims class in room 24 today.

Today's talk will be the first in the second group dealing with America at War and will introduce a series of discussions concerning the present situation. Other speakers in the second group include: Dr. Earl Campbell on political organization for war, Mr. Claude Settles on social effects of the war, Mr. Brokenshire on propaganda and total war, Dean DeVoss on education and the war, and Miss Bernice Tompkins on problems of civilian defense.

PLEDGES

Sororities End Rushing Season After Two Weeks Of Traditional Parties

Ending two whirling weeks of the traditional rushing, filled with parties of every description, silence days, preference and bidding, eight campus sororities held their pledge services Friday night.

Eight variations of pledge pins appeared on the campus Monday morning and the sororities present their new pledges are as follows:

ALLENIAN

Transportation Group To Distribute Cards Tomorrow

Plans for distribution of questionnaires among students in 9 and 10 o'clock classes tomorrow morning were completed at yesterday's meeting of the College Transportation committee.

Members of the Spartan Spears and Spartan Knights, women's and men's service organizations, will pass out the "swap-a-ride" cards to classes at those hours, in a collective effort to reach the greatest possible percentage of enrolled students.

Filling out of the cards, which all students are urged to do, calls for name, address, et al., of the person; whether or not he owns a car, and if he has room for additional passengers when he drives to and from school.

PRECINCT NUMBERS

Maps, indicating the several precincts into which San Jose and outlying districts are divided, will be up on bulletin boards around the halls today and tomorrow. Students are asked to check which precinct their residence is in, as the precinct number will be asked in the questionnaires.

The College Transportation committee has been formed for the purpose of furnishing information and making recommendations on student cars to the city Tire Rationing board. Later on the committee will also co-operate with the Gas Rationing board in the same way.

Commerce Majors To Hold Dinner

Only "get acquainted" dinner of the year is offered to all commerce secondary majors Tuesday, October 27, in the Pompeian court of O'Brien's.

Dr. Atkinson requests that all commerce secondary majors sign up in the commerce office immediately. Gene Long, chairman of the affair, has announced that a speaker is planned for the affair.

Long is being assisted by Helen Donovan, Margery Behrman, Bethel Beattie and Eldin Mahoney. Faculty advisors for the dinner are Norma Gillespie and Mel Wright.

BETA GAMMA CHI

Fry's Tired

Now Oroville, somewhere in California, isn't a very big town. In fact, it's doubtful if it is large enough to support more than one family with the surname "Fry".

And yet a recent report from that mountain community indicates that someone by the name of Fry was apprehended for stealing and bootlegging tires.

Our own Dick Fry, Junior Journalism major from Oroville, denies any knowledge of the story, but the report, coupled with Fry's nocturnal activity of late, has caused some speculation as to the size of the tire ring and the part a San Jose representative might be playing in the entire proceedings.

But even without pointing an accusing finger, we wanted the facts, as we know them, to be known.

EXAMINATIONS

LIEUTENANT J. C. DIXON GIVING TESTS FOR THOSE STUDENTS INTERESTED IN ENLISTING AS AIR CORPS TECHNICIANS

Lt. J. C. Dixon, of the Army Air Corps, and his staff of examiners are now giving vocational and mental tests upstairs in the Student Union building for enlistment in the Army Air Corps Technicians, announces Dean of Men Paul Pitman.

Lt. Dixon represents the technical branch of the Air Corps. He outlined the opportunity offered men in the Air Corps

War Chest Drive Closes Today

"So near and yet so far." This might be said of the success of the War Chest drive. At a counting last night, the individual contribution total amounted to $2430, just $70 short of the $2500 goal toward which the Chest drive committee has been striving since October 7.

The drive will officially close this noon, announces Don DeVoss, chairman. After that cash contributions to fill out pledges made during the past two weeks will still be accepted in the Dean of Women's and Dean of Men's offices, states DeVoss.

"Organization contributions will still be accepted, also. I hope that every on-campus fraternity, sorority and club has participated in the Chest drive, for one that hasn't can't be counted as a worthy part of our integrated school life," says DeVoss.

"Many organizations have made pledges which have as yet not been fulfilled. We would appreciate it if these organizations would make a cash contribution covering their pledge as soon as possible," announces the drive chairman.

Yesterday $130 was given to the Chest. Friday following an inspirational talk by Lt. Beth Veley, more than $700 was contributed, to bring the total within respectable distance of the Chest goal.

FRESHMAN DANCE THURSDAY NIGHT

The freshmen "What's Your Name" dance will be held in the Men's gym Thursday night between 7 and 10 o'clock. Only freshmen will be admitted and only with student body cards. The cost is ten cents. The profits made from the dance will be put in the treasury of the freshmen class to be used for later affairs.

Everyone should come to the stag dance as the purpose of the party is to get acquainted with the other members of the class. There will be lots of freshman entertainment.

Tonight at 4 o'clock there will be a meeting of the temporary freshmen council in room 24 or the Morris Dailey auditorium. All freshmen are urged to come and offer suggestions.

GAME TICKETS

Tickets for the SJ-USF football game, consisting of a 15 cent tax, must be purchased by Friday, was the word from the Business office today. They may be obtained at the Controller's office in the Student Union on presentation of student body cards.

ground school at an assembly last week, stressing the need for air force mechanics.

Physical exams for those qualifying through the physical and mental tests will be given starting Wednesday at the Army induction center, 49 4th street, San Francisco.

Anyone interested in mechanics with a fair amount of aptitude is urged to investigate the plan offered by the Air Corps ground school. Because the training stations are so short of men in the ground school, the applicant can pick his station from any of the three bases offered: Sacramento, Stockton, and Bakersfield.

Enlistment in the Air Corps Technicians will be closed October 31, according to Dixon. Chances for advancement are excellent for college men. If a commission is not forthcoming, a top non-commissioned rating is almost assured the enlistee with the proper ability and aptitude.

The physical requirements are not as strict as those for the Air Corps pilot, bombardier, or navigator cadet schools, states Dixon. The examining board is interested in finding men with mechanical ability. "If you have this ability, we need you," says Dixon.

Dixon will be on hand in the Student Union to answer any questions men may have regarding the Air Corps Technicians. He urges that Spartans look over the advantages of enlistment in this branch of the service while the opportunity is still open and before local draft boards have sent out induction notices.

"Male Animal" Sets Ready For Painting

Stage sets for "The Male Animal," three-act comedy scheduled for presentation four evenings next week, Wednesday through Saturday, in the Little Theater have been erected and are ready for painting and the final touches, Wendell Johnson, speech faculty member and designer of the sets, announced yesterday.

The initial set, the living room in the home of an English professor in a small college, will be simple but will include one novel effect: the audience will watch the action through the living room fireplace. That is the fireplace will be located down stage immediately in front of the audience.

The audience will look over fire irons and the reflection from the fire to watch the stage business. The fireplace will, of course, not interfere with the audience's view of the play.

Meantime, the cast has been rehearsing daily, according to Ted Hatlen, director, and the cast, though somewhat short on rehearsal time, should be ready to give the best performances next week.

FOX POP

By KENNY FOX

Dick Fry, Jack Wright, Tiny Santos and I hustled out Saturday morning to knock over 18 holes before game time. I guess I showed 'em—why, none of them even made a hundred.

It had been quite some time since I'd played, but I got up early and shaved the sprouts off my woods. I had a little trouble with my mid-iron, though; every time I went to use it a vine ran up my sleeve.

I really didn't mind when they suggested that I caddy for the foursome, but I had to object when they wanted me to carry 'em out to the course.

The authorities balked at letting me on the course at first—they claimed my driver belonged in a tool shed. We tossed to see who would tee off first; I lost—they tossed me into the water hazard.

Dick looked pretty good from the first, so we gave him a handicap—we broke his leg.

It was a pretty dangerous game, I guess; Jack must have killed 14 snakes by the time we reached the eighth green.

Tiny shot a bird on the tenth—no, I mean a bird; he knocked a sleeping owl out of a tree.

We saw Rozellah Ryan on the course; she spent three hours trying to prove that the shortest distance between two points is not a straight line, then spent two hours trying to prove she hadn't lost any golf balls.

I got my foot caught in the thirteenth cup and before I could get out, a caddy tied a white flag around my neck.

It was fun, anyway, even though we weren't quite certain who won—there wasn't quite enough margin on the score cards.

JOB SHOP

From 8 to 10 men students may help to move equipment in a manufacturing company for 73 cents an hour at least four hours a day.

Delivery work, preferably in the mornings, is offered locally at 50 cents an hour.

There is still a great need for a dishwasher here on the campus. A 20 per cent discount on the price of meals and 45 cents an hour are given.

Nine dollars a week may be earned by working in a drugstore from 5 to 8:30 on week nights and from 8:30 to 1 and 6 to 8:30 on Sundays.

From the Appointment office come these two openings for women:

Home economics grads who could do experimental work in foods may work part or full time in a packing house at 60 cents an hour.

KNICK'S KNACKS

By LOREN NICHOLSON

Space shortage gave this kolumn the squeeze in Monday's paper, so I was unable to say:

ALLENIAN all-starred all war-chest contributions when they hit a homer to the tune of $50 in cold cash. This is the biggest organization contribution that has yet been made on the campus. Girls, you can play on our team any old time.

PATRIOTISM from the masses. The rally committee made 81 cents selling cokes—ALPHA PHI OMEGA closed out a bindex account—Pitman listened to Beth Veley and pulled out all he had in his pocket—all of these became contributions to the war chest.

Reports from the Controller's office showed contributions from—ZETA CHI, SIGMA GAMMA OMEGA, and DELTA THETA OMEGA. Thanx a million.

"Gas Wounds Need Quick Treatment, Delay Will Result In Serious Injury," Is Statement Issued By Dr. Rhodes

By BOB POPE

Dr. Robert Rhodes attended the civilian protection school last summer, sponsored by the War Department, at Stanford University. Dr. Rhodes is the war gas officer for San Mateo county and has experimented with household protection mustard gas.

"Mustard gas must be treated quickly," he said, "or a burn will result."

He demonstrated three burns on his arm. One, which was treated two minutes after being affected by the gas, left no noticeable scar. A second burn, which had been treated four minutes after the gas applied, showed a sizeable scar. A third, which was treated after ten minutes elapsed, is still an open sore the size of a quarter. This was caused by a very small amount of the liquid gas several weeks ago.

Dr. Rhodes has discovered the best household protection the gas is to treat the eyes with two per cent baking soda solution, and then get into a shower washing the body thoroughly, except the eyes, with cloxol, water. As the armed forces use all the commercial treatments for the gas, civilians have to use a substitute.

"In the event that the Pacific coast should be attacked by liquid mustard gas," said Rhodes, "this treatment will probably be given immediately on radio."

MARSHALL MUMBLES

By TOM MARSHALL

Well, it looks as though rush season is here again. Rush—that's Hungarian for "We're treating him nice now, but eventually we'll be able to make ends meet." Was a pledge myself last year. Okay, take that gun out of my back. I'll say I enjoyed it.

Fraternity life is great though. Nothing like having a lot of brothers you can lend your favorite shirts and sweaters to. Then, too, it's always nice to have a dozen wolves huddled around you while you try to make a hit with that cute gal you met in your World Lit class.

The brothers get a big bang out of torturing you with a big "bull session" while you're trying to do your math. Pretty soon you say, "Oh the heck with it" and announce you are going to bed. You get out in the middle of the room, wind the clock, say sarcastically, "Put the cat out when you leave, fellows," and dive for the bed. Of course they catch on and g'night and then continue at the point they were discussing before they were "so rudely interrupted."

After you have been asleep about an hour, some jealous comes in to get you up for 6:45 K. P. It wouldn't hurt much if he didn't stand over you and gloat while you stare around trying to put your clothes on with your eyes still glued shut.

Oh well, you still have to pledge. Kinda nice to have much respect even though it's slightly forced. Slightly forced that's fraternity slang for hit again; he resented that last year. One thing that pledging does, it builds up your arms. Then, pledges aren't sent after the names and addresses of those co-eds to ridicule them. Yes, sir, pledge season certainly is fun (for members).

REGISTER NOW!

People are inclined to "put off until tomorrow what can be done today." To many of these people, tomorrow never comes—they either forget altogether or they put it off until another tomorrow.

Persons like the above described make appeals, pleas and campaigns necessary. These people are the ones that must be continually "urged" to do things that they ought to have done voluntarily. In the recent War Chest drive every one was willing to give a dollar but there were so many students who dilly-dallied around that it took almost three weeks of urging and reminding to get students to give a donation they wanted to give from the first.

Tomorrow, during the nine and ten o'clock classes, questionnaires will be passed out to each student attending classes during those hours. The questionnaire is being distributed by the College War Transportation committee in an effort to conserve rubber by the wisest possible use of cars transporting students to and from school.

The committee will make recommendations to the local tire and gasoline rationing authorities both as to the general status of our transportation and as to the desirability of granting commuting students special gas ratings.

When all students have filled out the questionnaire the results will be tabulated and a large spot map will be made showing where all students and faculty members live whether they drive cars or not. Those who fail to register will not be considered and hence will not share in the benefits of the survey.

You will have to register or you won't be assured of transportation which would mean dropping out of school.

Since you have to register, why not register now? It will facilitate things for the committee and you will have a much better chance of having your transportation problems worked out by the committee before gasoline rationing comes along.

If you haven't a class at nine or ten tomorrow, get a questionnaire and fill it out before you go home. You'll have to do it eventually if you continue to come to school. Do it now! Don't have to be "urged."

CAMPUS COMMENT

By DEAN THOMPSON

Lieutenant J. C. Dixon really made an impression with many of the industrial arts students when he outlined the Army Air Corps Technicians plan.

As a matter of fact, almost half of one class is on the verge of signing up, according to "one of the boys".

Warren Hageman, president of Alpha Phi Omega, is reportedly one of the undecided group. Looks as though you'd better get ready for another election, APOers.

Of the 5000 students that were reported to have heard Lieutenant Beth Veley, only 721 reached down into their coin purse for some of the silver stuff.

In other words, six students stood around and watched another (Continued on page 4)

A secretary may work on an hourly basis in an attorney's office if she is able to do rapid typing and at least 100 words a minute of shorthand.

A Friend In Need

A beautiful Irish setter lay motionless in the quad.

Dean Paul Pitman touched it—it didn't move. Two La Torre representatives went, "Woof! woof!" Man's best friend ignored them completely.

Someone thought it was sick, and Miss Twombly of the Health office was called into action. She felt his pulse and his nose. One was beating, and the other was cold. That was a good sign, but it made the problem even more complex, for the dog showed no signs of life.

While authorities stood looking on, Claire Lawes went over to the Co-op and brought back a bowl of hot milk. The party of participants watched her set it under his nose, and—dog "life came to the party." The setter sat up and drank.

The dog is "man's best friend," and spectators proclaimed Miss Lawes the "dog's best friend."

OUT OF THE HUDDLE

By CHARLES COOK

That long sought after "test" for the Spartan gridgers failed to materialize Saturday when a weak Pacific squad receipted for a 29 to 0 trouncing. In the four games played thus far this season the State eleven has yet to be confronted by a tough, hard-charging line. Not enough real opposition has been offered by any of the teams to give the coaches or fans a chance to see how the Golden Raiders will perform under fire.

Sunday the situation will be reversed somewhat with the Spartans entering the fray as underdogs against the powerful USF Dons. Sunday a hot St. Mary's outfit galloped roughshod over the Dons and the previous week Loyola eked out a win over the Bay area boys.

Actually, however, the Don stock has not dropped in the estimation of rival coaches. They figure that Loyola caught the San Franciscans on an off day and that St. Mary's is out of their league as far as football class runs. Most of the prognosticators are of a divided opinion; some figure USF to be on the down grade after two successive losses, while the majority are predicting that the northerners will hit Sparta on the rebound and come forth with all their pre-season strength.

That the Dons are big and rough nobody can deny. Obvious, too, is the fact that they have the material on their squad for a great team. So, win, lose or draw Sunday, the Spartans will know they have been in one of their toughest games of the season.

The Varsity House, home of the hardy San Jose State athlete, has officially heralded the formal opening of its social season with the announcement of an Open House function to be held some time within the next two weeks. According to John Desalernos, resident manager, the "V" house will carry on in the traditional manner for the social season despite curtailment of other activities.

Tentative plans include a dance to be held in the sunken dining room and Desalernos has announced that there will probably be a slight fee levied on all house members for the purchase of suitable refreshments.

From all indications the Spartans will enter the USF game in the best physical shape of any contest so far. With a full week in which to work out the kinks and bruises incurred in the COP tussle, the gridmen should be in tiptop condition. Biggest worry of the coaches now is the knee injury of first string guard Hans Weidenhofer. He will be able to play only if the knee responds to treatment by the doctor this week.

Noon League Has 'Naturals' Lined Up

Boasting two "naturals", the Spartan Intramural Football League today swings into the third week of play on the San Carlos turf.

The "naturals" are the games between the undefeated and untied Akamian eight and the undefeated but once tied Sheets team and the battle of the league doormats, Toaspern and Gottschang, who are slated to fight it out for a chance to break into the win column for the first time this season.

Last week, Akamian led his gridgers to an 18 to 6 victory over Toaspern's eight.

Time for today's games to be played on the San Carlos turf has been set for 12:15.

LARGEST SQUAD IN HISTORY TURNS OUT FOR CAGE SEASON AS FIFTY MEN REPORT TO COACH

By JERRY VROOM

Basketball practice officially convened yesterday afternoon when the largest squad in the history of the school reported to Coach Ed Blesh. There were about 50 candidates in suit but Blesh expects the number to rise to 75 or 80 when football and soccer seasons are completed.

For the first three or four weeks practice will be confined to the very important fundamentals and conditioning work. Thursday of every week will be devoted to a light scrimmage. In order to record the boys' weights, the boys will be required to weigh in before practice every day and weigh out immediately after the session.

Each player will have to shoot 50 free shots daily and keep a chart of his shooting. This will be done either before or after practice.

Special emphasis will be placed on shooting with both hands this year. Blesh stated that each and every player should be capable of shooting with his left hand as well as with his right. This applies to the passing also. Drills that will be used mostly at first are the pepper circle drill, bull pen drill and the machine gun drill.

These drills are used to make the players more adept at passing and ball-handling. Blesh will also place an accent on the passing of the ball anywhere within reach of the player. Most coaches tell their players to pass to the other man's mid-section but this is not always correct, especially where there are tall players on the floor.

Pete Mesquita and Morris Turner will be managers for the team.

SPORTS SCRAPS

By "SCRAPPY" SQUATRITO

"We don't usually hand out orchids, but some one should give the people behind the students last Saturday a lot of credit. When they were put on we were up on press box, and those stunts were really perfect.

Marty Taylor, who was in charge of the affair, and members of the rally committee deserve a lot of credit for their success. Many of the rally committee girls worked on the direction cards during all of last week. Then they and some male members of the committee went to the Stadium Saturday morning to pin the directions on the seats, see that each card was right, and even went through one of the stunts.

We don't know all of the students' names, and even if we did, space would not permit us to print them, but we'd like to give all those who had anything to do with the card stunts three big cheers.

Sunday, the Spartans meet the Dons of the University of San Francisco. Last year the Dons had the better team and won by a 20 to 0 score, BUT the Spartan rooting section under Tom Taylor really stole the show. There will not be chartered buses for the game this year, so the number of Spartans who will attend the game will be considerably less.

However, if the students who do not attend the contest can give out morally as well as last year, the team on the field will really give all they've got.

Last Sunday the San Jose Winter Baseball League opened with several ex and present State stars showing to good advantage.

Most sensational of all was the performance of Cy "Call me Tyrone" Taylor. Coming to bat with three on in the first inning, Taylor smashed out a home run to lead the Permanente nine to a 7 to 2 victory over the P. M. He also banged out another hit later in the game.

Our star reporter of women sports came to our desk yesterday and handed us the following notice for the Women P. E. minors—quote:

Mrs. Sarah Wilson is pleased to announce that she will be "at home" tomorrow evening at 8 to members of the "Worthy Society of Women's Physical Education Minors". Mrs. Wilson's residence is 580 East William street in the exclusive new residential section of "Coyote Creek Crags". Mrs. Wilson will be in the receiving line at 8 o'clock sharp—unquote. Oh dear, dear, dear.

SHIN KICKERS WORK FOR CONTEST WITH U.S.F. HILLTOPPERS

Preparing to shoot the irons to the University of San Francisco for their second conference win this Saturday, Spartan soccermen went through two hours of tough scrimmage last night on the San Carlos turf.

With a week's rest behind them, Diederichsen's men will be at full strength for the green and gold men from the "Hilltop Hacienda" and are looking forward to handing El Don another defeat.

Always a toughie on the local's schedule, the Dons promise to give Roy's boys a little trouble again this year. However, with Arnerich and Racoosin off the injured list and the freshman members of the squad rounding rapidly into experienced hands, Diederichsen is looking forward to extending the Spartan win streak at the expense of the lads from the Hacienda.

Seeking to get as many games as possible under the team's belt before they meet the Strong University of California squad, Diederichsen was today fishing for a game with the Chilean and British naval teams in addition to a possible encounter with the St. Mary's Naval Pre-Flight eleven.

The Golden Bears hold wins over both the foreign naval teams and are pointing for their meet with the men from Washington Square. Since they have been practicing for nearly three months the Bears have a big edge over the relatively inexperienced Spartans who at present have played only one game.

Doubtful USF Starter

The hard-charging, bull-like rushes of varsity guard, Hans Weidenhofer, above, may be slowed down in Sunday's tilt against the Dons as a result of a knee injury suffered in the COP game. In the season's games to date he has proved himself a mainstay in the Spartan forward wall.

There will be a meeting of women's physical education minors tomorrow evening at Mrs. Wilson's home, 580 East William street, at 8 o'clock. All P. E. minors are urged to come.

Important Executive Meeting of the Rally Committee today in the Student Union at 12:15. The meeting concerns the by-laws. Please be there.—Hugh Manley.

How about a Coke date?

"We've been 'goin' steady' a long time, you and I. You see, I'm a symbol of the life and sparkle of Coca-Cola. Therefore, I speak for Coke. I like your company. I offer something more than a thirst-quenching drink. It's refreshing. Yes siree...it's got that extra something you can't get this side of Coca-Cola itself. Let's get together. Make it a Coke date."

NEWS BRIEFS

Out to disprove the old theory that the sophomore class always rests on its laurels gained the year before, Al Gross, soph president yesterday sent out a call for all second year students to attend the first soph council meeting Wednesday at 5 p. m. in room 24.

"We have quite a few class functions planned for this quarter," said Gross. "The first thing on the calendar will be the forthcoming Frosh-Soph Mixer. The class of '45 lost the mixer series last year by only one point to the class of '44," Gross added, "and will be out to avenge their defeat at the expense of the class of '46."

One important feature of the meeting will be the appointment of the co-chairman of the freshman-sophomore mixer. No definite date has been selected yet, but the affair is listed for some time within the next three weeks.

ORCHESTRAS TO MEET TONIGHT

Orchestra and Junior Orchestra members of last year will meet to determine the date for tryouts of new members tonight at 7 o'clock in the dance studio.

Many girls have inquired about joining Junior Orchestra. All those interested should see Miss Marjorie Lucas, faculty advisor, or Miss Myrtle Peters, president of the group.

The annual symposium of orchestra members from eight west coast colleges will meet at San Francisco State college December 5. Guest instructor will be either William Christensen of the San Francisco opera ballet or Katharine Dunham, famed modern dance stylist.

Each college will work on a project which it will present at the symposium. All girls in Orchestra are asked to sign up before December 5 so they can participate in this affair.

RED CROSS

College Group Holds Open House

With articles made so far this quarter by its members on display, the college unit of the Red Cross held an Open House tea yesterday afternoon from 2 until 6 p.m. in room 32.

An afghan, sweaters, scarves, caps and army helmets showed the progress being made by the knitting branch, while the sewing activities were shown by the men's hospital pajamas, pillows, pillow covers, and quilts on display.

An old-fashioned swift (yarn-winder) donated for the day by Mr. Claude N. Settles of the Social Science department, attracted much attention from the students and faculty members who attended the tea.

One table was covered with quilts, pillows, and other articles made at home by volunteers. Materials for this work were donated by the downtown headquarters.

Guests of honor were Mrs. M. D. Baker and Mrs. Florence Kirtredge, officers of the downtown branch of the Red Cross.

Wearing white uniforms trimmed in navy blue, and blue and white caps, members of the newly-formed student executive board assisted sewing captains in serving hot spice cider and cookies to guests.

Decorations for the tea were begonias and autumn leaves.

CAMPUS COMMENT

—Along that same line, it is interesting to note that the Job Shop isn't taking the column space that it did at the first of the quarter.

Students must be running low on money. Maybe the cost of living is higher this quarter than they expected it to be when they first arrived.

—A word might be said about the Movie Hour given by the Library staff each Thursday afternoon at 3. Each week an educational movie is shown to all interested students.

Generally speaking, the movies are put out by some industry or company. In spite of this, they are filmed to catch the interest of the average student. The commercial angle of the productions can easily be overlooked when you consider the educational value of the shows.

Why not see for yourself Thursday afternoon at 3? Is it a date?

THRUST and PARRY

CONTRIBUTORS' COLUMN

Dear Editor: Congratulations! Heartiest congratulations to the students and faculty of San Jose State college! At noon today the Community and War Chest is going over the top in its campaign for $250,000. Nothing less than real unity and real faith could have brought this tremendous achievement to pass.

Straight from the horse's mouth let me tell you that the decisive factor has been the college. Without the nearly $9000 we gave here, it couldn't have been done. Indeed, the extra, unexpected contribution of you students—more than $2600—provided an inspirational lift to the men and women downtown which can never be measured in dollars and cents.

I am proud of the college, proud of you. The world is already so full of agonizing tragedy—how unfortunate it would have been if any one of us had cut himself off from the rest of the world through refusal or failure to share!

This noon President MacQuarrie, Don DeVoss, and I will take the final contributions to the Victory Luncheon in your name. We shall bring back the heartfelt thanks of all of San Jose.

Sincerely yours,
Paul M. Pitman.

Inter-Collegiate Forum Resumed On Station KFRC

The Inter-Collegiate Forum round table discussions each Saturday afternoon on radio station KFRC have been resumed. Scheduled to participate with representatives from 10 other universities and colleges of the bay area it was announced yesterday by Miss Lawson, faculty debate advisor.

Two students, Tom Griffin and Henry Leland, participated Sunday in the first of the year's program. With representatives from San Francisco State college they discussed "Problems of Voters in Time".

Next Sunday at 4 p.m., Hume, senior speech major, will participate with students from Stanford and the San Francisco College for Women in an informal discussion: "Should We Abandon Academic Programs Favor of War Work?"

The programs are scheduled to run throughout the school year, according to Miss Lawson, and division students from San Jose are scheduled to talk frequently.

Each of the programs will be of an informal nature with five or six students and a faculty member participating.

Other schools to be represented in the series are: Stanford University of California at Berkeley, St. Mary's, Santa Clara, San Francisco State College, University of San Francisco, Mills College, College of Pacific, San Francisco College for Women and College of Holy Names.

Attention, Freshmen: There will be a council meeting today in Morris Dailey auditorium at 7:30. There will be discussion of a future party and addition to council. Every member of the organization is invited to attend.

Would the following sororities Delta Beta Sigma, Beta Gamma Chi, and Allenian, please send representatives to arrange dates for informal shots for La Torre before Wednesday evening.

— Erle Madison
