Social Affairs committee furthered plans for the girl ask boy turn-about dance set for Saturday, February 24, when they met yesterday. Theme for the dance will be "Cinderella Takes A Fella."

It was definitely decided that the dance will be a dressy affair. Committee members auditioned Sonny Walker's orchestra last night for the dance. Results of the audition will be announced tomorrow.

The two days preceding the dance will be called "Coed Daze." During these days women students on campus are expected to get in the spirit of the affair by treating men to cokes and such things as walking them to school or taking them to a show.

Women are expected to call for their dates the night of the dance. According to Elaine Chadbourne, committee chairman, this should be the chance all the lovely Spartan coeds have been waiting for, and she says, "Snag your men early girls, while they are still available."

Decorations committee for the dance is Betty Eubanks, Janet McIntosh, Dot McCully, Stephen Voorhees, Penny Kilewer, and Joance McInnes. Pat Poulsen is in charge of making posters for dance publicity.

Bulletin!

San Jose State's 1945 basketball team wound up a hectic season in the Spartan gym last night by being on the receiving end of an 80 to 45 trouncing at the hands of a classy quintet from Ford Ord. The locals were without the services of Don McCaslin in their final game, though 18 points by Jack Marcipan and 15 by Bill Sheppard kept the game from being a complete rout.

The heavy scoring for the soldiers was contributed by Norden, former Phillips Oilers center and Warren, Fort Ord forward. Norden accounted for 28 points while Warren rang up 23 markers to aid in the Spartans' downfall.

The score at half time was 41 to 16 in favor of Ford Ord.

SGT. DAVE HINES, STATE ATHLETE, KILLED IN ACTION

Paratroop Sgt. Dave Hines, former Spartan football and wrestling star, was killed in Belgium January 21, according to a War Department telegram.

Hines distinguished himself in wrestling while attending State, twice winning Pacific Intercollegiate titles. He captained the SJS team in his senior year. Although lacking in previous experience, Hines won several honors in varsity football.

Before his entrance into the service, he became the Guard of the Spartan Knights.

Sgt. Hines was engaged to Miss Dorisse Thomassen, music major here. He is survived by his mother, Wilma J. Hines, and his two sisters, Mildred Hines, secretary to the Naval commandant in San Francisco, and Laura Mae Hines, connected with the U. S. Embassy in Bolivia.

FACULTY-STUDENT FORUM DISCUSSES JAPANESE RETURN TODAY AT 12:15

"The Return of the Japanese Americans" will be the title of the student-faculty forum which will be held in the Student Union today at 12:15 o'clock.

The forum is part of the Student Christian Association's campus observance of National Brotherhood week. It has been arranged by the SCA's Race Relations committee, under the chairmanship of Muriel Waltz.

SPEAKERS

Speakers will be Dr. Blanche Carrier, and George Stone representing the faculty, and students Bill Gray and Ed Marion. Bob James, executive secretary of the college SCA, will act as moderator.

The problem of the Japanese-American's return to the West Coast will be presented by the speakers, who will give their own answers. The meeting will then be opened to discussion from the floor.

All students are invited to attend the forum, and SCA members are especially urged to be there to contribute their ideas to the discussion.

"It is essential that the Supreme Court decision (regarding the War Department order permitting Japanese-Americans to return) be supported. That means students at San Jose must know the facts about returning evacuees," declares James.

MEMBERSHIP SUPPER

Tomorrow's Brotherhood week activity will consist of a membership supper at Alexander Hall in the YMCA, sponsored jointly by the SCA and the San Jose Council for Civic Unity.

Tickets are available in the SCA office in the Student Union. Over 100 members and prospective members are expected to attend.

The film-strip "We Are All Brothers" will be shown at the supper, and a panel discussion will be held on the subject "San Jose's Only Road to Civic Unity," with speakers representing various social, business, and educational groups in San Jose.

BEHIND THE SCENES

By MARGARET MOORE

Footsteps — unknowingly walking right into — Clank!

"Yii, we got 'im. We got a man! Now let him out of the bear trap and let's see what we've got.

Not at all nonplussed, Vern Parrish steps gallantly into the heretofore jinxed part of Dick, the leading man in the "Spartan Revelries of 1945."

Sherman Thomas, first cast in the part, was called to the colors (to say that he was drafted is such a bad way of putting it!), leaving a lonely group of girls, the rest of the cast, not counting a few men, very few, who took other parts.

Dick, the lieutenant fresh from the wilds of China (fresh, you can say that again!), is the leading man's part and nearly all the girls in the cast get the opportunity to flirt with him.

Vern Parrish is a veteran. Personally we don't see how much else can happen to him in this world, so perhaps he'll last out. Playing the part of the smooth sophisticated Dick with a shy boyishness that belies itself, Vern is having fun. (We hope! — the entire cast of women has devoted itself to keeping him happy!)

Although he hasn't had time before to take part in college productions, Vern has had previous experience in high school plays.

A junior this year, Vern left school as a freshman to enter the horse cavalry. He was a member of the Spartan Debate, but this will be his first appearance in a State production.

FORMER SPARTAN PAYS TRIBUTE TO DAVE HINES

(Editor's note: We received this article yesterday from Lieutenant Carl Moyer, who has just returned from overseas duty in the Pacific. Moyer attended San Jose State college in 1941, and knew Dave Hines as his friend. We feel that his words are worthy of being passed on to all Spartans, both to those who knew Dave, and to those who didn't.)

I want to write about a Spartan who I know more about than any other person, in regard to his past life at State and his heroic career in the service of his country as a U. S. Paratrooper. Dave and I were classmates in the Police school prior to the war, and he later followed on to the Parachute school at Fort Benning at the opening of the war as a judo instructor.

Previous to this, I had been the officer in charge of judo training at the Paratrooper school. Later I was in charge of the same training at the Australian Parachute school in Australia.

I know that Sgt. Dave Hines will be one of the everlasting mortals of San Jose State when the final curtain of this war comes to its end. He was known to all in the classroom, on the mat, and the gridiron.

Like many others, he carried on for the service of his country, choosing the branch of service with the most to be had of adventure. I wish to dedicate the meaning of true paratrooping to Dave Hines, because in him you can realize the kind of trooper that we in the United States have to fight this inevitable war with.

Paratrooping is volunteering on the individual's own part, and thousands like Dave took it upon themselves to become one of the "Athletes of the Sky," as Grantland Rice referred to them. When in combat we like to think of ourselves as the "Wild Men From Heaven" or the "One Man Army."

Truly it is the adventure of all adventure with a physical satisfaction only known by the person himself. It belongs to the man with the courage of a do or die American, one for all and all for one. Many, many stories will come out of the infantry who took to the silk.

We read of the glorification of the Air Force and the Marines, but never do we think of the ground hog infantry. It is the life blood of a nation; and for that grand feeling of being the backbone of a nation, the Paratrooper has been given the honor to represent that infantry by coming in to the foe with a parachute as his transportation.

We should take our hats off to the infantryman, and when you see one with the parachute emblem on his cap, wings on his chest, and the boots shining in the sun, it's the infantry, your life blood, and Dave Hines, who died as to his choice. By this article I prove to you that I know, because I shared that glory, with Dave, as a combatant paratrooper in the combat intelligence section of the Sixth Army that marched straight into Manila and will continue on to Tokyo.

"Gory, gory — what a hell of a way to die, but the Yanks go marchin' on." This is the song of the paratrooper as he prepares to hit the silk.
