AWA MEMBERS VOTE TO JOIN ASSOCIATION

AWA voted to become a member of the Inter-Collegiate Association of Women Students at yesterday's meeting. The action was taken as a result of an invitation from the national organization.

Also under discussion during the meeting were plans for the use of the Student Union. It was voted that the Union be open until 8 o'clock on Wednesday evenings for the benefit of women students who must wait for sorority meetings.

The quarterly AWA Red Cross sewing day will be Wednesday, June 6, according to Co-chairmen June Storni and Joanne O'Brien. There will be a party for all participants after the day of sewing.

The Swimming club will sponsor a party, open to all women students next Monday night, and Mary Hooton, chairman, promises that the evening will be fun for non-swimmers as well as swimmers. There will be games, relays, recreational swimming, and refreshments served.

Moonlight To Shine At Soph Hop May 5 In Scottish Temple

Mountain Moonlight will beam at the Sophomore Hop May 5 in the Scottish Rite Temple.

Decorations, under the direction of Phil McDonald and Dick Lair, will be in the mood of the hill-billy and depict scenes of the land of Daisy Mae and Li'l Abner. (No, they don't know what is going to happen to him in the funnies.) A kissing rock will be at the entrance to the dance floor.

Attire for the dance will be as follows: Wear shoes, as the sophomores will not admit anyone without store shoes on. Men and women must wear their Sunday-go-to-meetin' clothes.

Bids will sell for $1.50, tax included, or six jars of preserved turnips. June Robertson is in charge of them.

Nancy Lynn is acting in the capacity of entertainment chairman, and Dale Bower is taking care of the publicity.

WENGENROTH'S DRAWINGS IN CAMPUS SHOW

A collection of dry brush drawings by Stow Wengenroth, eminent American lithographer, is currently on display in the Art wing corridor.

Employing an unusual technique, these pictures are exceptional, believes Dr. Marques E. Reitzel, Art department head. They are made with ink by the use of the spreading hairs of a watercolor brush, regulation of the pressure producing lighter or darker lines, the whole effect being that of a pencil drawing.

Used as illustrations in various magazines throughout the country, the brush drawings are intended to be preliminary to rendering in stone — lithographing. According to Dr. Reitzel, Wengenroth is the foremost American lithographer since Pennell.

Wengenroth dry brush paintings will be exhibited by the Art department all the rest of the month. Also on display are two oil paintings by members of Dr. Reitzel's advanced painting class—still life's by Vida Miller and Evelyn Swickard.

DR. CARRIER TALKS FOR K.P. MAJORS TONIGHT AT 7:30

Nancy Hickman, Nancy Nyman, and Ebba Benbow will collaborate on the decorations, and Betty Sills, Irene Banks, and Jean Louise Baltz will serve refreshments. All K-P majors are invited to attend.

PROFESSOR PHILLIP BUCK GIVES PLAN FOR WORLD PEACE BASED ON DUMBARTON OAKS DRAFT

"If there is a first-class war, we'll be in it because we are a first-class power," stated Professor Phillip Buck at yesterday's assembly while considering the measures for preventing another world conflict.

Professor Buck attempted to define the purpose and possible outcome of the conference now being held in San Francisco. According to the speaker, the basis of the conference will be the Dumbarton Oaks charter drafted by the "Big Four."

SECURITY COUNCIL
The plan for a post-war international organization, as it now appears, will be built around a security council of five permanent members (the Big Four and France) with six non-permanent members selected from the smaller powers.

Also included in the arrangement will be a secretariat, a court (probably resembling the World Court), and an economic and social council composed of 18 delegates elected from the assembly.

"The security council will take all necessary measures, including the organization and use of armed force to maintain the peace," declared the speaker.

EXAMPLE
Illustrating the methods that will be employed against aggressor nations, Professor Buck presented a hypothetical case between the Persians and Patagonians.

The speaker's hope is that the first dispute following this war "will be between the Persians and Patagonians, as we need someone we can manage."

Buck commented, "There are two types of history—the kind you read about and study in books, that may have happened, and the kind you live through, that did happen."

PROFESSOR'S OPINION
Buck expressed the desire that the charter will be adopted with the security council provision in it. The real pinch will come the first time we try to work it. We must be set to carry out the provisions of the draft or we will have to resort to the same process of 1914-1918, and 1939-?

Deadline Tomorrow For All Delinquent La Torre Purchasers

With the deadline for completing payments on the 1945 La Torre drawing near, Business Manager Jeane Petrinovich warns all delinquents to pay the balance by tomorrow or else forfeit their yearbooks.

There are still 109 students who have not completed payments. These persons should come to the Publications office at the following office hours:

Monday—2:00-2:45; Tuesday—11:00-11:45; Wednesday—2:30-4:00; Thursday—11:00-11:45; and Friday—10:00-10:45.

Miss Petrinovich urges all those still desiring a 1944 La Torre to come to the Publications office at once, as there is a limited supply.

In the Business office, and also in the Quad at noon today and tomorrow.

"While the purpose of the dance is to aid the clothing drive," points out Dewey Smith, dance chairman, "all contributions will be voluntary, and dancers will not be expected to bring clothes if they have already donated to the campus drive."

Lois Ellithorpe, chairman of the decoration committee, has promised that the hall will be decorated in a manner "easy on the eyes."

Refreshments will be served "gratis" by Eugene Foletti, assisted by members of his committee, Don Riviere and Eugene Musso.

Clean-up men after the dance will be Bud Hooton, Jack Daniels, Howard Riddle, Harold Hyman, and all new members of the Veterans' fraternity.

Music in the Quad near the Veterans' ticket stand will be provided "off the record" today at 12:30 for any who may care to dance.

District Attorney Addresses Newman Club Tonight At 8

District Attorney Edmund G. Brown of San Francisco will speak tonight at 8 o'clock at Newman hall on the timely topic, "The Problems of Juvenile Delinquency and Its Remedies."

Brown, who has taken a great interest in this problem, has completed a considerable amount of research on it and is well qualified to discuss the subject, according to the Rev. George V. Schirle, who will introduce him.

Formal invitations have been sent to many city officials and to all faculty members. All students are cordially invited to attend the session.

Questions concerning particular phases of the discussion will be answered at the close of the lecture by Mr. Brown.

Local Reporters Hold Forum With '30' Club Members

Members of the "30" club were hosts Tuesday night to former Spartan journalism majors who are working on local daily newspapers. The meeting was held in the Student Union.

Guests included Bee Laurence and Margaret Scruggs, society reporters for the Mercury and News; Wilma Sabelman and Ed Waite of the Mercury Herald; Pat Loomis of the Evening News; Bill Regan, photographer for the News.

The guests gave helpful hints to future newspaper men and women, by telling of their experiences on various papers. They agreed that the Journalism department at San Jose State equips students adequately for work on any newspaper.

"Newspaper reporting is not as glamorous as the movies show it; very seldom will the cub reporter make a 'scoop' or catch a gang of dangerous criminals," reported the visitors.
