Twelve Candidates Vie For ASB Posts; Polls Open At 9:00

Next year's student body officers will be elected today from the 12 candidates who have been nominated for executive positions. Competition for the presidency will be between Hugh Johnston, now junior representative on the council; Pat Dunlavy, also junior representative on the council; and Milo Badger, 1945 Spardi Gras chairman.

Barbara Bressani, now ASB treasurer, and Pat Cavanagh, ASB treasurer, are vying for the place of vice president.

Running for the position of secretary are Marianne Hayes, Nancy Lynn, and Nancy Duncan. Betty Doyle, Betty Barnard, Claire Canevari, and Mary Hooton will seek the post of treasurer.

Howard Riddle, ASB president, advises students to follow the progress of the campaign — the most important of the year — and to vote after careful and intelligent consideration.

"Since the outcome of this election determines the executive officers of the student body for the next year, it is important that every student — especially those who will return next year — recognize the importance of voting today."

PETITIONS FOR STUDENT OFFICES ARE DUE TODAY

Today at 5 p. m. is the deadline for turning in petitions announcing intentions to compete in the ASB elections for class representatives, junior justices, and yell leader, announces Howard Riddle, ASB president.

Riddle reports that as yet only one candidate is registered for senior class representative, and requests that seniors qualified for the job consider running for the post. More candidates are also needed to compete in the race for junior justices.

Since the position of yell leader will grow in prominence next year because of the probable return of football and the increased enrollment, the president asks that students wishing to run for this office get their petitions in today.

Openings include two representatives each for the sophomore, junior, and senior classes. Two vacancies for junior justices on the Student Court will be sought, as well as the position of yell leader.

Riddle urges all students to follow the progress of the campaign and to vote intelligently, as good citizens, Thursday.

SENIORS TO LEAVE FOR CAMP FRIDAY; JUNIORS SATURDAY

Seniors planning to attend the class "scram" June 8 and 9 must be ready to leave for the "Y" camp at 5 p. m. next Friday, announces Emma Ann Wishart, chairman.

Dinner will be served at the camp when everyone arrives, and breakfast will be served next morning. Miss Fern Geyer of the Home Economics department is in charge of the food.

Seniors will pay 50 cents in the Business office by Tuesday, June 5, not later than 5 o'clock. Their plans include a campfire, with entertainment, during the Friday dinner hour.

Juniors will join the seniors at 9 o'clock on Saturday. They are still in need of gasoline and cars, and ask class members having either of these necessities to see Madge Jennings or Lee Ross.

Senior committee heads are Anne Buxton, entertainment, and Harold Hyman, transportation.

Prof. Father Again

Dr. Robert D. Rhodes, biology professor, is the father of a new baby boy, Douglas Kennedy, born to Mrs. Rhodes Monday night in Palo Alto.

Little Douglas is the Rhodes' fourth son; they have no daughters.

"I like boys," Dr. Rhodes explains.

Revelries Deadline

Revelries applications are due by 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Students interested in the post of 1946 Revelries director must see that their petitions are placed in the "R" box in the Co-op before the 4 p. m. deadline.

Gold Stars Will Be Added To Service Flag For Spartans

Gold stars will be added to the college service flag for former Spartans Lt. Paul Woodruff, Lt. (j. g.) Grant Kelley, Ensign Hugh Morris, and A/C Joseph DiMaggio.

Lt. Woodruff was in the Army Air Corps. While on campus from '40 to '42 he majored in accounting.

Lt. Kelley was here between '40 to '41. He majored in commercial art and was a member of the Artizans.

A/C DiMaggio, cousin of Joe DiMaggio, was taking up pre-legal. He was a member of the Forensics, and was outstanding in baseball.

Chapel Fund Aided By Fashion Show

"I'll Walk Alone" will be the theme of the fashion show to be presented by Allenian society Sunday in the Student Union, for the benefit of the proposed memorial chapel to be built on campus.

The show will be from 2 to 4:30 p. m., and tickets may be sought from any Allenian member or at the door Sunday, for 60 cents including tax.

The clothes to be shown will be from Mademoiselle shop, and commentary will be made by Mrs. Deb Bihn. Models will be representatives from each sorority on campus, and members of Allenian society, showing clothes ranging from sportswear to formals.

Entertainment for the afternoon will consist of music by Dorisse Thomassen, violinist, and Marilyn Creason, pianist. Special selections will be two solos by Phyllis Johnson, and duets by Jean Laederich and Bernice Hansen. Miss Thomassen will also play a solo, "Ah, Sweet Mystery Of Life," introducing a section of the fashion show featuring trousers. (Continued on Page 4)

CURTAIN RISES AT 8:15 ON 'TOVARITCH' TONIGHT

By MARGARET MOORE

"Tovaritch" opens tonight at 8:15 in the Montgomery Theater of the Civic Auditorium for one performance. Jaques Deval's French comedy, to be presented in the French language, is this year's annual production of Iota Delta Phi, French honor society. Tickets will be sold at the door for 75 cents for students and 1 dollar for general admission. Featuring Dr. Boris Gregory as Prince Mikail and Claudine Wiesmann as Princess Tatiana, the production includes a cast of students chosen from the French classes, many of whom have taken part in previous French plays. Dr. Gregory is directing the play.

Members of the cast are Marjorie Rouse, Carol Duer, Bill Peron, Ed Marion, Roland Smith, Pauline Timoshenko, Jack Nixon, Helen Tennis, John Coray, Mary Margaret Congdon, Bill Lavin, Margaret Grabell, and Jane Fisher.

Financed by members of the French classes, the students are also doing the technical work of the play. Among those taking part backstage are Carol Curtis, Marjorie Hampson, and Ray McIntire.

COSTUMES

Costumes from a San Francisco costumer will add to the color of the production. With formal occasions and a French atmosphere present in the play, much opportunity is found to display bright raiment.

MUSIC

Music for the play will be provided by a theater orchestra composed of students from the Music department. Directed by Ray McIntire, the orchestra will include Merton Siegel, Myrra Mosher, Wi- (Continued on Page 4)

REITZEL TO ATTEND STANFORD ART MEET

Dr. Marques E. Reitzel, Art department head, announces that he will attend the Bay Area meeting of the Pacific Arts Association at Stanford university tomorrow.

Dr. Reitzel has been invited to participate as one of the leaders of a round table discussion to take place during the art conference.

"Here, take your four billion francs, Commissar of bandits!" Claudine Wiesmann, as the ex-Grand Duchess, and John Coray, Soviet commissar for oil, in a climactic scene from "Tovaritch," at the Montgomery Theater, Civic Auditorium, 8:15 tonight.

BEHIND THE SCENES

By MARGARET MOORE

You won't need a knowledge of French to enjoy "Tovaritch" if you're planning to attend. Every little bit helps, of course, but you can understand a lot of the play just by the action. When Prince Mikail hands M. Arbeiziat a glass of something to take for his cold, you can tell by the face Arbeiziat makes that it isn't pleasant. And you can understand why he almost immediately sees butterflies whizzing around.

Bill Perron, who plays Arbeiziat, is a member of the French society, Iota Delta Phi. A banker downtown, he is a regular member and has appeared just as regularly in French productions for the past few years. He's utterly lovable in the part of the French businessman, although it would blight his fondest dreams to hear it.

According to a Broadway columnist (and he should know) Jaques Deval, author of the comedy, is going to have another hit appear on the "Great White Way" soon. It's called "Oh Brother!" and Arleen Whelan and a couple of other girls are going to wander through it wearing bathing suits. Which will be nicely decorative. In "Tovaritch," Claudine Wiesmann will appear in a satin robe and a royal red velvet cloak, and that will be nicely decorative too, if you've ever seen Claudine.

Deval is the playwright who, like all other playwrights, once promised the part of a maid in one of his plays to three different and beautiful girls. He ended up by rewriting it and putting in three maids, one for each girl.

John Coray, a first year French student, is playing a key role in the play. He sort of wraps the story up and brings it out happy in the end. He's been working very hard and his portrayal of Gorochenko, the communist Russian, is well done, we're told.

The usually well-ordered French office these days isn't. Sabers, clothing, bright and dull, dishes, and other odds and ends of the production overflow in it. The reason that French plays have always been successful artistically is not, we feel, due to any excess of organization. They don't got any. But once the curtain rises, it's a goooooood show. Has been every year.

When you look at it seriously, this performance of a play, all in French by a group of students, is really a commendable feat. Universities and schools and colleges much larger and having a greater number of students studying a foreign language might be expected to produce something like this comedy sponsored by Iota Delta Phi. But this small group of students, financing it themselves, working over an entire quarter in the perfecting of it, and giving of their time and energies — and like Madame Edith Schlosser, "half my house" — to present it, are doing a commendable job. Something like this really deserves a lot of student support.

Several years ago, Claudette Colbert and Charles Boyer played in the movie version of "Tovaritch."

... EDITORIAL ...
Class Of '45

This past year the seniors have shown a great deal of class spirit. They have turned out in full array at the Junior-Senior mixers, at Spardi Gras, and many other activities. Although many of the seniors are out doing their student teaching, they have not lost contact with the spirit and activities of their class.

Now they are in the final stretch of their four years in college. The day of graduation is drawing near; the day which each member has looked forward to for the past four years. After graduation the class will scatter to the four corners of the globe and will lose contact with each other, even with members who have been close friends during college years.

These last few weeks will offer many activities: Senior Scram, Senior Ball, parties, and finally—that memorable day—graduation.

To those of the senior class who have shown so much spirit during the past year, and to those who have not: attend all your activities! They were planned just for you. They will give you many pleasant memories, in the future, of your last days at San Jose State college—a grand conclusion to four years of hard work and wonderful associations.

—Ginn.

SPARTANS IN THE SERVICE

By ELEANOR FRATES

Three former San Jose State college men — all now with equal military rank — enjoyed a recent get-together at the Jacksonville Army Air Field in Florida. They were Capt. D. S. True, USMC, prominent in the student body here and member of the Student Council; Capt. Weaver Meadows, USNR, formerly associate professor in business administration; and Capt. K. W. Cook, USAAF, one-time pilot of the San Jose football team during its successful 1939 campaign.

I recently received a rather informative letter from former Spartan P. E. major Walter Meyer, now a corporal stationed with the Army Medical Corps in England. He writes:

"The San Francisco Conference seems fraught with possibilities and no doubt you are right in your glory there. Seeing all the delegates from the various parts of the world would be very interesting in itself. If never before, San Francisco can certainly be regarded as a melting pot of the nations now. Only wish that the results of the Conference could be as eagerly awaited as the high hopes before it were. The behind-the-scenes struggle between the U. S., England, and Russia is hardly comforting to the men expecting peace in the future but by clashing now they may get something done or ironed out at least. They had better. Frankly, though, from observations here, one can hardly expect much in the way of progressive, liberal government from the English.

"Happened to be in London the morning of V-E Day and must say it was quite a feeling. We mingled with the crowds in Piccadilly Circus, danced and sang with the celebrants in the streets, marched in a couple of impromptu parades and procured a snapshot of Churchill. Old "Winnie" was leaving Westminster Abbey after the services following his speech. He was as happy as a lark and plainly showed it — a far cry from the "Dunkirk miracle, the blitz of '40 and '41, and the Rommell advance into Egypt.

"The hot weather of last week — amazing thing — has changed for the customary cool."

Robert Geremia, gunner's mate, second class, a two-year all-city footballer at Sacramento, and winner of a scholarship to San Jose State before enlisting in the Navy in March, 1943, now is in charge of the gun crew aboard a patrol craft which has returned for a brief rest from the hot spots of the Central Pacific.

Geremia says there's nothing he'd rather do after the war than go back to college — preferably the University of Southern California — and play football.

Aboard this vessel since it was commissioned in October, 1943, he has had 17 months duty outside the continental limits of the United States, and wears a star in his Asiatic-Pacific theater ribbon for his participation in the probable sinking of a Japanese sub.

Former Stater Sgt. John Chaney, now in the Coast Artillery, is home on a 30-day furlough from St. Davids island off the coast of the British Indies.

Sgt. Chaney has been in the Army for three years. While at State he majored in general elementary teaching. He left college when he was in his senior year.

COMMITTEE RELEASES RESULTS OF SCA POLL

Race Relations committee of the Student Christian Association has announced the results of the poll recently conducted among students living in boarding houses around campus.

The purpose of the questionnaire was to take the pulse of students on the "minority problem" in an attempt to gain as accurate a picture as possible of campus opinion.

Following are some of the questions and the percentage results: "Do you believe that racial equality can ever be practically worked out?" 43.3 yes, 27.3 no, and 29.4 uncertain answers were given.

"If you had interests in common, would you be willing to ask a person of another race to be your room-mate?" Yes, 42 per cent; no, 40.3; uncertain, 17.7.

"Would you object to working with a person of another race for the same wages and on an equal basis?" Yes, 16.1; no, 76.1; uncertain, 7.8.

"Do you believe that Negro soldiers and Japanese-American soldiers should be segregated in separate Army camps?" Yes, 41.6; no, 44.1; uncertain, 13.9.

"Given equal cultural and educational opportunities, do you think that any race is inherently inferior to another?" Yes, 45.9; no, 73.7; uncertain, 5.

"Would you object to dancing with a colored person?" Yes, 67.5; no, 18.6; uncertain, 13.9.

DAILY SOFTBALL TEAM UNDEFEATED; G.P.S. LOSES 5-2

The Spartan Daily softball team rides on undefeated! Tuesday night the Dailymen dumped Gamma Phi Sigma, 5-2, in one of the fastest games played this year. The seven-inning contest was played in the record time of 50 minutes.

Milo Badger, one of the Daily pitchers, limited the fraternity men to five hits during the seven inning rout.

Going into the fifth inning the score stood 2-0 in favor of the Daily, and the game was still in the balance. In that frame Stevenson led off with a single, followed by a hit by Brady. Milo Badger got on base by an error loading the bases. Jack Marcipan then came to bat and drove in two runs with a single into left field, and that was your ball game.

Huntwork of the Gamma Phi Sigma club was the leading hitter for the evening, getting three bingles in as many times at bat.

Cardinals Defeat DSG In Softball; Now In Second Place

The Cardinals stayed in the softball league race Tuesday night when they downed Delta Sigma Gamma, 12-10, in an interesting ball game.

The Cardinals got off to a fast start, racking up eight runs in the first two innings. However, the DSG men came back, and by the end of the third inning the score stood 8-5 in favor of the Cards.

The fraternity team worked Gene Barbier for seven hits, but support by the rest of the club was a bit spotty.

Clark and O'Bailey carried the heavy bats for the Cards, getting five hits between them.

With the score 12-8 against them going into the last inning, the DSG team made a rally that fell two runs short of tying up the score.

Wes Nunes was the only consistent hitter for DSG. Wes got two for two during the contest.

The Cardinals are now in second place with three wins and one loss, followed by the Eleventh Street Sluggers who have two wins and one loss.

SPORT SHORTS

By BRADY

A lot of softball will have to be played during the next two weeks in order to finish out the second and last round of play.

Four doubleheaders have been scheduled from Monday to Thursday. No games will be played on Friday night.

The schedule looks something like this: Monday, June 4, Cardinals vs. Eleventh Street Sluggers, and Gamma Phi Sigma vs. Beta Chi Sigma.

Tuesday, June 5, Eleventh Street Sluggers vs. Spartan Daily, and Beta Chi Sigma vs. the Cardinals.

Wednesday, June 6, Spartan Daily vs. Gamma Phi Sigma, and the Cardinals vs. Delta Sigma Gamma.

Thursday, June 7, Beta Chi Sigma vs. Spartan Daily, and Eleventh Street Sluggers vs. Delta Sigma Gamma.

This schedule must be adhered to in order that the round robin can be concluded. Any team that cannot field the minimum seven men will have to make other arrangements with the opposing club for a re-play, or they will have to forfeit the game.

Notices

Will all organizations who used balls, darts, or mugs please return them before Monday noon to Milo Badger or Harold Hyman or the Business office.—M. Badger.

Those going on Entomology club field trip leave sleeping bags and collecting equipment in room S-213 by 12:30 Friday, June 1. They will be taken to Mt. Hermon for you. See the bulletin board for final instructions.

The college pool will NOT be open for swimming Sunday, June 3.

Pi Nu Sigma members: The trip to the California hospital which was scheduled for June 2 has been postponed.

Will all committee chairmen who have been contacted turn in their list for Recognition Day by Monday deadline.
