

CAST SELECTED; REVELRIES SETS NEW PRECEDENTS

Precedents are being shattered—men are being cast in Revelries in the leading parts for the first time in four years—and Revelries has been re-scheduled to run for three nights. You've no doubt heard of the Third Nationale, of the Third Reich and the Third Term. So San Jose State does it too with Revelries being shown Thursday, Friday, and Saturday nights, February 21, 22 and 23.

CAST MEMBERS

Final casting of parts has not been definitely decided upon, Director Al Johnson announced at 8 o'clock last night, but the cast has been chosen. The following students are requested to meet in the Morris Dailey auditorium today, from 4 until 6 o'clock to read over the script: Ken McGill, "Unc" Hillyer, Al Chasick, Jean Grenbaux, Lee Duggan, Don Ross, "Babe" Filette, Al Caldwell, Jerry Swanner, "Moe" Richardson, Thomas Sherman, and Bob Rexwood. Definite casting of parts depends upon these people meeting with him today, Johnson stated last night.

CHORUS WAITS

Tryouts for the chorus, scheduled for yesterday afternoon, have been postponed until next Monday because of the interference of afternoon sorority meetings. A total of 15 saucy, scintillating, seductive chorines will be selected for the show by the appraising eye of Director Johnson.

Tickets For Skating Party On Sale Today

A chance for a door prize of a $5 purchase order at Roos Brothers is included with the purchase of a ticket to the student body skating party sponsored by the Junior class. Tickets are being sold today at a booth in the Library arch.

The skating party is scheduled for Thursday night, January 24, from 6-8 o'clock at the Rollerland skating rink. Informal dancing at the Student Union will follow the skating session.

Jan Haggarty is chairman of the affair and Stella Baretto is in charge of ticket sales. Tickets may be purchased from members of the council or at the booth.

DRAMATISTS USE PENTHOUSE STYLE FOR COMING PLAY

By BARBARA CAMPBELL

During the week of February 4 those of us who have never witnessed the presentation of a play in what is called "penthouse style," will have an opportunity, to be present at such a performance, the second of its type to be offered here in the last seven years.

"Brief Music," all-girl comedy by playwright Emmet Lavery, went into rehearsal a week ago today and a call went out for persons to work on its technical staff a couple of days later. It will be presented in "penthouse style" in the lounge under the rotunda of the Student Union after the first of next month.

"HAY FEVER"

Once before, a play was produced here in the same style. In 1939 Coward's "Hay Fever" was presented in the auditorium in the Art wing under the direction of Margaret Douglas.

The only stage which will be used is a 14x14 rug. The furniture for the scenes will be arranged just as it is in a normal living room, not as it is on a conventional stage, all facing the audience.

RINGSIDE SEAT

The audience gets the impression of being in the room with the actors. The word, "intimate," has been used in reference to the style and seems singularly appropriate.

An interesting note is that the actors themselves must double for roustabouts and move the furniture around and carry the props on and off the stage when the lights go out at the end of a scene or act. No curtain can be used.

This "circus type" of presentation is not new. The Romans of the ancient world had the first concept of such a style and used it in their dramatic productions.

Trailers Ready Soon For Married Vets

Representatives from the Federal Public Housing Administration announced yesterday that the contract for 100 trailers for veterans and their wives has been approved and it is hoped that they will be installed and ready for occupancy by April 1.

Each trailer will be fully equipped with cooking facilities, electricity, and water. They are 8 by 22 feet in size, and will be on individual gravelled lots. The trailers are being provided by the government in accordance with a new law which has been recently passed in Washington, Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie announced. Provisions of the law are not yet thoroughly understood, which is causing the delay in obtaining the units.

Miss Alice Charleston and Mr. T. Stamus were the representatives of the FPMA who visited the campus. They stated that plans for obtaining quonset huts and dormitories for unmarried veterans have not yet been completed. The trailers will be for the use of married veterans only, and it is planned that the barracks will be partitioned into rooms for unmarried men.

FROSH ACCEPT CONSTITUTION

At the weekly meeting of the freshman class yesterday, the members of the class accepted the constitution drawn up by the constitution committee.

Also discussed was the dance to be given by the class February 8. It was decided that the dance should be open to the college, and Bruce McNeil, chairman of the class, believes that the theme will probably be "Valentine Day." A definite theme will be decided upon at a future meeting.

Freshmen who are interested in class activities may attend the weekly meetings on Tuesdays at 12 o'clock in room 139.

FRENCH COMEDY OPENS THURSDAY; TICKETS ON SALE

Tickets for "La Poudre Aux Yeux" are on sale in the business office, from members of Iota Delta Phi, the French honor society, and in the French office, announced to Dr. Boris Gregory, French instructor. Tickets for the comedy to be produced in the French language on Thursday and Friday evening of this week in the Little Theater are selling at 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for students.

According to student director Beverly Lusardi, rehearsals have built up to the dress rehearsal, which takes place tonight with full costume and makeup, with smoothness and spontaneity. Special care has been given to the diction in order to make the play more easily understood by beginning students in French who will not have had the experience with the language.

Featuring a cast of twelve, the comedy has to do with the efforts of two middle class families to marry off their children in profitable marriages. Comedy exists in the struggles the parents of the young couple have in making an impression on each other.

Members of the cast include Denise Morleno, Roland Smith, Marjorie Hampson, Annette Mitting, Bill Lavin, Jack Nixon, Ray MacIntire, Jane Fisher, Merrilee Well, Shirley O'Banion, Alice Sinenx, and Johnny Coray.

HOUSE, SENATE AMEND G. I. BILL AFTER HEARING

By MAX MILLER

After five weeks of hearings, House and Senate conferees came to agreement on amendments to the G. I. Bill of Rights which had been proposed by the American Legion when inequities in the Bill were found to exist.

Adopted by both the House and Senate and signed by President Truman, the bill, with its newest changes, is now a law. The amendments are intended to broaden the loan and educational rights for veterans of World War II.

THE AMENDMENTS

Title 1. (Sec. 100-101). Makes permanent the Authority of the Veterans Administration to procure space for the Veterans Administration. Under the old law this authority was limited to the duration and six months thereafter.

(Sec. 200). The Administrator may provide, at his discretion, office space and facilities for the representatives of veterans' organizations.

(Sec. 301). Permits review of the findings and decisions of boards of Medical Survey and Disposition Boards.

EDUCATIONAL CHANGES

Title II. Education and Training. (Sec. 400) Extends from two to four years after discharge or the end of the war (whichever is later) the time to initiate a course, and extends the time for completing the education from seven to nine years after the end of the war.

Eliminates the requirement of showing interruption of education by service, and strikes out the (Continued on Page 4)

SPARTANS TO MEET SFS TONIGHT

Tonight the Spartan hoopsters go after their second straight win over the San Francisco State Gators in the Spartan gymnasium at 8 o'clock. A preliminary game has been scheduled at 6:30 when the Spartan reserves will meet SFS reserves.

Those who braved the rain and storm a couple of weeks ago and traveled up to San Francisco saw one of the most exciting double-headers of the season when the McPherson forces took two games from the Gators.

The reserves won in an overtime 45-41, and the varsity tilt was also taken by the Spartans 62-51. That was the night diminutive Ed Maggetti got really "hot" and dropped the ball through the hoop for 25 points.

Up until the time the Spartans met the SFS outfit, the Gators were tabbed as potentially the strongest State college team on the coast, but after SJS knocked them over, the experts changed their prediction in favor of San Diego State. Well, the Spartans split with the Aztecs last Friday (Continued on Page 3)

Solidarity Of Youth Will Bring Unity

"United Nations conferences may bring international peace, but real unity can come only through the solidarity of the world's youth," Dr. Sidney Lovett, chaplain of Yale university and chairman of the World Student Service Fund, declared yesterday in an assembly called to explain the needs and accomplishments of the WSSF.

Recently returned from Europe, Dr. Lovett has met with student groups and viewed at first hand the vital need for extended activity by the Service Fund.

CAPTIVE GIRL

Citing one example of the work achieved by this group, Dr. Lovett described the experiences of a frail young French girl, shattered emotionally by her captivity in a Nazi concentration camp, where she had been forced to witness the torturing of other prisoners. The girl is now recuperating in a rest home established by WSSF for young victims of the war.

UNDERGROUND

"The girl was a member of the student underground, pledged in revenge to the Association of German soldiers," Dr. Lovett said; "yet she and the others were convinced that killing and sadism were not enough. The suffering (Continued on Page 4)

Historical Group Meeting Saturday

The Northern California Pacific Coast Branch of the American Historical Association will meet Saturday at Stanford University. The meeting will begin at 9:30 in the morning and will continue through the day, the last presentation beginning at 4:30. Among the interesting topics to be presented in the series of talks are "Historians and the War" and "The Writings of War Historians."

The meeting is open to the public and all persons interested are invited to attend. Dr. William H. Poytress, Dr. Olive K. Gilliam, and Miss Bernice Tompkins, faculty members for the Social Science department, will be there. Further information is available in the Social Science office, room 30.

Professor George Surveys G.I. Insurance

Guy G. George, professor of commerce who teaches a class in life insurance, has written the following analysis of G. I. insurance for the benefit of veterans on campus as a result of a suggestion made by Dean of Men Paul M. Pitman:

G. I. INSURANCE

Retain G. I. Insurance, convert as soon as you can or when you must for the largest amount possible. G. I. Insurance, converted, is a best buy, because:

(1) The entire cost of administration, that is, the expense item, is borne by the U. S.

(2) Interest is credited at the guaranteed rate of 3 per cent, which is in excess of that offered by private companies.

(3) A waiver of premium is included at no cost to the policyholder. It is charged for by private companies.

(4) The entire cash surrender value, the reserve, is refunded in case the policy must be surrendered. Private companies return nothing for the first two years. One authority states that it is not until after 20 years that the surrender value of a private policy will equal that of a G. I. policy.

1941 RATE

(The company rate book used in this case was for the year 1941. This is not quite fair, as the 1945 rate book shows equality at an earlier date, although it is true that the premium rates have also been increased.)

It is my advice to my own son that he convert his war policy (term insurance) as soon as possible into an ordinary life policy. The ordinary life policy gives the greatest amount of protection for the whole of life at the lowest cost. He should convert as soon as possible because the premium rate rises with each year of age. He should take the full amount of $10,000, if he can carry it, because that is never too much insurance—at least almost never!

NO LUMP SUMS

The main criticism of G. I. Insurance is the arbitrarily fixed settlement option. That is, G. I. policies are only on the basis of what is called an income option. There is no cash or lump sum paid upon death. This may not meet the needs of the insured.

Two statements may be made with reference to this:

(1) Undoubtedly the law will be amended to give the usual choice of options. Certainly veterans could see to it that the law is so amended.

(2) If a lump sum or "clean up" fund is desired upon death, another policy with a private company for $1,000 or $2,000 may be written, even if it is necessary to reduce the amount of the G. I. Insurance to that amount.

DEFECTS PURPOSE

Evidence indicates conclusively that lump sum settlement of policies, beyond the clean up amount, usually results in the defeat of the very purpose for which insurance was written in the first place, that is, protection for widow and children.

I suggest reading the August and October, 1945, Consumer Reports by Consumers' Union.

Veterans may feel free to consult with me, but I certainly hope you don't all come in. This statement was written by request.

Distrustful Of Peace?

Responding to a question in class, about the trend of international affairs, one of the students remarked that it looks like we'll enter into a war against Russia in about five years. When asked to defend his opinion, the student declared that many men who had fought with him in the Pacific were of the same opinion.

Have these men fallen under the spell of the anti-Russia propaganda advanced in several metropolitan newspapers published in this area? Or are they so distrustful of peace that they must think only in terms of war?

There can be no peace if we begin now to anticipate and plan for a war. If war is expected it does not disappoint us—it comes.

We hope that the student in that class is one of few people sharing this belief. We hope that he and his friends who are expecting a war form a very small minority compared with those who are working for peace.
 —Gartshore.

Veterans And Colleges

In camps and on battlefields the veterans learned how to keep alive. There is no doubt that many are alive today because of some phase of training they got in a six weeks course at camp. Now they seek further training. Not on how to dig a foxhole or how to detect a land mine, but rather how to get the best out of this life that they have managed to hang on to.

They want to have a chance to learn about this life and, by learning, be able to improve it for themselves and those who follow.

Now our government has made it possible, by the GI Bill, for many of these men to gain the knowledge they seek (note use of the expression "made it possible", not "given", for we've all heard of the National Debt and we all know who pays it), and veterans are flowing back into colleges all over the nation. At many colleges they are being turned away because there isn't enough room for them. Ohio State has turned away 5,000 students, Stanford has turned back "hundreds", and even little colleges that had less than 100 students 18 months ago won't take transfers now.

There are various causes for this situation, one being the decrease in faculty at many colleges during the war years. However, it is a good sign to see all these men seeking higher education, even though for some it may be delayed.

It shows that the men realize that education is the key to a better life—and it can be the key to lasting peace.

—Cranor.

THIS AND THAT

In connection with last year's campaign to keep canine pets from overrunning the campus, I might suggest a similar crusade against the ants. Before we know it they might carry the buildings away.

Members of Dr. Harold Miller's classes agree that the theater missed a good thing when he chose the teaching profession. His renditions of the classics of English literature lead us to believe he has great thespian possibilities.

Sinatra is in Mexico. If he stops down Tampico way, the "slacks and bobby sox" set will have something to scream about.

The gate that was removed near the Women's gym has been replaced with wire fencing. This presents a new problem to the "Order of San Carlos Turf Cutters." The other day a small boy solved the problem by crawling under the fence. If this were more dignified we might try it too.

Then there was the first quarter freshman who thought only music majors carried notebooks.

The lack of table space in the Coop has resulted in a drastic step taken by the bridge players. (The Coop wouldn't be the same without the ever-present cardboard shufflers.) They were observed playing cards on a binder placed upon the tall wastebasket by the mail boxes.

Needed, more space for the bridge players!

I looked in on a rehearsal of the French play "La Poudre Aux Yeux." Knowing no French it was all French to me. If their actions are any indication of the success of the play, it should be good!

That's "30" for Today

Last Chance To Sign For Social Affairs

The last sign-up for students who wish to join the Social Affairs committee will be tomorrow at 4 o'clock in the Student Union.

Those who have already signed do not have to sign again tomorrow. A list of the names that will be chosen for the committee will, appear in Monday's "Daily."

NOTICES

Will all the chairmen for the Junior class dance please meet today, Wednesday, upstairs in the Union at 12 o'clock. Short meeting but very important so be there on time.

There will not be an AWA meeting today.

DOGGEREL FOR DATELESS

Dear Thrust and Parry:
 When you play hard-to-get, and he does, too,
 You might be left playing with no one but you.

Don't be coy, nor cute, nor smart;
 be YOU when angling for his heart.

Mary, Mary, quite contrary,
 Wonders why they never tarry.

Turn off your tears, O lady-crier;
 Remember that water puts out a fire.

It's harder than hard to keep him guessing
 If you're a gal who's always yessing.

Heavy, heavy hangs over your date
 As you lounge in your shower making him wait.

These simple rhymes have great meaning,
 And should be told to girls who think they're beaming.

Cosmopolitan Club Meets Friday Night

Cosmopolitan club members are reminded to hold Friday open for an evening meeting in the Student Center from 7:30 to 9.

Highlighting of the program will be numbers by a stringed instrumental group organized by club President Faunga Tuiasosopo. A small charge of 15 cents will be levied on those attending the meeting to pay for refreshments.

At noon Friday there will be a short meeting to discuss final arrangements and to determine how many are to be expected that evening. All interested students are invited to attend.

Folk Dance Club Entertains Party

Several members from the San Jose State Folk Dance club entertained at a party held at the Casa Marin clubhouse, San Juan Bautista, Friday evening. The party given by the San Benito Council for Civic Unity, was held for the purpose of stressing the need for unity among all racial, religious, and political groups.

Bruce McNeal, Kit McNeal, Phyllis Durgy, and Don Hayes, from the campus Folk Dance club, and Roberta von Glahn, accompanist, were included in the group who provided a program of community singing and folk dancing for those attending the party.

NOTICE

I want the following people to meet with me today 12:15 in the Student Union: Dolores Dolph, June Quinn, Bob Pearson, Ruth Henderson, Phil Robertson, Ayleen Duche, Pat Polk, Derna Deane Durgy and Dave Webster.

MEN MAY JOIN SMOCK 'N TAM

Down with the old and up with the new! A progressive change in the Art department is marked this quarter by the dissolution of the Smock 'n Tam society, followed immediately by the emergence of a new and larger society. This new group will be composed of both men and women art students instead of, as formerly, just women.

Under the guidance of Dr. Marques Reitzel, department head, the Smock 'n Tam members spent the fall quarter planning the new organization and preparing the new constitution. A name for the forthcoming organization has not yet been decided upon; however, charter members will consist of former and new male members.

President Jessie Steinnagel stated that in the first meeting a name will be selected for the club and officers and new advisers will be chosen.

This reorganization will definitely make for more extensive activity in the art department.

GOLD BLOUSES DENOTE SPEARS

New students might like to know the significance of the gold blouses, navy skirts, and white sweaters worn by a few girls every Tuesday. The uniform is that of the Spartan Spears, sophomore women's honorary service organization.

The girls are chosen at the end of their freshman year by Spear members. The organization is strictly non-profit, donating any financial gain to a worthy cause. The Red Cross, Chapel fund, and Health Cottage have benefitted by their help. Among other things, the organization completely furnished four bedrooms for the Health Cottage.

Spartan Spears has been an active organization on campus since 1932. It was patterned after Spurs, a national group of the same type. Miss Margaret Twombly of the Health department has been adviser for the past 12 years. "They are a grand bunch—a perfect delight to work with," she enthuses.

Members are: Los Baker, Stephen Voorhees, Pat Cribari, Beverly Clay, Monie Wishart, Jean Laederich, and Betty Sills.

NOTICE

Christian Science organization meeting at noon today in room 155. Students and faculty members are invited.

Psychology Club Holds Election To Replace Officers

Two new officers were elected at yesterday's meeting of the Psychology club to replace students who have left school.

George Coles replaces Ellnor Herzig as vice-president and Edith Hazell is the secretary-treasurer of the organization, filling the vacancy left by Mary Kathryn Kelley. Helen Bailey is president of the organization.

Betty Nelson, Garry Davis and Dorothy Burner make up a committee appointed to investigate the establishment of an honorary society for psych majors. The club is also planning a social under the chairmanship of Doris Bryant.

SPORT SHORTS

By BRADY

Some of you sports enthusiasts got a bit of a rest last week in that you weren't faced with this scribe's babblings. It seems that the Flu bug hit me too, and I was out of the journalistic circles for about a week and into the Health Cottage.

The sports news you read during that time was very ably written by my co-partners in crime, Jerry Vroom and Dan "The Dangerous" Weck. Vroom wrote a lot of sports back in '42 when he was playing frosh basketball. Weck is one of the managers on the basketball team, and hence is on hand to give some of his ideas on our cage team.

With a couple of helpers on my side this quarter, I think we will be able to give you a little more in the way of sports around Washington Square.

SPORTS BOOM

Things have really been booming in the way of athletics the past few weeks. As most of you have probably noticed, our basketball team is playing near the caliber of ball Spartan hoopsters displayed in pre-war days at State.

The coaching staff expects a pretty fair baseball team this year. Practice will probably start for that sport around the first of next month after the weather clears up.

Swimming, under Mr. Thompson, is already underway, and a more complete coverage of the tankmen will start next week. Bud Winter, who will handle the trackmen this spring, expects a big turnout then. Numerous former Spartan athletes, including many trackmen, will again don their spikes when training time rolls around.

With all of these sports activities nearing normal peace time potency, a more thorough sport section is due you students, so Vroom, Weck and I will do the best we can in attempting to give you a little info now and then.

INTERESTING SIDELIGHT

McGill and I got quite a bang out of one of the San Francisco State rooters a couple of weeks ago during the SJS-SFS game (which we won, incidentally, 62-51). It seems that this excited young man rushed up to news table where Mac and I were sitting and asked, "Hey, this kid Maggetti, is he All-State?" I replied, "No, he isn't." He came back with, "Well is he All-Coast then?" I again had to retaliate with the negative reply.

I can't blame the Gator rooster for his very fine flattering questions, for that was the night Ed hit them from all angles with uncanny accuracy, racking up no less than 25 points. He lost his eye about midway through the final half, or Don McCaslin's school record of 32 might have been broken. McCaslin set the record at 32 last year against SFS school, but their club was not nearly as potent last season as it is this year.

RESERVE HOOPSTERS

I meant to save space for a few remarks on our reserve basketball team, but I just remembered that I gave them a plug in another story on this page.

It might be well to remind you students, though, that the Spartan reserves have won three of their last four games. Taking the measure of the SFS reserves, Lincoln High school from SF, and Fremont High school. They dropped a close 26-25 game (an overtime contest) to Lincoln High school from San Jose.

NOTICE

There will be a meeting of the Student Body Chapel committee today at 12-12:30 in the Student Union. Will the following please be present: Carolyne Hackman, Adeline Clark, Mrs. Pritchard, Frances Tuttle and one representative from each of the following organizations: Newman Club, Mu Phi Epsilon, Phi Mu Alpha, Theatron, Art council, and Pegasus. Thank you, Mary Elizabeth.

George Keene Leads Spartans In His Last Game For State

SF STAR

The SFS outfit if led by tall, lean Ed Collingworth. The Spartans managed to hold him down fairly well in their first meeting, but against Chico State last week, Collingworth racked up no less than 28 points.

Mohr, a forward on the Gator five, is another scoring threat. Mohr played against the Spartans hoopsters last year and the year before. He tallied something like 11 points in the first meeting between the two teams.

The Spartans, with a couple of new scoring threats in Don "Dutch" Boysen and Galeb "K" Borg, will floor a team that is after the seventh win in its last 11 starts. The Staters have won six of their last 10 starts, and tonight will be gunning for their seventh win of the season.

Bill Helbush, returned veteran who played ball for State several seasons back, seems to be rounding into shape and ought to see considerable action against the Gators.

Game captain will be George Keene, who will be playing his last game of the year for Sparta. George leaves the end of the week for the Army. Keene is formerly of Modesto JC, where he made quite a name for himself as a cage star. Keene was All-State Junior College forward while at Modesto.

The probable starting lineup for tonight's game will be something like this for the Spartans:

Name	Position
Ed Maggetti or Don Boysen	Forward
George Keene	Forward
Wes Stevenson	Center
Ted Holmes	Guard
Bert Robinson	Guard

CLUB DISCUSSES QUARTER'S PLANS

Members of the Entomology club will meet today at noon in room S213 to discuss further plans for the quarter, including the proposed trip on January 27 to Jasper Ridge, the Valentine's Day party and the evening meeting when an outside speaker will be presented.

Twenty-three students have signed up for the field trip and others are expected to sign up on the bulletin board outside of room S213.

Formerly scheduled for January 23, the date for the meeting changed according to Beverly Franceen, president of the club. Members will bring their lunches to the meeting.

NOTICE

Alpha U Omega social fraternity will hold its weekly meeting this evening at 7 o'clock. All members are urged to be present.

Flying Club meeting Wednesday 12:30. Mr. Barnick of the Hillview airport will talk. All interested people be sure to come to room 24.

ED MAGGETTI LEADS IN INDIVIDUAL SCORING WITH TOTAL OF 99 POINTS Stevenson Second With 98; Keene Has Total Of 89

The men's P.E. department recently released the individual scoring record of the Spartan varsity basketball team. The record includes the total games that have been played, the number of games that each player has seen action in, and the field goals, free throws and subsequent total points scored.

Ed Maggetti, former San Jose High school star and All-PAL forward, is on top with 99 points, just edging out runner-up Wes Stevenson, who has 98. It might be well to note, however, that Wes has played in two more games than Ed has.

KEENE THIRD

In third place is Maggetti's running mate at the other forward spot, George Keene. Keene, incidentally, will be playing his last game of the season tonight against San Francisco State. George will leave for the armed service later this week.

George will be a tough man to lose, for he was definitely a "team" player. He had just begun to find his eye in the last few games, tallying 11 against San Diego State Saturday night.

PERFECTIONISTS

In the fourth and fifth spot are Bert Robinson and Ted Holmes, those two stalwart guards, who are the outstanding defensive men on the Spartan five. It has been rumored about campus that State has never before possessed such a potent pair of guards. Besides controlling the backboard, Bert and Ted are near perfectionists at handling the ball.

Culp, a cool, steady ball player, seems to be the sparkplug on the reserve club. Culp is a steady scorer and as a result of his fine play has been promoted to the varsity roster along with Moore. Moore has seen considerable action with the varsity already this year.

"Bulldog" Lindsey, that all-around athlete, has been making his share of points on the reserve club. Lindsey played a lot of basketball at Berkeley in his prep days, and upon entering State was an outstanding football and baseball player.

One of his old teammates, Bill Perry, has also played some basketball with the reserves. Perry is definitely a grid man, but he does get around considerably well on the hardwood.

Marv Langhoff, another former San Jose High school star, has looked very good this season with the reserves. Langhoff is built for basketball and uses his height to advantage.

Then we always have that "laughing" boy, Elgin Martin. Martin was made for football, but has shown he knows something about basketball, playing a great deal of guard position.

Well, getting back to the varsity, following is the scoring record as released by the P.E. department:

One man and one woman of junior class standing shall be chosen at the midwinter quarter class elections to serve for the balance of that quarter and the subsequent spring quarter of the school year, and the autumn quarter and as much of the winter quarter as is necessary to complete a full school year of office.

Members of the Student Court shall be ineligible to hold any other elected office of the Associated Students during their term of office. If a vacancy shall occur, the Student Body President shall fill the vacancy with the approval of the Student Council.

Coming Play Uses Penthouse Style

(Continued from Page 1) modern drawing-room comedy is the new concept. The idea was conceived in 1932 by Professor Glenn Hughes of the School of Drama at the University of Washington at Seattle. He and his colleagues put on their first offering in this new style in the penthouse of a hotel near the campus, and after the production of other plays in this way in different make-shift theaters, they designed a beautiful Penthouse Theater on the campus. It opened in 1940. Since then it has been in operation six nights a week every week of the year and to capacity audiences.

Some newer theaters are building special rooms for penthouse style plays, and according to Mr. Wendell Johnson of the speech faculty, the theater which will be built on State's expanded campus sometime in the future may include a room which would adjust itself to this type of thing.

Lighting is the only real difficulty in a production of this type, says Johnson. The lighting will be like that which is used at a prize fight, he explains; that is, the lights will hang from the ceiling, and the operator will sit behind the audience and control the lighting and sound from there.

The careful coordination among the lighting and action and, of course, the sound which is necessary, says Johnson, requires the greatest amount of work and skill.

Dr. Lovett Speaks On Student Fund

"Through the World Student Service Fund," Dr. Lovett declared, "a strand may be formed which will achieve more lasting results than UNO peace conferences."

Donation to the Fund is not charity, as Dr. Lovett pointed out. It is merely filling the outstretched hands of hope, fortitude, and patience. It is linking together the peoples of the world through the youth of the nations.
